1326 bridge reopens

Local residents have detoured the bridge on Highway 1326 since May while a new bridge was underway. The road reopened Tuesday after workers completed the new structure. The bridge is one of many local contruction projects in the county that has caused road closures and detours and more construction is expected soon near Renfro Valley since the new TIF District has been established.

and pointed out some of the

haunt the educational sys-

She said lessons are planned and structured and years of thought and work have gone into the proper way to education youth. But, she and some of those present at the meeting said they may be concerned that some students graduate unprepared for the specific career path they desire.

Mattingly said that state wide studies suggest that school systems are not "challenging students enough" under current methods.

"What we have to focus on is that most important question," she said. "Are we preparing students for whatever they want to do in life no matter what that career choice may be?"

Coguer introduced one of several ideas that local school officials will implement to attack just that issue. Coguer discussed a "focus team" environment at all Rockcastle County Schools. He demonstrated on a projector, a new computer generated communication system that he and Mattingly and others have worked on to help with some issues schools may have.

The system seems similar to a social media page except it is only for local school teachers, staff and faculty to discuss problems and solutions.

"We can say we want to provide strong instruction all day long," Coguer said. "But what does that mean? Do you know what I mean when I say those words? Do I know what you mean? And do we agree on what that

The system provides an opportunity for principals, teachers and staff to share ideas and discuss specific situations and to even design plans to solve student issues.

"It's a chance to share instructional strategies taking advantage of our own homegrown expertise," he

Superintendent David Pensol strongly agreed that school systems need to find better ways to prepare students for the future that each student desires. "It's not about state-mandated programs or studies or polls and even statistics," said Pensol. "It's all about each individual student. We need to get back to our roots and focus on the child more than any program's success."

Pensol said there are many things wrong with the current system that places such priorities on mandates based upon averages and overall scores. "Students are individuals, not a group of people. Each of them have different needs and we need to focus on those needs."

Evans gets 60 years for local murders

By: Mike French Editor

Though it may be of little consolation to the family, those responsible for the murder of William and Chara L. Bryant, of Mount Vernon, have now been sentenced.

The couple was found shot to death in their home with three unharmed children in June of 2017.

Their daughter, Brooklyn Reynolds, 18, pled guilty to conspiracy to commit murder earlier this year and received the recommended 23 year sentence.

Just last week, Christopher Evans was sentenced to 60 years for crime Rockcastle Circuit Judge Jeffrey Burdette.

Little World's Fair planned

By: Mike French Editor

It's time for the Brodhead Little World's Fair and organizers say this year may be even better than last year.

The nationally-known event will be held August 2-10 at the Brodhead Fairgrounds and, as always, there are events planned for each evening.

One of the biggest events planned this year is the ATV/SXS race which is an obstacle course with an SXS payout of $500 in cash and an ATV payout of $250 in cash. This award is guaranteed only if a minimum of 10 participants are in the race.

Events will begin on Friday, August 2 with a Dairy Show and there will be a Beef and Horse Show on Saturday, August 3.

On Sunday, August 4, the Preteen, teen, and Miss Little World's Fair pageants will be held along with the Miss Rockcastle Pageant.

he entered the home and shot both victims.

According to court records, Evans received 25 years for each of the murders and an additional 10 years for the burglary for the total of 60 years to run consecutively.

Reports say the investigation in 2017 revealed a family dispute and Evans claimed he shot the couple, as they slept, because his girlfriend Brooklyn told him she did not feel safe in the home. That story has never been substantiated.

Reynolds agreed to testify against Evans for the reduced sentence of 23 years and Evans pled guilty.

Rock Heroes

Camp Rock Heroes is planned for Thursday, July 25, from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. and Friday, July 26 from 8 a.m. to 3 p.m. The event is designed to reach out to children who have parents receiving cancer treatments or have lost a parent to cancer. For information call Stephanie Hines at (606) 256-7484. Children will be served breakfast, lunch and dinner.

by: perlina m. anderkin

Paige and I took a flying trip to Myrtle Beach last week to spend a few days on the beach with daughter, Allison and her family.

It had been a long time since I had been there and I didn't remember it being quite as windy as it was. But the weather was beautiful and it was a fun time.

I got to visit an all-youcan-eat seafood buffet and got my fill of crab legs for a little while. I love those things and I guess it's a good thing the Lord made them a lot of trouble to eat or my gorging would know no bounds.

