Eggs seems to be bringing very fair prices here. Hugh Miller paid $20.00 for 90 hen eggs or for 6 settings of Barred Plymouth Rock Eggs. Hugh is a believer in the grand old Plymouth Rock breed a short time ago he paid $15.00 for a Rooster and $10.00 for 2 Pullets from a New York breeder. Hugh says he is going to stock his Hillside Place with 5000, and pedigreed Duroc Jersey Hogs, and Barred Plymouth Rock chickens. Well we see where Hugh is right he is making the right move in the right direction, fall in line boys, yes have better stock of every kind.

No taxes for 20 years. Good labor. Equal distance from Louisville, Knoxville, and Cincinnati. On two lines of Railroad. New railroad being built from Livingston to McKee Jackson county, which will touch 75,000 acres of virgin forest and coal lands. Industries looking for desirable locations, write secretary Livingston Commercial Club, Livingston, Ky."

Ed Price was fined $300, in Police court Monday for bringing more than one gallon of whiskey into town presumably for the purpose of selling it. It is admitted that the jury gave the limit in the trial of such cases, but in this particular instance they gave Price the limit of the fine, and the gentlemen who composed that jury are to be commended for their action. If we had more such juries, there would not be so much boot-legalizing going on. Price kept on what was due him, and if some others who are just as guilty as Price gets the same kind of a deal the whiskey traffic will not be so flourishing in and around Mt. Vernon. Lebanon is the center of attention for a good many since the Webb law became effective.

Mrs. Eliza Mullins, widow of the late Elisha Mullins and the mother of C. E.; F. E. and J. E. Mullins, died Tuesday at her home near Withers, of pneumonia. Mrs. Mullins suffered a partial stroke many months ago and on last Sunday suffered a second attack, resulting in her death on Tuesday.

W. R. McClure the buyer man gives us these figures showing the amount of eggs, hens, etc., shipped during the month of March. Eggs 152 cases, 4550 doz n 3 3 hens; 71 roosters, 15 geese and 7 ducks. For all this he paid $312.15. A nice little business for our man, and this does not figure by one half the selling prices. With the single exception of one case of eggs which strayed into Louisville every dollar's worth has been sold in Cincinnati.

The Rockcastle Railroad Co. has changed the name to that of the Rockcastle River Railway Co., because of the fact there is already another corporation known as the Rockcastle Railroad Co. So far as the change of the name is concerned, we care nothing about it, but the fact that the Rockcastle River Railway Co. in the amended articles of incorporation, has named East Bernstadt as the starting point instead of Livingston is a matter of much concern to Rockcastle and especially the town of Livingston. Of course the promoters are looking out the cheapest and best way for the construction of the road and we get it from a reliable source that the road can be built cheaper from East Bernstadt than from Livingston, but on the other hand there are numerous points in favor of the Livingston route, and before it is everlastingly too late, we want to see the facts brought to the attention of the Board of trustees who are the promoters of the road in order to open up 30000 acres of the finest timber and coal lands in Eastern Kentucky.

A few reasons why the road should be built from Livingston in preference to East Bernstadt. The route is 5 miles shorter, the road will be down grade to Livingston and up grade to East Bernstadt; The freight rate from East Bernstadt to the northern markets is one cent higher than from Livingston, and this one item alone, on the ten thousand car loads of lumber which the Bonds, it is estimated will have to ship out over this road, will more than pay for the construction of the road, if built from Livingston. The road will be worth more to the people if built from Rockcastle river, than if built from the other point. It is reasonable to suppose that in time, when the Bonds have word up their timber, that the road will pass to the L. & N., which corporation will be looking for an outlet into Jackson county by that time and Livingston most certainly has many advantages over East Bernstadt as the terminal of East Bernstadt as the terminal of a road. There are a number of reasons to offer why Livingston should be the starting point for this road and it is up to the people of Livingston to take the lead in presenting these facts to the proper authorities. Livingston Commercial Club and citizens are individually and collectively going after this road, find out who the trouble is and then call upon your friends throughout the county, who will gladly respond to your call. We do not believe in putting so good a proposition slip so easily

PAINS IN THE STOMACH.

