Inmates charged in escape attempt

By: Mike French Editor

Two local inmates have been indicted for complicity to escape.

On Sunday, September 29, John McClure escaped from the Rockcastle County Detention Center by climbing the chain link fence in the recreation area. A manhunt ensued with the Rockcastle County Sheriff's Department, the Kentucky State Police, the Mount Vernon Police Department and deputy jailers assisting in the search. The next day he was captured and returned to jail.

Officials said the inmate may have been facing very little time in jail until the escape but the additional charges are expected to greatly increase McClure's jail time.

Reports indicated McClure climbed the fence, broke the top rail of the fence and escaped but was not noticed missing until an hour later during a cell count.

Rockcastle County Jailer Nathan Carter jumped into action with law enforcement agencies and placed McClure's face on news broadcasts and social media platforms, causing tips that helped police locate the escapee.

Carter began an immediate investigation into how to avoid such a circumstance in the future and the recreation area was locked down.

During the course of the investigation, police discovered two inmates who they say helped with McClure's escape.

Tommy Collins, 39, and James Hall, 44, both of Mount Vernon were indicted Friday, October 11 for as-

Brodhead is now KVHOF City

Smoke test coming

By: Mike French Editor

Members of the Brodhead City Commission were visited by Kentucky Veterans Hall of Fame (KVHOF) Director of Affairs, Emerson McAfee during Monday's regular monthly meeting.

With only two commissioners present at the meeting, McAfee asked Mayor Walter Cash to sign a proclamation of support and admiration and proclaim the "utmost gratitude for all men and women in the armed forces."

Agreeing to be a supporter of the KVHOF means the city agrees to nominate one citizen of Brodhead each year to be inducted into the Hall of Fame and that the city supports all members of the armed forces.

"We have a lot of people we could nominate," said Commissioner John Burton. "I think this is a wonderful thing."

McAfee also had Veteran only parking signs ($40) as well as a sign showing that the city is part of the organization ($110) for sale. "We know we want some of the signs we just need to talk about where we would place them and how many we want," said Burton.

The organization's only event is the Hall of Fame induction ceremony each year.

The city also announced a smoke test on the local sewer system October 28-30.

The test reveals any leaks in the system but it also shows officials where water

Fire destroys five acres Tuesday

By: Mike French Editor

Five acres of forest was destroyed Tuesday afternoon after a forest fire was reported between Sweetwater and Lambert Roads in Rockcastle County.

Some areas of Central Kentucky saw 33 consecutive days with no rain forcing Rockcastle County Judge Executive Howell Holbrook to sign a burn ban in mid September.

However, some rain fell in the area shortly after and the local ban was lifted leaving only the state wide burn ban in affect. Then, Tuesday evening, more rain fell basically ending the proclaimed drought statewide, according to officials.

Officials are not certain yet what started the fire off Lambert Road but the Brindle Ridge Volunteer Fire Department arrived on the scene around 3:30 Tuesday afternoon and soon after was assisted by the Climax and Brodhead Fire Departments. The Kentucky Division of Forestry was also on the scene.

A call alerted fire fighters about heavy smoke in the area and first responders (See "Fire" on A9)

Tax money from alcohol very restricted on how it can be used

By: Mike French Editor

A new source of income in the City of Mount Vernon this year will be received from the 5% alcohol tax.

Officials say they expect an additional $50,000 per year to be collected. However, some believe this to be a very conservative estimate. "We don't have enough data yet to know exact amounts but I think $50,000 is a very conservative number," said Mount Vernon City Administrator Josh Bray.

Some citizens have expressed concern over how that additional income may be used but Bray says each dollar will be used in a very transparent and restricted way. "There are very strict regulations about that income and it is watched closely," he said.

In fact, according to Bray, a new and separate bank account must be opened by the city and only money from that particular tax will be placed in that account.

"Once that money is in the account, it is extremely restricted as to what that money can be spent on," said Bray. "It can only be used for the cost alcohol extracts on the community."

According to Bray, the tourism department cannot use the money. "The tourism

Fire at Limestone Grille

A fire in a range hood caused the Limestone Grille in Mount Vernon to close Monday and most of Tuesday while workers cleaned up the debris caused by the fire. Mount Vernon Fire Chief David Bales said motorists saw flames coming from the top of the building from I-75 before the building's fire suppression system kicked on and extinguished the fire. The popular restaurant is once again open for business.

He was born in a time when the world was a different place than it is now. He was creative and brave and talented and had to live off his quick wit and his above average intelligence.

He was a man that didn't mind taking chances. In fact, many times he risked his own life to better his country and explore his world.

Born over 500 years ago, he became very interested in ships and started sailing at a very young age. He spent the rest of his life learning to become one of the best sailors in history. His urge to explore the world never ceased regardless of the peril that existed in those days.

He survived by using his mind since there was no such thing as grocery stores or electric. But he was good at it.

Once, when his ship was stranded in Cuba, he had an argument with the natives. They refused to sell him food or other essential needs to survive.

