PERSONAL

C. C. Williams was in Corbin Sunday.
Atty. J. W. Brown went to Louisville Tuesday.
S. B. Ramsey, the butcher, is able to be out again.

The eighteen-month-old child of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Ferguson died this morning at 5:30 o'clock.

C. Miller, of Level Green, the handle man, was the lucky person in the lucky drawing at Krueger & Son's.

Of the twenty representatives appointed to attend the State Fair, only one responded, Mr. Shivel, of Broadhead.

We failed to mention in our list of court-fines in last issue the appointment of G. T. Johnson W. G. Nixey and F. L. Thompson as jury commissioners.

READY MADE WAISTS—We have just received an elegant line of ladies' ready made shirt waists. The ladies are cordially invited to call and see them.

CLUBBING OFFER—Until further notice we will furnish the Signal and Weekly Courier Journal for $1.50 a week, or the Signal and Louisville Herald (Daily) for $2.00. Cash must accompany all orders under this arrangement.

W. J. Sparks bought of Cal Mullins a thirty acre tract of land between Shinks and Livingston, which contains cement gravel, mostly without end. The time is not far distant when we will hear from Mr. Sparks on the cement proposition, which will be a great enterprise when started.

Our good friend E. Bullock, better known as "Tub," says he is afflicted with rheumatism, or some other similar affliction, as he has grown about 2 1/2 inches in height in the last two years. This is given as a fact and not as a joke, which is a very unusual occurrence for a man of his age.

By the death of L. L. Jarrett, the office of Jailor of this county becomes vacant. We understand that some of Mr. Jarrett's family, who will in all probability be the present deputy, O. V. Jarrett, will be appointed to fill the office until the next election, when a Jailor will have to be elected.

Under the Judicial bill passed a few days ago, taking Whitley county from this district, we will have no more Feb. or Sep. terms and the next court will be held May term. The bill goes into effect July 1. The courts then will come in March three weeks, June four weeks and December two weeks.

Bob Adams, of Leslie county, who was given a life sentence for that county charged with murder and has been in the Mt. Vernon jail several months awaiting the decision of the Court of Appeals, on the appeal taken in his case, has been taken to London by Sheriff Galt. W. Vander of Laurel, Wednesday.

Rev. Augustus S. Jones, is conducting a State Seminary at the Baptist Church here. Large crowds are in attendance and much interest manifested. Rev. A. H. Wright is a pleasant and forceful speaker, and has held meetings in many other counties of the state, always meeting with splendid success in the winning of souls to Christ.

Through trains from Knoxville, Tenn., to St. Louis by way of Louisville will be put into service by the L. H. and St. L. and N. railroads. This does not mean that additional trains will be put on at this time, but simply the coaches which leave Knoxville on No. 24, the early morning train, will go into St. Louis and likewise the coaches, which leaves St. Louis will go through to Knoxville, which does away with any change or transfer at Louisville. We trust that this change will result in an additional train, which was so badly needed.

The Rockcastle Home Telephone Company has purchased the interests of the Basin Company in this county and took charge of the exchanges, lines etc. yesterday March 5th. Among the improvements proposed to be made during the year is a new through wire from Livingston to connect with Lexington, Louisville etc. via Crab Orchard and Lancaster. Other county lines will be built in. Rockcastle and connections will be improved to London and South East Kentucky. Work on a new through line from Somerset to Mt. Vernon, etc. is expected to begin in the middle of spring. This will give good service to South Central Kentucky. James Maret is the general manager of the new company.

A. F. Albright, Broadhead, keeps through bred White and Partridge Wyandotte and Barred Plymouth Rock chickens. He is offering eggs for hatching at 75c a setting of 12 eggs for orders received in February and March. Write him for circular.

J. C. Hayes of Crab Orchard, Thayer sold his farm of 60 acres to Mr. A. C. Muncie, a Harrison county man, consideration $2,250. Mr. Hayes says he will not buy again until he has plenty of time to look around. He will remain on the farm in Crab Orchard for the present.

Wednesday was Ash Wednesday the beginning of the Lenten season. It is called because on that day the faithful assemble at their respective churches to receive the sign of the cross made with ashes upon their foreheads by the officiating priest. As he signs each one the priest says "Remember man thou art dust, and unto dust thou shalt return."

