SCRAPS

(BY JET.)

Teacher (to S. S. class)—Who is it mentioned as the "light of the world?"

The answer came: "Mr. Rockefeller."

Sympathy—Mr. Critique—Yes, indeed, my house is simply full of Titians.

Mrs. Nouveauche—Good! gracious! there's no way of killing 'em!

Certainly would.—Hicks—Here's an advertisement in the paper that says you can go to Chicago for $14.

Yes, but it would be just my luck not to get the $4 after I had got there.

Miss Haddock—This is a pretty time of night for that Dasher girl to be playing the piano.

Miss Also—Oh, she's no respecter of time. You can tell that from the way she's playing.

"I tell you," exclaimed the Ward Boss, "politics and religion won't mix."

"That's right," agreed the Parsons. "It isn't long before religion gets lost in the shuffle."

"Young man," remarked the self-made person, "I began life without a cent to my name."

"That's nothing," replied the flippant youth; "I didn't even have a name when I was born."

Inevitable—"They are criticizing your candidate because he doesn't talk."

"Well," said the campaign manager, "what's the difference? If he talked, they'd be criticizing what he said."

Flight of wealth.—"Riches," said the ready-made philosopher, "have wings."

"One realizes that," said the practical man, "when he watches the coal burn in winter or the ice melt in summer."

Force of Habit.—She had bought some dog biscuit for her husband's valuable S. Bernard.

"I hope they will please you," she said.

"They are not like mother used to make," he sighed.

"Have you heard the latest educational theory?" asked Biggs.

"No," replied Wiggs; "what is it?"

"They have just decided," said Biggs, "to rewrite the primer in words of five syllables for Boston children."

Method In His Madness.—Mrs. Method: "What is the use of standing there and calling the store names?" That won't make the fire burn any better.

Mr. Wick—I thought that maybe if I could insult the blamed thing it would get hot about it."

Rather Veal—"What I would like," said the very poor young author, whose first story had just been accepted, "is that the binding of the book should be in keeping with the story. Do you grasp my meaning?"

"Oh, yes," replied the publisher and accommodating book agent, "I'll have it done in half calf."

A Rural Philosopher.—A story that comes from a country region not far from New York concerns a native who was seen stolidly ploughing a field with a team of weary and dejected horses. As they approached, the observer of rural life remarked, sympathetically, that the horses "didn't seem like the work."

"Um," commented the farmer, briefly, "they don't have to like it; they have to do it."

His Retort.—The mild business man was calmly reading his paper on the crowded trolley car, when a young man stood a little woman hanging by a strap. Her arm was being slowly torn off her body, her eyes were flashing at him, but she constrained herself to silence.

Finally, after he had endured her for twenty minutes, he touched her arm and said: "Madame, you are standing on my foot."

"Oh, am I?" she savagely retorted; "I thought it was a valve."

One on the French.—Two elderly Scotch ladies were discussing battles of the past. "Was it not a wonderful thing," said one of them, "that the British were as victorious over the French in battle?"

"No, a bit," said the other, "donna ye ken the British say their prayers before they go into battle?"

"Aye," returned the first, "but cannot the Frenchmen say their prayers as well?"

The reply was: "Hoot! Jabberin' bodies! 'Wha could understand them?"

Hopeless Case.—The forgetful man was stepping jauntily along with a smile on his cheerful face when he was accosted by a friend.

"Look here," said the man, "why in the world are you carrying two umbrellas?"

"Why, let me think," said the forgetful man. "Oh, yes, I know the answer. In her despatch to get her umbrella that was mended, and she thought I'd better bring a plain one to remind me, it being a pleasant day, and then I thought I'd better bring two in case I stepped in anywhere and happened to forget one of them."

One Woman's Ingenuity.—It was an experiment made by a woman which brought about the discovery of condensed milk. Mrs. Albert Cushing lived in New Orleans in 1849. Her baby was ill and she wished to take it to New York for expert medical attention. The journey in those days was a considerable trip and the baby could not live on plain milk, which would keep only a few hours. In her despatch she began to experiment to see if she could not preserve milk the same as she did jelly or anything else. She tried several different methods and finally hit upon a plan which seemed to give satisfaction. So she preserved several jars of the stuff, put it upon a sailing vessel and made the trip. The child fed upon the milk and was nourished. In New York several men learned of her discovery. They tried to make some of the condensed milk in the manner she had told them, but failed. They followed her to New Orleans and there she unwittingly unfolded her valuable secret. On the ledge of Delverson these men started a small factory and there the first soluble condensed milk was made.

