REV. GEO. O. BARNES.
 The death of the Rev. George O. Barnes removed a figure which some years ago attracted a great deal of attention in Kentucky and many other States and countries. Opinions were much divided with reference to him, but little doubt was ever entertained as to his sincerity, and the labors that he performed were stupendous. His last years were passed in comparative obscurity so far as his native State is concerned, and it is probable that the infirmities of age retained the restless activity which so long characterized him.

Mr. Barnes began his life as a regular minister of the Presbyterian church in India was not marked so far as is known by any departure from the standard of his church. While stationed at Staunton after the war, he began to give utterance to certain doctrines which were not in accord with the teachings of the church. Efforts were made to get him to withhold their utterance, but after a time he broke with the church entirely, and set up a free lance. His first protracted meetings as an evangelist after leaving the church was at Lebanon on December, 1876. He attracted great attention by the fervor of his utterances. Afterward he held meetings at a number of other points, and in all of them he made a decided impression, and the number of people who professed communion under his ministrations was very large. His powers as a public speaker were extraordinary.

So far as orthodoxy, according to the symbols of any church is concerned, Mr. Barnes made little pretensions. He was separated from time to time to have given his adherence to the systems of various teachers, mostly men outside of the regular communions, though some of these reports may have been incorrect. It was not possible, however, for his admirers to follow him in any connected system of theology for his changed position from time to time. There were many however who believed in the man, and who were always eager to hear him, no matter what brand of theology he was understood to favor.

Among the ideas of Mr. Barnes was that of the faith cure and his home at Staunton, known as the "Pique Cottage" was long the resort of people seeking relief from a variety of diseases. A large process of time this was given up. Whether Mr. Barnes changed his opinion on this subject or not, it is certain that the faith cure attracted less attention in his later ministrations. His converts consisted themselves with various churches, and some of them with those of the faith cure. It is impossible to say what proportion of them remained true to the professions which they made during his ministrations.

While he will be remembered as a peculiar force in the religious world, it is impossible to say what proportion of them remained true to the professions which they made during his ministrations.

PECULIARITIES OF TELEPHONE AND ITS USERS.

By M. J.
 Voices for telephone purposes are good, indifferent and bad, a bass is clearest and travels farthest; Sheriff McFerron is credited with the best telephone voice in the county, being perfectly clear, even when talking in a low tone, when others are compelled to yell to be heard a few miles. Some voices make one nervous, others are smooth and soothing. Many talk too fast and jumble their words.

Members of a family speak at nearly the same rate of speech and their intonations are so similar it is often difficult to distinguish them apart. The letter 'l' and a sound nearly the same when spoken over the line that is one reason subscribers are asked to make figures separately when calling for numbers especially the fifties and sixties thus: six-one six, five-one 51. If called straight 61 or 51 the operator will just as likely give you one as the other sounding so much alike. It facilitates the service to carry out this rule a little further: double one for 11, triple one for 111 double five for 55, etc. one nine one 10, double one five for 15, seven oh etc.

On rainy days, the number of calls fall off two thirds compared to bright days. It is difficult to get half the callers out on lines to understand the query "Where are you calling from?" They generally reply to the operators' question by repeating the name of the party they are calling for.

It has been found that the mountain people are quicker to catch on and able by telephone instructions and directions than those of other localities. "Molasses catches more flies than vinegar" apply applies to telephone conditions. Don't fly off the handle if things fall to move along as fast as you wish when you are using 'phones.

Those of a nervous temperament often get poor service on account of their irritability and unreasonable-ness. Operators have no monopoly of the molasses supply now carried in vinegar nor have 'fone users. A few minutes wait at 'fone appears to be ten times longer than it really is. Many often declare five minutes to be from one half to an hour.

The idea of distance is vague with many when asked how far they have the party lives whom they wish sent for, they often say "about two hundred yards" when found to be three quarters of a mile. On the other hand telephone stations on receiving a call for a non subscriber has been known to report back that the distance required for a messenger to travel by messenger reaching the party called for would be a mile and a half when in fact it was not more than half a mile. It appears that distance increases or decreases in the minds of the caller and messenger to suit each other and the occasion.

About one third of telephone users remember directions for getting two or more calls through in succession. After finishing conversation of first call they should "ring off," then wait half minute before ringing again for next call etc. Regarding the five minute rule for conversations, some users, when time is called on them will declare they have not been using time more than two minutes, on the other hand had they been waiting five minutes on a call they would have felt that fifteen or twenty minutes had elapsed and would almost feel safe in swearing to it.

CALL FOR JOHNSON
 LOGICAL STANDARD BEARER OF THE DEMOCRACY.

APPEALS TO THE VOTERS.

In His Name and with the Great Good Water is Assured to the Party of the People—
 Why Court Defeat?

