

H. G. EDWARDS WRITES ENTERTAININGLY OF HIS WESTERN HOME

Caldwell, Idaho, Jan. 1, 1908. EDITOR SIGNAL:

So many of my friends have written me for a description of this country that I think it expedient to answer them through the columns of your splendid paper.

Our party of horticen, including Mr. Brooks' father and mine, left Dubuque, Ky., Sept. 23rd, 1907. We arrived at Caldwell, Idaho, Sept. 24th. Tickets cost $3.95 each. Nothing of an exceptional nature happened on the way. Crossing the Rockies was so gradual a rise that we could hardly realize that we were in those great mountains.

Caldwell is a prosperous little city of about 4500 white inhabitants, and no colored ones. It is located in Canyon country in the middle of two river valleys viz. Snake and Boise. These valleys are about 60 miles wide and 100 miles long. There are other cities and villages in these great valleys, viz. Boise, the capital, Payette, Parma, Notta, Nampa etc.

These valleys are completely surrounded by very high mountains. We can look in any direction and see those great mountains with their snowy white covering many feet deep every month in the year except August and September.

These mountains are barriers to the wind, rain and cold. The air from these great heights of snow make this most healthful climate. The melting from the mountain snow supplies all the streams with an inexhaustible abundance of pure water.

These valleys are a great mass of waste desert land until the water from these rivers is run on it then it is that the desert blooms like a rose.

The great orchards of apples, peaches, prunes, pears, apricots, cherries and plums are realizations of Adam's garden and sources of joy and luxury.

I have seen apples that measured 15 inches around and peaches 17. The orchards here never fail to bear a large crop. I have seen more apples since I came here than I had ever seen in all my life before. Ten year old trees bear from 15 to 20 bushels and sell from $1.50 to 2.50 per bushel. Most of the crop is shipped East.

Alfalfa is our principal crop. Three crops each year and three tons to the acre. It is selling now for $7.50 per ton. Making a total of $67 1/2 per acre. Two men can cut and cure for 70 acres of alfalfa and it will bring them $411. Great flocks of sheep are brought down from the mountains in winter and fed here. I have had the pleasure of seeing more hazy and more sheep than I have seen here than I ever saw before in my life.

Land is worth from $100 to $1500 per acre. Alfalfa land sells from $100 to $200. While orchard land runs very much higher.

The government has just completed a great dam for the purpose of irrigating 200,000 acres of land here in this valley. It has all been done by lease deeds has many of them sell their claims these can usually be bought for $10 or $15 per acre. Then the government charge about $30 for water rights etc. which will make the land cost from $40 to $45 per acre. This land will all be worth from $100 to $200 per acre as soon as the water is put on it.

The water is expected in 1908. Farmers, business men and stockmen are all very prosperous in this country. Wages run from $2.50 to $3.50 per day.

I read a great deal of other places about hard times, but we have scarcely felt it here. Our banks are in good condition, and pay cash on all their checks, have never issued a single Bank certificate and don't need to. Plenty of money and it seems to be in circulation.

The people are made up of the very best people from all parts of the world almost. Every state in the Union has representatives here. I have met many Kentuckians.

The people are fully up to date and possess a spirit of brightness, business and hospitality that can not be excelled even in old Kentucky. They enjoy when they look out and see those Easterners coming in on every train. A great many people come here for their health, but many more come to make money.

Our common school system can not be surpassed even in the United States. Nine months of graded schools each year under the ablest instructor that can be had for good salaries.

The water is obtained by digging wells from twenty to sixty feet right in this desert land. Artesian wells are found to grow 200 feet. Sage brush is the only thing that grows on the desert. It is used for fuel. Coal is also used for fuel. It costs about $81.00 per acre to clear the sage brush from the land.

Wheat, oats, barley and rye are the principal cereal crop. Wheat is raised from 35 to 40 bu. per acre. It is mostly spring sown. Potatoes run from 200 to 300 bu. per acre.

