Cincinnati, O., Nov. 10-1916. Wilson has 279 votes in electoral college, Hughes 243, with Minnesota and New Hampshire still in doubt. The Cincinnati Tribune Republican carries president Wilson's picture and concedes his election. The New York papers are also conceding the re-election of President Wilson.

President Wilson leads by 6 votes more than needed in the electoral college. The states yet in doubt Minnesota 12 votes, New Hampshire 4 votes.

The local politicians early this morning conceded Hughes' defeat but by a very small margin, as all will agree.

Kentucky gives one of her old time Democratic majorities, Wilson carries state by about 28,000 majority.

Mrs. George Teis died at the home of her husband in Durango, Colo., at 4 o'clock, a.m., October 28th, of tuberculosis. Mrs. Teis used to be Miss Verne Jarrett, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Jarrett, and lived with her parents here during her early childhood. She was a granddaughter of our J. H. Jarrett and the late George E. Painter. Her father, Luther Jarrett, died and was buried in Aztec, New Mexico, where he had gone a few months previous in search of health. Mr. Jarrett was elected jailer of this county while confined to his bed, but was never able to attend to the duties of that office, being forced to leave Kentucky on account of his health a few weeks after his election. His widow, who was Miss Charlotte Painter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George E. Painter, remained in New Mexico after the death of her husband, where she conducted a restaurant. Soon after the death of their father, Miss Verne and her brother George went to their mother, and later moved to Durango, Colo., where Miss Verne married a prosperous young business man of that city. OUR BOONEWAY MAN - Winchester

Mrs. Georgia Rice, of Mt. Vernon, has been visiting the family of C. C. Davis at this place.

George M. Kiser, city editor of Winchester Sun, recently announced that that paper has the fact of his marriage to Miss Anna Warren, of Stanford in October 1915.

The expressed sympathy of the many friends of the writer through out and beyond the State due over his recent great bereavement, in the death of his mate, is appreciated more than he can say in words.

Road work will close down in Clark county when freezing weather sets in.

The writer is taking exercise in abundance now, making from seven to fifteen miles per day in walking over roads that are under reconstruction, in Clark County.

Winchester has about twenty passenger trains daily.

Walter T. Jonnson, of Kenton, Ohio, has been elected president of the Ohio division of Boone Way.

grocery business here since the spring of 1915 has sold his store to M. C. Day of Morgan county.

Mr. Oliver will travel for the wholesale house of the Mahan Grocery Company, which is erecting the largest business house in this city and the largest grocery house in the state outside of Louisville.

Hallowe'en was celebrated by the people of this city to the fullest extent. Hundreds appeared on the Great White Way, in costume and masks, and revelry ruled up to near midnight. The occasion was one of great enjoyment. No outward thing occurred to mar the pleasure of the revelers. No destruction of property or the breaking of even a pane of glass occurred, on the desecration of property of any kind.

The man for whom Cruise's ferry was named is buried in Winchester cemetery.

Boone Way is getting northward and will land at Kenton, Ohio, before many moons.

Only those who have undergone the horrors attending the loss of their life's companion can fully comprehend the distress and agony the survivor undergoes, who for many, many days can see no bright lining in the clouds of sorrow that overshadow life's horizon.

The writer was at home on election day and met numerous old friends and acquaintances whom he was pleased to greet. Winchester in his opinion, is the best place in Kentucky, after his own home town, Mt. Vernon, where he has spent 39 years of his life and where he expects to be buried, in the county whose people he honors, respects and loves, when called hence.

Scott Miller was over from Versailles, last Sunday, and called upon the Boone Way man to ascertain road conditions between Crab Orchard and Norton, Va. where he will make a trip soon.

CATARRHAL DEAFNESS CANNOT BE CURED

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure catarrhal deafness and that is by a constitutional remedy. Catarrhal Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed Deafness is the result. Unless the inflammation can be reduced and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever. Many cases of deafness are caused by catarrh, which is an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces of the system. We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Catarrhal Deafness that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Circulars free. All Drug Lists, 75c. F. J. Chesney & Co., Toledo, O.

VICK'S VAPORUB SALVE

The art - if we can so call it - of praying in public is a gift, and not a very usual one. Therefore the invocation at a public meeting is often the least impressive feature on the programme, though designed to be the most beautiful note struck.

There is perhaps a reason for this in the self-consciousness of the invoker who knows that he is expected to use very choice language and reflect a very different frame of mind that should mean humility; but often veers from his point.

