Serving Rockcastle County Since 1887

Mount Vernon, Kentucky 40456 - (606) 256-2244 Volume 135 • Number 18 50 per copy Thursday, June 3, 2021

The 49th graduating class of Rockcastle County High School took part in an outdoor ceremony last Tuesday. The class, shown above taking part in the Processional, was one of the smallest in school history. Due to COVID restrictions, the ceremony was held outside on the RCHS football field and each graduating senior received eight tickets for the ceremony. It was a big night for the seniors considering last year's seniors were unable to take part in a full ceremony due to COVID.

Rockcastle added to FEMA list Flood damage assistance now available here

By: Mike French Editor
For Rockcastle County residents who suffered damage from flooding, during the flood in March of this year, help may be on the way. According to Rockcastle County Judge/Executive Howell Holbrook, Jr., Rockcastle has been added to the counties who will receive assistance from FEMA (Federal Emergency Management Agency). "This is such a good thing for our residents who suffered from the flood," said Holbrook. "Each one of them have a story to tell and it breaks your heart to hear them."

Holbrook and other local officials took representatives from FEMA around the county after the flooding in an attempt to have the county added to the emergency funding assistance. This week, those attempts were successful. "There will now be more resources available for Kentucky communities to rebuild after the historic flooding," said Governor Andy Beshear. "We acted quickly to request federal assistance and appreciate FEMA quickly approving our request."

Rockcastle remains in red zone

Though Rockcastle County remains in the Red Zone with an incident rate of 25.67, there have been no new cases and there are no active cases reported in the past seven days in the county.

Fiscal court

The Rockcastle County fiscal court will hold their regular monthly meeting on Tuesday, June 8 at 4 p.m. in the third floor conference room at the courthouse. The public is invited to attend.

US25 Yard Sale

The 10th annual US 25 Yard Sale will be June 3, 4, and 5. The 200-mile event will stretch from Richwood to Corbin and will include hundreds of yard sales. For more information, call 859-779-3005. Those interested may set up in Livingston for a $10 donation.

Traffic Checkpoints

The Mount Vernon Police Department will be conducting Traffic Safety Checkpoints during the month of June, in an effort to remove intoxicated drivers from the roadways.

The locations will be North Wilderness Road/Lake Linville Road, I-75 south off ramp at exit 62, Highway 150/Willaims Street and West Main Street in front of the Rockcastle County Middle School.

Also, the department will be participating in the click it or ticket program. Police will enforce the use of seatbelts day and night while looking for impaired drivers, speeders and child safety usage.

First reading of county budget held

By: Mike French Editor
Rockcastle County Judge/Executive Howell Holbrook, Jr. held a special called meeting of the fiscal court Tuesday, at the courthouse. The meeting was called to allow the court enough time to hold a first and second reading of the 2021-22 budget before the end of the fiscal year on June 30. The proposed budget had been presented at the last meeting, but some changes to that budget were made and Holbrook wanted to give magistrates time to review the changes before a second reading, which would finalize the budget upon approval. Among the changes was the addition of a standing order to pre-approve certain recurring expenses. Holbrook, and Treasurer Joe Clontz, presented the court with a list (See "Budget" on A6)

Microfoodery seeks two-year extension

By: Mike French Editor
Members of the Rockcastle County Industrial Development Authority held their regular monthly meeting Tuesday morning. The progress of the Microfoodery plant on Richmond Street has been questioned several times by county magistrates, as well as other officials, since the company came to Mount Vernon. The city of Mount Vernon and the fiscal court loaned the company $1 million through a CDBG grant with the condition that the money can be loaned to other potential businesses as it is paid back. This allows the money to be used more than once in efforts to bring more growth to the area. However, a condition of the grant will not allow the money or the interest to be loaned to another potential business until Microfoodery has employed 50 full time employees. Conditions of the loan required those employees to be hired by June of 2021. "We received two payments from Microfoodery last week," said

Fallen heroes honored on Memorial Day

By: Mike French Editor
At a time when many say our nation is as divided as it has been since the Civil War, many men and women of all races, faiths and politics stood side by side to honor those who have given their life to defend freedom and liberty by celebrating Memorial Day, 2021. In Rockcastle County the celebration was sponsored by the David M. Smith American Legion Post 71, the Veterans of Foreign Wars, Mount Vernon Lions Club and the Rockcastle Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution. The event was held Monday on the courthouse lawn as officials (See "Veteran" on A6)

A large crowd attended the Memorial Day celebration Monday at the Rockcastle Courthouse. The event was sponsored by the American Legion, VFW and DAR and was opened by Don Gabbard. Names of all Rockcastle County Veterans who lost their lives in battle were listed as a bell rang after each name.

