There is sure to be much agitation of the two-cent-a-mile railroad rate at the coming session of the Legislature and it is just as sure that many members will go off half cocked. A flat two-cent rate for every road in Kentucky will amount to almost to confiscation on some lines. Roads penetrating thickly-settled areas can make money carrying passengers for two cents a mile. Short roads and roads traversing sparsely-settled districts find the two-cent rate unprofitable. These are conditions which should be seriously studied by legislative or other rate-making bodies to the end that justice may be done, both to the carrier and the traveling public. There will be little fellow who will try to make capital out of the fight on railroads but those who hope will be severely set upon. Hostility to railroads is nearly always unfounded, but knowing how deep-seated is in the breast of the average man, many a politician has sought, by pandering to the unworthy sentiment, to ride into power and prominence. The ability to do this should not occur again. The railroads are business propositions and should not be treated other than other institutions. In other words, let them have a square deal and if they do not appreciate it, and seek to balk the public, they will be time enough to put the screws to them. —Frankfort Journal.

By the decisive vote of 430 to 73, the delegates and representatives in session at the Grand Lodge meeting of the Kentucky Masons shortly after noon Wednesday to adopt as an amendment to the Constitution the resolution of James E. Wilhelm, of Paducah, prohibiting the entrance of any person engaged in the liquor business into any of the order's lodges. It has been predicted that the amendment would pass, but it was expected that a large amount of opposition would be met with when it came to a vote. The small amount of objective argument and debate with which the measure was greeted, however, was a surprise to everyone at the meeting. So far, so good, but if some provision had been made compulsory to get rid of those already in, it would have come near filling the requirements, especially with some lodges.

LIVINGSTON

Mrs. J. W. Baker and daughter Mrs. Angeline were visiting U. G. Baker and family at Mt. Vernon Sunday and Monday.—Geo. W. Rice.—Mrs.

George Pope has returned from a very pleasant visit with Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Merritt at Park Ky.—J. W. Baker and Bert Whitehead were in the City this week buying Christmas goods.—Mr. R. C. Webb has moved his office into the Pope office.—Harry Bowman and Bird Cockrell are in Mt. Vernon this week.—Mrs. Mary T. Vernon was in Corbin the latter part of last week.

—Mrs. Ann Owens is on the sick list. The big "boom" which we have been talking about for so long is now on trains stopping here now and more to stop before the year is out. Newmines are opening up all around us lots of work for lots of people, and property that sold two months ago for $400 can now sell for $800 and property that sold for $100 can now sell for $400. All those desiring a home at Livingston had best buy now for two months more will see homes that are now going for six and eight hundred for $2000 easily.

Ben Brummitt is improving his property on Main street recently purchased of W. H. Sigmon.—Miss Lottie Sams has been spending a pleasant week with her grandmother Mrs. Jane Owens.—Mr. Dave Riggle has moved this household goods from Lebanon Junction into the home of his father-in-law, Mr. J. T. Chewning. Mr. Riggle and children and the excellent family of Mr. Chewning have the sympathy of the entire community in their late bereavement. This is fourteenth this family had in the last two years. And while we poor mortals in our ignorance and blindness ask ourselves the question, "Why is such an excellent family and Christian home so completely broken up?" We will in time see the hand of providence in it all, and say as did David of old, "The Lord giveth, and the Lord taketh, blessed be the name of the Lord.—Mr. Jacob Sams' folks in Louisville this week.—Mrs. Rebecca Lucas and children have returned to their home at Boydland, Ill., after spending the summer with her sister, Mrs. Clara Hicks.—W. C. Mullins is having his house on Main street repaired in general.—The county bridge across Roundstone is being rebuilt. This should have been done at least 18 months ago.—Mrs. Elsie Hicks has been very low. She is a little better at this writing.—Misses Ethel Hayes and Myrtle Chewning have returned from a pleasant visit with Mrs. Harry Jenkins at Corbin.—Logan Salter, formerly of this place, but now at Corbin, is at Richmond getting treatment for consumption.

Fontanet, Indiana, was practically destroyed Wednesday by the explosion of the plant of the Dupont Powder Company. The dead number from twenty-five to forty-five. Over 600 persons were injured and every building in the town was wholly or partially leveled to the ground. Where stood a thriving and busy town of 1,000 people Wednesday, now there is ruin and scattered wreckage. The dead and maimed seriously injured have been taken away. Five hundred inhabitants, all more or less wounded, remain to gather their scattered household goods, and keep under tents and on cots guarded by soldiers of the state. Without warning the powder mills seven in number, blew up at 9:15 Wednesday morning. They employ 200 men and of these 75 were at work when the first explosion occurred in the press mill. In quick succession the glaring mill, the two coining mills and the powder magazine blew up followed by the cap mill. In the magazine, situated several hundred yards from the mills, were stored 40,000 keps of powder. The concussion when it blew up was felt nearly 200 miles away. Every house in this town was destroyed. Farm houses two miles away and school houses equally distant were torn to pieces and their occupants injured. A passenger on the Big Four railroad, four miles away, had every coach window broken and several passengers were injured by flying glass.

