DISASTROUS DASH

Gervera Attempts to Sneak Away.

Three of His Ships Burned and One Surrenders.

Adm. Cervera and Most of the Crew Taken Prisoners.

The Spanish Loss Was 350 Killed, 160 Wounded and 1,600 Captured.

Our Loss Was One Killed and One Wounded—An American Ship Was Sunk—Shatter Demands the Surrender of Santiago.

WASHINGTON, July 8.—Inspiring, glorious news came from the national capital Monday, marking it indeed a glorious Fourth of July. Word came from Santiago from Sampson and from Dewey, telling of successes already achieved and those near at hand. The wildest and most indescribable enthusiasm gripped the nation. The dispatch announcing the complete annihilation of Adm. Cervera's fleet and the surrender of the Spanish fleet, 1,300 Spanish prisoners, cheer after cheer rang through the corridors of the state, war and navy building. A surging mass of newspaper correspondents trooped about the bulletin board, hundreds of officials and clerks crowded up to hear the stirring news.

department, but the word passed along the cry was taken up until every hall and corridor echoed with the cheers of victory. Soon the news spread outside and ran to the Fourth of July crowds, until the whole national capital was cheering. To say that glad tidings were welcome to the president and his advisers but faintly tells the sentiments it inspired. Among them and in all official quarters it was accepted not only as a glorious victory on the part of the republic, but one which dealt such a deadly blow to Spain that she could not rise again.

"To Secretary Navy, Siboney, July 3: The fleet under my command offers the destruction of the whole of Cervera's fleet. No one could attempt to escape at 9:20 a. m., and at 3 p. m. the last, the Cristobal Colon, had run ashore 40 miles west of Santiago harbor and let down her colors. The Infanta Marie Teresa, Oquendo and Vizcaya were forced ashore, burned and blown up within 20 miles of Santiago. The Reina Platon was destroyed within four miles of the port. Loss, one killed and two wounded. Enemy's loss probably several hundred. Later, run, explosions and drowning. About 1,300 prisoners, including Adm. Cervera. The man killed was George H. Ellis, chief yeoman of the Brooklyn.

"SAMPSON." WASHINGTON, July 5.—The following dispatch was received from Commodore Watson Monday morning: "REINA PLATON DESTROYED. July 3.—To the secretary of the navy, Washington, D. C.: At 9:20 a. m., today the Spanish squadron, under the command of the gunboat came out of Santiago in column and was totally destroyed within an hour, excepting Cristobal Colon, which was chased to the westward by the commander in chief, Brooklyn, Oregon and Texas, surrendering to Brooklyn, but was beached to prevent sinking. All commanding officers, excepting of Oquendo, about 70 other officers and 1,600 men are prisoners. About 250 killed or drowned and 160 wounded. Later being cared for on Solage and Olivette. Have just arrived of Santiago on Marched to take charge while commander in chief is looking out for Cristobal Colon. (Signed) WATSON.

Several of Shafter's dispatches were made public. One of them stated that he had the enemy surrounded on the north and east. Another stated: "I feel that I am master of the situation, and can hold the enemy for any length of time."

In still another Gen. Shafter said his demand for the surrender of Santiago was still being considered by the Spanish authorities. Yet another dispatch from Shafter, probably the most important of all, was not made public up to 1 o'clock. It is at great length, covering five or six typewritten sheets of telegraph paper. Briefly, and semi-officially its contents were summed up as follows:

Gen. Shafter made a demand for the surrender of Santiago. This was at first refused by the Spanish commander, but the demand was apparently taken under consideration. Gen. Shafter's notice was that he would begin the bombardment of the city Tuesday unless the surrender was made. Fearing the awful results of bombardment, the representatives of foreign countries at Santiago assembled for the women, children and non-combatants to be taken out of the city. It is thought under the circumstances, that Gen. Shafter would give a reasonable time for the removal of the women and children. At all events a period of inaction followed, with the expectation that the surrender will be made Tuesday or else that the bombardment will begin.

The news from Dewey was equally stirring in character. His official dispatch bore the Hong Kong July 4, although it came from Cavite July 1. It told not only of the arrival of the first expedition, but of the capture of Guan, Ladrone islands, with his garrison of six officers and 34 men, and the surrender of the gunboat Leyte with 53 officers and 94 men.

Following are the details of the destruction of the Spanish fleet:

Three of the Spanish cruisers that

Their crews fought with desperate bravery, but their courage was no match for the courage of our men added to their superb gunnery. The Spanish shells were wild for the most part, but the American gun fire was marked by merciless precision. The two cruisers, both on fire, were beached not more than one-quarter of a mile apart.