Rockcastle residents will have to go to regional office for licensing needs starting on June 28

Kentucky Transportation Cabinet (KYTC) operated Driver Licensing Regional Offices will become the new home for driver licensing services for Rockcastle County residents. Beginning Monday, June 28th, the office of Circuit Court Clerk in Rockcastle County will no longer serve as the application site to request operator licenses, learner permits or state identification cards. The new regional model is to be phased statewide by June 30, 2022. Across the Commonwealth, driver licensing services offered by circuit court clerks in the Judicial Branch will gradually transfer to KYTC's new network of Driver Licensing Regional Offices. Instead of visiting the Office of Circuit Court Clerk, residents will visit ANY Driver Licensing Regional Office to apply for or renew driver licenses, permits, commercial driver licenses (CDLs) and ID cards. Regional offices offer all credentials in either a standard or REAL ID card version. REAL ID versions meet federal requirements to board U.S. commercial flights, enter military bases or enter federal buildings that require ID once REAL ID enforcement starts May 3, 2023. To schedule an appointment at a regional office, visit drive.ky.gov. Walk-in customers are also welcome. KYTC Driver Licensing Regional Offices are open Monday-Friday from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. Only debit and credit cards are accepted (no cash or check) at this time. Driver Licensing Regional Offices are located in: Paducah, Madisonville, Bowling Green, Owensboro, Lou (See "License" on A6)

Ever since Circuit Court Clerk Eliza York-Hansel first started trying to explain the new REAL ID driver's licenses to me last year, I have had a hard time wrapping my head around them.

And, now, I find out that they will be the cause of county residents losing the convenience of being able to renew their licenses in the county and will instead have to journey to a regional office, probably Richmond or Somerset.

York-Hansel is going to be able to renew driver's licenses, with expiration dates six months out, until Monday, June 28th. She will not be able to issue the REAL ID licenses however, those will only be available at the regional offices. She is also going to be open two Saturdays in June from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. to facilitate the renewal process locally, the first Saturday on June 5th with the second one to be announced in next week's Signal.

I was really upset when the REAL ID drivers licenses were first announced because they will be some trouble to obtain with the necessity of presenting two forms of ID and, I thought, the fact that you would not be able to board a domestic airplane flight without it. However, Eliza finally got it through my head that if you have a passport, the REAL ID license is not necessary. I happen to have a passport, being the world traveler that I am, you know, so as long as I can keep it current I'm going to just keep my old regular license.

Besides, enforcement of the enhanced ID doesn't even go into effect until May 3, 2023 so, at my advanced age, I might not have to worry about it at all.

I suppose the main irritant is that I don't like the idea of having to drive to Somerset or Richmond for something I have always been able to take care of in five minutes by walking down Main St. But, as I understand it, you will also be able, at some point, to renew your license online if your name and address has not changed.

I do want to fuss about an item that is included in President Biden's new six trillion budget revealed over the holiday weekend. It has to do with the hiring of 87,000 additional IRS enforcement personnel so that we, and our money (haha are they in for a surprise where I'm concerned) can be tracked better. President Obama did something of the same thing. He hired 75,000 additional federal employees within days of his inauguration.

Actually, I suspect this might have as much to do with padding Democrat voter rolls with new em-

Since this COVID thing started, it seems that so many normal people like me are getting left out in the cold on so many chances to get ahead.

I hate to think "poor little me," but I figure if it is happening to me, it must be happening to others also.

When the pandemic hit, millions of American workers got pretty good news. "Just go on home and the government will pay you to stay home." In fact, most of them got a raise. They were paid more to stay home than they made at their job.

But not Mike. Mike is an "essential worker." While everyone else is home, Mike has to keep going to work every day and face people with COVID.

Then the government decided to help some more. Those poor farmers needed help. "Yes we do sir. Thank you."

So, they passed a bill to help forgive a farmer's debt. Farmers could live off their farm and not have to pay back anything they had borrowed for the farm.

But not Mike. Mike is white. White people can't apply.

Then they decided families had such a difficult time that the government was going to help families. They decided to send money to every family to help with life's expenses.

But not Mike. Mike's family is grown. They will send money to those with children who are Back in early March, it became obvious that Loretta and I were going to have a wheel chair to get me into and out of the house, especially on those rainy days when I was making trips to the hospital 3 or 4 times a week with no let up in sight. So we made arrangements to buy one at a medical supply store before discovering that it was so large and heavy that we were going to have to buy a trailer to haul it around on, plus it was not going to do anything to solve the problem of getting me to and from the car. I would estimate the pound to pound similarity to be about the same as a WWII era Sherman tank except it looked easier to get the tank into the car enough to close the doors.

Then 3 things happened almost simultaneously. First I walked into the hospital for an immuno therapy infusior and it didn't look like I was going to walk away. We still have no idea how Loretta got me back inside the house but the previously, dependable hurry cane had suddenly lost all its utility. No sooner had she got me back in bed than the phone rang than an Angel called to tell us it had a free wheel chair I could have if the Angel would agree for me to keep its name out of the paper.

As soon as she got home, old friends, Steve

June Apples

Each summer when June rolls around, my taste buds remind me of the two mature June apple trees that were located in the orchard just across Old US 25 from my grandfather's (Pop) house. The orchard belonged to Mr. Jim Winstead, who was a friend of Pop's.

Mr. Winstead told me and my friend Kenneth Hansel that we could help ourselves to the small green apples. And help ourselves we did. You should have seen us scampering up those two trees. They were just right for climbing, so Kenneth and I filled our pockets with the apples and ventured into the woods to enjoy our treats.

When I think about June apples, my salivary glands begin to open the flood gates in my mouth. The tangy, ployees, and their family members, as anything else.