TELL HOW TO MIX IT. A well known authority on Rheumatism gives the readers of a large New York daily paper the following valuable, yet simple and harmless prescription, which any one can easily prepare at home: Fluid Extract Dandelion, one half ounce; Compound Karsar, one ounce; Compound Syrup Sarsaparilla, three ounces. Mix by shaking well in a bottle and take a teaspoon after each meal and at bedtime. He states that the ingredients can be obtained from any good prescription pharmacy at small cost, and, being of vegetable extraction, are harmless to take. This pleasant mixture, if taken regularly for a few days, is said to overcome almost any case of Rheumatism. The pain and swelling, if any, diminishes with each dose; until permanent results are obtained, and without injuring the stomach. While there are many so-called Rheumatism remedies, patent medicines, etc., some of which do give relief, few really give permanent results, and th

A bill is to be introduced in the next legislature advocating the building a turpentine from the Lincoln county line, to Camlet's Gap, by the State. There is nothing that could be done that would be of more benefit to the mountains. The vast advantages to be derived from such an enterprise can hardly be expressed in words.

After a romantic wedding took place last week when Depts. U. S. Marshal George C. Thompson and Miss Carry Baugh were united in matrimony. Miss Baugh, who is one of the county's most estimable young ladies, had nursed Mr. Thompson's son, Clyde, during his sickness and death, and Mr. Thompson seemed to love her. The result was their happy marriage and their many friends wish them a long and happy career.—London Echo.

The best game of ball played on the Mt. Vernon grounds this season was witnessed Monday afternoon when Mt. Vernon defeated the London nine by a score of 3 to 2. Referee being the Mt. Vernon boys pitched the ball with as much ease as if as few errors as they did Monday. For the London boys we want to say they did their best and played good ball, but it seemed from the first to the last, that Victor C. Tate, who was in the box had been at his mercy.

R. K. POWELL, Sept. 29-31 Mt. Vernon, Ky.

MRS. E. L. THOMPSON DEAD.

Died at her home in our little city Wednesday afternoon, Mrs. F. L. Thompson, aged 45 years nine months and eight days. For more than twenty years, Mrs. Thompson had been in poor health, but not until the last six months did her afflictions become of such a nature as to cause any considerable alarm, either to her self or to her family. All that medical aid could do brought her no relief. The use of the X Rays revealed the fact that the growth in the right shoulder was, the seat of the trouble, which for weeks had caused her such excruciating pain, but in her weakened condition, she was not equal to the operation necessary to remove the cause, which was slowly but surely wearing her life away.

Mrs. Thompson, who was Miss Alza Jackson Fish before her marriage, was the only daughter of Egbert and Ann Fish and on the twelfth day of December 1850 was united in matrimony to F. L. Thompson, to which union was born six children, three girls, Misses Susie and Alza and Mrs. L. R. Hughes, of Stanford, and three boys, F. L. Jr., Jamie and Will, all of whom are living. Besides the husband and children, who are crushed by the great misfortune which has come upon them, she leaves one brother, A. J. Fish, and an aged mother, who is heart broken because of the loss of her only daughter.

At the age of thirteen Mrs. Thompson united with the Christian church at this place and has ever since led a devout, conscientious Christian life.

Well may her children cherish her memory as a precious legacy and we can only say a word of comfort to the stricken ones, we can but let our tears flow in sympathy with theirs and point them to the promise, "At evening shall be light."

Mrs. Thompson remained conscious to the last, and although fully aware that her life was near its close, she manifested no dread but bravely awaited the termination of the struggle. She called for the various members of the family, talked with them of the past, the present and the future, pointed out the road to the evergreen shore, which appeared so plain before her, to each she made some little bequest that must live in their memory and recall her last words of love—her last hopes and wishes—and by a thousand tender cords draw each of her loved ones toward the haven of rest to which she has journeyed, and from that closing scene will come a "still small voice," and as the years go by it will remind them of her Christian hope and trust, and tell them of "a peace that passeth human understanding."

Short services were conducted from the home at 3 o'clock p. m. yesterday, after which the remains were laid to rest in Elmwood cemetery, to await the resurrection morn.

