Every man or woman here who feels that the kidneys are not strong, or acting in a healthy manner should try this prescription at home and give it a trial, as it is said to do wonders for many persons.

The Scranton (Pa.) Times was first to print this remarkable prescription in October, of 1906, since when all the leading newspapers of New York, Boston, Philadelphia, Pittsburgh and other cities have made many announcements of it to their readers.

It is surprising to strangers to find Egyptian families occupying some of the tombs which have been excavated and abandoned. It seems uncanny to see babies playing cheerfully about the doors of the tomb houses and to watch children running in and out as they do at the mud dwellings. When questioned about the tombs a dragoman said that those occupied as homes had been tombs of ordinary citizens and were of no value as show place for tourists. As some of them have several rooms extending into the rocks, and as they date from the hottest days of summer and warm in the cold days of winter, they are altogether desirable homes. The Egyptians do not share the horror of dead bodies felt by Europeans. Children run about with pieces of mummies and if they cannot dispose of them to tourists they play with them. A mummified foot or hand is so common in Luxor that one may be purchased for a few cents.—Keeley's Weekly.

The United States Supreme Court, in an opinion by Justice Harlan, reversed the decision of Justice A. M. J. Cochrane, in the case of William Adair, The Court held that Adair, as master mechanic of the Louisville & Nashville Railroad Company, had a right to discharge an employe because he was a member of a labor organization, just as it was the employe's right to quit such employment because of his membership in such organization. Such a course, the decision added, might be unwise, but regarded as a mere matter of right, there could be no doubt Congress could not authorize a violation of contracts under the guise of protecting interstate commerce.

Whereas, it has pleased the Great Creator of the Universe to call Brother John Calhoun Childress from life on earth to rest and immortality in the Grand Lodge above, where the Supreme Grand Architect of the Universe presides. Mr. Childers was a devout member of the Baptist church and since he believed in the Lord had led a conscientious christian life.

The burial took place Monday at Old Flat Rock cemetery, by the late pastor of which order he had been an honored member for more than 42 years, having been Master Mason at Richleville, Va. in 1865, denoting a life of timber. If sold before March 31st will be sold at a bargain.

STEWART TULLY.—Lestlight at 7:30 o'clock the marriage of Miss Mae Tully to Mr. Thomas Stewart, was solemnized at the home of the bride, the Rev. J. T. Boone officiating. Miss Mae Tully is the exceedingly attractive daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Tully, of this city, and is popular with a wide social circle. Mr. Stewart, a prominent young lawyer here, is a member of one of Kentucky's oldest families—Jacksonville Journal.

C. A. Davis, extra L. & N. conductor was hurt Sunday and for some time it was thought that his injuries would prove fatal. He was making the trip as middle brakeman, and when hurt was riding on a refrigerator car. On these cars, there is a trap door for ventilation. The wind was blowing from a stiff breeze, and Mr. Davis was forced to lift the run ning board being unable to run along the train, while in motion because of the high wind. This trap door being slightly suspended furnished him a little protection, which he was taking advantage of. The door was finally lifted from its natural position and thrown back striking Mr. Davis on the head, rendering him unconscious, in which condition he was when found by his fellow trainmen. He was taken to the hospital at Lebanon, where it was thought for some time that his condition was serious, but after having time to revive it shock it was found to be nothing more than a severe blow on the head and in a few days will be himself again. "Pity" as he is known among the railroad boys is one of the best men in the service of the company.

James Dyer, Tuesday completed his one year sentence in the pen for striking his brother-in-law, Dock Nicely, with intent to kill. Sheriff T. J. Nicely was on the ground at Frankfort to again take Dyer in charge, when released and bring to Rockcastle to answer a charge of false-swearing. Dyer is now out on bond.

"Jud" Hatcher, the 18 year old son of the late R. B. Hatcher, shot and probably fatally wounded Charley Thompson, son of James Thompson who is 18, about 10. The trouble occurred at Providence church near Level Green. As church was fastening, and Ben Thompson, a younger brother of the boy who was shot, was in fast flight, when Charley called one of the other boys to get him to get away from the place, only from hear say, we should not attempt to retaliate, but from common sense, Hatcher and these shots, not taking effect in Thompson's body, and one striking the wounded boy after he had been taken to a field, was released under 1000 bond.

GET RICH QUICK.

Schemes of this class have again come to grief along with the gullible investors, causing serious loss to innocent business concerns, as is always the case of panics in Wall St.

While this last lesson is yet fresh in mind, it is an opportune moment to consider causes and means to avoid like trouble in the future.

Direct your attention to that greatest of all Newspapers the Cincinnati Enquirer. From its columns one can readily detect the trend of currency, its lodging places, by whom handled, uses made of it, and final results.

Again you read quotations of Bonds, Stocks, and Securities of every nature, fixing Status of all business from the retailer, to United States Government.

Also Current News, facts and reliable data covering the entire world; all sufficiently explicit to enable thinking people to avoid snags and follow the channel of success.

Its extra size and high price, is the secret of its ability to discover, obtain, print and serve its patrons with all the news, and cater to wants of people in every calling of life.

The Weekly Enquirer for the year 1908 has greatly increased its Clubbing offers which now include the most select and popular publications of the day at prices slightly over half the regular Subscription rates.