Friends of Governor John A. Johnson of Minnesota have issued a letter and a pamphlet that together constitute an address to the Democrats of the country. Both make a strong appeal to Democrats everywhere to elect themselves to see that the Denver convention shall be a deliberate body that will look the field over and choose a candidate who, while representing modern Democracy, can win at the polls.

Dear Sir, You are a Democrat, and it is because you are a Democrat that this is addressed to you, with the feeling that you will exert yourself to give the party one of the greatest elements to its victory, a strong and acceptable nominee for the presidency. The Democracy of the nation have for 12 years been looking down and the belief is general that under the old conditions defeat is certain. For months the party has been drifting along in an aimless convention, where popular choices to be subordinate to personal will.

the party a candidate who, if nominated, can carry more states than any other living Democrat, and who would be practically certain of election. Re-jecting the doctrine of "nominal" we take it for granted that there is no necessity for the raising of defeat to persist on the banners of Democracy in 1908, simply because they do in 1896, 1900 and 1904.

Conditions financial and political are such that we have this year the opportunity of a generation to win the presidency.

If you and the other Democratic leaders of the country will be second to the invitation that the opportunity extended to you by the Democrats of Minnesota, we can escape from the hitting trading of defeat, and rehabilitate the party and the nation by a great political victory next November.

There is still ample time to see that enough delegates are elected to the Denver convention to make that deliberative Democratic body that will give the party new hope and new inspiration and a winning candidate. To this end, we solicit your cooperation and will heartily welcome and consider any suggestions you may offer.

Let Us Try to Win.
 In view of the progress it is not the duty of every loyal Democrat desiring his party's success, if it can be won, to do the bidding of the people, to take judicious and comprehensive thought of the situation and exert himself to the best of his ability to this end, we solicit your cooperation and will heartily welcome and consider any suggestions you may offer.

In one of his messages, Gov. Johnson said: "If the public officers are not adequately compensated now for their services, let the compensation be such an extent as to make it reasonable compensation and do away with the possibility of any other law, a beneficiary of the favor of corporations, and by reason of gratitude be placed under some obligation to the corporation which extends the courtesy." And urged most earnestly the enactment of a law which will forever abolish the system in Minnesota. And it was done.

The name of Gov. Charles E. Hughes was presented to the Republican party as a candidate for the nomination for President by the Republican party of New York in convention. An effort to have the State Convention demand that all district delegates vote for Gov. Hughes until a nomination was made was defeated after a sharp debate. The platform relates almost exclusively to Na-tional issues and besides warmly indorse-ing President Roosevelt's Administration, favors tariff revision, the maintenance of the policy of protection and legislation looking to a more elastic currency.

Beseli Hargis, charged with the murder of his father, Judge James Hrgis, was refused bail after hearing, before Judge Adams, which lasted two days at Jackson. Hargis arrested, and tempted to prove a self defense. Two witnesses testified that they saw Judge Hargis choke and beat the son who shot him.

Senator Forsaker, in a speech before the Baltimore A. M. E. Conference in Washington declared his opposition to a white lily Republican party, and said new parties would be organized if the rights of the colored voter were not considered. The question he said would be settled at the Chicago Convention.

A Mild Laxative For Baby's Bowels

The infant or the child should not be given salt, purgative waters or harsh pills or cathartics when the bowels are constipated, and neither should any medicine be used that contains a narcotic. It is well for mothers to remember that there is no better, gentler or more effective remedy for children's colic, flatulency and bowel troubles than Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. Its purity and mildness make it especially adapted to young people's use. It works gently but surely, and containing, as it does, many tonic ingredients, it not only cleans out the congested bowels, but tones the system and makes the child feel better in every way.

Among the thousands who are using Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is Mrs. Spaulding, of Louisville, Ky., and she writes that the syrup is so "baby" regular and that she would not be without it. She has used it herself for a long time. Mothers will find this an invaluable remedy for colic and every other constipation, dyspepsia, liver trouble, diarrhea, colic, worms, and the various ailments that afflict the young. It is guaranteed to do what we claim, and by its use a child's bowels are kept in a healthy condition. Do not care to eat or sleep, when all that is really the matter with them is constipation. Write to Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin will correct it. Do not give anything but a bottle and see how quickly the child gets well again. It is a safe and reliable remedy for all cases of liver and bowel complaints. A 50 cent bottle has often restored an entire family to health.

FREE TEST These wishing by Dr. Caldwell can have a free sample of Syrup Pepsin before they buy. Write for it. Do not use any other remedy until you have tried this. It is a safe and reliable remedy for all cases of liver and bowel complaints. A 50 cent bottle has often restored an entire family to health.

