THE REMOVAL

Of the Circuit Court From Covington to Independence.

Covington, Ky., Feb. 7.—Promptly at 11 o'clock Monday morning Judge Tarrin convened the circuit court for Kenton county at Independence, the original county seat. The formal abandonment of Covington for court purposes was completed Saturday by the removal of the court records, and that part of the Covington wardenship occupied by the circuit court will remain closed until the orders of the judge are obeyed or the county is declared the county's position correct.

The removal from Covington, the most populous portion of the county, and for more than forty years the home of the circuit court, to Independence, a village remote from any mode of transportation, is a move which has not been made in any other county in the country, and the only cause of communication with the outside world is by stage coach, an event unprecedented in the history of the courts of Kentucky. When it is known that also the business of the circuit court which is in continuous session, comes from residents of Covington and its immediate suburbs, and that every lawyer, witness and juror interested will journey to Independence to attend the court, the inconvenience of the removal will be realized.

INSURANCE AGENTS

One Not to be Issued Kentucky and Insure Property Within a License.

Frankfort, Ky., Feb. 4.—In the house Thursday a number of bills were advanced by second reading.

These bills were killed by adverse report and vote. McKee's bill for benefit of circuit clerks, who will have to pay back the amounts received in the shape of $5,000,000 in fees, and the bill providing for taking depositions in shorthand.

The bill raising the age of consent was amended to make the age of the female under 16 years. The penalty was fixed at imprisonment for not more than one year, not more than one year and one month and one day, and a fine not exceeding $100.

The bill, adding a medical department to the A. and M. state college, was advanced, also Charles's labor bureau bill.

The committee substitute for the McKee and the other bills were reported to the Cincinnati and Agents of other states from slipping over into Kentucky and insuring property here without paying license of either themselves or the company, was passed.

AN SENATION.

Miss Kate Emmal, of Middletown, Ky., Mysteriously Disappeared.

Middletown, Ky., Feb. 8.—Miss Kate Emmal, youngest daughter of W. H. Emmal, of this place, and first daughter of W. S. Emmal, the millionaire banker of Lexington, was mysteriously missing. Miss Emmal is a student in the public schools, and Thursday morning she told her mother she was going to take charge of Miss Ed Householder's room, who was sick. Since then she has not been heard from. It is reported that she was married at Junction City to Al Gooden, prominent drummer of Lexington, but this can not be verified. The Emmals are very prominent Kentucky people. They are very wealthy and connected with the Williamson, the Cook and McCreary families. The disappearance of Miss Kate has created quite a sensation.

REDUCTION OF SALARIES.

The Bill Will Be Reported Favorably to the House.

Frankfort, Ky., Feb. 4.—The salary reduction bill introduced by Hon. L. E. Weatherford, the young member from Owen county, will be favorably reported to the house. Some of the most important changes proposed are as follows:

Governor, from $25,000 to $20,000; Adjutant General, from $10,000 to $15,000; Commissioner of Agriculture, from $2,000 to $2,500; Secretary of State, from $15,000 to $10,000; Insurance Commissioner, from $3,000 to $2,000; Insurance Auditor, from $2,000 to $1,000; Secretary of State, from $2,000 to $1,000; State Treasurer, from $3,000 to $2,000. The total saving is $23,700 a year.

TO REMOVE THE CAPITAL.

Frankfort, Ky., Feb. 7.—The republican majority in the state legislature has introduced a bill to remove the seat of government from Frankfort to a city to be selected by the legislature.

The bill is an omnibus bill, which will also amend the constitution to provide for the removal of the seat of government from Frankfort to a city to be selected by the legislature.

KENTUCKY LEGISLATURE.

Regular Session.

FRANKFORT, KY., FEB. 11.—The 100th session of the Kentucky legislature was held today in the Senate Chamber. The session was opened by the reading of a message from Governor Beckham, who congratulated the legislature on its opening and expressed his confidence in its wisdom and courage.

CIRCUIT COURT

Of Kenton County, Ordered Removed to Independence by Judge Tarrin.