The woman died poor. The small factory made a fortune. Now condensed milk is sold in every part of the world.

ALL IRISHMAN'S LETTER.

The following is a true copy of a letter received in Boston from across the water:

Tipperary, Ireland, March 27 My Dear Nephew—I have no heard anything of ye sens the last time I wrote ye. I have moved from the place where I now live on I should have written to ye before. I did not know where a letter might find ye fast, but I now take my pen in hand to drop you a few lines to inform you of the death of your own living uncle, Kilpatrick. He died very suddenly after a long illness of six months. Poor man, he suffered a great deal. He lay a long time in convulsions perfectly quiet and speechless, all the time talking incoherently and inquiring for water. I am very much at a loss to tell ye what his death was occasioned at, but the doctor thinks it was occasioned by his last sickness, for he was not well ten days during his confinement. His age ye know as well as I can tell ye. He was 25 years old last March, lacking 15 months, and if he lived till this time he would have been dead six months just.

N. B.—take notice I enclose ye a tin pound note which your father said to ye unbeknown to me, your mother often speaks of ye, she would like to send ye the Brindle Cow, and I would enclose her full ye but for the horns, I would beg of ye not to break the seal of this letter until two or three days after ye read it for which toime ye'll be better prepared for the sorrowful news.

PATRICK O'BRAINIGAN. To Michael Glancy, No. — Broad Street, United States of America, State of Massachusetts, in Boston.

A GOOD SHOW.

The Harris Nickel Plate Circus gave one of its entertaining exhibitions in this city Friday on the grounds northside of East High Street. The exhibition of animals was interesting and the program that was rendered was one attraction following another. The riding, acrobatic feats, etc., were some of the best ever shown in this city. The show has certainly earned its reputation and a return date at any time will assure them a good attendance.—The Democrat, Hamilton, O.

THE SUNDAY BIBLE SCHOOL.

Lesson in the International Bible for August 7, 1901.—"God Taking Care of Elijah."

(Prepared by the "Highway and Byways" Branch. (Copyright, 1904, by J. M. Edson.) LESSON TEXT.

1 Kings 17:1-6; Matthew 23:34-37. 1. And Elijah the Tishbite, who was of the inhabitants of that part of Syria, said unto Ahab, If I am God of Israel, heathen, before whom I stand, there shall be no dew nor rain these years, but according to my word.

2. And there came no dew nor rain these years, according to his saying.

3. And he took up stones and laid them upon the altar, and he took up his voice and said, O Lord, hearken unto the voice of the Lord; for he hath said, I will send rain to-morrow, and behold, the rain came.

4. And it shall be that thou shalt drink of the brook. And he drank of the brook, and he gave to his servants to drink.

5. And it came to pass after while that he took up stones, and he said unto the Lord, O Lord, hearken unto the voice of the Lord; for he hath said, I will send rain to-morrow, and behold, the rain came.

6. And he took up his voice and said, O Lord, hearken unto the voice of the Lord; for he hath said, I will send rain to-morrow, and behold, the rain came.

7. And he took up his voice and said, O Lord, hearken unto the voice of the Lord; for he hath said, I will send rain to-morrow, and behold, the rain came.

8. And he took up his voice and said, O Lord, hearken unto the voice of the Lord; for he hath said, I will send rain to-morrow, and behold, the rain came.

9. And he took up his voice and said, O Lord, hearken unto the voice of the Lord; for he hath said, I will send rain to-morrow, and behold, the rain came.

10. And he took up his voice and said, O Lord, hearken unto the voice of the Lord; for he hath said, I will send rain to-morrow, and behold, the rain came.

11. And he took up his voice and said, O Lord, hearken unto the voice of the Lord; for he hath said, I will send rain to-morrow, and behold, the rain came.

12. And he took up his voice and said, O Lord, hearken unto the voice of the Lord; for he hath said, I will send rain to-morrow, and behold, the rain came.

13. And he took up his voice and said, O Lord, hearken unto the voice of the Lord; for he hath said, I will send rain to-morrow, and behold, the rain came.