We are under obligations to several friends who have been kind enough to report to us such happenings as they knew. This we appreciate and we trust there will be others. It is impossible, without some assistance to tell of every thing that is going on in the county and we want to thank anybody or omit any kind of interest to the readers of the Signal.

DEAD—M. J. Jarrett died at Aztec, N. M., where he has been for several months for his health. The funeral took place at Aztec, being, as we understand, his request should he die while there. Lulu, as he was always called had a host of warm friends in this county and all were glad to learn of his death. A young man with a high ambition and lofty ideas, cut off just in the bloom of young manhood. He leaves a wife and two children who will be with him at the time of his death.

FOR SALE—A farm of 125 acres located on Somerset road 2 1/2 miles West of Mt. Vernon, good house and all necessary outbuildings, orchard of 13 trees, good fence, and well watered, and plenty timber to run farm. We desire to sell with this farm all stock and farming implements there belonging, consisting of two good cows and a pair of horses, one yearling fillet, a milk cow and several hogs, etc. This property of R. Cummins and can be bought at a bargain. For further information call upon D. Cummins of F. S. Albright.

Mr. John H. Frederick, of Oak Mr. Kane, who was born and reared in this county, at the time he went west, where he investigated the titles of several tracts of land including about 500 acres in the Southern part of the county, which belonged to his father, John Frederick, and his grand father, John Mink, both of whom were testate, and Mr. Frederick says that he is the lawful heir. Some of the land in question is held by the State of Kentucky and a sheriff's deed for taxes. John Frederick (an) Nicholas Mink have been dead about fifty years. From what we have been able to learn, it seems that Mr. Frederick will more than likely retain a good portion of the land.

MATRIMONIAL—William Decker and Miss Nanette Harper were granted license Saturday.

Marriage license was issued yesterday to Clud-Hendricks, of Bowling Green, and Miss Celia Mink, of Livingston.

Mr. James Gibson, of Wilton, Ky., and Miss Martha Poter, daughter of Frank Poter, of Pine Hill, were married in the County Clerk's office yesterday. Judge L. W. Bethune officiating.

RELIGIOUS—A movement is in foot among Louisville ministers to abandon Sunday school services and substitute afternoon services. The Sunday school hours also may be changed to afternoon.

The good ladies of the Christian Church, after waiting in vain these many months for the men to do something, have taken the matter in their own hands and we feel assured that the members of the church, which has been without a preacher for over a year, will soon have a pastor. The arrangements for a Sabbath day service were about $20 made up. To the women we must always look for all good.

W. R. McClure sold to Tom McClure his wagon and team for $200. James Norton and A. H. Hamlin bought 5 good yearling mules in Pulaski county at $70.00 each.

The Wireless Beam

By G.S. Raymond

In the early morning the crowds which spent most of the night at the bulletin-board were gathering again. At no time had the bulletin board deserted. Several men had never been out of sight of the bulletin board. One of them, a shock-headed youth in a government and wearing the cap of a wireless electrician, sat on the stone curbing by the entrance to the power station, smoking a small black pipe, seemingly more occupied with meditation than observation.

Most of the men who were now gathering about the board, were coal miners on their way to the shafts. Here and there were electricians. The vastness of the power station from which they had come, was no more than suggested from where the crowd stood. The buildings being partially hid in a grove of trees.

The groups of miners and electricians were almost silent. They seemed to have exhausted comment and surmise, and to be waiting for the tangible to take place of conjecture.

On the Verge of War.
In Washington the federal news about his staff in keeping up a detailed account of the all-night session of Congress. As daylight came, the speaker wobbled, and what had been a connected, well-stated story of congressional proceedings had slumped to a series of jerky bulletins of which the last had come a half-hour before reading.

Williams said he has the floor. He is making no headway against the majority. War seems inevitable.

To the men starting for the shafts, this carried no news, when they had no news before they had gone away, a few hours earlier, to get such sleep and rest as they could.

While they stood waiting, another bulletin came.

"Congress has taken an hour's recess for breakfast. No action."

