As the result of a little shooting affair between Oscar Bostic and Richard Sowder, aged 15, a son of Dick Sowder, Bostic had Dr. Southard employed several hours Monday evening, picking shot out of his body, a hundred. There were nearly a hundred No. 3 shot hit him but barely buried themselves in the flesh, making the wounds of very little importance. The trouble came up over a partnership between Bostic and Sowder. Sowder says Bostic emptied his revolver at him. The trial is set for to-morrow.

The best ball game witnessed in Mt. Vernon in a long time, was played last Saturday afternoon between Mt. Vernon and Livingston. The score stood 6 to 5 in favor of Livingston. The home boys played fine ball except when they pitched to the bats, what it seemed they were wholly unable to judge in any particular, the balls of Bruner, from London, who was in the box for Livingston. To the splendid work of Bruner and Pike is due the victory for Livingston. The Mt. Vernon boys played hard and did splendid field work. They will try it again July 4.

THEY ARE COMING.

Everything about the man is an encompassing statement, but very appropriate and fitting in making a trite assertion relative to the manifold attractions and diversified features of the J. AUGUSTUS JONES SHOWS' CONGRUITY. The statement is liberally and abundantly of imagination and even finer, after seeing these Greater Shows there will be no subsequent indictment for exaggeration or perversion of the truth. Figuratively speaking the J. AUGUSTUS JONES SHOWS' have spread a disease over the amusement and zoological universe and hailed in the ropes have made a scientific assortment of the great catch, retaining all that was wonderful, striking or sensational, and cast away the refuse. If you are a man who has been overlooked, by most, be not exclusive of imaginary. Every avenue of possible innovation has been traversed. Every field of possible feature has been ravaged.

Aggrandisement and progression were the watch word; originality the slogan and the date at Livingston is Monday, July 10, Jones Endurms Shows.

Electric Bitters regulate the digestive functions, purify the blood, and impart renewed vigor and vitality to the weak and debilitated of both sexes. Sold under guarantee at Chas. C. Davis' drug store.

Mr. C. J. Cobin, a traveling man at Lexington, met a tragic and singular end in Louisville, Saturday, while handling a diamond edge cutter which was on exhibition in a cigar store. He died a few hours after the snake had bit him.

NO HUMBUG. No humbug claims have to be made for Foley's Honey and Tar, the well known remedy for coughs, colds and throat troubles. The fact that more bottles of Foley's Honey and Tar are used than any other cough remedy is the best testimony of its great merit. Why then are you asking some unknown preparation when Foley's Honey and Tar cost you no more and is safe and sure? Sold by Chas. C. Davis.

Justice John M. Hurlan Monday celebrated his seventy-fifth birthday anniversary.

Mrs. S. Joyce, Claremont, N. H. writes: "About a year ago I bought a bottle of Foley's Kidney Remedy. It cured me of a severe case of kidney trouble of several years' standing. It certainly is a grand good medicine, and I heartily recommend it." Sold by Chas. C. Davis.

J. C. ADAMS,
Mt. Vernon, Ky.
Phone in residence and stable.

Nature has provided the stomach with certain natural fluids known as the digestive juices, and it is through these juices that the food we eat is acted upon in such a way as to produce the rich, red blood that flows through the veins of our body and thereby makes us strong, healthy and robust, and it is the weakening of these digestive juices that destroys health. It is our own fault if we destroy our own health, and yet it is so easy for any one to put the stomach out of order. When you need to take something take it promptly, but take something you know is reliable—something like Kool for dyspepsia and indigestion. Kool is pleasant to take, it is reliable and it is guaranteed to give relief. It is sold by Chas. C. Davis.

NEWS OF KENTUCKY

Tersley Told Information Concerning Matters of Current Interest to Kentuckians.

THE STATE NEWS IN A NUTSHELL

Here Are Found Accurately Detailed the Happenings of the Largest Import Which Are Attracting Attention Throughout Kentucky.

