Annual UNITE Bowl held at RCHS

UNITE Clubs from all the schools in Rockcastle County launched balloons at halftime of Friday night's UNITE Bowl to remember those lost to and affected by addiction. RCHS students Aden Amburgey and Sadie Howard sang during the ceremony. A toilet paper drive was also held in conjunction with Rockcastle and Knox Counties donating to drug treatment centers across the state. Over 14,000 rolls of toilet paper were donated.

City looks into concerns over local projects

Discusses local growth

By: Mike French
Editor

At last month's Mount Vernon City Council meeting, Dr. Tony Arvin gave a presentation to the council expressing his health and financial concerns over the local rock quarry and the construction underway in the county.

Arvin expressed his desire that the city look into bringing in more revenue from big trucks using local highways and into regulating dust, explosives and traffic dangers due to the heavy equipment in the area.

Arvin had previously made the same presentation to the Rockcastle County fiscal court but the city council was much more receptive to Arvin's concerns. Members of the council, Mayor Mike Bryant, the City Administrator Josh Bray and City attorney Bobby Amburgey all agreed to look into Arvin's concerns and throughout the ensuing month apparently did just that.

This month, the council returned with a much more positive attitude concerning the local quarry and the I-75 construction, as well as other local construction.

"The people at Hanson's Quarry were concerned about the article in the newspaper and invited us to tour the operation," said Bray. "They were all extremely nice and cooperative in every way and very open about numbers. Some of Dr. Arvin's numbers were incorrect and I had the chance to

Ballots released for Rockcastle

By: Mike French
Editor

The ballots have been released for the 2018 General Election on November 6th and, in an unusual occurrence, all 15 precincts will have at least three pages of ballots to deal with and, in some cases, there will be four.

City/county races will be on the ballots as follows:

Jason Medley is running unopposed for mayor of Livingston and Walter Cash is running unopposed for mayor of Brodhead. However, the race for mayor of Mount Vernon is between incumbent Mike Bryant and Dennis McClure. (Our attempt to interview both Mt. Vernon mayoral candidates was refused by McClure unless he could see the questions prior to the interview).

The vote on the sale of alcohol in the City of Brodhead will be on the ballot only in the North Brodhead precinct at Brodhead Elementary School.

The vote on the sale of alcohol in the City of Mount Vernon will be on the ballot for Mount Vernon City voters in the North Mount Vernon, South Mount Vernon, West Mount Vernon and East Mount Vernon Precincts, all located at MVES.

All ballots will include the races for State Senator, U.S. Representative in Congress, State Representative, County Clerk, Sheriff, Jailor, Coroner, Justice of the Supreme Court (Family Court), Circuit Judge, District Judge and a Constitutional Amendment that will

Police battle man talking to the voices in his head

122 mph chase

By: Mike French
Editor

Mount Vernon's newest police officer, Dylan Hensley, was forced into hand-to-hand combat after a 122 mile per hour chase with a Brodhead man last week. Hensley and other officers fought with the man while he reportedly was asking advice from the "voices" in his head.

According to the arrest citation, Mitchell D. Clontz, 49, of Chestnut Grove Road, was speeding down Richmond Street when Hensley noticed his license tag was expired.

The officer turned on his emergency lights and the driver sped away. Hensley gave chase as Clontz swerved in and out of traffic at breakneck speeds in the emergency lanes through Richmond Street, down U.S.25 and onto the I-75 ramp northbound.

Reaching speeds of 122 miles per hour in the construction zone, Hensley stayed close to Clontz's rear bumper while a Rockcastle County Deputy passed Clontz and was able to get in front of his vehicle and slow him down.

In an effort to avoid being stopped, Clontz then reportedly swerved off the interstate and into a wooded area where he crashed into a tree.

At that point, Clontz exited the vehicle and began to run.

Hensley once again gave chase, this time on foot. Clontz ran into a creek and began to climb the hill on the other side when the officer

Wet/dry battle wages onward

By: Mike French
Editor

The battle between those in favor of becoming a wet city and those who want to remain a dry city has been a heated one at times. Local citizens as well as local officials have spoken out in defense of their view on either side.

The city of Mount Vernon is currently looking into the legalities of giving a liquor licenses to any who would request one should the town become wet in November.

"Even if it were to be voted in, it won't be an overnight thing," said City Administrator Josh Bray. "We are doing research just in case and there are a lot of hoops we have to jump

City wins summary judgement hearing

By: Mike French
Editor

The City of Mount Vernon has had an ongoing battle with Mount Vernon Police Officer Ed Robinson who was disciplined for unbecoming conduct, due to horseplay, while on duty over two years ago.

The city held a four-hour hearing bringing witnesses concerning the event in question and Robinson and his attorney provided counter arguments last year. Robinson was eventually suspended without pay for a week.

The issue continued and Robinson filed suit against the city and the mayor and council members claiming he was treated unfairly since Mayor Mike Bryant would

Local Tourist Commission supports Vote Yes campaign

According to a press release from Emily M. Bullock, Director of the Mount Vernon-Rockcastle County Tourist Commission, the commission's board of directors voted to endorse the vote yes campaign for alcohol sales in the city limits of Mount Vernon. (Board member Glenda Doan Smith was not present at the meeting and did not vote.)

The decision to endorse the campaign came after the board received multiple requests from tourism business owners to do so.

"It is the duty of the Tourist Commission to support all tourism business in Rockcastle County and there is no doubt that local tourism business will reap the benefits of local alcohol sales and become more successful," the release said.

The Kentucky Department of Tourism recently released an economic im-

The Mount Vernon Fire Department was called to this single vehicle crash on North Wilderness Road Saturday, October 20th. Firefighters say the vehicle hydroplaned on the wet road and flipped into a line of trees, trapping the driver Leslie Cope, of Berea. Rockcastle EMS had to remove the door of the vehicle to free the driver who escaped with minor injuries. The Brindle Ridge and Mount Vernon Fire Departments worked the accident along with Rockcastle EMS and the sheriff's department.

I told a couple of my children at one point that they should pretend I had died because I knew they would be clearing my house out to sell it and if they would go ahead and clean it out I could enjoy a clutter-free house while I was alive.

Well, that didn't work but recently, youngest daughter, Allison decided I needed the garage and the rooms behind it "cleaned out." She told me of her intentions but didn't give me an exact date so I forgot about it completely.

I was very surprised Friday when I opened my garage door to see a huge dumpster from Bee Garbage sitting in my front yard.

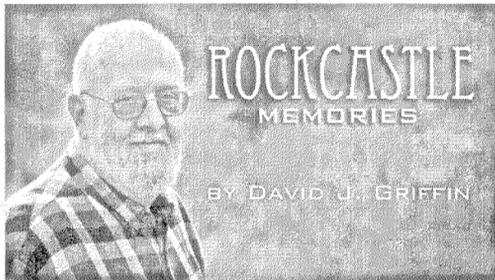

Saturday, Allison and daughter, Sara, worked like little bees and filled that dumpster completely up. Now, mind you, there were some hard decisions. The first thing Allison decided was that a box of books I had in the garage (have no idea why), had to go and I had to squelch that notion immediately. Throw a book away? Whoever heard of such a thing!! Anyway once that was established, there were still some heart-wrenching moments when I just had to close my eyes, say "yes" to Allison and head back into the house as something I was keeping because "surely it will come in handy some day" didn't make Allison's or Sara's cut.

Anyway, those two managed to fill up the dumpster without touching the back room.

Sunday, Jane and Paige showed up to "touch" that back room and accumulated enough other "stuff," (a lot of which was leftover yard sale items) to fill up another one of those dumpsters.

Okay, I admit it, I'm something of a hoarder, or maybe I'm just too lazy to keep things in order. But, in my defense, we have lived here 32 years in November and you just accumulate a lot of "stuff" during that much time.

Mommie's Toaster

My grandfather, Eugene Stokes (Pop), was never considered to be a sentimental type of fellow. He did look forward to spending time with his family during the holidays. But there were two special events that he always personally celebrated - his wife's birthday and Mother's Day.

Pop never failed to purchase a gift for Mommie Katie's birthday. And he was faithful to present her with a corsage every Mother's Day, which of course adorned Mommie Katie during our pilgrimage to Mt. Vernon's First Baptist Church.

There was one particular year when Pop ordered Mommie Katie a brand new electric toaster. It was made by Dormeyer, and he made the purchase through one of the companies in Louisville with which he was familiar. Since he worked with Aubrey Feed Mills and Louisville Grocery Company, he had contacts with several other businesses in that area.

When the toaster arrived, Mommie Katie was simply delighted. It was strategically placed on the kitchen counter, next to the refrigerator. All of the family loved toast, so Mommie Katie used that chrome appliance for years and years. It was the first toaster of

Points East

By Ike Adams

During the first week of October, after several friends and neighbors had taken what they wanted from our little pumpkin patch on the far side of the garden, my Brother, Andy, was checking to see if there were any left worth saving and tossing the rest outside our growing space to keep unwanted "volunteers" from sprouting come tilling time next spring.

Usually, when seeds come up from squash, cucumbers, melons, sweet corn etc. that were left lying in the garden from the year before, it's best to chop them out because whatever they produce is not apt to look nor taste much like the hybrid from which they originated. It has taken me decades to become heartless to most volunteer vegetable plants because, in the long run, letting them grow is usually akin to hoeing weeds.