14. And he took up his voice and said, O Lord, hearken unto the voice of the Lord; for he hath said, I will send rain to-morrow, and behold, the rain came.

15. And he took up his voice and said, O Lord, hearken unto the voice of the Lord; for he hath said, I will send rain to-morrow, and behold, the rain came.

16. And he took up his voice and said, O Lord, hearken unto the voice of the Lord; for he hath said, I will send rain to-morrow, and behold, the rain came.

17. And he took up his voice and said, O Lord, hearken unto the voice of the Lord; for he hath said, I will send rain to-morrow, and behold, the rain came.

18. And he took up his voice and said, O Lord, hearken unto the voice of the Lord; for he hath said, I will send rain to-morrow, and behold, the rain came.

19. And he took up his voice and said, O Lord, hearken unto the voice of the Lord; for he hath said, I will send rain to-morrow, and behold, the rain came.

20. And he took up his voice and said, O Lord, hearken unto the voice of the Lord; for he hath said, I will send rain to-morrow, and behold, the rain came.

21. And he took up his voice and said, O Lord, hearken unto the voice of the Lord; for he hath said, I will send rain to-morrow, and behold, the rain came.

22. And he took up his voice and said, O Lord, hearken unto the voice of the Lord; for he hath said, I will send rain to-morrow, and behold, the rain came.

23. And he took up his voice and said, O Lord, hearken unto the voice of the Lord; for he hath said, I will send rain to-morrow, and behold, the rain came.

24. And he took up his voice and said, O Lord, hearken unto the voice of the Lord; for he hath said, I will send rain to-morrow, and behold, the rain came.

25. And he took up his voice and said, O Lord, hearken unto the voice of the Lord; for he hath said, I will send rain to-morrow, and behold, the rain came.

26. And he took up his voice and said, O Lord, hearken unto the voice of the Lord; for he hath said, I will send rain to-morrow, and behold, the rain came.

27. And he took up his voice and said, O Lord, hearken unto the voice of the Lord; for he hath said, I will send rain to-morrow, and behold, the rain came.

Indigestion Causes Catarrh of the Stomach. For many years it has been supposed that Catarrh of the Stomach caused indigestion and dyspepsia, but the truth is exactly the opposite. Indigestion causes Catarrh. Repeated attacks of indigestion inflame the mucous membrane lining the stomach and expose the nerves of the stomach, thus causing the glands to secrete mucus instead of the juices of natural digestion. This is called Catarrh of the Stomach.

Kodol Dyspepsia Cure relieves all inflammation of the mucous membrane, soothes the stomach, protects the nerves, and cures bad breath, sour eructations, flatulency, brassy, bilious, indigestion, dyspepsia and all stomach troubles.

Kodol Dyspepsia Cure has better strength and flavor than many so-called "cod-liver-oil" brands.

Bulk coffee is not the same price it is not to be compared with Kodol quality.

PERSONAL

Mrs. Angie Stevens continues quite sick. Born to the wife of J. J. Lawrence, a fine girl baby. Mrs. Cook is visiting her daughter, Mrs. G. M. Ballard. Mrs. Cleo Brown is spending this week with her folks.

There are three oil machines now at work in the county. The one on G. S. Livesey's farm being operated by a home company and the two at work near Brodhead by The New Domain Oil and Gas Co. or Standard Oil Co.

The coming trial of Albert Isaacs for the killing of Mart Hubbard has been called three times and each time continued because of the failure to get certain witnesses. It has been set for next Monday, August 8th. There will be about forty witnesses in all.

Mrs. R. B. Mahoney died at her home in Stanford Monday evening. Sunday afternoon she suffered a paralytic stroke but no one realized her serious condition until the end. The many friends of Rev. Mahoney at this place extend to him their deepest sympathy.

The Winchester Brick and Granite Co., located at Crooks siding on the K. C., are now running at full blast, and the brick which they make are indeed a thing of beauty. The brick are made of lime, sand cement and when completed have an appearance of granite. Call at the bank and examine one.

The Democrats met in mass convention in the court house Tuesday and instructed for Judge M. C. Sautley, of Stanford for Judge of the Court of Appeals, from this the Fifth 'Appellate district. Atty's C. C. Williams and J. W. Brown, Dr. P. Benton, W. C. Mullins, and A. B. Furnish were selected as delegates.

