Lemon and other extracts, kept in the stores and bought by persons addicted to drink, makes a horrible drunk. Much of this stuff is used by victims of the drink habit after being on a whiskey spree. It exhilarates for a time and the user indulges more of it under the impression that it will ease his feeling of gloom, suffering and despondency which it does only for a little time, then sets in suffering and horrors ten fold worse which simply drives the user over the borderland of lunacy and irresponsibility. It would be an act of mercy if dealers would refuse to sell more than one bottle of it at a time to any person and that individual should be known to be a sober discreet party who would not use it as a beverage or purchase it for others. These extract victims are to be pitied but not more so than their families and friends who are misled and annoyed and worried to the point of distraction at the hands of these extract fiends whose actions put old Nick to shame. Some favor the idea of petitioning grocers and haulers of extracts and essences to refuse to sell to any person who drinks intoxicating liquors.

We learn of good authority that Mr. W. H. Sowder, the Broadhead merchant, will be a Democratic candidate for county judge. Mr. Sowder is one Rockcastle best citizens in whom the people have implicit confidence knowing him to be a man of strict integrity and honesty. The people would make no mistake in electing him to this responsible office.

Democratic candidates before the Lincoln county primary have signed an agreement to use no liquor or money in the races.

LOW HEELS.
The girls are walking low this spring. Maybe they have given heed to all this talk about foot aches and painful feet. Maybe the writer who said that the high heeled shoes were making the toes do what the heels should do has been heeded. And then maybe not.

However, why discuss the reason for it? The fact is here—the correctly dressed girl is wearing a broad-soled, no-heel shoe.

The present type of shoe is a good one, but the change has come too suddenly. There will be a reaction. When a person has walked on high heels for years the bones have become adjusted to the position.

When the rear end of the long heel bone is raised the front end is pitched downward. The leg bone comes to sit on the forward sloping surface. The foot bones in front of the heel bone join the heel bone at a new angle. Much of the weight of the body is carried to the toes without the accustomed spring.

The ligaments readjust themselves; the muscles and tendons lengthen or shorten as needed. After this mechanical adjustment has been working for a long time it cannot be suddenly changed without causing trouble.

When the heels are left off the shoes the rear end of the heel bone drops down an inch or more. The pitch is backward, at least it is more so than it was. The facets of the bones must readjust themselves. Now facets must be fashioned, and, while the process is going on, the bones move on each other with some friction and heat—and pain.

The length of tendon and muscle required is, not the same for the two positions. The muscles running from the calf to the sole are not quite long enough.

As a consequence the woman tires easily. As a result of fatigue the muscles of the calf ache or spasmodically contract from time to time.

The change for the time results in loss. To bring about the same result by gradual change is another matter. To lower the heel bit by bit, giving the muscle time enough to elongate, giving the bones time to gradually readjust their facets, would have been wise.

There is not the same objection to the rapid widening of the sole but there, too, something would have been gained by a more gradual change.

Booker Washington is easily the foremost negro in the country and a man to whom thousands of his race look for leadership. He has reached that position through his own efforts. He began to work when a small boy, in the salt furnaces and coal mines of West Virginia. Then he worked his way through the Hampton Institute for negroes, where, after many years, he became a teacher. His most important work so far has been to organize a normal and industrial school for negroes at Tuskegee, Alabama, of which he is the principal. Mr. Washington has written several books, including "The Future of the American Negro," and "Up from Slavery". He is an able public speaker.

The constant itching, burning, redness, rash and disagreeable effects of eczema, tetter, salt rheum, itch, piles and irritating skin eruptions can be readily cured and the skin made clear and smooth with Dr. Hobson's Eczema Ointment. Sunday last at the Fourth Street church, Louisville, a child the name of Rev. Michel, "the sweet singer of the Gumberlands" told of the needs of his mountain work at Harlan, Ky., and pictured the boys and girls who assembled in the various schoolhouses Sunday after Sunday under the instruction of his teachers.

Among other things he said: "The opportunity in our own State is being lost by our calling us to our own people. No more fertile field for education and religion exists. No finer men and women can be found anywhere than we have in our mountain section. But we need sympathy and prayers and immediate assistance in money for the extension of our work."

A Special to Courier Journal from Hazard, Perry county, Monday says: "Joe Smith, an extra grade section foreman, living at Typo, was killed instantly this morning at 5 o'clock by being run down by the Armstrong and Bragg work train. Smith and a man by the name of Ashcraft were sitting on the trestle near Typo when the train came in sight. Ashcraft got off and Smith started to, but stopped. Before the engine could be brought to a standstill it had knocked Smith down, and when picked up he was dead. He leaves a wife and five children. On this farm is a "potato hill" which at one time was so symmetrical that when planted in corn it was only necessary to make one row to plant the whole hill. Beginning at the bottom and circling around the hill until top was reached, the result being something like the form of a big corker, making a row probably several miles in length. At his death, by direction of his will, the remains of Mr. Hay was buried at the top of this hill, where, it will be stated the location was "up above the Evans families, my enemies, from which point I can look down upon and spit on them."

The descendants of the latter families are prominent people in Perry county today.