So, having an Almanac, the young man noticed that a lunar eclipse was coming soon. He told the natives that unless they dealt with him, he would "take away the moon" with his magic.

Laughed at and scorned, the man simply waited for the date to come. Then, sure enough, one night the moon just disappeared for a while. The natives came running to him saying they would deal with him if he would just bring the moon back. He agreed, and shortly, the moon was in the sky again.

Points East

By Ike Adams

At first glance, The Cowan Creek Cottage, listed at Air&b.com, appears to be just that, a pretty little country home with a welcome mat thrown across the foot of the front porch steps. Step inside and it looks/feels more than twice as large and spacious as it did outside.

Loretta, Andy and I had booked the cottage so that we could take in Blacky Days on October 11 and 12. I didn't realize, until after we'd already made the reservations, that it was owned and operated by my old friends and former (early 1970s) professional colleagues, Carol and Kendal Ison. A big hug from Carol and an extend hand shake from Kendal, upon our arrival, was icing on the cake this incredibly accommodating cottage turned out to be.

Don't take my word for it. If you are planning a trip to the mountains of eastern Kentucky, Google the place. You will be hard put to find a nicer, cleaner, more pleasant, place to stay and get a taste of the best of eastern Kentucky. If any-

Fall Is Here

All through September, the temperatures continued to remain in the low 90's. Occasionally, the mornings tempted us with a 70 degree tease, but the heat came back with gusto. The walk in our woods is shady and usually cool, but the temperature now remained hot and humid. When I notice the leaves of my popular trees, I see that the edges have turned brown and most have already dropped to the ground. These conditions are not usual and have been compounded by the severe lack of rain for the entire month. This has not been a normal summer, to say the least.

When I was a boy living with my mother in Rockcastle County, we had numerous poplar trees in our yard. They were our local gauge of the coming fall season. Their leaves were always the first to turn yellow and fall to the ground before the other hardwood trees.

Autumn is my favorite season, and I cherish my memories of those days. I love the color of the fall leaves and the lower humidity. My wife and I find time each fall to sit by a fire lodged in a fire ring that is adjacent to our woods. This is one of my favorite things of the entire year.

The hickory nuts are falling and that usually means fall is just around the bend. Another sign of fall is the appearance of katydids making their calls at night. They have begun to make their characteristic sounds in my yard after dark. Their mighty chorus causes me to stop and listen when I am on my deck. They are already serenading the other wildlife nearby.

When I was a biology teacher at Mt. Sterling High School, I always taught my students a way to determine the temperature, even though you did not have a thermometer. If you count the number of katydid "chirps" in 15 seconds, and add 37, it will give you a fairly accurate temperature in degrees Fahrenheit. (Just a little tip that I found handy.)

So the popular trees, the hickory nuts, and the katydids are ready for fall, but Mother Nature seems to have held on to summer later this year. I am ready

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Join us and vote
Nov. 5th...

Dear Editor,

During the most recent primary election, approximately 20 percent of registered voters exercised their right to vote. In the 2015 general election, less than a third of registered voters turned out to vote.

Here in Rockcastle County, only 20.8 percent voted in the 2019 primary election. I believe we can and must do a better job.

This year's general election is being held on November 5. No matter your party or politics, voting for the candidates that you believe will do the best job representing you is the most important thing you can do on Election Day.

On November 5, we will be electing our Governor, Commissioner of Agriculture, and other constitutional officers. Members of Rockcastle County Farm Bureau

Seasonal Candy
Dear Journal,

When I was growing up, you could just about tell the seasons by going down the candy aisle at the grocery store.

In the spring, around Easter, there were the little yellow marshmallow Peeps, the milk chocolate bunny rabbits, the jelly beans, and my favorite, the marshmallow filled eggs. They don't even sell them, anymore. The younger generation probably have never even seen them. These eggs were about an inch long with a hard candy shell; yellow, green, pink, blue, orange, and white. Their centers were made of marshmallow something like a moon pie. Speaking of moon pies, just who got the bright idea of making them so small? They used to be almost the size of a plate for either five or ten cents; ten, I think.

In the fall, there would be candy corn and candy pumpkins, among other things. These candies were my favorite. Fall just wasn't fall without them.

Thankfully, they saved the recipe and made the same thing for Christmas, except in the shape and colors. These were bells, teddy bears, holly leaves, trumpets, and Santas. During Christmas was the only time you could find chocolate covered cherries and chocolate drops. I still don't know how they cover those cherries and liquid centers.

At any time of the year you could go to the candy

Livingston School Reunion held

Submitted by Natasha Medley

A happy, lively crowd celebrated the annual Livingston School Reunion at the Preston Parrett Gym on Saturday night October 5. Larry Hammond emceed the evening program. Mayor Jason Medley welcomed the group and shared an update on some of the exciting developments in the city since the last reunion.

