

NATURE'S LAWS.

Nature's laws are perfect if only we obey them, but disease follows disobedience. Go straight to Nature for the cure, to the forest; there are mysterious trees, some of which we eat for food. Take the bark of the Wild-cherry tree, with mandarin root, Oregon grape root, some root, quercus' root, bloodroot and golden seal root, make a scientific, glyceric extract of them, with just the right proportions, and you have

DOCTOR PIERCE'S GOLDEN MEDICAL DISCOVERY.

It took Dr. Pierce, with the assistance of two learned chemists and pharmacists, many months of hard work experimenting to perfect this vegetable alterative and tonic extract of the greatest efficiency.

Dr. J. C. W. PAWLEY, of Millville, Calif., writes: "I wish to tell you that I have used your Golden Medical Discovery in my family for twenty years. We have had a doctor called in not once during that time. I have a family of ten children, all well and hearty, for which, to a great extent, we owe thanks to you and your Golden Medical Discovery and Pellets, which we use when sick."

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets regulate and invigorate stomach, liver and bowels. Super-saturated, tiny granules.

SLOGAN IS "ONE FOR EVERY ONE" RURAL TEACHERS BODY OF TRAMPS

Cheerful Cry Adopted in Rowan County in 1911. Dr. Glaxton Says They Change Districts Too Often.

JEANETTE BELL ORIGINATOR RESULTS IN POOR TEACHING

Practiced What She Preached on Poor Girl Who Got Behind in Her Studies on Account of Practical Hindrances. Work Has Not Stopped, Either.

Last winter, when the enthusiasm of the moonlight school campaign was at its height in Rowan county, Miss Jeanette Bell, an efficient stenographer, decided to adopt and carry out the slogan, "One for every one." She looked about her in Moonland, the county seat, for some person who was out of school and could not read or write. In the hotel in which she was living she discovered a pupil, Cordie Wilson, who was working as a chambermaid. "When asked about the work she had done for Cordie Wilson, Miss Bell smiled quietly and said: "It wasn't worth all. It was in pleasure, and a very real pleasure too. You see, Cordie was born in Elliott county, and when she was quite young she was almost blind. Of course she did not go to school with the other children, and when her eyes grew better she felt shy about going to school with children so much her junior. This was somewhat accentuated by the fact that she was one of those unfortunate overgrown girls that look almost twice their real age. Today, at fifteen, Cordie looks like seventeen or eighteen."

"At night when her work at the hotel was done she would come to me with her books and pencil and pad and work like a Turk. Naturally I expected it to take her some time to learn to write and read, but in six nights she could write her name easily and know how to join all her letters into words in the same time she had also learned to read well enough to cover the first twenty pages in her first reader. Soon after this she left the hotel and did not come to me any more."

Every vital human movement itself becomes both religious and contagious and the moonlight school seems to prove the rule. Other counties and communities are taking up the work and it is hoped that the whole state will realize the value of a school for our hood folk.

In 1911 Rowan county decided to strive to get a number of her schools to open their doors for adults who could not read or write. Grown people did not care for a primer or a first reader, so Rowan county launched a paper, THE ROWAN COUNTY SCHOOL MESSENGER, that the pupils should have a real first paper to read. The first column of the paper, dated Sept. 15, 1911, is as follows:

Can we win!
Win the first night school prize. Of course we can. Just watch us try. And watch us WIN!
We are winners, we are!
Watch us grow. Grow what? Everything but weeds.
Our district shall win!
Our division must lead!
Let's all go to school. It is good for us. It will make us young again. It will make us more useful. It may start us on the road to greatness.
All night schools in Rowan county started on Monday evening, Sept. 18.

Each will try to have the largest number enrolled, the best attendance each night and the largest graduating class; also each will try to have the oldest pupil.
Rowan county has the finest building stone in the world.
Rowan county will grow the finest fruit in the world.

First.—Resolved that the progressives of Rockcastle County in mass meeting assembled approve of the call of this meeting at the time and place and for the purpose stated in the call.

Second.—Resolved: That we most heartily endorse the platform of principles promulgated and set forth by the National Committee in Chicago in August 1912 because we believe the principles set forth therein, are more conducive to the happiness, welfare progress and prosperity of the common people and the whole country than principles of either of the old parties and we cordially invite all good citizens who have heretofore affiliated with and supported the old parties, who are in favor of clean, proper progressive government, to join with us and bring about the desired results.

Third.—Resolved: That we are in favor and demand a reduction in salaries of county officers and further demand the strictest economy in financial affairs consistent with the development progress and prosperity of the whole people, and that they use all just means to enforce the laws and thus promote peace, and good society.

Fourth.—Resolved: That we as progressives are in favor of placing in the field a ticket to partially if not wholly fill the county and district offices of the Fifth.—Resolved: That in order to complete the organization of the Progressive party in the county the chairman of this meeting is directed to appoint two of those who voted the progressive ticket at last November in each voting precinct in the county to act as Chairman and Secretary respectively to hold their meetings in their respective districts on Saturday April 12th, 1913 at 1 o'clock p. m. for the purpose of electing district committeemen.

Sixth.—Resolved: That said committeemen meet at the court house in Mt. HENRY WATTERSON, the great editor, like other common mortals who do some writing, he cannot hide his little or big animosities for the great, near great or others who fail to do his bidding or don't follow in lines to his liking. "He do' th protest too much" in his praise for the abilities of Fred Danville Wilson in a few lines then drops back in his usual rant like the boy who is speaking to another with whom he is playing "We are good friends but I don't like you now." Marse Henri's long suit is "speak the truth and shame the devil", so long as it suits his purposes and convenience and like the Indian never forget a supposed or imagined slight or injury given by political associates or from other sources. His grievance with the president crops out on nearly all occasions and he is just watching waiting and hoping for that official to make some break so the Naples-on-the-Gulf writer may note it and roll it under his tongue as a sweet morsel, "I told you so. Ain't this just what I predicted in this campaign of 1912?" It is regrettable and a pity that "so great and good man" as Marse Henri would allow himself to display the littleness that is constantly cropping out in his otherwise Herculean mind.

THE Danville Commercial Club at a smoker held at the Gletcher house discuss various live matters among subjects was the "Old Wilderness Road" which was ably handled by that well known and able lawyer C. C. Bagby of Danville. Much interest was taken in the subject which was well presented and it was voted by the Club that every assistance be given by it toward pushing along the movement looking to the restoration of Boonevay a National highway over the old route from Cumberland Gap to Crab Orchard. It was shown that Danville was on the original Wilderness road.

We needn't talk of quality; you know it. No say our clothes are a Pile of Style - they show it. The new Spring things are fresh and bright, the way they're made, a pure delight. To show our own horn isn't right - we let you flow it.

If you intend to get new clothes, we show 'em. We're talking facts. This isn't a Spring poem. There is but one place you should go - where Suits are right, where price is low. If you want clothes, of course you know we grow 'em!

Some suits are gay and some are quite retired. Our Blues and Tans are very much admired. All say, "how nicely made" - fast colors; they which will not fade. To wear them, one is well arrayed - there's what's desired.

Couldn't Walk! "I used to be troubled with a weakness peculiar to women," writes Mrs. Anna Jones, of Kenny, Ill. "For nearly a year, I could not walk, without holding my sides. I tried several different doctors, but I grew worse. My own druggist advised Cardui for my complaint. I was so thin, my weight was 115. Now, I weigh 163, and I am never sick. I ride horseback as good as ever. I am in fine health at 52 years."