Covington, Ky., Feb. 7.—Judge James F. Tarrin, of Kenton county circuit court, some time ago notified the county officials that the judge's room, the master commissioner's office and the clerk's office were devoid of the necessary furniture and appliances for carrying on the business of the court and for the removal of the office in such condition that it was not proper to carry on the business of the court through them, and also after lack of room for the accommodation of litigants and general public. The judge also found that the records of the circuit court were not in the custody of the clerk, but scattered about the court and for the removal of the office in such condition that it was not proper to carry on the business of the court through them, and also after lack of room for the accommodation of litigants and general public.

ARE YOU TO LIVE IN ALASKA?

Some Requirements that Will be Found Indispensable.

The universal article of life in that territory, dependent upon the weather, is bread or biscuit. And to make the bread and biscuit, either in the camp or upon the trail, yeast cannot be used—it must be baking powder; and the powder manufactured by the process of the Royal Baking Powder Company, miners and prospectors have learned, is the only one which will stand in the peculiar climate of cold and dampness and make the bread and biscuit satisfactory.

These facts are very important for every one proposing to go to Alaska and the Yukon country to mine, for should be provided by some outfit to take one of the cheap brands of baking powder will not stand, or that will transport it, and then when he opens it for use, after all his labor in packing it over the long and difficult route, he will find a solid cake of massed lumps of powder, with no strength and useless. Such a mistake might lead to the most serious results. Alaska is a territory to which to experiment in food, or to live in, is to experiment with your stomach. For use in such a climate, and under the trying and fatiguing conditions of the Yukon and labor in that country, everything must be the best and most useful, and above all it is imperative that all food supplies shall have perfect keeping qualities. It is absurd to convey over such difficult and expensive routes an article that is proper for eating, but that cannot be found when required for use to have lost a great part of its value.

There is no better guide to follow in these matters than the advice of those who have gone through similar experiences. Mr. McQueen, who is called "the King of Alaska," after an experience of years upon the trail, in the camp and in the use of every kind of supply, says: "We find in Alaska that the imperiousness of proper food is of great importance and not overestimated. A miner with a can of bad baking powder is almost helpless. Baking powder has been tried and tried, but it has never been able to settle down to anything but Royal. It is stronger, and carries further, but it is not so light. It is the only powder that will endure the severe climate of the Arctic region."

These facts are very important for every one proposing to go to Alaska and the Yukon country to mine, for should be provided by some outfit to take one of the cheap brands of baking powder will not stand, or that will transport it, and then when he opens it for use, after all his labor in packing it over the long and difficult route, he will find a solid cake of massed lumps of powder, with no strength and useless. BIRDS EAT 400 SHEEP.

The Sheep Took Place 100 Miles From Dawson City.

Jack Collins, who started for Dawson City with a flock of sheep last summer, has been heard from for the first time since he left for $20,000. The other and biggest half of the flock fed the birds of the Arctic zone. Thus how it happened.

He deuce the sheep in over the Dalton trail. Some time before Dawson was reached cold weather came on, and Collins decided to kill his sheep. He killed and sold 200, and received nearly $20,000 for them.

RAIDING DEPUTY, REVENUE SERVICE.

RICHMOND, KY., FEB. 5, 1898. The U. S. Civil Service Commission announces that on Mar. 5, 1898, an examination will be held in Richmond, Ky. for the position of Raising Deputy in the 8th Internal Revenue Service District with headquarters at Richmond.

This examination will consist of a very light educational test, and in addition thereto applicants will be graded upon their experience and special qualifications.

The work required of a Raising Deputy is especially hazardous, consisting largely of the conducting of raids for the seizure of illicit stills, breweries, and it is necessary that applicants be of unquestioned courage and prudence and be familiar with the inhabitants and local geography of the district in which they are employed.

Persons desiring to enter this examination should at once apply to secretary of the board of examiners at the Internal Revenue Office at Richmond, Ky. for application blanks (Form 101) which should be properly executed and promptly filed with the secretary of the board at Richmond.

Attention is invited to the fact that this examination was announced to be held, Feb. 5, but that it has been postponed to March 5, for the reason that an insufficient number of applicants applied to establish an eligible register.

The Commission hopes that persons who desire to take this examination will at once secure the proper applications, execute them, and file them with the board.