The $6 trillion in spending will be partially paid for by new taxes, but still leave a $1.8 trillion deficit.

The U.S. also imported 1.033 million barrels of Iranian crude in March, for the first time since 1991, despite sanctions on Iran’s energy sector.

Our country is changing quickly under this administration. For the first time, a President has reportedly authorized U.S. embassies to fly political flags -- LGBTQ and Black Lives Matter (an organization founded by a self-avowed “trained Marxist”). A New York Republican Representative has introduced a bill to prevent political flags, other than the American flag, from being flown outside U.S. embassies around the world.

We’ll see how much support the bill gets from the Democrats and the RINOs.

Another bill recently filed was by Senator Ted Cruz “to ban federal vaccine passports and protect Americans’ well-established right to privacy that any mandated vaccine passport would destroy.” I hope it’s along the same line as Florida’s law which mandates a business or school be fined $5,000 each time it requires a “vaccine passport” or proof of vaccination.

A growing number of NBA and MLB franchises will reportedly be asking for “vaccine passports” as they reopen their venues.

Of course, these “passports” are not issued to those of us who have had the virus and, according to several studies, have more and longer immunity to the virus than those taking the vaccine.

And, you should be aware that one half of the employees of several world/national health organizations have not taken the vaccine and that 117 employees have sued Houston-area hospitals over a vaccine mandate, arguing the mandate violates the Nuremberg Code and US statutes that allow Americans to refuse “unapproved” treatments.

It is a chaotic world we live in today. A world where an unarmed Air Force Veteran can be gunned down in our nation’s capitol, the perpetrator’s name not even be released and the Department of Justice decide that there will be no investigation of the murder.

A world where illegal immigrants are staying on a military facility while homeless Veterans are outside the gates with no shelter or food.

A world where over 10,000 unaccompanied migrant children were released into the U.S. in May, including in Kentucky. Who is taking care of these children, many of them teenagers 17 and 18 years old? Who is responsible for their behavior and well being?

A world where the President’s $6 trillion budget includes hundreds of millions of dollars in restored aid to Palestinians who start a conflict by lobbing missiles into Israel and then Israel is condemned by several Democrat members of our Congress who evidently think Israel defending herself is terrorism.

A world where Syria has been elected to the World Health Organization’s executive board. Syria, a country whose leader poisoned to death thousands of his people with chemical weapons now sits on the UN’s top public health organization.

And the beat could go on and on but I have run out of energy for this week.

and Ann Meng, called from Lexington with one we could easily manage to accommodate an upcoming flurry of hospital visits and get us in and out and folded up in a matter of a few short minutes. Our lives had radically changed in less than an hour!

I quickly learned that, even though it weighed a ton, the Angel Chair was like riding on air and that moving from room to room as simple as walking around. We have installed pillows, cushions and such to the point that it is now the most comfortable place in the house for me to sit for extended periods of time.

A month ago I had no idea if I would ever write another column and it’s still on a “one day at a time” basis, but, thanks to some very real Angels, I find myself back into yet another June that I really never expected to see with myself in it.

younger than Mike’s children..

Groups and organizations started to form across America. Groups that will fight against a government that has left them out. Organizations that will force government to include everyone and be equal. They would call it, “Black Lives Matter.”

Uhhmmmm, I’m the wrong color again.

It wasn’t over yet.

One of my favorite pastimes and an absolute requirement for my job has become Facebook Messenger.

I never really trusted any content on Facebook and I was right. The stories are misleading, the posts are one-sided and some people just plain lie.

But I get ideas from Facebook posts all the time. Then I call those involved and get the “real” story and we publish that.

But Messenger has become my number one source of communication with mayors, police officers, magistrates, school board members, judges and so on.

Then, suddenly, Facebook decided that if you like Donald Trump or believe in moral values, you are no longer allowed on their platform.

In other words, Facebook decided overnight that Mike isn’t welcome here.

This week the President announced that entire neighborhoods will receive billions of dollars in help. Once again though, not my neighborhood. Just some poor neighborhoods. Not Mike’s neighborhood.

I did take advantage of the tax deferring thing and my check was a couple dollars more every week. Thanks, Donald Trump! But since Biden got in office, I am now paying it back and my check is a few dollars less than it was before. Thanks, Joe Biden.

This is all still happening every day. I see people as I drive down the road going to their mailbox and opening envelopes with huge smiles on their faces. For a poor, old fellow like me, it seems like checks are flying around in the wind and everyone except me is catching them in mid air.

I’m sure it just feels that way. I did get a $1,400 check that I didn’t earn. Of course everyone got that one. I hope accepting it doesn’t mean that I owe the government my first born child. She is 34 now so I’d say she would complain.

In fact, if I am not mistaken, it is her daughter (my granddaughter) who will have to pay the government back all that money that everyone is getting except her “G-Paw.”

I am waiting for the day that some elected official will decide that during their re-election campaign, they want my vote too. Maybe they will create a bill that gives $3,000 to all white, males, over 50 who wear glasses.

Yayyyy, I qualify.

In the meantime, I will just wait and hope that someone in government who decides who gets all this free money, will include the people that show up for work every day, pay their taxes, love their country, respect their elders, are thankful for first responders and believe in God. Believe it or not, those of us who work hard and don’t destroy our neighborhoods, could use a little help also.

