Sufficient for Conviction in Dry Territory.

The Court of Appeals affirmed the Logan Circuit Court in the case of B. S. King against the Commonwealth. Appellant was convicted of having liquor to sell in local territory and his punishment fixed at $100 and fifty days in jail at hard labor.

The highest court says that to sustain a prosecution of this kind is not essential to sustain a conviction by direct evidence of the possession and purpose to sell the liquor, but that a conviction may be upon circumstantial evidence. Further, the court says that possession of a government license to sell liquor is competent evidence for the Commonwealth and prima facie evidence of guilt and a copy of the license, certified to by the collector of Internal Revenue, is competent evidence.

Couldn't Walk!

"I used to be troubled with a weakness peculiar to women," writes Mrs. Anna Jones, of Kenny, Ill. "For nearly a year, I could not walk, without holding my side. I tried several different doctors, but I grew worse. Finally, our druggist advised Cardui for my complaint. I was so thin, my weight was 115. Now, I weigh 163, and I am never sick. I ride horseback as good as ever. I am in fine health at 52 years."

TAKE THE CARDUI Women's Tonic

We have thousands of such letters, and more are arriving daily. Such earnest testimony from those who have tried it, surely prove the great value of this vegetable, tonic medicine, for women.

Cardui relieves women's sufferings, and builds weak women up to health and strength. It you are a woman, others. It is made from pure, harmless, herb ingredients, which act promptly and safely on the womanly organs. It is a good tonic. Try it. Your druggist sells it.

LIVINGSTON

Charley Harris, Helye, Tenn., is visiting relatives here. He is a grandson of the late Ashley Owens.—A. J. Sams, of the Ganley section has been very sick but is some better.—J. H. Dickerson had the following signs hung in front of his store during the sick days in Livingston. The first one was "We are fishing, too, inside!" The second read, "Last year's almanacs going at cost." He claims that he sold $100 worth under this heading. The R. M. E. Flour Co. sold flour last Saturday at 25c per sack. This is no joke; things are cheaper in Livingston now than in the city, and if people don't have bicent now, it is not the merchants' fault.—F. L. Thompson, that big hearted salesman, was with us Thursday.—Those that attended court from here Monday were Judge Sambrook, Mart Hicks, O. E. Rice, C. J. Rice, J. P. E. Drummond, A. W. Bourne, D. K. Argenbright, J. M. Mink, Allen Mounce, T. M. Dees and Henry Mahaffey.

Mrs. C. Reynolds, who has been very sick for some time continues about the same. Also their little child is very sick.—Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Mullins were here Sunday to see their daughter, Mrs. C. Reynolds.—Mr. and Mrs. Joe O'Mary have returned from a visit to Stanford.—Mrs. H. D. Magee and little daughter, are visiting in Louisville this week.—J. H. Browning left for Florida Sunday He has been in very poor health for some time and thinks a trip to the land of flowers will do him good.—John Mullins, who is working at Boston, Ky., was here Sunday. Say, old boy! did he say you could come back again!—Dr. and Mrs. Will Brown, of Parksville, who have been in Florida for the past two months, are visiting their daughter, Mrs. C. A. Bradford, of this place. We had the pleasure of a long conversation with him. He delights in talking of his old Rockcastle friends, a great many of whom have passed into the great beyond.—He is 75 years old but you can't tell it. He is as bright as a gally as one 40 years old.—J. H. Dickerson left Monday for Lexington.

Marion Hamlin, of Mt. Vernon, has been here for the past few days.—Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Martin are visiting relatives in Rowland.

