MEMBER OF KENTUCKY PRESS ASSOCIATION

THE Supreme Court of the United States Monday decided the case of the Adams Express Company vs. the Commonwealth of Kentucky, involving the right of the company to ship liquor into a local option county, contrary to the law of the State, in favor of the company. The case involved the shipment of whiskey from Indiana and Tennessee to Bonneville, for which the company was fined $50 for each offense by the Circuit Court of Hart County. The Supreme Court held that the Kentucky law conflicts with the Federal Constitution and that the express company are common carriers and as such have a perfect right to deliver whiskey to local option territory on Interstate Shipments. Such being the case, we cannot see where Kentucky is to profit from its present local option law regulating the shipment of whiskey.

GOOD ROADS.

DISORDERLY AMENDMENT TO THE KENTUCKY CONSTITUTION.

The Bosworth-Watt Good Road Amendment to the Constitution of Kentucky, which passed the last Kentucky Legislature by its almost unanimous vote, and which is to be voted on at the next November General Election at 1909, by the voters of Kentucky, is as follows:

TO-WIT: "The credit of the Commonwealth may be given, pledged or loaned to any county of the Commonwealth for public road purposes, and any county may be permitted to incur an indebtedness in any amount fixed by the county, not in excess of five per centum of the value of the taxable property therein, for public road purpose in said county, provided said additional indebtedness is submitted to the voters of the county for their ratification or rejection at a special election held for said purpose, in such manner as may be provided by law, and when any such indebtedness is incurred by any county, may levy in addition to the tax rate allowed under Section 157 of the Constitution of Kentucky, an amount not exceeding twenty cents on the hundred dollars of the assessed valuation of said county for the purpose of paying the interest on said indebtedness and providing a sinking fund for the payment of said indebtedness."

Section 177 of the Constitution of Kentucky forever prohibits the State from lending its aid to or in aid of any building, or taking any part whatever in behalf of the cause of good roads.

Section 158 of our State Constitution limits the power of any county to become indebted more than two per cent of the assessed valuation thus making it impossible for the greater number of our counties to raise sufficient funds to do any road building at all.

Section 175 of our State Constitution provides that a county cannot levy exceeding fifty cents on each one hundred dollars of taxable property therein for any purpose whatever thus making it impossible for any of the counties to provide sufficient means to create a sinking fund and pay interest on the debt created to build roads.

As a consequence of these limitations and restrictions of the power of the counties, and also of the commonwealth of Kentucky, good road building in Kentucky has been a thing of the past since the adoption of our present Constitution.

This Constitutional Amendment will remove these restrictions, which are a barrier to the passage of such a system of Road Laws by our Legislature, as will enable our counties and our State, and perhaps our Federal Government, to join hands in this important work of building and maintaining a system of improved highways in all parts of Kentucky the accomplishment of which would do so much for the advancement, progress and development of Kentucky and men more than all else for the comfort, convenience and improved condition of all our people.

If this Constitutional Amendment receives a majority of the votes at that election, then it will be possible for Kentucky to pass such a system of good road laws as are in effect in the States of New York, New Jersey, Connecticut, Michigan, Massachusetts, California and Pennsylvania, and in fact every other State where progress is being made in building and maintaining good roads, while our own Kentucky is at a standstill.

If you are in favor of good roads vote and work for the Bosworth-Watt Good Road Constitutional Amendment and lead a helping hand in making it possible for every county in our State to have the very best improved highways.

The following article, sent out by Frankford has appeared in all the leading daily papers of the State.

Some of the most interesting laundry work ever done in political history, is being eagerly awaited in the Eleventh Congressional District as the result of the announcement of by close friends of Charles Finley that he will be a candidate to succeed Gov. C. Edwards in Congress.

Caleb Fowers inconned already to be a candidate, and Edwards' friends say he will not give up the prize he has held for several terms until a struggle. So a three cornered fight that will attract attention all over the State is expected when the "time comes" for the Republicans to make their next nomination.

