Ground limestone for fertilizer and other purposes is one of the products gotten out here by W. J. Sparks Co. The demand for it is growing and the firm is being rushed with orders.

Tell me, ye winged winds that around my pathway roar, do ye not know some quiet spot where wives clean houses no more; some one, sequestered, dale, some island seen afar, where life is not one ceaseless war with cobwebs and dirt; where nature's carpet spreads beneath their tired feet, and wretched men are near compelled its emerald folds to read? The breeze fanned my heated face and said, "Beat on, there's no such place."

There are many to criticize and many to offer advice in this world but now few real helpers. The New York Sun tells of a recent incident on the streets of that great city, where a horse drawing a cart of coal, stalled. A great crowd gathered about, and many were the words of advice spoken to the driver. One advised whipping, another tying a cloth over the horse's eyes, blowing in his ear, and such things. Just then two sailors came along, and one of them called out, "Ay, mate, but here's a craft on a reef! 'Over with her, then!' Both seized a wheel for a lift, the driver clucked for the horse to go ahead, and away went the load as easily as you please. They were the only two in the whole crowd who had not advised the driver how to do it.

Miss Sallie Hasty a beautiful young lady, of Wildlife Ky., was called to rest Monday evening, her promising young life departing with the sinking sun, bringing darkness and sorrow to her many friends and relatives. She was a girl loved by all who knew her and will be missed more than words can express as her loving sympathetic disposition was a source of sunshine and happiness to all who came in her way. While the deceased is sadly missed by a mother and father and a host of friends and relatives we are comforted by the consoling thought that she is in heaven enjoying the glories thereof and awaiting the time when she will be with her loved ones once more. Weep not for those, who now at rest, Are by eternal happiness blessed And when in peace, repose some where, In heaven, safe in Jesus care. Our girl is gone, we loved her so, But God has said we all must go Still death is but a veil, that here On earth doth hide a brighter sphere. She is not dead but just asleep And some day God has said will meet, And press her fondly to our heart, In heaven never more to part. LEO KELLER.

WOMEN TAKE NOTICE!

A man cannot understand the terror and suffering many women endure uncomplainingly. If the majority of men suffered as much pain and endured with patience the weakening sicknesses that most women do, they would ask for immediate sympathy and look for a quick cure.

Many women have been saved from a life of misery and suffering by turning to the right remedy—Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It is a safe, reliable, and effective remedy for all the ailments of women. It is an extract of roots, made with pure glycerine, and is first given to the public by that famous specialist in the disease of women—Dr. R. V. Pierce, of the 'Largest' Hotel and Surgical Institute of Buffalo, N. Y.

Mrs. LIZZIE M. THOMPSON, of Lincoln, Neb., 50b, C. O. 384, says: "I could not get on with much pleasure so that some suffering woman may know that I do not know your remedy. I was a great sufferer from nervous troubles, but after taking one bottle of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, which a friend advised me to take, I found myself very much improved. After to-day three more bottles, and using two bottles of Dr. Pierce's Laxative Tablets, I found myself on the road to recovery. I was in poor health for five years but now I am cured."

"I hope all women suffering from female weakness will give Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription a fair trial."

Doctor Pierce's Pleasant Pellets regulate and invigorate stomach, liver, etc. Sold everywhere. See circulars.

My Dear Friend:

The above term of address is perfunctory; it is real, it is sincere, and I think justified by our past intercourse.

I am inclosing check for "Boone Postage Fund" which will purchase stamps for one hundred and twenty-five letters of usual weight. I had intended sending two weeks ago but was prevented by an attack of the malades incident to old age. I have dropped on the latter part of the sentence by reading in the infernal newspapers, daily, semi-weekly, tri-weekly and hebdomadally so often that Mr. so and so died from the infirmities incident to old age. They seem to have found no other cause for "Shuffling off this mortal coil" if I was monarch of all I survey I would certainly put a quid on it. It is, bad enough goodness knows to be old without trying it constantly. I have your face by shoes that have your money in their jeans. I think it high time that a crusade was made against it under the statutes for the prevention of cruelty to animals. I believe man is an animal, and woman is not, because I have seen no piece announcing the death of a female from such cause, or if it may be that they never grow old. But I am helpless and can only enter this my feeble protest. The check I assure you will be good if it is paid. You will remember, I am too fast you are entirely too young for that, so let me say that you have heard from tradition and as a matter of ancient history, of the man who when postage stamps first were in vogue, used one but being a doubting Thomas wrote under it: "Paid if the D— thing sticks". This may have some application to the enclosure, the D— D— thing may not be honored unless presented promptly. I have some faint hopes that you will pass the cashier but candid and doing what is right between man and man, compels me to say that the right hand side of my bank book is making a desperate and I sometimes fear a successful assault on the left. So send in before the citadel surrenders and the pillage is complete.

