

MINERS' BATTLE.

Five Hundred Shots Exchanged Between Strikers and Deputies and Railroad Police.

IMPORTED NEGROES MET BY MINERS.

Many Men on Both Sides Were Killed and Wounded in the Fight That Followed.

The Town of Virden, Ill., is in the Greatest Excitement, and Men Are Securing Whatever Arms They Can Get Hold of Escaping More Trouble.

VIRIDEN, Ill., Oct. 18.—The arrival of the imported Negroes from the south at 11:30 Wednesday was followed by a desperate battle.

Five hundred shots were exchanged between the strikers on one side and Sheriff Davenport and his deputies and railroad police on the other side. It is thought that at least 30 men on both sides were killed and wounded. The best information is that ten were killed. Five fatally wounded and five seriously wounded. A Chicago & Alton special policeman is among the killed. His name is said to be D. Kelley.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Oct. 14.—William Harmon, a miner of Girard, died here Thursday night, making the fourth death as a result of the riot in Virden Wednesday.

YUKON, Ill., Oct. 14.—At 10:30 o'clock Thursday a special train arrived bearing Troops A and D, diamond cavalry, from Chicago, and three companies of Iowa Infantry.

YUKON, Ill., Oct. 15.—As a result of a meeting held by a number of union miners during which the terrible fight of Wednesday was discussed, a warrant has been sworn out by Virgil Bishop, a union miner, charging the stockade in Virden with the Chicago & Alton Coal company, Messrs. Lukens, Loucks, York and others, with murder.

Bishop is one of the leaders among his union miners. The warrant was sworn out by him before Police Magistrate Roberts of Virden. The complaint charges that "Fred W. Lukens, T. C. Loucks and Mr. York, on and before October 13, as accessories before and after the fact and as principals, did amongst themselves and together with persons so named as H. Griggell, O. J. Snyder, Jas. Stickle, F. Willard, J. McEntee, J. W. Moonan, P. J. Hannan, J. H. Smith and others, whose names are at present unknown, conspire to murder and kill, and as a result of said conspiracy did on October 13, 1898, kill and murder Frank Hilger, W. S. Herman, Daniel Breneman, Edward Green, Joseph Kuttler, Ellis Smith and Edward Weigant, against the persons of the people of the State of Illinois."

Magistrate Roberts put the warrant in his pocket for safe keeping and now carries it around with him. As it was sworn out before the war was in progress it is believed that the warrant was thought best to avoid complications to hold it until after the inquest has been completed.

This decision was strengthened when Magistrate Roberts, who is foreman of the coroner's jury, began Friday's session of the inquest within the stockade.

Friday afternoon a rumor became general that the Negroes were to be brought back at any moment.

Capt. Craig's men immediately surrounded the railroad station and the vicinity was cleared of citizens.

Newspaper men alone are admitted to the premises. Lieut. Henry stated that his orders are not to stop any Thursday night, but under no circumstances to allow the Negro train to leave the depot. From now on, the station premises will be kept clear of all citizens, and from now on they will take passage on trains will be permitted to pass the line.

THIRTEEN SAFE

Twelve Bodies of the Passengers of the Mohagan Have Been Recovered.

Thirty-Eight Bodies Have Been Identified in the Vicinity of the Accident to Pick up Bodies.

LONDON, Oct. 15.—The Atlantic Transport Co.'s steamer Mohagan, formerly the Cligopatra, of the White Star Line, which left London for New York Thursday with 60 passengers and a crew of 150, is ashore off the Lizard, between the Manacles and the Lowlands.

LONDON, Oct. 15.—The Atlantic Transport Co. issued the following statement Sunday evening regarding the fate of the passengers and crew of the steamer Mohagan, which was wrecked last Friday evening off the Lizard, between the Manacles and the Lowlands: Of the passengers 11 have been saved, 10 bodies have been recovered and 23 are missing.

Of the crew and cabinmen 39 have been saved, 41 bodies have been recovered and 51 are missing.

Since this statement was issued nine other bodies have been picked up, including two that have been identified as those of passengers.

The reports of the various correspondents differ widely as to the persons recovered and losses, though none have been able to obtain the exact number of those saved or of the bodies recovered.

The bodies of the following passengers have been recovered: D. W. King, Edna King, Master King, Jas. Buckley, Miss H. M. Cowen, Dr. Fallows, B. Franklin Fuller, Mrs. L. M. Luke, George Seymour, Miss L. H. Wainwright.

The latest advices from Palermo's Sunday evening say that 38 bodies have been identified, mostly the bodies of sailors. Four are reported as being the bodies of two sailors and two of the crew.

One appears to be a German. She wore a watch and a wedding ring, both engraved with the name of the husband.

King of the bodies have been brought to Palermo, the others to the village church at St. Kevezzo. The rescued passengers are being sheltered at cottages along the shore and the crew at the sailors' home at Palermo.

The crew has been waiting in the vicinity of the ship since the wrecking of the Mohagan got so far north of her true course—from 6 to 7 miles. There was no fog at the time; while the wind on her port quarter was not sufficient to prevent her answering the helm. It has been suggested that her compass was faulty, but daylight lasted long after Eddystone light was passed.

The sailors say the fact that The Lizard light was not visible should have served to give the alarm.

The master of the Mohagan, which are above water, show that her stern is landward, causing a theory that the navigating officer on discovering that he was in the bay might have turned seaward. Two engineers who were saved declare, however, that they never slackened speed.