“Memory”

sweet-tart fresh flavor appeals to many folks. It is one of the best apples to fry. My mother (Bee) loved to fry June apples to serve on home-made biscuits. I loved them also.

When the apples started to get ripe, I knew it was time for one of my grandmother’s (Mommie Katie) stack cakes. She was famous for her stack cakes. They were about six layers thick and were so moist. You could hardly resist a second slice. She would have me and Kenneth gather a bag of these small green apples and deliver them to her kitchen. She sliced them thinly, with the skin still on, and fried them in bacon drippings to mush. Mommie Katie said that June apples made the best stack cakes. I totally agreed. Kenneth and I would have to wait for a couple of days to sample a slice of this wonderful cake.

During June apple season, Kenneth and I visited the Winstead orchard almost every day, filling our pockets full. After a few days, we even shared our bounty with our friends. It was a time in the beginning of summer that we looked forward to each year.

When my wife and I purchased our new home in Mt. Sterling, I decided that a June apple tree would be a wonderful addition to our huge backyard. So far, I have been unable to locate any June apple trees to plant. I will continue to search until I locate one.

Frankfort Update

By: Josh Bray
State Representative
As Supreme Court
considers emergency
powers, legislators
continue focus on economic recovery

All eyes are on the Kentucky Supreme Court as we wait for its seven members to rule on the governor's challenge to legislation that would refine the emergency powers granted to Kentucky governors. The court will meet to hear arguments on June 10. As you know, this is four months after the legislation passed and the governor filed suit to prevent new laws from taking effect that would have ended the administration's inconsistent and arbitrary COVID-19 policies. While many of the remaining executive orders and administrative regulations expire on June 11, this legal challenge has historic repercussions as the much of the legislation in question also applies to all states of emergency.

In the meantime, I will join my colleagues at the Capitol as the 2021 Interim begins on June 1. During this year's interim, our focus will be on a variety of issues likely to be on the agenda for next year's session. Legislators will hear from state agencies and individual Kentuckians, as well as gather data and information. Ultimately, my goal is to use what we learn in the interim to craft the best possible public policies for our commonwealth.

Without a doubt, one of the top issues we will consider is our state's economy. Specifically, how we can continue creating opportunities for Kentuckians across the state. Prior to the pandemic, we had record low unemployment, historic economic investment, and were on track to shatter state revenue records. This good fortune was not a fluke. After all, success happens when opportunity meets preparation. Kentucky's success was the product of a strategic approach to building our economy that began when conservative Kentuckians were given the majority in the Kentucky House of Representatives in 2016. It began with changes to our tax code that broadened the base and decreased taxes – allowing more people to pay less. It continued as we invested in developing our workforce, attracted new jobs and helped existing companies expand.

Frankly, the policies enacted over the past several years are a key part of the reason our state has weathered the pandemic without a massive crisis. Just last month, two of the three major credit ratings agencies – Fitch Ratings and Moody's – shared positive news. Moody's issued a report praising our economic recovery and Fitch Ratings upgraded Kentucky from "negative" to "stable." Both announcements are good news, but they only paint part of the picture. For example, do we really want to celebrate a stable rating when we should be better than that? Also, the massive infusion of federal stimulus funds that artificially increase spending and therefore sales tax collections – what happens when they end? You must dig a little deeper to find the full story. You can look at the data, like the fact that Kentucky ranks second to last in state debt among our seven neighboring states with S&P Global, Moody's, and Fitch Ratings. Or you can look at anecdotal evidence and consider that neighboring states like Tennessee are booming while many of Kentucky's small businesses have faced permanent closure or cutting services. Now that they are reopening at full capacity, they struggle to find employees.

As you can see, there remains a great deal of uncertainty surrounding our economic recovery and we have a lot of work to do. However, there are some positive signs to consider. In upgrading the state's rating, Fitch pointed specifically to "the Commonwealth's ability to navigate the on-going budgetary implications without materially weakening its fiscal resilience." This means that our commitment to passing a responsible budget and wisely investing federal stimulus dollars played a significant role in the ratings upgrade.

We know for a fact that the path to prosperity it is untying the hands of our business owners, removing barriers to a return to work for workers, and responsibly investing state revenue. Growing the size of government is not the right answer, despite what the administration wants us to believe. After all, I think most of us would agree that the people of Kentucky should work less for their government and more for themselves.

Now that the 2021 Interim has begun, I hope you will follow meeting coverage on the Legislative Research Commission's website at legislature.ky.gov. As always, I can be reached through the toll-free message line in Frankfort at 1-800-372-7181 or by email at Josh.Bray@lrc.ky.gov.

“License”

Circuit Court Clerks will temporarily continue to process card renewal or replacement requests submitted remotely by standard-issue cardholders whose credential expires on or before June 30, 2021. This option only applies to applicants who have not had a change of address or name and do not require driver testing performed by the Kentucky State Police.

REAL IDs must be requested in person and cannot be renewed remotely through the Circuit Court Clerks' temporary mail-in renewal program.

Kentuckians who require driver testing (primarily first time cardholders) must successfully do so with the Kentucky State Police before applying at a licensing office.