We are well pleased with the country people etc. Having better health than we had in Kentucky. The winters are about as cold here and the summers fully as hot as in Kentucky, but it is so dry that the heat and cold seem to have but little effect. People say they never knew a prostration from heat. Horses and cattle grow and fatten in the open field without any barn whatever. Many people live in tents during winter.

The country abounds in wild game. Two days ride brings us into the bear and deer region and many other smaller game. Wild geese, ducks, and quail, jack rabbit, sage hen, kites, and gawk live in many other game are abundant here in the valley.

The writer had quite an experience with a wild cat. The last I saw of the cat was when I followed him to the top of a very tall sycamore tree, this being on the river where trees grow, the cat leaped from the top and hit the ground running at very rapid rate. After the cat was gone a very hard question arose in my mind, which was worse scared in the top of the sycamore tree, the cat or me?

Dear Editor, please allow me to congratulate the Republicans of old Kentucky for the valor they displayed in the last election. My dear Republican friends take the credit for this victory, least upon the merit of this labor. But do not let us sit long to be alert and ready for activity in the National victory that we expect soon to follow.

I wish to thank the many good Democrats who assisted in the Republican victory. Thanking you in advance for all personal favors I remain as ever your old-time worshiper to the Signal and its many readers.

The ten day revival at the Baptist church conducted by Rev. McFarland, closed Tuesday night. He left on the afternoon train Wednesday for Livingston where he will be engaged for the next week. Rev. McFarland is a splendid talker and the more he is known, the better he is liked. He received a very liberal contribution from Mt. Vernon for missions.

Stenographers of the Bank of Mt. Vernon held the annual election of officers Tuesday, when the following were re-elected officers: C. C. Adams, President; J. T. Adams, Vice President; W. L. Ricketts, Cashier; and A. B. Furnish, Assistant Cashier. Directors: Geo. Livesay, S. H. Martin, W. L. Richards, A. T. Fish, C. C. Williams, Robt. Perry and Dr. P. Benton.

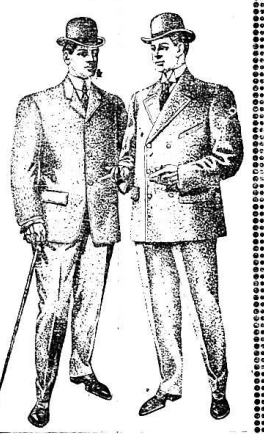

NEW LAW AS TO NEWSPAPER SUBSCRIPTIONS—An order promulgated on December 4 denies to publishers the privilege of sending copies to subscribers at such a price as they may desire. For their violation the publisher will be fined one cent for each four ounce paper sent to a subscriber in arrears for a longer period than indicated will cost the publisher one cent for each. Our subscribers are now that we are compelled to do something of a cash business and they will please govern themselves accordingly.

A plan for drawing trade to Mt. Vernon that has been successfully worked at other points, would undoubtedly prove to an advantage here. The plan is as follows: An agreement was reached between all the merchants whereby they offered special sales on certain days, each merchant selecting some special line of goods upon which he would make a lower price than usual. Thus one dry goods house would sell gloves at a special price, while another would offer bargains in dress goods. One hardware merchant would reduce the price on some article in his line. Every line of business was represented and care taken that no conflict occurred. Prizes were then offered to the farmer bringing in the best wagon load of grain, or the handsomest baby, and the bargain day was extensively advertised in the surrounding country. The names of the merchants and their special sales being in all cases stated. The farmers responded in a most gratifying manner, and the merchants were well pleased with the plan. The idea has been carried out in several towns and we see no reason why it should not prove a success in Mt. Vernon.

20% "Credit Purchase" CLOTHING SALE

George Fredericks Jr. is suffering from a gun shot wound received in the arm a few days ago, caused by his own carelessness. The entire load from a shot gun entered his left wrist causing a very serious wound and one which if it does not cause the loss of his left hand, in all probability, will be deprived of the use of that hand, as about two inches of one of the bones is entirely gone.

