DOG TAX LAW
UPHELD BY APPELLATE COURT.
The constitutionality of the "dog tax law" enacted by the General Assembly of 1906 was upheld this morning by the Court of Appeal. Judge Barker writing the opinion. Chief Justice O'Rear, Judges Mann and Carroll dissent. The case at bar is that of W. Glone, Sheriff against Womack, on appeal from the Carter Circuit Court.
After disposing of the objection to the law that it violates section 51 of the Constitution is its title, the court holds that it is not a violation of sections 171, 172 or 174. It holds that the law was intended for police regulation and not a revenue statute. Declaring that dogs are appropriate subjects of regulation under the police power of the State, the court says, this "is established by an overwhelming weight of judicial authority, and unquestionably it is entirely within the power of the Legislature to prohibit the ownership of dogs at all. We do not think it can be doubted that if it is competent for the Legislature to prohibit the ownership of dogs, or to prohibit them running at large, it is also competent to impose any other regulation which in its wisdom is best adapted to promote the sheep industry."

We are authorized to announce FELIX BOWMAN as a candidate for County Clerk, subject to the action of the Republican party.

HARMONY PRESERVED.

The Lexington convention last week was one of the most harmonious gatherings ever assembled. Everybody was willing and ready to let the past be the past and join hands with each other in an united effort to regain that which was lost and to win with increased energy...

Mr. Chairman, Ladies and Gentlemen: It is indeed a great pleasure to me to again face an audience of Kentucky Democrats. It is a greater pleasure to see such a magnificent gathering of representative Democrats of this State, and to see such unbounded enthusiasm among them.

My friends, an injustice has been done me if anybody has believed that I sought for myself any favor at the hands of this convention. Believing, as some of my friends did, that my candidacy for temporary chairman might be of some service to the interests of the Democratic party...

Powers and Howard have been pardoned and so far as the law is concerned, are free men for which they have been held prisoners for the last eight years.

BRVAN already has 25 more instructed votes than necessary to nominate. Twenty-five more electoral votes next November, than necessary for a choice, will sound lots better.

Kentucky have had enough that. Nothing shall come from my lips during this campaign; nothing shall be done by me during the proceedings of this convention that would throw the slightest obstacle in the way of a united Democracy or in the way of the triumphant election of our splendid leader, William J. Bryan.

There is nothing that I seek for myself. The Democratic party of Kentucky has done enough for me. It has done, it may be for me more than I deserved, and all that I ask of a Democratic convention all that I ask of my Democratic brethren in Kentucky, is the privilege of a private citizen of rendering my humble services to the influence of Democracy and to the support of the party. Let us have harmony, let us send delegates to your National Convention instructed to vote for William J. Bryan.

Twelve years ago in these very Chautauqua grounds about this time of the year a Democratic convention was held and delegates were sent to Chicago for the next year, and delegates were sent to Chicago for the next year, and delegates were sent to Chicago for the next year...

Let your deliberations, therefore be wise and conservative; let me say anything or do anything to break the harmony that you seek to exist upon this occasion. Let us all join hands together, no matter what may have been our differences in the past so that Kentucky, by every tradition, by reason of its citizenship, its manhood, and its womanhood...

Now, my friends, I believe, that I can no longer trespass upon your time. The committee which you have named should meet as soon as possible and deliberate upon the work that the convention may organize and do its work, I say, therefore, I cannot longer delay you and interfere with the work of these committees.

REPUBLICAN CONVENTION. The Republican National Convention was called to order in Chicago at noon Tuesday and temporary Chairman Burrows delivered his keynote address. Aside from the demonstration when President Roosevelt's name was mentioned there were few evidences of enthusiasm. An effort by the Ohio delegation to start a demonstration for Secretary Taft evoked only a few scattering yells from outside delegations and spectators.

Upon each occasion when it has been successful it has been due to the treachery and defection of Democrats. Surely the people of passing on contests and the latter hearing arguments over various points of the platform.

Slam-roller methods continued to prevail when the contest was taken up by the Committee on Credentials. The Kentucky contests, after two hours of argument were quickly settled in favor of the Taft delegates. The vote on the First district contest was 14 to 4 in favor of the Taft men, and this was fair index to the results generally.

The question of a nominee for the vice presidency is still up in the air. The only pronounced feature of Tuesday's conference was an apparent strengthening of the boom for Gov. Cummins of Iowa. This was due to meetings of the Iowa delegation in the interest of harmony, and these meetings are said to have developed the fact that only three men on the delegation were opposed to the plan to name an Iowan as the candidate for second place.

The injunction plank in the platform caused long debates. Senator Long of Kansas, one of the members of the Subcommittee on Resolutions, said the plank would declare against summary action by the courts, without recommending anything that would lessen the dignity and prerogatives of the tribunals as established by long practice.

The absence of Senator-elect W. O. Bradley in the Kentucky delegation at the opening of the convention caused comment among the National leaders. Senator Bradley has been a prominent figure at National conventions for years and was generally at the head of the Kentucky delegation.