The Rockcastle Circuit Clerk's office will be open two Saturdays in June to renew driver's licenses, with expiration dates through November 30th. The first Saturday will be June 5th and the office will be open from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. The second Saturday date will be announced in next week's Signal.

A list of frequently asked questions can be found here.

Driver Testing

Kentucky State Police will continue to oversee all permit and license driver testing for Rockcastle County residents at the current testing location. Information on how to schedule a written or driving test is available at kentuckystatepolice.org/driver-testing.

Next Level Licensing

The shift is more than a change in locations. It represents a new licensing model that provides Kentuckians with modern services that offer more choices in how they want to be served.

- Book an appointment online to visit an office to better plan your day. Walk-in customers are always welcome.

- You will soon be able to renew your license online! If your name or address has not changed, you can renew your standard or REAL ID card version online.

- All Driver Licensing Regional Offices will offer applicants a choice between a REAL ID or a new standard card version.

- Applicants can choose their preferred card version to be valid for four or eight years! That doubles the current lifespan of four years.

- Licensing is our only business. Our focus is on providing an excellent, uniform experience across our network of offices.

- You can visit ANY regional office, regardless of where you live in Kentucky.

- Periodic “Pop-up Driver Licensing” visits will occur in counties without a regional office to offer on-site application and renewal services.

- New card versions and office buildings offer state-of-the-art security to protect your information better.

- No more waiting for your card to be printed after taking your photo. You'll get a temporary document at the end of your transaction and the permanent card will be sent to you in the mail. This change improves security in the card issuance process.

Arrive Prepared

Applicants requesting a REAL ID must present documentation that meets specific guidelines. A list of acceptable documentation, and a link to take an interactive quiz that populates a personalized list of documents, is available at drive.ky.gov/realid/pages/identification-guide.aspx. A REAL ID, or other form of federally approved identification, such as a passport or military ID, eventually will be needed by people 18 and older for boarding commercial flights and accessing military bases and federal buildings that currently require identification. Federal enforcement is scheduled to begin May 3, 2023.

“Flood”

Rockcastle resident who suffered water damage during the flooding should contact the agency to request the assistance. “A picture is worth a thousand words,” Holbrook said. “If they have pictures of the damage or of the flooded basement or even the water in their home, they need to keep those because FEMA may want to see them before they are approved.”

Some counties had previously been approved for the assistance and, thanks to local officials, including Holbrook, Rockcastle County was added to that list last week.

Holbrook said businesses and those without insurance are eligible as well as those with insurance.

“We had to prove to FEMA that we had enough damage to qualify for the help. When we took them down some of the flooded roads in our county, that was enough,” he said.

To apply for the assistance, anyone with water damage from February 27 to March 14, should register online at DisasterAssistance.gov and download the FEMA app. Or you may call 1-800-621-FEMA (3362). The toll free telephone number will be operated from 7 a.m. to 11 p.m. seven days a week until further notice.

Before calling, everyone should have your Social Security number, insurance information, damage information, bank information and contact information ready.

According to FEMA officials, FEMA cannot duplicate insurance payments, but if one is underinsured, you may still receive assistance after your claim is settled.

Local residents still qualify even if you have already applied for assistance from other entities.

“I am so glad to see our county added to the list,” said Holbrook. “We have some families who really need this help.”

“Budget”

(Continued from front) of county expenses that recur periodically hoping to add the order to the annual budget.

“Some of the county's regular expenses come around each month or each quarter and we don't receive the invoice or the bill before the fiscal court meeting, but the bill is due before the following meeting,” said Holbrook. “That situation is costing the county a lot of late fees because we either have to call a special meeting and have a quorum and vote to pay it, or wait to pay that bill until after the next regular meeting when the court has approved that payment.”

Clontz agreed. “We keep getting these late fees because of the timing of certain billing cycles and our monthly meetings,” said Clontz. “If we have prior approval to go ahead and pay these particular bills each time they come in, we can save all those fees.”

Magistrate Shannon Bishop said he strongly supported the idea. “I am sure the citizens wouldn't want to be paying late fees with their tax dollars,” he said. “This needs to be done immediately.”

The vote was unanimous to accept the standing order as part of the budget.

There are 142 items listed on the standing order to pay including the Judge, magistrates, county attorney, election officers, jailer and county coroner's salaries as well as their secretaries or administrative assistants. The order also includes certain utilities, animal shelter wages, certain insurances, debt services, and other items.

Clontz, Holbrook and all magistrates discussed several items within the budget before holding the first reading, including the Microfoodery account.

The company has been discussed in previous meetings and some have expressed concern that the plant is well behind schedule in production as well as hiring employees and paying their debt. Owners had been denied a request to delay debt payments during the pandemic. “Is Microfoodery caught up yet with what they owe,” asked Magistrate Mike McGuire. Without further discussion, Clontz answered, “No. They are not caught up. They are behind.” Officials did not expound on the issue.

The balanced budget estimates the general fund revenue at $3,198,466.73, the road fund at $1,806,365.04, the jail fund at $1,591,077.48, the LEGA fund at $302,543.79, the forestry fund at $2,555, the fairgrounds fund at $17,250, the 911 fund at $411,958, CSEPP fund at $587,437. All 51 accounts show an estimated $7,917,583.04 in revenues and expenditures.