At one point, last September, we had piles of rotting squash, cantaloupes and cucumbers smelling so badly that a flock of buzzards started hanging around the garden to see what was dead. But even buzzards won't eat rotten cucumbers. Still, it's far better to get them out of your growing space before they leave behind a bunch of useless seeds that you'll have to contend with if you put out a garden next year.

The big pile of rotting fruits and vegetables we tossed away last summer eventually stopped stinking and dried out. Over the last three weeks, a steady stream of chipmunks, fox squirrels and blue jays have made good use of the residue.

Apparently dehydrated rotten cantaloupe tastes far better than it smelled before it dried out. And whoda thought that chipmunks love cucumber seeds? I am no longer worried about a mass of unwanted vegetation coming up behind the old rock wall where all this stuff has been lying. I'm pretty sure there will not be a seed left to sprout after the blue jays do a final inspection.

Anyway, Andy was kicking around in the knee-deep orchard grass and morning glories that covered the vine section of our garden, looking for anything that might be capable of leaving volunteer seeds, when his foot connected with something solid.

Expecting to find a hidden pumpkin, he uncovered a 12+ pound striped watermelon that was well-camouflaged in the weeds and grass. Somehow one of the 2 watermelon vines we'd planted on a lark had snuck its way among the pumpkin patch and gone unnoticed,

T.J.'s Journal

When the Frost is on the Pumpkin

Dear Journal,

Last night was the first frost of the season. Just before dark, Stanley gathered the last of the tomatoes that Terry, our turtle, had planted during his travels in our yard last summer. It is too bad that he isn't here to reap the benefits of his work. We will save the seed and when he comes around next summer, maybe he can enjoy those tomatoes if we can get the seeds planted.

I really miss fall. We certainly haven't had any prior to last night which seemed more like winter. The weather seemed more like summer with temperatures in the mid and upper eighties for days and then the bottom just dropped out in about three days. My cousin Shelly, who lives in Ohio posted pictures of pumpkins with a dusting of snow on them. I've heard of frost on the pumpkin, one of my favorite poems, but this is ridiculous.

I used to love fall. By this time of year, you could begin to feel a slight nip in the air. Not something that sends shivers down your spine. The leaves are still green for the most part. I don't think we will see any fall color this year, the leaves will just dry up and fall off the trees. In years past, I liked to load up and go on a short road trip and see the beautiful fall foliage. I liked to see the pretty picturesque sights such as quiet streams, vibrant-colored mountains, quaint little towns, rustic country churches, and old farm

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Vote Mike Bryant..

Dear Editor,

The City of Mt. Vernon has made more progress in the last eight years than anytime I can remember.

Mayor Bryant, and his team, had a nice restaurant locate at the boat dock, rebuilt all the boat dock slips, built a bait shop, cleaned up and improved the campground, cleared up and improved the playground and picnic shelters, added the splash pad and they're not done yet.

When I was president of the Rockcastle Tourist Commission, I always knew Lake Linville could be a one of a kind tourist attraction but nothing was ever done. Mayor Bryant, and his team, had a vision for what Lake Linville could be and they're making that vision a reality.

Also, Mayor Bryant and his team have built one of the best-equipped police departments in the city's history. They have worked relentlessly to bring industry to the city of Mt. Vernon and now that is becoming a reality and the Bittersweet Festival is bigger and better than it has ever been.

Then there is the water issue. The mayor's opponent wants everyone to think he can solve the issue with no problem. My question is why he didn't solve it all the years he was water superintendent? The last years, 2003-04-05, that my wife and I ran the Kastle Inn Motel, we had to refund customers their money because the water had such a bad odor they were afraid to take a shower in it. I called city hall and was told there was nothing they could do about it. The problem was there long before Mayor Bryant took office.

I believe Mayor Bryant is moving in the right direction and has improved the water significantly and not broke the bank doing so. He's not just throwing money at the problem.

Mayor Bryant and his team have made all these improvements without raising taxes. They have kept the city's finances in the black.

They have a vision for the city and I hope the citizens of Mt. Vernon will keep the city moving forward. Vote Mike Bryant for Mayor.

Vote yes for local alcohol sales...

Dear Editor,

I was born and raised in Brodhead and will always have a bond with the town. I also subscribe to the Mount Vernon Signal seeing what is going on in the community and county.

I have seen where there is an alcohol sale issue on the November ballot.

I lived with an alcoholic for 41 years, before his death in 2014. No he did not die from his drinking. Luckily he joined AA and was a "recovering alcoholic" for 20 years, when he passed away.

My personal opinion is...if someone wants to drink, they will drive wherever to get the alcohol. Having it local will not make a difference. I'm sure there are lots of locals driving to Richmond, Somerset or Lancaster to get their drink or have drinks with dinner.

There is an issue...are they on the road, driving when they shouldn't be, endangering themselves and everyone the road? I have learned a lot about alcohol and alcoholism through the years...If someone wants a drink they will get it legally or illegally. Having it sold locally would not make a difference. No one is forced to purchase it.

A Serial Killer...

Dear Editor,

Genesis 1:17 So God created man in the image of God, created him male and female. Then God blessed them and God said unto them be fruitful and multiply. Psalms 139:13 For thou hast possessed my Reins: Thou hast covered me in my mother's womb. Matthew 18:10 Take heed that ye despise not one of these little ones, For I say unto you, that in Heaven their angels do always Behold the face of my Father which is in Heaven. Deuteronomy 30:19 I call Heaven and Earth to record this day against you that I have set before you life and death blessings and cursing, therefore Choose life, that both thou and Thy seed may live. God says "Thou Shalt Not Kill." Millions and millions of lives have been killed by the Serial Killer! This killer has a name, "it's name is Abortion."

God says He has knitted us together in the womb. Do you want to tell God He is wrong, this baby needs to die?? So, I ask you, are you going to stand for life or are you going to stand for death? Christian means Christ Like. So are you supporting abortion this election time? Are you proudly standing for a serial killer? You have a choice.

The Supreme Court of the Father, the Son and The Holy Ghost said choose life that you and thy seed might live. You may say, I disagree with you, but you are not disagreeing just with those that are Pro-Life, you are disagreeing with the Great I AM the giver of life. The Bible says we will reap what we sow. Cast your vote for life not death. We need to stand up for what is right. If you aren't sure what is right, pray for God to show you and He will.

God Bless
Phil Maddox

Vote Dennis McClure...

Dear Friends of Mt. Vernon, You have a choice to make November 6th. Mayor Bryant has done little the last eight years to fix the water or much else, except spend millions of dollars.

On the other hand, Dennis McClure, the retired city manager begged the mayor, and others, to let him fix the water system. They would not.

A couple of months ago, they saw that Mr. McClure was running for mayor. They put something in the Signal saying they were doing something. Little late, don't you think?

Elect Dennis McClure mayor and it will get done.

Thanks,
Bob Lunsford

Vote Marvin Owens...

Dear Friends,

I would like to say something about the coroner's race.

I don't know much about Mr. Casey McClure, except I have seen his resume and there is nothing in it that would convince me to let him pronounce me, or my 2-3 year old, son or daughter dead.

On the other hand, his opponent, Marvin Owens, has twelve years experience as the coroner. He also has owned Marvin Owens Home for Funerals in Brodhead for 15-25 years.

Vote for the best, Marvin E. Owens.

Thanks,
Bob Lunsford

P.S. Fellow Republicans that vote a straight ticket. You can ask the clerk and you can go back and vote for Owens for Coroner.

Important to vote

Dear Editor,

Do you know the number of journalists killed in the last 25 years? According to the Committee to Protect Journalists, from 1992 to 2018, 1323 journalists were killed world-wide. How many of you think the man recently killed in Saudi Arabia was a journalist? Technically, Mr. Khashoggi, was a columnist rather than a journalist. Columnists give their opinions about facts which are the purview of journalists.

Mr. Khashoggi was NOT a U. S. citizen either, but rather, was a resident of the U. S. (verified several ways). Barring the probable gruesome circumstances of his death, why is there such a hullabaloo about the happening? The news persons "in the know" say this is being used as a divisive wedge issue between Saudi Arabia and the United States. That country is important to us whether we like it or not pertaining to its location in the Middle East. U.S. news is currently aflame over the death of not even a citizen of our country, while during the Benghazi incident, the news reporting facts of four citizens killed and our ambassador's body being horribly desecrated were mostly from Fox News. The present wild flaming news is an attempt to cause harm constructed by Never Trumpers. Thank goodness President TRUMP is being measured in his response. This is a sign of wisdom.

Do you think it peculiar that the now 5000 - 7000 strong caravan of migrants from Honduras, etc., whose annual income is only about $580 a year, coming to America are dressed better than some of us citizens, have bottles of water, and are clean after hundreds of miles walking? It's reported they have bus access. The President is considering stopping financial help to those countries as well as putting the military at the border for this emergency. We paid blood for our country's independence. In my opinion, they should have the same opportunity to take those actions for their country.

Please keep such happenings in mind during the election in November. Talk with your friends and family in the Richmond/Lexington area as they have the vote for Andy Barr against Amy McGrath in the Kentucky U.S. Representative election. Andy Barr will help President TRUMP's agenda for the United States. Remember, neither skin tone nor sex should enter into any voting decision. Candidates' political beliefs are the measure.

largely because its fruit was nearly the same color as pumpkin leaves.