The coal miners in the crowd read this and then started for work. Soon there were left only a few scattered itself no thought of the inevitable product of incompetence urged into action by rashness.

In all this unprepared country, no one appreciated so thoroughly the pending danger as did Montross, the unfortunate commander-in-chief of the small military force.

Commander in Despair.
He had been dean of the Department of electricity in the national university, when a transferred military instructor, having, prior to this been an instructor in one of the national military schools. In appearance he was a scholastic, his figure spare and bent, his hair and eyes gray, and his face lined with care.

He was alone in his office, looking out of the window across the Potomac river. In his hands he held a photograph of a young woman, a scholastic, his figure spare and bent, his hair and eyes gray, and his face lined with care.

"You had been located," said the aide. "He is at Kiel. We got his signal followed by a code which is being transmitted."

Another aide came in. "The cipher is not exactly hidden, and can send electricgrams if you can take them."

"Where is he?" asked Montross eagerly.
"He says he is out of the path of their search and is safely posted. He must be above them."

"Can you reach him?"
"We have but he warns us not to try often. I suppose his position is being watched."

"Tell him to send me a man," answered Montross. "I'll go into the field."

A hundred yards farther up the Potomac stood a gigantic tower, the exact opposite of the one which had been turned in the memory of every operator in the secret service.

"I think it is coming," said one of the aides finally, and the general stepped over to adjust about his head the hood which shut out light from his eyes looking at the reflector.

Looking Across the Ocean.
At first this remained in black and darkness. Then came a faint glow of dim light which rippled across its face. This rippled became stronger, and a faint shape began to emerge, mystic, seemed to rise out of its depths. The clear air of the night was in their place the forms of a man's roofs and towers, which stood up in the distance, outlined against the sky and then seemed to dip farther and further down into the water.

"What does that mean?" asked the eye and the city's roofs, the labor growing less and less distinct. The light faded, and the shape disappeared. The clouds it crossed the entire reflector, and light followed almost as an anti-gain feeling, but the white light of the sun, and the white peaks, which came near and the white light stood out just distinctly and the light faded again.

Aerial Targeted Boats.
Montross almost felt his breath as he saw the eyes over the water for ten minutes he studied. Then he drew the hood from his head, and looked out. "A hundred," he should say, he remarked at last. "Every one ready, in ten or four hours from the time these boats are in contact with the ships."

"I have a concentration—I want you to lock at it—I thought," he began excitedly, but ended brokenly in the next breath. "I don't want you to lock at it—I thought," he began excitedly, but ended brokenly in the next breath.

LOUISVILLE THEATERS. Several Managers and Actors Were Placed Under Arrest. Louisville, Ky., Feb. 26.—(Special to Signal.) Acting order issued by the board of censors last Tuesday and directed at places of amusement, the police Sunday made wholesale arrests of managers and actors at three of Louisville's principal theaters in the afternoon. At the Grand vaudeville theater and the Esplanade, a barbershop and members of the Empire orchestra, all of whom the managers of the houses and the companies, the ticket sellers and the doorknopers were arrested, the actresses not being molested. At the Avenue theater, a shirt house, the manager of the company billed for the coming week failed to arrive, but an extemporized turn was put on in order that the theater might not be closed. In no instance were the performances interrupted, officers standing in the wings and quietly serving their warrants when the actors came off after having finished their series. No arrests were made until about 10 o'clock, when the afternoon bill considered sufficient to afford a thorough test of the legality of the board of censors' order. The arrests, which, were allowed to proceed as usual without interruption. The board of censors' order, Louisville, this morning, principal players, managers and actresses.

The Revenue Pushed Aside Everything in the House on Monday. Frankfort, Feb. 27.—The Kentucky senate Monday afternoon adopted a bill creating the office of the state fire marshal. The measure will be reported by the state commissioner of insurance and to receive the annual salary of $2,000. It is part of a fund created by a tax of one-third of one per cent on gross premiums collected by the companies in the Kentucky field. MANAGERS AND ACTORS. The Cases Against Them Dismissed in the Louisville Police Court. Louisville, Ky., Feb. 27.—In the police court Judge McCann dismissed the cases against the managers and actresses of the three theaters who were arrested Sunday for violation of the Sunday closing law. In his opinion, Judge McCann held that the objection of these theaters was discarded. He also refused to grant a writ of habeas corpus to the actors who were arrested Sunday evening, as that was not a proper case for the court. Judge McCann said it would be necessary to file a petition for a writ of habeas corpus to be granted, and not to discharge the actors from the custody of the police.