The extension, if approved, would give the plant two more years to hire the 50 employees essentially tying up the funds for two more years.

“We can't loan the money to anyone until that requirement is met,” said VanHook.

“Not every new business opening works the same. Some, like Chapin, were so quick it made our head spin,” VanHook said last month. “Some, like Microfoodery, runs into shipping issues and COVID and other things that take a little longer.”

Last week the fiscal court mentioned the plant in passing saying they were behind in some areas.

“I saw a truck with actual product on it going out from the plant last week and I think that is a very positive sign,” said VanHook.

Originally, the plant had hoped to be operational and have nearly the required 50 employees by the Christmas season of 2019.

VanHook also informed the board of the progress of the Farmers Market project. “I am very impressed with the contractors,” he said. “Once we got through the red tape and all the approvals were made, they jumped right in and got things moving.”

VanHook said he expects the project may be completed in September “if there are no unforeseen circumstances.”

VanHook also told the board he is still working closely with Delta Natural Gas. “Once the tap is in place, we can have our starting point,” he said. “Expect a big announcement at next month's meeting that will help that project along.”

The board also approved the monthly financial report showing about $7,700 in surplus funds. The exact amount will be known after the RCIDA receives the electric bill for street lights and other services.

VanHook also said there is still a company showing interest in a potential Industrial Park facility.

The next regular meeting will be Tuesday, July 6 at 8:30 a.m. at the courthouse in the third floor conference room. The public is invited to attend.

Robinson receives DAR state award for literacy

Mrs. Holly Robinson is the recipient of the 2020 KSDAR Outstanding Promotion of Literacy by a DAR Member Award. Each year, the DAR presents this award to a member who shows outstanding achievement in literacy promotion in her community. There are two areas of emphasis from which the candidate's service is considered-literacy development in adults and in children. This year's award recipient emphasized the latter.

In a time of uncertainty caused by the COVID-19 pandemic, schools were forced to stop in person classes indefinitely, leaving educators to think outside the box of normal teaching techniques to come up with new ways to meet their student's educational needs. Our recipient did just that.

Mrs. Robinson created a YouTube channel called “Rockcastle Storytime”. The project's concept was to have teachers, librarians, and other members of the community to volunteer to be taped reading either short stories or whole books in chapter segments. Various topics such as world history, fairy tales, holiday readings and Dr. Seuss have been covered. The project is completely nonprofit and has the support of the local school system. This type of virtual promotion of reading has been successful and continues to grow. Mrs. Robinson continues to work to develop strong community partnership in support of student growth and literacy development.

Due to the current COVID-19 restrictions, the 124th KSDAR State Conference was held virtually this year and the state literacy promotion chair, Mrs. Sonja Eads was unable to present the award in person. Mrs. Robinson was presented her award by Chapter Vice Regent, Debbie Brown and RCHS Principal, Mr. J.D. Bussell.

Swinney improves jumping marks in Last Chance Meet

RCMS sixth grader Maliyah Swinney finished her regular season competition with two outstanding performances at the Lincoln County Last Chance Meet on Thursday.

The meet gave athletes who were close to state qualification one more opportunity to meet the state guidelines.

Maliyah has already qualified for long jump, triple jump, and the 400-meter dash, so she competed primarily to improve upon her jumping marks.

In long jump, she placed 2nd by less than an inch with an awesome all-time personal best jump of 14'11.25". She fouled by only an inch on her final jump which measured 15'8". Her official jump of 14'11.25" currently ranks her 13th in the U.S. among all sixth grade long jumpers, as well as 2nd in Kentucky. She ranks 11th in the state among sixth through eighth grade jumpers heading into state competition. The top eighth grade jumper in Kentucky has a mark of 16'4". With a jump of 15'8" or better, Maliyah could have a shot at the state title.

In triple jump, Maliyah improved upon her all-time personal best with an awesome jump of 31'7.5", despite being just over 2' behind the takeoff board. From where she actually jumped from, her incredible jump measured 33'8". Her official jump of 31'7.5" keeps her ranked #1 in the U.S. among all sixth grade triple jumpers as the regular season ends. She's currently ranked 4th in Kentucky among sixth through eighth grade jumpers. The top jumper is an eighth grader that jumped 34'6" on Friday. That athlete also has the top long jump mark in the state. With the right execution, Maliyah could also be a strong contender for the triple jump state title.

The KTCCCA Middle School State Track and Field Championship is this Saturday at 10 a.m. at Louisville Eastern High School.

Kirby competes at Last Chance Meet at Lincoln

RCMS eighth grader Caitlyn Kirby finished her regular season competition with two outstanding performances at the Lincoln County Last Chance Meet on Thursday. The meet gave athletes who were close to state qualification one more opportunity to meet the state guidelines. Caitlyn had already qualified for discus and javelin at state with her performances at earlier meets this season and was only inches away from qualification in shot put.

In discus, Caitlyn won with an awesome throw of 69'5". Her best this season of 73'4.5" ranks her 10th in Kentucky and 8th among all eighth grade discus throwers in the state. Caitlyn should have a great shot at the state title as the top throw of 82'5" is definitely within reach.