Dixon, Ky., June 3.—The race riot which occurred March 14 at Providence, a village near here, had a sequel early Sunday morning in the lynching of Jake McDowell, a negro, who was accused of being one of a party of negroes who killed one traveling man and wounded another. The lynchers appeared at the Dixon jail, where McDowell was confined awaiting trial, about 2 o'clock in the morning. There were but ten men in the party, all of them save the leader being masked. A few shots brought the jailer to the door when he was overpowered and compelled to open McDowell's cell. Mounting the negro on an extra horse, the party proceeded out of town, two shots being heard when they reached open country. The negro was shortly afterward found dead by the roadside, having been stabbed and shot twice.

THE MYSTERY CLEARING

Confession Made in Court in Case of Nepton Hazzlett.

Frankfort, Ky., June 3.—The mystery which surrounded the death of Newton Hazzlett, the prominent young farmer of Shelby county, who was found dead on a hillside a week ago with two bullet-holes over his heart, was explained in the Shelby county circuit court when Walker Duncan, a neighbor of Hazzlett, a well-known farmer and member of the Law and Order League, confessed that he killed Hazzlett, believing him to be a night rider about to burn his tobacco barn.

The confession of Duncan followed the filing of indictments by the grand jury charging Duncan and Riley Harris with killing Hazzlett. Both men were in the courtroom at the time the counts were returned to the court. When the body of Hazzlett was found, two chambers of his pistol were empty and a pair of wire-cutters were found in his pocket. Duncan was released on a $5,000 bond and Harris gave a $2,000 bond to answer to the charge of murder at the next term.

NIGHT RIDERS INDICTED

Bills Returned at Frankfort for Raid on Elmberg Store.

Frankfort, Ky., June 3.—Nineteen indictments have been returned by the Shelby county grand jury in the night rider case. That grand jury sitting session and more indictments are expected. The indictments returned were the outcome of an alleged visit by a band of night riders to the general store of Hall Bros., at Elmberg, several months ago and the destruction of tobacco canvas they had for sale.

BEACH HARGIS TRIES SUICIDE

Son Who Stew Father Attempts to End His Life.

Jackson, Ky., June 3.—Becky Hargis is in jail here awaiting trial for the murder of his father, Judge James Hargis, attempted suicide by morphine. The doctor, who worked over him for several hours, announces that he will recover. Allen Cheek, now on trial for murder, drank a pint of whisky containing strychnine and is in a precarious condition.

Pardon for Mrs. Hollowell

Frankfort, Ky., June 3.—Governor Wilson has granted a pardon to Mrs. Mary Lou Hollowell, before her trial for the murder of her husband, under indictment charging her with being accessory to scraping tobacco plant leaves in that county. Mrs. Hollowell is the wife of Robert Hollowell, who secured a judgment of $5,000 in the United States court at Paducah against a number of well-known farmers, who were accused of shooting up his home.

Night Rider Suits Compromised.

Paducah, Ky., June 2.—The Hollowell night rider damage suits here compromised, the plaintiffs receiving $115,000. A few weeks ago in the United States court, Robert Hollowell obtained a verdict of $35,000 against twenty-one alleged night riders of Caldwell county, who were accused of raiding his home and compelling him and his family to flee from the state to save their lives. He sued for $50,000 and his wife and son for a total of $75,000.

Pooled Tobacco Bets for 15 Cents.

Henderson, Ky., June 3.—Two thousand heads-ups of stemming district association tobacco have been sold in Liverpool at 15 cents a pound by General Manager William Elliott. The sale involves 2,400,000 pounds and will net $360,000 to the farmers of Henderson and Webster counties. This sale closes up the pooled crop in five counties.

DeWitt's Little Liver Pills are sold by Cass C. Davis.

ILLINOIS PETROLEUMS

Systematic Comparison Being Made by Geological Survey.

Springfield, Ill., June 3.—The importance of a systematic comparison of the different varieties of crude petroleum occurring in the United States is receiving full recognition in the United States Geological Survey, where an examination of certain oils from the new Illinois field has just been completed.

In February of this year the survey sent an agent into the Illinois field to collect representative samples for the oil, the localities being selected in conference with Dr. H. Foster Bain, the state geologist. These samples were shipped to Washington, where they were examined by Dr. H. T. Day, who has charge of the oil investigations. The samples were examined as to color, odor, and specific gravity, and then distilled by the oil fraction distillation apparatus, the quantity distilled up to 150 deg. C. being placed in a flask, and that between 150 and 300 deg. C. as burning oil. The determination of the sulphur content of the oils was made in the Pittsburgh laboratory of the survey.

