VIGOROUS LEADERS IN OLDFATHER LIFE

DISCUSSED BY PRESIDENT PATTERSON IN PAYING TRIBUTE TO GOV. McCREARY.

The following tribute from President Emeritus James K. Patterson of State University...

The opinion is sometimes expressed that men who have occupied prominent places in affairs and have done great things are not capable of doing effective service after they have passed the traditional three-score and ten...

Augustus was more capable of empire at 70 than when he defeated Antony at Actium 10 years before. Gladstone conducted with brilliant success his most strenuous political campaign when over 80...

prostrate in the dust over 70. Queen Victoria laid down the burden of empire when in the full maturity of her powers when over 80...

Albert on the fatal field of Novara when 70 years of age and Voltaire was crowned and dethroned of his place in the theater France when his "Irene" was placed upon the stage at 78...

And in these latter years, Justin S. Morrill of Vermont, and William S. Allison of Iowa, added justice and dignity to the Senate when past 80...

And in these latter years, Justin S. Morrill of Vermont, and William S. Allison of Iowa, added justice and dignity to the Senate when past 80...

vigorous and active at the time of his death, though nearing 80. In instances of great mental vigor an advance age might be undervalued by dozens and scores...

While not a student, I am greatly interested in the good you are doing for the State. In addressing this letter to you and through you to the people of Kentucky...

Some men have had experience so great and so varied in the management of the affairs of a large State...

From the foregoing it will be seen that his whole life has been spent in the public service. His experience has been wide and varied in the field...

In his legislative career in Congress, extending over a period of 23 years...

It elected Governor of Kentucky he will return to discharge his duties a ripe experience extending over 40 years...

Rep. H. H. Patterson, President Emeritus State University of Kentucky

KENTUCKY FEDERATION OF COMMERCIAL CLUB

The purpose of this Federation as set forth in the Constitution adopted is to promote a cooperative spirit among its members...

This is a State-wide movement for State-wide advancement that our proud old Commonwealth may be placed in the right attitude before the world...

This can be done only by a united effort upon the part of all public spirited citizens. We are, therefore, calling upon every Commercial organization and every public spirited citizen in Kentucky...

The membership dues in the Federation have been fixed at a very nominal sum, thus enabling every Commercial organization and individual to join hands with us in this movement without financial burden...

"GOING SOME" Guess it's going some to have reputation of selling the BEST Furniture Rugs Carpets and House Furnishings in this section of Kentucky. That's what they all say, and I am proud to state, I can prove it. I'll take pleasure in showing you the NEWEST that's NEW.

To talk about our prejudices is to fan them into flames. "If there is any person to whom you feel dislike," says the wise Cecil, "that is the person of whom you ought not to speak. Anger and dislike cloud the judgment, and lead to exaggeration of the faults and shortcomings of those against whom we are prejudiced. Speaking the truth in love is really the only way to speak truth at all.

NARROW ESCAPE. Tink Owens the veteran driller at W. J. Sparks Co., crusher at Sparda, near town came near losing his life Wednesday afternoon while tamping a stick of dynamite in a hole in a rock. The dynamite exploded and tore a hole in his hand and some small rocks landed on his head which made some very painful and ugly wounds. This hole in the rock was already loaded heavy with dynamite and there was a box of dynamite near by and twenty five or thirty men working near it. It is a mystery how all this did not explode at this time. Mr. Owens has been at this business ten years or more but this is his first serious accident.

There is more catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease, and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease and therefore requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars reward if it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

NOTES FROM MEADOWBROOK FARM

By William Pitt

Dogs and sheep don't mix. Keep your chickens on dry ground. Fodder corn should not be neglected. Roots should always be a part of the ration of dairy cows. A wet yard is an abomination in the sight of a well-bred hen. Use the shepherd's crook as little as possible at or before lambing. The pigs should have clean, pure water always at hand, day and night. Providing a man knows his business the brood mare is the most profitable farm worker. Baby feet are not more common because stock raisers generally are not stock breeders. From the dairy standpoint, the best time in the year for a cow to freshen is the month of September. Just one setting of thoroughbred eggs may be the means of working a revolution in your poultry business. If a sinner is to make the best dairy cow, she should freshen when she is from two years to thirty months old. Newly hatched ducklings can be brooded without heat in a box open at this season, and if well fed will grow rapidly. The scalper shovel is best for corn cultivation, as the deep running old-style shovel injures the feeding roots. Dairy butter should be packed in five-pound jars and ten and twenty pound tubs to sell to the best advantage. If a ewe aborts, remove her at once from the lambing shed, burn all litter, bedding, etc., and thoroughly disinfect the pen. No extensive grower of potatoes can afford to do without a breeding stock for which to secure seed stock for his own planting. Orchard grass should be cut just as soon as the blooms fall, and crummed lower when about two-thirds of the blossoms turn brown. All sprays after the first should be very fine and so applied as to lightly cover the entire surface of the fruit and foliage with the liquid. The subject of cutting back young trees when planting is an old one, but the ideal one in favor of which much has been said and written. It is commonly believed that a warm horse should not be given water to drink, which is correct if the animal is to be allowed all that he will drink. Some turkey growers who cater to the hotel and club house demands, seek to improve the flavor of the fleshy introducing wild blood into their stocks.

Young Women

Read what Cardui did for Miss Myria Engler, of Faribault, Minn. She says: "Let me tell you how much good Cardui has done me. As a young girl, I always had to suffer so much with all kind of pain. Sometimes, I was so weak that I could hardly stand on my feet. I got a bottle of Cardui at the drug store, and as soon as I had taken a few doses, I began to feel better. Today, I feel as well as anyone can."