In shot put, Caitlyn placed 2nd with an awesome throw of 27'6", not too far away from the 29'0" needed for state qualification. Her personal best of 28'2" earlier this season was very close to the qualification standard. Javelin was not contested at Lincoln County, but Caitlyn had already qualified for state in the event at a meet at Farristown earlier this season with her personal best throw of 57'0".

The KTCCCA Middle School State Track and Field Championship is this Saturday at 10 a.m. at Louisville Eastern High School.

Livingston Police cruiser may arrive this week

By: Mike French
Editor

The Livingston City Commission held a special called meeting last Friday.

The city agreed to send their financial information to the Center for Rural Development board which is required each year. The information is required since the city borrowed funds for the Livingston water system in 1992. City Clerk Amanda Thomas was not certain how much is still owed on the loan.

In other action, Commissioner Leroy Lamb made a motion to give Thomas and Mayor Dwane King authority to sign any documents pertaining to the insurance claim on the city's destroyed police vehicle as well as paperwork involved in purchasing a new cruiser this week.

Thomas said the cruiser will be fully equipped with police computer equipment. "We should have everything our Chief needs to do the job," she said.

The commission also voted to pay a $1,120 premium for worker's comp insurance.

Carpenter recognized as a 2021 Partner for Commonsense Justice

Last week, Senator Jared Carpenter was recognized as a "2021 Partner for Commonsense Justice" by local business and community leaders. The award from the Kentucky Partnership for Commonsense Justice (PCJ) recognizes state legislators who went above and beyond in Frankfort to protect small businesses, healthcare providers, and schools from frivolous COVID-19 lawsuits.

Carpenter's recognition from the group stems from his support of Senate Bill 5. The bill provides protections for health care providers, businesses, organizations, schools, and individuals who have reopened and are following recommended guidelines and the coronavirus pandemic. The legislation enjoyed support from a large coalition of groups from the business, medical, education, retail, and many other sectors. Senator Carpenter cosponsored the bill.