The method used in these experiments has been selected because of their simplicity, which enables them to be carried rapidly to completion, and the treatment of all the samples in precisely the same manner affords a basis for a just comparison of the oils. The first series of tests oils from 24 pools were examined, and tests on 104 samples collected in April in the mid-continent field are now under way.

The oils range in gravity from 35.5 deg. B. in the deep wells (150 feet in the Bridgeport pool to 22.3 deg. B. in the Duncanville pool. Some of the shallow wells (300 feet) in the north end of the field also yield oils as light as 35.5 deg. B.

No oil was found with more than half of 1 percent of sulphur, and this only in the extreme north end of the field. Paraffin content of the oils averaged one-fourth of 1 percent and the oils are acceptable as non-sulphur oils. The percentage distilling below 150 deg. C. ranged from 1.02 to 1.25 percent, and the average is 1.12 percent for the state. The burning oil averaged 31.2 percent.

Most of the oils contained practically no asphalt and considerable proportions of paraffine wax.

COTTON SEASON LATE

Not Only That, But the Acreage is Millions Short.

Memphis, Tenn., June 2.—At a meeting of the state presidents of the Farmers' Educational and Co-operative Union, the total acreage of cotton in the state as of May 30 was estimated at 5,282,000 acres, as compared with 5,311,000 acres in 1907, a decrease of 29,000 acres. This estimate is compiled from reports received from all the cotton-growing states.

According to the reports, the season is on an average fifteen days late, and it is not believed that adequate estimate as to the quality of the stand and the possible yield can be made for thirty days, should no further damage occur and it is regarded as certain that little cotton will mature for ginning in September.

Reports to the National Cotton Growers' association up to May 21, show the average, condensed in the following table: 1908, 31,357,000 bales compared with 32,560,000 last year, or a reduction of 1,203,000 bales, or 3.7 percent. The average stand is 89 per cent and the crop average thirteen days late.

Reports from the boll weevil district state that the weevil is beginning to appear, but it is too early to make a definite estimate as to the quality of the stand and the possible yield can be made for thirty days, should no further damage occur and it is regarded as certain that little cotton will mature for ginning in September.

We know of no one, who is enjoining a more bountiful harvest, from deserving efforts than the subject of this brief sketch. Mr. Chandler is a native of North Carolina, and came to this state about a dozen years ago. He first located at Broadhead this county, where for several terms he was principal of the Broadhead public school and during the winter months conducted successful private schools. After leaving Broadhead he located at Pittsburg, accepting a position as traveling salesman for the Nolia Milling Co., for whom he has worked up a splendid trade, not only throughout the territory in Kentucky but also Virginia and Tennessee. Besides this he has acquired valuable holdings in coal and timber lands which return him a handsome dividend. In addition to this, he is also one of the largest stockholders in the Pineville Telephone Co., who are now stringing the copper wires from Middleboro to Lancaster. In connection with the Basin and other independent lines of the State, Mr. Chandler has many warm friends in Rockcastle who will be delighted to know of his splendid success and good fortune.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

We are authorized to announce G. T. HENNING as a candidate for the position of County Clerk, subject to the action of the Republican party.

To-morrow is the day, when the Democrats of the county are called to meet in Convention at the court-house in Mt. Vernon, to select delegates to the State Convention which meets at Lexington June 11th. We hope to see a goodly number present. Every indication points to the fact that this is Democratic year all over this great land of ours.

EMMETT LOGAN, for many years a brilliant writer on the Louisville Times has decided to turn to his old love and write a newspaper at Bowling Green, known as the Daily Messenger. Mr. Logan has swayed between the rural life of the farmer and the more stirring, exciting life of the editor, and again he is unable to resist the temptation of printers ink. Such a man and such a writer belongs to journalism and is welcome to the ranks—Ed.

The most accurate figures which can be gathered on the status of the delegates so far elected to the State convention show that of thirty States and territories which have elected delegates 481 are instructed for Bryan, 27 for Johnson, 11 for Gray and 163 uncommitted. 677 delegates have been elected, hence Mr. Bryan has 71 per cent. instructed for him. It takes 688 delegates to nominate, so Mr. Bryan only gets 187 more. That he will easily get this is apparent from the list of States which hold conventions beginning at Fort Worth, Tex., on May 26 and ending in Burlington, Vermont, June 26.