Do not overlook the fact that the year 1908 promises to exceed in prosperity any of the past, and that the Enquirer printed at Cincinnati, Ohio, is one of the most reliable sources of information.

LEGISLATURE.

trustee or any other school officer. Representative J. A. Sullivan of Madison county has introduced a bill in the house, the first section of which reads: "That any woman possessing the qualifications requisite to a male voter in common school elections, and who, in addition, may be able to read and write, is hereby declared qualified to vote at any election held for the purpose of choosing any officer of schools, or upon any measure relating to schools, and who is without the qualifications requisite for males is hereby declared to be eligible to hold any office now existing or that may hereafter be created by any act of the general assembly."

Several delegates of women have already been to Frankfort in the interest of this bill, but some of the leading Women's club members are working against it. It is predicted that the most stumbling block in the way of the measure becoming a law is the fact that it gives negro women the same right to vote and hold office that it gives to white women.

For the past twenty years or more attempts have been made to reduce the fees charged by stockyard companies, but for some reason all bills introduced in the legislature have thus far failed to pass. Senator R. W. Owen of Hancock county has introduced a bill this session to regulate and reduce these fees and the prices charged for procreator. The senator is a farmer and stock trader himself, and he feels from personal experience that the prices charged by these companies are too high. His bill provides that the price charged shall not be more than 50 per cent higher than the market price of the procreator and that the actual weight of the feed shall be taken and not charged by guess, as seems to be the custom of some of the stockyard companies. This bill will meet with the hearty approval of the farmers and stock-shippers all over the state.

A bill aimed at the drug stores and corner grocery stores that sell whisky has been introduced. The bill does not name the drug stores or grocery stores, but it provides that, one having a license to sell liquor shall not engage in any other business at the same place as sells the liquor. Among the other sections of bills offered the following are the most important:

Act to require an annual appointment and accounting of the surplus of life insurance companies.

Act prohibiting the manufacture and sale of cigarettes in this state and providing a severe punishment therefor.

Act to prohibit the marriage of first and second cousins in this state.

Act to prevent the creation of or overloading beyond their seating capacity of cars provided by railroad companies for the transportation of passengers, and to prevent any increase in rates now in effect or the withdrawal of cars from service in violation.

Act providing for the teaching of the elements of agriculture in the public schools of the state.

Act amending the election law by providing that hereafter the ballots shall have no party emblems thereon.

Act giving the landlaid a superiority on the tenant's crop for the amount advanced to raise the crop, the lien to be superior to all other liens for one year.

The classic old building where the legislature now meets and has met since 1822 will soon be a thing of the past as far as being of service to the state is concerned, and its future makes some provision for its future. Everybody admires and loves the old building for its many historical associations and so anxious to see it preserved for all time and used by the state for some purpose. The most recent suggestion is that it be turned over to the State Historical society and let that organization make a state historical museum of it after the new statehouse is furnished and occupied. Nearly all the other states have a historical museum, and Kentucky should have one by all means. No more suitable building could be found for such a purpose, and the state will have no farther say for it after next year. In this way the ancient building will have a most valuable and interesting future without having to spend anything to get it.

A great many amusing things are told as jokes on the legislators men here from some of the back counties, some of them being true and some of them probably not true. The other day at the hearing house, where one of these rural members was stopping, the housekeeper had apple dumplings for dinner and served them with a very toothsome sauce. The former legislator it seems, had never seen any such thing before, so he had about finished his dumpling the housekeeper asked him if he would have some more. He replied, "Yes, I would like to have some more of that what you call your dumplings."

The new statehouse is being completed, and from the outside promises to be a most beautiful building. The contractors have notified the commissioners that they will complete it approximately May 15, and then the building with desks, carpets and other necessary articles can be appropriated for that purpose. The building presents a splendid view from all parts of Frankfort and will, it is expected, be a source of pride to every Kentuckian as it will be in passing through the city. It is the only one of the kind in the state, and the only one of the kind in the world, and it is being made in not building twenty-five years ago.

A dispatch from Lexington of January 26 says: It is announced here today on the authority of the reporter messes received from a member of the Board of Trustees of Berea College, that the $200,000 which included the $200,000 recently contributed by Andrew Carnegie, and an equal amount which is expected to be raised by subscription, will be devoted to the college exclusively to establishing a great industrial school to educate students on the order of Tussey and Hampton Institutes in Kentucky, and that its location will probably be at or near Louisville or Lexington. This great industrial school, which it is expected will attract a large number of students from the negro population of this and adjoining States, it is stated, will be conducted as a branch of Berea College and will be managed by the authorities of that institution.

Female Weakness

"Last Fall," writes Mrs. S. G. Bailey, of Tonnellon, W. Va., "I was going down by inches, from female disease, with great pain. After taking Cardui, Oh! My! How I was benefited! I am not well yet, but am so much better that I will keep on taking Wine of Cardui till I am perfectly cured."

Despite the envious attacks of jealous enemies and rivals, Cardui still holds supreme position today [as in the past 70 years] for the relief and cure of female diseases. It stops pain, tones up the organs, regulates the functions, and aids in the replacement of a misplaced organ.