TAKE THE CARDUI Woman's Tonic

Are you a woman? Then you are subject to a large number of troubles and irregularities, peculiar to women, which, in time, often lead to more serious trouble. A tonic is needed to help you over the hard places, to relieve weakness, headaches and other unnecessary pains, the signs of weak nerves and over-work. For a tonic, take Cardui, the woman's tonic. You will never regret it, for it will certainly help you. Ask your druggist about it. He knows. He sells it.

A sanitary barn should have from four to six square feet of wind-escape for each cow kept.

The price of small cattle of high grade is practically as high as that of larger cows and ones.

Calf-heat on whole milk are the best for baby beef, for they are in good flesh at weaning time.

Cut-out the useless brush in your old trees and give the sun a chance to reach every part of them.

The market for good horse conditioning is good in spite of the over increasing number of auto-caddies.

If you find it necessary to assist the cow to deliver, be sure to exercise oil-jaseline the hands before operating.

Do not give the ewe turnips or other roots immediately after lambing. It's dangerous to both ewe and lamb.

Large orchard trees will require from ten to fifteen gallons of water for a thorough treatment at the first application.

The Jersey cow is a delicate, nervous machine and requires warmth, kindness and liberal feeding to make her profitable.

For a good egg lay, feed plenty of green food and beef scraps, and make the fowls scratch for their grain. The eggs will come out better.

If milk is kept in a cool place and stays sweet for long, it will be better and the result is that the cream will be strong butter.

After having assisted in a bad case of lambing do not go to a healthy ewe and milk her, either, etc., have been thoroughly disinfected.

In summer, if there are no trees in the pasture which afford a sufficient shade, the sheep should be provided with artificial shelters.

To breed ewes early in the summer it is necessary to force them heavily early enough so that they may be dry before attempting to breed them.

We frequently see young goats following along the fields after their dams, walking many miles during the hot weather. Useless and poor business.

After the first week of sleeping and weaning, the young calf should be allowed to exercise in the open air, in order to develop muscles, lungs and heart.

Get a horse with his shoulders broad, well back over his ribs and his neck fitting out the top of his shoulders, and you have the finest specimen of style.

Common sense is better than the best dairy instruction of the day, but it is clearly shown that of common sense when a dairyman discards all recent investigations.

Laying hens should have a continual supply of clean, fresh water to drink, and this water should be changed without it from the time they are matched until fully grown.

It has been demonstrated that a light frost does not injure the quality of the silage produced. It is better to plow the soil before the leaf and stalk has lost much of its moisture.

Don't be in too great a hurry to assist a ewe to deliver her lamb; you may do more harm than good, be quite sure that she has absolutely given up before trying to help her.

In case a ewe discards or refuses to let her lamb suck, sprinkle a little salt on the udder over the back and shoulders of the lamb; this will induce the mother to lick it and effect a reattachment, and in 10 or 15 days the lamb will be on its feet.

A movable brooder can be placed in almost any kind of house, such as in a tent arrangement, and be somewhat different for adult stock and for broods of chicks, brooders are not often put in houses also used for adult stock except in very small houses.

When Mark Twain, in his early days, was editor of a Missouri paper, a superstitious subscriber wrote to him saying that he had found a spider in his paper, and asking him whether that was a sign of good luck or bad. The editorist wrote him this answer and printed it: "I don't know." "Old Subscriber: Finding a spider in your paper, was neither good luck nor bad luck for you. The spider was merely looking over our paper to see which merchant is not advertising, so that he can go to that store, spin his web across the door and lead to a little undisturbed peace ever afterward."

Uncle Ben Bromley, of the Ganley section died Monday and was buried Tuesday with Masonic honors in the family lot in the Bales grave yard. The bible class of the Christian Church met at J. B. Hayes Monday night and had an enjoyable time. Ice cream and cake was served and a splendid time was had.

This was something new but the leaders are doing every thing in their power to try to get people to take an interest in this work, and we believe they will succeed. Here is hoping that they will.

BOONE

Died at her home at Boone Ky. Mrs. James H. Lambert. She was Miss Daisy Coyle, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John B. Coyle. Mrs. Lambert leaves a beautiful record behind her. She has lived a devoted christian life. She was converted when she was eleven years of age, joined the Baptist church and was an earnest worker both in the church and Sunday school. She will be sadly missed by all who knew her, and the stranger who often sought lodging within her doors. She was never known to say I have no room, but always had a pleasant welcome for all who came within ear reach. She was 23 years, 11 months and 4 days old; had been married almost 10 years. She leaves a husband, mother, two sisters and two brothers and a host of friends to mourn her death, but we know our loss is her great gain.

HOG WALLOW NEWS.

Following disappointment over continued dry weather Sim Finders yesterday took his domesticated rain crow down to the creek and drowned it. The people will now have to depend entirely on Tobe Mosley's herbs and rheumatism for their weather indications. Sim Finders fell in the creek at Hog Ford Sunday and all that prevented him going under for the last time were the two empty quart bottles in his hip pocket. The preacher says if he had not emptied the bottles he would not have fallen in.

Frisky Hancock, who came into prominence or a short time last year by coming forward and declaring that Halley's comet was not nearly so bright as it was on two of its former trips in sight of our earth, today makes the announcement that after careful examination he finds that he recognizes many of the foci here this season that were here seventeen years ago.

KILL MORE THAN WILD BEASTS. The number of people killed yearly by wild beasts don't approach the vast number killed by disease germs. No life is safe from their attacks. They're in air, water, dust, every food, but grand protection is afforded by Electric Bismuth, which destroy and expel these deadly disease germs from the system. That's why chills, fever and ague, all malarial and many blood diseases yield promptly to this wonderful blood purifier. Try them and enjoy the glorious health and new strength they'll give you.