The last time I headed to the beach was with Jane and Paige and, at that time, I weighed 115 pounds. I bought a bathing suit and tried it on before hitting the beach and thank goodness I did. We used to compare really skinny people with Ethiopians and, in that bathing suit, I looked like an Ethiopian 2.0. I did not inflict that sight on other bathers, instead opting to sun bathe in a t-shirt and shorts.

For this trip, I bought another suit and it wasn't any better except it was the other way. I now weigh 138 pounds but it's still old, wrinkled pounds and my main concern was buying a pretty cover-up to cover-up that fact.

The difference in poundage has to be laid to the fact that I am celebrating my 10th month anniversary of not smoking.

I was in the hospital last September for three days while they tried to figure out some way to control my up and down blood pressure. They managed to get it pretty much under control with meds but, once again, I spent a considerable amount of time hearing how I had to quit smok-

Having attempted that feat several times in my life, I had decided that it wasn't going to happen and was just happy that I didn't like alcohol as much.

But, this time, I got serious -- the children's nagging was much more severe -- and managed to stick with it. I only used the patch through the first series and then switched to gum whenever I got the urge to put something in my mouth.

I have been dreaming about smoking though and wake up horribly depressed for the first few minutes thinking how disappointed my children are going to

It makes me sad when I remember my reasoning for starting to smoke a lifetime ago. Jim and I had just married and he smoked. I fussed at him constantly about what a nasty habit it was and finally decided to show him how nasty by beginning myself. Years

There's a house I don't I didn't try it. remember. A home I have forgotten.

I have memories from when I was 3. I can clearly recall our landlord coming to get me on his tractor and driving me back through the field that seemed like it was miles away.

Apparently it was only a few hundred yards but I remember thinking I was so far away from my mother.

Mr. King was his name. He sat me on the seat in his lap and took me for a tractor ride and showed me a persimmon tree.

I remember very well him trying to get me to try a ripe one and an unripe one. He told me the unripe one would be very sour and cause my mouth to pucker up. But the ripe one would take that taste away.

He left that tractor in our driveway and I remember mom lifting me up on the seat everyday so that I could pretend to be driving it.

The old seat was hard and sat on two huge springs and the steering wheel was as big as I was. I would sit on the seat and fiddle with the gears and pretend to be plowing up the entire countryside.

I had a pet duck named "Yankee Doodle" and I remember very well playing with that white duck as a child. He disappeared a little later and I have no idea what happened to him but I know we ate good one week there.

I remember my cousin Brian coming to visit me

Points East By Ike Adams

In mid July of 1956, I was ready to enter third grade and my brother, Keith (Keeter), was all set to become a first grader when we were ready to enter the hallowed halls of Blair Branch Grade School, a few, short weeks later.

In the meantime, we had 10 days of vacation to enjoy at our Uncle Jim's and Aunt Alpha's home at Uz (pronounced You-zee) situated there, in Letcher County on the bank of the north fork of the Kentucky

You may find it difficult to believe that an 8 and a half year old boy can retain a lot of memory into his 70 year-old self, but, I assure you, the memories of that vacation are more firmly etched in my mental being than a lot of stuff I did last week.

For example, I have no idea where I put my leather pipe tobacco pouch last Friday. I've been looking for it ever since. Ask me where Uncle Jim's shiny Shakespeare, fiberglass, bait casting rod and reel was placed in July of 1956, 63 years ago, and I can spend a paragraph telling you the exact spot where it was located in his thickwalled, cut-stone, utility building. I can also tell you that he had 3 other rods with black Bakelite and metal reels, mounted on short spring-steel rods, stacked beside the high-years-old, my mother and my grandparents both had those wooden box phones that were mounted on the wall in their living rooms. These phones had stationary mouth pieces with handheld earpieces which were attached to a very short cord. In other words, you had to stand with your mouth to the phone, and the ear piece held tightly to your ear. It was not possible to sit and to talk at the same time.

Because those kind of phones generally were mounted on the living room or kitchen walls, privacy was non-existent. Of course, the black-and-white television sets were also situated in the living room. When a popular TV show was being broadcast, I was promptly instructed to "get off the phone."