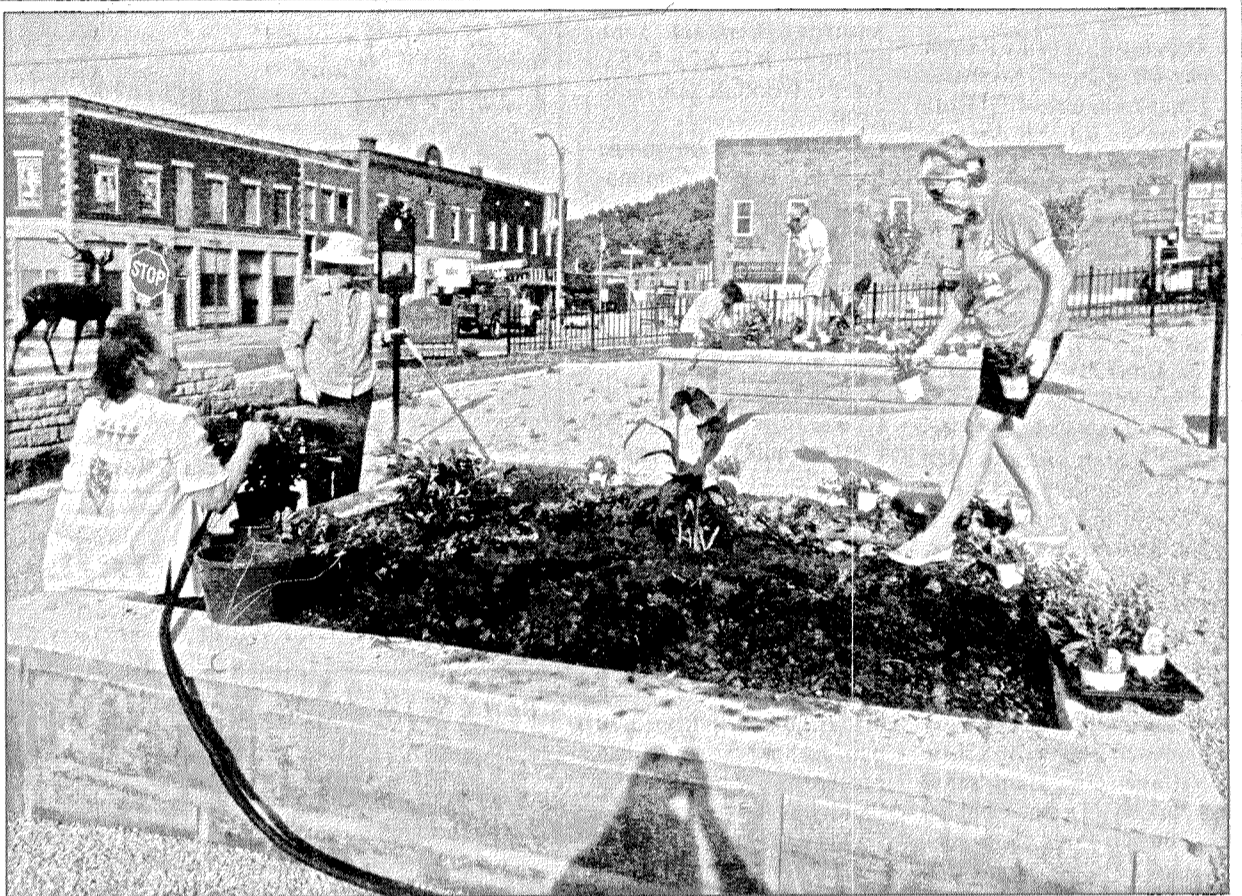

The "2021 Partner for Commonsense Justice" award was presented at Tri-County Fertilizer in Richmond by local supporters representing small businesses, healthcare, and education. Prior to the start of the General Assembly's 2021 legislative session, a poll conducted by the firm Mason-Dixon showed overwhelming support from Kentuckians for COVID-19 liability protections. When asked if businesses that act in good faith when reopening during the COVID-19 pandemic should or should not be provided protections from lawsuits, 67% agreed that they should while 22% did not support such protections. Support was mainly even among all Kentucky regions, age, gender, and party registration.

PCJ is a coalition of job creators, healthcare providers, small business owners, and taxpayers concerned about Kentucky's liability climate.

Plant the Right Tree in the Right Place

Trees beautify our neighborhoods, and when planted in the right spot, can even help lower energy bills. But the wrong tree in the wrong place can be a hazard... especially to power lines

If your spring plans include planting a tree or shrub, remember to first look up and be mindful of the location of the power lines - that tiny sapling you are planting will one day be a full mature tree!

1/2 cup chopped pecans
1/2 cup sugar
1/2 cup any color corn syrup
1 tablespoon melted butter
1/2 teaspoon vanilla
1 egg

Preheat oven to 375°. Unroll dough and separate into 2 long rectangles. Place in ungreased 13 x 9 pan and press along the bottom and 1/2" up the sides. Make sure it is firmly sealed. Bake for 5 minutes.

While crust is baking: In a large bowl, combine the pecans, sugar, corn syrup, melted butter, vanilla, and egg. Remove crust from oven and pour mixture over it. Bake 18 to 22 minutes or until golden brown. Cool completely before cutting. Store at room temperature.

CRESCENT CREAM CHEESE CHERRY CAKE

1 tube (8 ounce) crescent rolls
12 ounces (1 and 1/2 blocks) cream cheese, softened
3/4 cup granulated sugar (divided use)
1 teaspoon vanilla extract
1 can (21 ounce) cherry pie filling
1/4 cup (1/2 stick) unsalted butter, melted

Preheat oven to 350°. Spray an 8 x 8 baking dish with nonstick cooking spray. Unroll the crescent rolls. Line four (4) of the crescent rolls in the bottom of the baking dish. Spread them out and cover the bottom of your baking dish. Seal the seams as best as possible. Combine cream cheese and 1/2 cup sugar. Beat with an electric mixer until smooth. Add in vanilla extract and mix again. Spread cream cheese mixture over crescent rolls in the baking dish. Spread pie filling on top of cream cheese layer. Spread it around evenly. Top with remaining crescent roll dough. Do your best to stretch it out on top and seal the seams of the crescent rolls. Pour melted butter on the top of the crescent rolls. Sprinkle 1/4 cup sugar evenly over the melted butter. Bake for about 35 to 45 minutes. Top crust should look crusty and be golden brown in color.

The Vice of Fools

Pride has been called the never-failing vice of fools. Ancient Assyria exalted her own greatness. Like a prairie fire she swept over the earth. One great king after another fell before her. As she headed toward the Holy City she said: Isaiah 10:11 Shall I not, as I have done unto Samaria and her idols, so do to Jerusalem and her idols. But God had different plans we find in Isaiah 10:12 I will punish the fruit of the stout heart of the king of Assyria, and the glory of his high looks. And like a mighty tree, Assyria was hewn down.

Pride was the undoing of haughty Haman. When he would pass by everyone would bow before his presence, well almost everyone. Esther 3:25 When Mordecai bowed not, nor did him reverence, then was Haman full of wrath.

Haman was so upset at Mordecai he built a gallows fifty cubits high to hang Mordecai. Perhaps he thought the higher the gallows, the more dead Mordecai would be after the fall.

Pleased with himself, Haman went to the king to request the life of Mordecai. But before Haman could open his mouth, the king asked, what shall be done to honor this man on whom I delight. Now Haman thought in his heart, whom could the king honor more than me. Oh, how pride can deceive. As quick as a flash, Haman suggested. Put the royal apparel on this man, the royal crown upon his head, let him ride the king's horse, let a princess shout his name that this man the king delights to honor.

Haman had blurted this out without thinking, and the king told him to do all this for Mordecai, and well old Haman he got to lead the horse that Mordecai sat up on. With the blush of shame upon his face, Haman ran home to mourn. But this story is not finished. Remember the gallows that Haman had worked so hard on to hang Mordecai. Esther 7:10 So they hanged Haman on the gallows that had been prepared for Mordecai. As a reward for his prize, he got to try on the gallows first.

Someone has said: Pride thrust Nebuchadnezzar out of men's society, Saul out of his kingdom, Adam out of his paradise. Make no mistake about it the capitalization of (I) is dangerous business.

(If your Christian life is a drag, worldly weights are probably to blame.)
