Little farm in Nebraska with no income except that of a platform speaker, and not as much even as a clergyman to bestow the site on his parish today, influencing the course of more than seven millions of voters and shaping the destiny of the greatest republic the world has ever known. It is his own, it is leadership—the highest, broadest, most comprehensive leadership ever known in the politics of nations. Twice defeated for the Presidency, his name is now more famous than any other name in the human file at this time. Then any leader living or dead. Mothers consecrate their duty by pointing out their sons to Bryan; old men, whitened in the seasons of struggle and boys just girthing on their armor, pronounce the name of Bryan as the most illustrious and powerful champion of human liberty.

Why is it? We do not know. History furnishes no explanation. Precedents are looking up in vain. The past brings nothing to account for the present in the matter of the popular belief in Bryan.

The nomination of Judge R. G. Williams as a candidate for Commonwealth's Attorney of the Kenton district, is good news to the Judge Williams' many warm friends in this county. The Judge is a hustler and when he goes after a thing goes to win.

Miller Bros., 101 Ranch West, recruited entirely from the 101 Ranch, at Bliss, Okla., will appear in Stanford, Monday, Sept. 21 giving two performances and inaugurating the day with a free street parade and free show of the grounds.

The Miller Brothers enter the show business last year when the directors of the Jamestown Exposition urged them, as representatives of the cattle-raising business, to give an arctic illustration of the features.

Never enthusiastic over Bryan and rather disposed to advise criticism, we never counted among the Bryan worshippers and we will not be so counted to-day. This, however, can prevent us from regarding Bryan as he is to-day and stating the opinion thus formed openly and above board.

The like of Bryan has never appeared in this country before. His greatness has grown upon the people, and, to day, he stands before them the most powerful American who ever rose to eminence, either upon his own merits or through the heritage from somebody else.

Without office, without patronage, without wealth, Bryan has more influence in the United States today than five men that could be named, including both Roosevelt and Mr. Taft.

Some say he is loved like Clay was loved; others that he has magnetic power over the hearts of his partisans as Blaine had, and more counted that he is revered. But the truth is, that neither the case of Clay nor that of Blaine furnishes a parallel.

Kodol will in a very short time, enable the stomach to do the work it should do, and the work it should do is to digest all the food you eat. When the stomach can't do it, Kodol does it for it, and in the meantime the stomach is getting stronger and able to take up its regular natural work again. Kodol digests all you eat. It makes the stomach sweet and it is pleasant to take. It is sold here by Chas. T. Davis.

Associated with the Miller Brothers in their great enterprise is Edward Arlington, who was for many years one of the chief lieutenants of the late James A. Bailey, owner of Barium and Bailey show. It is upon him that falls the 'show business' end of the enterprise.

Uncle Sam Walks on Stars So Can You

When it comes to economizing, in some ways, Uncle Sam beats them all. He believes that it pays to buy the best. Now, if there is anybody that is hard on shoes, Uncle Sam's soldiers are. Just think of what an expense it must be to furnish his soldier boys with shoes. If you want to get a good shoe, let a soldier wear it. That would be a sure test. Uncle Sam is now buying "Star Brand Shoes".

The STAR BRAND SHOE is the Best Made

You don't have to take our word for it. Take their record. "Star Brand Shoes" have been on the market ten years. Last year was the tenth year. The sales amounted to ten million, forty-one thousand, three hundred and eighty-five dollars and sixty-five cents. You know last year was the year of the money panic. In addition to this there was a big shoe strike. In spite of all these difficulties the Star Brand Shoes have forged ahead. Two years out of the ten, their shipments increased over two millions of dollars. No other shoe company can boast of such a record.

Why Such Wonderful Success?

It is because these people own and operate ten shoe factories. Where other shoe companies least factories and buy shoes in the open market and put their brand on them, the "Star Brand" people make the shoes they sell. Fifteen thousand merchants sell these shoes and over three millions. American people wear them. If you are not a member of the Three Million Club, we want you to join. If you want to do like Uncle Sam, economize by buying good shoes, you will walk on stars. Every "Star Brand Shoe" has a star on its heel. Every shoe with a star on its heel is sold under a guarantee.