This situation nearly made it impossible to have a conversation with your girlfriend. Calls which were supposed to be private needed to be scheduled during the time when the adults were busy working. This phone crisis continued until I was 10 or 12-years-old, when we finally got the black, rotary-type desk phones. Guess where they were located? You got it

When we had the wooden wall phones, we were on a "party line" with four or five other families. I will never forget that our particular ring was "three shorts," meaning we only answered the phone when that sequence occurred. When my mother or my grandparents were outside, I would occasionally listen in on other family conversations. In my household, that was a huge no-no!

In my defense, I will add that since I was merely a child, the phone conversations on which I snooped never really amounted to anything interesting. Because they were generally boring, my eavesdropping was usually short lived.

These early wooden phones had large batteries inside that you charged by turning the crank. That was also the procedure by which you got in touch with the operator. She (it was always a woman) would say, "Operator, number please." You would usually respond with a three digit number, but if you did not know the number, you could just, "Would you connect me with the Griffin resi-later, it was Jim who quit and I who turned a deaf ear to all his entreaties to quit that "nasty habit."

I told the children recently that if I hadn't smoked I would have probably lived to be a 150 since, even though I have had a double stint, an aortic valve replacement and have COPD, high blood pressure, etc. my doctors still tell me that I'm doing "wonderful." Just think how "wonderful" I would be doing if I had never smoked.

I don't think I'll ever be free of the high blood pressure though. I spend entirely too much time listening to the politicians in Washington squabbling like children in a school yard for the soul of our country.

I'm frightened that a majority of the public will be so enamored of all the free stuff the Democrats are dangling that they will forget that there's no such thing as a free

I'm frightened that everyone of our elected officials seem to have forgotten that we are a nation $21 trillion in debt and no one is even mentioning that fact, let alone trying to come up with a solution for it.

I'm frightened that, as a nation, we even discuss taking a child's life from conception to birth, much less having already done so 60 million times since the Roe v. Wade decision.

I'm frightened because no one (NO ONE) knows who is coming in illegally across our southern border and far too many of our Democrat politicians don't even care, choosing instead to use it as a political football to make out Republicans to be monsters because all we ask is that these immigrants come in legally so that we do know who we are taking in.

I'm frightened for my children and grandchildren because I don't know for sure which side of the political arguments going on in our country at present will win out and what their future will be in what has always been the greatest country in the world but is now facing its biggest challenge to remaining that way.

I can only do what I can and that is pray that sanity will prevail in the coming election and that our coness will eventually pay at tention to the needs of our country instead of their one upmanship of each other.

and we played all afternoon on a huge tree stump. Looking back it probably had a snake living in it.

It was 1963. Then, we moved to another little white house just a few miles away. I have many memories there as well. I remember my dog "Blackie" and I remember getting on the bus there every day.

Blackie used to stand at the gate and not let the cows into the yard. He was really good at that.

I recall a thunderstorm there and mom and I got in the car because she had heard that lightening couldn't strike you if you were grounded by rubber It was 1965.

I remember playing in both yards and could get pretty close to drawing out the floor plan for both

Here's the problem. What happened to 1964?

According to mom, and my aunts and uncles, we moved out of that first house and into another place that is apparently no longer there.

I am told we moved there from the first house with the duck, and staved about one year and then moved to the third house with Blackie.

But I have absolutely no recollection of that house or anything that happened there.

I have had mom show me where that house was located before it was destroyed somehow. But it didn't ring any bells at all. I stared at it and thought and thought and simply do not recall even the slightest memory of living there.

I wonder sometimes what else people forget from their childhood. Was there something traumatic there? Did I do nothing worth remembering while there? Apparently the house was in the same area and we would have had basically all the same neighbors, though in those days a neighbor was someone a mile away.

Maybe we all have blanks in our memories. How would we know?

Anyway, I watch closely while talking to my children to see if there is a missing time period in their memory as well.

I wonder if one day someone will say something like "Oh Mike, you lived there when blah blah happened," and a flood of memories will come back to me.

Either way, I'm happy to have wonderful childhood memories -- what there are of them.

end Shakespeare and that one of them was made by Ithaca. Half a dozen bamboo river cane fishing poles were propped up outside the building because they were far too long, 10 or 12 feet, to fit in-

There may have been such things as spinning reels and plastic, monofilament, fishing line on the market in 1956, but they had yet to have any appeal to Uncle Jim. By the early 60s he had Zebco 33s and Johnson Century spinning reels with matching rods, but on that magical vacation of 1956 the line was braided "cat gut" line on bait casting reels that had scant utility for 2 little

We were allowed to use the rods and reels, but only if we got the tangles out of the line every time it back-lashed and made "crow's nest" inside the reels. That happened every time we tried to make a cast. The untangling could take up to an hour, unless we sneaked around and enlisted help from Aunt Alpha.

