EASTER.—One week from next Sunday is the annual festival observed throughout Christendom in commemoration of the resurrection of our Lord Jesus Christ, but the fact that there is no trace of the celebration of Easter as a Christian festival in the new testament or in the writings of the apostolic fathers, we are forced to the conclusion that in observing this day as the most sacred Sunday of the year we are not following the teachings of Holy Writ, but are simply following a custom which belongs properly to the Catholic church, the origin of which dates back as far as 68 A. D. At a very early date the observance of the Paschal festival became the rule in the Christian church but soon a difference sprang up between Christians of Jewish and Gentile descent which led to a long and bitter controversy and an unhappy severance of Christian union. Thus far there had been no rule as to Easter festivals and each division allowed to follow their own interests which naturally were different between the Jewish and Gentile churches. The principal point at issue was in reality not the beginning but the termination of the Paschal fast (pertaining to the passover) with the Jewish Christians whose leading thought would be the death of Christ as the true Paschal lamb, this fast would end at the same time as that of the Jews on the 14th day of the month, meaning the 14th day from the first day of the first full moon after the equinox, and the Easter festival would follow irrespective of whatever day of the week it might be. With the Gentile Christians the first day of the week would be identified with the resurrection festival (counting the first day of the week in the same way from the first full moon) and the following Friday would be kept as the commemoration of the crucifixion irrespective of the day of the month. With the one it was the observance of the day of the month, with the other the observance of the day of the week, the chief point being the keeping or not keeping the 14th day of the month. This diversity of usage was gradually brought to an end by the church at Rome in 197 A. D. when the Bishop at Rome and the Bishop at Ephesus controverted the matter in a very different spirit to any of their predecessors, and the settlement of the controversy led Emperor Constantine to summons a council and the consent of all the assembled prelates was unanimous, all agreeing that Easter should be kept on one and the same day throughout the whole world and none should hereafter follow the blindness of the Jews. Hence this custom has been followed ever since, on the same, throughout the world except by the Jews who observe Saturday. The time is governed by the moon, the first Sunday after the first full moon after the equinox is Easter. It may come as early as March 22, and as late as April 25th.

This editor of 10 days has to get his nose down to the grind stone and keep it there sixteen hours per day and 365 days in the year or he falls by the wayside. There are men who quit work Saturday night and rest until Monday morning. They lay aside business cares at five or six o'clock every evening and do not resume them until seven or eight the next morning. Not so your editor. He has no elegant leisure. He knows no hours, no Sunday, no night. When he goes to a party, or to church, or on an alleged pleasure trip it is all in the line of duty. Withal, your editor man is a cheerful, long-suffering soul, going about doing good in his own humble way. He returns good for evil. He writes long puffs of church socials and in return there of, accepts a chunk of cake that would sink an ironclad. He notes the arrival of all the babies in the neighborhood and even tells how healthy they are. He rejoices with the gay and mourns with those who are sad. He blooms every enterprise which makes his community richer goes about himself clothed in gunny sack coats and one suspender. He glories over the fortune of his neighbor and meekly eats his own roast of boiled corn cobs and colored labels of tomato cans. He can write a sermon, on an account of a prize fight a political speech, an obligatory notice poetry, split wood, pitch hay, wash dishes, preside at a camp meeting, curry horses, quote law and gospel, or anything else at a moment's notice.

POLITICS AND POLITICIANS

The Record notes the announcement of Maj. E. W. Lillard as a candidate for the Democratic nomination of the Legislature from Boyle county. Major Lillard has taken great interest in political matters during recent years, and has done splendid work for his party, not only in his home county but out in the State. He has always stood "bitched" in every battle, and never deserted his party on any of the issues which have so frequently divided the party of late. His time and means were always at the disposal of his party. He is thoroughly capable, and will put forth every effort for that which he deems best for the people of the State, regardless of party when it comes a case of what is best for the greatest number. His long faithful service should not go unawarded.—Lancaster Record.