The most dramatic feature of the battle was the contest between the torpedo boat destroyers and the Gloucester. The latter was struck seven times and is the only American vessel reported damaged. At first the Gloucester fired upon them with her six-pounders, but they ran past her and engaged the battleships. Finally the fire too hot they turned and attacked the Gloucester again until both were disabled. Their crews threw themselves into the surf to save their lives just before this the New York came up and assisted in giving the finishing blow to the destroyers.

There was explosion after explosion from the beached vessels.

Off Santiago, July 5.—Adm. Gervera escaped to the shore in a boat sent by the Gloucester to the assistance of the Infanta Marie Teresa, as soon as he touched the beach he surrendered himself and his staff. Lieut. Morton and asked to be allowed to board the Gloucester, which was the only American vessel near him at the time with several of his officers including the captain of the flagship. The Spanish admiral who was surrounded in the arm, was taken to the Gloucester and was received at the gangway by her commander, Lieut. Commander Richard Walcott, who grasped the hand of the gray bearded admiral and said to him: "I congratulate you, sir, upon having made your gallant fight as was witnessed on the sea."

Lieut. Commander Walcott then placed his cabin at the disposal of the Spanish officers.

At that time the Spanish flag ship and four other Spanish vessels had been aground and burning for two hours, and the only one of the escaping fleet which could not be seen at this point was the Cristobal Colon. But half a dozen curls of smoke far down on the western horizon showed the fate that was awaiting her.

The Fourth Mexican Expedition. SAN FRANCISCO, July 5.—The indications are that the fourth expedition to the Philippines will be a large and striking one. An effort will be made to take the bulk of the troops now here. There has been no date approximated for the sailing of the fourth fleet. Everything still depends on the transports. When a sufficient number of these has been decided upon a date will probably be fixed.

Sly Caught in New York. NEW YORK, July 5.—A Spaniard, who said he was a Cuban, arrived in La Touraine. His name was withheld by Commissioner Fitch. Letters from Madrid were found on him, the contents of which were not made public. The man was sent from the last office to Ellis Island, guarded by officers.

Spanish Loss 2,300 Killed and Wounded. NEW YORK, July 5.—A dispatch to the World from Halifax, N. S., says: Your correspondent was shown a table, run Sunday night, received by A. Ramal, from Santiago, stating that the Spaniards' loss was about 2,300 killed and wounded.

LADRONE ISLANDS.

The Charleston Captures Them and With Troops Arrives at Manila.

A Clash With the Insurgents Avoided—The Way Now Open for the Annexation of the Philippine Archipelago.

HONO KOO, July 5.—Adm. Dewey's gunboat Manila. The Charleston and transports arrived here yesterday. On their way over they stopped at Guam, capturing the Ladrone Islands, Gen. Marina and the Spanish soldiers were captured and taken to Manila. The American flag was hoisted over the Ladrone Islands.

It is now known that he was sent by Consul Williams to remind Aguinaldo of his promise to fight with the single object of encompassing the downfall of Spanish rule and without ulterior projects of independence. Consul Williams, as well as Williams, feared serious future complications owing to the success which Aguinaldo was obtaining having had the effect of turning the general's head.

When Sandico arrived at Cavite and reported his mission to Aguinaldo, the latter, he said, cast his eyes at a traitor. But on demand of Consul Williams Sandico was released and sent to Nanshan.

Williams was backed by Dewey, who championed Sandico's cause and Wildman's policy. A vigorous representation by the American authorities was made to Aguinaldo. He acknowledged that he was wrong and promised co-operation instead of independent action. The firmness of Aguinaldo's character and his speech and has firmly established the policy of annexation.

The insurgent cabinet is very anxious that Gen. Williams and his staff should be in the commission to organize the provincial government. The cabinet members are anxious to understand them, not the local situation.

BERLIN, July.—In an article entitled "The United States and European Settlement," the National Zeitung calls attention to the daily increasing unfriendliness of the American people against Germany. The writer maintains that Germany is entirely blameless in this matter, unless to call things by their right name may be regarded as a hostile act. The National Zeitung goes so far as to assert that the war waged by the United States against Spain is not for humanity and justice, but is based on mercenary motives. It believes that the longer the war lasts the more soldiers and officers will be bred, which will make it an extremely difficult task for the American people to return to that condition of peaceful social domestic character of a republic. Nor will Cuba prove a sufficient indemnity for the great loss of life and property as a result of this competition.

The need of a great standing army and a well-equipped modern navy which has been demonstrated in this war will increase the military elements of the republic with great power, causing it to play a leading role in future history.

ANOTHER VICTORY.

Two More Spanish Vessels Destroyed by a Portion of the American Mosquito Fleet Near Manzanillo.

