

VOTE OF SATURDAY'S PRIMARY.

Table with columns for Candidates, Names, and Vote counts for various offices including County Attorney, County Clerk, Superintendent Schools, and Magistrates.

In the race for sheriff, there was no official count of the vote as both candidates agreed that upon the face of the returns it was a tie vote, and owing to the irregularities in many precincts, our her candidate was willing to stand a contest, so it was agreed to draw straws for who should be sheriff, the unlucky candidate to be a deputy, which resulted in R. L. McFerron's nomination, with G. S. Griffin as deputy.

LEVEL GREEN

Possum Holler will be no more only in history. The whites drove the Indian from his camp fire, hunting ground and wigwam, sup- planted his fiery war whoop with the mild "gee, haw back" of civil- ization, the war dance and corn- songs gave room to the melody of our G. G. mothers, and the old cotton took the place of their war- dance. The Indians "moved West"—the few who lived over- grew West—and our grand-parents grew up and prospered like moosey- calves of the stall. Another gen- eration came on and prospered— O, this was a country of rich soil, sugar tree and pecan vine an hun- dred years ago—and they nearly all raised large crops of children. There was Levi Deoney, 8 boys and 4 girls; Isaac Snodgrass, 13 boys and 3 girls; Robt Swinney, 9 boys and 2 girls; Jesse Reynolds, 6 boys and 6 girls; grandpa John Brown, 7 boys and 4 girls; David Owens, 13 boys and 1 girl, and there were the DeBords, the Tay- lors and others with proportionally large families and nearly every one attained manhood, and not an "M. D." ever came among them, but the "old man" and "old woman" have had doctors of medicine in- stead of grass and wheat. Well, this passed on and now the mem- ory is kept in the minds of the old- est of the old and the young of the young. It is a good thing to have some- thing to remember and to be proud of. It is a good thing to have some- thing to be proud of. It is a good thing to have some- thing to be proud of.

yes Bryan, Folk and a host of oth- ers. Sorrow has always followed those who wander off after false gods and evil will. Look now for Moses and Aaron. Jesse Wallen, his brother Willie, and aunt Mira Sutton have gone Southwest in search of health. The rest of the Wallen family will soon follow. J. J. Towery is still in poor health, but contemplates a Southwestern trip as soon as he is able to stand it. R. L. Brown, of Somerset, visited home-likes Sun- day. He reports favorably in his- line of business—the law. Corn is nearly all cribbed and is fully 3/4 of a full crop.—Hogs have fattened, and a few more have slaughtered. Our people are kill- ing more bees this fall than usual—cheap cattle, Roosevelt pro- sperity of course.—Wheat is coming up slowly and irregularly. My guess as to outcome of the primary was not so far after all. I voted to elect him, but didn't, yet being of a religious turn of mind, I can now rejoice with those that rejoice, and weep with those that weep. Of course some "mighty good men" were beaten and will have to wait, for we have been waiting for nearly a quarter of a century and it now seems that we will continue to wait, and wait indefinitely; but we have one hope. "All things happen to him that waits." Come over you who were dejected and take up your quarters with us. We should think, talk and act more religion and less of politics, remembering that "but one thing is necessary and Mary hath chosen that better part."

Very truly, BUCK VASNON.

HERB W. EDWARDS IMPRISONED

Herb W. Edwards, of Des Moines, Iowa, got a fall on an icy walk at to- night, spraining his wrist and bruising his knee. "The next day," he writes, "they were so seri- ous and stiff I was afraid I would have to stay in bed, but I rubbed them with Chamberlain's Pain Balm and after a few applications all sore- ness had disappeared. I feel that this bottle of Pain Balm saved me several days' time," he says, "in the suffering of the limb. This liniment is on sale at the drugstore of Chas. C. Davis."

The bronze statue of Frederick the Great, presented to the American people by Emperor William, was unveiled in Washington by Baroness Speck von Sternburg, wife of the German Ambassador. The ceremonies were marked by great military and official display. President Roosevelt accepted the gift.