Billy Wayne Bryant conducted the ceremony to induct Billy Wyatt and Dale Whitaker into the LHS Basketball Hall of Fame for 2019. Billy Wyatt was a member of the 1965 District Championship team. In that game Billy scored the final winning point on a free throw with three seconds to go in the game. His score gave Livingston a one-point lead that held up and led to the first and only District Championship in the history of the school. During his senior year Billy averaged 17.6 points per game and was named to the all-district team.

Dale Whitaker made the Livingston High varsity basketball team as an eighth grader. After the high school consolidation, Dale played at the Rockcastle County High School. During his senior year Dale averaged 14.6 points and was named to the All-District and All-Region teams. Dale is a member of the one thousand point club having scored a total of 1017 points in his high school career. Following high school, Dale played for Sue Bennett College and was signed by Cumberland College before a knee injury kept him off the college basketball court.

Mr. Hammond read the lists of graduates for 1959 and 1969. He recognized the members of the classes of 1959 and 1969 who were present in the audience. The oldest Livingston alum present at the reunion was Jack Raines (1949). The Class of 1949 was the first to class to graduate from Livingston after it became a part of the county school system.

The 2019 Livingston School Alumni Hall of Fame inductee Dell Ponder was born at home at the 'top of Gauley' mountain to Frank and Virgie Summers Ponder. He attended the Gauley school for the first seven grades. He came to Livingston School at the beginning of the 8th grade. In 1952 he graduated from Livingston High School. Following graduation Dell moved to Dayton, Ohio and began his work career as a licensed electrician. He served in the US Army from 1955-57.

He met and married Gwen Carroll in Dayton and they made their home there with their two children, Cindy and Eric. In 1977, Dell and Gwen moved back to the 'top of Gauley' near where he was born. For many years Dell worked tirelessly on the Livingston Homecoming and Livingston School Reunion activities. He served as President of the Eastern Rockcastle Water Association that brought community water to the eastern portion of Rockcastle County from Climax to Sand Hill.

Dell is the proud grandfather of James and Joseph Rauch and Douglas Dell Ponder and two great grandchildren, Kaylee and Hannah. He is a member of the Bible Baptist Church.

Mr. Hammond closed the evening activities with thanks to his fellow members of the Reunion Planning Committee members: Rose Mullins Brown, Aletha Parker Bryant, Barbara Marshall Castleberry, Barbara Ponder Fain, Patsy Cummins McFalls, Gary Mink, and Teresa Parrett.

Kentucky farmers facing challenges on multiple fronts

This past week, the Interim Joint Committee on Agriculture met to hear a report from Commissioner of Agriculture Ryan Quarles on the state of agriculture in Kentucky.

Quarles provided an update on challenges Kentucky farmers are facing, as well as good news as it relates to fresh opportunities for farmers to diversify their crops.

Kentucky's rapidly increasing industrial hemp production is a success story for our farmers, as well as for the quality work our state officials have done to make our state a national leader in hemp production. Kentucky leads the nation with 26,000 acres planted this year, a record production year that includes nearly 1,000 growers and 202 processors. Industrial hemp employed 459 Kentuckians in 2018, a number that will only accelerate as the industry becomes more commercialized and more and more acres are planted.

However, as Commissioner Quarles testified, industrial hemp still faces challenges in reaching its full potential. While the federal government no longer classifies the crop as a controlled substance - thanks to passage of the 2018 Federal Farm Bill - there are still questions about federal intrusion into hemp operations. Another challenge is that banks are still hesitant to lend and do business with hemp processors and growers, in large part because of the crop's infancy and past similarities to other substances. Legislators, as well as the Department of Agriculture, are working through these issues with our Kentucky-based banks, so that we can identify dilemmas and break down barriers to economic opportunity for our farmers.

If anyone is interested in growing industrial hemp in 2020, you will be able to apply for a license with the Kentucky Department of Agriculture beginning November 15. While this crop is now legal, its production is still being overseen by the department while the industry continues getting off the ground, and to insure the strict regulations on THC content, which is a concern for many across our region.

Another financial barrier currently facing our farmers is the lack of trade access, an ongoing issue as President Trump continues to fight to ensure that we have free and fair trade with China. Farmers of all varieties need access to outlets to export their products, as nothing is more important to them than having an outlet to sell their product.

Thankfully, President Trump has negotiated a new trade agreement with Mexico and Canada, the United States-Mexico-Canada Agreement. If enacted, this trade deal will help us grow the economy, create jobs, and provide new and much-needed markets for our farmers to sell their products. Nonpartisan analysis even shows that the deal would add hundreds of thousands of jobs nationwide. It would also provide new opportunities to our struggling dairy farmers, in the form of new access to Canada to export goods like milk, cream, butter and cheese.

Unfortunately, the deal has yet to be approved by the U.S. Congress. In a period when our farmers desperately need increased opportunities to sell their products, action on this front is critical.

Trade is not the only challenge facing our farmers. We also have endured one of the driest seasons on record, with September bringing less than 0.3 inches of rainfall. This led all of Kentucky's 120 counties to declare a drought, and numerous burn bans throughout the Commonwealth. I know that many farmers, like myself, have been feeding hay for several weeks due to the drought conditions. I am thankful for recent rainfall, which was long-awaited and welcome news for the farms that grow our food supply.