OPPORTUNITY

To buy at a bargain, improved property, including Storehouses, Dwellings, Blacksmith Shop, also vacant lots in live, enterprising town. About 800 acres of fine farm lands lying in the edge of the Blue Grass region. Reason for selling, winding up estate. Town is a famous health resort. Write or call on

MRS. JANE D. BUCHANAN, July 22 1 mo. Crab Orchard, Ky.

Mr. E. A. Chilton, the Laurel and efficient secretary of the Laurel County Fair Association has our thanks for a complimentary to the show which takes place August 24th and 26th. In the past London has been putting up one of the best fairs in the State and from the splendid prizes offered and numerous attractions which will be on the grounds for the entertainment of visitors we have every reason to believe that the coming fair will exceed all former exhibitions.

WILDLIFE

Dr. Lusk, of Berea, was down on professional business Tuesday. L. T. Stewart was in Mt. Vernon Tuesday on business. J. L. Monday and family, of Paris, have been down visiting relatives and friends the past two weeks. Miss Mary Griffith, a charming young lady of Ford, has been in our midst the past two weeks. Tom Mullins was up from Withers Monday on business. Clay Aldridge, of Winchester, has been in our midst the past week. Mrs. Julia Asbill, of Lexington, is here visiting her brothers, A. T. and J. H. Fish. Miss Bessie Mullins was over from Mt. Vernon Sunday visiting relatives. Mrs. James Simpson is some better - this time. Marcus Sigmon went to Livingston Sunday to see his brother, Willis, who has typhoid fever. J. L. Mahan, one of our most popular grocery drummers was in our little village Monday. There is bound to be something the matter with some of Uncle Sam's boys as we did not get our SIGNALS till Tuesday when we should have gotten them Saturday. Born to the wife of James Parsons a big boy. This makes five boys for Jim and all Democrats. We see where Jim is right. Miss Ellen Butler was in Sunday from Mt. Vernon visiting relatives. Mr. Jake Simpson, the merchant king of the Big Hill country, we learned died Monday. Corn, oats and grass are better in this vicinity than ever known for the time of year. The appellate convention at Lexington broke up in a rumpty way Tuesday afternoon. The committee men recognized the coming delegation from Owen county for Carroll, whereupon the Sandley and Carroll forces united and adjourned the convention until August 24, without any nominations being made.

We wish to call the attention of the merchants throughout the county to the advertisement of M. J. Miller & Co., which appears on the first page. The firm name is sufficient recommendation to the young merchants. The purpose of the firm is to do an exclusive wholesale business of all heavy groceries. For the present they are handling only flour, meal and feed-stuff, but, as soon as a more commodious building can be erected, groceries will be added. All goods will be bought in carload lots and sold only to merchants. The quality of the goods will speak for themselves, the prices for goods delivered are better than any merchant is able to get from manufacturers direct when bought in less than carload lots. This unquestionably is to the interest of all our dealers. No torn sacks; goods in first-class condition, same goods that you would buy at the mill delivered at your place of business at the same and even less money (than you would have to pay at the factory). Besides we wish to impress the fact that it becomes a county enterprise and enterprise is what Rockcastle needs. We urge upon our merchants to do the proper thing, and especially so long as county people can furnish the demands.

LIVINGSTON

Miss Ella McClure, of Berea, is a guest at the Mullins Hotel. W. C. Mullins was in Mt. Vernon between trains Monday. Born - To Mrs. Grant Hiltner, Monday morning, a little daughter. Rev. J. G. Bow was the guest of Rev. P. E. and Mrs. Gates, Sunday. Mrs. Lawrence Dickerson and son have returned home from Pal-mouth. Mrs. Kitty Smith, of Mt. Vernon, was the guest, Sunday, of Mrs. Martha Ferguson. Mrs. Josephine Elmore of Stanford is visiting her son, Elijah S. Elmore and family.