NOT A SICK DAY SINCE.

"I was taken severely sick with kidney trouble. I tried all sorts of medicines, none of which relieved me. One day I saw an ad. of your Electric Bitters and determined to try that. After taking a few doses I felt relieved, and soon thereafter was entirely cured, and have not seen a sick day since. Neighbors of mine have been cured of rheu- matism, neuralgia, liver and kid- ney troubles and general debility." This is what B. F. Bass, of Fremont, N. C., writes. Only 50c. per bottle, all druggists.

R. L. McFERRON

Republican nominee for sheriff of Rockcastle. Upon the face of the returns it seems that it was a tie vote (although there was no official count of the vote) between Mr. McFerron and Mr. Griffin and neither one being willing to stand a contest as irregularities existed in almost every precinct in the county, a compromise was effected, which resulted in Mr. McFerron's nomination, with Mr. Griffin as one of his deputies.

G. S. GRIFFIN

Who will be one of the deputies under McFerron.

Formal announcement was made in Louisville men will leave in a few days to make a formal request of Andrew Carnegie that be in- crease his donation for a free pub- lic library from $250,000 to $500,000.

DOESN'T RESPECT OLD AGE

It's shameful when youth fails to show proper respect for old age, but just the contrary in the case of Dr. King's New Life Pills. They cure of maladies no matter how se- vere and irrespective of old age. Dyspepsia, jaundice, fever, consti- pation, all yield to this perfect pill- dose. 25-cts. at all druggists.

A RUNAWAY BICYCLE

Terminated with an ugly cut on the leg of J. B. Ornor, Franklin Grove, Ill. He developed a stub- born ulcer, yielding to doctors and remedies for four years. Then Bucklen's Arnica Salve cured. It's just as good for burns, scalds, skin eruptions and piles. 25-cts. at all druggists.

QUAIL

Several Bluegrass men are in neighborhood hunting this week. Robert Long and family will leave for Indiana Friday to locate. Dry weather still prevails and people are having a time to get water.

Wilson Brown and a daughter of John DeJany were married on the 27th inst. Dr. W. E. Smith and wife, of Walnut Grove, left last week for T. to locate.

Mrs. Kate Laws and son, Eugene, has returned from Indiana. They will remain in Kentucky. Susie, daughter of John Kiddle, of Walnut Grove, is reported very sick with erysipelas of the face.

W. R. Cress and family left Monday for Monte, Co., to live. People will leave and few come. Eugene Laws bought of Robert Long a yearling colt for $50, and W. G. Nicely a mare for $11.

The primary was quite lively in this section Saturday. Must have been a big somewhere in the count- y. Willie Proctor and Mr. Gilbert of Lexington, spent last week in this part hunting and visiting Mr. Proctor's family.

J. H. Lynn, of Stanford, bought of Henry Brown 3 yearling steers at 3 cts.; of A. G. and J. M. Craig 5 8 lb. steers at 2 1/2 cts.

A little child of Frank Stephens died Monday night, of brain fever, and was buried in the Lawrence- burying ground Tuesday evening.

At the home of Ed. Martin Owens on Thursday, November 17, 1904, Mr. Jas. Sutton, youngest son of H. G. Sutton, dec'd., and Miss Susan Pector, youngest daughter of Tart Proctor, were married by said Ed. Owens. After which they went to Mr. Sutton's and together with relatives and friends they partook of an ex- cellent dinner. Here's to the young couple good wishes and hope for many happy days together.

THE EXACT THING REQUIRED FOR CONSTIPATION.

"As a certain purgative and stomach purifier Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets seem to be the exact thing required, strong enough for the most robust, yet mild enough and safe for children and without that terrible griping so common to most purgatives," says R. S. Webster & Co., Utora, Ontario, Canada. For sale by Chas. C. Davis, the druggist.