I say 12+ pounds because it was somewhat larger and felt considerably heavier than a 10 pound sack of cane sugar Loretta had lying on the counter right beside it. It also provided an interesting contrast lying there between several different colored apples, a couple of huge red sweet potatoes, several late tomatoes and a bowl of multi-colored bell peppers. I'm not apt to be remembered for my impeccable taste in kitchen décor but I thought it was pretty and Loretta must have thought so too because it lay there for over 3 weeks before she got around to slicing it late last week.

Andy and I need not have worried about the seeds coming up, had he not found it, because it was one of those varieties that are supposed to be nearly seedless and darn near was.

The lady who gave us the plants said it had to have a pollinator of a different variety, so she gave us a sugar baby plant to go with it. The nearly black, soccer-ball-sized sugar babies fell far short of living up to their name and we have forgotten what she called the striped one but it was sweet as honey. It was still is one of the best tasting watermelons I've ever stuck a tooth in. We're still eating on it.

It might have tasted even better if we had sliced it the week Andy brought it in. You may recall that day-time high temperatures were hovering around 90 degrees during the first week of October and a good cold watermelon might have made an appropriate refreshment. Someone posted on Facebook that the daytime temperature went from 90 to 55 like it had just seen a state trooper. But it's only in the 40s at this writing and I just had a slice of October watermelon. It didn't feel quite right but it tasted mighty good!

ours that came with a control to determine whether the toast was light or dark. She loved that feature because she distinctly preferred her toast to be very lightly toasted.

Although I don't really know why, I remember well that the gift was a huge surprise. The Dormeyer brand of that time was better designed and more durable than its competitors, such as Sunbeam and others.

I can still see my grandmother polishing that "pop-up" toaster each week as she cleaned her kitchen. It was always sparkling clean and shiny, resting there on her counter.

Albert F. Dormeyer pioneered electric small kitchen appliances from 1920 until the late 1960s. Located in Chicago, the plant closed its doors when he sold the company to a maker of audio equipment.

It may be that Pop loved that gift even more than Mommie Katie. He ate the same thing every morning for breakfast, and I do mean every morning. He started his with a bowl of oats accompanied by a piece of buttered toast. He then consumed two poached eggs along with some breakfast meat (bacon, sausage, or ham) and, of course, toast. The meal was completed with one of Mommie Katie's scrumptious canned jellies and, yes, more toast.

So, you can see why I can't be sure if the toaster gift was really for Mommie Katie or for Pop himself. It is for certain that the both of them seemed to draw immense pleasure out of that new appliance.

It may also be a reflection of just how important the first meal of the day was in our household. Pop always said, "You should begin the day with a good breakfast." And considering the way my grandmother cooked, she emphatically agreed with him.

Dr. William L. Adams

Dr. William L. Adams, DVM, 83, of Mt. Vernon, died unexpectedly at his home on Wednesday, October 10, 2018 in Mt. Vernon. He was born August 20, 1935 in Mt. Vernon, one of the two sons born to the late Roscoe L. Adams and Mary Elizabeth (Lawrence) Adams. He was a graduate of Mt. Vernon High School, the University of Kentucky, and the Auburn University School of Veterinary Medicine. He served his country honorably as a captain in the United States Air Force. Upon his honorable discharge from the U.S. Air Force he returned first to Somerset and then to Mt. Vernon to continue his service to others.

He became well known for providing compassionate and excellent care for animals throughout Rockcastle, Pulaski, and other surrounding counties, and was affectionately called "Doc" or "Doc Adams" by those who knew and loved him. "Doc" was a man of great compassion and generosity who was quick to laugh, loved to hear and tell a good story, and was well-loved throughout the counties he served. He and his late wife Lillian, "Lil," established the Adams Veterinary Clinic on the farm in Mt. Vernon that has been in the family for multiple generations. "Doc" provided affordable, professional veterinary medical care for over 50 years and was well known for his dedicated service to the profession of veterinary medicine. He shared his mother's interest in genealogy and took pride in living on the ancestral family farm. In recent years, he referred to the farm as "Brookland Farm," a moniker first established by his uncle Dr. George Lawrence, M.D., during his time living on the farm. "Doc" took quiet pride in having the stretch of old Highway 461 that bisects the farm named "Doc Adams Road" in his honor.

Besides his parents, he is preceded in death by: his wife, Lillian (Dion) Adams, whom he married on March 6, 1956 in Berea; and his brother, Jack Lincoln Adams, and Jack's wife, Peggy (O'Brien) Adams.

Doc is survived by: his nephews, John Lawrence (Anne) Adams of Vernon, CT, and William Lawrence (Joanne) Adams II of Barre, VT; great nephew, ABH3 (AW) Christopher Lawrence Adams, of Bremerton, WA; special friends, Anita White of Somerset and Mark Parsons of Mt. Vernon; and a host of other relatives, friends, and constituents. He will be greatly missed by those who knew and loved him.

The family is deeply appreciative of the love, friendship, and care that both Anita and Mark provided "Doc" for decades, but particularly in the later years of his life. "Doc" spoke highly of them both and loved and cared for them both as family.

Family and friends will gather at 12 noon on Saturday, October 27, 2018 for a Celebration of Life Memorial Service in the Chapel of Somerset Undertaking Company and Crematory. A reception will immediately follow the service. "Doc" and "Lil" will be laid to rest together in the Elmwood Cemetery in Mt. Vernon at the convenience of the family.

In Lieu of flowers, contributions may be made "In Memory of Doc Adams" to the Rockcastle County Humane Society, the Pulaski County Humane Society, or the animal welfare organization of your choice.

The news has been depressing, even more than usual, lately.

What is going to be done about the thousands (seven at latest reports) of citizens of Honduras, Guatemala and Mexico, who have decided they want to live in the United States and are on their way here.

President Trump has vowed to keep them out with the military if necessary but Mexico tried that with policemen and they just overwhelmed them with their sheer numbers.

What is the recourse for our military if they try the same thing when they get here? Do we fire on them? We can't do that so, unless Trump can come up with some other idea, I suppose they will just march in, sign up with the proper authorities and begin to enjoy their food stamps, monthly welfare check, free medical services, etc.

How does it come to pass that thousands of residents of other countries can just decide they want to live in our country and march here and force their way in?

Is it because we have never built a wall that would have impeded this? Is it because we let people who have come in illegally be released into the country while awaiting a hearing to determine if they can stay, and then they just decide not to show up for the hearing and nothing is done? Is it because with President Trump threatening to build the wall, thousands of people have decided this may be their last chance to get into this country without bothering to do it the legal way?

Whatever the reason, Congress needs to get busy and uphold the oath they took when sworn into office, to protect our borders.

We have always been known as the melting pot of the world because of our diversity of citizens but this is getting out of hand.

When you have thousands of people from other countries decide that they are entitled to just walk into our country whenever they want to, it shows a complete lack of respect for our government.

I can't help but wonder if this isn't another scheme liberals cooked in the hopes of embarrassing our President.

I am looking forward to the mid-term elections so we will know once and for all what is going to happen in our country.

Reportedly, if the Democrats flip the House of Representatives, they will immediately file impeachment charges against President Trump and, even, Supreme Court Justice Brett Kavanaugh.

I always thought a President could only be impeached for high crimes and misdemeanors but evidently that translates for Democrats into 'just because we don't like you and, besides, it was Hillary's turn.'

We'll just have to wait and see how all this plays out and if it is possible to stop 7,000 people on our southern border from bullying their way into our country.

houses. There would be roadside stands selling pumpkins, Indian corn, apples and cider...maybe some molasses.

I love the fall foods. I made my first pot of chili last week and a homemade pumpkin pie. Then there is the fall soups and stews with fresh-baked bread. For dessert, there could be apple or pumpkin pie. Don't forget the molasses cookies and ginger snaps. The popcorn balls may be my favorite.

They seem to conjure up memories of Mom making them about this time of year for Halloween. She made a batch or two so she could pass them out for treats and peanut butter fudge. Just the thought of all this makes me want to find a good book of poetry, put on a pot of tea, put on a sweater and snuggle deep into a comfy lounge chair near a fire place...and if it would rain that day...perfect.

I remember when I lived for a time in New England. The fall is just heaven on earth there. You can see the little colonial villages that haven't changed in hundreds of years. The structures are divine. I loved the little white pristine churches and the church graveyards nearby with graves and dates going back two or three hundred years. The whole look and feel is like something from a movie. It was like living in Sleepy Hollow. Winter was picturesque there, too.

About this time of year, people begin to get excited about the upcoming holidays and decorating their homes to look the very best of the year. I like the fall décor as it makes every home so cozy. I like to smell the savory aromas coming from the kitchen. Kitchens smell the very best at this time of year. I guess I'm rather glad to see the frost on the pumpkin.

“City”

(Continued from front) look into most of the claims that the doctor made. The company seems willing to do anything they need to do to resolve any issues we may have.”

Bray said rather than pollute the air, their work and the unusually high quality rock actually helps clean the air and provide a service to many communities.

The rock is 95% pure and it is used in coal smoke stacks to reduce emissions and clean the air,” said Bray. “Then that material left over is used to make drywall. Probably the drywall in this room was made from this process.”

Bray said the entire operation seems to be environmentally conscientious.

According to Bray, the company also provides over a million dollars to the local economy through several means, including the severance tax and property taxes as well as other avenues.

Bray had also said he would look into the legalities of creating a business district in the city limits so that the city may have more control over speed limits. “I have made those calls and am waiting for the state to get back to me,” he said.