If you constantly complain of pains in the stomach, your liver or your kidneys are out of order. Next to lead to dropsy, kidney trouble, diabetes or Bright's disease. Thousands recommend Electric Bitters as the very best stomach and kidney medicine made. H. T. Alston, of Raleigh N. C., who suffered with pain in the stomach and back, writes: "My kidneys were deranged and my liver did not work right. I suffered much, but Electric Bitters was recommended and I improved from the use of it. I now feel like a new man." It will improve you too. Only 50c and $1.00 Recommended by Chas. C. Davis.

Welding two pieces of metal together by the old processes was at best unreliable. When the strain on the welded joint was heavy, you never knew whether it was going to hold, or not. But with the use of electricity in making the weld, the fiber of the two pieces of metal are made to flow into each other and so become practically one piece. The success of this new method was recognized at once, and now you have had a tool or piece of machinery on your farm but what's electrically welded where there is a junction of metals. The present state of perfection of garden and barnyard tools, mowers, reapers, binders, tractors, cultivators, knives, mowers, chain saws, engines and steering gears, bottom of oil cans, frames of bicycles etc., is made possible through electric welding. The same process produces "Pittsburgh Perfect" electrically welded wire fencing, made by the "Pittsburgh Steel Company," whose advertisements are appearing regularly in this paper. "Pittsburgh Perfect" Fencing is a solid, one piece fabric with many distinctive advantages among them being its ease with which it is strong, the great tension to which it can be stretched because of the absolute elimination of "long" and "short" line wires, the smooth surface making wire coats impossible, and the neat appearance of the fence. The welding joints in "Pittsburgh Perfect" are twice as strong as the wire itself because two wires are made into one by electricity, which also piles the galvanizing around the joints, adding greatly to the life of the fence. Modern methods of manufacture in many lines have been greatly benefited by the discovery and practice of welding by electricity.

Dr. M. Pennington, of Bertha, Ky., says: "It is a mistake about his making any discoveries regarding the opening of the pores of the skin. And on account of intermissions and recurrences of the disease, he does not know whether his treatment has been of any material value and any physician who treats the Herpes on the subject on best Pills as well as

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreadful disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and inducing the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative power that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials. Address F. J. "Pittsburgh Perfect" Fence

Save Money on your Fencing by Putting up the Style Made to Meet your Requirements

It's downright foolishness to buy light chicken wire to put around your bull pasture—and you know it. But some people do it because they don't think beyond the price-ticket on the roll of fence—at least not until they've had to patch the chicken wire a dozen times or so where that bull went through.

Made in Different Styles for FIELD, FARM, RANCH, LAWNS, CHICKEN, POULTRY, and RABBIT YARD and GARDEN

Then they put up a brand new stock fence. There's no economy in that kind of fence-buying. The right fence in the first place costs less.

Our free catalogue tells how to buy fencing economically, effectively, wisely. Get it today and save money.

Every Rod Guaranteed

Ask your dealer for "Pittsburgh Perfect" and insist on his furnishing it. It does not allow him to persuade you that some other fence is just as good. If he doesn't sell it, write us direct.

A WOMAN'S GOOD LOOKS
Depend on her general health and freedom from pain. Many a woman looks old before her time because of those irritating wrinkles which are essentially feminine. Starting from early womanhood, she suffers from frequently recurring derangements that upset her womanly beauty. If she is beautiful she grows into that middle age without wrinkles and crow-foot about the eyes or the blue circles underneath. It is invariably the rule that such women suffer little, or not at all, from womanly derangements which wreck the health and leave in the face the tell-tale story of pain and suffering. Dr. R. V. Pierce, the famous specialist in the diseases of women, found a prescription in his early practice that cooled the organism peculiar to womanhood—cooled the machinery of the liver, and aided her face. This remedy became the well-known Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, that has benefited thousands of women and saved them from misery and protracted suffering.