He had two opponents but when they found out how strong Judge Williams was they withdrew claims and rolled their sleeves for him. Now if the democrats will elect him, we predict they will, the Kenton district will have an officer who will do his duty it matters not who it helps or hurts. The Democratic Committee for the Fourteenth Circuit Court district met at Frankfort and called a primary election on November 14 to select nominees for Circuit Judge and Commonwealth's Attorney. DEMOCRATIC OPPORTUNITY. This is the year in which Republicanism is going to lose; the party is split wide open. But an opportunity of success is not by jumping into the crack of their split. No, we shall land safely by jumping over the entire carcass. Why are we going to win this time? Simply because dinner pail is growing emptier and emptier; the laborers are seeing "Bill" Taft and "Jumbo," Sherman clearer and clearer; the "niggers," are hating Taft worse and worse; Democratic prospects are brighter and brighter. The "Sun" of success will be up and shining high above the horizon of the past long before the arrival of the 10th of November, and Democracy's victory of 1908 will put to shame the Electoral College of 1903. Conclusively, the pendulum of success is swinging towards Democracy, while the hands on the face of time are pushing Republicanism slowly off the face of the Government timepiece. Democrats all along the line should be up and doing. -Horne.

How the malefactors of great wealth and their friends, the framers of the Chicago platform, which has Mr. Roosevelt's approval, will chuckle as they read the following definition given by Mr. Roosevelt of the true reformer: 'The true friend of reform in the face of business, is the man who steadily preserves in righting wrongs, in warring against abuses, but whose character and training are such that he never promises what he cannot perform, that he always a little more than makes good what he does promise, and that, while steadily advancing, he never perails himself to be led into foolish excesses which would damage the very cause he champions.'

MR. BRYAN'S TIDAL WAVE

West in Revolt Against Republican Party.

GUARANTY OF BANK DEPOSITS

Issue Making Thousands of Votes For Democrats in the Agricultural States. The Taft-Forker "Reconciliation" Light on a Famous Incident—Democratic Outlook in the East.

By WILLIS J. AMBROT.

Certainly never was a national campaign opened so tardily or pressed so faintly. This criticism applies equally to the Republican and the Democratic organizations. Two hundred yards from the room in which I am writing are the western headquarters of the Republican national committee, established with a fine comprehension of the fitness of things in the Harvester building, owned by the harvesters of trust. A whole floor of this building is occupied by the "branch" headquarters. It is populated by typewriters and clerks, who sit all day swapping stories and smoking cigarettes. About once in ten days the illustrious Hitchcock drops in, looks visa, gives out an encouraging interview and rushes forth to Hot Springs or to the national press bureau of Washington, though wholly unprepared, begun under my management, and this work is done less than two years ago. The bureau of organization, under the direction of John W. Tomlinson, an Antislavery notable prominent in the organization of clubs throughout the country. And apropos of this matter of club organization I wish here to urge all who desire to co-operate with the national committee, to communicate with Mr. Tomlinson at the headquarters in the Antislavery Annex, this city, and receive the necessary instructions and blanks.

A Financier's View.

Don't let the "big" bankers or the "small" metropolitan bankers, or the "pill" chasers from the fire for those banks debate you with the idea that all financiers are against the Democratic plan for the guaranty of bank deposits. For example, the president of the Bankers' National Bank of Kansas City, Kan., addressed some time ago letters to all the bankers of Kansas, asking their opinion of the plan. In a reply of August 27, 1907, he replied. Of these eighty-seven, or three-fourths, were in favor of the plan. The others were noncommittal, and only twenty-five were opposed to it. No wonder the Republican state convention, in its open defiance of the Republican national convention, adopted it as its own.

But more in a statement to the New York Times Mr. George H. Coffin, a former deputy comptroller of the currency, takes an altogether different paper on its attitude toward the plan for protecting the people's savings. As to the authorship of the measure he writes:

And Mr. Bryan is not the only advocate for the plan. It was proposed by Mr. Fowler, Republican chairman of the committee on banking and currency, introduced in 1907, which provided for the guaranty of all individual deposits, all deposits, all deposits and all government deposits without discrimination or preference. This bill was referred to the banking and currency committee, which on the 10th of February, 1907, favorably reported to the house on Feb. 10, 1907. So Mr. Bryan is not unique in his advocacy of this bank deposit guaranty.

What Mr. Bryan, Mr. Fowler, merchant and depositor generally want is something which will prevent a repetition of the kind of catastrophe which occurred when the business of the whole country was paralyzed. The "rearrangement" of last October, but how long the depositors have their funds tied up where they could not use them? And who can measure the suffering and hardship caused by the bank failure in New York city last fall?

Why the West Revolt.

This issue has made the greatest advance in the great agricultural states of the middle west. To one who has traced the history of the government's action during the twelve days' bank panic of October, 1907, the reason for the present attitude of a great many who will enable the depositor to get his money when he wants it is nearly crystalline.