NO-SYMPATHETIC TIE. Any fellow feeling that Finley or Powers might have for each other as the result of the cloud which both were under so long, and indelicate, for complicity in the Good Samaritan conspiracy will not keep either out of the scramble for the Congressional job, friends of both men at the Capital. Both feel that the Republicans owe them something for their "martyrdom," and each thinks he is entitled to preferment first, because he was compelled to remain in the long away from home to escape trial, and Powers because he spent so many years in jail after his three convictions.

SITUATION COMPLICATED. The situation in the Eleventh is rather complicated one. It is rather complicated one. It is rather complicated one. It is rather complicated one.

"Friends of Finley say that he is certain to have the 'machine' behind him when he gets into the race. You know he is from Wayne county and so is Railroad Commissioner A. T. Siler. When Finley had his 'home coming' from Indiana after his prison by Governor Wilson. Mr. Siler made an address of welcome.

MACHINE AGAINST MACHINE. "Commissioner Siler is chairman of the District Committee and is very strong. On the other hand Congressman Edwards is in a prominent position, and has a machine, too, which will have to be reckoned with. Caleb Powers, practically on the outside, you might say, as far as the organization, or machine, is concerned. His important boom for Congress last time did him no good, and a great many of the best Republicans of the district think that he should keep as far from the spotlight as possible. And Finley also comes under this category."

A WAY BACK SPOGGERION. Another Eleventh District office holder said, when asked about the Congressional prospects in the "Bloody Havens": "The best thing that Caleb Powers and Charles Finley can do is to get a far back in the mountains as possible and stay there with their mouths shut and out of public sight."

The Doctor's First Question

"How are your bowels?" This is generally the first question the doctor asks. He knows what a sluggish liver means. He knows what a long list of distressing complaints result from constipation. He knows that headaches, bilious attacks, indigestion, impure blood, and general debility are often promptly relieved by a good liver pill. We wish you would talk with your own doctor about this subject. Ask him at the same time if he approves of Ayer's Pills. Do so he says. T. C. Ayer & Co., Lowell, Mass.

The prediction that immigration will send the population of the United States up to 200,000,000 in the next fifty years brought out a heated debate in the Northern Assembly of the Presbyterian Church at Denver where Congressman Bennett, of New York, a commissioner to the assembly, Dr. V. R. McKean, of Pittsburg; Dr. Charles Thompson, D. D., of New York, secretary to the board of missions, and others participated.

Eat What

You want of the food you need
Kodol will digest it.

You need a sufficient amount of good wholesome food and more than this you need to fully digest it. Else you can't gain strength, nor can you strengthen your stomach if it is weak.

You must eat in order to live and maintain strength. You must not diet, because the body requires that you eat a sufficient amount of food regularly.

But this food must be digested, and it must be digested thoroughly. When the stomach can't do it, you must take something that will help the stomach. The proper way to let it eat what you want, and to let Kodol digest the food.

Nothing else can do this. When the stomach is weak it needs help, and Kodol will do that.

Everybody is likely to have kidney and bladder. In fact nearly everybody has some trouble of this kind. That is the reason why you so often have pain in the back and groin, seeping sensation, urine, and possibly serious ailments. The best thing to do is to get some of DeWitt's Kidney and Bladder Pills right away. Take them a few days or a week or so and you will feel all right. In the way, too, you will ward off dangerous and possibly serious ailments. They are perfectly harmless, and are not only antiseptic, but they act quickly by their healing properties. Send your name to F. C. DeWitt & Co., Chicago, for a free trial box. They are sold here by Chas. C. Davis.

SIDI 42336

This Percheron Stallion will make the season of 1909 at the Adams livery stable. He was imported from France in September 1907 and has a fine blood as can be bred to horse by the French Government, as will be shown by his pedigree. Aside from his pedigree he is as good an individual as there is in the State. He is cool blooded, easy and action and weighs twenty-three hundred pounds.