—Mr. and Mrs. Westerfield have returned home after a few days visit at Stanford.—Mrs. J. O. McGuire is visiting her daughters, Mrs. Hugh Jenkins and Mrs. Carico at this place.—The big court is in session this week, but we have not been there as we have no business there and prefer to stay off the docket. Several are attending from here.—Well, we think winter suits is over, and "tagger week" will be plentiful, and meat and lard so cheap, what will hinder us from passing a sumptuous summer.—Dr. R. G. Webb was in Mt. Vernon Wednesday. Dock says he will begin his campaign in earnest in a few days.—R. A. Whitehead has returned from a trip to Somerset.—W. N. Riggs was in LaFollett, Tenn., Monday on business.—Judge H. D. Magee is attending court in Mt. Vernon this week.—Miss Lydia Cook is visiting relatives in Mt. Vernon.—Some time betwixt Friday night and Monday morning some parties of persons entered the residence of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Owens and took about 20 of the feathers, all the bedding except the quilts, dishes and even the knives and forks. They took almost everything except the furniture. Last but not least, they took the old family Bible that had been in the family 40 years. Now if they only read the Bible, it will teach them that it is wrong to rob people's houses. And what looks worse is the old folks are 70 and 73 years of age. Seven years ago when the writer had this distemper to solve his wife, the old folks let their house and were here going with the writer, ever since but had left their household goods at their house. We are sorry to think that there are people who will stoop to such deeds as to rob two old people whose heads are blossoming for the grave.—W. H. Hamlin, of Mt. Vernon, was in our town Tuesday.—T. J. Pennington and little son, Arthur, were in Mt. Vernon Monday.—Mrs. James Stanley is visiting her daughter, Mrs. Martig of Grava.—Mrs. C. A. Blanford has returned from a visit to relatives at Parksville.

THREE weeks ago today Congress was convened in extraordinary session. Within that time the House has passed the Canadian reciprocity measure, the campaign publicity bill and approved the resolution for the constitution of the United States Senator by direct vote.

The record of accomplishment made by the majority sets a new mark in the history of the House. The "party solidarity" of which Mr. Tamm is the titular head of the Republican party, has talked so much and seen so little, has been proved not only possible, but actual by the Democrats.

The working qualities of the new rules, which have transformed the Speaker from a czar into the chairman of a deliberate body have been satisfactorily demonstrated.

The session is yet young, the opportunity to do the wrong thing at the right time is still to be fairly tested but so far as the Democrats in the House have gone the experiment of a Democratic majority in one branch of Congress has produced results calculated to cause the general belief that the experiment of intrusting the Democrats with both branches of Congress and the presidency will not be so dangerous after all. True, it remains to be seen what the Democrats in the Senate will do, but the Democrats in the Senate are the minority, not the majority. The real test of the party has come in the House, and as yet it has been met with credit in every detail.—Louisville Times.

The Asswan Dam in Egypt is being raised little by little, and not by six years yet will it reach its final height. This dam is expected to increase the value of Egypt's cotton crop by between $15,000,000 and $20,000,000 annually.

Duke Henry of Brunswick 11541 provided himself with a list of cooking dishes at a banquet given which he presided. "No the fillet," he explained, that if some delicacy which especially appealed to his appetite were marked for a later stage in the repast, he might carefully reserve his appetite for it.

From that moment the mean card came an inscription in France and England.

Palm trees have the largest leaves that grow. The characteristic palm of the Amazon country has leaves from thirty to fifty feet long and from ten to twelve feet broad.

In parts of Switzerland cheeses form family heirlooms and are handed down from one generation to another. They are made especially for family feasts, tagged with labels and put away for years at a time.

Colorado is having her graceful animal, the antelope. Her State Game Warden estimates that in the ten years from 1898 to 1908 the decrease was from 25,000 to 2,000. At this rate speedy extinction is at hand.

The latest statistics of newspaper published in Kentucky shows a total of 332 in 155 different towns divided as follows: Daily 99; tri-weekly 2; semi-weekly 25; weekly 234; six-monthly 10; monthly 25; quarterly 5; miscellaneous 1.

Louisville has 53 different public squares Lexington 12 and Bowling Green 8.—Lexington Leader.

Last Sunday afternoon a fine specimen of the bald eagle visited the lake at the water plant, and after circling around for some time he made a swoop and came down with a hand in his talons. Dr. J. W. Barlow was near the lake and was interested spectator of the incident. After the eagle had made his catch he circled about for some time, and the doctor noticed that the eagle was having some trouble with his prey. Finally the fish wiggled from the talons of the eagle and fell a short distance from the spot where the doctor was standing. It was a fine specimen of a black bass, and as it was so injured that it could not live, "the" doctor took it home, where he placed it on the scales, which registered a pound and seven ounces.—Greenville Record.

The friends of Hon. J. W. Bethurum are telling a good joke on him—said to have occurred during his race for Congress in this, the Eighth district a couple of years ago. The fact that the story only leaked out last week is said to strengthen it.