She would say, "Now don't tell your Uncle Jim. cause I'm not supposed to be doing this. You have to learn yourself." Then she would untangle, in less than a minute, the mess we'd made. She also showed us how to lay the rods down, gently pull out 20 feet or so of line and coil it up on the river bank. Then we'd take the baited hook and sinker and heave it out into a fishing hole. I caught a few red eyes (rock bass) using that technique but it seemed more trouble than it was worth Keeter and I spent most of our time wading a long, shallow, gravel-covered shoal that was probably 400 feet long and stretched from the back of their house to a place where automobiles and horses could drive or wade across the river. If we ventured upstream of the house or below the crossing, wading and/or fishing would be over for that day. I don't recall ever getting caught on such a trespass but I'm sure I must have tried because that's just the way I was and still am.

We would spend mornings, then the the hot hours of the day, Keeter on one side of the seine and yours truly on the other, searching for soft crawdads and grampus (hellgrammites) as we kicked up small rocks and gravels where the bait might be hiding. Ten hours of bait catching netted us two hours fishing in "the big hole" with Uncle Jim and/or Aunt Alpha from after supper until dark.

Uncle Jim would tell as that a grampus was as good as having a bass on the stringer if we could get it on a fish hook. He was deathly scared of them because they would pinch and bring blood. I can recall grabbing them by the head with pliers while he quickly got the hook baited.

By the end of that vacation, I had given up on the fishing rods and decided the long cane poles had far more utility if I really wanted to catch fish. I caught my first small mouth bass on one and broke the pole trying to land another one. Those heart pumping, adrenalin rushes, from the summer of 56, left me forever addicted to the fishing habit

If Mr. Parkinson would cooperate, I would be on a creek bank right this minute.

It is very sobering to consider the vast differences between that big, wooden wall-mounted phone and my pocket smartphone. Believe me when I say that we could never have imagined that a phone could ever do such things!

Yet, I would find it nearly impossible to function in this present day without my phone. I am never without it on my person, in my automobile, or beside my bed. (On the other hand, my wife has never owned one and never intends to. And she seems to get along just fine.)

Frankfort Update

By R. Travis Brenda State Representative Legislative Committees Meet

To Prepare for 2020 Session It has been a big week for news out of Frankfort as the state announced a budget surplus and new record for corporate investment in our Com-also continue to expect the Governor to call a Special Session soon.

As of June 30, the end of the 2019 Fiscal Year, Kentucky had a budget surplus of $194.5 million. Simply put, that means we had almost $200 million after we paid all of our bills. When announcing the surplus, State Budget Director John Chilton credited the surplus to tax changes made by the 2018 General Assembly and the state's strong economy. While the surplus is good news, it is already committed to help cover both unbudgeted expenses and to pay off debts. For example, the state will transfer $70 million to the Teachers' Retirement System medical insurance fund, and the remainder will go to cover pension obligations in the Kentucky Employee Retirement Fund. Kentucky also reached a new record in announced corporate investments - which translates into $20 billion in new jobs and economic growth since December of 2015. This is further proof that the pro-job and pro-growth policies are paying off. However, it is also important to note that we are nowhere near reaching our potential and there is still work to be done to bring prosperity to every corner and community of Kentucky. But, we now know what can happen when we work together.

The Interim Joint Committee on Appropriations and Revenue heard testimony from the Kentucky Retirement Systems that we will likely see yet another increase in pension costs. According to their executive director, employers in the Kentucky Retirement Systems may see an increase of between 2.8 to 13 percent of covered payroll for retirement under new actuarial assumptions. The increases are caused by a twoyear increase in life expectancy among KRS retirees, as well as a decrease in turnover among some KRS plan members.

The Interim Joint Committee on Agriculture met this week and heard reports from officials from the Farm Service Agency regarding the Beginning Farmer Program. The agency utilizes loans and aid to recruit and equip first time farmers with the tools they need to succeed. The program has a specific emphasis on assisting typically under-served groups such as women, minorities, youth and veterans as they pursue a career in farming. With an aging farmer population, we need to continue to recruit a diverse group of people who are interested in being our nation's food source.