John, the bright little two and one half years old son of Jaller and Mrs. O. V. Jarrett, was very seriously burned yesterday morning and grave doubts are entertained as to his recovery. He was in a room by himself standing with his back to the fire, when his clothes became ignited. His screams attracted his father's attention who was in an adjoining room, but before he could reach the little fellow, the back of his dress and underclothes were entirely burned off. Drs. Southard, Davis and Bangh were hurriedly summoned and did all within their power to relieve the intense suffering. The physicians have some hope that the burn will eventually get from his hips to the top of his head, in not deep enough to cause internal injuries.

Some two weeks ago a suit case was lost of the evening stage from Harrods and found lying in the road near Steubenville the next day empty. Last Saturday evening when the stage arrived here it was found that Commonwealth Attorney B. J. Bethurum's suit case was missing and Sunday night two suit cases belonging to Miss Lela Cochran, Judge W. L. Brown, London, were missing. A search was made Monday and the cases were found near Steubenville. Judge Brown said Mr. Bethurum's being empty and a part of Miss Cochran's case. Henry and Chas. Stevens and Ab. Robinson were arrested for the theft and were brought here and placed in jail, their examining trial was held Tuesday before Judge Kennedy—Wayne County Outlook.

MAKE IT YOURSELF.

There is so much Rheumatism here in our neighborhood now that the following advice by an eminent authority, who writes for readers of a large Eastern daily paper, will be highly appreciated by those who suffer.

Get from any good pharmacy one half ounce Fluid Extract Dandelion, one ounce Compound Kargon; three ounces of Compound Syrup Sarsaparilla. Shake these in a bottle and take in teaspoonful doses after each meal and at bedtime; also drink plenty of good water.

It is aimed that there are few victims of this dread and tortuous disease who will fail to find ready relief in this simple home made mixture, and in most cases a permanent cure is the result.

This simple recipe is said to strengthen and cleanse the eliminative tissue of the kidneys so that they can filter and strain from the blood all the poisons, acids and waste matter, which cause not only Rheumatism but numerous other diseases. Every man or woman here who feels that their kidneys are not healthy and active, or who suffers from any urinary trouble whatever, should not hesitate to make up this mixture, as it is certain to do much good and much good, and may save you from much misery and suffering after all.

Some druggists say they will either supply the ingredients or mix the prescription ready to take if our readers ask them.

GOATS AND FARMERS.

The average farmer looks upon the goat as a nuisance; but we doubt if there is a farm in this county but what needs a flock of goats, and this necessity is so great that it is strange the farmers do not keep them. A little observation and experience would convince any man that the goat is the most valuable asset and pays the best of any farm animal.

A dozen years ago we put 8 or 10 goats upon about 5 acres of land, where the briars and bushes were so thick that a person could get through with great difficulty. In three years the land was free from briars and the fourth year not a briar or bush could be seen. Eight years have passed since the goats were put into other fields, and there are no briars or bushes showing up yet, and the field has never been cultivated. They literally eat up briars and bushes, and kill them out; and no farmer can get rid of filth at one-tenth the cost that he can by using goats. What it cost him to have one goat would give him a nice flock of goats that would do the work that plows, scythes and hoes fail to do.

CASTORIA The Kidney and Bladder Remedy. Signature of Chas. H. Potter

It costs nothing to keep the goats. Give them a sage field with briars, and bushes for a change, and they will come out of the winter sleek and fat.

They fence a feet high with a wire on top will hold them. They do not jump over a fence, but they climb over, and the wire prevents their climbing.

They eat but little grass, when they can get briars and bushes; and we have had a flock of 15 to 20 in a corn field the entire summer and they destroyed but little green corn; but after frost they eat the dry corn. The goat will live well where any other animal would starve to death.

We have not said anything about its value as a food. But goat meat costs less and is superior, in the judgment of many, to any meat product of the farmer.

And the Angora goat has great value for its production of mohair.