OFF SANTIAGO DE CUBA, July 3, via Kingston, Jamaica, July 5.—On the morning of July 1 the Hist, Hornet and Wampanoag destroyed a Spanish gunboat near Cape Cruz. On the afternoon of the same day, these members of the Mosquito fleet destroyed another Spanish vessel, a Spanish gunboat, by land batteries and troops ashore.

One large Spanish torpedo boat was disabled, three Spanish gunboats were seriously injured and a pontoon full of Spanish troops was sunk, the enemy escaping in boats. The Hornet was temporarily disabled, but the only casualties on the American side were three men slightly scalded by escaping steam.

To Attack Spain.

WASHINGTON, July 5.—The administration is desirous of beginning the bombardment of the important cities of Spain as soon as possible, and the events of the past 24 hours make the project all the more feasible. Will opposition to Sampson's fleet be removed, Watson will sail at the earliest moment, and this announcement was made by Secretary Long with great satisfaction.

CAPT. W. T. SAMPSON. Commanding North Atlantic Squadron, United States Navy.

grasped the hand of the gray bearded admiral and said to him: "I congratulate you, sir, upon having made your gallant fight as was witnessed on the sea."

Lieut. Commander Walcott then placed his cabin at the disposal of the Spanish officers.

At that time the Spanish flag ship and four other Spanish vessels had been aground and burning for two hours, and the only one of the escaping fleet which could not be seen at this point was the Cristobal Colon. But half a dozen curls of smoke far down on the western horizon showed the fate that was awaiting her.

SHE GOT JACK A JOB.

The Nativite of the Young Girl's Sore-ened the Heart of the Railroad Manager.

Two University of Chicago students, both almost penniless, but one blessed with more than the other, were allowed of good looks, were enamored by the wily little cupid, and the usual of it all was that in spite of the stern rules of the university in regard to the sort of thing they were married. For a time all went well. Both had saved some money from their allowance, and the first few weeks were passed blissfully. But finally the pinches of poverty began to be felt, and the young couple while sitting in their little parlor flat far out on the South side the subject of providing for the future came up.

All that day they thought over, and early the next morning, she awoke in fetching toilet, they started out for their journey. The first place they tried was a railway office. The husband went in his card, and the general manager and was soon ushered into the office of the principal, who the following day, when there was no delay in the matter. The husband quickly and earnestly upon which he had come. When asked about his qualifications for employment in the office, he said that he was anxious to answer that he was painfully lacking in experience. At this the official answered that he was sorry, but could do nothing for him, and turned him to his desk.

Rising quickly from her chair, she went to the door, and with a look of despair and broke out with: "You don't mean to say that you are not going to give me a job?"

The general manager said: "Yes, that's just what I am afraid I must do. You see, he isn't qualified for anything in our service."

"But he was always bright in classes, and you should just say him plain fool," she continued, "and you should remember."

"Oh, I can readily believe that, but, you see, we require more."

"Then you can't take him?"

"No, I am afraid not."

"But you must, because you see, we are married, and we must live, and if I don't work I can't support my family."

"The general manager clearly did not know what to do. He was not accustomed to such applications for positions, but there was the young girl, a band, certainly a sturdy youth, and the weeping and beautiful wife, and what could he do? He finally decided to give her a job, and he called on her to go for a with a "There, don't cry, my dear," he summoned a clerk and soon found that he could find a place and at a pretty fair salary. The girl was dismissed, after Jack had been told to call again the next morning to bring his new duties at Chicago Chronicle.

Meek Biscuit Shop.
The proportion of milk and milk in this soup need not be uniform. You may use a quart of milk and a quart of tomatoes, providing the two are mixed very carefully at the moment. The easier method, however, is to season nicely one quart of strained stewed tomatoes with a teaspoon of onion juice, a pint of a teaspoonful of pepper and an eighth of a teaspoonful of mace. Thicken a quart of milk in a double boiler with two tablespoonfuls of butter and two of four rubbed together. When ready to serve, turn the mixture into the tureen, add a quarter of a teaspoonful of bicarbonate of soda, with a pinch of salt, and serve at once with shavings of toasted bread.—Ladies' Home Journal.

Use Ayer's Hair Vigor.

For years, I was troubled with dandruff, large flakes scaling and falling off, causing great annoyance. Scarcely the itching of the scalp was almost unendurable. Prescriptions from eminent physicians, put up by my own druggists were tried, but failed to afford relief. At length I used Dr. Ayer's Hair Vigor, and in one week I found it helpful. At the end of only two weeks, my hair was growing again, free from dandruff, and as clean as a child's. I heartily recommend Dr. Ayer's hair Vigor to all who are suffering from diseases of the scalp.—Evers-Stoneman, Drugs, etc., Sacred Heart, Minn.