WORK MAKES MEN.
Work makes men. Luck usually fails. Success nearly always wins. To succeed in anything one must overcome obstacles. Force and fiber are built by hardships. Grit is as necessary in the making of a man as gumption. Hardships are not always handicaps. Often they are helps. You will understand this better in twenty years. Men while permit one who has lived that twenty years and more to advise you in this. Hang onto your job until you are sure of a better one. Dependable boys are in demand. And to boys can be depended upon who does not finish the task he sets his hand to. However, like green oak work, do it thoroughly. Do it better than the average boy will do it. In that way you will come to be known as a dependable boy. And mind you this: Men everywhere are looking for capable, honest, gritty dependable boys. The sooner you let people know that you are that kind of a boy, the sooner you will get a better job. And don't be in a hurry to give up the work you already have. Be sure something better is offered. Wait awhile. Do your work well. Promotion will come. And do not envy the boy who has an easy time. You would much better pity him. He has a good time now, but some day he must "make good." While his father makes and his own habits and his many wants, he stands a fair poorer chance than you. Remember above all, young fellow, you are making a man of yourself.

That's the way Electric Bitters affects the aged, and the same happy results follow in all cases of female weakness and general debility. All pany children too are greatly strengthened by them. While the postoffice department proposes to permit patrons of rural mail delivery routes to construct their own boxes, it will require them to be constructed of steel or iron in such a way that they will protect the mail as well as be deposited in them. When a patron has made that kind of a box he will probably be out more in time and money than if he had gone to the store and bought a factory made receptacle for his daily mail.

What to do in Dyspepsia
Dieting has become a great fad in America and just as young age, like an nation, over-eats, so now we are under-eating. The one is as bad as the other. Men need food and plenty of it to sustain life and to give strength to compete in this busy world.
It is not, however, the fact that you may eat the amount that you eat that you don't digest what you eat. The trouble is in dyspepsia you will not get the nourishment that you need. The proper amount of eating and proper digestion is the key to health. You must create an abundance of these necessary acids.

EDUCATE CHILDREN.
Every child has a right to such an education as will qualify for life's duties. This is recognized as a patriotic duty by the state. The permanence of our political institutions depends on the intelligence of our citizenship. "The bayonets of foreign soldiers are less to be feared than are the bayonets of ignorant voters." The welfare of the state depends more on the moral and religious training of her citizens than on their intellectual training, yet the state makes no provision for this moral discipline. In some cases it makes it difficult or even impossible to secure the moral and religious training of the mind at all. There must be training of the individual sensibilities, particularly the will. Not all of this is the duty of the church, but the largest part in the function of home. Every child deprived, by whatever means, of this education and training is defrauded of an inalienable right, and when he comes into the inheritance of his citizenship may be demanded upon to avenge himself on the society that penetrated the fraud upon him. In deference to the views of infidels, atheists and others, the Bible is cast out of the public schools, and all school books are stripped bare of everything that might tend to build up and strengthen the child's moral character. It is cruelty to withhold from children this higher and greater training. Children have rights which the state is bound to respect. It disregards them at its own peril.

APPEAL FOR EDUCATION.

To the Citizens of Rockcastle County:

Do you know the condition of the public schools in your county? Do you know the condition of the school in your own district? If it is not all that it should be, what are you willing to do to improve it.

For some time many Kentuckians have felt that the efforts of our superintendents and teachers must be re-enforced by the efforts of the various auxiliaries of the public schools, and that all the people must be brought closer together in movement for the improvement of the schools.

Why is this necessary? Because teachers and superintendents cannot do it alone, and because our schools are in a lamentable condition. In many cases the houses are not habitable, and yet the children spend a greater number of waking hours there daily during the session than at home. It is cruel to confine them in buildings insufficiently heated, and either unventilated or full of drafts, and with the light from unshaded windows blinding their eyes, and with the seats so unadapted to them that the little children are suspended in midair and the larger ones are cramped for space.

In many cases the sanitary conditions need attention. There are no outhouses, or there are places to rear the main building, or they are so constructed as to make cleaning impossible. They frequently offer no adequate provision for the separation of the sexes, and children who are kept at home from demoralizing conditions, are at the school subjected to obscene influences.

In many schools the simplest educational appliances are lacking, such as black-boards that are really black, maps and charts. The stones need polishing, the windows need mending and cleaning. Walks are needed from school-house door to the road and to the outhouses so constructed that they will not wet, whether become pools of water or beds of mud.

Water buckets are needed, and basins and towels, and hooks for the hanging of hats and coats, and shelves for the lunch baskets. In fact in some places almost everything is needed, if we should have the children spend the school hours in the midst of decent surroundings and in almost every place something is needed.

