At a meeting of the Democrats of Livingston, held last Saturday J. H. Walton was elected. Communist for that precinct, to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Mr. A. Pennington. This was a splendid selection. Mr. Walton is a true blue Democrat and a fine gentleman.

SCHOOL PER CAPITAL

Supt. Bakkeala Hamlett announces that the common school per capita for Kentucky this year will be $4.00. The bottom has been set by the State and but few schools will receive money from this source.

NOTICE—All persons indebted to W. M. Hayes are respectfully asked to come in and settle with me as I have gone out of business and want to close up my accounts. So please come and settle. If you haven't the cash, just now come and settle by note, but I am needing the money which would suit me much better. Thanking my customers for past favors, I am yours respectfully,
W. M. HAYES.

Dr. J. S. Look, the Hook worm specialist, will complete his work in Rockcastle next Wednesday. Throughout the county the response has been good, but here in Mt. Vernon there has been about one out of every fifty, submitted specimens. This is no child's play and it is surprising to know that so many people look at such an important matter, with such utter indifference. Parents what about your children? If they are infected with any of these parasites you want to know it and if not the trouble to find it out is very insignificant, compared with the satisfaction of knowing that your child is free from such infections. We urge our people to awake to the importance of the occasion. Remember what you do must do done before next Wednesday. That is the last opportunity.

ADMINISTRATOR'S SALE

THE COUNTRY INSTITUTE.

Our County Institute will meet September 1st at Broadhead for its week's session. We hope to have the biggest and best institute ever held in this county. We have a very able instructor, Mr. C. D. Levis, of Berea, and also a music teacher from Berea. Thursday the Institute is parents' and trustees' day. The afternoon session will be devoted to agriculture and rural life. Parents don't miss this day?

Williams Jennings Price, nominated for minister, Paducah, is a Kentuckian, who lives at Danville, the home of Senator Ollie James. His friends describe him as a "fine Christian gentleman." He is secretary of the Baptist Sunday school in Danville. Of course, he is a Democrat, that has been one of his life. He was a delegate to the Denver convention, and is a follower of W. J. Bryan. About forty years ago he was born in Kentucky and has lived there ever since. He was graduated from Central University, took a post graduate course in law, and taught law there for eight years. He has never married, and is one of the eligible bachelors of the new diplomatic corps.

LIST SMALL—There are not over ten democrats on the eligible list for appointment under the Collector in this Internal Revenue list. There are about ninety jobs to be given out by the collector. The next Civil Service examination will be held in February. It usually takes four months for the papers to be graded in Washington City. Therefore, practically all republicans store keepers and janitors are out of the market that time. The examinations are so hard that but few pass, so it will a long time before the democrats will be able to slice the pie as all jobs are protected by the civil service.

COVER CROPS.
Kentucky land is largely made up of rolling, hilly, or even mountainous areas with most of its soil of a clay formation. These two conditions present a most favorable condition for washing and in nearly every part of the state one becomes impressed with the terrible damage done annually by the gullying of sloping areas caused by heavy rains. Corn is Kentucky's principal crop, especially from the standpoint of exportation and this crop after the thorough plowing of the soil from culture, during the summer leaves the ground in perfect condition for washing and subsequent gullying. The most effective way of preventing this great danger to our farms is by never leaving these culavated areas open to the heavy rains of fall and winter, this being prevented by providing some growing crop to cover the ground during these seasons.

The plant most in favor as a cover crop in this state is rye. This is because of the relative cheapness of seed, the lateness at which rye can be sown, the comparative certainty of getting a stand, its degree of immunity to winter freezing and the pasture which the crop furnishes after plowing under preparatory to the next year's crop.

Rye as a cover crop may be sown in the corn field any time from September fifteenth to October fifteenth, the earlier sowing often furnishing good late fall and winter pasture. It would be an excellent practice if each farmer would annually sow enough rye as a regular crop to provide sufficient seed for planting all areas on the farm which otherwise would be left during the winter.