A. Wood are on the sick list.—H. C. Owens and family were the welcome guests of Dr. and Mrs. Laswell Sunday.—S. S. Ball and E. J. Anderson attended the Chapter meeting at Mt. Vernon Saturday evening.—Joel Anglin, an old and esteemed citizen of this place, is moving to Richmond, Ky. where he intends to make his future home.—Jesse Cotton and family have returned from Belle county where they have been during the winter.—Verna Anderson was led to see her father at Livingston and was severely hurt by falling from a bridge where he was at a liquid cold relief with a laxative principle which drives out the bowels, and a healing principle which lingers in the throat and stops the cough.—That is Kennedy's Laxative Cough Syrup Safe and Sure in its action; pleasant to take; and our terms to National Pure Food and Drug Law. Contains no opiates. Sold by Chas. C. Davis, leading druggist.

LAND, STOCK AND CROP

A. A. Adams, who came here from the West a year or two ago, bought the Katie Dollings land, has sold out to V. S. Brock of Barlan county, for $5,000. Mr. Adams will go back to the West.

District Attorney Jerome sprung a surprise Wednesday by declaring his belief that Harry K. Thaw is insane. He did not make formal application for a lunacy commission, but appeared in an impassioned speech to the conscience of the court. Justice Fitzgerald after hearing Mr. Jerome, dismissed the jury until Friday morning and adjourned court until 2 o'clock the day afternoon, when he will give his opinion whether the trial shall go forward or a commission shall be appointed to pass upon Thaw's mental condition. In his address to the court Mr. Jerome accused the defense attorneys of concealing evidence and said he would call the matter to the attention of the Appellate division of the Supreme Court.

An investigation of the report of the despatch of the many Russian troops to Persia shows that while it is true that a few Cossacks have been sent to strengthen the Russian situation as extremely serious, and is prepared in concert with Great Britain to take necessary measures at any moment to protect foreign interests and prevent anarchy.

LOST OPPORTUNITY.—A young lady working in a stocking factory, fearing her chances small for a life partner, wrote the following and inserted in the toe of a gentleman's sock: "A young lady, good looking and of some means, would like to correspond with the wearer of this stocking, if he is single, with a view to matrimony." A young man bought the sock, and said: "There is my chance." He wrote to the young lady offering himself as a suitable partner, and to his surprise got this reply: "I have been married eight years and have a family of five children." The man from whom he bought the sock had never advertised, consequently he had been a sufferer for eight years.

Attv. C. C. Williams has returned from Marshall, Mo., with a check of $1,070.31 for the heirs of W. H. Mullins who live in the Westchester county. W. H. Mullins recently died in Isaline, county, Mo., leaving a nice estate. He had no family and his estate goes to his sisters, Mrs. Susan Mullins and Mrs. Elizabeth Barnett and the heirs of Marshall Mullins and John Mullins will get nearly all this money. Under the law the bank which had this money on a time deposit, could have held it for two years but by a special effort on the part of Attorney Williams, he was able to secure the money at a much earlier date than he had expected, when the matter of winding up the estate was placed in his hands.

W. G. PROCTOR DEAD. Died at his home at Qual post office, this county, Wednesday morning at 5 o'clock, Mr. W. G. Proctor, aged 90 years and one year. For more than two years he had been a sufferer of a complication of diseases and the end has long since been expected.

Mr. Proctor was a man of generous impulses and never forgot the hospitable ways of the pioneer. The stranger, even though a beggar, never failed to find food and shelter if he sought it at his hands and he was at home by the bedside of the sick and delighted in all kinds and neighborly offices. He had borne adversity bravely and enjoyed prosperity quietly. He had filled the various relations of life, as son, husband, father, brother, friend, and neighbor. Who can say that he was not a great man? But he is not. Another man is stricken from the ever lessening

There is talk of the Christian church congregation making a deal for the second story of the church building which belongs to the Masons, and used by them. It is to be hoped that something will be done that will bring around an improvement, as the dilapidated condition of the building, is an eye sore to the town and shows up very badly to the good Christian people of the town.

It is said that penes have a habit of coming with considerable and starting regularity. They were here in 1818, 1837, 1857, 1873 and 1893. All arrived unexpectedly and unbidden. Under this sort of a year law of periodicity another panic would be due in 1913. From the enormous way prices have doubled in living necessities, it looks as if the panic event would hurry along some years earlier than 1913.

