A woman may do her level best to make a happy home for her husband and children, but if she is treated as a slave and only given her board and clothing in payment for her service as a mother, wife, cook, laundress, nurse, girl, chambermaid and seamstress, is it any wonder that little or no happiness exists in that home? If a mother spoils her son by pampering and waiting on him all the years of his childhood, and making him think that a man should always be waited on by the woman of his household, it is strange that he expects a wife to do the same and that in all likelihood, she either wears out in a few years, or else becomes bitter and disheartened? There are very many reasons why a home may not be found a happy one and as happiness found therein depends fully, as much on the wife. We are often told that in every true and ideal marriage both husband and wife should learn to bear and forbear. In every home where happiness exists there must be perfect trust, confidence and love between husband and wife. There are two kinds of sunshine in the world, and both quite necessary—the one which is caused by the sun's shining outdoors and the other by its shining in our hearts. Happy homes abound in the heart sunshine, and whether it shines without or not, there is naught but brightness within doors. It is the loving deeds, the cheery, helpful words, and the kindly thoughtfulness, that each member of the family shows toward the others that makes an ideal, happy home—a perfect heaven on earth. How many of us do our share in making such a home that shall be a heaven of rest to all who may come within its influence.

An alarming epidemic of insomnia and stomach trouble in Kansas would seem to be indicated by the number of certificates filed in order to get prescriptions for whisky or beer filled. Some 14,000 a month are now being put on record, it is stated. There is serious danger of this same disease or something similar to it requiring the same treatment become prevalent in Kentucky.

NEWS ITEMS

The funeral of Mrs. William McKinley took place Wednesday at Canton.

Reports from the West tell of unusually cold weather and consequent damage to growing crops. Six jurors have been secured in San Francisco for the trial of Mayor Schmitz on the charge of extortion.

New high records for the crop were made in the Chicago wheat market Tuesday. July selling at $1.03½ and December at $1.05½.

The Wisconsin Assembly Monday passed without opposition a bill prohibiting the use of tobacco by boys under fifteen years of age. Noble Robinson, a tobacco grower of Caldwell county, was taken from his home by masked men and forced to dig up his own plant bed the men standing by while he used a hoe.

The Supreme Court of the United States has postponed until October the motion to advance the case of William Adair, charged with the violation of the Interstate Commerce Act.

It is said the Republican machine in Mississippi will not have a walk over in delivering the kind of delegation to the convention that the President wants. The main source of trouble is said to be the negro voter who is exhibiting a tendency to act independently of the machine.

At a meeting of negroes in Washington Tuesday night vigorous protest was made against the candidacy of Secretary of War Taft, and in a set of resolutions the Republican party is given warning to protest against the nomination of any man who says the disfranchisement of the negro was a mistake.

OF INTEREST TO THE FARMERS.

The United States Department of Agriculture is to establish a horse breeding experiment farm at Weybridge, Vt., on land given for the purpose by Joseph Battell, the well-known Vermont horseman. The government will start with nine mares and two stallions of the Morgan strain.

Remember that it is only the amount of food in excess of that which is necessary to maintain animal heat and repair the waste of animal tissue can possibly be a source of profit. Hence the more a cow can be induced to eat above this amount within safe limits the larger the profits she should return in the total amount of food consumed.

The rest on the plow moldboard did not make the work any easier this spring, now, did it? Few minutes last fall in coating with grease would have made things go easier this spring. Remember this when you put up the implements next fall.

A good feed for young pigs is recommended as consisting of two parts middlings, two parts corn meal, and to every pound of this mixture add in feeding one or two pounds of skim milk. Oil meal can be used also to good advantage, using a little in each feed.

Mold on the walls and cement floors of damp cellars can be kept down by washing with blue vitriol solution, one pound to five gallons of water. Formalin one pound to ten gallons, will also prove effective, for a whitewash in which an ounce of corrosive sublimate to five gallons has been placed, will do the work.

The department of agriculture has scored again. It is said that experts have perfected a machine for the removal of fuzz from cotton seed, and the separation of light from heavy seed. This would prevent planting with an ordinary gravity drill, and would be a great boon to the planter.

Out in the wheat belt of Oklahoma wheat plant lice or so-called "green bugs," are doing much damage, even to total destruction of some fields of grain. Oats are also attacked. Kerosene emulsion is being used as a spray with good results where the spray is able to reach the pests, but it is too expensive treatment to be used over large areas.

Long distant rifle ranges will be established for the Kentucky State Guard at Louisville and Frankford where the men can be taught the use of the modern high power guns. Suitable locations were hard to find on account of the necessity for a backdrop for the bullets.

A DEBT OF GRATITUDE

The people of Kentucky owe a debt of gratitude to the Hon. Clarence E. Woods, mayor of Richmond for succeeding in establishing the State Law Order League, put on foot in Louisville recently. The object of the organization is told in its name, but the principal fight will be made in securing the enforcement of the local option laws. Mayor Wood is deeply interested in having the laws of the land enforced without fear or favor and if there were more like this big hearted Clarence, Kentucky would be higher up in the estimation of the country.—Lancaster Record.