PEDIGREE:—Folded April 15, 1904. Bred by M. Brounart, Commanche de l'Orleans, Cousine de Noce, Department of Orne. Sired by Courmesnil 49500, dam Rosalie 47823, she by Lavossier 40513, dam Saus Soucil 34864, she by Petite Caporal 14786 3rd, dam Louise 29546, she by Adorator 14079, 4th dam Petite 16475; she by Fovori 12874 4th dam Petite belonging to M. Jousselin. A more extensive pedigree can be seen at the stable.

I invite the people to come and see this horse before breeding elsewhere. If you like the horse I shall appreciate any mare sent to him, and assure none will regret sending after the colt is folded. In order to thoroughly introduce this horse, he will be allowed to serve mares at $10.00 for this season to insure a living colt. Send money due if mare is traded after mare is bred. All care will be taken to prevent accidents but, not responsible should any occur. J. C. ADAMS, Apr. 16th, st. Mt. Vernon Ky.

HISTORICAL SKETCH.

The following historical sketch contributed by our townsman to the Carthage, (Ill.) Republican we copy:

Mt. Vernon, Ky., Feb. 26, 1909. Editor Carthage Republican: In the month of April, 1855, being then only 16 years of age, I concluded that I wanted to go to Carthage, Ill., and was at that time living with my brother, J. C. Williams, in his dry goods store in Mt. Vernon, Ky. On the 15 day of April, 1855, I "struck out" for Carthage having a brother, W. H. Williams, then living on Rock Creek in Hancock county, Ill., some four miles from Carthage, near Solomon Elfritz.

Never having traveled any before it was going to be very uncertain whether I ever reached my destination or not, being so young and green as I then was, but I was bent on trying it.

When I reached Louisville, Ky. I inquired the best way of getting to Carthage and I was told that there was a steamboat down at the wharf called "The High Flyer" which was to go down the Ohio river to the Mississippi, thence up the Mississippi river to a landing at Warsaw, Illinois, which is only twelve miles from Carthage.

I did not know when it was told me what a wharf or steamboat was because I had never seen either of them passing Mt. Vernon, where I lived. So I got a fellow to go with me and show me where and what they were.

When we got to the wharf he showed me a steamboat with great, large letters on her side, "High Flyer," so I went aboard and found the man who they said "run the machine" and asked him if that boat was going to stop at Warsaw. He replied, "Yes it would," so I made contract with him and paid him my fare to land me at Warsaw and to show me the bridge, and being tired and the passengers aboard the boat, we pulled out for Warsaw.

The man "what run the thing" said we would "get there" in five days but it took us "swimming the water" one week before "landing at Warsaw."

During the voyage, lasting five days as before stated, we fared sumptuously on codfish and potatoes. We reached Warsaw at night and I went to Valentine Wilson's who was running an eating and sleeping house, and asked him if I might stay at his house that night. He replied, "Certainly," so I staid.

Next morning I asked him which way led to Carthage. He replied by pointing out a road and said "well" by Wells' who was also running an eating and sleeping house. He said if I didn't get any farther than Wells' that day he would let me stay with him, but having ample time I pursued my journey till I reached Carthage, a distance of only twelve miles from Warsaw.

On the following day I went out to my brother's home (W. H. Williams) on Rock Creek, and he and his family were so surprised to think that I had gotten so far away from home all by myself. I thought myself that I had accomplished much in making such a trip, all alone and without being hurt or getting lost.

I staid in Carthage and the county of Hancock one year and can truthfully say that Hancock county is one of the best sections of this world I have ever seen.

The county is so smooth and level you can play marbles almost any where without their rolling down the hill!

The best thing about the country is that no crow in making his perambulations ever flew over a richer soil than that found in Hancock county.

Land which then sold for $10 to $30 per acre is now selling for over $100 per acre. This section was then noted for the quantity and quality of watermelons raised, and at that time so much vegetation devolving and other miasmatic influences prevailing, that I took chills and fever and nervous shock all my teeth out.

