A STATE MAKES APPEAL FOR AID

Northeastern Minnesota Hard Hit by Forest Fires.

CHISHOLM IN FLAMES' PATH Prosperous City of the Mesaba Range in northeastern Minnesota on the Mesaba range, and birching over thousands of acres in St. Louis, Carleton and Itasca counties in Minnesota and the northern portion of Douglas county, Wisconsin, the county forest fire which have been raging in these districts have been checked, and if the wind does not spring up again it is not likely that further damage will be great.

When the strong wind which had driven the flames before it in many timbered and agricultural districts subsided, the thousands of homeless people were given a chance to take stock of their belongings and prepare to replace the many burned farms and settlements and the once flourishing town of Chisholm, sixty-five miles north of Duluth.

The subsiding of the wind enabled the inhabitants of Hibbing and Nashuak to save their towns. Several buildings at the edge of Nashuak were burned out by a rain-strewn night with the 1,000 miners and citizens prevented the flames from sweeping over the village. The town was entirely surrounded by a wall of fire and its escape from obliteration was remarkable. There is little timber adjacent to Hibbing, and although forest fires common about the village, the few inhabitants had only a few acres of lumber to protect the village. Chisholm presents a scene of ruin and desolation. Blackened piles of charred wood, little heaps of gray ash strewn by the fitful breeze, scorched and blackened bricks and mortar, comprise what was one of the most flourishing towns in the great Mesaba iron range.

The only remaining buildings are the new $125,000 high school, the grade school, the Methodist Episcopal church and a dozen dwellings in the neighborhood parts of the town. The damage to property is estimated at $1,200,000 and to personal property at three-quarters of a million dollars.

Hibbing, five miles west of Chisholm, afforded accommodations to about 4,000 refugees from Chisholm. The Duluth, Minnesota, fire started a car of tents from Duluth for Hibbing on receipt of a message from Mayor Witzel, W. J. Chicago, vice president and general manager of the road, said he would trust, tens and supplies necessary to Hibbing as fast as needed, and a white city has sprung up on the environs of Hibbing. Foodstuffs will not be needed, as the merchants have large stocks on hand. An order from Duluth has been placed for what is desired.

THOUSANDS HOMELESS

Swept by Flames.

Rawhide, Nev., Sept. 9.—Three thousand people homeless, $1,500,000 of property lost or over $750,000 is the result of a disastrous fire which started in the Rawhide Drug company's building. Ranned by a gale, the fire swept rapidly south and east to Ballou avenue and by Rawhide city unto within fifty yards of the People's hospital. A lever, a ton and a half of dynamite was used in demolishing buildings which in a measure stayed the flames' progress. The volunteer fire department and 600 military workers heroically, but on account of the inflammable construction of the buildings, they were swept away like paper.

Young Boy's Horrible Confession.

Louis, Ky., Sept. 9.—Alonso Kelly, fifteen years of age, has made a confession to the sheriff and prosecuting attorney implicating John Sprout in the burning of the home of Charles Cooper in Lawrence county, near this place. Two small children were burned to death. Mr. Cooper was probably the man who started the fire. Mrs. Cooper and her children were discharged for life as the result of the set of incendiaries, which was committed on the night of Aug. 23. Sprout, who is a man of middle age, was removed from the county for safe keeping some days ago in a mob barn and was kept there as well as the usual suspect. Young Kelly confides Sprout as the guilty one in the crime, which was the only one of its kind in the history of this county.

NEW LAW INVOKED

Kentucky Tobacco Buyers Find Themelves in Trouble.

Lexington, Ky., Sept. 9.—Promoters of the Equity Society are making trouble for the violators of the anti-stale tobacco agreement in Kentucky. In Owen county Florida Gray sold a half interest in his crop of tobacco, which the Equity Tobacco Society claims is pooled. His sons and brother were arrested and held over to the grand jury. The purchasers of the tobacco, T. T. Vannandingham and Landrum Fortner were arraigned on a charge of buying the pooled tobacco. They were held to the grand jury. It is the first instance in Kentucky where the new criminal law has been invoked against these violators. Vannandingham and Fortner claim that they did not know the tobacco was pooled.

Moonsheers Arrested.

Frankfort, Ky., Sept. 9.—United States Marshal W. M. Mays has arrived here with five moonsheers to await the action of the federal court. Marshall Mays said that the construction of three of the most notorious illicit stills in the Kentucky mountains. In forming connections with seven others with the sale of the illicit brew was secured, which will result in convictions. Marshall Mays says that several more of these moon sheers were openly sold in moonshine whiskey on the roadside on their way to school.

Kentucky Mob Disputed.

Louis, Ky., Sept. 9.—A mob of 200 persons, including a number of the county jail here at night, demanding John Sprout, accused of burning the residence of one of the county judges Charles Cooper at Cherokee, several days ago. Anticipating a call from a mob, the sheriff had a few hours before transferred the prisoner to Cattletburg. The members of the mob were marked to search the jail to verify the latter's statement.