The Board of Control of the Knights of Pythias of Kentucky accepted the Gibson farm at Lex- ington as the site for the Widows and Orphans' Home. Thirty thousand dollars was placed in a Lexington bank to pay for the land as soon as the deed is acknowledged.

ONE of the most brilliant nights of Kentucky was extinguished on last Saturday night, when Col. W. C. P. Breckinridge, the orator, statesman and editor, passed into the great beyond. But few could claim the distinction of Col. Breckinridge in as many different ways as his. His oratory and unsurpassed ability as a debater, upon the floor of Congress won for him a national reputation. The articles from his pen called for the admiration of the best literary geniuses of a country as a statesman and a leader without peerless. Col. Breckinridge was born Aug. 26, 1837, near Bowling Green, Ky., and was a son of Dr. R. J. Breckinridge. He came to Kentucky while yet a young man and entered Centre College, being a member of the famous class of 1855. In this class were associated with Col. Breckinridge, as fellow students, United States Senators J. C. Blackburn, James B. McCreary, former Vice President Aquila E. Stevenson, Boyd W. Chester, former Minister to Switzerland, T. T. Critter, former Governor of Missouri and many others, whose names are written in the archives of the country.

The fifty-ninth session of Congress will commence December 5th, with one hundred republican majority. I feel for the democratic members very much like Sam McClure's religion, "bright and gloomy." But they will draw their salary and probably be able to stir up a little confusion now and then that will be as much as any of them will do.

ABSTRACT Clarence H. Wood, a candidate for Mayor of Richmond and here is hoping that he will win with hands down. If the newspaper fraternity of Kentucky could only be allowed a vote, there is no question but that his election would be unanimous.

THE Mountain Democrat, John Peas' paper, has just rounded out its 4th year. John is a hard worker and his many friends are glad to know that he is meeting with such splendid success.

THE primary election being over, there is great danger of the water famine striking Rockcastle if it doesn't rain pretty soon.

A model of the famous Rocket the first engine to draw a passenger train, stands in the Transportation Building of the St. Louis Exposition, and Edwin Eastwile, the man who made it famous, is on the morning of the 23rd, when the first passenger train in the world left Manchester for Liverpool, lives in an humble cottage in East Des Moines, and when he thinks of his inability to visit the Exposition and see the Rocket he would tears come into his eyes and course down his cheeks.

"I'd give anything I possess just to see and handle it again," the aged man said recently, as he told the story of that memorable trip. "But I'm old now and feeble. I'm not the lad I was when George Stephenson gave me a word of cheer and I climbed into the Rocket and we started on our trip."

Edwin Eastwile was a lad of 16 when the trip was made. He was recommended to Stephenson by the Duke of Bridgewater, whose steam engine he had built. He was the first mechanic in his shop.

It was in September, 1825, that the Rocket made its trip. Stephen had triumphed over many difficulties, and the test was to be made. He had completed his plans, obtained a charter for the railroad between Liverpool and Manchester and laid his track. Stephenson had one strong friend, the Duke of Newcastle. When he heard that Stephenson was to appear before committee the Duke said he would be careful of his answers lest the committee refuse the charter.

"George heeded well the instructions of the Duke," said Mr. Eastwile. "The committee asked him all sorts of questions, but the answers were always cautious and hardheaded. In particular they tried to find out what the capacity of the train was to be in the way of speed and the handling of freight. 'It will travel fast enough and pull freight enough,' answered Stephenson, 'to pay the interest on the money invested.'"

"That was all they got out of him, but the charter was granted. Work was begun on the road the next day. There were no miles there were a bog, and gravel and dig had to be hauled in, so that it was four years before the rails could be laid."

"When the track was completed and Stephenson was ready to enter the competition he was chosen a freeman. He applied to the Duke of Bridgewater and was sent by the latter to his machine shops. Here Stephenson repeated his request to the foreman of the shop. The latter replied:

"I haven't a man to send, but that lad will see you, purpose if you care to take him and get an order from the steward."