Doubtless the only shortcoming of rye as a cover crop is that it does not feed upon nitrogen taken directly from the air and hence adds more of this valuable element of plant food to the soil. We must look to the so-called leguminous plants to form this function. Hairy, or winter vetch perhaps best supplements this need, and can be successfully grown with rye by reducing the quantity of rye seed and sowing during September, preferably not later than the fifteenth of that month. Rye and vetch after mixing can be sown from the grain drill, in which case from two to three parts of rye and about twenty pounds of vetch per acre should be used. Winter vetch has a slight disadvantage, resembling those of alfalfa in shape, and a blue clustering blossom, which appears shortly before the ripening of the rye. Its reclining nature makes the rye of great benefit in its support for with its tendrils the vetch climbs nearly to the full height of the rye. The feeding value of rye is excellent and more Kentucky farmers should test its merit as a cover crop, with rye.

JUDGE T. Z. MORROW
"PASSES TO HIS REWARD."

Judge Thomas Zanganger Morrow, nestor of the Somerset bar, and one of the best known lawyers and politicians in Kentucky, died at his home in Somerset Monday morning about 7 o'clock. He had been in declining health several weeks and his death was not unexpected.

Judge Morrow was a graduate of Centre college at Danville, having been a member of the famous class of 1855. Among the members of that class who have since become famous were W. C. P. Brockinridge, John Young Brown, Thomas Theodoro Crittenden, Boyd Winchester and others. He was seventy-seven years of age, and had been a lifelong member of the Presbyterian church.

He served as Circuit Judge of this district 18 years, and served with great distinction and made many friends thruout the circuit. In 1881 he made the race for Governor on the Republican ticket against the late J. Proctor Knott. He was a brother-in-law of Senator W. O. Bradley. Mrs. Morrow died thirteen years ago.

After graduating from Centre College, Judge Morrow studied law and in 1855 located in Somerset for the practice of his profession where he lived until his death. He was Colonel of the thirty-second Kentucky federal Regiment, of the Civil War.

The funeral was held in Somerset Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock. The deceased is survived by the following children: Hon. Edw. D. Morrow, attorney for the eastern district of Kentucky; Attorney Boyd Morrow, Thomas Charles and Samuel Morrow, of Somerset, and Mrs. Caleb Purwood, of Lexington.

Judge Morrow was born in Flemingsburg, Ky., but removed to Somerset about fifty years ago. Since his residence there he had been active in Republican politics, being a leader in the councils of his party, and had taken great interest in the movements which made for the best interest of his State.

Early in life he married Miss Lenae Bradley, a sister of United States Senator Bradley, and their life together was a most happy one.

In Judge Morrow's death, the Republican party loses a valued counselor and the State loses one of its distinguished citizens.

THE MILLION DOLLAR LUMBERMAN INTERESTED IN BOONE WAY

WASNOTA, KY., Aug. 27, 1913. Mr. James Maree, Sec'y, Mt. Vernon, Commercial Club, Mt. Vernon, Ky.

Dear Sir:

Referring to your letter of June 30th of this year, to C. W. Metcalf, at Pineville, Ky., in regard to proposed trip of Jas. T. Voshell, Highway Engineer from the office of Public Roads, U. S. Dept. of Agriculture, Washington, D. C., over the "Old Wilderness Road" or "Boone's Path Trail," from Crab Orchard Orchard to Cumberland Gap, Tenn., I notice that Mr. Voshell was to leave Crab Orchard on June 30th, 1913; I should like to know if the trip was made. If so, has he made a report on the matter? Give me all the information that you can on the matter, and the proposed bill as it now stands, and whether or not there has been anything done in Congress.

I am very anxious to see this piece of road built, and it is anything that I can do to assist in the matter, I shall be very glad to do so.

