

DEMOCRATIC TICKET.

For United States Senator—J. C. W. Beckham. For Governor—S. W. Hager. For Attorney General—John K. Headricks. For State Superintendent of Schools—M. O. Winfrey. For Commissioner of Agriculture—J. W. Newman. For Lieutenant Governor—South Trimble. For Auditor—H. M. Bosworth. For Secretary of State—Hubert Vreeland. For Treasurer—Rufus Lafon. For Clerk Court of Appeals—John B. Chenault.

We are authorized to announce JOSEPH F. BOSWORTH as a candidate for the nomination for State Senator for the developmental Senatorial district subject to the action of the Republican party.

In a report just made of the progress of a year in the fight for temperance and the enforcement of local option Statutes, the Rev. Dr. M. B. Adams, President of the Kentucky Anti-Saloon League, writes as follows:—

"The League avoids carefully injecting politics into temperance affairs, but studies to thrust temperance issues into politics."

"The Democratic party, through its candidates for Governor and United States Senator, pledge hearty support to the Anti Saloon League program. Judge Hager, the candidate for Governor, endorses the extension of the Unit Law, the enactment of other measures, and pledges in addition the strict enforcement of the Sunday closing laws in case he becomes Governor."

"There can be no more far reaching achievement in political life than the debatement of the saloon power from the control of political parties. No candidate or set of candidates ought to be supported by temperance people behind which are found the solid ranks of the liquor interests."

"The Republican platform, recently promulgated, dodges the Sabbath observance issue, and but weakly refers to the County Unit local option Statute. In endorsing the measure it endorses a Democratic Law. The Democratic party needs no platform upon that subject. The record of what it has accomplished is told by President Adams of the Anti-Saloon League, in a report just made. That record is County Unit law became operative in the 11, 1906. At that time the sale of liquor was prohibited in 28 counties. Since that date, 32 counties have voted out liquor, making a total of 90 'dry' out of a total of 119 counties in the State. In the 32 counties 230 saloons were closed."

All our fondest hopes of the past years have been realized," says Dr. Adams, "and the work has gone so far beyond our expectations that we have been amazed at the result."

This is the Democratic party's platform on the liquor question. From demanding and threatening, as they did during the legislative session of twelve months ago, the liquor interests, that is the saloonists and their representatives, are today begging and calling on the men engaged in that business to obey the laws, as the best and only way of avoiding complete annihilation. Their lead-jug attorney in the United States, a man who was active in Kentucky during and since the last legislative session, William M. Hough, of St. Louis, in an interview just given out at Atlantic City, N. J., spoke to his clients as follows:—

Not all the money or all the organization of the association will successfully combat the work being done by the reform league."

said Mr. Hough, "and the sooner the association declares itself in favor of early closing, Sunday shutting down of saloons and other reforms desired by the temperance people the sooner we will have peace that will allow the trade increasing as it should."

The sad news of the death of Dr. T. T. Eaton, the noted Baptist divine of Louisville, was received with regret throughout the State and entire South, where he was widely known. Dr. Eaton was at the time of his death and had been for many years, pastor of the Walnut Street Baptist Church, Louisville, and it was this church, under his guidance that many found rich food for the soul. Dr. Eaton was attacked by a hemorrhage of the brain at Grand Junction, Tenn., last Saturday, while enroute to Blue Ridge, Miss., to deliver a series of lectures before the B. Y. P. U. encampment, and lived only a few hours. Overwork is assigned as the cause of his death, and was often said of him, that he did the work of four men. The country has lost a great and good man and the Baptist Church in Kentucky its greatest leader.

The three Danville papers have consolidated and Danville will hereafter have only one paper, the Advocate, a tri weekly, with W. Reed Embury as editor in chief, W. Verob Richardson general manager, and W. Owen McHenry managing editor. (Since the merchants of that town have brought into an agreement not to advertise or support in any way any other paper that might be started in the town for a period of five years, in order to bring about this consolidation it looks as though our Danville friends might be planning a great newspaper combine, after the fashion of some of the country's other great trusts.

ATTORNEY E. V. PUNTER has been appointed County Judge of Boyle County, by Governor Beckham to fill the unexpired term caused by the death of Judge Reed S. Nichols. A wise selection, and one that will prove entirely satisfactory to all concerned.