Mrs. W. C. Swinford and baby, William Forrest, have returned home from Brodhead. D. S. McKinney, of La Fayette, Tenn., spent Sunday with home-folks and Bill Mullins. Mrs. F. J. Weddell and son, Howard, returned to their home at Cleveland, O., after an extended visit with Mrs. Ed Shee. Miss Nellie McFerron, of Pine Hill, was the guest, Sunday, of her sisters, Mrs. W. J. Childress and Miss Georgia McFerron. Little Misses Beta and Viva Thompson, of London, were the guests, Tuesday, of Mrs. John S. Cooper and Mrs. W. J. Childress. Mrs. Patterson and little daughter, Mary D. of Jamestown, and Miss Oda Kash, of North Middle-town, Ky., were the guests of Mrs. C. A. Moore, Saturday. Ray Bentley and Miss Lou Rowe, who have been down with malaria, are now convalescent. Will Nichols, J. F. Cooper, Harry Orndorff and Willie Tubbs have typhoid fever. Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Sams and Dr. J. W. Sams, of East Bernstadt, were here Sunday to see Bart Sams. Dr. J. S. Cooper reports Bart Sams and Willis Sigmond as in a very critical condition. Mr. and Mrs. John Hilton, of Billie's Switch, were called here Sunday on account of the serious illness of their little grand-daughter, Willie Edith Tubbs, who is low with typhoid fever. John Jarrett and daughter, Mrs. J. F. Cooper, were called here last week from Brodhead, on account of the illness of J. F. Cooper at the Fowler Hotel June Fowler and sister, Miss Nora, are improving. Rev. J. C. Carnahan and daughter, Miss Nannie, and Jonas McKenzie, and Mrs. Ben Sutton, of Mt. Vernon, Richard Woodall and daughter, Lillie, and J. J. McCall, of Hazel Patch, attended the dedication of the new Baptist church Sunday.

The Rev. J. G. Bow, of Louisville preached two excellent sermons Sunday, dedicating the new church to the service of God. Mr. C. A. Moore and the choir with Mrs. Henry Browning as organist deserve great praise for the splendid music. The members gave a thank offering to God for the nice house He gave them, in the shape of a liberal donation for State missions.

IN THE DISTRICT COURT OF THE UNITED STATES FOR THE DISTRICT OF KENTUCKY IN BANKRUPTCY. In the matter of Pennington & York. On this 1st day of August, A. D. 1904, on considering the petition of the aforesaid bankrupt for discharge, filed on the 9th day of March A. D. 1904, it is ordered by the court that a hearing be had upon the same on the 23rd day of August A. D. 1904, before said Court at Covington in said district at 10 o'clock in the forenoon, or as near thereto as practicable, and that notice thereof be published one time in the MT. VERNON SIGNAL, a newspaper published in said District, and that all known creditors and other persons in interest may appear at said time and place and show cause, if any they have, why the prayer of said petitioner should not be granted.

WITNESS the Honorable A. M. J. Cochran, Judge of said Court, and the seal thereof at London in said district, on the 1st day of August A. D. 1904. JAS. C. FENHILL, Clerk. By W. W. CLARK, D. C.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS. A few corrections to answers in E. C. as given by an esteemed and worthy correspondent. 1st. Should read, no FEWER than 20. 3rd. Particles formed for "Is" are "Being, Having been a d Been" - a kind of catch question. Yes, a typographical error in No. 4. Weights are again 172, 158, 145 - 6525. One might want to be notified in order to reduce the product to the proper denomination. I will answer one of Prof. Report's questions if he will answer the other.

How many questions more? Ist. Many sounds have the vowels e, a, and d. 2nd. Who were "The Twelve Casars," where did they die they live, and why called Casars? 3rd. Is Prof. S. H. GREATEST DAM IN THE WORLD. When the government determined to expend $3,000,000 on the construction of the Salt river dam, sixty miles north of Salt Lake City, Utah, it took the first step in the creation of the greatest artificial lake on earth. The Salt river dam will be 270 feet high, attaining the greatest height of any reservoir in the world, and it will store 2,478,000 acre-feet of water, backing it into the mountain canyon for miles. It is to be the greatest irrigation project ever developed in this country. It means an abundant water supply in an immense district which has been in process of retrogression for thirty years. It means the addition of millions upon millions to the wealth of the territory, and probably means the solution of the problem of irrigation in the West. For it is generally agreed that upon the success of this measure will depend the building of many other great irrigation works west of the Rockies. - J. O. Dunbar, in Sunset Magazine, for August.