Yours very truly,

MEMBER OF KENTUCKY PRESS ASSOCIATION

CONSERVATIONISTS should highly suggest the proposal that the United States and Canada join in building a weir across Niagara River to raise the level of Lake Erie. The International Waterways Commission recommends such a structure to the consideration of Congress, and estimates the cost at $10,000,000. The benefits to Lake Erie ports, it is pointed out, would be incalculable.

The level of Lake Erie has been appreciably lowered by the loss of the water that has been taken from the Great Lakes system by the Chicago Drainage Canal and the power plants at Niagara Falls. It is considered important to restore the original level for the purposes of commerce. The probable cost is looked upon as more lagated in comparison with the importance of the proposed undertaking.—Courier Journal.

This is another instance wherein the Courier Journal would be pleased to see Congress appropriate $3,500,000 to further assist the water way systems on which our government has expended probably more than a billion dollars. "A mere bagatelle." Yes, but when the mountains, last winter, suggested that Congress give half a million to build a highway from Cumberland Gap to Crab Orchard this same paper not only condemned the movement but criticized the government for leaving the check to bring out such a proposition. By the way the Courier Journal has never moved from that stand nor has it ever taken back any of the condemnatory words used against our undertaking; a movement that when accomplished means more to the mountains than all the railroads ever built or to be built into or thru its everlasting hills, and every one knows the great value of railroads, so there is your companion. Yet this "mere bagatelle" of one and a half million in amount is seven times more than our people expect to ask Congress for. The C. J. is against our home people being assisted toward better highways but gladly expounds the claims of the waterways and upon millions, but if the mountains are asking for justice in the way of Federal or other aid toward highways the C. J. is "agin it" every time. We will wager there are no "jewels" about that editorial office building. How could there be in the absence of conservation.

Postmaster General Burleson is making many changes in the Department, which will result in the saving of much money and will eliminate much red-tape. He has abridged the letters in the Department also, to this extent that all unnecessary words be left out of correspondence. He has directed: "that the names of officers of the department in addressing official communications be not used, that instead of addressing to one of the assistant postmasters general by his full title the words first assistant, second assistant, etc., only be used; and that the use of any salutation and complimentary closing be discontinued. On account of the large volume of correspondence handled in the department it will thus be seen that a great saving will be effected by this innovation, thereby considerably raising the individual employe's capacity for writing letters as well as reducing the amount of so called 'red tape' which too often hampers the work of the government. Mr. Burleson believes that by attention to just such small details as this the government will be saved annually many thousands of dollars."

Des Moines, Ia., Jan. 15 1912. Dear Sir: Your information is that you own a large farm near Bowling Green, Ky., also that you have not made a success of it, and know that you are always interested in and open for an investment in a good live business proposition. I take the liberty of presenting to you what seems to me to be an excellent business proposition, and in which no doubt, you will take a lively interest. Please advise me of the amount of stock you wish to subscribe towards the formation of a company for the exploitation of this idea.

The object of this company is to operate a large cat ranch near Bowling Green, Ky., where land can be purchased cheap for that purpose. To start with, we will collect say one hundred thousand cats. Each cat will average twelve kittens a year. The skins will sell for ten cents for the white ones to seventy-five cents for the pure black. We will have about twelve million skins to sell at an average of thirty cents each, making our revenue about $3,600,000 per day gross. A man can skin fifty cats a day; he will charge $2 a day for his labor; it will take about one hundred men to operate this ranch; therefore the profit will be about $3,000,000 a day.

We will feed the cats on rats, and we will start a rat ranch adjoining the cat ranch. The rats will multiply four times a year, and if we start with one hundred thousand rats, we will have four rats a day for each cat, which is plenty.

We will feed the cats on rats and in turn will feed the rats on the striped carcasses of the cats, thus giving each rat one-fourth of a cat. It will be seen by these figures that the business will be a self-acting automatic one. The cats will eat the rats, and the rats will eat the cats, and we will get the skins.