Mrs. Florence... writes:
I have been suffering from a chronic skin disease, each one saying it was something different. It was very severe for over two years. I used a great many remedies, but nothing seemed to do me any good. I was so weak and so much affected, that I had to go to bed every night. I was so miserable that I decided to try Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. I immediately began to feel better, and I have now been well for over a year. I am so happy that I can truly praise the name of Dr. Pierce's medicine. It will be a great blessing to many women who are suffering from such a disease, and I hope will help others as it has helped me.

When Kentucky Educational Association Meets.
GATHERING AT LOUISVILLE.
The program committee of the Kentucky Educational Association has been extremely fortunate in securing the services of practically all the prominent speakers that were originally selected for the gathering in Louisville on April 29 and May 1 and 2. The music will be quite varied, as it is planned to have high school fine clubs, choral choruses and organ recitals.
Before becoming president of the Armour Institute of Technology at Chicago, Dr. Gussakius occupied some of the largest pulpits in this city. Whether Dr. Gussakius talked in his church or in one of Chicago's great theaters, he always had a large audience to listen to him say big things in a splendid big way.
Dr. Gussakius' lecture dates have carried him all over the country in the winter, and during the summer he is always in demand as a popular Chattanooga talker. One of the finest things about Dr. Gussakius is that, although he is a popular, he has never failed to say strong, vigorous things.
Colonel Henry Exall.
It will be an inspiration to the trustees who attend the Kentucky Educational Association to listen to Colonel Exall of Texas. Last January the Commercial club Louisville had Colonel Exall as the speaker at the annual New Year gathering and he simply electrified the men present.
Something over two years ago Colonel Exall decided that it was time for Texas to take care of her soil. Now

DR. FRANK W. GUSSAKIUS.
When Colonel Exall decides things ought to be done the things usually have a way of getting done. He is one inaugurated the Texas Industrial Congress, which offered $10,000 in gold as prizes for every all parts of Texas. It was soon evident that the $10,000 in gold was the least expensive part of the undertaking for various contestants must be kept in touch with each other and the congress. The undertaking cost $20,000 for the first year. Colonel Exall raised the funds. This year 4,000 men, women, boys and girls contended for the prizes and the whole state awoke to the fact that results are being produced. In fact this feeling has become so strong that a group of business men are preparing to finance $100,000 Texas Industrial congress for a period of three years.
Dr. Charles Evans.
Dr. Charles Evans is president of the State Normal school at Edmond, Okla. He is a transplanted Kentuckian, and like any number of transplanted Kentuckians he has made good in the state of his adoption. He grew up in this country, and crew up big. In fact he has grown so big that he is now being spoken of as the next state superintendent of Oklahoma.
His new book, "Growing a Life", published by Rand McNally & Co., is receiving favorable comment from prominent educators in all parts of the country. It is probably the best book as one of the Kentucky reading circle books for the ensuing year.
Dr. Alston Ellis.
Another ex-Kentuckian on the program of the Kentucky Educational Association is Dr. Alston Ellis, president of the Ohio university at Athens. For twelve years he has been making a tour at the University of Ohio, so he is sure to have something worth while to say to the teaching-fore of his home state.
It is said that his love for Kentucky has never been dimmed by his service out of the state. In fact it is rumored that while he is a handsome home at Mt. Vernon, Ky., where he will reside after leaving the university in 1916.

Brown, of Mussading, Ala., writes: "My wife was down in bed with an obstinate cough and I honestly believe had it not been for Dr. King's New Discovery she would not be living today." Known for forty-three years as the best remedy for coughs and colds. Price 50c and $1.00. Recommended by Chas. & Davis.

The following letter received at the SIGNAL was received a few days since from Mr. H. J. Meyer, of the firm of Bush-Krebs Company of Louisville dealers in printing material and type. Read it and the "few remarks" we make therein:

"Several years ago we looked on Indianapolis as a small but growing town. Indianapolis is now larger than Louisville and grows so fast that it looks like a hopping job for us to try to overtake her.

