Tuesday's election reminded us of the old August elections years ago, when everybody got drunk and had from one to a dozen fights. We had no fights. Tuesday but several times the chances were pretty good.

Now that the elections are all over it is up to the people to turn their attention to their business and keep the wheels of progress moving. For that part we propose to try to give the news and to this end we want to urge our correspondents to assist us in this effort by sending a good letter each week with the full news of your locality. We hope to hear from every one in the county.

We have heard from one or two sources of a half dozen or more men who have said that they were going to stop taking the SIGNAL because this paper supported the bond issue. We were unable to learn the names which we regret very much, but we want to say in unmistakable language that all we ask of those people whoever they may be, is just pay us what you owe us and we will be more than glad to cut your name from our list. The SIGNAL supported the bond issue because we believed it was right and to the man who opposed it from a conscientious standpoint, we have never said aught and never will and thank God we have too much sense and our views are too broad to measure the man who exercised the same right that we claimed for ourselves in freedom of speech.

The bond issue was lost; the advocates have gracefully submitted to their defeat and for the opposition it seems that their victory should be sufficient to them. The result of the election showed that the county was nearly equally divided on those voting and for some men or some few men upon either side, to attempt a boycott as it were, of those upon the other side, is bad policy and a scheme of revenge that has never worked before.

Those who attempted to do it, We are still for good roads and a bond issue to build them because we believe that is the only way they can ever be built and to those who claim the opposite we would say that by your convictions you will be able to do it.

The other man the same right you claim for yourself.

The husband of a woman nooped for her extravagance in dress had a terrible dream. He met a strange collection of animals, several foxes, a beaver and several seals, and they had no coats. He wondered, and then the beaver explained: "We were skinned for your wife's fur." The man smiled "So was I," he said.

L. T. Stewart, a big hearted farmer of Wildie, arrested and landed in jail here one Oscar Sanders. At the time of arrest Sanders had with him, over in Jackson county, a horse belonging to Mr. Stewart which he had borrowed to ride to his brother's funeral. Sanders promised to return the horse in two days but failed to show up the third day and Mr. Stewart went after him and found that he had been trying to sell the horse. Since the arrest reports have been coming in that this same Bowder has been guilty of a number of things, any of which would land him in the pen.

The fact that all Fourth class postoffices as well as many other of the Government jobs have been placed under the Civil Service Act, will cause some disappointment to those who were expecting a postoffice or some other job under the Wilson Administration, if that order holds good when Mr. Wilson goes in. If the order stands as it is now there will be no change in the smaller jobs, including post offices, clerks of all kinds etc. Some say the order will stand some say not. It is very reasonable however to suppose that the precedence long since established, "to the victors belong the spoils" will come pretty near prevailing. Let it be as it may, those who expect anything had better prepare for the Civil Service examination and make ready for a good one, for without it, the chances of a piece of pie will be rather slim.

Brick laying is progressing on the M. J. Miller store house. The Woman's Missionary Society of the Presbyterian church will hold its regular meeting on Thursday, November 21st. at the home of Mrs. Albright. Speaking of what a newspaper does in a community, the late U. S. Senator Davis, of Illinois, made an address in which he said: "Every year each local paper gives from $200 to $500, in free lines to the city in which it is located. No other agency can or will do this. The editor, in proportion to his means, does more for his town than any other man, and he ought to be supported, not because you like or admire him and his style, but because a local paper is the best investment a community can make. Today the local papers are doing more for less pay than anything else on earth."