Mrs. Lucy A. Clark, of Utah, the only woman delegate to the convention, defied her position on woman's suffrage clearly. She has the backing of her delegation for the injection of a plank in the party platform calling for the National enfranchisement of women.

LIVINGSTON

Mr. and Mrs. Jerome Adams and son Helton were visiting relatives and friends in Corbin last week. Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Ledmons and little daughter Elizabeth were in Louisville last week. Carter Dugger has returned after a few days spent in Louisville. C. H. Hanson, manager of the Livingston Lumber Co., has returned after being absent for some months and informs us that their mill will resume operation about July 1st, which we are pleased to hear.

Well the Mt. Vernon Ball Team came down Monday and threshed our boys badly. Our boys could not interest them. The game was called in the morning on account of score keeper R. S. Albright becoming weary in marking up scores for the Mt. Vernon boys they having made 31 runs and our boys only 7. This is even games as our boys beat them two weeks ago. So let us have the deciding game boys and then scalp them proper.

Miss Emma Burington was in Mt. Vernon visiting Tuesday. Miss Grace Wilson, niece of Mrs. J. E. Woodall left Wednesday for Los Angeles Cal. where she will enter school.

Miss Lucy Lee Mahan the young lady Evansville and her father Mr. Lee Mahan took supper with Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Wright at the Eight Gables Monday. Miss Mahan will go from London to Louisville the first of the week and has promised to stop over and preach at the Christian church on Sunday night on her way to Louisville. Mrs. Eberlin and Mr. Pollard of London were guests of Miss Lida Cook Monday and Tuesday. Mrs. H. C. Rice is repairing her cottages on High street which adds considerably to their improvements.

L. M. Westergaard was in Louisville last of the week. The Clark Circus which was billed for the place Friday 13th did not materialize in account of the exorbitant license which our town board exacted of them which we are told was $25.00 which looks to the public was done to freeze them out which they were successful in doing during in their reason for so doing that it takes all the money out of town. Don't be selfish boys and want it full because you have the authority to grind your axes upon the public's grindstone. Don't abuse that authority by wearing out the grindstone. Bearing remembrance that you were elected by the majority of the people to make good judgments relative to the best interest of the majority and not to your own individual selves and if it is your intention to freeze the nuisances, as you call them, out we suggest that you begin at home and put the ice to them and be sure, you will have not our dissenting voice against your actions in freezing others out. But let us treat the public with the courtesies due it and not be deceived by the public's discrimination.

Mrs. J. B. Eberlin and Mrs. Earnest Pollard, of London, were down to attend the funeral of Mrs. Graves. Mrs. Lee Mahan and daughter, Miss Lee, Mrs. Evangelist, also of London, and Mr. and Mrs. Hardin, of Harrison, were here upon the same mission. That grim reaper, death, visited our city Sunday evening and at 2:30 o'clock with that devouring eye, cut the little thread of life which lured us in the majority of the spirit of a true and faithful wife, a kind and loving mother and a devoted sister. And to those beloved sons, daughters, husband, brother and sister we would say, we know it is heart-rendering to give up the one whom you loved so well; but, oh! what a suffering soul it is to live with the remembrance of all pain and suffering which only left you here for a little while and has gone on before to the one who for all who live as this sister lived and die as she died. She was a member of the Christian church and ever lived in the love of God. We are proud to send all of the bereaved relatives our heart-felt sympathy and adoration. Let us live as upon this earth that when they come to cross the DR' river of death, that they may be able to say, "It is finished I have fought the good fight and I am now ready to go and join that great number in that position above where all is beauty and all is love. The funeral services which were conducted by her cousin, Miss Lucy Lee Mahan, were as sweet and as appropriate words of consolation as ever fell from mortal lips after which the remains were laid to rest in the Graham burying grounds to await that bright and gladsome resurrection morn.

How to Cure Constipation

Very few people altogether escape a disorder of the bowels. You may catch cold, or eat, over-drink, worry too much, exert too much or do a hundred and one other things that result in constipation or costiveness. When the trouble comes it is well to know what to do. It is the opinion of thousands there is no better cure for constipation than Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, which anyone can obtain for 50 cents or $1 at a drug store. We all have constipation occasionally, and the sensible thing to do is to have a bottle of this remedy always in the house. You take it at night on retiring, for example, and when you wake up in the morning at your usual hour's rest you find, sure as you are, that you are free from constipation, and the sensible thing to do is to have a bottle of this remedy always in the house. A. H. Bastin, of Lancaster was in Middleboro during the week looking after the interests of the Kentucky Lumber Co's lines that are being built from that point to Lexington. This line will pass through Mt. Vernon over the poles of the home company.

Ivan Martin, son of Mr. and Mrs. S. H. Martin, is at home with his parents for a few days, before leaving for Lynchburg, Va., where he will accept a position. He attended school at Berea last year and it has not been said, that he has not imbibed any of the strong compounds characteristic of so many young men.

Mrs. Chas. Montgomery, of St. Louis, Mo., is at home with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jasper Rickels.