We have made arrangements with the fiddler's union to supply them with cat-gut. Yours very truly, C. F. CREASUS.

P. S.—This proposition could be better carried out on a large farm than in a city, and if you understand this is the kind you have, use a running stream of water. If you are interested let us hear from you.

COSTLY TREATMENT.

"I was troubled with constipation and indigestion and spent hundreds of dollars for medicine and treatment," writes C. H. Hines, of Whitlow, Ark. "I went to a St. Louis hospital, also to a hospital in New Orleans, but no cure was effected. On returning home I began taking Chamberlain's Tablets, and worked right along. I used them for some time and an now all right!" Sold by Chas. C. Davis.

SUPPOSE

Suppose you keep a diary of the hurtful things you say. And the needless deeds you're doing in the turmoil of the day; Suppose you keep a diary of the selfish things you do; Don't you think that it would help to make a kinder man of you? Suppose some wintry evening when you're sitting all alone you could read your careless speeches and read the bill to her too. That had hurt a brother's feelings, as the past came in review. Don't you think that it would help to make a gentler man of you? If you wrote down every mean, mean thing that in haste you'd utter, guilty of. Every little selfish action, every thoughtless kick and shove. That you give a shipping brother as you roll that you hurried through. Don't you think that it would help to make a better man of you?

REMARKABLE CURE OF DYSBENTERY.

"I was attacked with dysentery about July 15th, and used the doctor's medicine and other remedies with no relief, only getting worse all the time. I was unable to do anything and my weight dropped from 145 to 125 pounds. I suffered for about two months with it, and finally used Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. I used two bottles of it and was cured."

WE DON'T WANT WAR

HELM APTLY REMARKS AND TELLS CONGRESS TO LET WILSON ALONE

"If Congress will adopt the policy toward the White House the White House has adopted toward Mexico the handling of the Mexican situation will be made easier and probably peace will be hastened," said Representative Harvey Helm, of Kentucky, who was chairman of the House Committee on Expenditures in the War Department during the last Congress. A dispatch from Washington says about him: Mr. Helm is chock full of war lore as a result of investigations his committee has made, and he took a stand strongly opposed to American intervention in Mexico if it is possible to honorably avoid it.

"I am watching the developments in Mexico with keenest interest and thus far believe the administration has been eminently correct in pursuing a hands-off policy. If Congress would keep its hands off, too, the quieting of Mexicans would be accomplished sooner." "I believe if we let President Wilson alone he will have the best chance out of his hand in a little while."

"The United States certainly does not want a war, even with Mexico. The South is just now getting its nose well above water—and, it really is swimming along famously. But every effort should be to promote peace by this Government. We must reckon with a certain amount of damage to American property, even the loss of lives, perhaps, in Mexico due to a state of brigandage which cannot properly be charged to any prominent faction directly."

CHATTANOOGA, August 23.—(Special)—The Chairman of the Grand Army Entertainment Committee, has closed a contract with John Green, famous Cardinal bird man and waterfowl, to make three flights in Chattanooga during the G. A. R. Reunion, to be held in Chattanooga Sept. 15, 20.

Green is the man who made the record flight in Cardiff, Fla. Nov. 1 over Lookout Mountain during the U. C. V. Reunion last May. He was the first man to attempt the dangerous flight, refused by so many other prominent aviators. A feature of his exhibition next month will be a flight in his Cardiff Flyer No. 2, equipped with hydroplanes up the Tennessee River. This will be the first hydroplane flight ever made by any Southern aviator.

Visitors to the G. A. R. Reunion will do well not to miss these flights by the famous aviator, free to all, and should look out for the dollar bills, which he drops among the people below, as he goes hurtling through the air.

The readers of this paper will be interested to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh of the Catarrh Cure. It is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

Development in Eastern Kentucky

There is no danger of the public at large exaggerating the importance of the recent development in Eastern Kentucky. Into it the railroads have gone, tunneling the mountains, bridging the streams, extending the rails, until "a lost continent has been found" and devoted to the interests of civilization.