Indianapolis is so progressive and up-to-date that they won't even allow a man to cross the street diagonally. I have found out why we have been left behind. For two years we have had a man traveling Indiana in an effort to get business. We can produce the goods, give the service and the prices, and the salesman is no slouch; but we have made about as much impression on the Hoosiers as a boy's poptun would on the side of a battleship.

The reason? Indianapolis from the north bank of the Ohio to the northern penitentiary stick by Indianapolis, boost her and patronize her in every way possible. They hang together so closely that we have almost become discouraged and concluded to give up any further attempts to invade that territory.

We recently had in your city our Kentucky and Tennessee supply man. He came into Louisville singing the praises of central Kentucky, telling what a fine country it was. He mentioned the people were and what good business prospects there were in that section; but supplemented this by the statement that he had gained the impression that central Kentuckians rather preferred to patronize Cincinnati.

I know that this spirit did pervade your good town for a long neighborhood some years since but hope that it had been entirely eradicated and hope that Mr. Davis's impressions were false. Don't you think that the same spirit that has built up Indianapolis and Indiana might prove a very good thing for Louisville and reflectively for the other towns in this state? What your own sentiments are I have no way of judging except by the fact that we have never succeeded in securing any of your business and this letter is sent you in a spirit of friendly greetings with the hope that not only you but your fellows within can, through you be induced to change your sentiments towards Louisville and unite with us in building up our own Commonwealth rather than lending our strength and help to competitive points. If we expect to make out of Kentucky one of the strong states of the Union we need to pull together rather than part and absorb some of the spirit that has made for the upbuilding of other states.

There is, of course some of the elements of selfishness but it is not entirely selfish because the writer is one of many Louisville people who are trying to grasp the new order of things and work for the upbuilding of our home institutions.

Our travelers will visit your city from time to time and we hope that the coming year will show a deflection of some central Kentucky business to the Kentucky, instead of the Ohio metropolis.

With kindest personal regards,
Very truly yours,
H. J. MEYER.

Cause or causes? Well there are a number of them. Some years ago rotten city politics along with a combination which controlled State conventions, offices and patronage held full sway in the city by the falls. That clique simply "hogged" everything "right or wrong". Other portions of our great Commonwealth had to beg of them if they got any of the crumbs in way of offices or assignments. Some of these assignments were not of the best and our treatment estranged many good business men who transferred their patronage to other cities, some of whom have remained away from the state metropolis to this day. While no one should blame that city for wanting the State Fair located there, it was claimed that unfair means were used in the legislature as against Lexington a more central and the proper location. We have always welcomed Louisville traveling men down this way and give them the biggest portion of our trade but "things have changed since Betsy died". We have been searching Louisville's back, for these many years but were compelled in the meantime to scratch our own on scaly bark hickory trees, sand rocks or scratching posts erected for back-wheat cats. This becoming somewhat monotonous our Commercial Club conceived the idea along last January, of asking Louisville and its newspapers to do a little scratching for us by joining in with us in a little request to the National Government for an appropriation to build a highway from Cumberland Gap to Old Orchard over Boone's Trail and the old Wilderness Road. We ask for bread and gave us a stone". In substance their reply, through the city papers (except Herald) was to this effect: We are not in the back scratching business, discarded that old style proceeds before we secure our State fair location. If you want your back scratched and have run out of scaly bark hickory dig and mine some of your inexhaustible hailgrit and sandstone. If you want roads dig 'em, make good one; make more money thereby and come to Louisville and spend it". This kind of answer with the unasked for advice hindered our club and people who on retaining sufficient breath at once address 250 circular letters to the business and professional men of Louisville and its Commercial Club asking if they endorsed the said editorials and requesting their aid, in backing the small contributions toward the postage fund to be used in the campaign in pushing the movement of the proposed road. To this appeal not a business man or Booster replied. Three professional men did us the courtesy in writing and expressing approval of our efforts to secure better means of ingress and egress from these overleaking hills but requires better roads before proper development can go forward. These three men were Dr. Harry Weber, formerly a resident of Mt. Vernon, Capt. John H. Leathers and Col. Bennett H. Young; the latter enclosing $1 to show good will.

