"Feather dust scattered my coin", remarked Hobbs. "Pop Gun shot my wad all to bits" chirped John Watson B.

So it appears the boys didn't come home loaded down with coin. Every little town, and big ones also, have their trials and tribulations, generally on account of all the citizens not seeing thru the same spectacles. Mr. Vernon has had its dose in way of a heavy jolt to progress in last fifteen months, now comes Brodhead to the front with a "wow and wampus" over sideways etc. The little town mentioned should take warning from others that have yielded with the fire of misunderstanding and differences and to make some kind of compromise which is much better than the beginning and continuing of a useless warfare.

The Cincinnati Times-Star says the following tribute to Judge R. G. Williams for the splendid manner in which he has conducted the office of prosecuting attorney of the Kenton district: "Commonwealth's Attorney Richard G. Williams, since the session of the recent grand jury, has set a record for securing convictions in criminal cases which has never been equaled in Kenton county. In all, fifty cases from indictments returned have been prosecuted by Mr. Williams and in each case he has secured a conviction. The only other case, that of George Wollenberg, charged with robbery, resulted in a hung jury and a new trial will be forthcoming. This record is considered remarkable, as the State makes no provision for securing evidence in those cases. The grand jury report contained a recommendation that members of the Legislature from Kenton county do all in their power to secure a State appropriation for the employment of a detective to aid the Commonwealth's attorney, but no action was ever taken in the matter". The above was followed by a list of 23 convictions secured in such cases since Feb.

FOR CONGRESS IN THE ELEVENTH

JUDGE L. W. BETHURUM.

(From Louisville Herald)

Politics is warming up in the mountains. Considerable interest is being manifested by republicans toward the Eleventh District congressional race.

It develops that the contest is likely to be a three-cornered affair and that L. W. Bethurum, of Mt. Vernon, Rockcastle County, will have to be reckoned with in the August primaries.

The situation at present in the Eleventh District is somewhat muddled, owing to the keen rivalry between friends of Caleb Powers and Don C. Edwards.

Mr. Bethurum is one of the best known Republicans in Kentucky. He was named delegate to the Eleventh District before the transfer of his county to the Eleventh District was recognized by the State Central Committee.

personal following and would make a good showing in the primaries in the event President Taft is re-nominated.

On the other hand Mr. Edwards is an out-and-out Roosevelt man and should the Colonel capture the nomination at Chicago he would in all likelihood, make a runaway race in the primaries.

Now that there is talk of a compromise candidate for President the question is raised as to whether it would not be a good plan to nominate a "compromise" man to make the congressional race.

Mr. Bethurum, prior to the perpetrating of the congressional district germwinder by the late Legislature, resided in the Eighth Congressional District.

While in the Eighth District, Mr. Bethurum twice made the race for Congress against Harvey Helm, the Democratic incumbent.

Mr. Bethurum is one of the best known Republicans in Kentucky.

According to the warm reception tendered him by the political powers of the Eleventh District augur well for his future fortunes.

INDUSTRIAL OPPORTUNITIES

A large cement plant is to be built in Rockcastle county which when completed, will employ 600 to 700 men in making cement and mining coal.

The president of the corporation which is behind the enterprise says the company has built five cement plants in the United States and is more enthusiastic over the prospect in Rockcastle county than he has been in any former proposition. Nature, he says has provided in Rockcastle county all the materials, including the fuel, for the manufacture of the highest grade of Portland cement. A condition which does not exist at any other plant in the United States. On the strength of these advantages the company is investing a million dollars in the undertaking.

Kentucky is a State of varied mineral resources and with its two great coal fields should present strong inducement for the investment of capital. Cheap fuel is a factor of great importance in the success of industrial projects and in Kentucky it may be had in quantities practically inexhaustible. The county of Rockcastle is but one of many counties where there is a big field for mineral development. Material for the making of first-class cement is abundant in many localities in the State and in frequent cases the fuel supply is right at hand as in the case in Rockcastle, where a mountain of coal is ranged alongside a mountain of cement material, thus making possible the development of two important industries at one time and by one organization. In a State so favorably located and endowed for manufacturing purposes there should be rapid industrial progress now that new railroads are being constructed and are offering new opportunities for the investment of money by men of means and enterprise.—Courier-Journal.

LEBANON JUNCTION.