I am glad to so ardently "Mite" to this glorious enterprise and to wish it a hearty "God Speed". It is a proposition worthy of all acceptance. If a road is flung as proposed it will rival historically, and patriotically the great Roman Highways that enabled a speedy spread of the Gospel of the Son of Man. This has been far better expressed by a great man, Edward Reverte, in these beautiful words: "The roads and aqueducts of Rome have been the admiration of all later ages, and have survived thousands of years after all her conquests have been swallowed up in desolation or become the spoil of barbarians."

Besides if this state would have great men in the present or the future it must do something worthwhile to honor and perpetuate the names and deeds of its pioneers who laid broad and deep the foundations of its present glory. "An age which passes over in silence the merits of its heroes, reserves as a punishment the should not bring forth such an one in its midst."

No part of the "Winning of the West" can be written in which his name can be omitted. His fame has reached across the broad Atlantic and has been followed among the immortals in the following glowing and truthful lines of Reardon's premier poet, Lord Byron: "Of all men who pass for in life and death most lucky. Of all great men which in our race stand, Is Daniel Boone, Backwoodsman of Kentucky."

Crime came not near him—she is not the child of Solitude. Health shrank not from him, for

Her home is in the rarely trodden wild!

Shall we fail to give the merited tribute in what shall be of lasting form, that shall last as long as "We are many in One" and still survive that. If we do then we stamp ourselves indelibly as degenerate sons of noble sires."

You may, tho' not a female woman, have a slight touch of curiosity why I selected a certain period rather than another to send the contribution. You shall have that curiosity gratified. It grows out of a little sentimentality that is in me, of which I would fain in this prosaic time, rid myself but cannot entirely throw it to the winds.

It was during the week intervening between the 12th and 16th of April just 55 years ago that my young eyes first looked upon Mount Vernon then and now a notable Mecca of the heart to me. It was a love visit, in the Spring time when as "Tea-spoon so sweetly expresses it "A young man's heart turns to the things man's heart turns to the things of Love"; "I had his across country from Somerset to bring home, the then to me the dearest little girle in all the "Wide world wide". It rained so as to prevent immediate return and for several days I was detained in the village. I did not form many acquaintances, the time being mostly employed. Of those I did meet I am unable to recall one bright and early on Sunday (it was I that left Somerset) but found Buck creek a raging impassible stream and we were invited to partake of the hospitality of that prince of gentlemen, Uncle Jeff Gilmore till the flood of winter should subside. By right source, the ford was successfully made on Monday morning and Somerset was reached in time for me to make my opening campaign speeches, a candidate for county attorney.

This was my first public entrance into politics which has been, not inappropriately, denominated as "lost sinners." I was at Mount Vernon when passing through it to visit the battlefield of Wildcat in the fall of 1861; then on the second Monday in August 1864 when Maj. T. L. W. Sawyer and myself set the ball rolling for Lincoln. Since then my visits on pleasure, politics and business, have been frequent. When I went to see one of my dear little did I anticipate that I was going to fall desperately in love with another, to-wit the good people of Rockcastle County but such is the force, they have kept my constant friends thru good and evil report, never having failed me. I have loved them all these years and shall love them till I die. I would not let this opportunity pass without having my name connected in a small way with an undertaking in which they have so deep an interest.

I could not resist, the almost equally strong temptation to unburden what was on my heart to you. There are several to whom I might have done this unburdening but your prominent connection with the movement, (you possessing also the other qualifications) fixed my choice.

In conclusion, with the very best wishes, with the hope that The "Boone Way" will be constructed, that your name may be harked with it, and you will be the guardian of the glory of an old man's name. Sincerely yours,
THOMAS Z. MORADY,
Mt. Vernon, Ky.

HEALTH A FACTOR IN SUCCESS

The largest factor contributing to a man's success is good health. It has been observed that a man is seldom sick when his bowels are regular—he is never weary, he can do more, he is patient, his constitution you will find nothing quite so good as Chamberlain's Tablets. They not only move the bowels but improve the appetite and strengthen the digestion. They are sold by all dealers.

The Estimate of Clothcraft Always Higher Than
The Price

ASK your friend how much he thinks you paid for your suit. If it's a Clothcraft and he doesn't happen to know it, he's sure to guess at least a third more than the actual price. It's not surprising either. In the first place, it's hard for him to realize that a suit can fit you so well without being measured for it.