Mayor Bryant agreed that the owners of the local quarry have been cooperative. “This doesn’t yet resolve all of the issues that Dr. Arvin presented to us, but they (Hanson’s) seem willing to do whatever they can do to help. They are very personable people and they are willing to work with the city and the county,” he said.

Bray said he is still looking into some of the issues presented by Dr. Arvin but he believes they will be addressed openly by the company. “They (Hanson’s) answered all my questions and it is a really neat place. Everyone should take their tour.”

Bray told the council that officials of the quarry wish to attend the next council meeting to make a presentation and answer any questions.

In old business the council addressed the issue of the Williams Street intersection from last month’s discussions.

Bray said the city is having the intersection striped and having the stop signs moved to a more visible area. “If that doesn’t help, then we will put up flashing lights. But even if we have to put up the lights, the intersection needs to be striped anyway so that’s the best way to start.”

Mayor Bryant agreed, saying “The flashing lights are about $4,000. If the striping and better signage doesn’t help then we will use the lights. But this should make a big difference by making the stop signs more visible.”

Rockcastle County Industrial Development Authority (RCIDA) Executive Director Jeffrey VanHook also spoke to the council and asked to change a recent request for a co-first mortgage holder agreement with MACED so that owners of the Microfoodery plant could borrow $445,000 for general expenses.

The city and the county had to agree to become co-mortgage holders on part of the property so that the plant could take advantage of the low interest loan.

However, VanHook said plant owners discovered there are very strict uses for the money that do not meet the company’s needs.

So, Vanhook said the company is requesting now to borrow the money from MACED and use it to pay $445,000 on the loan note, and then re-borrow the $445,000 so that they can use the money for other things.

“The MACED money had to be used to purchase equipment. But they already have their equipment,” said VanHook. “They need the money for general construction and start-up expenses.” Bray said the change doesn’t cost the city or the county any additional money. “We aren’t in the hole at all from this change,” said Bray. “They just want to take advantage of this low-interest loan and use the money for other things. So if they pay down the loan and then borrow it back, there is no change in our financial situation.”

However, Councilman Cliff Mullins was at first hesitant to agree. “If we agree to do this, that is all of the changes, right?” Mullins asked. “They need to get this done and get moving. That’s enough changes. People are ready for these jobs.”

Councilmember Jamie Bryant echoed her agreement with Mullins.

Mullins also mentioned the dates and goals that had been set originally that would have the plant operational about now. “First it was October, then it was November, now it’s after the first of the year,” said Mullins. “They need to move ahead and complete the project. Let’s get it built and get it going and no more changes and postponing,” he said.

However, Mayor Bryant said the change request has no effect on the city. “This is just a tiny twist and is a small price to pay for such a strong industry and job provider to locate in our city,” he said. “Nothing about this request negatively impacts our optimism about this plant.”

VanHook said the delays in completing construction are normal and to be expected with any project of this size.

Mullins eventually made the motion to agree to change the wording of the MACED agreement and to allow the plant owners to re-borrow the funds after they have used the MACED funds to pay down the debt. Councilmember Bryant seconded the motion which passed unanimously.

Council members also discussed the explosive growth near the interstate at exit 62. “I don’t think people realize how amazing the growth is going to be,” said City Administrator Bray. “There will be 17 acres of prime real estate right off the exit.”

VanHook agreed. “It is almost immeasurable what can occur out there,” he said.

Bray also announced to the council that he has found grant money to fund the basin project to keep the bad taste and odor out of Mount Vernon water.

Bray and Mayor Bryant had received $750,000 of grant money for the basin several months ago but Bray said the remaining $250,000 needed has now been approved by the state as well.

“We found the problem, we found the solution, and now the project is fully funded,” said Bray.

Council members also heard reports from department heads.

Mount Vernon Fire Chief David Bales reported that his department made 35 runs in September using 37,575 gallons of water.

Brian Carter, Mount Veron Police Chief, reported his department made 484 calls for service in September making 52 arrests and serving 40 warrants..

Reading the All American Club report, Mayor Bryant said the club picked up 24 bags of trash but only three bags were gathered after the Bittersweet Festival.

The next council meeting is scheduled for November 15 at City Hall

“Voices”

However, when officers attempted to place Clontz in handcuffs, he became combative and the officers struggled with him.

A Lawrenceburg police officer passing by saw the action and stopped to help Hensley and Deputy Kirk Mays.

According to the citation, Clontz was “talking to people who were not real and making screaming noises”

Clontz told officers that someone had given him some form of drug with a needle.

The suspect was finally subdued and the Rockcastle EMS was called due to the use of the tazer.

Clontz was taken to the Rockcastle Regional Hospital and was later taken to the Rockcastle County Detention Center.

The citation says Clontz was under the influence in such a way that he could not understand the implied consent read to him by officer Hensley. Hensley read the consent to him again but then Clontz began mumbling and speaking in a way that could not be understood.

Once at the jail, jailers discovered a Suboxone pill in his pocket.

Clontz was charged with speeding over 26 mph, reckless driving, no registration receipt, no plates, fleeing or evading in a motor vehicle, fleeing or evading on foot, resisting arrest, failure to maintain insurance, operating under the influence, no license in possession, wanton endangerment, criminal mischief, 1st degree, criminal mischief 3rd degree, criminal trespassing, failure to wear seatbelt, failure to give signal, failure to give right of way to emergency vehicle, speeding in a work zone, promoting contraband, possession of a controlled substance, public intoxication and menacing. His bond was set at $30,000 cash.

“Wet/dry”

(Continued from front) pact study that showed in 2017 Rockcastle County generated $14,474,541.00 in direct tourist spending and $306,441.00 in local tax revenues. The study also showed that Rockcastle County supported 660 jobs in the tourism industry.

“The tourism industry in Rockcastle County has the opportunity to grow significantly in terms of economic impact and alcohol sales is a major factor for that growth.

Not only will current businesses grow, Rockcastle County will become more attractive to someone looking to open a new tourism business, which in return creates more jobs and more local tax revenue.

It is the hope of the Tourist Commission that the citizens of Mount Vernon will consider the benefits of local alcohol sales when they vote in November,” the release stated.

The city is also researching laws and statutes that regulate how a city may tax alcohol and how many locations a city is allowed to have that sells alcohol and that depends upon population. Officials say these numbers may vary depending upon whether a business sells alcohol by the drink or by the bottle.

In the mean time, forces against the sale of alcohol are as vocal as forces in favor of going wet.

All three mayors in Rockcastle County have spoken out against becoming wet and groups have formed to battle against the measure.

At the same time, groups have formed in favor of alcohol sales and point to neighboring communities who have become wet, citing numbers and statistics suggesting great financial gain from being a wet community.

Last week the Mount Vernon-Rockcastle County Tourist Commission board voted to endorse the sale of alcohol in Mount Vernon.

The wording on the ballot will read “are you in favor of alcohol sales inside the city limits of Mount Vernon?”

The same measure will be on the ballot for the sale of alcohol in the city limits of Brodhead.

Of Kentucky’s 120 counties, 19 others are completely dry.

(Continued from front) vide a more safe environment for those who participate in Halloween festivities.

Livingston will also be observing Trick-or-Treat during the same times.

Police expect to beef up patrols on that evening to help ensure the safety of youngsters and motorists are asked to watch closely for children on or near the roadway.

Parents are asked to dress their child in bright or reflective clothing and to check the candy and treats before your child opens them.

Several local churches and organizations are holding special events for those who wish to avoid the trick-or-treat tradition that began in America in the 1920s, though it paused during World War II due to sugar rations.

Thought to have started in the Middle Ages as a way to fool demons into thinking you were one of them, the tradition came to America and has grown into a billion-dollar industry nationwide.

“Suit”

Robinson had claimed the mayor was prejudice and biased against him and had prejudged him. As proof of that bias, Robinson pointed out that the mayor and the hearing board had requested he resign as a police officer to avoid a hearing saying the board must have already believed him guilty or they would not have asked him to resign.

However, Judge David Tapp found at a hearing on October 12, that asking Robinson to resign was “a friendly act permitting the plaintiff to avoid a hearing on the charges.”

Further, the Judge found that “there is no evidence indicating that the mayor prematurely determined to remove Robinson or accepted the other allegations against him as true.”

The 11-page document, issued by Judge Tapp, presented the arguments made by Robinson and agreed with the city’s contention that Robinson received fair treatment saying, “Robinson was afforded due process,” and “he was represented at all stages of the proceedings”

Both the City of Mount Vernon and Robinson submitted a motion for a summary judgement and Judge Tapp sided with the city writing “Robinson’s motion for summary judgement is denied and it is further ordered that Mount Vernon’s motion for summary judgement is granted.”

Bryant told those present at the city council meeting last week that he hopes this puts and end to the lawsuit issue.

“We won hands down,” said Mayor Bryant. “I was merciful and chose a week’s suspension without pay. Of the options available to me as mayor, that was by far the most merciful decision I could have made.”

Mayor Bryant continued to talk about the suit. “I truly wish our legislature would address these frivolous lawsuits that cost taxpayers money and tie up our legal process. These suits are a loss to everyone in the community,” he said.

Robinson is still employed as a police officer with the City of Mount Vernon.

“Ballots”

(Continued from front) read “Are you in favor of providing Constitutional rights to victims of crimes, including the right to be treated fairly, with dignity and respect and the right to be informed and to have a voice in the judicial process?” This amendment is commonly known as Marsy’s Law.