During my illness I staid with my brother-in-law, James F. Wilson, and one of my well days I slipped off and went into James Wilson's watermelon patch and found just one melon ripe and then I ate it, I deliberately ate all by myself consumed that "water melon."

After eating the melon as afore-said, I went back to the house and my sister, Virginia Wilson, asked where I had been. I answered, "I was in the melon patch." She said to me: "Did you eat any melon?" I said "I only ate one."

"Well, well," she said, "it will kill you." But thanks be to the gods I have never had a chill from that day to this.

While I was in Hancock county I got acquainted with many of the citizens of Carthage and vicinity, Carthage then had a population of about 250, and is now said to contain about 3000 inhabitants.

At that time Jesse Combs was merchant in Carthage and a young man named "Hind" Slater and a good fellow by the way, was clerk in the store. Shull & Cherrill and Taylor Bros. were also merchants. Charles Main kept groceries including liquors. Uncle Sam Wilson kept hotel. His daughter, Lois Ann, assisted him.

Sewsey Hamilton was also a land holder. Harrison Crawford did blacksmithing, Bryant T. Schofield and Alec Simpson were lawyers. Allen McQuary, real estate agent, Mason McQuary, county court clerk;

John Spangler school superintendent. Jo Hawley then lived on the place on which J. C. Williams now lives.

The persons named above were well known citizens of Carthage at the time referred to in the following and are the names of citizens of the surrounding neighborhoods in the county.

William DeHart, who lived on the Macomb road a short distance from town had a good farm and a fine apple orchard. Charles Wilson, Allen Wilson, Uncle John Wilson and his family, Miss Mary and Ann Wilson and Lindsey and his son, also James McQuary, Emanuel Showers, Jim and John Wiley, John Oakesby, "Soll" Elfritz "Tack" Stevens and Green Haley, Sam David and Jacob Mack, the Shamps and Vanhorns complete the list of noted citizens that I now remember.

The people were all very kind and good to me and I shall ever retain a fond remembrance of Hancock county and her people. I have wished many times to be back again in Carthage and see the improvements made since I was there and but a boy, fifty-four years ago.

I have looked many times at the built by my father, so noted in the past by the firing at Jo and Hiram Smith, Mormons who, were trying to make there escape from the citizens. The Mormon temple was then standing at Nivooon, on the Mississippi river, twelve miles from Carthage.

How many of these old acquaintances of mine in Hancock county and the town of Carthage have gone to the "Great Beyond"? I know that many of them have passed away and we hope that their souls are at rest with our great and good heavenly Father. So note it be, and may those who are yet living live to a good old age and when death calls them away that they may go to a better world and with their Creator who has been watching over them all their days while here on earth.

With my best wishes for the living and the dead, I am truly,

D. N. WILLIAMS

AN AKRON MAN.

MR. WILLIAM B. STEARNS. Mr. William B. Stearns, 705 Cedar St., Akron, Ohio, writes: "I have been troubled for several years with catarrh of the stomach. I have used many different patent medicines to no effect whatever, and have done considerable with Dr. King's New Life Pills. I have taken three bottles. 'Sometime his treatment would relieve me, but I would be with out it for a few weeks, and then it had kept up for several years. I was advised to take Dr. King's New Life Pills. I was advised to take them, and I have taken three bottles. Never felt so good in my life. Am going to purchase a fourth bottle, and I will gladly recommend it to any one afflicted with catarrh of stomach, or stomach trouble of any kind."

The above is an extraordinary story. Troubled for years with chronic catarrh. Tried different remedies and received no relief. Finally was advised by friends. Instant relief experienced. Great gratitude to Vernon Dispensary, Toledo, Ohio, for the pills that is reported to us a great many times every year.

Do not get any pills to be taken with our vast correspondence for one month without being impressed with the purity and healthfulness of these kind of testimonials. Vernon Dispensary, Toledo, Ohio, has the best medicine, and reliable testimonials that have caused other dispensaries to imitate.