"The 'lid' was on tight in Louisville Sunday and it is regarded as the most successful effort made to stop the Sunday sale of whisky. Three cheers for Louisville's new mayor."

This is what the Somerset Republican thinks of Pulaski's candidature for Clerk of the Court of Appeals:

"Republicans should be consistent. It is not consistent for a Republican to spend several years fighting the Goebelism practiced by a faction of the Democratic party and then support the Republican nominee for Clerk of the Court of Appeals, who practiced Goebelized politics of the meanest form, hence there is a big share of Republicans who will not vote for Clerk of the Court of Appeals."

Nabier Adams, although he is a native Pulaskian and by virtue of his Goebel tricks is holding the office of Circuit Court Clerk, and by virtue of the science of Goebelism he is also filling the office of Chairman of Pulaski County Republican Committee, to which office the people of Pulaski elected another man, by a fair and square expression of the will of the people, according to law. "By foul, vile and fraudulent counting he was made the Republican nominee for Circuit Court Clerk four years ago, and by similar or worse methods was made chairman of the County Committee, though the people had elected H. H. Smith to that position, and he was fraudulently placed in that office by his practiced a perpetration of foul and unfair methods that would put to shame the meanest form of Goebelism ever found in the Democratic party, no civilized man would say that that was not bad enough."

Republicans believe in hard fighting, strenuous efforts for the carrying of any measure they believe to be right, but it has been the custom for a square deal, a fair count and many of them who wedded to the recent expression of the Kentucky Court of Appeals to the effect that a country is only half civilized where people elect officials. There are hundreds, yes, thousands of old Republicans of the 17th. Congressional district that will not stamp in the Republican column for the office of Clerk of the Court Appeals."

In our little write up of J. A. Wood in last issue, failed to mention the fact that J. H. Brooks is the manager of the store of Mr. Wood at Johnetta. Gen. Cornelison, formerly of Madison, but now a resident of this vicinity, and one of the best men we have, was found on the railroad track near Berea, one morning last week in an unconscious condition.

He was taken to Berea hospital and at this writing is still unconscious. He has a severe gash in forehead and neck. He had been over to Richmond and got on night train thinking it stopped at Conway. Finding that it did not, got off at Berea, and it is thought, started down track to Conway and probably became suddenly ill and was struck by a train. He has a weak stomach and one child who are now at Berea with him.

D. C. Pullins, the bee hive man of Conway and prolific inventor, is a jurymen here during this term of court. Mr. Pullins showed us a model of a new wire fence stretcher, his latest invention for which he has made application for a patent. The wire stretcher looks like a good thing to us and it is predicted that Mr. Pullins has a fortune in his new invention. Some Richmond newspaper already bought a one-half interest in the machine and if we are any judge, we believe Mr. Pullins will have about the best thing on the market in the way of a wire stretcher.

Eugene Ruins Spires was given two years in the pen for the killing of Colonel Lovings, which occurred near P. and ship church some four or five years ago.

The trial of Horace Norton and Jas. Roberts charged with complicity in the killing of James and Hanan Arnold has consumed the attention of the court this week. The case will go to the jury tomorrow.

Robert Hocker, the negro murderer who killed Drummond Year Tuesday afternoon, May 19, and for whom the authorities of a dozen states have been searching diligently, since he was captured in Cincinnati and had been brought to Lexington, near which place his crime was committed.

Hocker was betrayed into the hands of the police by a negro woman who "gave him" into the meshes of the snare that had been laid for him by Detective Reed, a negro member of the Cincinnati police department. Reed had been working on the case some time and was in this section several weeks ago looking up data with regard to the wanted man. He kept his movements quiet, however, and it was not until late Saturday night that he matured his plans, and with the aid of a negro woman with whom Hocker had become infatuated, took the murderer into custody.

He will be tried at the earliest opportunity, and will be speedily given his just deserts.

FIFTH DAILY MEETING AT MAPLE GROVE.

On this side of Round Stone, at a point about midway between Dudley and Brush Creek stations stands the new Flat Rock church commanding a scenery hard to excel.

It was a revelation to see the practical interest in church work of pastor and people. Old time Kentucky hospitality, still dwells in their homes and liberality in their hearts.

The executive committee rejoice in the best meeting of the year.

liberal contributions from the churches. The program published in the Signal of June 7th mainly carried out, interspersed with a beautiful dinner on Saturday and a large Bible school and good offering on Sunday.