Rockets get second district win; beat Jackson Co. 56-22

It was a wild and wooly first quarter for the Rockcastle Rockets last Friday night as they went on a scoring spree that buried the Jackson Co. Generals 42-0 at the end of the first period.

The General had to kick to the Rockets to begin the game and it only took four plays for sophomore Matthew Chasteen to go 56 yards for the first touchdown of the night. Junior Drew Mink took the ball in for the two point conversion and the Rockets were up 8-0.

Following a sack of the Generals quarterback by junior Rylee DeLeon and an incomplete pass, the Generals had to punt. Again, on the fourth play of the series, Chasteen once again made the long run for his second straight touchdown. Junior Mitchell Buckner's extra point kick was good and the Rockets were up 15-0.

The General had to punt the ball away again on their next possession and, following a penalty, the Rockets began that possession from their own 16. From there, junior quarterback Noah Parkey took the ball 84 yards for the third score of the quarter. Buckner's kick was good again and the Rockets were up 22-0.

On Jackson County's next possession, senior Austin Tillery picked up a Jackson Co. fumble and the Rockets were back in business on Jackson County's 38. From there, Parkey once again headed for the end zone for another touchdown. Buckner converted the PAT and the Rockets were up 29-0.

Once again, the Generals couldn't hang onto the ball in their next possession and the Rockets took over on their own 31. This time, Parkey took a long pass from Mink and went in for the fourth touchdown of the quarter for the Rockets. The extra point attempt failed but the Rockets were up 35-

0. The Rockets last touchdown of the quarter came after a personal foul penalty against Jackson County gave the Rockets the ball on the Generals 17 yard line. Chasteen then carried the ball to the two yard line and, on the next play, senior Zach Taylor went over for the score. Buckner's kick was good and it was 42-0 Rockets at the end of the first period. The 42 point edge also enabled the clock to be run the remainder of the game, except for timeouts.

The Generals managed to get on the board midway through the 2nd quarter but their two point conversion attempt was unsuccessful and it was 42-6. However, the Rockets wasted little time, beginning their possession from their own 47 and, two plays later, Mink went over for the score. The extra point kick was good and it was 49-6.

In the third quarter, the General were moving the ball when, on a first and ten pass play, sophomore Reese Coguer tipped the ball and junior Chase Roberts intercepted and returned it 30 yards to Jackson County's 49. Freshman Ethan Medley picked up a first down and a face mask penalty against the General gave the Rockets the ball on Jackson County's 16. An offside on Jackson County on the next series made it 1st and goal from the six and, on the next play, Medley scampered in for the touchdown. Buckner's kick was good and the Rockets were up 56-6 at the end of the third quarter.

Jackson County scored twice in the fourth, one from the 21 yard line with a two point conversion and again on a pass interception for a score and another two point conversion for the final 56-22.

Offensively, the Rockets were led by quarterback Noah Parkey with 129 yards rushing on three attempts, including two touchdowns. Parkey was also two for three passing for 44 yards and one touchdown pass.

Drew Mink got 62 yards on two carries, including one touchdown and scored a two point conversion. Mink also completed one pass, for 69 yards, to Parkey for a touchdown.

Zach Taylor gained 37 yards on three carries, including one touchdown; Matthew Chasteen got 36 yards on three carries, including one touchdown and Ethan Medley picked up 31 yards on three carries and also scored a rushing touchdown and freshman Cameron Wright picked up eight yards on four carries.

Parkey also picked up 69 yards on one pass reception for a touchdown; Chasteen gained 40 yards, and a touchdown, on one reception and sophomore Landon Dillingham caught one pass for four yards. Buckner was six of seven in PAT for six points.

22 Rockets were credited with a total of 37 tackles in the game. Chasteen and DeLeon tied for total tackles with four each, including two solo each; Reese Coguer and Chase Roberts both got three total tackles, two solo for Coguer and one for Roberts; L. USDA Opens 2020 Enrollment for Dairy Margin Coverage Program; Ends Dec. 13, 2019

Dairy producers can now enroll in the Dairy Margin Coverage (DMC) for calendar year 2020. USDA's Farm Service Agency (FSA) opened sign up today for the program that helps producers manage economic risk brought on by milk price and feed cost disparities.

The DMC program offers reasonably priced protection to dairy producers when the difference between the all-milk price and the average feed cost (the margin) falls below a certain dollar amount selected by the producer. The deadline to enroll in DMC for 2020 is Dec. 13, 2019.

Dairy farmers earned more than $300 million dollars from the program in 2019 so far. Producers are encouraged to take advantage of this very important risk management tool for 2020.

All producers who want 2020 coverage, even those who took advantage of the 25 percent premium discount by locking in the coverage level for five years of margin protection coverage are required to visit the office during this sign up period to pay the annual administrative fee.