Then when he notices the cloth, the neat tailoring and the stylish set and drape of the clothes, he is surprised to learn that Clothcraft Clothes cost only $10 to $25. Especially is he surprised to learn that Clothcraft Clothes are all wool, covered by a guarantee that also insures lasting shape, satisfactory wear and service. On the strength of this guarantee alone, many men have first been led to buy and wear first Clothcraft Clothes. It's a safe example for you to follow.

Scientific Tailoring Makes it possible to sell The Clothcraft Blue Serge Special No. 5139, at $15.

Be good to your feet this time

ballot of that party with which they declare their affiliation. This will leave the selection of the nominee open to some abuse because under it a Republican elector might declare his affiliation with the Democratic party, receive a Democratic ballot and then vote for the weakest candidate on the ticket. By a concerted action on the part of any great number of members either the one or the other party, the weak candidates of either the one or the other party might thereby be selected, but from the careful reading of the entire law I see no way that this matter can be regulated or controlled unless it is left to the discretion and good judgment of the judges and I doubt then whether they would have the power to refuse a man a ballot on the simple grounds that he did not believe he was affiliated with the party indicated by his declaration. I do not think that it was the intention of the Legislature that there should be any blank space left on the ballot for the writing of names. My belief in this view is somewhat borne out by the latter part of Section 17 of the act, which provides as follows: "The ballot shall be printed so as to give each elector a clear opportunity to designate his choice of candidates for nomination by making with the stencil a cross in the square after the name of each candidate to whom he wishes to vote for nomination. "If my construction of this section is correct that is that the choice of the elector shall only be designated in the manner provided in Section 17, then the officers of the election would not be authorized to count as a valid vote for any person, whether for one party or the other, who had written on the ballot with a pencil or with pen and ink, as far as that is concerned. It is claimed by parties posted in the law that when a voter cast his ballot at 1912 election for Wilson will not be allowed a Republican ballot or one who voted for Taylor will not be allowed a Democratic ballot. The same rule would of course, apply to the Progressives.

The Board of Trade Bristol, Va., Tenn., advises our Commercial Club that three districts of Scott county in Virginia have voted $15,000 for a good road which assures the completion of the Bristol-to-Lexington (Ky.) Highway between Bristol and Cumberland Gap. Boone Way from the Gap to Crab Orchard would do the balance.

W. J. LAMPTON. (His Rites) One of New York's great riders is W. J. Lampton, a native of Leslie county Kentucky the heart of the mountains of Eastern portion of our domains. He has made good in the great metropolis and has gained a national reputation in his profession. The following epistle indicates that he is a believer in the old saying: "It is better late than never," and "It is never too late to do good". Listen: Brer Maret: By this time—date of your letter Jan. 30.—you have cooled down from cussing me out and I take my pen in hand to let you know I am well and hope you are enjoying the same blessing. When your request for a Boone boom came, I couldn't have found time to have done it if I could, but I couldn't. To do that sort of thing right a man has to be on the ground and up to the chin in the spirit of it. Of course I could have written a Fourth of July sort of a blow, but it would have sounded like wind and not had half the power of a genuine cyclone. I've been there and I know. So much at the time your letter came. Then when I began to get my breath and stretch my legs I concluded that as I had been so doggone impolite as not to pay any attention at all you had probably consigned me to the not place and gone ahead on your own power. Then I felt better and began to study up a real nice apology. This is it. This is just a nice statement of facts. How is the road building coming out? Do you know you are tackling a mighty big proposition? If you could swing the road some how up into New York way where there is plenty of money you might do better with it, but I don't see just how it can be done. Even New Jersey might be worth considering with Woodrow in the White House and plenty of Jersey pride. However, here's hoping you'll get it and I'll live to run a big red touring car up and down it. Yours to commendation, W. J. LAMPTON, April 29, 1913.

WHY A MAN LIKES A DOG. "Why does a man like a dog?" responded the suffragette lady, fiercely, and repeated: "Why does a man like a dog? Well there are numerous reasons, though a dog is not a reasoning being. A dog will lick the hand that beats it; a dog will eat a crust and a bone and bless the giver; a dog thinks whatever a man does is right and proper; a dog has no rights that a man is bound to respect; a dog asks no embarrassing questions; a dog is always grateful, no matter for what; a dog does not ask the man to stay at home nights; a dog is satisfied to love the man, whether the man loves the dog or not; a dog submits to any and all impositions without protest; a dog does not consider itself a man's equal; a dog lets a man have his own way; a dog does not want to vote; a dog is just as glad to see a man when he gets in at 3 o'clock in the morning, alone as he is, as if he had not gone out at all; a dog has no mother in sight and a dog can't talk back—can't talk back, mind you, nor won't talk back. That is why a man likes a dog." W. J. Lampton, in New York Herald.