These are not matters which we can afford to neglect any longer. The effect of these sanitary, unhealthful, frequently vulgar conditions upon the children cannot be overestimated, and can never be educational. In consequence, we are raising up a generation which will not have a fair chance a generation which will not compete with its fellows who have come up under better conditions. We are by our neglect robbing the children of their birthright. They have a right to expect a fair start in life, and we are not giving it to them.

Kentuckians no longer occupy the prominent place in our national life they did one and two generations ago. Our children are being trained as they are in other states. Do you know that the Commissioner of Education's Report places Kentucky forty-second among the states in the descending scale of illiteracy of the white population, and that fifty per cent of her children of school age are not in school. Of those that are, we have seen, the opportunities are very meagre.

And now what is to be done about it? It is certainly time for us to be interesting ourselves in our public schools, for they are the training-place of our future citizens. It is not possible for one man acting alone to do what needs to be done in each district, but it is possible, if the men and women of each district and the teacher and children of the school, all unite in an organization with the definite purpose to make their school what it should be, it is possible for such an organization to metamorphose the school-house into a man acting alone to do what needs to be done in each district, but it is possible, if the men and women of each district and the teacher and children of the school, all unite in an organization with the definite purpose to make their school what it should be, it is possible for such an organization to metamorphose the school-house into a decided some months ago to inaugurate a movement for the organization of a School Improvement League, such as have given such an impetus to the cause of education in almost every southern state except Kentucky.

The plan is to organize Local League around every school in a county, and to endeavor to engage every person in a district in some service for his school; to organize a County League; shall report at stated times, and to send reports and representatives from the County Leagues to the State Committee.

The matter was first taken up by the Educational Committee of the Woman's Clubs of the state, and the organization of twenty-one County Leagues has been pushed under their auspices this summer.

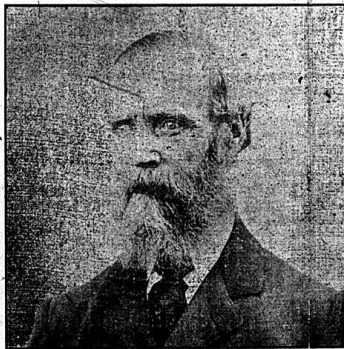

The Kentucky Educational Association at its last meeting appointed a committee to co-operate with the Educational Committee of the Federated Clubs, and also gave reports from the Leagues a definite place on the annual program.

Encouragement and premises of co-operation have come from various organizations, notable from conventions of religious bodies, from the Daughters of the Revolution.

If information is desired as to methods of organization, or as to plans for work it can be obtained from Mrs. R. N. Roark, Richmond, Ky.

HARD TIMES IN KANSAS.

The old days of grasshoppers and drought are almost forgotten in the prosperous Kansas of to-day, although a citizen of Codell, Earl Hamburg, has not yet forgotten a hard time he encountered. He says: "I was worn out and discouraged by coughing, night and day, and could find no relief until I tried Dr. King's New Discovery. It took less than one bottle to completely cure me." The safest and most reliable cough and cold remedy ever discovered. Guaranteed by Chas. C. Davis' drug store, 50c and $1. Trial bottle free.

W. H. COX.

The above is a fairly good likeness of our townsman, W. H. Cox, who to many of our readers will be known. Mr. Cox is a Pennsylvania by birth but came to this county when quite a young man and has since lived among us, much to the betterment and advancement, morally, spiritually and intellectually of every community in which he has resided.

Soon after Mr. Cox came to this State he was married to Miss Matilda Jones, to which happy union were born six children, five of whom are still living and who are an honor to the community and a joy and comfort to the devoted parents in their declining years.

We have always believed that whatever of good we have to say of one, should not be withheld until they have passed into the great beyond, but in a modest way let it be said during life, that they may know that the efforts of a well spent life are fully appreciated by friends and neighbors. Hence we take this opportunity time to pay homage to one who for more than two score years has lived among us and mingled with us and whose works through life have been characterized by only that which is good, true and noble.

Mr. Cox, the subject of this little sketch, is by trade a mechanic, is a member of the Christian Church and a strong believer in the principles promulgated by Jefferson and Jackson and while upon all questions political, religious or otherwise, he has decided views and always takes a firm and bold stand for that which he believes to be right, but always grants to the other man, the privilege and right to act and speak with his better judgment dictated.

Fifteen or more persons were injured, several of them seriously, when a metropolitan elevated train crashed into the rear of a South Side elevated train at State and Van Buren streets Chicago.