A GOOD LAW In the State of West Virginia there will go into effect next June a law which provides that a husband who fails to support his family shall be put to work by the State, giving him board and lodging, and his earnings to the amount of $1.50 per day, turned over to his family. It is a good law and should be in effect in every State. It would certainly have some influence on the fellow who marries a woman without first considering whether he can support a family. There is entirely too much rushing into matrimony without the men having any visible means of support of two or more.

ROBS DRUG STORE TO GET POISON TO END HIS LIFE. Pineville, Ky., June 11—D. B. Logan, Jr., son of a prominent business man, committed suicide here under extraordinary circumstances. He was armed with an automatic revolver he threatened to shoot any one who came near him and fired three shots. After the poison took effect, he told his friends what he had done. Physicians were called, but he died in a few hours. The dead man suffered an injury to his head when struck by a freight train two years ago and had never recovered his mental balance.

Saturday the writer had the pleasure of inspecting the new outfit of the Crab Orchard Milling Co., which was completed and put in operation only a few days ago.

The mill is equipped throughout with Nordyke and Morman machinery, which is second to none, with one of the best and most expensive millers to be found in charge and grinding only a first grade of wheat, the Crab Orchard Milling Co. is in a position to give to the trade as high a grade of flour as any mill in the world.

The capacity is sixty barrels per day and Mr. S. L. Cummins who is the principal stockholder says that "White Pawn" the first grade shuck soon be known throughout Eastern Kentucky as one of the best flour on the market. The second grade is "Our Pride" and the third grade, "Old Homesty."

COMMERCIAL CLUB—Meeting took place Wednesday night instead of Tuesday on account Tom Trumbull's entertainment. Among subjects handled was the question of better railroad connections at Junction City. The matter, on motion, was referred to a committee which had already been in correspondence with State Railroad Commission at Frankfort with a good prospect of a remedy being found in the situation.

The electric light question will be settled by next meeting so as the party with whom the Club has been negotiating is concerned. If said party does not close deal by that time other individuals offer to proceed with the work.

The program of papers and addresses for last meeting were continued until past week when it was confidently expected the speakers will come up smiling with their

Lewis delivered a lecture on the Resurrection.—W. H. Lewis was up to see his family this week. He is employed at the Smith ranch.—Mr. and Mrs. Sam Douglas were up from the west end last week visiting friends and had a load of rye and wheat from A. B. Lewis.—Squire Ferguson and Roy S. Lewis went to Grand Junction to get their seed for Spring planting."

When the report became circulated a few days since that Rev. George S. Watson was to leave Mt. Vernon and take charge of a church at Booneville, the Mt. Vernon people, who have long since learned to regard him as one of our greatest assets and benefactors, simply called to submit resolutions adopted by the Commercial Club and the Woman's Club, the general position signed by every one, to say nothing of the personal letters which will go into the head authorities, we believe will be sufficient to convince that Mt. Vernon and Rockcastle needs and wants him to stay where he is. Rev. Watson is extremely popular with all the people and, for us to lose him at this time would mean a severe blow to some of the most important undertakings begun of which he is one of the leading figures. In every laudable undertaking he is looked to as one to help do it and to see his aims a great loss to educational developments. We beg to say nothing of the church.

DEAFNESS CANNOT BE CURED. by local application, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear, there is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing and if it is left unchecked, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out of this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

TAKE PLENTY OF TIME TO EAT. There is a saying that "rapid eating is slow eating". If you have formed the habit of eating too rapidly you are most likely suffering from indigestion or constipation, which will result eventually in serious illness unless corrected. Digestion begins in the mouth. Food should be thoroughly masticated and "insalivated". Then when you have a fullness of the stomach or feel dull and stupid after eating, take one of Chamberlain's Tablets. Many severe cases of stomach trouble and constipation have been cured by the use of these tablets. They are easy to take and most agreeable in effect. Sold by Chas. C. Davis.

HOW BLOOD IS MADE.

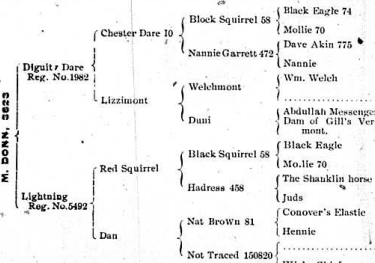

The fluids and the digested foods in the alimentary canal pass through the wall of the small intestine. This process is called absorption and takes place chiefly from the small intestine. After absorption the blood carries the food through the body, and each cell takes from the blood the food it needs. A pure glyceric extract made from bloodroot, mandarin, stone, queen's root and golden seal and sold by druggists for the past forty years under the name of Dr. F. J. Golden Medical Discovery, gives uniformly excellent results as a tonic to help in the assimilation of the food and in the absorption by the blood of the food. It eradicates the poisons from the blood with this alternative effect which does not irritate the white blood corpuscles, because containing no alcohol or other irritating ingredients. Thus the body can be built up—strong to resist disease. This is a tonic taken from Nature's garden which builds those who are weakened by disease. Dr. F. J. Golden, founder of the Lavallée's Hotel at Buffalo, N. Y., has received many letters similar to the following:

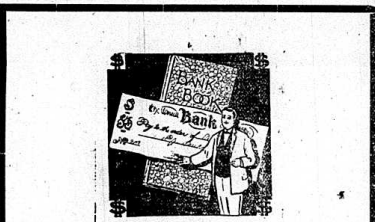

Mr. J. H. Moore, of Franklin, N. Y., writes: "I feel very pleased in writing you as regards my case and its cure. In September, 1913, I was seized with dizziness, nervous and was confined to a moribund bed. I had tried most everything I could get but nothing did me any good until at last, I was advised to try Dr. F. J. Golden Medical Discovery, and I found it to be the best medicine I had used. I had used one bottle, and I had a great improvement in my condition. I returned to my normal condition, and I was able to enjoy my life again. This wonderful medicine. I wish all sufferers to write to Dr. F. J. Golden, so he can write them." Dr. F. J. Golden, so he can write them.

NEW SCHOOLS BEING BUILT.

As Fast as Laws Are Passed For the Betterment of Rural Schools Counties Take Advantage of Them—Secure Services of Experts and Select Teachers More Carefully.

There never was a time in the history of the old commonwealth when its future looked as bright as it does in this year of 1913. No matter where one goes in the length and breadth of the state one hears schools being discussed. Many new buildings are being erected in the place of those which have so long been a disgrace to the communities that have permitted them to exist.

Plans are being discussed in many localities for larger grounds and better equipment. The teachers are being more carefully selected than in the past, and there is a general feeling that school problems should be fairly met and solved.

This feeling has resulted in increased activity in educational matters in all sections of the state. The county authorities have taken advantage of the new laws, and secured the services of one or more experts to assist the county superintendent in this super-work.

Davess county decided to try a rather unique plan of supervision, which consists in working originally during the school year that has just closed. Instead of striving to reach the small schools by means of a large county that is often cut to pieces by swollen streams that flow through the bottom lands that board of education decided to have fifteen supervisors.

These supervisors were all teachers of strong personality and wide experience. Almost any afternoon this spring in the basement of one of the big high schools, tables littered with roots of young apple trees, twigs from standard varieties, thread, wire, gages and knives might have been seen.

As rapidly as they were cut roots and twigs they were wound with thread and placed in small bundles. These bundles of ten, fifteen or twenty feet of twigs were then sent to the country by parcel post. These twigs were to be planted in the home gardens of the pupil teachers and carefully cultivated for a year before being set out permanently.

The interest in this real vital work of education is growing as shown by the fact that the number of trees planted in the basement of one of the big high schools, tables littered with roots of young apple trees, twigs from standard varieties, thread, wire, gages and knives might have been seen.

Close and constant supervision, is the price of success in any business, and our badly scattered rural schools are no exception. We have not got the returns from our expenditure of money on our rural schools because there was no supervision to learn where the leaks were and how they might be stopped or repaired.

Money and money in any amount needed will come as soon as supervision makes the public know that results will be obtained. Our children have been taught in any fashion that suited the individual that was in the neighborhood "keep-it school." Naturally the children did not know what was the matter when they failed to make a suitable progress; neither did their parents.

Every one knew that the interest of both the children and their parents was flagged. They also knew that many of the older children dropped out of school because they were thoroughly dissatisfied.

Reports from county superintendents all over the state show that there is a new spirit both in the teaching force and among the children under this new influence of supervision. It is a simple proposition. It is that both teachers and children are becoming conscious of definite work that is being done in a thoroughly systematic manner.

FRUITS COULD BE KENTUCKY GROWN

$17,000,000 Spent Outside State Each Year.

SHOULD GROW THEM HERE.

Schools Are Striving to Help Solve Problems That Will Confront Our Children—Advice to Talk to Older Farmers—Buyer of Cereals Club Way to Success.

It is estimated that there are 9,000,000 apple trees of bearing age in Kentucky at the present writing. Our annual crop from these trees is something like 3,000,000 bushels of inferior quality. We spend $17,000,000 for fruits of all kinds that could be grown in Kentucky.

It is useless to talk to many of the older farmers, for they will tell you:

"Oh, yes, when I was a boy you could raise all the fruit you wanted to. But now—well, I reckon it's just run out."

But now we can do it. We can go to our annual expenditure of $17,000,000 some time in the future. We cannot go out to every farmhouse in the state and have a chat with the farmer and his boys and girls, so we must find a way to teach them easily and effectively.

The Boys' Corn clubs point the way to success. They have been made possible by the co-operation of teachers everywhere in the country, and the same is possible in fruit culture. At one of our normal schools numbers of the young people who are training for teachers are getting ready for this new crusade.

At almost any afternoon this spring in the basement of one of the big high schools, tables littered with roots of young apple trees, twigs from standard varieties, thread, wire, gages and knives might have been seen.

She says further: "Before I began to use Gardui, my back and head would hurt so bad, I thought the pain would kill me. I was hardly able to do any of my household work. After taking three bottles of Gardui, I began to feel like a new woman. I soon gained 35 pounds, and now, I do all my household work, as well as run a big water mill.