W. G. PROCTOR DEAD. Died at his home at Qual post office, this county, Wednesday morning at 5 o'clock, Mr. W. G. Proctor, aged 90 years and one year. For more than two years he had been a sufferer of a complication of diseases and the end has long since been expected.

Mr. Proctor was a man of generous impulses and never forgot the hospitable ways of the pioneer. The stranger, even though a beggar, never failed to find food and shelter if he sought it at his hands and he was at home by the bedside of the sick and delighted in all kinds and neighborly offices. He had borne adversity bravely and enjoyed prosperity quietly. He had filled the various relations of life, as son, husband, father, brother, friend, and neighbor. Who can say that he was not a great man? But he is not. Another man is stricken from the ever lessening roll of our old settlers and the once happy home is left to attest how sadly they will miss him. It must be so; these tender human ties can not be severed without a pang. Yet in such a death there is really no cause for grief. His life work was done, and well done. He had passed his golden wedding day and wearied with life's duties and cares weary of suffering and waiting, he lay down to rest.

He was a man who upheld sound sense with strong convictions, and a candid outspoken temper, eminently fitted to mould the rude elements of pioneer society into form and consistency, and in raising a high standard of citizenship in our young and growing state. How much his community owes him and such as he, it is impossible to estimate, though it would be a grateful task to trace his influence through some of the direct channels, to hold him up in these characteristic days, in his various characters of husband and father, of neighbor and friend, to speak of the sons and daughters he has reared to perpetuate his name and emulate his virtues. But it comes not within the scope of this brief article to do so. Suffice it to say, he lived nobly and died peacefully at the advanced age of 91 years.

The late Reaper found him, "in a shock of corn, fully ripe for the harvest."

No for him be our tears! Father let us crown his grave with garlands, few of us will live as long or as well, and fewer yet will the Angel of Death greet with such a loving touch.

He leaves ten children, five boys and five girls, Messrs George, J. W. Tarrill, J. A. and Dr. D. E. Proctor, Messrs Andrew, Herlin, R. A. Herrin, Mac Brown, Henry Brown, Mrs. Hubble, to mourn the loss of a kind, affectionate and dutiful father. The remains were laid to rest yesterday morning at 10 o'clock in Providence cemetery beside his beloved companion who preceded him to the grave only a few months.

What Congressman Gilbert Has Done In Eight Years Under the Republican Rule.

Our Representative in Congress, Mr. Gilbert, has returned home to stay after a service of eight years in the National House of Representatives.

He found the Government Building at Richmond, uncompleted and wholly unfit to be occupied for the United States Court, and procured an appropriation of $50,000 for the purpose of completing this building.

It is very true that the entire sum for a government building is appropriated at the first instance. Mr. Gilbert made laborious effort to procure a Government Building at Lawrenceburg and gave the city preference over every other town in his district.

Mr. Gilbert has also been active and successful in aiding in the establishment of quite a large number of Rural Mail Routes and we see wagons delivering U.S. Mail on most of the leading roads now throughout the district.

He procured last year, special acts of Congress granting pensions to Capt. Phil Thompson, of Harrodsburg, and Capt. Thos. Todd of Shelby County the only two captains of the Mexican War from Kentucky, that now survive. It is needless to mention that he has procured numerous acts of Congress for and of old veterans, who by reason of his technicality or another had been deprived of any pension for their services in the Civil War.

Mr. Gilbert is regarded as the leader of the Democratic side in opposition to Ship Subsidies and the Ship Subsidy Bill in his first term in Congress attracted wide attention and his speech during the last Congress in opposition to the Merchant Marine Extension Bill has been in such a grand all over the country that the entire supply has been twice exhausted.

We call attention of our readers to still a third speech in opposition to Ship Subsidies, made only a few days ago which is well worth the attention of anyone who desires to be kept informed as to the pernicious tendency of the extreme protectionists in Congress. His speech in defense of Kentucky has been selected as worthy of being printed in a Book of Kentucky of Biographies, recently published by Col. Bennett H. Young, containing many of the famous speeches made by Kentuckians living and dead. Mr. Gilbert has a volume containing his speeches made in Congress and of course, cannot all be mentioned here.