Prayer is something that demands mental isolation, and it is hard for a man to attain that when he is facing an indifferent or an impatient audience. His plea is apt to become a species of introduction of the audience to the great presiding Deity, and a near-recital of what the audience has done in the past or means to do in the future. Like all others public speakers, he naturally wants to hear his own voice as it floats out over the listening crowd, saying the best things in the best way, and he strives, unconsciously, for literary effect. God is told in rounded or hesitating and redundant phrases the things which in His omnipotence, He already knows - and the audience shuffles and grows restless, and the invoker becomes more self-conscious.

Praying in church is different. There the congregation is in a reverent mood, ready to respond to the spiritual call. The invoker has nothing to overcome, and his own mental attitude is undisturbed by outside influences. In the sanctity of his churchy surroundings he prays earnestly and absorbently, without a thought of how his listeners are weighing his words in the fine scale of literary or oratorical style.

Very few men can do that at a public meeting of a non-religious character. And yet the prayer for harmony and quiet judgment is a beautiful essential to all social meetings. No body wishes to see this invocation left out. Why not give us the Lord's Prayer, and stop there? asked a listener on a recent occasion. And the suggestion is a good one. Unless a man has that glorious talent which old people call "the gift of prayer," it is much more effective if the whole audience shall be asked to join in the "Our Father" supplication which is claiming the attention of all, sure to bring its own softening results. After this the spiritual melody of the benediction will sing itself into every heart with its paean of Miss Skiles, reader, will appear at the Graded School Building, Friday evening, Nov. 17th. Miss Skiles comes highly recommended. She is a graduate of the Cincinnati School of Dramatic Art. She has given recitals at Lexington, Paris and various other places, and after January 1st will be on the Lyceum Circuit.

The admission will be 15, 25 and 35 cents and the proceeds will be used to pay for maps, globes, charts, etc., for use in the school, which are very necessary and had not been provided for otherwise.

John W. and Thad Hilton of Pine Hill got a report a few weeks ago that their brother Will Hilton had been killed by the city Marshall at Greenwood, Ohio. Thad Hilton went to Greenwood last week and the authorities denied that any man of that name had been killed there. Henry Hell rd who now lives in Greenwood says he viewed the remains of the man who was supposed to have been Will Hilton and the description tallies with the missing man from this county. John W. Hilton says he is most sure it was not his brother.

Master Robert Fish who made such a splendid showing last year in the Boys Corn growing contest and carried away so many prizes from the Agricultural Fair of Berea, has come in again this year for a similar number of premiums. On his one acre Robert raised 96 bushel of corn and the premium offered is a cultivator which he carries away. Robert is a hustler and his efforts should be an incentive to others of our boys to try to do as well. It certainly speaks well for the young boy, who has the get up about him to go into such laudable undertakings.

Some of the scenes witnessed on the streets here election day is all the evidence necessary of what whiskey will do. At one time it looked as though a general street fight was evident and had there been one shot fired there would have been a number of men killed or wounded. The trouble all came about over a drunken man, whom one side was trying to vote and the other side objected. If there had not been whiskey mixed up in it none of that disgraceful occurrence which took place would have ever happened. The law says whiskey shall not be given away on election day and we believe that the time is about ripe for the people to make the demand that it stop.

EVERYDAY WISDOM. Every body gets a face. Nature provides one for each of us, although it looks sometimes as if some people had had to take theirs out of the bottom of the basket. Well, a face is a good thing; it sort of finishes off a person. Faces are dealt out unseen, otherwise some of us would balk and argue. We would like to have had a little discussion about our face before accepting it finally and forever. Sometimes we think we would rather have had a bald, blank nod, like a darning gourd, than the face we got. Most people though, would take any old face rather than go around bare. If they had all the choice in the world they would select a face that neither you or I would wear on a bet. Taste in faces differ, like taste in other haberdashery. A face can be worked with, and it is sometimes possible to make a pretty good face with a meager start. Chemicals, whisks, and character are the three great face savers.

Nearly everybody can shorten his face if he happens to get a long one out of the basket. This is very encouraging. Nature does not intend for any one to go all the way through life with a long face.

Lots of 500 sweaters at SUTTON & MCBEE'S.

Which Do You Prefer?

It is important for reasons of health and practical economy for every housekeeper to ask herself this question:

"Do I prefer a pure baking powder like Royal, made of cream of tartar derived from grapes, or am I willing to use a baking powder made of alum or phosphate, both derived from mineral sources?"

The names of the ingredients printed on the label show whether the kind you are now using or any brand, new or old, that may be offered is a genuine cream of tartar powder, or merely a phosphate or alum compound.

Royal Baking Powder contains no alum nor phosphate.

He was brought to Louisville for treatment October 25. Acting Coroner William T. Kammerer was notified of his death.