Senator Gore of Oklahoma, who I am told at the speakers' bureau of the national committee, is the spokesman in demand after Mr. Bryan, has traveled far and wide during the course of this political battle. Mr. Gore is not only an orator; he is a very keen observer of political conditions. This year even through things to say, as a man who through accident has been deprived of his sight since he was eleven years of age. But he has not allowed this to prevent him from seeing ahead through the night. In all other respects Senator Gore is a man who has the eyes of a politician. He has not only the eyes of a politician, but he has the eyes of a statesman. He has the eyes of a statesman, and he has the eyes of a statesman.

out in the political world. The campaign, he laudably the foundation of this sentiment to the great administration for Mr. Bryan's leadership and ability; and the sudden outbreak of enthusiasm for the Democratic ticket to the wider appreciation had the pledge of the pieces of the system, of guaranty of bank deposits urged by the Democratic party. Curiously enough, a Senator from Iowa talking of this subject a letter came in from a representative of the national committee who had been touring Ohio. He reported that the outstanding reconciliation submitted by a party of handshakes between Judge Taft and Senator Forker at Toledo was not regarded with any degree of enthusiasm by the followers of the latter. As the gentleman who wrote has been for probably forty years active in Ohio politics and as in this trip he has visited every county in the state, his opinion is of value. More than this, he reported that a leading banker of Springfield, O. W. S. Thompson, who had always been a Republican, was so impressed with the motto of the guaranty proposition that he was making public speeches in its support.

A Forker Story.

And speaking of the senator from Ohio, here is a story about him the truth of which I will not vouch for, but which I have heard on several occasions in the last two sessions of congress, seems to me quite probable. The narrative runs that a Democrat ran across Senator Forker on a train in southern Ohio. "Naturally," the talker went on to say, "I asked Forker, 'What are your people up to in Chicago doing by way of organizing the negro vote?' He said they were doing nothing," was the reply. "I told they are very short of funds." "Well," responded the senator, "you could do nothing to help them out on a train and go to Chicago and tell those fellows at Democratic headquarters that they are very short of funds to rob a bank to get the funds." The story is characteristic, and it throws some light on the attitude of the opposition of Forker with the rest of the legislature of President Roosevelt.

Central Bank.

I have had a long and rather regretful experience with campaign text books in the Democratic organization. Finally they came out and even if properly prepared would be at that date of the war. Those of 1900 and 1904 set side by side with the Republican publication of the same name were enough to bring a blush even to the hardened cheek of the Democratic politician. The latter book of this year was not better than that of the Republican and is admirably prepared and edited. It is fair the truth should be given to the three members of the text book committee, Hon. J. B. Lamb of Indiana; Hon. Joseph Daniels of North Carolina and Mr. Richard Metcalf, the managing editor of Mr. Bryan's Campaign. The book is a masterpiece of the art of the speaker, writer and student of politics. It is a long, narrow volume of about 80 pages, but as to go readily into the pocket. No one who purports taking an active part in the campaign should fail to secure one. While prepared primarily for gratuitous distribution among Democratic speakers and journalists, the committee will have a sufficient supply on hand to furnish copies of those who may write for them at the price of 25 cents each, post paid. Orders should be addressed to the text book committee, Democratic national headquarters, Antislavery Annex, Chicago.

Colonel Lewis in Maine.

There is no more picturesque nor more successful of our countrymen in the American politics than Colonel James Hamilton Lewis of Chicago. Party no doubt the letter is his fault. Nature bequeathed upon him certain managements which his friends call the "Lewis" style. He is a man of letters, a writer and a student of politics. It is a long, narrow volume of about 80 pages, but as to go readily into the pocket. No one who purports taking an active part in the campaign should fail to secure one. While prepared primarily for gratuitous distribution among Democratic speakers and journalists, the committee will have a sufficient supply on hand to furnish copies of those who may write for them at the price of 25 cents each, post paid. Orders should be addressed to the text book committee, Democratic national headquarters, Antislavery Annex, Chicago.

JUDGE R. G. WILLIAMS,

Who was declared the Democratic nominee for Commonwealth's Attorney of the Kenton, district by acclamation, his two opponents withdrawing from the race on the day of the convention. Cincinnati Enquirer has this to say of Judge Williams and the ticket nominated with him.

The ticket nominated by the Democrats at the Central Grand mass convention Saturday is looked upon as a winner by Democrats all over the city. The personnel of the ticket is realized as being of a high order, and the candidates are all well-known citizens. The dissatisfaction that sometimes follows in the wake of mass conventions is absent in this instance, and indications point to concerted action. Judge Williams who was nominated without opposition for the office of Commonwealth's Attorney besides enjoying great personal popularity, is recognized every qualification for that important office, and will conduct an aggressive campaign in behalf of Bryan Rindick and the balance of the ticket.