Dairy producers should consider coverage for 2020 as even the slightest drop in the margin can trigger payments. The 2018 Farm Bill created DMC, improving on the previous safety net for dairy producers. DMC is one of many programs that FSA and other USDA agencies are implementing to support America's farmers.

For more information on enrolling in DMC and taking advantage of an online dairy decision tool that assists producers in selecting coverage for 2020, visit the DMC webpage.

For additional questions and assistance, contact your local USDA service center. To locate your local FSA office, visit farmers.gov/service-locator.

hate relationship with my family over the years, but I couldn't have done it without their support," said Hunsucker. "I have had some serious injuries over the years. But they have always stood by me."

In the world of mixed martial arts, serious injuries are a common thing. But Hunsucker says he never gave up and now he is the first man ever to hold both the amateur and the professional HRMMA title at the same time.

"Harry's family has worked with us for years. He's like family to us," said Zondra Shannon, Derby City office manager. "We are so proud of him and the entire family."

Today (Thursday) Harry and Mount Vernon Mayor Mike Bryant are scheduled to meet at the restaurant to talk about several issues including Harry's wish to give back.

"We are going to look at ways we can use my success as a fighter to give back to the community," said Hunsucker. "There are a lot of ideas and I just want to do my part."

Though Hunsucker has reached the pinnacle of success with the HRMMA, he still has many goals in the field of fighting.

"I am hoping to get picked up by the UFC and continue my career," he said.

Until that happens, if you want to learn martial arts, Hunsucker owns and operates Elite Martial Arts in Berea and teaches what he knows to anyone who wants to learn.

Though Harry has reached the top now, he still enjoys his local town and can be seen quite often at the local restaurant. So if you are ever enjoying a meal at Derby City South and you see Harry Hunsucker, notice what he is eating. It must be healthy. After all, according to the HRMMA, Harry is the toughest of them all.

GEAR UP touches all local students

By: Mike French
Editor

After leaving the Rockcastle County School system as Director of Student Services, Becky Isaacs became involved with the GEAR UP program. But she and others involved in the program were back at the Rockcastle County school board meeting last week with a presentation.

Isaacs, along with Kayla Bryant, Cayci Mahaffey, Abby Reynolds and Caitlin Callahan, stood before board members with updates about the program which attaches to all 7th and 8th grade students in the county.

With a $7.7 million grant, the program pairs with students at that age group and then continues to work with them throughout their school career, according to Isaacs.

The program has five main goals which includes increasing student academic performance, increasing graduation rates and fostering knowledge and promoting the development of skills that prepare students to be informed, thoughtful and productive individuals and citizens, according to the group.

Students who are just getting involved with the program this year are part of the 2024-2025 graduating class.

Every 7th and 8th grader in Rockcastle

County is a GEAR Up student, according to Isaacs and every GEAR UP student has a college and career navigator and an academic interventionist working closely with them.

GEAR UP (Gaining Early Awareness and Readiness for Undergraduate Programs) is a college access program aimed at increasing the number of students who are prepared for success in education after high school.

The program provides many advantages for the local school system, including professional development, mentoring, tutoring, counseling and outreach programs.

Through the program, students may tour colleges or take part in a job shadowing program. There are also scholarships and financial awards given through the program.

GEAR UP also helps prepare students for the ACT test and is involved in summer programs and STEM opportunities.

Board members watched a slide show of the many activities GEAR UP uses to assist students to prepare for life after high school.

Board Chairman Angela Stallsworth-Mink said she believes in the work the program does. "I think we are blessed to have the GEAR UP Program here in our county," she said. "They do a lot for our kids that students may otherwise miss out on."

Superintendent David Pensol also appreciates the program. "GEAR UP makes a difference in our kids lives," he said. "And helping our kids become the best they can be is why we are all here."

may be entering the sewer system that should not be.

Homeowners and business owners are asked to watch for smoke in or around their property during the test since sewer gas is dangerous. If smoke enters a home or business during the test, that is an indication that sewer gas enter the home or business as well, according to officials.

"It will be the owner's responsibility to make any repairs inside their home or business if smoke appears," said Becky Bussell, Brodhead City Clerk. "Also if smoke is seen coming out of a gutter on a home, the home owner will be responsible for that as well."

The commissioners also heard reports from each city department.

Brodhead Emergency Management Director Brian Bussell told members they should begin thinking about the water system infrastructure in Brodhead. "I helped build this system in 1971 and nothing can last forever," he said. "If you don't start thinking about these old water lines, it will eventually come back and bite you."

Water and Sewer Department Supervisor Shannon Cash said the system is indeed in need of attention. "We have had a lot of leaks and repairs over the years and we should definitely begin to focus on grant money or some way to approach our aging water system," he said.

Fire Chief John Dyehouse gave the report for the Brodhead Fire Department. "If you are talking about upgrading or doing something with the water lines in the city, please consider more fire hydrants when you are thinking about it," said Dyehouse.

The chief also told commissioners that he and volunteer firemen have been chatting about "fixing up" the fire station. "We thought if the city would buy the paint and some supplies, we would paint the firehouse ourselves," he said. "The building could use some work and we would love to spruce things up."