Well, a face is a good thing; it sort of finishes off a person. Faces are dealt out unseen, otherwise some of us would balk and argue. We would like to have had a little discussion about our face before accepting it finally and forever. Sometimes we think we would rather have had a bald, blank nod, like a darning gourd, than the face we got. Most people though, would take any old face rather than go around bare.

If they had all the choice in the world they would select a face that neither you or I would wear on a bet.

Taste in faces differ, like taste in other haberdashery. A face can be worked with, and it is sometimes possible to make a pretty good face with a meager start. Chemicals, whisks, and character are the three great face savers.

Nearly everybody can shorten his face if he happens to get a long one out of the basket. This is very encouraging. Nature does not intend for any one to go all the way through life with a long face.

KENTUCKY ELECTS PRESIDENT WILSON

MAJORITY OF 15,000 IN THE BLUE GRASS STATE FOR DEMOCRATS.

CONGRESSMEN RE-ELECTED

Election the Most Orderly Event Ever Conducted in Kentucky—Voting Heaviest in a Decade.

CHOSEN IN KENTUCKY.

- The following were elected Congressmen in Kentucky: Districts: First—A. W. Barkley (D.) Second—D. H. Kincheloe (D.) Third—R. Y. Thomas (D.) Fourth—Ben Johnson (D.) Fifth—Swagar Sherley (D.) Sixth—A. B. Rouse (D.) Seventh—J. Campbell Cantrill (D.) Eighth—Harvey Helm (D.) Ninth—W. J. Fields (D.) Tenth—John W. Langley (R.) Eleventh—Caleb Powers (R.)

Louisville (Special)—Kentucky gave a majority in excess of 15,000 for the Wilson and Marshall ticket at Tuesday election. All of the present Congressmen—nine Democrats and two Republicans—were re-elected. The weather was perfect and the voting was the heaviest in a decade. The election was probably the most orderly ever conducted in Kentucky. The gains shown by Wilson over the presidential vote for Tuesday, 1908 at over the gubernatorial vote for Stanley in 1915 were all or them were expected by Democratic State Campaign Chairman J. Campbell Cantrill, and they were, to say the least astounding, to Republican Campaign Chairman Ludlow F. Petty. The largest relative gain shown was in Daviess county.

COMMISSION PLAN APPROVED BY VOTERS

Newport Refused to Change Form of Government—Democrats Carried County.

Newport, Ky.—The commission plan of government was approved by voters in Newport, and the Democrats carried Campbell county by at least 1,500. Returns from 45 of the 49 precincts gave Wilson 6,496; Hughes, 5,005; and Benson, 3,464. For Congress, Rouse, Dem., had 6,574 to 4,842 for Sheperd, Rep., and 331 for Plaggenburg, Socialist.

Newport voters had a number of special questions to decide that occupied their attention and made their work of counting the ballots rather slow. The proposed twenty-year franchise by which the S. C. and C. Street Railway Company would obtain the right to operate street cars in Newport for a term of 20 years was defeated in 17 out of 21 precincts. The vote from these 17 precincts stood 1,575, no 1,869. An ordinance relating the operation of street railroads in Newport was approved.

WILSON CARRIED KENTON COUNTY

Arthur B. Rouse Elected Congressman From the Sixth District.

For President—Woodrow Wilson, Dem., 5,132; Charles E. Hughes, Rep., 2,755. For Congress—Sixth District: Arthur B. Rouse, Dem., 5,029; John E. Sheperd, Rep., 2,867. Judge Kenton County Court—John B. Read, Dem., 5,131; Bert J. King, Rep., 2,804. Board of Education—Full term; three to be elected: Dr. J. A. Averdieck, 2,890; C. S. Furber, 2,512; L. J. Grober, 1,002; E. W. Pfeuffer, 2,772; A. A. Ranshaw, 3,672; J. B. Wilke, 2,071. Unexpired term: James T. Earle, 2,757; Joseph T. Groer, 2,248. This was the result in 25 precincts of Kenton county, Ky.

Covington, Ky.—Of the 15,000 Democratic and Republican voters registered in Kenton county, Kentucky, it was apparent early in the day that a full vote of the 65 precincts would be registered at time of the closing polls at 4 p. m. Workmen were lined up in the voting places before 6 o'clock.

Voters indicated that Wilson was good enough for them for four more years as they stood in line discussing the outcome. It was predicted if the people of other parts of the state would stand by Wilson as they did the 13 electoral votes would be a certainty for him. Both parties had their workers at the polls; however, it seemed all voters had made up their minds.

VOTE ON BOND ISSUES.

Ashland, Ky.—By a vote of more than five to one the citizens of Ashland voted to issue $200,000 school improvement bonds.

Olive Hill, Ky.—Olive Hill voted $10,000 for an electric light and water-works system.