An incident of State fair last September when the Secretary arbitrarily and wrongfully and without reason, deprived our Rockcastle corn club boys from attending the fair as a delegate, is another grievance of our people that went down. The Louisville Commercial Club promise us last fall that the case would be investigated, yet no report or any satisfaction has been given us. This paper has been for past sixty days shooting arrows of protest at the Falls city aggregation in language pointed and strong enough to arouse even Rip Van Winkle in his first years doze, but they are asleep "at the watch" though the epidemics of the people around the falls are of delphin thickness and its arrow and bomb proof as only one professional and two business men of the city have given the matter attention in the way of letters. R. W. Brown, of the Times; John D. Otter, of Otter & Co., and James Clark Jr., of the James Clark, Jr., Electric Co., who stated that they thought we had done a Louisville an injustice referring again to the above letter respecting the "stand together" of Indiana people and the city of Indianapolis. It is simple enough, they simply stand by each other for the reason neither side expects it "all for one and one for all" for the others. They are acquainted with the word reciprocity and practice it and are "back scratchers" from buck-wheat land. There's your explanation. Louisville could have and could yet accomplish the same desired end as Indianapolis has by working along the lines. As to our people patronizing Cincinnati in preference to Louisville we wish to say that considerable trade from this portion of the State has within the last two months turned to Cincinnati, Lexington and Knoxville owing to Louisville's cold deal on our cherished Boone Valley proposition. We agree with Mr. Meyer that our preference should be for Louisville over cities of other states, and things being equal should and would be with our state metropolis. Our people have made every effort to point out to Louisville the futility of her misguided course in her late action or rather non-action in reference to this part of the moral vineyard. It behooves that city to discontinue glittering generalities, with us, and get into action if it expects to regain a portion of its lost trade or retain the remnant now fast slipping from its grasp. Cincinnati chamber of Commerce didn't hesitate an instant when appealed to for assistance in the campaign. It immediately got in communication with her Congressman and advised him that a bill would later be introduced for the construction of "Boone Way" and ask his endorsement and also his influence with Ohio delegation to work for the success of said bill. That counts for her increasing trade relations. It is yet possible for Louisville to throw off that lethargy, disavow a lot of the stuff sent out by its "one man" policy and opined newspapers, remembering its past handicaps, overcome business difficulties now facing it on account of past mistakes. We are hearty, well-wishers for Louisville's success and no locality in the commonwealth will welcome it more heartily than this, the she will have to repent in sackcloth and ashes and change her course of procedure dramatically opposite to that now pursued as regards South Eastern Kentucky. We repeat it, this part of the State demands fair treatment at the hands of Louisville otherwise she need not expect our friendship or trade.

Harry Watterson could command more attention and accomplish something for his state by using his efforts toward getting a highway constructed thru South Eastern Kentucky instead of constantly hot airing the residents with daily advice as to how the Nation should be run and watching, every move of that functionary as a cat watching a rat hole, to discover some flow in his ethics and behavior so as to be the first on deck with "I told you".

Couldn't Walk!

"I used to be troubled with a weakness peculiar to women," writes Mrs. Anna Jones, of Kenny, Ill. "For nearly a year, I could not walk, without holding my sides. I tried several different doctors, but I grew worse. Finally, our druggist advised Cardui for my complaint. I was so thin, my weight was 115. Now, I weigh 163, and I am never sick. I ride horseback as good as ever. I am in fine health at 52 years."

TAKE THE CARDUI Woman's Tonic

We have thousands of such letters, and more are arriving daily. Such earnest testimony from those who have tried it, surely proves the great value of this vegetable, tonic medicine, for women.

Cardui relieves women's sufferings, and builds weak women up, to health and strength. If you are a woman, give it a trial. It should help you, for it has helped a million others. It is made from pure, harmless, herb ingredients, which act promptly and safely on the womanly organs. It is a good tonic. Try it! Your druggist sells it.