Other races will only be on the ballots for those voters directly affected by the outcome.

Several races include only one candidate with no opposition: Commonwealth Attorney Eddy Frank Montgomery; Circuit Clerk Eliza Jane York; Property Valuation Administrator Janet Vaughn; County Clerk Danetta Ford Allen; Sheriff-Elect Shannon Franklin, Jailor-Elect Nathan Carter, District 1 Magistrate Shannon Bishop, District 1 Constable Jordan Bales, District Judge Jeffrey Scott Lawless and District Judge Katie Wood Slone are all running unopposed.

There are three write in candidates :

Jerry D. Owens is a write-in candidate against County Judge/Executive-Elect Howell Holbrook. Dallas Todd is a write-in candidate for Brodhead City Commissioner.

John D. Burton, Ricky R. Kirby and Brian A Bullock will be on the ballot for Brodhead City Commissioner.

Billy Ray Wilson is a write-in candidate against Harold “Hal” Rogers and Kenneth S. Stepp for U.S. Representative in Congress.

There was also a withdrawal this year as Gary Gentry (D) has withdrawn from the race for Magistrate in the third district. However, his name will still be on the ballot because he withdrew after the ballots were printed. Any votes for Gentry will not be counted.

The same six members of the current Mount Vernon City Council are running for re-election this year. Wayne Bullock, Sharon K. Saylor, Shelly Raines Lewis, Clifford Mullins, Jamie Anderkin Bryant and Jackie W. Weaver.

Those running for Livingston City Commissioner are incumbents Charlene Newcomb, Katha Carpenter, Leroy Lamb, Bryan Mahaffey and Dwayne King and Donna Durham.

For United States Representative in Congress in the 6th Congressional District, Republican Harold “Hal” Rogers is facing Democrat Kenneth S. Stepp and write-in candidate Billy Ray Wilson.

In the race for State Senator in the 34th Senatorial District, Incumbent Republican Jared K. Carpenter will face Susan Byrne Haddix.

For State Representative in the 71st Representative District, Republican Travis R. Brenda who defeated incumbent Jonathan Shell in the May primary, will face Democrat Mary J. Renfro.

Running for Circuit Judge in the 28th Judicial Circuit 4th Division, (Family Court) are Keith Allen McLamb, Melinda Gillum Dalton and Jane Adams Venters.

For District Judge in the 28th Judicial District 1st Division, Jeffrey Scott Lawless is running unopposed as is Katie Wood Slone in the 2nd Division.

Love The Truth

This should be the hope of every Christian is that they would love the truth more than any other teaching that is taught today in the name of religion, because it is really what makes us free. John tells us in John 8:32—ye shall know the truth and the truth shall make you free. If the truth is what makes us truly free, then it becomes our responsibility to know what the truth really is, because without truth we are still in spiritual bondage.

John 17:17—Sanctify them through thy truth, thy word is truth. God’s word sets us apart from all that are in the world when we believe and are obedient to the word we find in the Bible. Do we hunger and thirst after righteousness, like the Bible teaches, Matt. 5:6, or do we just simply take what everyone tells us to be the truth, when it comes to religion without ever checking the Book? That was the way people were about the earth being flat, until Columbus proved them differently. We have to be careful what we call the truth, because there are a lot of things today in the name of religion that is not the truth.

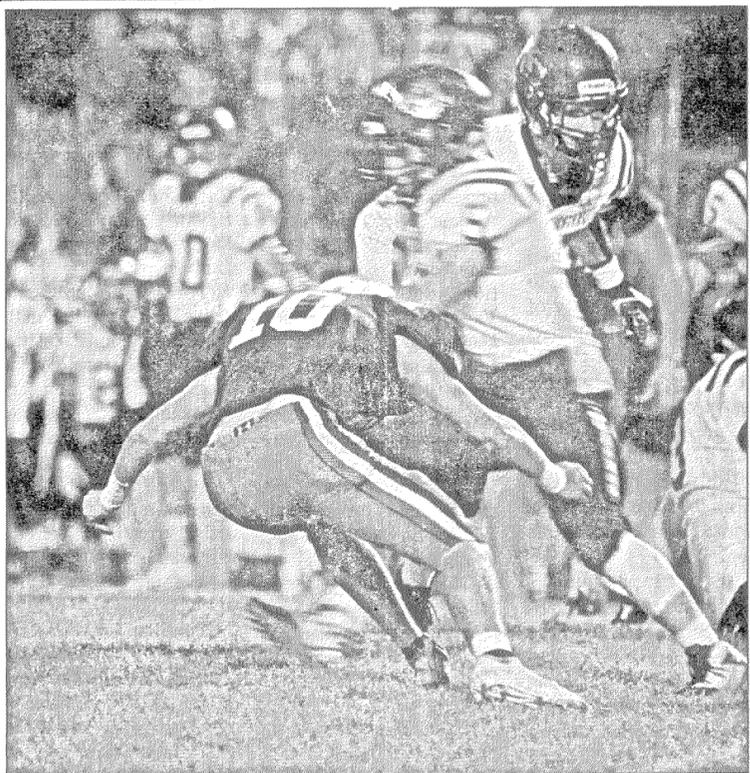

When men, even though they might be sincere try and establish their own religion if it is different than God’s word, the apostle Paul teaches in Rom.10:1-3—These people had a love of God, but it wasn’t according to the word of God, the apostle Paul teaches these people are going to be lost unless they change what they believe.

Folks, we all have responsibility as Christians if we see error in the church where we worship, we need to try and correct that error. Eph. 5:17—Be not unwise in what the will of the Lord is, be ye understanding. Eph. 5:1 teaches us—And have no place with the unfruitful works of darkness, but rather expose them. We cannot worship God in spirit and truth if error exists in our worship. Titus 1:14—Not giving heed to Jewish fables and commandments of men who turn from the truth. There are so many folks today that are being led by some man, or some woman, down a path that is leading them away from God, and this is so sad because many people have more confidence in their preacher than they do God. Folks, this is the reason today people are so divided, so many things are being taught and practiced in the name of religion, many cannot be found in the word of God. The apostle Paul commends the church at Philippi for their defense of the gospel, Phil. 1:7—He was grateful for their defense of the gospel and how they confirmed what was taught by God’s word, the apostle Paul appreciated that desire for the truth and their love of God’s grace. Folks we need to take the time, every time we hear what is suppose to be the word of God, we need to make sure that it is truth. Prov. 23:23—Buy the truth and sell it not.

Deer season update

Many deer hunters rejoiced this past weekend over a break in a weather pattern that had been alternating between stifling heat and soaking rains.

A cool down coincided with the two-day gun season for youth deer hunters. It also excited archery and crossbow hunters getting into the woods, blinds and tree stands.

"It wasn't really fit to do much but go hunting," said Gabe Jenkins, deer and elk program coordinator with the Kentucky Department of Fish and Wildlife Resources. "We saw good participation over the weekend."

On deck for deer hunters in Kentucky are the October muzzleloader (Oct. 20-21), modern gun (Nov. 10-25) and late muzzleloader seasons (Dec. 8-16) before the free youth weekend on Dec. 29-30, 2018.

Difficult hunting conditions defined the first six weeks since archery deer season arrived at the start of September, which also ushered in numerous changes to deer hunting regulations.

The changes are detailed in the updated version of the Kentucky Hunting and Trapping Guide, on the department's website at fw.ky.gov and in videos posted on the department's Facebook page and YouTube channel.

"What I've been telling people is, if you're a deer hunter in this state, read the hunting guide because something that affects you has changed," Jenkins said.

Major differences from last season:

- The statewide and youth deer permits allow for the harvest of up to four deer, either one antlered and three antlerless or four antlerless.

- The modern gun deer season is 16 days statewide.

- A total of 32 counties have been moved up into a different zone.

- Hunters can take as many deer as allowed for each zone. In order to take more than four deer statewide, an additional deer permit must be purchased.

- Hunters in Zones 2 and 3 can harvest no more than four deer. In Zone 3, only one antlerless deer can be taken with a firearm.

- The bag limit in Zone 4 is two deer but only one can be an antlerless deer. Antlerless deer can be harvested during the archery season, crossbow season, free youth weekend or the last three days of the December muzzleloader season. Again, the statewide bag limit of one antlered deer applies.

Hunters are still allowed only one antlered deer statewide regardless of zone, method or season. In Zone 1, hunters can still harvest an unlimited number of antlerless deer with the statewide deer permit and additional deer permit. The changes encourage greater harvest of does and increased deer harvest in areas where a reduction in herd numbers is sought. At the same time, they are designed to foster a bounce back in areas of east Kentucky hit hardest by last year's epizootic hemorrhagic disease (EHD) outbreak.

“Deer”

“The new regulations are intended to help meet those objectives,” Jenkins said.

Jenkins said this week there has been one confirmed case of EHD with test results pending on five others, most from north of Interstate 64 and east of Interstate 75.

“I wouldn't be surprised if we see an uptick in harvest with people wanting to try to fill their four-deer limit,” Jenkins said. “But we also know that three-quarters of our total harvest comes during the modern gun season. That's the key. If we get a bad weather weekend or two in there, that's going to have an effect.”

Hunters harvested 136,026 deer during the 2017-18 season, the fifth highest total on record, and the state's deer herd remains robust overall.