Merritt of Stockholders.

Lentville, Sept. 9.—At a meeting of the Henderson railroad stockholders the following officers and directors were elected: President, W. F. Merritt; M. H. Smith, W. L. Mappother, J. H. Ellis, Harry Weisinger, Otto Mark, W. Marshall Smith, Oscar Penley and John L. Helm; president, Attila Kelly; vice president, W. L. Mappother; secretary, Blaisey Carno, and treasurer, L. W. Botta.

BROWN MEMORIAL SCHOOL

Brown Memorial School Building and Langdon Dormitory are undergoing some slight repairs and changes, but will be ready for school, Sept. 16th, and the teachers are looking forward with pleasure to their work.

A number of applications have been received at Langdon Dormitory this week. A few more scholarships have been received and are ready for those, who first apply. Langdon Industrial Home was established by the Home Board, through the generosity of Mrs. Langdon, to provide for deserving young people an opportunity for a Christian education. The price of board and tuition for the year is one hundred dollars, twenty five dollars to be paid by the pupil in money, or labor, the other seventy five is supplied by scholarships from Brown Memorial Church and other friends who count it a privilege to invest money in Christian character, enabling the young people thus helped to become a blessing not only to the community in which they live but to the nation as a whole. For the nation's safeguard is in its Christian citizens and many we not claim, even more, in its educated Christian nonkeepers?

Let us all encourage our young people to take advantage of these opportunities. The scholarship examination, Sept. 3rd, was very well attended, but nearly all of the twenty three contestants were from Mt. Vernon.

While we were glad to see so many taking an interest, we were sorry so few of the precincts of the county were represented.

Excellent work was done by most of those who entered, the general average being 82 1/2 per cent. Eighty out of the twenty three had no misspelled word in any of the papers handed in. Such creditable showing is deserving of special mention.

We were sorry to be able to give a scholarship to such contestant. All were successful in that they made the effort and did their best. All honest effort carries with it its own reward.

Those receiving scholarships are: Iva Davis McCoy, Jennie Morrow Miller, Ethel Davis, John D. Henderson, Bernice Langdon, with a few still under consideration.

WILDIE

Mrs. Henry Wood who has been very sick the past week is slowly improving. Mr. Harry Chastee and family who have been in Colorado for some time have returned to this place where they will probably reside. Mrs. Minnie Bransman is on the sick list.

CASH WHEAT.

Various developments that tended to send wheat prices booming appeared last week, and as a result September made a net gain of 3/8c. December 1/2c and May 3/8c. Wheat started its ascent Tuesday morning, when the shorts in September when the victims of a gentle but firm application of the "squeeze process" administered by the Armour people who are said to control the cash wheat.

A few of the best posted brokers advanced the opinion that the Armour house was taking advantage of the small supply of contract wheat in this market to engineer a deal that may prove distressing to the shorts. Deliveries on September contracts were only 525,000 bushels. The wheat was put out by several leading houses, and some of it changed hands many times. It was the popular opinion that the Armour would secure control of the bulk of it eventually.

The congestion in September wheat, due to the heavy purchases by the Armour interest, became acute and an excited movement on the part of the shorts, who had become frightened, sent the price up in a lively manner. The reluctance of a good many shorts to believe that an attempt would be made to engineer a "squeeze" at the height of the crop-moving period, made it all the more possible to carry out that program.

THE SULTAN OF TURKEY.

Abdul Hamid, sultan of Turkey is a strange mixture of bravery and cowardice, cunning and simplicity. So much has been written that to obtain anything like an accurate idea of his real character is almost impossible. Like most autocratic monarchs he goes about in a body-guard of assassins, and it is said that he spends as much as $900 a night to have his bedroom securely guarded. The Sultan's mistrust of his subjects has some times led to curious results. A few years ago he was on his way to the mosque, when he suddenly noticed that some new telegraph wires had been stretched across the roadway. No one to this day knows what he thought would happen, but he gave orders for the royal procession to halt and messengers were sent off post haste to the telegraph company to fetch men to cut down the wires. After considerable delay this was actually done, and then the Sultan and his retinue proceeded on their way. Not content with merely having the wires destroyed, Abdul Hamid also commanded that they were on no account to be replaced.

The Sultan's love of ruling was once exemplified in an extraordinary manner. He had purchased a parrot, of which he grew very fond and he spent many hours in teaching it to speak. There was an apt pupil and he learned to imitate his august master's voice to perfection. One day the parrot was hanging in its cage in the Sultan's private apartment when it suddenly called out the name of His Majesty's favorite attendant. The latter came at the summons, but Abdul Hamid flew into a towering passion. Teasing the unfortunate bird from his cage, he killed it on the spot, then turning to the frightened servant he said: "Understand that in future only my voice shall command here!"

But Abdul Hamid has a softer and altogether nobler side to his character and those who know him intimately have spoken eloquently of his kindness. His own dread of physical pain has made him thoughtful of the welfare of others, and he has had a hospital built which is kept up entirely at his own expense. This hospital is principally for the use of women and children, but any one eligible for admission and every patient is treated entirely free of charge. Even foreigners and strangers are admitted and the whole concern is run on the most up-to-date lines.—Chicago News.