IN THE DISTRICT COURT OF THE UNITED STATES FOR THE DISTRICT OF KENTUCKY IN BANKRUPTCY. In the matter of Pennington & York. On this 1st day of August, A. D. 1904, on considering the petition of the aforesaid bankrupt for discharge, filed on the 9th day of March A. D. 1904, it is ordered by the court that a hearing be had upon the same on the 23rd day of August A. D. 1904, before said Court at Covington in said district at 10 o'clock in the forenoon, or as near thereto as practicable, and that notice thereof be published one time in the MT. VERNON SIGNAL, a newspaper published in said District, and that all known creditors and other persons in interest may appear at said time and place and show cause, if any they have, why the prayer of said petitioner should not be granted.

WITNESS the Honorable A. M. J. Cochran, Judge of said Court, and the seal thereof at London in said district, on the 1st day of August A. D. 1904. JAS. C. FENHILL, Clerk. By W. W. CLARK, D. C.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS. A few corrections to answers in E. C. as given by an esteemed and worthy correspondent. 1st. Should read, no FEWER than 20. 3rd. Particles formed for "Is" are "Being, Having been a d Been" - a kind of catch question. Yes, a typographical error in No. 4. Weights are again 172, 158, 145 - 6525. One might want to be notified in order to reduce the product to the proper denomination. I will answer one of Prof. Report's questions if he will answer the other.

How many questions more? Ist. Many sounds have the vowels e, a, and d. 2nd. Who were "The Twelve Casars," where did they die they live, and why called Casars? 3rd. Is Prof. S. H. # $50,000.00 Cash Given Away to Users of LION COFFEE

We are going to be more liberal than ever in 1904 to users of Lion Coffee. Not only will the Lion-Heads, cut from the packages, be good, as heretofore, for the valuable premiums we have always given our customers, but the same Lion-Heads will entitle you to estimates in our $50,000.00 Grand Prize Contest, which will make some of our patrons rich and wampy. You can send in as many estimates as desired. There will be

In Addition to the Regular Free Premiums

TWO GREAT CONTESTS

The first contest will be on the July 4th attendance at the St. Louis World's Fair; the second relates to Total Vote For President to be cast Nov. 8, 1904. $20,000.00 will be distributed in each of these contests, making $40,000.00 on the two ends, to make it more interesting. In addition to this amount, we will give a Grand First Prize of $5,000.00

Five Lion-Heads cut from Lion Coffee Packages and a cent stamp entitle you (in addition to the regular free premiums) to one vote in either contest:

Printed blanks to vote on found in every Lion Coffee Package. The cent stamp covers the expense of our acknowledgment to you that your estimate is recorded.

WORLD'S FAIR CONTEST

What will be the total July 4th attendance at the St. Louis World's Fair at Chicago, July 4, 1904, the attendance was 20,771. The contest is to be held at the Woolson Coffee Co. and will give five cents for the nearest correct estimate, second prize for the next nearest, and so on.

PRESIDENTIAL VOTE CONTEST

What will be the total Presidential vote for all candidates combined at the election November 8, 1904? The contest is to be held at the Woolson Coffee Co. and will give five cents for the nearest correct estimate, second prize for the next nearest, and so on.

500 PASSENGER WENT DOWN IN SIGHT OF THOUSANDS BOAT SINKS AND NO ONE OFFERS AID. WORLD'S FAIR TOURISTS HAVE THRILLING EXPERIENCE.