“Things are good,” Jenkins said. “We had a very wet winter and there's plenty of forage for both adults and fawns, so we expect to see high survival. Traditionally, you have a stress period in July and August. That did not exist this year. They've had plenty of groceries on the landscape, so they should be in prime condition health-wise.”

While September's harvest was down year-over-year, understandable considering the unkind heat and rain, it remained higher than the 10-year average.

Hunters reported taking 4,654 deer during this month's youth-only gun season weekend, second only to the 2015 season.

That year, the statewide mast survey noted poor white oak acorn production with red oaks rated average. Early returns from mast surveys conducted this year point toward uneven acorn production. Deer will frequent areas around white oaks littering the ground with acorns first before turning attention to red oaks.

“They're going to be more active in weather like this than they are in 90-degree temperatures,” Jenkins said. “They're going to do what they're going to do breeding wise when the season is right. However, if conditions are more conducive to eat and be up and moving, they're going to.”

“Right now the key is acorns. Deer are just going to sit there and munch on acorns all day long.”

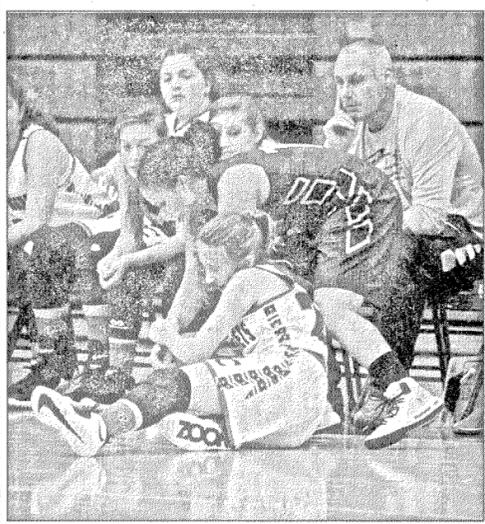

A chill in the air gets hunters thinking about deer in Kentucky. The best part is its arrival this year comes with plenty of season still left.

Scam switches bank deposit to Con Artist's account

Attorney General Andy Beshear is warning senior citizens and military veterans to be wary of a new scam that attempts to switch their monthly bank deposit to a con artist's bank account.

Beshear's office has recently received reports from seniors and veterans in Edmonson, Fayette, Jefferson and Spencer counties who say scammers tried to steal their monthly Social Security or veteran benefit.

Beshear said that this week his office was able to help one of the veterans scammed recover $3,169.

The scam begins by someone pretending to be an employee of a bank, the Social Security Administration or a veteran organization, and claims the victim's benefit deposit must be 'reverified' following 'suspicious activity.' Once the victim provides their personal, banking and account login information, the scammer has what they need to steal the victim's identity and make unauthorized direct deposit changes.

"Con artists will stop at nothing to steal, including targeting seniors who rely on their benefits as a large portion of their income after retirement," said Beshear.

"Thanks to those making reports to our office, we know that this scam is trending in the state and it is especially critical that Kentuckians validate any benefit changes directly with the legitimate organization."

Beshear's office indicates identity thieves and mobile deposit scams are increasing as online banking advances allow Kentuckians to change their own mobile deposit routing information online or through smartphone apps.

The availability of mobile deposits can also result in con artists targeting unsuspecting victims to transfer money to the scammer using pre-paid credit and gift cards, which are most difficult to trace.

Kentuckians can avoid many scams by following these essential steps.

1 Do not respond to unknown callers. If you did not initiate contact with the Social Security Administration or the Veterans Benefits Administration, and are randomly contacted by them — it is most likely a scam.

2 Never provide your personal, financial or account login information to unknown, unverified people.

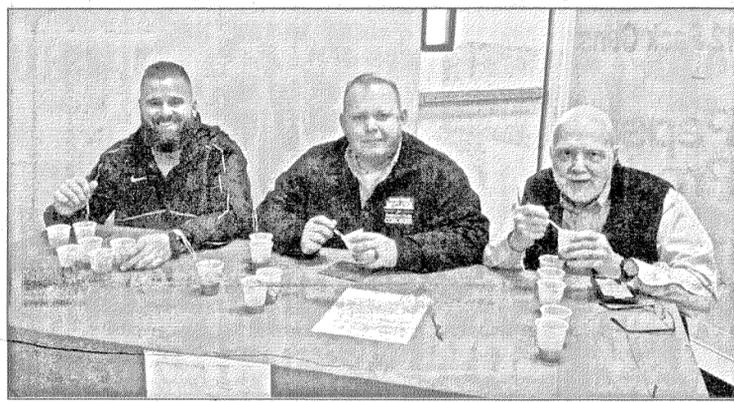

Always contact the legitimate agency independently before any transaction.

3 Protect your computer and banking data by using security software, firewalls and keep security patches and passwords up to date.

Ellen Cain is ready to play

By: Mike French
Editor

Editor's note: This is the first in a series of articles about local residents who play or sing music of some kind. Local bands and performers have traveled the world making music and we hope to give our readers an insight into the lifestyle.

One of the most well known phrases in the English language may be "never give up."

Seventy-six year old Ellen Cain, of Mount Vernon apparently believes in that phrase. But even more, she believes in giving her music to others.

The spry, cheery lady can't wait for a chance to sit and talk about her life-long love of music and rarely stops smiling as she talks about the places she has been while making music.

"I was born in Missouri and my dad started me out playing old Carter Family music," said Ellen, "and I haven't stopped for a single day since then."

Ellen started playing in churches and then for weddings and then revivals and almost any place where she and her piano could sit and dish out her own form of happiness.

"The Lord has blessed me with a lot of talent. I'm a very talented person and I want so badly to let people hear me play," she said as her fingers were making piano keyboard motions on the desktop. "My middle name is 'Music' and people who hear me just want to hear more," she said.

Ellen said she could never remember all the places she has played in her life and could never pick out a favorite performance. "Every time I play, I give my all and every performance is a part of me left there with whomever heard me," she said.

The strong-voiced lady stands tall and talks about the different genres of music she has played throughout her life. "I have played it all but in my heart, gospel music is my calling," she said.

Ellen said she would love to find more places locally to play and her age hasn't slowed her down at all from looking for more places to perform.

"I don't feel 76 at all. Music has a lot of energy in it. It is healing and has kept me young. I believe it helps those who hear me play and sing as well."

Ellen says she sings every possible part in a quartet and plays piano, bass and autoharp and can tune those instruments as well.

"I play and I tune strictly by ear," she said. "I just hear it inside and it comes natural for me," she said. "I play very professional music."

Ellen says she is willing to teach new musicians as well. "I would love to give music lessons if I can find people who are really interested. Most people say they are but then they find out how much work it is," she said.

Ellen moved to Mount Vernon about four years ago and waiting so long to come here may be one of her biggest regrets. "I wish I had come here ages ago. I love it here. This is where I belong," she said.

Ellen said she is available to play at churches or most any event and would love for interested beginners to call her at (606) 308-1009. "I want to reach people's heart. I want to give them my music," she said.

When Ellen isn't out playing music at a church or a local venue, she says she spends her time sitting on her old piano stool in her home where she keeps her fingers in good shape. "The piano just draws me in. It's part of me. I just feel it and playing comes naturally."

Anyone interested in listening to Ellen should look her up on Youtube or Facebook. "I have over 200 videos of me on there and people can watch anytime they want," she said. "I just hope it touches someone's heart."

Campaign, non-official signage prohibited on state right of way

As the November general election nears, the Kentucky Transportation Cabinet (KYTC) reminds candidates and property owners that campaign signs, as well as other non-official signs, are not allowed on state highway right of ways.

Kentucky law and Transportation Cabinet policy prohibit the placement of non-official signs of any type – for campaigns, yard sales or other advertising – on state highway right of way, utility poles, fences and guardrails or on road signs. Depending on size and construction, illegally placed signs are a distraction and can be a safety issue for motorists when blocking the view of oncoming vehicles.

Illegally-placed signs also can disrupt or endanger right-of-way operations such as mowing, ditch cleaning and litter removal, and can pose a direct safety hazard to motorists who run off the roadway – particularly when installed with large wooden or metal stakes.

Campaign signs and other signs placed on state right of way that restrict sight distance or interfere with mowing and maintenance operations will be removed by KYTC crews. Signs that are removed will be held at the state highway garage in each county of KYTC District 8 and kept for two weeks. Unclaimed signs will be discarded.

"An Evening of Talent" will be presented November 3rd at RCMS

An evening of local talent is being presented at the Rockcastle Middle School cafeteria on Saturday night November 3, beginning at 7 p.m. The event is being presented by the Livingston Community Lions Club who usually host the "Rockcastle's Got Talent Show" each year. However, this year, the show will be co-hosted by the Rockcastle Arts Association with a slight change in the title. This year the show will be "An Evening of Talent". It will be basically the same show. In addition, there will be some semi-professional acts to perform periodically during the show but will not be eligible for any prize money or trophies.

The Livingston Community Lions Club is a part of the world's largest service organization and serves in aiding the southern portion of Rockcastle County as well as helping support various projects county-wide. The newly-formed Rockcastle Arts Association is an organization dedicated to the progress of various forms of art in the county. These two organizations will be dividing the proceeds from the show.

The show will feature all ages of talent. There is a category for solo acts, duo acts, and groups. There will be first, second, and third place ribbons in each category and all will receive a framed certificate for being in the show. The first-place overall winner out of all categories will receive a large trophy, $100 and a ribbon. The second-place winner out of all categories will receive a ribbon and $50. The third-place overall winner out of all categories will win a ribbon and $25.00. There is a place for the "Audience Favorite" who will also win a moderately-sized trophy. This will be judged on the amount of applause, so bring lots of friends and family.