He will move his family to that point in a few days. James Proctor, who has been located at McHenry, Ky. for several months past, came in home last night in a very critical condition. Rev. Sipple of Loudon, Methodist Evangelist was here Tuesday. Rev. Sipple will organize a Methodist church at this place and preach here once a month in the future.

We would advise every patron of the public schools to read the new school law. It is worth the while of every citizen and especially those interested in the free schools to fully understand its provisions.

Lee Norton, who was given one year in the pen for shooting and wounding Mrs. Arnold was granted a new trial, because of an error in the instructions, by two words being left out by the stenographer in copying.

Our monument man, George Owens, is teaching for and will have two large jobs to go to Tennessee and one to Virginia. George knows his business and is able to give the people just what they want.

Monday night was a glorious event in the history of the Mt. Vernon Royal Arch Chapter. A degree team was present from Lebanon to assist in the work. There were between fifty and sixty five members from various parts of the county present. The Council, which was recently organized at this place, was recruited with eighteen additions on that night. There will be 18 from this county; 10 to Lebanon to take the Commaudery the last of this month.

Mr. J. D. Hamm, of the Glades section of the county, tells a most remarkable story of himself, some thing that very few men have ever been able to say. He is now 63 years old and has never sick in his life, that is to the extent of preventing him from going about his usual business, has not taken a dose of medicine in forty years, never had the tooth ache or head ache, and to day has every tooth in his head as sound as they were fifty years ago. Mr. Hamm attributes his splendid health, largely to the fact that he never eats any thing for supper except corn bread, milk and butter and has not for many years, and never eats any thing between meals.

CIRCUIT COURT:—Circuit Court adjourned Monday. More business was disposed of than any other court held in many years. The Judge let the attorneys know at the very outset, that there would be no "dragging" and there was none. The suit of The Green-Suttons Lumber Co against T. S. Frith for $1500 resulted in a judgement for $1300 for Frith, who presented a counter claim for $2000. The case will be appealed.

Grover Allen charged with bigamy was given three years in the pen. Allen from the facts presented, was innocent of having committed any violation, as it was his understanding that his suit for divorce had gone through and same being granted several weeks before he married the second time. The Judge and Commonwealth's Attorneys have asked the Governor to grant a pardon which under the circumstances, should as we believe will be granted. O. P. Bonitz was given judgement against Fritz Krueger for $125.

Mr. Henry Beatty, of Walnut Grove, Pulaski county was here Saturday looking out a location for his flour and grist mill. Albright & Beatty own the style of the mill. Mr. Beatty purchased the one-half interest of his partner Mr. Albright. There is only one thing in the way, as we understand, preventing Mr. Beatty from ready decision to take in Mt. Vernon and that is a suitable location and a little encouragement on the part of Mt. Vernon. As an evidence of their welcome of such an enterprise. The lot belonging to Mr. D. H. Williams just back of W. M. Poynter's store because of water, is the only suitable location. This lot can be bought at reasonable price and if the town will present the lot, we have every assurance, that the enterprise will be a go, something Mt. Vernon has long since needed. A later report says that most of the money has been subscribed to pay for mill seat and that work of erecting building will be commenced at once as Mr. Beatty expects to close down at Walnut Grove the last day of May.

think if ever two people loved and enjoyed life together, it was these two, but one hope and consolation Sam, is, you can go to her for we all know that she is at rest as she told us all she was not afraid to die. We know there is a place in your heart which can never be filled as it was Gods' will that she was taken from you, and Sam do as you proud her, you will meet her in heaven where parting comes no more. She is now with loved ones rating and watching for you. She was an Orphan, her father and mother both having died when she was a very small child. Her Grandfather, Dock Owens raised her. She was always a sweet, gentle and loving child and Sam, while your heart is almost broken with grief and pain there are others whose hearts are weeping and whose eyes are filled with tears for her. After a very nice and beautiful talk by Bro. G. E. Painter, Altie was laid to rest in the old Sayers burying ground to await the resurrection morn. We should all try to live as Bro. Painter told us, and try to live such a life as Altie has lived and which we come to die we may be sure of a bright and shining crown in heaven. Thou art gone dear Altie, And we missed thee from our home; But we know thou art with angels, In a bright and heavenly home. Written by her aunt. MISS SOPHIA OWENS.