Now, that the building of new houses in the association will soon be over, the Board feels encouraged to expect a forward move along all spiritual lines next year. Let every church that wants to move forward invite the meeting and seek to emulate Flat Rock. But they had better look well to their laurels.

A Chicago firm is looking with covetous eyes on the affable manager of the sand and brick plant at Dudley, but it is hoped that our county will not suffer the loss of his removal.

This scribble is indebted for favors to Mr. Hackett, the Reanues, Mr. "Billy" Williams and Pastor.

Gratefully,
W. R. BRISCOE.

With genuine pleasure, we announce the purchase of a new home for the KENTUCKY STATE FAIR. All the grounds and buildings of the Douglas Park Jockey Club in Louisville have just been bought by the State Board of Agriculture as a permanent location, and the future success of the Kentucky State Fair is assured.

There are 200 acres, and the improvements worth more than $200,000, and both new and modern. The grand stand is of steel and concrete and the stables for exhibition purposes as well as for stall use, are excellently constructed. The stall room will meet all demands. The mile track is acknowledged to be the fastest for trotting exhibitions in the world. Large trees and waving blue grass are to be found throughout all the grounds.

The transportation facilities, both steam and electric, are unsurpassed. On the main line of the Louisville and Nashville Railroad, with a switch running the full length of one side, exhibitors, whether of live stock agricultural implements or the products of the farm, will find the Kentucky State Fair grounds most accessible. Such connections mean every advantage for the exhibitor. On the double track of the Jacob Park line of the Louisville Railway, with a loop on which to stop 100 cars at a time, Fair visitors are deposited right at the entrance within twenty-five minutes, after leaving the heart of the city. On the boulevard that traverses the Grand Boulevard an extension of third Avenue the grounds are most easily reached by carriages and automobiles.

Those who have given much thought to the matter of a permanent site for the Kentucky State Fair are congratulating the Board of Agriculture upon its good fortune in being able to buy grounds with a modern grand stand and other buildings already erected, with grass plots fully matured, and full grown trees with railroad and street car facilities.

In the new home, the State Fair Board can offer advantages to the exhibitors in every department, the equal of those of other State Fairs many years older.

Every exhibitor in former Kentucky State Fairs and all who have not yet entered for competition there before, are invited by the management to the 1907 Fair. Courteous treatment is guaranteed all with a promise that the visit will be pleasant and profitable.

The Kentucky State Fair is destined to become the greatest annual exhibition in the South within a few miles of the center of population of the United States, the attendance should reach annually into the hundreds of thousands since great numbers centering in Louisville. Surrounded by the best live stock sections of the country, close to the best in agriculture and horticulture, in a State and near States whose women make needle work and table luxuries the equal of any community, the exhibitions will be worth a long journey.

Secretary B. BAUGHES invites correspondence on any subject touching State Fair matters. Catalogues are read.

Editor Signal:

In your issue of last week I note the following:

"Wanted—Some one to invent or coin a word descriptive of a message sent by telephone."

In Webster's International Dictionary—1905 Edition—page 1481—column 1—you will find the word "telepheme" pronounced tel'ee-meh the meaning of which is "a message by telephone."

Another question is propounded in the same issue:

"A woman secured a divorce from her husband. Within a half hour after the decree was rendered she procured license and was married to another man. [When the Judge heard of it he set aside and annulled the decree of divorce. The question now is—Whose wife is she?"]

On the second day of August, 1899 Henry Bentz obtained a judgment in the Kenton Circuit Court for divorce from his wife, and the next day married another woman.

Four days thereafter, the Judge having heard about the second marriage, entered an order annulling the judgement for divorce from his first wife. The Judge was asked to set aside that order which he warmly refused to do upon the ground that the Court had been used as a means of accomplishing the purpose of the man and his second wife, neither of whom deserve any consideration. An appeal was perfected and the highest tribunal of the state decided the very interesting point on Jan. 6, 1900, in the case of Bentz vs Bentz, 21 Ky. Law Rep. 686; 125 holding that the lower Court was without power to make an order annulling the judgement of divorce on his own motion, at sec. 226 of the Civil Code of Practice prescribed the only way it could be done, and that was by petition of both parties to the divorce judgment, and such request not having been made, the order of the Judge annulling the divorce, was void and had no effect whatever.