The order from the steward was not long in coming, and Edwin Eastwile then a machinist's apprentice, went on the Rocket. Stephenson took Eastwile with him the following Sunday to let him try his hand at the throttle. They ran the engine down to the bog, a distance of 15 miles, and return. Stephenson was more than pleased. The next day was the day for the competition. Eastwile, speaking of the trip, said:

"I don't remember much about the weather. All the days in England are pretty much the same, and along the sea-coast there is always more or less of a fog. The 23 miles were what might be called level country. Where the bog had been filled in, of course, was level. It was slightly down hill between Manchester and Liverpool. The country was not rough."

"I don't remember the time we made on the trip, but it didn't mean much, as the trip was marred by a fatal accident. We were about half way down when a stop was made. The Duke of Wellington was talking to Mr. Huskisson, and they were standing on the second track. Suddenly a construction engine came around the corner and tore down on them. The Duke of Wellington jumped and escaped safely, but Mr. Huskisson was struck down and the wheels passed over his legs about the knees. He was taken to Liverpool, where he lived about 10 hours.

"Strange as it may seem, this accident did not prejudice the people against the railroad. They understood that it was an accident and did not blame the road."

"The Rocket pulled on that first five coaches. They were small affairs and looked much like stage coaches on wheels. Each coach contained three seats, each accommodating three people, making room to a coach. People rode on the tops, however, and hung on the sides of the coaches, so that in all 75 persons rode that day. Thousands of persons lined up along the railroad track on both sides to witness the strange performance.

After operating the Rocket 3 months young Eastwile found himself almost as nervous wreck as refused to serve any longer. "When I was 18—that was in 1837—I left England and came to this country. Fifty years ago I came West and built a lumber house on this very spot.—Des Moines or New York Herald.

MOTHERS PRAISE IT.

Mother's everywhere praise Our Little Girl Cough Cure for the suffering it has relieved and the lives of their little ones it has saved. A certain cure for coughs, croup and whooping cough. A. L. Spafford, Postmaster of Chester, Mich., says: "Our little girl was unconscious from strangulation during a sudden and terrible attack of cough. Our Little Girl Cough Cure quickly relieved and cured her and I cannot praise it too highly." Our Little Girl Cough Cure relieves coughs, makes breathing easy, cuts on phlegm, draws out inflammation, removes every cause of a cough and strain on lungs. Sold by Mt. Vernon Drug Co.

LAND, STOCK AND CROP

A farmer in Deerfield, Pa., has raised 27,000 bushels of white potatoes on an 80-acre farm. Value $20,000. He used 100 tons of fertilizer and half a ton of Paris green and half a ton of potash. The total cost of the crop was $7,000 and the profit was $13,000.

The following method is generally employed in killing turkeys: The bird's feet together and hang it on a pole; then cut the three or four dried feet. Dry pick them, leaving head and wings out. After picking, dip in hot water, and then it is cold. This will give the skin a fresher look.

Some of the Illinois corn shown at the World's Fair has been sold to a South American farmer for $100 an ear. He bought ten ears, selecting the finest from the entire exhibit. This is pedigreed corn of the finest quality ever raised in this country and was produced by a young farmer near Decatur.

Tuesday night Robert T. Marshall sold his export cattle to Jones and Sims Well for 50 cents, to be weighed up from the 1st to 10th of Dec. There are 163 head in the lot, a large per cent. of them black polled Angus, and Mr. Well says they are among the best in the State and probably the best bunch of the size to be found.—Flemingsburg Times-Democrat.

The demand for mules in Columbia, Tenn., last week was great, with dozens of southern buyers on the streets, so probably 100 or five hundred changed hands. Any sound mule in fair condition had no trouble in changing owners; in fact, was snapped up, buyers standing far out in the streets to get first choice. Sales at $15 to $20 were common, while as high as $200 was paid. One dealer stated that he had refused $215 for an extra good male he did not care to sell and could have secured $225.—Farmers Home Journal.