The registration fee is $10.00 and you may register on-line at <https://signupgenius.com/#!/showSignUp/70a0d48a4ac29a3fe3-rockcastle> or at arts@gmail.com or contact Tonya Cook at (606) 453-2218.

The deadline for registering will be Sunday, October 28 to allow enough time to print the program. Tickets will be sold at the door. Adult prices will be $8, students will be $5 and children under five will be free.

DAR seeking assistance with Community WWI Tribute

All efforts are being made to ensure that all veterans are included and their stories told. Contact Karen Adams, (859) 273-9015 or adamskaren11@cs.com.

Protect your family with these Halloween tips

Halloween is an exciting time of year for children, complete with fun traditions like trick-or-treating, pumpkin carving and wearing colorful costumes. These fun festivities, however, can sometimes be dangerous too. This Halloween, Saint Joseph Berea is encouraging families to practice caution and follow a few helpful tips to stay safe.

"There are a number of safety hazards that parents need to consider during Halloween," said Peter Ko, MD, KentuckyOne Health Primary Care Associates. "Families should practice pedestrian safety while trick-or-treating, be aware of food allergies and other hazards when enjoying candy, and take precautions to avoid injuries from pumpkin carving and wearing costumes."

Trick-or-Treating
The National Safety Council reports that children are more than twice as likely to be hit by a car and killed on Halloween than any other day of the year. In 2017, October ranked second in the number of motor vehicle deaths by month.

Here are a few things parents can do to help ensure children stay safe while trick-or-treating. Place reflective tape on your children's costumes to help make it easier for drivers to see them. Kids also may enjoy holding flashlights or wearing glow sticks, which serve a dual purpose in making them more visible. Children 12 and under should be accompanied by an adult while trick-or-treating.

Before candy is eaten, check your child's Halloween bag for any harmful pieces. Examine each piece to ensure it is wrapped and sealed, and doesn't appear to be tampered with. For children with food allergies, check the ingredients of all candy they receive. In the United States, 1 in 13 children have a food allergy, and many candies contain common allergens like nuts, milk, egg, soy or wheat.

Pumpkin Carving
While it can be fun to carve a jack-o-lantern, using a sharp knife is not safe for small children. Pumpkin carving can lead to severe lacerations and hand injuries. Parents can prevent these injuries by providing kid-friendly, alternative decorating options like paints, stickers and markers.

For older children and adults who are able to carve a jack-o-lantern, purchase a pumpkin carving knife made specifically for the task. When carving, always cut away from your body in small, controlled strokes. If younger children want to be involved, offer them the task of removing the pulp with their hands, rather than cutting. Once the jack-o-lantern is finished, consider using a flameless candle inside of it to avoid burns or fires.

Costume Safety
Parents should also use caution when selecting Halloween costumes for kids. Ensure that the costume fits properly so it doesn't drag and cause the child to trip or brush into a lit jack-o-lantern or luminary. When purchasing a costume, always check the tag to ensure it is made using flame-retardant material. Avoid masks, hats and hoods, which can obstruct a child's vision, and remove your child's Halloween makeup before they go to bed to help prevent eye and skin irritation.

If you or your child suffers a severe injury this Halloween, seek emergency care. Those suffering from a minor injury should visit a primary care physician for treatment. To find a primary care physician, visit www.kentuckyonehealth.org.

Tiger Pause

BES 4th and 5th grade students traveled off campus last week to two separate Rockcastle locations for an on the road learning experience visiting Sigmon Farms and Camp Wildcat.

On October 18th BES 4th grade students were in for an exciting day of learning all about where their food comes from and the processes that it takes to get food from the farm to the table. Students learned about local heroes: bees, what was in the things they drink, the types of things that come from local farms, how important it is to take care of their water and soil. The favorite part of the day for many was visiting the pumpkin patch where they picked a pumpkin and tried pumpkin fluff. We are very thankful to Mr. Bill and Mrs. Nancy Sigmon for allowing our students this wonderful opportunity. We also appreciate all the adults that took time out of their day to help us learn more about the world around us.

On October 19th BES 5th grade students visited Camp Wildcat with the opportunity to attend the Reenactment of the Camp Wildcat battle originally taking place during the Civil War. Brodhead students had the chance to see and hear the sights that would have been around during the Battle at Camp Wildcat. Students were presented with presentations to make them more aware of the way of life of a Civil War soldier, their common weapons, song and leisure activities, and culinary experience that took place around camp. The step back in time will be a moment that will continue to resonate inside students.

Join your storybook favorites for a parade through downtown Brodhead. Children will dress as their favorite storybook character and parade down the street honoring "Read Around Brodhead," promoting the importance of reading to the youth of our community. Parents and community members are asked to join us by coming to downtown Brodhead and fashion an audience for our young readers to display their favorite storybook characters. Weather permitting the parade will begin at 1:00pm on Wednesday, October 31st parading from BES down Main Street via Silver to West Street then onto Main Street until they reach Citizens bank, where they will take a right on Short Street and return to BES via Silver Street. The students will be lined up by classrooms and escorted by the Brodhead Volunteer Fire Department. We would appreciate it if our parents and community could support our parade by lining the sidewalks of the parade route and cheering for our students as they travel along the path. Along the route students will pass in front of the Dollar General, Dari Delight, Citizens Bank, and Brodhead Baptist Church. If there were to be inclement weather, students will parade through the school into the gym where guest will be welcome.

BES fifth grade students recently visited Camp Wildcat with the opportunity to attend the Reenactment of the Camp Wildcat battle originally taking place during the Civil War.

USDA offers new secure and convenient online business options

Farmers, ranchers and agricultural producers in Kentucky have new online options to access U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA) programs. Through USDA's new streamlined process producers can now register, track and manage their applications for the Market Facilitation Program (MFP) and 2017 Wildfires Hurricanes Indemnity Program (2017 WHIP) on the secure and convenient <https://www.farmers.gov/sign-in>.

"You can conduct business with USDA from the comfort of your home, office, or mobile device," said Brian D. Lacefield, U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA) Farm Service Agency (FSA) State Executive Director for Kentucky. "These online services save time, reduce paperwork and, in some cases, speed up processing."

MFP and 2017 WHIP are administered by FSA and are currently available on the <https://www.farmers.gov/sign-in>. To apply and manage their applications online, producers first need to sign up for the Level 2 eAuthentication access. Enrolling is a two-step process. For producers who do not already have an account register for an account at www.eauth.usda.gov. After creating the account, customers receive a confirmation email with instructions for identity verification. Identity verification can be completed online or by presenting a government issued photo ID in person at a USDA service center.

In addition to the programs available through the farmers.gov portal, other programs offered by FSA can be managed at the Online Services page with the same eAuthentication credentials.

"We know doing business online has become a key part of many agricultural operations and hope our online services can provide the ease and convenience you've come to expect," said Lacefield.

Individual producers have many options available for conducting business online with USDA agencies including FSA, Natural Resources Conservation Service (NRCS) and the Risk Management Agency (RMA). Online tools such as the NRCS Conservation Client Gateway offer customers added flexibility and a secure web portal to track payments, report completed practices, request assistance, and sign documents. Level 2 eAuthentication access is not yet available for individuals.

 The Honorable Danetta Ford Allen, Rockcastle County Clerk

Independent Auditor's Report

Report on the Financial Statement

We have audited the accompanying Statement of Receipts, Disbursements, and Excess Fees - Regulatory Basis of the County Clerk of Rockcastle County, Kentucky, for the year ended December 31, 2017, and the related notes to the financial statement.

Management's Responsibility for the Financial Statement

Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of this financial statement in accordance with accounting practices prescribed or permitted by the laws of Kentucky to demonstrate compliance with the Commonwealth of Kentucky's regulatory basis of accounting and budget laws. Management is also responsible for the design, implementation, and maintenance of internal control relevant to the preparation and fair presentation of a financial statement that is free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

Auditor's Responsibility

Our responsibility is to express an opinion on this financial statement based on our audit. We conducted our audit in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America, the standards applicable to financial audits contained in Government Auditing Standards issued by the Comptroller General of the United States, and the Audit Guide for County Fee Officials issued by the Auditor of Public Accounts, Commonwealth of Kentucky. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statement is free from material misstatement.

An audit involves performing procedures to obtain audit evidence about the amounts and disclosures in the financial statement. The procedures selected depend on the auditor's judgment, including the assessment of the risks of material misstatement of the financial statement, whether due to fraud or error. In making those risk assessments, the auditor considers internal control relevant to the entity's preparation and fair presentation of the financial statement in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the entity's internal control. Accordingly, we express no such opinion. An audit also includes evaluating the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of significant accounting estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall presentation of the financial statement.

We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our audit opinion.

Basis for Adverse Opinion on U.S. Generally Accepted Accounting Principles

As described in Note 1 of the financial statement, the financial statement is prepared by the Rockcastle County Clerk on the basis of the accounting practices prescribed or permitted by the laws of Kentucky to demonstrate compliance with the Commonwealth of Kentucky's regulatory basis of accounting, which is a basis of accounting other than accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

The effects on the financial statement of the variances between the regulatory basis of accounting described in Note 1 and accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America, although not reasonably determinable, are presumed to be material.