The Louisville & Nashville road, the Chesapeake & Ohio road are all striving for foothold in this undeveloped region of coal deposits. The forces there long hidden are to be released. Schools and churches are springing up everywhere, hotels and railroad stations. New towns are being and the old towns, long on the map, have taken on new life and new hope with the coming of these new forces.

Let Louisville awaken to the necessity of reaching this section of the State. It is hers by right of inheritance. She is going to share the development of this section of the State, she must do all in her power, thru all her activities, to promote that development—Louisville Post.

What is the Post doing? Has it ever said a word to encourage the building of highways in the mountains? Highways are as important as railroads, yet when the mountains suggest a way to get a trunk line national highway built thru the mountains the Post objects to government aid toward the mountaineers should "dig her own roads. None of the Louisville papers except the Herald, have treated the mountaineers with any kind of half way justice but in justice all along the line. The Louisville Commercial Club and some of the business men, have done some good work in assisting our movement toward putting Boone Way thru. The Louisville papers could be of great assistance in this work, but they simply refuse to do anything, yet they ask the patronage of the mountains for subscriptions and support for their publications and patronage to the business men of the Fall City. It seems that the city and its newspapers are working a cross purpose so far as the mountains of South Eastern Kentucky is concerned. Boone Way will be built without the endorsement or aid of the Louisville press.

SUFFERED EZEZEMA FIFTY YEARS—NOW WELL

Seems a long time to endure the awful burning, itching, smarting skin disease known as "e-z-e-m-a" another name for Eczema. CASTORIA

For Infants and Children. The Kind You Have Always Bought

A NATIONAL roads congress will open, for a week's session, at Paris on September 29th. Delegates from every state will be in attendance. Two thousand road advocates will discuss the problem of National aid to highways.

On request of "Joint Committee on Federal aid in the construction of Post Roads" our Commercial Club's secretary has reported names, routes, distances of the main-traveled highways of Rockcastle county, and forwarded the same to the Committee at Washington.

ELKTONS CITY, in Eastern Kentucky will be the terminus of three great railroads. Mining operations on a large scale and coke ovens of large capacity are already in operation at many points and within a brief span of a few years Eastern Kentucky will achieve, by means of these developments, the title of being the greatest coal belt in the world.

SPEAKING of the work of the House Committee on Banking and Currency and of the Democratic Caucus, the President said: "I am proud, as every Democrat must be of the way in which the committee and the caucus have accomplished a consistent piece of constructive work. With the frankest discussion and under the ablest leadership the Democrats have shown their capacity as a party to serve the country by an admirable piece of business legislation. It must stimulate the country to see such evidences of harmony along with constructive purpose in a work of so small complexity and difficulty."

RED EYES OF SORROW

The Morning Telegram of New York thus pictures the hay fever sufferer: "The great American sneeze, at once the handmaiden and herald of the gorgon Hay Fever, is heard in the land. Red eyes of sorrow, noses that blush in woe, heavy heads and fevered brows mark the army of the desolated. Of hay fever cases there are a thousand, but none so vex to stay the dragon of sniffling. Those who can go to the pines of Brainin Wood—take it the wood was pine—may find amercement. Those who must perform, remain in business blink to the sniffling and distressed. It curses him that hath and him that contemplates. The mightiest noses are not immune. The idiosyncrasies of birth or temperament are its only explanation. Only the season marks its advent. Millions of money for all other ailments, but no philanthropist to finance the finding of a panacea for hay fever! No fund is raised to send the sufferers to the pines, nor yet a cent to bring the pines to the sufferers. It is the little thing that made up life, and hay fever, because it rarely slays, is held a little thing. It should no longer, be overlooked. It is better to battle it than to build pipe organs. Where is our Hay Fever Commission or Foundation?"