John D. Miller paid Mt Vernon a flying trip Tuesday.—Engineer Giering, who is one of the helping engineers between Livingston and Coetzels has moved his family to Livingston.—L. G. Falin, of the dispatchers office of the L. & N. at Livingston, was in our town Tuesday a.m.—Mr. Falin, we are informed is learning the road to become a train dispatcher. Here's to you Gater.—The old passenger depot which the people of Stanford looked upon as being an eye-sore to that city for so long, after being torn down, and replaced by an up-to-date one, was moved to this place, re-built and will be used for a supply house for Main Line and Lebanon Branch.—Mr. Noah Smith, who lived in this place for a long time and who owns several houses here now, has moved with his family to Louisville. Engineer Magruder bought the property Mr. Smith vacated. The stock goes to his new home, with our best wishes. He will be missed from among us, especially in church and Sunday school circles.—Mr. and Mrs. Casper Adams, of Illinois, were here first week of the week and Mrs. Fred Bishop. Mrs. Adams was formerly Miss Mauda Martin, daughter of our old school teacher, S. H. Martin of Mt. Vernon. Mrs. Bishop was formerly Miss Myrtle Lee Adams, of Mt. Vernon.—G. W. Lewis, who for several years was in the dry goods and grocery business, here sold his stock of groceries to Davall & Lesley, a new firm and moved his dry goods to Rowlett's, Ky., taking a partnership with a Mr. Watkins. Mr. Lewis leaves many friends among the railroad crews here and we wish him success at his new place of business.—The graded school at this place came to a close last Friday and on Sunday night Rev. Rowe, of Shepherdsville, pastor of the Methodist church here preached the commencement sermon from the text: "But seek ye first the kingdom of God and his righteousness and all these things shall be added unto you."—Matthew 6:33. Owing to being a larger building the Baptist church was used. The audience was large and the sermon a deep one, the minister dwelling at length upon character building. There were no other services held in town, but all met at the Baptist church where for a time religious differences were forgotten and Presbyterians, Methodists, Deacons, Baptists, Catholics and Lutherans met and worshipped together.—On Monday night the pupils gave an entertainment in the "New Masonic" which was the finest thing of the kind ever held in Lebanon Junction. The house was more than crowded and members could not even find standing room. Each pupil did his or her best and but for a few notable mistakes were made. On Tuesday night, the exercises closed with a drill participated in by the sixteen graduates. A tableau by the ten female graduates, representing the "Ten Virgins," also some other selections. Prof. Kowman, of Bowling Green, Ky., Dean of the Western Normal School, of that place, delivered the graduating address and Rev. Rowe presented the diplomas with a fitting speech. C. W. Campbell, professor of the school, then announced that more than the required number of the graded school graduates had been furnished to comply with the law and that the vote cast and carried that Lebanon Junction would secure a high school and work would begin at once to enlarge the already very commodious buildings also that he had been unanimously elected principal or president of the school. Much praise is due Prof. Campbell for the untiring pains he has taken with the graded school here for the past three years. His good work is felt and its efforts seen on every hand. Starting in he met with much opposition but now every patron and student of the school is only too glad to lend him a helping hand and eager to receive his instructions. Prof. Campbell is also a minister, pastor of the Christian church here, and is known to a great many in Rockcastle county, he having held several revivals there also, preached the dedication sermon of the new Buckeye Christian church and was pastor of Broadhead church for some time.

In yesterday's Courier-Journal our Master Henri Waterer, on the editorial page, pays his respects to those whom he seems pleased to denominate the Ishmaelites and will fill the country press, and on another page of the same issue of his paper prints a collection of remarks emanating from the rural roosters whose tenor and general tone is anything but complimentary to him. Looking disinterestedly and casually at yesterday's Courier Journal, we could not help being reminded of a flock of martins darting viciously at a hawk, with just about the same effect.—Danville Advocate. Yes but it appears those same birds have about stripped most of the feathers from the old hawk but his hide is too tough to be easily pierced by the well directed thrusts from the beaks of the martins, of the country press.

Autopiano
Don't Deny Yourself The Pleasure of Having Good Piano Music in Your Own Home
The piano is the greatest of all pleasure instruments for the home and it is no longer necessary to be an accomplished musician in order to play it.
Human Ingenuity has made it possible for anyone to play a piano by means of perforated music rolls—that eliminating years of tedious practice—and placing the responsibility of correct playing on the piano rather than on the pianist.
The AUTOPIANO
Has every device necessary to make the piano "human," but you will realize this only when you hear it played. That is why we want you to let us demonstrate The Autopiano! It's just like going to hear some great pianist play—only there is no admission charge.