Burton agreed with Dyehouse. "Look at what needs to be done and let us know how much it will be," he said.

Dyehouse also reminded all present that the state burn ban is in effect and outdoor burning is only allowed between 6 p.m. and 6 a.m. and only brush can be burned. "You can't burn trash or other materials and can only burn brush 150 feet away from woodlands," he said. "And it is illegal to burn leaves in a ditchline. If we catch you doing it we will ask you to put it out and if you don't, we will put it out."

Dyehouse also reminded everyone who has a fireplace to clean out the chimney before starting a fire this winter. "A little time cleaning out your chimney is much better than calling us (BFD) at two in the morning."

Police Chief Travis Davis told commissioners that the department is running well. "All our vehicles are doing great. Crime is down and all is good with the police department," he said.

However, Davis said speeding tickets are on the rise in Brodhead. "I'm not going to have 52 miles per hour in a 35 zone. So tickets are up a little."

Commissioner Ricky Kirby was the only other commissioner present at the meeting.

found an active woods fire upon arrival.

Volunteers cut a "fire line" around the area to stop the fire when it reached the line.

Officials say the fire is now fully contained.

Burning is only allowed during the statewide burn ban between 6 p.m. and 6 a.m. and even then outdoor fires must be at least 150 feet away from wooded areas and only brush may be burned.

According to the indictment, both were indicted for the offense of Complicity to Escape in the second degree. The indictment says the two inmates helped McClure by counseling, planning, promoting or aiding in committing the offense of escape.

According to Carter, Collins had already been released from the jail when officials realized he had helped McClure escape and police arrested him again.

Hall and Collins are being held on a $10,000 cash or property bond while McClure's bond is set at $30,000 cash or property.

department will not be able to use any of the money in that account," said Bray. "We are very restricted on its use."

However, some say the definition of how the sale of alcohol affects a community may vary depending upon the point of view.

Still, the money in that account is watched closely, according to officials, and the city must verify how the money is used and how the sale of alcohol has cost the city that amount in that area.

In other words, if the city can demonstrate that the sale of alcohol in Mount Vernon has cost the police department time or materials or labor that they would not have had if alcohol were not sold, then the money can be used for police department reimbursement.

"It is very restricted and we will follow the law to the letter," said Bray.

Halloween comes early, thanks to RCHS Drama Department

Halloween might not be until the 31st of this month, but that's not stopping the RCHS Drama Department from bringing their own tricks and treats a week early.

A goofy comedy with a touch of seasonal spookiness, Halloween Night in the Grimm Forest will be one of two plays coming to the RCHS stage later this month, presented by the students of the Rockcastle County High School Drama Department. Halloween Night in the Grimm Forest comes from an original script by RCHS alumnus, Zac Pensol, and is directed by longtime RCHS Theatre director Allen Pensol. It saw its debut performance last year by the Junior Redhound Theatre of Corbin Independent Schools, though some additions have been made exclusively for this production, like a never-before-seen opening musical number.

Describing the play as his own 'Stranger Things' or 'Goonies' type of tale, Zac Rockcastle Rockets' volleyball hosted a "Pink Out" match last Thursday against Corbin. The Rockets won the best of five, 3-0. The team is shown above receiving instruction from head coach Loren Reynolds Maples. The team is 22-10 on the season and will host Mercer County this Thursday night which is also senior night. The Rockets begin district tournament action next Monday when they travel to Somerset to take on Casey County at 7:30.

ATTENTION

Mount Vernon Waterworks Customers

Mount Vernon Waterworks personnel will be conducting the testing and flushing of fire hydrants beginning Monday, October 21st. This process could cause water to be slightly discolored.

During this time, water customers should allow water to run for a short period of time to make sure no discoloration is present before cooking or doing laundry.

While crews are out opening hydrants, large amounts of water could possibly be present in some roadways. Please use caution in these areas.

Thank you for your cooperation.

Honeybee Facts

This will be my last Honeybee Facts for this year in the Signal. I would like to thank the Mount Vernon Signal for their support in saving the bees by printing these.

I had a lot of good feedback from a lot of people all over the county.

I thought I would let you know that now the beekeepers have to check their hives and make sure the bees have plenty of food for winter and that they are healthy with lots of bees. If not, they have to put the small hive of bees together so they can keep each other warm. You have to keep them dry and give them a windbreak because wet bees are dead bees.

The honey flow is over with. The Goldenrod's drying up so we will check the hive and make sure they have at least 40 pounds of food to eat for winter. So what honey we have now will have to last until about June of next year.

Yes, I will be at the Farmer's Market this Saturday from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m. and this will probably be my last visit to the market this year. Next year, we will have a new building to work in to keep all out of the weather.

Would like to thank all the wonderful people of Rockcastle County for their hard work and for going after something so nice that will be a big asset for Rockcastle.

Hope to see you at the market.

--Doug Brock Sr.