He made a strenuous effort during three terms of Congress to procure a National Park at Perryville, but the location was too far South to succeed. If such a battle had been fought in Maine or Massachusetts, a magnificent park could have been established many years ago. He made an active effort to remove the tax the farmers have to pay upon lead tobacco and has all together stood for the best interests of his own people—Shelbyville Sentinel.

BROKEN HEAD.

A. C. McClary and J. W. Hutchison are in Metcalf county this week on business. Misses Matilda and Frances Forbes of Level Green are expected to arrive to-day for a week's visit prior to Miss Maude's leaving for Liverpool where she will study nursing.

Owing to the unpleasant weather the fiddler's contest which was to come off last Friday night was declared off. F. L. Durham was the guest of Edgar Dunn at Danville last week. We are glad to say that all of our sick are on the mend.

One of the saddest deaths that ever befell our community was when the death angel slipped down last Saturday morning at 8:05 o'clock and took from us our beloved teacher, Joshua Boring, Jr. Josh was a young man and it is certainly hard to say him up. He was one of the brightest boys the brighter ever knew.

John Nevins of Stanford was here Sunday calling on one of Brodhead's belles. C. H. Erith has added a butchery shop to his already fine business.

Public Sale—I will on Wednesday March 27 1907 at the Katie Dolings or Jerry Frith farm 1 1/2 miles South of Hiatt post-office and 3 miles East of Brodhead sell to the highest bidder the following property: 1 gray horse 9 years old; 2 bay mares 7 and 9 years old; 3 milch cows, soon to be fresh, 4 heifers and 2 steers, 2 years old, 1 steer and 1 heifer calf; 1 fine short-horn bull 11 months old; 10 hogs; 1 extra good wagon; 1 new vulcan plow; 1 set plow harness; 1 lady's and 1 man's saddle; About 250 bushels corn; 70 bushels oats; and 1/2 stack bundle oats. Also my household and kitchen furniture.

TERMS OF SALE—All sums of $5.00 or under cash in hand. Over $5.00 credit of 6 months with approved security bearing 6 per cent interest. Sale to begin promptly at 10 o'clock a. m.

THE FARMER'S WIFE.

Two opposing views of the status of a farmer's wife comes out of the middle west. A vague statement in some "woman column" by a sentimental writer "that it is a foredoom of mine to become a farmer's wife and meander down life's pathway," drew this comment from a country editor: "Oh, yes, that is a nice thing, but when your husband meanders off and leaves you without food and you have to meander up and down the fence pulling splinters off the fence to cook the dinner; and you meander around in the wet clover in search of the cows until your shoes are the color of the setting sun, and each stocking absorbs a pint of water, and when you meander out across twenty acres of plowed ground to drive the cows out of the buck-wheat and tear your dress on a white fence and when you meander back to the house and find that the goat has bitten your child's until it resembles a pumpkin, and find the old hen and sixteen chickens in the parlor, the cat in the cupboard and the dog in the milk, you will realize dear girl, that this meadow business is not what it is cracked up to be; when by our druggist advice, I began giving him Dr. King's New Discovery and I soon noticed improvement. I kept this treatment up for a few weeks when he was perfectly well. He has worked steadily since as carpenter work. Dr. King's New Discovery saved his life." Guaranteed best cough and cold cure by all druggists. 50c and $1. Trial bottle free.

For the pleurotic farmer's wife in this state. And in the evening the pianola puts Bethoven or Handel at the lady's finger tips. The children are put to bed the governess dismissed and a telephone conversation with the neighbors which causes me much pain and worry. I lost flesh and was all run down, and a year ago had to abandon work entirely. I had three of the best physicians who did me no good, and I was practically given up to die. Foley's Kidney Cure was recommended and the first bottle gave me great relief, and after taking the second bottle I was entirely cured." Why not let it be you?

Foley's Kidney Cure was recommended and the first bottle gave me great relief, and after taking the second bottle I was entirely cured." Why not let it be you?