MAGISTRATE.
We are authorized to announce
W. HOWARD
As a candidate for Magistrate, First Municipal District, subject to the action of the Republican party, August primary, 1913.

THE following letter addressed to the SIGNAL was received a few days since from Mr. H. J. Meyer, of the firm of Bush-Krebs Company of Louisville dealers in printing material and type. Read it and the "low remarks" we make thereon:

"Several years ago we looked on Indianapolis as a small but growing town. Indianapolis is no larger than Louisville and going so fast that it looks like a hopeless job for us to try to overtake her.
Indianapolis is so progressive and up-to-date that they won't even allow a man to cross the street diagonally.
I have found out why we have been left behind. For two years we have had a man traveling Indiana in an effort to get business. We can produce the goods, give the service and the prices, and the salesman is no slouch; but we have made about as much impression on the Hoosiers as a boy's pogram would on the side of a battleship.
The reason, Indianapolis from the north bank of the Ohio to the northern penitentiary, stick by Indianapolis, boost her and patronize her in every way possible. They hang together so closely that we have almost become discouraged and concluded to give up any further attempts to invade that territory.
We recently learned in your city our Kentucky and Tennessee supply man. He came into Louisville singing the praises of central Kentucky, telling what a fine country it was, how courteous the people were and what good business prospects there were in that section; but supplemented this by the statement that he had gained the impression that central Kentuckians rather preferred to patronize Cincinnati.
I know that this spirit did pervade your good town and neighborhood some years since but hope that it had been entirely eradicated and hope that Mr. Davis's impressions were false. Don't you think that the same spirit that has built up Indianapolis and Indiana might prove a very good thing for Louisville and reflectively for the other towns in this state? What your own sentiments are I have no way of judging except by the fact that we have never succeeded in securing any business and this letter is sent you in a spirit of friendly greetings with the hope that not only you but your fellowtownsmen can, through you be induced to change your sentiments towards Louisville and unite with us in building up our own Commonwealth rather than lending our strength and help to competitive points. If we expect to make out of Kentucky one of the strong states of the Union we need to pull-together rather than apart and absorb some of the spirit that has made for the upbuilding of other states.

There is, of course some of the elements of selfishness but it is not entirely selfish because the writer is one of many Louisville people who are trying to grasp the new order of things and work for the upbuilding of our home institutions.

Our travelers will visit your city from time to time and we hope that the coming year will show a deflection of some central Kentucky business to the Kentucky, instead of the Ohio metropolis.

With kindest personal regards,
Very truly yours,
H. J. MEYER.

Cause or causes? Well there are a number of them. Some years ago rotten city politics along with a combination which controlled the conventions, offices and patronage held fast away in the city by the falls. That clique simply "hogged" everything "light or wrong". Other portions of our great commonwealth had to beg of them if they got any of the crumbs in way of offices or assignments. Soreness and dispar politeness over this and other unfair treatment estranged many good business men who transferred their patronage to other cities, some of whom have remained away from their state-metropolis to this day. While no one should blame that city for wanting the State Fair located there, it was claimed that unfair means were used in the legislature as against Lexington a more central and the proper location. We have always welcomed Louisville traveling men down this way and give them the biggest portion of our trade but "things have changed since Betsy died". We have been scratching Louisville's back, for these many years but we were impelled in the meantime to scratch our own on scaly bark hickory trees, sand rocks or scratching posts erected for buck-wheat cake eaters. This becoming somewhat monotonous our Commercial Club conceived the idea along last January, of asking Louisville and its newspapers to do something for us by joining in with us in a little request to the National Government for an appropriation to build a highway from Cumberland Gap to Crab Orchard over Boone's Trail and the old Wilderness Road. We asked for bread and gave us a stone". It was their reply, through the city papers (except Herald) was this effect: We are not in the back scratching business, discarded that old style proceeds before we secured State fair location. If you want your back scratched and have run out of scaly bark hickory dig and mine or your inexhaustible halibut and sandstone, you want roads dig em, make good one; make more money thereby and come to Louisville and spend it". This kind of answer with the unasked for advice kinder sound our Club and people who on regarding sufficient breath at once address 250 circular letters to the business and professional men of Louisville and its Commercial Club asking if they endorsed the said editorials and requesting their aid, influence and small contributions toward a postage fund to be used in the campaign in pushing the movement for the proposed road. To this appeal not a business man or Booster replied. Three professional men did us the courtesy in writing and expressing approval of our efforts to secure better means of ingress and egress from these overgrown hills but requires better roads before proper development can go forward. These three men were Dr. Harry Weber, formerly a resident of Mt. Vernon, Capt. John H. Leathers and Col. Bennett H. Young; the latter enclosing $1 to show good faith. After two or more requests the Louisville Commercial Club later came "limping in the rear" with the information that the club had any interest in the movement, and that was about all it had to say. No others were disclosed with their communique to