Continuing in Prayer

Continue in prayer and watch in the same with thanksgiving. Colossians 4:2 The word continue in this verse is defined as, to give constant attention to a thing. We are to give constant attention to prayer. We are taught here that prayer should be a regular part of our lives, even habitual. Is prayer habitual in our lives?

Prayer is the act or practice for addressing our Heavenly Father in petition. Through this channel of communication, we make our earnest request and our many thanksgivings. Luke 18:1 Men ought to always pray and not to lose heart. We should never grow weary with our prayers or our prayer life, for many it is what gets them through those long cold dark nights, is our prayers, don't stop. The apostle Paul wrote in Romans 12:12 continuing instance in prayers. A precious Christian principle is, that they continue instant in prayer.

We should set aside, different times throughout the day to talk to God, it will keep us focused and also keep us spiritually and mentally motivated to be able to take care of the tasks we have scheduled for that day. It will help us to stay in the right frame of mind. We should consider our words that they don't become empty repetitions, that are empty and vain. We need to remember we are talking to the Heavenly Father this time should be important to us, it should be special time for us, let us choose our words wisely.

There is so much going on in our lives sometimes prayer is the only thing that makes any sense, with the world in the condition that it is in, prayer can give us a peace we cannot find any where else in this world, just a few quiet moments with God, can change our whole day.

The apostle Paul wrote, Ephesians 6:18 Praying always with all prayer and supplication in the Spirit. When we put those things that are worldly out of our hearts and mind for a few moments everyday it gives us strength and courage and hope and just a whole different outlook on life, and as Christians from time to time we need this, (energy drink from God).

Many think their prayers are not being heard, James said in James 5:16 The effectual fervent prayer of a righteous man availeth much. Folks your prayers are being heard and God will answer in his own time, and what every time that is it will be just right and according to his will.

Our Lord also prayed, and he prayed for you and me we find in John 17:17-21 That we would all be one in Him and that we would all believe that He was the Son of God.

Prayer need not be eloquent. The humble heart prays out of anxiousness and finds peace. The wearied finds there the fuel of courage. And the broken finds rest in its balm of healing.

Thank you for reading this article, I pray God has blessed you with the things you need for another week and that you remembered to count your blessings.

4 ounces shredded sharp cheddar cheese
1 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon pepper
1 and 1/2 pounds ground beef
1/2 cup ketchup
1/2 cup brown sugar
1 teaspoon mustard
Preheat oven to 350°. Beat eggs. Add milk and crackers. Stir in onion and cheese. Add ground beef. Mix well. Shape into a loaf. Place in loaf pan. Bake for 30 minutes. Spoon the rest of the topping over meatloaf; return to oven and bake for 5 to 10 minutes.

JENNI'S MEATLOAF

My cousin Jenni was so excited about my book—suggesting titles for chapters and sharing her memories and recipes. Sadly Jenni lost her battle with cancer April 15, 2014. She loved her family, her friends, and her God with a passion. I know her loving legacy lives on in her children and grandchildren.

1 small onion
1 large green bell pepper
2 eggs
2 pounds of lean ground beef 80/20 or higher
1 pound of Jimmy Dean® mild sausage
1 cup of breadcrumbs plain (I like Progresso®)
2 cups of Hunt® catsup, divided
1 tablespoon of Worchester sauce
1 and 1/2 teaspoons salt
1/2 teaspoon black pepper
Preheat oven to 350°. In a blender puree and liquefy diced onion and bell pepper leaving no pieces or chunks. In a large mixing bowl mix eggs, ground beef, and sausage until sausage is mixed well with ground beef. Add breadcrumbs continuing to mix well. Add onion and bell pepper from blender along with 1 cup catsup and the Worchester sauce to mixture; mix well. Place in 2 meatloaf-bread pans. (I like the non-stick ones) or shape meatloaves into oblong pans of your choosing. Spread remaining cup of catsup over top of meatloaves. Cover pans with foil. Bake 2 hours. Uncover; bake another half hour.

BES would like to make a special thank you to Mr. Tony Bullock and his dog Hunter, along with Mr. Tony's daughter Kaylan and her puppy Rocket Man for spending the morning with the BES 4th grade. Our 4th graders just finished reading the book "Ellie's Story" about a dog that was trained to be a search and rescue dog. The students were very interested in this book and the life of a search and rescue dog. After finishing the book, Mr. Bullock agreed to visit BES and show the students how a search dog works. He was able to give the students some insight on how these dogs are trained, and students were able to put the information from the book we just read into a real-life context. Reading is such a wonderful way for students to learn more about the world around them, and Mr. Bullock helped our students see how they could even become a trainer one day.

Drama

says that much of the inspiration for the show came from his own experiences as a child trick-or-treating here in Mt. Vernon. "There was always something just so mysterious and magical in the air," he explains, "...this feeling that even though I was walking down familiar streets that some sort of monster could be lurking just around the bend. This play is, I suppose, a sort of manifestation of the sorts of chilling things my imagination would come up with."