Joe Brown, a son of the late J. N. Brown, returned yesterday from Lexington, where he graduated a few days ago from the Bible college and is now invited to word Rev. before his game. Rockcastle has never produced a nobler or better boy than Joe, and we certainly hope for him the very best, in his chosen profession. He will very likely go to Texas to locate.

R. L. McLEERON, S. R. C.

No home is complete without the presence of a child. No heart is lonely that is full of father and mother love. To watch the growth of a child and see it develop day by day is the greatest pleasure accorded to mortals. This pleasure has just fallen to the lot of Congressman Ed. Mrs. Don C. Edwards, of London who are rejoicing at the arrival of a bright and handsome baby boy, at their home, born the 15th instant and christened Don C. Jr.

Assistant Cashier A. B. Furnish spent Tuesday and Wednesday on his farm near Pongo in the Southern part of the county. He tells of a most thrilling experience which he had while descending one of the slight slopes leading down from his most valuable and beautiful blue grass meadow, (which elevation is only about 85 degrees), the front wheels of his buggy struck a small washout which are told by others is not more than a foot or four feet deep, and caused the buggy to completely change ends, going over the top of the horse, resting up-side-down, with horse's head toward buggy. Remarkable incident that such an accident should occur with such little provocation, but still more remarkable that horse, buggy and driver escaped unharmed.

It is remarkable how some people, who want the world to think they are strictly alright. He tells of some cases are reliable except with newspapers will try to avoid paying their newspaper accounts. A thousand excuses are offered why they should not pay the bill; some say they did not get the paper, yet we know they received every issue and would make a special trip to the postoffice paper day to get it; others refuse to take paper out of office thinking that will furnish excuse for refusal to pay up the unpaid subscription when they are arrears for two or three years, and others are kind enough to write a postal saying "stop my paper, don't want it any longer" but haven't anything about the unpaid subscription. Should we publish a list of those who use such tactics, there would be many disappointments. The editor of a newspaper has to live as well as other people; it costs money and big money to get out a paper and give the merchant who sells the goods and wares a reasonable length of time, we need and want what is due us.

Mr. W. H. Hasty, known as Col. Hasty, received some very serious injuries Tuesday from the effects of which his recovery is somewhat doubtful. Col. Hasty who is getting well up in years, was riding down a very steep grade when his horse fell, throwing him to the ground and the horse rolling over him. One arm was broken, the other seriously mashed and several bruises about the body was the result.

Master Jake Williams, of Somerset, who is here visiting relatives, became ill a sudden illness which came upon him, was the occasion of a considerable excitement Tuesday morning. Soon after he had eaten his breakfast, he went to a small cherry tree, just back of the Williams residence, climbed it and was eating cherries. Soon his aunt Mrs. Fannie Adams stepped out and seeing him lying on the ground, rushed to him, and to her great surprise found him speechless, and apparently in a very serious condition. He was carried to the house and Dr. A. G. Lovell hurriedly summoned when it was soon discovered that he had only fainted. In less than an hour Jake had recovered sufficiently to tell the story of how it happened, stating that while he was in the tree gathering cherries, he turned blind and fell off. He was soon alright and out on the streets going as if nothing had happened.

Calvin Powers, who was pardoned Saturday by Gov. Wilson, returned to East-Courthouse Monday. He was greeted by a big crowd of citizens headed with a band. Powers made a speech at the courthouse, during which he said the blood of a man was on his hands. He said he had no apology to make for what he had done at Frankfort and that $500 had been spent in his fight for freedom.

Taft was nominated for President on first ballot.

Members of the railroad commissions of Ohio, Indiana, Wisconsin, Michigan and Illinois met in Chicago June 12, decided to form a permanent organization and discussed measures for abolishing four considerable evils in railroad conditions in the States named. The dishonesty of railroad conductors, the appalling number of railroad deaths, the accidents at grade crossings and confusing varieties of signal systems were among the topics considered. Committees were appointed to make special studies of each of these subjects.

The discussion on the pocketing of fares by conductors brought out the opinion that this evil has largely increased since the passage of the two-cent fare laws. It was declared that because these laws forbid the collection of a greater amount than two cents a mile, thus doing away with "conductors' rates," that many passengers do not buy tickets before boarding trains. The commissioners were of the opinion that the only correction for the evil is the passage of laws allowing collection of greater fares than two cents from passengers who do not purchase tickets.

Nature has provided the stomach with certain natural fluids known as the digestive juices, and it is through these juices that the food we eat is acted upon in such a way as to produce the rich, red blood that flows through the veins of our body and thereby makes us strong, healthy, and robust; and it is the weakening of these digestive juices that destroys health. It is our own fault if we destroy our own health, and yet it is so easy for any one to put the stomach out of order. When you need to take something that is promptly, but take something you know is reliable—something like Kodol for dyspepsia and indigestion. Kodol is pleasant to take, it is reliable, and is guaranteed to give relief. It is sold by Chas. C. Davis.

Electric Bitters regulate the digestive functions, purify the blood, and impart renewed vigor and vitality to the weak and debilitated of both sexes. Sold under guarantee at Chas. C. Davis' drug store. 50c