An incident of State fair last September when the Secretary arbitrarily and wrongfully and without reason, deprived our cockscare cora club boy from attending the fair as a delegate, another grievance of our people that went down. The Louisville Commercial Club promise us last fall that the case would be investigated, yet no report or any satisfaction has been given us. This paper has been for past six days shooting arrows of protest in language pointed and strong enough to arouse even Rip Van Winkle in his first years doze, but they are asleep "at the switch" though the epidemics of the people around the falls is of elephant thickness and is arrow and bomb proof as only one professional and two business men of the city have given the matter attention in the way of letters. R. W. Brown, of the Times; John D. Otter, of Otter & Co., and James Clark Jr., of the James Clark, Jr., Electric Co., who stated that they thought we had done Louisville an injustice. Referring again to the above letter respecting the "stunt taken" of Indiana people and the city of Indianapolis. It is simple enough, they simply stand by each other for the reason neither side expects it "all for one and nothing for the other". They are acquainted with the word reciprocity and practice it and are "back scratchers" from buck-wheat land. That's your explanation, Louisville could have and could yet accomplish the same desired end as Indianapolis has by working along the lines. As to our people patronizing Cincinnati in preference to Louisville we wish to say that considerable trade from this portion of the State has within the last two months turned to Cincinnati, Lexington and Knoxville owing to Louisville's cold deal on our cherished Boone Way proposition. We agree with Mr. Meyer that our preference should be for Louisville over cities of other states, and things being equal should and would be with your state metropolis. Our people have made every effort to point out to Louisville the futility of her misguided course in her late action or rather non-action in reference to this part of the moral vineyard. It behooves that city to discontinue glittering generalities, with us, and get into action if it expects to regain a portion of its lost trade or to retain the remnant now fast slipping from its grasp. Cincinnati chamber of Commerce did not hesitate an instant when appealed to for assistance in the campaign. It immediately got in communication with her Congressman and advised him that a bill would later be introduced for the construction of a "Boone Way" and asked his endorsement and also his influence with Ohio delegation to work for the success, of said bill. They do things in the Queen City That counts for her increasing trade relations. It is yet possible for Louisville to throw off that lethargy, disavow a lot of the stuff sent out by its "one man" policy and opined newspapers, remembering its past hardships, overcome business difficulties now facing it on account of past mistakes. We are hearty, well wishes for Louisville's success and no locality in the commonwealth will welcome it more heartily than this, the we will have to repent in sackcloth and ashes and change her course of procedure diametrically opposite to that now pursued as regarding South Eastern Kentucky. We repeat it, this part of the State demands fair treatment at the hands of Louisville otherwise she need not expect our friendship or trade.

Couldn't Walk!

"I used to be troubled with a weakness peculiar to women," writes Mrs. Anna Jones, of Kenna, Ill. "For nearly a year, I could not walk, without holding my sides. I tried several different doctors, but I grew worse. Finally, our druggist advised Cardui for my complaint. I was so thin, my weight was 115. Now, I weigh 163, and I am never sick. I ride horseback as good as ever. I am in fine health at 52 years."