Lexington, Ky., June 3, 1908.—Lexington is making extensive preparations to entertain the State Convention and no effort will be spared to assure the comfort of every person who attends. The whole city is taking the greatest interest in the matter and all of the details are in the hands of committees composed of representative citizens.

There is every prospect now that the convention will be the largest in the history of the Democratic party in Kentucky. A large proportion of the population of the Blue Grass section easily reached by interurbans and steam railroads will turn out and reports come from every section of the State indicating an unusually large attendance.

One of the most encouraging features of the situation is the fact that there is a disposition in every part of Kentucky for the Democrats to get together, bury all their factional differences and unite in a great Democratic victory. The Republican convention recently held in Louisville was marked by a bitter struggle between the two factions. Nearly half of the seats in the convention were contested. It is now probable that there will not be a single contest in the Democratic convention to be held in Lexington. Reliable information from those parts of the State where there was the greatest danger of factional strife is to the effect that the factions are getting together and the convention will be the largest not only the largest but the most harmonious ever held by Kentucky Democrats. Lexington and Lexington Democrats are particularly interested in having not only a harmonious convention but a large attendance. Elaborate preparations are being made to insure comfortable quarters and abundant restaurant facilities. Nobody who comes to Lexington need fear that there will be any trouble about a comfortable place to sleep or any lack of opportunity for good meals at reasonable prices. Lexington is particularly anxious to do her part in a creditable manner, and the matter has been taken up in such a way as to insure the most thorough preparation. Special pains will be taken to provide for the comfort and convenience of the newspapermen. A special press committee has been appointed and ample facilities for reporting the convention will be provided. Special effort will be made to see that every newspaperman has comfortable quarters.

Mt. Vernon, Ky., May 31, '08. "There is a way that can stretch right into man, but the end thereof is the ways of death."

This way is always brilliant and enticing at the entrance; it bears above its portals the inviting word, "pleasure," and it is a great enjoyment to all who enter there. Those who enter never think of danger. The thousands of unsuspecting girls led into lives of shame by the seductive influence of beerlooms, never dreamed that there was danger in the splendid place where the lamps shone bright over fair women and brave men, where a sweet arose with its voluptuous swell soft eyes looked love to eyes that spoke again and all went merry as a marriage bell. And yet investigation proves that by far the greater number of the fair women of our land date their degradation from the ballroom and the dance. The brilliancy of cut glass, polished mirrors and sparkling liquors of the fashionable saloon speaks nothing of the poverty, delirium and death which lie at the end of way. The debauchee treads and when the sparkling winecup held in the fingers of a beautiful woman with sparkling eyes and winning tones invites him to admit to drink; who could see mirrored in the crimson depths, wrecked homes, broken hearts and doomed souls.

The Apostles were accused of turning the world upside-down; but some things in the world when turned up-side-down are really right-side-up, and "red rum" is one of these things, it looks so innocent, so tempting, so inviting, but when you turn it around or spell it backward you have it spelled correctly, its real name is murder. Not only does it lead to bloodshed and crime, but it has in it the murder of manhood, the murder of honor, the murder of home, the murder of the soul; and yet I saw a lady beautiful and fair with witching smile inviting an admiring youth to drink of such a cup which she held out to him, for when he would not drink she thought him weak, unmanly and a coward. Oh, to think that woman, last made and fairest of all God's creation, having power to lead man captive as her will though he be strong as Sampson should ever penetrate her power to destroy, if devotees who come to worship at her shrine. To think that having power to make a barren spot on earth like heaven for a man she would drag him down to hell. Such is the way that seemeth right into man. Study this carefully, for if my grid is rapt up in ore, some throw away the apple for the core.

Probably the most peculiar commitment ever made at the Eastern Kentucky Lunatic Asylum, at Lexington is that of James Stivers, of Madison county, ordered to the asylum for life. Later—the asylum authorities state that according to law they are not permitted to carry out the sentence, and if the patient ever recovers he will be returned to the Richmond authorities who may do with him as they see fit.