TO TELEPHONE USERS. Suppose you are Will Davis, at Mt. Vernon, and have called for Ben Corney, Lan caster. FOLEY'S KIDNEY-CUR FOLEY'S HONEY-CUR

This is the way the Richmond Chimes figures it, but why more poor, poverty-stricken people get hurt in railroad wrecks than rich ones? It is stated on authority that the person who travels in a palace on a railroad in a palace car has only one chance of getting hurt before his journey's end, against thirty-six chances for his fellow passenger who travels in a common day coach.

Naturally, unless a collision occurs, the wealthiest can suffer. In the front of the train is a committee watching one hundred tons in the rear two or three parlor cars of twenty-five tons each. What, then, is the result? The ordinary coaches sandwiched between are telescoped and smashed. The poor people who cannot afford to ride in palace cars are killed, crippled and maimed, while the rich folks escape with a slight shakin' up."

REPRESENTATIVE B. O. BREATHIT of Ashland, Va., introduced a bill in the Legislature making 50 percent of laborers wages subject to attachment. This would be no bad law to have upon our statute books, as many a worthless scoundrel who carries less than 50c per month, takes advantage of the present law to avoid payment of his honest debts.

LUTHER HANCOX has recently found the sanitary condition of the jail in Breathitt to be very bad. Wonder if it is any worse than it was when he was county judge?

POLITICS AND POLITICIANS

The bill to put Casey county in the eighth district was passed by the Senate.

The gubernatorial action of Senator W. H. Cox will be launched at a banquet in Frankfort next week.

Chief Justice Hobson announced that the Hon. John D. Carroll, of Henry county, had been appointed Commissioner of the Court of Appeals, under the terms of an act passed by the present Assembly.

There is a bill before the Kentucky Legislature to add Casey County to the Eighth Congressional District. We are not informed where the politics lie concealed in this bill, but there is some in it, somewhere. We fail to see where it can or will benefit our county, district or state, and until "we are shown," we are against the bill.

Democratic members of both houses of Congress are discussing the question as to a successor to Chairman Cowdery, of the Democratic Congressional Committee.

Mr. George Coggs, who was mentioned in the Frankfort correspondence to the Louisville Times as a possible candidate for congress from the eighth district has denied all knowledge of the source from which the article emanated, and most emphatically denied any intention of becoming a candidate.

"I am a candidate I did not know it," said Mr. Coggs last night, "and had no knowledge of my name having been mentioned by any paper of a possible candidate until the present moment."

A Frankfort special says: "Trustee W. P. Walton, of the State School of Reform at Lexington, called upon Chairman Redwine, of the Legislative Investigating Committee, this morning and urged the fullest investigation possible of the affairs and conduct of that institution which has been attacked by O. G. Emerson, a former employe. Mr. Walton has been a trustee of that institution since it was founded, having been first appointed by former Governor Bradley and re-appointed by Governor Peckham. Two years ago at the Assembly session he urged the placing of supervision of the institution with the State Prison Commission."

Judge James Hargis and others, charged with the murder of James B. Marcum, Commonwealth's Attorney Adams moved for a change of venue. Pending a decision of the court the defendants were released on $10,000 bond each.

In the Breathitt Circuit Court Saturday indictments were returned against Jas. Hargis, Ed. Callahan, John Smith, John Abner, of Breathitt, and E. F. French, of this city, for the murder of James B. Marcum. The indictments specifically charge conspiracy with Curt Jett and Tom White to do the crime and charges French, Smith and Abner with being accessories before the fact.—Winchester Democrat.

John Watkins, a Lexington negro, was tried at Owensville last week on the charge of having murdered William Mullins, a white man, on a train while passing through Bath county, and the jury gave him a sentence of life imprisonment although most of the jury were in favor of hanging him. Since he was committed to the Owensville jail by hanging himself to a ring in the wall by means of a leather belt he wore around his waist.