Remarkable stories of rescue continue. Robert Barrow, a seaman, performed the feat of swimming, unaided, through the roughest water to Covecroft Point, a distance of two and one-half miles. He climbed up the ragged cliff, using a searching party found him early the next morning, completely exhausted.

A. C. Smith, of Oregon, a passenger, survived to a woman in the wreckage that was supporting him and swam ashore unaided. The woman was saved. Her name is reported as Miss Webb, but no such name appears in the company's list.

Messrs. Smith and W. J. Bloomington say there was the greatest difficulty in launching the boats. The pumps were not used and the boats would not work. Four or five times as many sailors as should have been necessary struggled to lower each boat. The lockers were hard to open.

The crew, in a chivalrous effort to save the women, made the mistake of undermanning the boats. There were only four sailors in one boat, which capsized as soon as it was launched. Messrs. Smith and Bloomington say that Capt. Griffith had appeared all day.

AN EXPLOSION ABOARD SHIP AND THE TAKEN FIRE—MANY OF THE CREW CAPTURED ON A TAP.

LONDON, Oct. 18.—An explosion occurred at 6:30 a. m. on board the British bark, Blenheim, from New York with a cargo of naphtha, in the Channel, near Margate. The vessel was destroyed and nine persons, including the captain, his wife and daughter and the pilot, were lost. The explosion was seen plainly from Margate. The vessel was four miles out. Smoke and flame followed the explosion. The fire spread rapidly. The masts fell in a few minutes and the vessel was soon burned to the water's edge.

A lifeboat and a surfboat put out from Margate, but they were unable to find any of the vessel's crew. Later, however, 12 of the crew landed at Dover. The boats had reported that the explosion had blown away the bark's entire stern.

The survivors say that the explosion, the cause of which is a mystery, was terrific.

The tug Simla, which was intending to take her, was near by and hastened to her rescue. She took off nine Englishmen and three Germans of the crew and conveyed them to Dover. It is not known whether those who were lost perished by the explosion or were drowned. Among them were two officers besides the captain and the Dover pilot, Gillman.

THE WAR WITH THE INDIANS

Gen. Bacon Informs the War Department That He Has Retained His Squadron to Him on Wednesday.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 18.—Adj. Gen. Corbin late Monday night received the following dispatch from Gen. Bacon, indicating that the Indian uprising in Minnesota is practically at an end: "I have the honor to inform you, Adjutant General, Washington.—At council with hostile Indians Monday the latter said they wanted no more fighting with United States soldiers and agreed to come and surrender on Wednesday. This is the result of their defeat while engaged with me on the 6th. Commissioner of Indian Affairs Jones has been informed by telegraph and concurs in the entire foregoing statement. (Signed) BACON, Brigadier General.

We have heard it whispered that some of the Magistrates will endeavor to have the salaries of County officers reduced. Why is all this; there is not an officer, be he Republican or Democrat, that gets pay enough. Such a step would be an insult to the officers, and the tax-paying people of this county neither ask nor want such a thing done. To have good officers, or good any thing, we have to pay a reasonable compensation for it, and to have competent men in office we will have to pay a reasonable salary—which they are now receiving. It would be political suicide for a Magistrate to cast such a vote. Some of our officers don't get near what the same officers don't get in other counties yet this year they have done much more work. They deserve every dollar they get.

CLIMAX.

On Sunday of the Baptist Association here, we in company with Revs. Mr. Henry Clark, of Waco, Ky., E. B. Bartlett, of Manse, Ky., and 40 or 50 others argued themselves with lanterns and matches and went to see the other end of what is known as the old Andy Fletcher cave so named because of this gentleman having made a saltpeter there in 1809 and 1812 for the war of 1812. When we reached the cave, our party being clad in their Sunday dress, hesitated, and some, like Lot's wife, turned back. About twenty went into the cave with Willis Johnson as guide. When about 200 feet from the entrance the interior becomes very large and our anxious eyes were all a stare and not noticing Rev. Bartlett who had preceded our guide, was seated on a pillar of salt, and when the cave was made as to where was Lot's wife, Bro B. replied: "Here the old sister is;" and upon looking saw him seated upon the stone which is white sand stone and bears the resemblance of a woman, her head and arms being knocked off by curiosity seekers. Her physique being perfect with these exceptions. At this point all of the party turned back but three. The next thing of interest was an elevated plateau of about 6 feet high surrounded by a walk 6 feet wide. This table was about 50 feet long, and upon it was a beautiful pool of water about 10 feet in area. This pool is constructed like the pool of Siloam. Leaving this we next came to the main entrance and upon examination we found perfect ox tracks made there in 1812. Next we came to the torn down walls—"Towers of Morro", bringing to my mind a slight representation of said castle after the bombardment. There were many other sights of interest but have not time to mention.

We have two children who are subject to attack of croup. Whenever an attack is coming on my wife gives them Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and it is always present to the attack. It is a household necessity in this county and no matter what else we run out of, it would not do to be without Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. More of it is sold here than of all other cough medicines combined.—J. M. Nickle, of Nickle Bros., merchants, Nickleville Pa. For sale by M. C. & D. N. Williams.

The independent telephone companies of Central and Eastern Kentucky will hold a meeting at Bastin's Hotel, Crab Orchard, on Wednesday, Nov. 23, at 8 p. m. the purpose of organizing an association to push the telephone business and make proper arrangements for better and quicker delivery of messages, and furnishing good service at lowest rates.

Tom J. Proctor is building a good sized coal house for the county officials. This should have been done long ago, as it will prevent the scattering of coal all over the yard and will prevent thieves from taking coal away at night. It takes a long time to find some things out, but we finally find them out after a while.