Adverse Opinion on U.S. Generally Accepted Accounting Principles

In our opinion, because of the significance of the matter discussed in the Basis for Adverse Opinion on U.S. Generally Accepted Accounting Principles paragraph, the financial statement referred to above does not present fairly, in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America, the financial position of each fund of the Rockcastle County Clerk, as of December 31, 2017, or changes in financial position or cash flows thereof for the year then ended.

Opinion on Regulatory Basis of Accounting

In our opinion, the financial statement referred to above presents fairly, in all material respects, the receipts, disbursements, and excess fees of the Rockcastle County Clerk for the year ended December 31, 2017, in accordance with the basis of accounting practices prescribed or permitted by the Commonwealth of Kentucky as described in Note 1.

Other Reporting Required by Government Auditing Standards

In accordance with Government Auditing Standards, we have also issued our report dated August 17, 2018, on our consideration of the Rockcastle County Clerk's internal control over financial reporting and on our tests of its compliance with certain provisions of laws, regulations, contracts, grant agreements, and other matters. The purpose of that report is to describe the scope of our testing of internal control over financial reporting and compliance and the results of that testing, and not to provide an opinion on the internal control over financial reporting or on compliance. That report is an integral part of an audit performed in accordance with Government Auditing Standards in considering the Rockcastle County Clerk's internal control over financial reporting and compliance.

Respectfully submitted,

Mike Harmon

Emergency physicians provide Halloween safety tips for parents

It is estimated that more than 41 million children will trick-or-treat nationwide this Halloween. The nation's emergency physicians offer a few tips to make sure that your child stays safe and that any fright is the fun kind - that doesn't include a health scare or trip to the emergency department.

"Emergency departments do typically see an uptick in visits on Halloween," said Vidor Friedman, MD, FACEP, president of ACEP. "Some of the most common injuries are motor vehicle accidents, falls, or hand lacerations from pumpkin carving mishaps. Taking the appropriate precautions will help you make sure that your child gets treats from friends and neighbors, not treatment in the emergency department."

Trick-or-Treating

- Children should not walk alone in the dark. Try to go as a group, in a familiar neighborhood, with at least one adult chaperone. Seek organized festivities (schools, churches, etc) if possible.
- Bring flashlights. Visibility is important even at dusk, and its especially important to remain visible to cars.
- Stay on the sidewalks when walking at night. If you must cross the street, obey all traffic signals.
- Discuss how to interact with strangers. Make sure your child knows to never accept rides from people they don't know.
- Candy
 - Avoid candy that is not wrapped in its original wrapper.
 - Don't eat too much. Children (and adults) can get sick from over-eating candy.
 - Pay attention to labels.

Edible marijuana and related products are becoming more common and can resemble food that looks harmless. You don't want to accidentally ingest, or let a child ingest, something with a harmful substance in it that could easily be mistaken for a common cookie or brownie.

- Know which candy contains common allergens, such as peanuts. Be prepared with allergy medication, if necessary.

Costumes

- Make sure costumes are visible at night. Use reflective tape. Avoid costumes that are hard to walk in or could cause a child to trip (baggy pants, oversized shoes, etc).
- Avoid costumes that obstruct the child's sight or vision.
- Dress appropriately for the weather. It could be cold or damp and you'll want to avoid slipping and falling, or putting a child at risk for hypothermia.
- Avoid masks if possible. If your child must wear one, make sure it is well-ventilated.
- Make sure costume fabric, wigs and beards are made of flame-resistant materials.
- If a costume has an accessory, make sure it is made from flexible material and that any knives, swords, wands or pointed objects have dulled edges.
- Use hypo-allergenic makeup and remember to remove it before bed.

Decorations

- Keep Jack-O-Lanterns with lit candles away from children and at a safe distance from the doorway in order to avoid burns or fires.
- Adults who carve pumpkins should exercise caution. Supervise older children and teens using any sharp tools. Young children should not carve pumpkins. One way they can help is by drawing the designs or removing the pumpkin pulp and seeds.

- Consider purchasing a pumpkin decorating kit. The designs could eliminate the need for freehanded carving and the included tools may be safer than typical kitchen knives.

Independent Auditor's Report

Report on the Financial Statement

We have audited the accompanying Statement of Receipts, Disbursements, and Excess Fees - Regulatory Basis of the Sheriff of Rockcastle County, Kentucky, for the year ended December 31, 2017, and the related notes to the financial statement.

Management's Responsibility for the Financial Statement

Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of this financial statement in accordance with accounting practices prescribed or permitted by the laws of Kentucky to demonstrate compliance with the Commonwealth of Kentucky's regulatory basis of accounting and budget laws. Management is also responsible for the design, implementation, and maintenance of internal control relevant to the preparation and fair presentation of a financial statement that is free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

Auditor's Responsibility

Our responsibility is to express an opinion on the financial statement based on our audit. We conducted our audit in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America, the standards applicable to financial audits contained in Government Auditing Standards issued by the Comptroller General of the United States, and the Audit Guide for County Fee Officials issued by the Auditor of Public Accounts, Commonwealth of Kentucky. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statement is free from material misstatement.

An audit involves performing procedures to obtain audit evidence about the amounts and disclosures in the financial statement. The procedures selected depend on the auditor's judgment, including the assessment of the risks of material misstatement of the financial statement, whether due to fraud or error. In making those risk assessments, the auditor considers internal control relevant to the entity's preparation and fair presentation of the financial statement in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the entity's internal control. Accordingly, we express no such opinion. An audit also includes evaluating the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of significant accounting estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall presentation of the financial statement.

We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our audit opinion.

Basis for Adverse Opinion on U.S. Generally Accepted Accounting Principles

As described in Note 1 of the financial statement, the financial statement is prepared by the Rockcastle County Sheriff on the basis of the accounting practices prescribed or permitted by the laws of Kentucky to demonstrate compliance with the Commonwealth of Kentucky's regulatory basis of accounting, which is a basis of accounting other than accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

The effects on the financial statement of the variances between the regulatory basis of accounting described in Note 1 and accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America, although not reasonably determinable, are presumed to be material.

Adverse Opinion on U.S. Generally Accepted Accounting Principles

In our opinion, because of the significance of the matter discussed in the Basis for Adverse Opinion on U.S. Generally Accepted Accounting Principles paragraph, the financial statement referred to above does not present fairly, in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America, the financial position of each fund of the Rockcastle County Sheriff, as of December 31, 2017, or changes in financial position or cash flows thereof for the year then ended.

Opinion on Regulatory Basis of Accounting

In our opinion, the financial statement referred to above presents fairly, in all material respects, the receipts, disbursements, and excess fees of the Rockcastle County Sheriff for the year ended December 31, 2017, in accordance with the basis of accounting practices prescribed or permitted by the Commonwealth of Kentucky as described in Note 1.

Yards to Paradise

By Max Phelps
Fall Landscaping Anyone?

Sunny days and crisp nights entice any number of us outdoors more. The heat of summer is gone for another year. And though there might be some teasings of winter, it's autumn, and a lovely season that we can enjoy without air conditioning, or without ice melt and a snow shovel.

Evenings with a bit of chill means lighting the firepit, the chiminea or the outdoor fireplace. Even a bonfire, if you're careful not to let the fire become a wildfire or brushfire. All the better if you have family to share the occasion with, but an evening for two can be special. And even alone you can enjoy a fire and some time away from the television and the phone.

Time in your yard will, sooner or later, produce some daydreams and perhaps ideas for a project or two.

Since fall landscaping is what our topic is this week, let's see if we can come up with a fresh idea or two, and also some things to do before putting the year to bed for the winter.

When that grass finally slows down, maybe the final mowing has just happened or will soon, how would that flowering or shrub bed look with some brand new edging or curbing, and a coat of fresh mulch for the winter? (And sometimes a little raking can make old mulch look new, if you want to try that.)

The sounds of running water carry louder and farther in chilly, dry air. And from the rocky river to the little gully running full in a rainstorm, flowing water sounds nice. The fountain or bubbling rock in the next yard over from yours may get your attention. If you've ever dreamed of getting a waterfall or cute pond, the off season may be the perfect time to go for it. (Every reputable landscaping company is super busy in the spring—but maybe they can get to a new project right away in the off season.)

Fall is often the driest of the seasons. This means hardscape projects can often be completed just as well in fall as any other time of the year, perhaps better. And since days are shorter, the air cooler, but the ground still quite warm; trees and shrubs and grass can be installed in fall with excellent results. Unless you have poorly draining soil, fall is often better than spring for transplanting trees. Plus, with the leaves falling and things going dormant, that newly planted tree doesn't need watering like it would planted in spring or summer.

Fall is for looking forward to spring as well. When the neighbors have lovely daffodils and crocus coming through the snow, or beds of lovely tulips, it isn't possible to run to the market and have blooms like the Johnsons next door. Spring bulbs planted in fall is what yields that lovely bed of blooms you look at longingly as the warm days, and perhaps the migratory birds, return after a long winter.

And the clear comfortable evenings really can be a super time to clear our minds from a busy life, the phone and the tv. The full moon, or a little outdoor lighting, can enable you to navigate just fine outside after dusk.

Isn't that the time to enjoy that firepit or chiminea, anyhow?

Take an evening off from the news or your usual show on the tube, and find out once again how nice it can be outdoors this time of year. Add a flannel shirt or a sweater or make a date with your fire ring and reconnect with a bit of nature. The world, at least yours, will be a better place for a little while I trust.