How to Cure Constipation

Few people altogether escape a disorder of the bowels. You may catch cold, over-eat, over-drink, worry too much, not eat the right things or do a hundred and one other things that result in constipation or colitis. When the trouble comes it is well to know what to do for it.

In the opinion of thousands there is no better cure for constipation than Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, which anyone can obtain for 50 cents or $1 at a drug store. It is well to know that this medicine is a natural product, is non-toxic, and does not contain any harmful or dangerous drugs. LOCAL

Gus Jarber, one of the most highly-respected of our local citizens died last Friday morning. There will be a pie, strawberry and ice cream supper at Brodhead Saturday night luner, for the benefit of the Baptist Church. Mr. George Hood and Miss Mamie McLemore were married Tuesday at the home of the bride. The Rev. B. S. DaValitt officiated. J. W. Bond and Mrs. Susie Barnett were married at Withers Wednesday. Rev. J. B. Baker, of Jackson county, performed the ceremony. STRAYED—One bay mare, with three white feet and blind in the right eye. Last heard of near Livingston. Liberal reward for information leading to her recovery. LONDON SUPPLY CO., may-24-1907. In the proper column in this issue will be found the announcement of R. M. Johnson as a candidate for Representative for this and Laurel counties. These two candidates in the field for Legislator. LAND FOR SALE.—One farm of 124 acres on the waters of Bee Lick Creek, near Bee Lick Postoffice, Pulaski county, Ky. For further information see F. F. WARREN, Bruno, Ky. The following phones have been added to the county list, mostly in the Freedom neighborhood: L. N. Grubel, Fred Hahn, J. W. French Ed Gearty, William T. Southard and W. M. Mink. The two last are on Skeggs creek. Some of the more interprising farmers have begun to agitate another vote on the good road question but along a different line to what it was last year. They urge a vote to build roads by levying a tax of one cent each year and not by issuing bonds. It does not matter how it comes just so we get good roads. DATE CURIOUSITIES—One of our citizens in delving among dates finds that it will be 111 years from A. D. 1888 before three figures of same denomination come in rotation again in datings—1999, and but one day afterward until it occurs again—the year 2000. It then appears regularly every 111 years for periods of 1000 years up to 2999 and 3000 where they jam up together again only a second apart and so repeats itself every 111 and 1000 years. LOBSTERS DUE—The thirteen-year cycle, which made its appearance in 1894, is due throughout the South next month. The Department of Agriculture is sending to its agents orders to carefully report the territory, at what period, and other matters of interest. The brood of this year is expected to be large. The first record of it relates to its occurrence in 1803, and it has been recorded every thirteen years since. The local newspaper man may devote a half column every week for some time saying nice things about some individual and that person will see every other line in the paper except the notice about himself. But just let the editor stick a two-cent nail in the same obscure corner, calling the same individual a liar or some other appropriate name, and in less than ten minutes after the papers are placed in the post office the desire is to play the editor—most either be ready to run or fight. The stormers in the case of B. King vs. W. J. Sparks have spent considerable portions of the week taking depositions, as the next week will be for trial at the next term of the Rockcastle Circuit Court. This is a suit for $75,000 alleged damages done the plaintiff by the defendant taking stone from, and claimed by plaintiff from, Mullins Station. Both parties claim the land and the deed held by Mr. Sparks traces back more than one hundred years. The fact that the plaintiff's attorneys tried to avoid a trial in the county where the case is alleged to have been committed and within a few miles of the exact spot looks very much like the case of a drowning man who grasps at a straw. The effort is made to catch every passing straw.

We want YOU to be one of the satisfied.

Aggregate marketing of live stock at the five principal western points Chicago, Kansas City, Omaha, St. Louis and St. Joseph during the first four months of 1907, indicating that consumption is keeping ahead of production if volume and prices afford a criterion. Supply was heavier but prices materially higher. At the five points 2,649,000 cattle, 5,000,000 hogs and 3,126,000 sheep were marketed during the four months against 2,439,000 cattle, 5,098,000 hogs and 3,280,000 sheep during the corresponding period of 1906.

It is entirely safe to say without fear of contradiction, that every successful farmer living in the corn belt is a great believer in hogs as a source of wealth. And furthermore successful farmers are showing their faith by their works and will breed every sow they can get hold of, barring only the old sows. Dwight Fank, of Bloomington, Ill., who is a member of the famous Fank family, known widely as a great stockman and all-around farmer as well as breeder of high-classed corn, was on the Chicago market on last Monday with a car load of prime fat hogs. He is one of the men who put their faith in hogs as great money-makers, and he remarked that he had two hundred sows to fatten this spring. The May pigs are doing well, and counting an average of five pigs to every sow, (not an unusual large showing), he will have 1,000 to market later on. "He thought it was no use, $1 a hundred from corn, by converting it into pork and lard—E. S.