In Halloween Night in the Grimm Forest, four trick-or-treaters decide to venture off the beaten path in search of Halloween adventure. Their plans quickly go awry, however, when they stumble into a mysterious woods populated by strange and spooky fairy tale characters brought to life. Don't expect princesses and fairy godmothers, however - the young adventurers find themselves instead crossing paths with only the most dangerous and strange residents of the Grimm Forest, like the Big Bad Wolf, possessed trees, talking frogs, a witch, and more!

The students of the RCHS Drama Department have been rehearsing the play since August and are eager to perform not only for the public, but for their fellow students as well during an in-school performance earlier in the day. Tammy Reynolds, instructor for RCHS's drama class says, "We are thrilled to be doing another original script by Zac. The cast is really enjoying themselves and are sure the audience will too."

The free public performance of Halloween Night in the Grimm Forest will be presented Thursday, October 24th at 7 p.m. in the RCHS auditorium. No tickets necessary, suitable for all ages.

Yards to Paradise

By Max Phelps

Musical Waterfalls: No Pond Required

Among the most charming of homes are those with the sounds of falling water. There are many things a homeowner can do in the yard to make the place more lovely. But I am quite certain there are few projects that will steal the attention of your visitors like the sounds of moving water. The ears, the eyes and then the feet seek out the mesmerizing sounds of a waterfall or babbling brook. After building many waterfalls myself, some folks have wished they would have gone bigger, but I've heard none express regret at having added water to the yard. It's pond maintenance that deters a number of would-be watergarden owners. I'd like to show the reader that you can have most of the benefits and none of the worries with a "pondless" waterfall.

Transforming an ordinary house and lot into a genuine paradise has been the focus of this column from the beginning. Many landscaping elements can enhance the appeal of a home. None more profoundly than the addition of water.

Worries with green ponds, keeping the leaves out, even possibly a toddler falling in, dissuade some from adding ponds to their landscape. Today we will explore the addition of waterfalls and maybe a stream to your place, but not the pond. Just-a-pond, pondless waterfall, pond-free and cascading falls are some of the names different ones use to describe a waterfall and a reservoir in the ground to hold the pump and water out of sight. They can be as big or as compact as the homeowner decides, small kits starting near a thousand dollars, plus rocks and gravels, plus the labor. These pond free features have the appeal, the sounds, plus a place for birds to drink and bathe.

These cascading waterfalls can be modest, or can be as grand and impressive as a real mountain stream. The size of the home, the yard, and the budget will influence the final choice. My personal preference is to build the feature to look natural, like it isn't man-made. But, not everyone has my tastes, and the natural doesn't always blend perfectly with the contemporary home. Whatever the style, adding the musical sounds of water to your place will be a real winner.

A well built waterfall and pond will require less maintenance than an equal sized portion of lawn. However, the pondless waterfall requires almost no effort at all. Even leaves can be blown away with a leaf blower, and there is no pond to clean, and moving water does not breed mosquitoes. Either way, a low maintenance water garden or a no maintenance pondless waterfall, adding water to the yard (or even indoors) will transform your place more nearly into your personal paradise.

While you can add a pre-formed plastic tub from the home improvement store and create a little waterfall and add a frog and a goldfish on a "shoestring" the reality is most of these little features disappoint and end up being torn out and thrown away in a few years. The well built natural looking waterfall is a definite asset to a property, and there is not really a reason it won't continue to function for decades. (Just add water once in a great while and every few years the pump will wear out.) Not much else should ever go wrong if the builder is an artist and a professional.

Rockcastle Garden Club meeting, book swap, and more

The Rockcastle Garden Club will meet at 664 Jepp Hill Road on Saturday, October 19th, at noon. Members and those interested in club activities are invited to attend.

The activity will be a book swap or other garden or household item you wish to send to a good home. Plants, seeds, fall decor, and homemade goods are also good trade items. A good book that you are ready to part with is fine. Goodwill has some excellent garden- and cookbooks. Some of us are book hoarders, so who knows what treasure you may go home with? Lunch will be provided along with a few tips on decorating for fall. The meeting will be rain or shine.

Sewing participants

Session on coping with communication challenges

There will be an educational session that will highlight how, as problems with memory and thinking increase, communication challenges can develop. This session will explore ways to cope with these changes and continue to enhance connections.

The session will be

Thursday, October 24, from 6:30-8 p.m. at the Rockcastle Regional Hospital & Respiratory Care Center Hospital Chapel. Contact W. Anne Harris for directions at (606) 256-7835.

Following the presentation there will be a general questions and answer session. A panel of experts from the UK Sanders Brown Center on Aging and the Alzheimer's Association will discuss updates and answer any questions pertaining to dementia.

This program is offered through an interactive telemedicine system to connect with persons who are impacted by Alzheimer's disease and related memory disorders, providing education and supportive services across the state of Kentucky.

Registration is required. Contact Sally Scherer at the UK Sanders Brown Center on Aging at 859-323-5550 or sally.scherer@uky.edu. Deadline to register is October 17th. This event is free.