IN MEMORY Mrs. Altie Sayers, formerly Miss Altie Owens, wife of Sam Sayers died on Tuesday, the last day of March. Surrounded by loved ones, the spirit of dear Altie took its flight into the great beyond. She was only twenty five years and a few days old when she died, she was loved by all who knew her. Her enemies were few. Six weeks ago she was taken with a severe hemorrhage of the lungs, and all that loving hands, kind friends and physicians could do, could not conquer that awful disease consumption. She was a noble christian woman; had been married only fifteen short months. The husband is almost prostrated with grief. She

The flames in East Boston gained headway when they struck the big tanks of the Standard Oil Company, where millions of gallons of oil are stored. In a vain effort to stop them the U. S. Marines brought out cannon and bombarded the tanks, emptying all the oil in streams into the harbor. This spread over the water and ignited, giving the appearance of the whole harbor ablaze. President Roosevelt in vetoing a bill, granting the privilege of building a dam in a navigable stream said that an end should be put to the reckless giving away by Congress of perpetual rights to bridge and dam streams, and that Congress should put a time limit on all such grants and arrange for a reasonable change. The homes of 50,000 people in the finest suburbs of Boston are in ruins. Miles of buildings were burned and many killed and injured. The fire commenced in Chelsea and fed by an angry gale which defied all resistance spread to East Boston and Charlestown. AFFORD PERFECT SECURITY. A meeting of the Democratic Committee of the Seventh congressional district has been called to change the date of the primary. J. Campbell Cantrell charged that May 12 had been selected to give W. P. Kimball, the Congressman an advantage in the race and the committee will select a new date late in the summer. It is probable that other candidates will enter the race.

was so run down that life hung on a very slender thread. It was then Bitters. I bought a bottle and I

A WOMAN TELLS HOW TO RELIEVE RHEUMATIC PAINS.
I have been a great sufferer from that dreadful disease, rheumatism, for a number of years. I have tried many medicines, but never got much relief from any of them until two years ago, when I bought a bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Expeller. I found relief before I had used all of one bottle, but kept on applying it and soon felt like a different woman. Through my advice many of my friends have tried it and called you how wonderful it has worked. Mrs. Sarah A.
Cole, 1028 New St., Dover, Del.
Chamberlain's Pain Expeller is a household remedy. The relief from pain which it affords is alone worth many times its cost. It makes rest and sleep possible. For sale everywhere. C. Davis.

SCHOOL IMPROVEMENT
WORK
HOW TO PLANT.
In planting trees, several things must be remembered. First, the holes should be dug deep and larger than the roots which are to occupy them, and partly filled with the best soil obtainable. Second, in digging up the trees, many of the small roots and practically all the root hairs which absorb the moisture have been destroyed. In order to preserve the balance between root and top, the latter must be severely pruned. Otherwise the tree will probably die.
Third, a transplanted tree needs an inordinate amount of water, and should be thoroughly soaked about the roots frequently for several weeks until new root hairs can be developed. Fourth, the ground about the roots, should be cultivated occasionally the first year to a depth of several inches. This prevents the soil from drying out too deeply, yet compels the roots to go down to secure a proper amount of moisture. Mulching with grass or straw is also to be recommended.

The same principles should be applied to shrubs and vines also,
and if these points are observed closely, failure can hardly occur.
Perennials need to be planted in large holes filled with good earth.
Soil in which a considerable amount of vegetable mold or rotted manure has been incorporated gives best results. The roots should be set in a hole which has been dug and well watered after planting.
In winter a coat of well rotted manure should be placed over them to prevent excessive freezing and thawing. This tends also to enrich the soil.

Seeds require good soil, deeply spaded, and care must be taken not to sow them too deep. Fine seeds like Poppy, Parsley, etc.
need much to be sprinkled on the surface, with a little fine earth sprinkled over them. They should be sprinkled with water intervals until they germinate. The larger seeds, as Sweet Peas, Four O'clocks, Sunflowers, etc., should be placed from one to three inches below the surface, and watered thoroughly.
In following the foregoing instructions the novice at planting should be able to secure most satisfying results. The good which would result from the systematic planting of trees, shrubs, etc.
and flowers in all the grounds at our rural schools can scarcely be estimated, certainly not over estimated.

BIBLE KIDDLE
In the beginning God made man of the dust, but thought it best to make him first; so he made my body perfect and complete, without hands, soul or feet; so he did my ways and acts control, for I was made without a soul; then Adam gave my name to me, and from his presence I withdrew, no more ever knew; I did my sinners laws obey, and never from them went astray;
so He something from in me did see, and a put living soul in me; long since He took that soul from me; now I am as I first was made without hands, soul or feet, yet my body's complete; I travel now both light and day, thousands of miles I run in fear, but seldom to mankind appear; I travel now from pole to pole, without hands, feet or soul, no fear of death ever troubles me, happens I never shall see; to heaven above I never shall go, or to the grave or hell below; the scriptures I cannot believe, right or wrong I can't conceive; although in them my name is found, they are to me an empty sound. I now say to all that have my history; Read, go search the scriptures, and you will see, that I do testify of me; that I once had a soul but now have none; this is my riddle and my rhyme, guess it if you have the time.

Mrs. Malinda Akers, of Basham, Va., writes:
"I had what doctors call 'prolapse,' and couldn't stand straight. I had pain in my back and shoulders, and was very irregular and profuse.