The spectacle of half a thousand men, women and children voluntarily boarding a boat they know is going to sink strikes as sufficiently novel to chronicle in these columns. It happened on the Pike and in front of one of the mammoth structures on that highway in the lobby of this building known as "Under and Over the Sea" Contest, a miniature harbor of real water. The exact depth of this little ocean we can not say positively, but we can testify to what we saw with our own eyes on a recent visit to the World's Fair. In plain view of strollers on the Pike may be seen in this miniature harbor a submarine boat moored to a dock with its hatchway open and passengers going aboard. The writer counted no less than 500 reckless human beings seeking the sensations to be found in submarine navigation. When they were a bumper to Paris was commenced. On reaching a certain great depth of the water, indicated by one of the ship's instruments of measurement, the propellers were set in motion by a slight pressure of the electric button (the entire motor force employed in the queer craft used in the contest "Under and Over the Sea" is electrical). The huge steel hull trembled, the great mighty engine throbbled, the powerful propellers churned the water into a foaming fury and the boat dived forward through the transparent watery mass. Enormous search lights illuminated the ship's course several hundred yards and strange indeed was the spectacle seen through the plate glass windows. Sea life of all descriptions, fish of every size, form and shape, scrambling, scurrying, darting about, frightened in its unusual activity at the sudden advent of this strange monster in their midst. Onward we rush the ever changing temperatures of our course revealing different characters of sea life. Even the Ocean's bed presenting an ever changing character. First, sea moss, plants, trees; fungi, then shell and rock caverns, all harboring some form of sea life. Flowers of a thousand colors, coral reefs, etc. Here and there the remains of an unfortunate wrecked vessel, the silent toms of the unknown lost. At a greater depth in the ocean sea mammals, unicorn of the deep and narwhals are encountered. Even a school of graceful mermaids are seen at play, and finally after a short journey up the River Seine we ascend to the surface of the river and disembark at our Paris landing dock. Passing through several Parisian thoroughfares to the base of Eiffel Tower, ascending to its summit in a large elevator, we board the great bird-like craft restlessly juggling at its moorings, anxiously for its flight along the milky way and all aboard, the ship cast adrift and our aerial journey was commenced. A fine birds eye view of Paris afforded from this vantage point, rapidly does the French metropolis recede in the distance as with the speed of light we glide above green fields and valleys, the smaller cities of Switzerland and her snow-capped Alps, flying above Berlin over the Straits of Dover to London and then turning a corner, our course carries us over the great Atlantic. Night comes on, rain drops fall about us, lightning flashes, muttering of distant thunder are heard. The pain increases the heavens are illuminated, the thunder storm is descending, pandemonium reigns. Our great bird like craft weathers the storm and passing over the city of New York a hurried visit, and then a glimpse of the Capitol Building as we pass above Washington, when our course is shaped westward flying far above the earth, Indiana is seen in the grasp of a cyclone. Speeding onward the Mississippi River appears in the distance and far below, crossing this stream at Bads Bridge over the city of St. Louis, hovering above the Expo station, the movement of the great wings decreasing, the ship carefully settles down on top of the "Under and Over the Sea" Building the landing dock of the Airship on the Pike.

visiting the Court of Mines, the infernal Judge, who dispenses justice to the endless line of wicked spirits. Further in your progress partaking of the beautiful visions of the happy Faunus under Medon's influence, witnessing the continual glare of the fortune mills in the Frozen Third Circle; crossing Stygian Lake into the city of Dis, or eternal Fire, viewing all about you various punishments of abandoned souls ever and anon started by the unexplainable appearance and disappearance of some frightened spirit in your midst, and finally arriving at the very center of the globe, the Throne Room and awful presence of his Satanic Majesty. A ring with his courtiers, skeletons and subduing devils, a chilly sensation creep over you. Simultaneously the bewildering series are aware of a changing atmosphere and an instant later a marvelous transformation is fully realized. The parched and barren rocks and caverns of inferno have vanished! A delightful atmosphere of perfume fuses the brain, instead, delicious odors pervade air, rare and beautiful foliage, confronts the vision, the beautiful Grove of Daphne surrounds you, and Daphne herself beckons you onward and upward through the gates of Paradise. Gorgeous and beautiful visions effects tell the history of the "Three Wise Men of the Desert," the stily discerned and far-distant "Star of Bethlehem," ever increasing in brilliancy and the final culmination the bursting of Celestial Dawn, intensified by the soft strains of sweet songs, the vision of celestial ladies in graceful evolutions, make up a production transcendent glories and send you back to earth to again take up its work with ever pleasant, though conflicting memories of your experience "HEREAFTER".

French LICK and WEST BADEN Springs

In the highlands of Indiana—a two hours ride from Louisville there flow wonderful healing waters, that you spend hundreds of dollars to enjoy if they were in Europe. A recent visitor from Philadelphia, who formerly went to Carlsbad every year, said: "I do not see why anyone goes to Europe for medicinal waters. The water is as beneficial, and the scenery and surroundings so beautiful, the air and the opportunities for recreation are better; the hotels and all accommodations are much finer at French Lick-West Baden Springs"—and this gentleman is a native of Switzerland. The splendid woods, invigorating air of these highlands where one can enjoy rambling in the depths of the forest, or rides and drives among the numerous bridle paths and roadways, afford pleasure for those who desire rest and quiet; while at the splendid and exhilarating casinos one can have all the entertainment and social pleasures of the most fashionable watering place.