The narrator, who is a staunch friend and supporter of the Judge, said: "During the recent race of Judge Bethurum, of Mt. Vernon, who contested with Hon. Harvey Helm for Representative from this district, Bethurum, among other publicity matters, had distributed large cards containing a fine half-tone likeness of himself, together with the announcement of his candidacy. These were spread broadcast, many going into the homes where they were framed and otherwise honored, as the Judge is not only popular with the voters but also with the ladies.

The Judge never credited any of these stories until he received a bill from a prominent picture making and framing establishment for $22.50 for enlarging and framing picture by order of Miss—, and he paid the price of being popular by paying the bill for enlarging his picture, and framing."

While we are writing of the popular Judge of Mt. Vernon, we might add that the Republicans of his district and entire State in Kentucky are turning over things in that section of the State in their efforts to have Judge Bethurum to announce his candidacy for State Auditor; the people of his party seem determined to run him anyhow, and it would not be a great surprise if he should "hear the call" and announced himself as a candidate for that position. Certainly it is that the Republicans could not put up a better man nor one who would be found to meet with more universal approval of their party. Judge Bethurum has a number of warm friends here who would be glad to see him in the race.—Danville Advocate.

It is no joke but straight facts that the Judge received the bill for the picture and that he paid it.

An English syndicate is said to have secured an option on the properties of the United States Lumber Company, the purchase price of which is reported to be $20,000,000.

POLITICS AND POLITICIANS

Here's a stinger. Listen in what this republican editor has to say of the candidacy of Judge O'Rear. The Maysville Daily Ledger says:

"No man has ever used stronger language to tear down the fabric of law and order in Kentucky than this eminent Jurist. The public Ledger hasn't the honor of O'Rear's acquaintances, and never even saw him yet we've read with indignation and just horror of his violent and incendiary words during the blighting night ride to our war days. Think of such a man in the Governor's Chair better a thousand times Governor Cox, E. T. Franks, or McCreary than such as he. If O'Rear is named by the Republicans, McCreary will sweep the state by 25,000 votes."

BAD CASE OF GRIP

Caused Sore Throat and Tonsillitis. Restored by Peruna.

Mr. W. H. Housley, Stony Point, Tennessee, writes: "Two years ago I took a very severe cold which resulted in a grippe. I never was so bad off. I was in bed a week, and when I did get up I had a sore throat and a sore chest. I tried to cure this for eighteen months, but it gradually got worse. A doctor advised me to have my tonsils cut out, but I did not like the idea. Another doctor examined me, and told me the same thing. I finally got a bottle of Peruna, and after I had taken one bottle my throat was better. I never used a dozen bottles and now I was going to get well, and I did."

ELECTRIC LINE FOR LANCASTER. The people of Lancaster want an electric railway from that place to Lexington. Lancaster is only thirty three miles from Lexington, but it requires a journey of ninety miles to go from one place to the other by the steam railroads.

There is an electric line already built by Nicholasville and a extension of twenty-two miles would carry it to Lancaster.

If the extension is built a trip from Lancaster to Lexington and via spurs, will not look so much like a city's journey. The line would traverse a thickly settled country and would add greatly to the traveling facilities of a number of small towns between Nicholasville and Lancaster. Such a line also would put the people of Lancaster in closer touch with Louisville. Their situation with respect to this city is much the same as it is with regard to Lexington. There is no direct way to Louisville and a trip to this city is long and costly, involving several changes of railroads and the necessary loss of time involved in a roundabout journey.

Lancaster citizens are said to be willing to contribute liberally to the construction of such a road. The thing being true, it would seem they should have no great difficulty in securing the extension of the line. The Central Kentucky counties present an inviting field for interurban investment. The country is well populated, and it is a productive region which, unobscured, would supply a large freight business. This is an era of interurban railway building and if the people of Lancaster are sufficiently earnest in their desire for a road it is highly probable they will not be long without it.—Courier Journal.

The town of Lancaster, already has the best accommodations, all things considered, of any town in the state and it is all due to the fact that when they want a thing they go after it. If some of the other towns had the push of Lancaster, probably times would not be cause for so much complaint about their accommodations, in travel and other things as well.
