

FULL MAGISTRATE

We are pleased to announce that C. A. HATT has been appointed as a candidate for Magistrate in the Fifth ward...

Mrs. Jefferson Davis, writing to the Savannah Press, says of Gen. Miles for his brutal treatment of her husband:

Whitely I have no recollection of having written to Gen. Miles, the letter which he quotes not only fails to support his own statement...

POLITICS AND POLITICIANS

Gov. Hanley announced that he would appoint to office only total abstainers.

President Roosevelt will be the guest of the city of Louisville on March 23, arriving at 7 o'clock in the morning and leaving at 7 in the evening.

H. M. Catcliff, of Russellville, who was appointed to succeed J. M. Richardson, of Glasgow, as State Prison Commissioner, presented his resignation and sat with the body.

President Roosevelt Tuesday sent to the Senate the nomination of the negro, Charles W. Anderson, to be Collector of Internal Revenue for the Second District of New York.

George B. Ketchum Tuesday took the oath of office as Postmaster General. Upon assuming the office he announced that in a few days as soon as the Senate had passed some minor details, he will retire from the chairmanship of the Republican National Committee.

Congress has allowed Hunter, Edwards and White each two thousand dollars for election purposes in the seventh district.

The X-ray has been used to demonstrate that a crook in a prize bill pupa tail had been the result of nature and not of tampering at the judges' belief.

It was which became one huge sign board for the advertisement of milk and patent medicines, as soon as the American invasion took place...

Secretary of the Treasury Shaw will retire from Cabinet Feb. 1906.

SHOES AT COST.

We have a few dozen Ladies, Gents and Children's Shoes which will be sold at Cost—Bargains. Come and examine stock.

A. C. HIATT, HIATT, KENTUCKY.

OLD HICKORY CHIPS.

The State of Illinois has hit upon one way of solving the divorce question. It proposes to prohibit the payment of alimony.

Was the verdict in favor of Judge Swayne made in justice or in fear that widows in certain glass houses occupied by Senators might get the letter law revised.

When the President was receiving the plaudits of some two hundred thousand people gathered in Washington Saturday was he really sighing for the "simple life"?

The Senate does not believe that Judge Swayne was guilty, but that he has amended his fee bill so as to remove any temptation that might assail him.

What the house take advantage of the precedent established by the Senate that it vote itself mileage without consulting the upper house or the president?

The President's inaugural address made it pretty clear that we want a big navy, not "to bully smaller powers," as the House says, but to keep from being bullied by larger powers.

General Stossel, the repays an announce, was not met by any banks on his return to St. Petersburg. Probably the more important part to the General is that he was not met by any banks.

Senator Keam's swan song in the Senate against Mormonism recalls Byron's words: "There's said swans sing before they die."

This House presented Speaker Cannon with a large silver key, to mark the close of the session. Joe accepted it, but he doubtless would have preferred a tin dipper or a guard.

A recent consular report states that the novel and soap have penetrated into China. If all the laundrymen have not left the mother country to come to the great things in the New York market, they will pass in the Celestial Empire.

Governor Foley makes a long in the inaugural parade and heard in every town that he came with the anemity photographers along the way. He well knows there is more than one way of producing caricatures.

Has the country before had a Presidential candidate, welcome with equal enthusiasm a crowd of club boys and a Harvard College club?

Roosevelt may be a Republican, but he is the most Democratic President we have ever had.

The X-ray has been used to demonstrate that a crook in a prize bill pupa tail had been the result of nature and not of tampering at the judges' belief.

Pennsylvania milliamen preserved the unentire records they have held for the past three or four inaugurations.

It has a good school, and is well situated for a farm. It is well fenced, and is well watered. It has a good school, and is well situated for a farm. It is well fenced, and is well watered.

The inauguration of Vice President Fairbanks was made in the Senate Chamber shortly after noon and was of two minutes' duration. Mr. Fairbanks delivered a very short address, centered upon the discharge of his duties, the new Senate being immediately organized.

President Roosevelt took the oath of office at the east front of the Capitol in the presence of a vast crowd. The oath was administered by Chief Justice Fuller. There was practically no demonstration at his close and the President departed at once for his temporary residence, the delivery of which occupied only a few minutes.

The President made a running comment to those around him as the parade passed the reviewing stand. It was in characteristic vein. "When the band played 'Garry Owen' he pronounced it a 'bully fighting tune.' When the Philippines passed he facetiously remarked: 'The wretched serfs seem happy in their chains.' 'Ah, there's Custer's old bold regiment, the finest in the service,' he cried, as the Seventh Cavalry swept by. A 'bunch' of cowboys proved to be the President's personal friends and shouted greetings to him as they rode past. A band that played 'There'll be a Hot Time' set him swaying in his seat.

INCREDIBLE BRUTALITY.

It would have been incredible brutality if Chas. Leinberger, of Syracuse N. Y., had not done the best he could for his suffering son. "My boy," he says, "sent a fearful gasp over my eye, so I applied Bucklen's Arnica Salve, which quickly healed it and saved his eye." Cook's Compound is the most elaborate ever seen at the National Capitol.