Jack Stokes and James Winstead, who tempted to start a rough house on the day of the primary election, were brought before Judge Adams Tuesday for trial. Stokes pled guilty to drunkenness and was fined $5 and cost. Winstead's trial for pulling and discharging his pistol on the streets is set for Monday.

The contest for the post-office at Broadhead is warming up pretty lively. Capt. Evans, the present post-master, and by the way he will say is one of the best in the county is asking to be retained, while Robert Hicks, a son of Lark in Hicks, is making a strong fight and is getting considerable encouragement.

Buge Mullins has left Durango, Colorado, and gone to Arica, N. M. He writes home that the more Southern climate is better suited to his disease, and that he has improved every day since he has been in New Mexico, being almost rid of chills. He and his brother Walter, are at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Williams, former Rockcastleans, to whom he attributes the credit for what improvement he has made in health since he left the Miller Hotel, not having recovered sufficiently to be taken to his home.

Call at the SIGNAL office for blank deeds.

Eat hogs are being delivered here at 5 cents per pound.

NOTICE.—To the tax payers, want to say that the 6 per cent penalty will go on December 1st, and in every case it will be collected. I wish to also state that after December 1st, my deputies will be instructed to make levies in every instance where taxes are not paid. This is plain enough for everybody to understand.

H. L. TATE, S. R. C.

A Thanksgiving story written by Miss Bessie Poynter, 15 was handed us yesterday but owing to the length of it, was too late for publication. It is a very creditable article and shows great talent for the authoress. Miss Poynter writes poetry as well as prose, having won the Courier-Journal prize two years ago for the best Christmas poem, the composer to be under 15 years.

At a meeting of the Executive Committee of the Kentucky State Association at Louisville last Saturday it was decided to hold a mid-winter meeting of the association at Louisville the first week in January. The business meeting will be followed by a trip to Florida, lasting ten days. The committee is also ascertaining what rate can be secured to Cuba, and if satisfactory, the trip will be extended to that point.

Mrs. J. C. Childress, of Orlando, the mother of Dr. W. J. Childress, of Livingston, died Sunday morning of consumption, after an illness of many months. Mrs. Childress was one of those noble Christian characters, whose good influence will be greatly missed both in the home and community. Funeral services were held Monday, conducted by the Rev. William Williams, after which the remains were laid to rest in the family burying ground.

One of the tobacco manufacturers offers as a premium, a calendar clock for 600 tags taken from their plugs by users of their brand of tobacco. Dick Welsh is working hard to get the clock by Christmas time. He has manufactured 574 plugs and is working his chewing machine all day and far into the night. If he finds it necessary he will cut off sleep and put in full time till Christmas and "chew" up tobacco to enable him to get the price clock.

Commissioner's Sale.

ROCKCASTLE CIRCUIT COURT. W. P. Riddell, Clk. Plff. vs. James Riddell, Def. In Equity. By virtue of a Judgment and Order of sale of the Rockcastle Circuit Court rendered at its May term, 1904, in the above styled case, I will proceed to offer for sale on credit of six months, at the front door of the Court house in Mt. Vernon, Ky., on Monday Nov. 28, 1904, between the hours of 1 and 2 o'clock p. m., at public auction to the highest bidder, the following described real estate located in Rockcastle county, Kentucky and on the waters of Roundstone creek, and bounded by the Conway lands, the lands formerly owned by Joe McClary, John Aizoo and Robt. Lear, and by the same land ceded to Julia A. Aizoo, late Julia A. Lear, by Lateral Martin and Carroll Martin and their heirs, which deed is of record in deed book K, page 104, in the Rockcastle County Court Clerk's office and to which reference is here made and contains a survey across more or less.

The purchaser will be required to give bond with approved surety payable to myself for the purchase money, and to have the force and effect of an execution and to bear 8 per cent. from date of sale till paid. Bidders will be required to comply with these conditions.