HEALTH EXPERT TELLS HOW

Run Down Condition Usually Due to Rapid Eating or Overeating, Says Man Who Has Set Many Tongues Wagging With Original Ideas. Thousands Just Half Sick.

"Thousands of persons drag along from morning until night without energy or ambition. They are not sick enough to go to bed, but they lack the zest of life. They are just half sick."

Such was the statement of the health expert, who has created widespread comment by his original ideas. He continued:

"You can't have good health if you have poor digestion. Too Many Bolt Food.

"The stomach is the most important organ in the body and the most abused. The large majority of people do not take sufficient time to eat their food. They give no thought to what foods are good for them. They simply swallow what is convenient and pleasant.

"The stomach tells quickly when it is abused through overeating or other mistreatment. When it warns, take instant heed or dire results will follow."

"A disordered stomach brings on headaches. It causes constipation, biliousness, indigestion, nervous disorders and other ills.

"Taniao Most Successful. Taniao is the most successful remedy for stomach ills on the market to day. It is composed of roots, barks, herbs and berries gathered in all parts of the world. By its composition it is designed to build strength, create better digestion and more blood, and to strengthen the nervous system through correction of the common disorders of the stomach, liver and mucous membranes. The testimony of your neighbors all around you bears out that it has accomplished this."

Taniao, the ideal reconstructive tonic, is being especially introduced in Mt. Vernon at R. H. Miller, also at Central Drug Co., Livingston, and John Robins' Drug Store, Brodhead; W. M. Owens' Store, Burr; Line Broc., Crab Orchard; S. E. Welch, Berea; J. Reynolds & Son, Bee Lick, where the Taniao man explains its merits.

New York (Special)—Charles E. Hughes was elected President of the United States at Tuesday's election.

That was the verdict of the 3,000,000 voters of the nation.

Former Justice Hughes carried all of New England, New York, Illinois, Indiana, Pennsylvania, Ohio and practically all of the Central and North-western States.

The next House of Representatives is safely Republican, while Democrats retain slight control of the Senate. The Republicans elected governors in New Hampshire, Vermont, Connecticut, New York, Illinois and Ohio.

The state of New York was carried for Hughes by a plurality of more than 100,000. Illinois and Indiana were carried by big pluralities. All of the New England States and New Jersey were removed from the list of doubtful states.

Women Furnish Surprise. The women furnished the surprise to the Democrats of New York. They voted for the first time. There were 600,000 of them at the polling place during the day. The Democrats confidently predicted because of the past issue, the women would favor the President, but they didn't. In many sections they voted as the women in all the other equal franchise states have always voted—with their husbands, brothers or other male kin.

The labor vote in some of the rail way centers of Illinois caused a defection in the normal Republican vote, but the swing of business men to the Republican ticket made up for the defection and the state retained its place in the column where it always stood until four years ago, when it went away in the three-cornered fight for the presidency.

Indiana, Michigan and Wisconsin were looked upon as states as likely to be found wandering from their habitual places in a year when the political sky was filled with storm clouds.

At these states will give their electoral votes to the Republicans. Wisconsin, because of the LaFollette campaign for Senator—he had praised the Wilson administration and ignored Hughes—was counted on almost confidently by the Democrats to line up for the President. The Badger State will give its 13 votes to Hughes.

Charles E. Hughes was at the Astor Hotel. Members of his family were with him. He was particularly interested in hearing the returns from his own state. When he was assured that the state would give him its electoral vote he called "everything off" for the time being and ordered a good dinner. He had not spent much time dining during the closing days of his campaign. There was at no time doubt in his mind that he would be elected. He had not been cast down by the stories of Republican defections which gave such optimism to the Democrats and at times sent gloom to the hearts of some of the Republican managers.

Defections in G. O. P. Vote. That there was defections in the Republican vote was plainly evident from a study of the returns from many states—if in fact not from all states. Massachusetts showed a decided Wilson trend. No one suspected that the Bay State, a citadel of Republicanism, would go Democratic, but its peculiar actions nevertheless caused some mild qualms in the hearts of the Republicans.

It was finally indicated that the majority there would be at least 10,000, and, while this is not more than one-fifth of what the Bay State usually goes, the Republicans were satisfied to get the margin. It was assumed that Connecticut, which has been flooded with Wilson sentiment, due to the large army of munition workers and the remarkable prosperity of the state, threatened to go Democratic as had been indicated in the straw votes taken by various newspapers in that part of the country, but the state turned and gave a respectable plurality to the Republicans.

The great army of factory workers in the cities swung strongly for the President and some of the Democratic newspapers of the state laid claim to the state by 10,000 plurality.
