A word about the present Senatorial fight in Kentucky. We should not permit our enthusiasm to lead us away from the truth or cause us to lose sight of the respective merits of the two candidates for United States Senator. The present Governor has a valid ambition and thinks a right way to the state for the next two years...

Beckham owes his political existence today to the man whom he is now opposing. No other man in Kentucky in 1900, could have snatched victory from the jaws of defeat. Except Senator McCreary, who acted as chairman of the campaign committee. If Beckham had been defeated for Governor, his candidacy at this time for United States Senator would be indelicate and would never be given a serious thought.

What Beckham has done that is praiseworthy and laudable we should commend. If his administration has done anything that is not right and is not in accordance with honest Democratic principles and good government, the Democrats should be the first to condemn it and set about to correct it. To say that an honest discussion would furnish material for Republican campaign should not be taken to mean any one should not prevent anybody from discussing the Democratic administration with freedom and frankness.

It should be a proud moment for the people of the mountains as well as the state of Kentucky to know that the agreement was made and carried out between the candidates for Governor in the Eleventh District, that to use any money or influence for the purpose of purchasing or debauching the voters of this rural and rugged district, in the late primary election, God speed the day when men can run for office on their merits instead of their success depending upon the amount of their purses.

Mr. J. A. SULLIVAN, of Richmond, has been selected as the Executive Committee man from this district, as the successor of the late Richard W. Miller. Two good things were done the same day. One was the nomination of Helm for Congress, and the other was the selection of Mr. Sullivan for Comptroller-in-Chief. Out that the Democratic party would act at all times with such wisdom.

It is no wonder Governor Beckham devoted so much of his Lexington speech to the Attorney General, B. Hayes, for the old "Reuben rooster" has lately knocked several spokes out of the wheel of Beckham's political machine.

AUCTIONEER—H. J. Jones has secured license as auctioneer for Rockcastle county and is ready to serve the people in that capacity at all times. Mr. Jones is a splendid auctioneer and always gives general satisfaction.

There is a splendid opening for some one in Mt. Vernon who desires to run a boardinghouse for college students. Miss Taylor, principal of the Brown Memorial school, informs us that the dormitory has already been filled to its capacity and there are many others who want board. Any one desiring to take charge of such a boardinghouse should correspond with Miss Ida M. Taylor, Mt. Vernon.

About four years ago a mad dog passed through the country and bit a dog belonging to George Hasty. Mr. Hasty bringing his dog very highly, refused to kill it. A few days since this same dog, bit the little five year old son of Mr. Hasty and owing to the serious effect which the bite is having on him, it is feared that he has been infected with hydrophobia, although the dog has never shown any signs of anything being wrong. Dogs are entirely too worthless creatures to take such risks.

Rufus Childress, son of Mr. J. C. Childress, of Orlando, and brother of Dr. W. J. Childress, of Livingston, who was at work on the bridge across Rockcastle river, Tuesday was struck by a piece of timber, knocked off the bridge and falling about thirty feet to the bottom of the river, was killed instantly. Mr. Childress was a splendid young man, upright and honest and a hard worker and his sad, untimely death is a great loss to his friends and relatives. This is the second man killed by falling from the bridge in little over a week. W. M. Evans having lost his life about ten days ago, on account of a wrench slipping of a tap which he was tightening, causing him to lose his balance and fall into the river, and causing death by drowning and gasping death by asphyxiation. Immediately after the death of young Mr. Childress, the foreman of the bridge gang tendered his resignation and the entire crew under him quit work, and as yet no one has undertaken the completion of the work.

In our next issue we will give some history of the telephone situation in Harrodsburg. The Harrodsburg Telephone Company, a branch of the Cumberland Company, whose franchise has expired, is attempting to force the people to give them another twenty-year franchise and is allowed to charge exorbitant rates and forbid any other telephone company building in the town and county. The above company made application here last spring to the town board of trustees for a franchise, promising to turn their wires into the local switchboard here. It has not been granted. From their past history it is evident that it was never their intention to carry out said promise, since such their object was to get in a position to get such a foothold in our town and county as to dictate terms or put our home telephone people out of business by reducing rates to such a point as to kill the home company, then raise rates to a point that they would recoup their losses quickly; the home company, such the people catching it, "where-the chickens got the ax." Our people are for the home company and against a foreign corporation coming here to run it out. The home company will have new wires in from Lancaster by September 1, being already strung as far as Oak Orchard crossing. Judge The Conway and Brush lines will be rebuilt this fall, more phones put in at Livingston, Brodhead, Mt. Vernon and other points in the county.

Mrs. R. N. Robinson of near Livingston, died Tuesday of typhoid fever.

The picnic which the half dozen or more families had Saturday afternoon in the third at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. Mullins was one of the enjoyable events of the season. Each family took their own lunch and all spread together under the large maples, which is an ideal picnic spot. There were twenty-seven in all present.

Last Mary, Cashier W. L. Richards bought in this county twenty-seven head of cattle, which averaged about 500 pounds, and sent them to his farm in Gallatin county to graze. Last week he sold the same cattle, which averaged 500 pounds and realized the handsome profit of $275. This is an evidence that the cattle here are doing the proper handling of the mountain scrub.

It is up to the citizens of Mt. Vernon to do as the citizens "have done in all other leading towns, throw open the doors of our homes to the college boys and girls, and furnish them board whether you want boarders, or not. Every student who wants to enter the Brown Memorial will be looked after and comfortable and desirable locations secured for them, but our citizens will only assist in this matter, it will relieve the principal of the school of much unnecessary work.

At the last session of the Legislature an act was passed compelling burial associations to be incorporated and also pay a yearly state tax of $100 besides an additional tax imposed upon all assessment companies. Mr. Willis Griffin, the undertaker who has been running the Mt. Vernon Burial Association for several years and which has proven an unqualified blessing to many people, has requested us to say to those who hold certificates of membership, that owing to this heavy expense, his impaired health and by reason of such his inability to look after and push the business as it would be necessary to do in order to keep it running, without a heavy loss, that he is compelled to leave the association and to do so as he is concerned, and that he will not fill any more orders or attempt to make any more collections on that association. To the members of the association we want to say realizing the great benefit of the Burial Association and the great loss to the community and business, that a suggestion is being made to arrange for the continuance of the association, as Mr. Griffin proposes to turn that part of the business over to some other parties who, we believe, will be able to arrange for its continuance, we will be able to announce definitely hereafter, in our next issue whether the business will go on or not. In behalf of Mr. Griffin, we will not say that it was his desire to discontinue the association, although he has never realized any great results from it, but because of some unmanageable, unkind and unkindly suggestions, he has been forced to necessarily withdraw and by trusts, as we do, that the members of the association will fully appreciate the situation.
