PUZZLED THE APPLE GIRL.

A buxom gal of 22 kept an apple stand near the entrance to the Brooklyn bridge. One day a pleasant-looking middle-aged man, with iron gray hair, bought one of her fine pippins, which he cut in two, with the result that she was puzzled. The gold piece rolled out from the core. "Ah," said he, "these are gold pippins you sell! May I have another at the same price?" She had not breath to reply. Taking silence for consent he cut another apple, when a $10 coin dropped from it. Recovering from her amazement the woman refused to sell any more to him, but began cutting her apples on her own account. After destroying about twenty and finding nothing, she desisted, greatly disappointed.

The gentlemanly purchaser was, after some haggling about the price suffered to pay for another apple, and Mary's cousin was again flabbergasted by a golden coin being found within it. A crowd by this time gathered and several persons recognized in the purchaser our old friend Herrmann, the eminent presiding judge, and all enjoyed the awe-struck bewilderment of the woman. She was about to cut another pippin on her own account when Herrmann offered to show her how to accomplish the feat. Lending her his own knife he used a little magic power, and on opening the apple she found her labors rewarded with a $5 gold piece. This Herrmann allowed her to keep in return for his joke.—New York Press.

John Stiles, of Owensboro, appointed special Commonwealth's Attorney to prosecute John W. Kelly, charged with misappropriating trusts funds, filed an affidavit when the case was called Monday setting forth that owing to the lawlessness existing in the county it is impossible for the State to obtain a fair trial, and charging that Kelly is a leading member of the night rider organization. The affidavit was in support of a motion for a change of venue.

This is what Hon. Jake Moore, State Warden of Georgia, has to say for Kodol for Dyspepsia:—"B. C. De Witt & Co., Chicago Ill.—Dear Sirs:—I have suffered more than twenty years from indigestion. About eighteen months ago I could not digest a crust of corn bread and could not retain anything on my stomach. I lost 25 lbs. in fact I made up my mind that I could not live but a short time, when a friend of mine recommended Kodol, and I consented to try it to please him and was better in one day. I now weigh more than I ever did in my life and am in better health than I was many years ago. Kodol did it. I keep a bottle constantly, and write this hoping that humanity may be benefited. Yours very truly, Jake S. Moore, Atlanta, Aug. 10, 1904."—old by Chas. C. Davis.

RELIGIOUS.

The Rev. Edward H. Edwards, pastor of the Epworth Methodist Episcopal church, took the laymen to task in a sermon Saturday night the subject of which was, "Is There Any Room in Heaven for Lawyers?"

Mr. Edwards divided the obnoxious lawyers into four groups, the corporation lawyer, the Police Court lawyer, the roustabout lawyer and the slyster. He assailed the slyster or divorce lawyer whom he designated as a moral culture living on the lust of sinful men and women. He pointed out the crimes committed in the name of the law and bitterly denounced the corporation lawyer who he said makes it his business to know how to evade the law.

The Police Court lawyer, who lives off the mistakes and sins of the unfortunate and who prosecutes or defends regardless of guilt or innocence according to the size of the fee, he said would find no place in heaven. The roustabout lawyer he said lived by stirring up trouble and he declared if such person manages to get into heaven his first business would be to attack the title to somebody's mansion in the skies.

The Rev. Dr. J. M. Waldron pastor of a negro church at Washington, in a sermon charged that negro officeholders at Washington were being threatened with dismissal unless they found means to stop the pastors of the churches to which they belong from preaching political independence to their congregations.

Uncle Joe Cannon last fall entertained a constituent from the State that is famous for its corn as well as Caneels.

The guest found deep satisfaction in every dish that was set upon the hotel table, but the statesman was entirely engrossed in a huge platter of boiled sweet corn, to which the rest of his dinner served only as a relish. Ear after ear of corn was turned adroitly beneath the Speaker's teeth, and the countryman gradually forgot his own appetite in gazing at this process.

"Joe," he blurted out finally, "I wish you would tell me in confidence what it costs you to board here."

"Oh, a matter of $5 a day," his host replied, picking up a fresh ear of corn in place of a mutilated cob. "Now, don't you think Joe, the farmer's remark showed that you could get a good deal more reasonable rate at a heavy stable."

Followers of Timothy Woodruff in New York are said to be much disturbed at Gov. Hughes' announcement that he would accept a renomination. It is possible that the Republican machine will decide to defeat him and bring about a disastrous factional fight within the party.

Delay in commencing treatment for a slight irregularity that could have been cured quikly by Foley's Kidney Remedy may result in a serious kidney disease. Foley's Kidney Remedy builds up the worn out tissues and strengthens these organs. Commence taking it today.

Mobs at Willemstadt Saturday demonstrated before the residence of the Venezuelan Consul and surrounded the German consulate, where the Venezuelan Consul had taken refuge. Later the Consul was escorted to his own consulate by armed troops and removed the official papers. Troops are now patrolling the streets and guarding his residence and the consulate.

ABOUT MT. VERNON

If you cant boast dont knock. Push for your home town, get against it.

We have a good town and its getting better all the time. All stand together and pull for the good of our town and county.

Dont make a nuisance of yourself by running down your home town.

Keep your eye on the man that has no good word for his town. There is something wrong with him.

A look around our town will convince anyone that things are, moving along decidedly better than the years gone by.

There is plenty of work here for every one! No excuse for loafers or to go away to hunt jobs. Plenty of them right here.

There never was a town organization had but its criticisms, some probably just, but mostly cancelled for if the situation was properly studied and understood.

Loafers clubs have been disbanded; unable to find any further excuses for dodging work or holding their organizations together.

A steady growth has marked Mt. Vernons progress for the last seven years. The last two years has shown an increased activity in all lines of business enterprises, building streets and other improve ments.

That petty jealousy that existed in the past between our business men is now almost wholly absent. Each desires success to all instead of wishing less competition.

EVANS—Alter two weeks illness death claimed the spirit of Captain A. H. Evans aged 70, Sunday night July 26th at his home in Brodhead.

Capt. Evans was a veteran of the Civil War and served with distinction as a captain of an Ohio company from the place of his nativity. After the war he took up law as a profession and successfully practiced until he moved from Zanesville, Ohio, to a farm near Mt. Vernon, Ky., where he followed farming many years as well as practicing his profession. He later moved to Brodhead and was appointed post master where he gained the reputation from post office inspectors as being one of the best in the state if not in the republic. He was a pleasing speaker and was a force in politics. Was a man of honor and had the confidence of the people. The burial took place Tuesday afternoon in the Baptist churchyard at Brodhead, under the charge of the Masonic fraternity.

Two brothers survive him: Theo. W. Evans, a retired business man of St. Jo, Mo., and George E. Evans, Vice President of the L. & N. R. R. There are four daughters and one son. One daughter, Mrs. Anna E. Miller, is post-mistress at this place, and the son, Nate Evans, is train dispatcher at Knoxville for the L. & N.