We also heard reports from the Feeding Kentucky Program. Kentucky has the highest percentage of food insecure people and over 186,000 children are food insecure. While this issue is complex, the General Assembly is committed to understanding the factors that play a role in hunger and working to solve this pervasive problem.

The Economic Development and Workforce Investment Interim Joint Committee heard from officials with the Education and Workforce Development Cabinet about challenges facing our workforce. Their presentation included information that there are 134,800 job openings in Kentucky at this time, with most coming in the business, information technology and healthcare sectors. They noted that the demand for new jobs is only increasing, and emphasized the need to continue improving Kentucky's apprenticeship programs to meet workforce demands. The practice of "doxing" received a lot of attention during this week's Interim Joint Committee on Judiciary meeting. "Doxing" is the common phrase used to describe when someone uses the Internet to release personal information about a minor with the specific intent to abuse, harass, intimidate or scare a child. Many of us remember the school group from Covington Catholic that became the focus of national outrage when media outlets from across the country posted video of one of the students standing face-to-face with someone who participated in a political march. That young man's father shared with the committee how his son was repeatedly attacked and harassed because of the news coverage.

As I am writing this article.

we are receiving indications that the Governor will call the Legislature into Special Session shortly, possibly as soon as Friday, July 19. The date for the Session is having to be scheduled around the various job and travel activities of 138 legislators, and making sure that those voting "yes" would be able to be in Frankfort for whatever date is chosen. I have communicated with the House Leadership and Governor's office that I will not be available if July 19 is selected. I will be out of state at a required training for my job. I have also shared with the House Leadership and the Governor's office that I would be a "no" vote on the legislation that is being proposed by the Governor. While the proposal does freeze the employer contribution rate, the other parts of the proposal would have quasi entities, like our local health departments, choose between options that are not affordable or sustainable over the longterm. The Governor's proposal also does not allow individual employees to remain in the state retirement system if their employer chooses to opt out. These employees have dedicated their lives to serving the people of our Commonwealth with the promise of specific retirement benefits. These ben-

Gethsemane

Mark 14:32 And they came to a place which was named Gethsemane, and he said to his disciples, sit ye here, while I shall pray. Jesus entered the garden of Gethsemane being exceedingly sorrowful, knowing shortly he would face the pains of death.

With him were three of beloved disciples, Peter, James and John. Jesus then entered into a place of solitude to prepare himself for death, knowing soon he would suffer the terrible pain involved in death. He went alone to this place of solitude being only a stone's throw away from his disciples, it enabled him to be alone with God.

We have a record of the intensity of Jesus prayer, Luke 22:39-43 He prayed that God's will be done not his, but God's will be done in all things. An angel appeared unto him giving him strength, being in agony he prayed more earnestly, and his sweat was as it were great drops of blood falling to the ground. Oh, what it must have meant to him to know that God was thinking of him and God was listening and sent him comfort, from Heaven.

Jesus knew the kind of pain and suffering he must suffer we find in Isaiah 53:1-2 He would be despised and rejected of men, a man of sorrows and of grief, we hid our face from him, he was despised, and we esteemed him not. He was wounded for our transgression, he was bruised for our iniquities, the chastisement of our peace was upon him, and with his stripes we are healed.

We see Jesus, God's only begotten Son, was made a little lower than the angels for the suffering of death, crowned with the glory and honor, that he by the grace of God, should taste death for every man.

We can see several things in this prayer. The cause of his prayer, the place in which he prayed, and how he prayed. Luke 22:44 Strong crying with tears, kneeling down, which shows the humbleness of his soul. The three disciples, when awake, could see the struggle he was going through, by all his sufferings. Three times did Satan come to tempt him in the wilderness, but Jesus refused every time, because of you and me, and his desire to obey his Father's will. Hebrews 5:7-9 Though he were a Son yet learned obedience by the things which he suffered. And being made perfect he became the author of eternal salvation unto all them that obey him.

After that prayer, Jesus found the strength he needed to follow the command of his Father. We find in Matthew 26:45 Take your rest, he said to his disciples, behold the hour is at hand, the Son of man has been betrayed into the hands of sinners.

Jesus found the strength he needed to go through this great ordeal, but he knew he couldn't do it alone he did with the help of his Father. God still hears our prayers today that come from a sincere and humbled heart, every prayer is answered, it may not always be the answer we wanted, but God still hears our prayer.