LAME BACK.

This is an ailment for which Chamberlain's Pain Balm has proven itself of valuable aid in almost every instance it affords prompt and permanent relief. Mr. Luke LaGrange of Orange, Mich. says: "After using a plaster and other remedies for three weeks for a bad lame back I purchased a bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm, and two applications effected a cure." For sale by Chas. C. Davis.

SUDDEN ATTACK OF DYSENTERY CURED.

A prominent lady of Brooklyn, N. Y., writes so inquires when she can obtain Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. She says: "While staying at a ranch in South Dakota I was taken ill of what seemed to be cholera. They gave me some of this medicine and I cured me. I bought a bottle of this medicine and it cured me. I brought a bottle home with me and have just used the last of it. My mother was taken suddenly ill of dysentery and it helped her immediately." For sale by Chas. C. Davis.

HOW TO GET STRONG.

P. J. Daly, of 1247 West Congress St. Chicago, tells of a way to become strong. He says: "My mother who is old and was very feeble, is deriving so much benefit from Electric Bitters, that I feel it my duty to tell those who need a tonic and strengthening medicine about it. In my mother's case a marked gain in flesh was secured, insomnia has been overcome, and she is steadily growing stronger." Electric Bitters quickly cures indigestion, stomach, liver and kidney complaints. Sold under guarantee at Chas. C. Davis' drug store. 50c.

Alanzo Kelley, a lad 15 years old, made a confession at Louisa Sunday, in which he admitted that in company with John Sprone he set fire to the house of Charles Cooper on the night of August 18. During the burning of the house two children were cremated and Charles Cooper was fatally burned. Mrs. Cooper and another child were disfigured for life.

PASSED EXAMINATION SUCCESSFULLY.

James DeMoube, New Britain, Conn., writes: "I tried several kidney remedies, and was treated by our best physicians for diabetes but did not improve until I took Foley's Kidney Remedy. After the second bottle I showed marked improvement, and five bottles cured me completely. I have since passed a rigid examination for life insurance." Foley's Kidney Remedy cures backache and all forms of kidney and bladder trouble.

PLANTS AS ANIMALS.

SON OF CHARLES DARWIN SAYS THEY HAVE MEMORY, HABITS AND MOODS.

Francis Darwin, son of the author of "The Origin of Species" and who delivered the Presidential address at the opening of the British Association at Dublin to day is the first historical President of the association's annual meetings for 40 years. Few more imaginative and more original speeches have been delivered from the Presidential chair than his, though the scientific audience shook their heads.

Mr. Darwin says he appeared as the champion of a lost cause—the doctrine of the inheritance of acquired characters.

His arguments was that plants must be classed as animals in a way they respond to touch. He advanced proof to show that plants have memory, can develop habits, and behave differently according to what we may call their mood. He went so far in fact, as to argue that there is in plants something quite comparable very nearly to the nervous system in animals, and he asserted that plants are quite sensitive to certain agencies as animals, and quite as capable of telegraphing from one part of the organism to another.

"We must believe," Mr. Darwin says, "that in plants there exists a faint copy of what we call consciousness in ourselves."

Growth itself, in his view, was a sort of habit, made possible by memory in the cells, so that growth could be changed at any period of its progress by the surroundings, if not by a sort of free will. These changes in growth are remembered by successive generations, and in this way, among the plants and lower animals. At any rate, acquired characters are not only can, but must be inherited, if that is to have any meaning.

A PAVING INVESTMENT.
Mr. John White, of 38 Highland Ave., Houlton, Maine, says: "I have been troubled with a cough every winter and spring. Last winter I tried many advertised remedies, but the cough continued until I bought a 50c bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery; before that was but gone, the cough was all gone. This winter the same happy result has followed; a few doses once more banished the annual cough. I am now advertised, and Dr. King's New Discovery is the best of all cough and lung remedies." Sold under guarantee at Chas. C. Davis' drug store. 50c and $1.00 Trial bottle free.

An event of world-wide interest was the 80th birthday anniversary of Count Toisto, the Russian Government and the Russian Church promulgated orders against any public celebration of the event.

When you have a cold you may be sure that it has been caused indirectly by constipation and consequently you must first of all take something to move the bowels. This is why I have made Chamberlain's Laxative Cough Syrup so successful and so generally demanded. It does not constipate like most of the old-fashioned cough cures, but on the other hand it gently moves the bowels and at the same time heals irritation and allays inflammation of the throat. Sold by Chas. C. Davis.

Attack of Diarrhoea Cured by One Dose of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy.

I was so weak from an attack of diarrhoea that I could scarcely attend to my duties. When I took a dose of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. It cured me entirely and I had been taking other medicine for nine days without relief. I heartily recommend this remedy as being the best to my knowledge for bowel complaints.—R. G.