Thank you as always for reading this article, I pray God has blessed you with the things you need for another week and your health is good. If you have any questions about this articles or other articles, you can contact me or one of the other brethren at

Introducing Dr. Amy Parsons

Amy Parsons, D.M.D.

r. Amy Parsons grew up in Mount Vernon and graduated from the University of Kentucky College of Dentistry in 2013. After graduation, she spent five years practicing in the Northern Kentucky/Cincinnati area, but always longed to return to her hometown to provide dental care to the people she knows and loves best. Dr. Parsons' favorite part of practicing dentistry is when a fearful dental patient leaves the office with a brand-new outlook on how dental treatment can be!

275 mile hike is just a beginning

Becoming a better person

By: Mike French Editor

"Whatever you do, don't miss the chance to make yourself a better person."

This is the advice of 26year-old Ethan Holbrook who recently completed a 275 mile hike along the Appalachian Trail.

Holbrook, of North Carolina, is the grandson of John and Fave Holbrook of Mount Vernon, and the young man travels to the area often to visit his family. But one of his life goals has been to hike the 2,200 mile Appalachian Trail and he spent this summer working on that dream.

"It was just something I had to do. I loved the escape the hike provides. I met new friends along the trail and discovered new things about myself," he said. "The trail is filled with history and personal freedom and hiking it was an opportunity I could not let go.'

Holbrook's profession in North Carlolina involves helping the environment by eliminating some of the plastic that gets thrown along roadsides, in the form of drinks or wrappers, and creating metal containers to replace them. So he has always been interested in protecting the environment and now he is letting the environment protect him by helping him grow as a person, he said.

Holbrook is involved in what hikers call "section hiking" by breaking the 2,200 miles up into several different treks.

This time, Holbrook came to Mount Vernon and started his trek in March and hiked until the end of

The Rockcastle Republican Party elected a new Vice-Chair at their meeting on Monday night.

Brandy Chasteen Brock was nominated and voted in to the position by fellow republicans. The position was vacant following the resignation of David Eaton.

According to party chair Doris Cromer, Brock is a welcome addition to the county party's leadership

"Brandy is so well thought of throughout our county. Her passion for service will help make a positive impact on the Republican Party and our entire community." Cromer said.

"I am really excited about the chance to serve in this position. I believe in our community's conservative values and in the importance of public service." Brock said following her election to the post.

address the issue. Bevin had hoped to address the issue before July 1, but lacked the votes to pass legislation his administration believes would better address the problem.

Bevin vetoed the original bill citing incorrect dates. He also said certain provisions were illegal and would have kept individuals from getting their pensions if their make their payments into the retirement system.

The Governor's proposal is similar to the bill that passed during the 2019 session with those items addressed.

State Representative R. Travis Brenda said on social media that he would not attend the special session. Brenda, a teacher at Rockcastle County High School, said he would be attending an out of state training for his job.

State Senator Jared Carpenter said he plans to attend the special session. He stated that he continues to review the Governor's proposal and receive input from stakeholders. He prefers the original bill passed by the General Assenbly but believes a solution must be reached.

The proposal will give the state's regional universities a way to exit the Kentucky Retirement System (KRS) and pay off their li-

At the USATF Track and Field Championships at Centre College in June, Emma competed in the 15-16 year old age group and easily won the 400-meter dash, automatically qualifying for the Region 5 Track and Field Championships at the University of Louisville.

Region 5 includes Kentucky, Ohio, Michigan, West Virginia, and Lake Erie. The top 5 places in each event advance to the USATF Hershey National Junior Olympic Track and Field Championships in Sacramento, California in late July. Emma decided not to compete at the regional

The winning time in the 400-meter dash at the Region 5 Championships was 59.89, while 2nd place was 1:00.74. Emma would have easily qualified for nationals and had a great chance to win the event at the regional meet if she had chosen to compete. Nominations Open for the 2019 County Committee Elections

The U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA) Farm Service Agency (FSA) encourages all farmers, ranchers, and FSA program participants to take part in the local County Committee election nomination pro-

FSA's county committees are a critical component of the day-to-day operations of FSA and allow grassroots input and local administration of federal farm programs.

Committees are comprised of locally elected agricultural producers responsible for the fair and equitable administration of FSA farm programs in their counties. Committee members are accountable to the Secretary of Agriculture. If elected, members become part of a local decision making and farm program delivery process.

A county committee is composed of three to 11 elected members from local administrative areas (LAA). Each member serves a three-year term. One-third of the seats on these committees are open for election each year.

County committees may have an appointed advisor to further represent the local interests of underserved farmers and ranchers. Underserved producers are beginning, women and other minority farmers and ranchers and landowners and/or operators who have limited resources.

All nomination forms for the 2019 election must be postmarked or received in the local USDA service center by Aug. 1, 2019. For more information on FSA county committee elections and appointments, refer to the FSA fact sheet: Eligibility to Vote and Hold Office as a COC Member available online at: fsa,usda,gov/elec-

MIKE HARMON AUDITOR OF PUBLIC ACCOUNTS

The Honorable Howell Holbrook Jr, Rockcastle County Judge/Executive The Honorable Danetta Ford Allen, Rockcastle County Clerk Members of the Rockcastle County Fiscal Court

Independent Auditor's Report

Report on the Financial Statement

We have audited the accompanying Statement of Receipts, Disbursements, and Excess Fees - Regulatory Basis of the County Clerk of Rockcastle County, Kentucky, for the year ended December 31, 2018, and the related notes to the financial statement. Management's Responsibility for the Financial Statement

Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of this financial statement in accordance with accounting practices prescribed or permitted by the laws of Kentucky to demonstrate compliance with the Commonwealth of Kentucky's regulatory basis of accounting and budget laws. Management is also responsible for the design, implementation, and maintenance of internal control relevant to the preparation and fair presentation of a financial statement that is free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or

Auditor's Responsibility

Our responsibility is to express an opinion on this financial statement based on our audit. We conducted our audit in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America, the standards applicable to financial audits contained in Government Auditing Standards issued by the Comptroller General of the United States, and the Audit Guide for County Fee Officials issued by the Auditor of Public Accounts, Commonwealth of Kentucky. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statement is free from material misstatement.

An audit involves performing procedures to obtain audit evidence about the amounts and disclosures in the financial statement. The procedures selected depend on the auditor's judgment, including the assessment of the risks of material misstatement of the financial statement, whether due to fraud or error. In making those risk assessments, the auditor considers internal control relevant to the entity's preparation and fair presentation of the financial statement in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the entity's internal control. Accordingly, we express no such opinion. An audit also includes evaluating the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of significant accounting estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall presentation of the financial statement.

We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our audit opinion. Basis for Adverse Opinion on U.S. Generally Accepted Accounting Principles

As described in Note 1 of the financial statement, the financial statement is prepared by the Rockcastle County Clerk on the basis of the accounting practices prescribed or permitted by the laws of Kentucky to demonstrate compliance with the Commonwealth of Kentucky's regulatory basis of accounting, which is a basis of accounting other than accounting principles generally accepted in the United States

The effects on the financial statement of the variances between the regulatory basis of accounting described in Note 1 and accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America, although not reasonably determinable, are presumed to be material. Adverse Opinion on U.S. Generally Accepted Accounting Principles

In our opinion, because of the significance of the matter discussed in the Basis for Adverse Opinion on U.S. Generally Accepted Accounting Principles paragraph, the financial statement referred to above does not present fairly, in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America, the financial position of the Rockcastle County Clerk, as of December 31, 2018, or changes in financial position or cash flows thereof for the year then ended. Opinion on Regulatory Basis of Accounting

In our opinion, the financial statement referred to above presents fairly, in all material respects, the receipts, disbursements, and excess fees of the Rockcastle County Clerk for the year ended December 31, 2018, in accordance with the basis of accounting practices prescribed or permitted by the Commonwealth of Kentucky as described in Note 1 Other Reporting Required by Government Auditing Standards

In accordance with Government Auditing Standards, we have also issued our report dated May 14, 2019, on our consideration of the Rockcastle County Clerk's internal control over financial reporting and on our tests of its compliance with certain provisions of laws, regulations, contracts, grant agreements, and other matters. The purpose of that report is to describe the scope of our testing of internal control over financial reporting and compliance and the results of that testing, and not to provide an opinion on the internal control over financial reporting or on compliance. That report is an integral part of an audit performed in accordance with Government Auditing Standards in considering the Rockcastle County Clerk's internal control over financial reporting and compliance. Respectfully submitted,

State law requires the Auditor of Public Accounts to annually audit fiscal courts, county clerks, and sheriffs; and print the results in a newspaper having general circulation in the county. The complete audit and any other audit of state agencies, fiscal courts, county clerks, sheriffs, and property valuation administrators may be viewed in the reports section of the Auditor of Public Accounts' website at www.auditor.ky.gov or upon request by calling 1-800-247-9126, 209 ST. Rockcastle Hitmen places 1st in Diamond Classic

The 7U Rockcastle Hitmen baseball team traveled to Wayne County on Saturday, July 13 to play in the Wayne County Diamond Classic. They came home with the 1st place trophy. The team and coaches would like to thank those who have sponsored the team for the games they have played: Marcella's Farm to Fork and B & H Tools. The trophy has been placed at Marcella's Farm to Fork Restaurant as its forever home. Also, thanks to the coaches, parents and all who have supported these kids this summer. Pictured front from left are: Jase Napier, Assistant Dugout Coach AJ Martin, DJ Martin, Nash Harper, Brodie Rumsey, Trevor Hancock, Brayden McIntosh, Ethan Hall, Bentley Ramsey, Eli Graves, Connor Devine, Jace Childress, and Little Assistant Coach Gunner Devine. Back row: Josh Martin, Jason Childress, Head Coach Greg Harper, Brandon McIntosh, and Ben Graves. Not pictured-Henry Rader.

Prospects finish runners-up at Invitation Ring Tournament

Mid-America Prospects 8u went 4-1 and finished tournament runners-up in the Sevierville Park Invitation Ring Tournament on July 13-14. The Prospects were told by multiple coaches that they were the best defensive team they have played all year. They only gave up 12 runs in the 5 games they played. All of the players and parents really appreciate the following for their support throughout the season: Emery's Towing, Citizens Bank, Mt Vernon Signal, Central Body Service, Rock Peds, Deb's Variety Shop, McKeehan Construction, Brodhead Farm Equipment, Brodhead Pharmacy, Collins Respiratory Care, Owens Funeral Home, Cumberland Excavation and Landscaping, South Central Pools, Jeremy B Rowe Law Office, and Jackson Hewitt Tax Service. The Prospects will be back in action on Saturday, July 20th at Thacker Field. We would like to invite everyone to come watch them play. Pictured are front from left: Bo Bishop, Carson Neeley, Corey Shaffer, Wrett Craig and Josiah Rodriguez. Back row from left: Parker Cash, Brycen Dollins, Wyatt Craig, Gage Childress, Zayden Riddle, and Zaydon Scalf.

"Hike"

April. "I didn't really keep track of miles. I was more interested in meeting all the like-minded hikers along the way," he said. "We call it a 'hiker bubble' and it includes those who walk at about the same pace and have common interests and we make friends along the way."

Still, the trek was not an easy one. "It's a very big challenge and is not for everyone," he said. "But for those who love to hike, the Appalachian Trail is perfect and gives one time to simplify your life and get away from those normal daily pursuits that consume us all."

Holbrook, like many serious hikers, plans to hike the entire length of the world-famous trail that has brought about 2 million hikers to the world's longest foot trail since it became a national site in 1921.

Trail clubs and hiker organizations have traveled the trail since it began as a nationally-protected site and Holbrook says the hike is life changing and its beauty is breathtaking.

But his biggest reason for starting his trek now is to fulfill his lifelong goal to better himself.

"It is just something I had to do and I really owe a 'thank you' to my family and fiancee who worried about me, yet supported me, on this trip," he said.

Holbrook says everyone should find what they need in life to become a better person and pursue that dream. "For some it is art. For others it is pottery or whatever their own dream may be. But everyone should pursue that thing that they have always wanted to try but were nervous about," he said. "Whatever you do, make yourself a better person and don't give up."

Along the trail, Holbrook stopped at campsites or shelters and met new friends and made new memories that will never fade. And he is not hesitant to begin planning his next trek along the trail. "I will keep going section by section until I have completed the trail," he said.

But each section of trail that Holbrook tackles, and each demanding step along his trek, and each new surprising obstacle that came along each day of the hike, accomplished that one goal for Holbrook. Each new experience helped him find that one objective.

"It made me a better person."

The session is expected to last 5 days. The General Assembly cannot meet on Sundays.
