LIVINGSTON - A visit on Tuesday last showed this bustling town was not only still on the map but was as wide awake as ever and one of its citizens are live boosters for their town and Boone Way. Nearest the river, not far from the bridge is located Ed Owens' pop, mineral water and lunch stand. C. C. Cromer's store is next up the street; the proprietor is also interested in cross ties and Lumber. J. T. Elliott is the butcher man and furnishes meats, etc. for the town. J. A. Inman has a lonsorial parlor next door. Dr. Amyx's drug store follows in line on up street where he can prescribe and furnish medicines for the ailing. J. F. Jones handles the razor and shears next door in the removal of overgrown whiskers and hair. J. M. Four, the best humored blind man in the river, conducts a soda fountain and ice cream parlor, some doors farther up the street. T. J. Pennington's general store comes next in line, next door to post office where the veteran G. D. Cook has charge of Uncle Sam's mail matter, which he has handled for some years. J. A. Oliver's general store follows next adjacent to Masonic building, where he carries a large stock. Mart Hix does business in the original, or about the first storehouse built in Livingston where Champ Mullins sold goods for many years, next to the Mullins Hotel building at north end of town. T. R. McFay, Fruit Co., general W. E. Kroeger in charge, John Clark, clerk, are on east side of street toward north end of town. A large stock is also carried by this firm. Further south on this street is the big establishment of E. L. Cockerill with Tom Jones, clerk. J. H. Davis' large store comes next with Dock Callaway yielding the yard stick and balancing scales. The Eight Gables Hotel and restaurant, W. G. Nicoley is the clever proprietor, doing a good business. The court house and jail is just south of this hotel, where Judge Witt attends to the cases of offenders against the law. Livingston has up-to-date things and is a live, progressive town and improvements are being made all the time. The Juniors have bought a lot and are preparing to build a two-story hall for lodge and other purposes. The telephone exchange is located above Dr. Amyx's drug store and is in charge of Miss Lucinda Hellard, assisted by operator Miss Mary Seaborn in the duties of answering "calls". Marshal Hellard extended the courtesies of the town to ye writer while there. Over at the dispatcher's office we found clever Peter Drummond in charge, while R. J. Lemmonds, chief dispatcher is away on visit to Paris, Tenn., his old home. Dispatchers Preston, Falin and Neighbors were there, it being about "trick" changing time. Samms, night dispatcher, was at home "pounding his ear on a pillow." Down stairs we found the old veteran operator, J. E. Donnelly, who has stung lightning from the Atlantic to the Pacific during many years past. He loves horses and knows a good one when he sees it. John W. Mullins, second trick man, "down stairs," showed up for work at changing time. Agent Blanford, who made a long time ago operator, was at the ticket case and looking after passengers. O. D. Bryant, a Mr. Vernea boy, is at freight depot where he has a telegraph instrument and telephone connection to every old place to keep his company while he is not busy running his Oliver typewriter which he has weighted down with a key of railroad spikes and a box of pole bolts to steady the machine, so rapid is his speed in writing - at least that is what he told the writer. Last but not least, by a long way is but him. He is busy all the time and does more work than the whole push put together. He is always busy and does up the work to the satisfaction of all concerned and he always has a pleasant word for you no matter how busy he is. LIVINGSTON SECOND TIME - In our Livingston notes of its business and professional men we failed to our rush, to mention some of the other live ones. W. H. Conroy, Jim, L. & N. coal inspector, whose job keeps him on the go. Drs. Webb, Joyner and Amyx ably represent the medical fraternity. Henry Browning looks after the mechanical department of L. & N. at the town by the river side. Mahlon Summers is right cool in the yards. - Joe Dickerson furnishes the ice to overcome high conditions of the atmosphere. We had been led by remarks from watch-inspector Franklin that the bunch at the station were "highbinders" and when we told him of our reception there he remarked, "Oh, they are on their good behavior now. They will break out in a fresh place soon and old Nick himself cant head 'em off."

To the citizens of Rockcast and Laurel counties: Dear Friends: - My intention was to start an early campaign, and visit every house, and give a talk in every school house in the two counties, but was prevented doing so, by two cases of typhoid fever in my family, ever since first week in July up to the present time, which caused me to stay at home during the time of sickness. I want to state through the papers that I am going to make the short time count for what it is worth, and will take great pleasure in discussing my ideas and platform, what I believe and know is right, to the splendid voters of the two counties. My principals as I stand, are Progressive in every way. I believe in better conditions of the working class of people, restriction of corporations, old age labor pensions, regulations in railway passengers and freight tariffs rates, common sense management of our financial state and county affairs, instead of a political party purpose. Initiative, referendum and recall are three of the most needed issues for the present time and improvement of our schools. I believe in a man having back bone enough, when he votes a ticket and lectures for its success, to comply with our present primary election laws and run under the same device, he supported at the last regular national election. Dear voters, let us be careful in selecting our officers this year and elect men of honor, soberness, uprightness, integrity, qualification and ability, party issues are all in vain, unless we can secure the right man to stand behind the gun. Humbly ask every voter to consider my claim as candidate for Representative of the 70th District, and your support will be highly appreciated and if elected, I will do my best in serving his district for the betterment of our conditions in every way, and I trust no one will regret casting his vote for this humble servant. THOS. J. MORY, Livingston, Ky.

CHRONIC DYSPEPSIA The following unsolicited testimonial should certainly be sufficient to give hope and courage to persons afflicted with chronic dyspepsia. "I have been a chronic dyspeptic for years, and of all the medicine I have taken, Chamberlain's Tablets have done me more good than anything else," says W. G. Mattison, No. 7 Sherman St., Hornellsville, N. Y. For sale by all dealers.

BOONE WAY "Blue". R. S. Martin, the Brocton tobacco manufacturer, who has made several popular brands for many years past has just put on the market a new one named "Boone Way Plug," which is pronounced by experts to be a most excellent chew. Mr. Martin donated a box of it to the Boone Way Booster Band at this place. The tobacco was placed in O. C. Davis' drug store to be sold and proceeds to be put in the Boone Way postage. Customers are requested to call and secure a plug of his new and soon to be popular brand of the weed.

THEY MAKE YOU FEEL GOOD The pleasant purgative effect produced by Chamberlain's Tablets on the healthy condition of body and mind which they create make one feel joyful. For sale by all dealers.

BAKER-FISH - A pretty home wedding was solemnized at the residence of the bride's parents, Atty. and Mrs. G. C. Brock, London, Ky., Wednesday afternoon at 1:30 p.m. The contracting parties were Miss Ethel Baker, of that city and Mr. Will H. Fish, one of Mt. Vernon's most successful and progressive young business men.

Rev. Walter Brock, pastor of the Fifth St. Baptist church, presided, and an uncle of the bride, who was the officiating clergyman, who tied the nuptial knot, pronouncing the ceremony which united the lives of these estimable young people. The wedding was a quiet one, witnessed only by immediate relatives of the bride and groom and a few intimate friends. Promptly at the appointed hour, Miss Betty Maris in her most charming manner sang "Since God Gives me you," followed by the wedding march played by Mrs. Chas. Oberlander, a nun of the bride, the young couple took their places at the very pretty altar where the minister with an impressive yet simple and exceedingly pretty ceremony made them husband and wife. The bride was becomingly attired in a handsome traveling suit and with the bridegroom looked the very picture of a happy couple. CLUB NOTES.

The regular meeting of the Women's Club will be held at the Dormitory on Saturday afternoon (Oct. 11th) at 2:30 o'clock. The Home Economic Department will have charge and all members of the Club are invited.

Mr. VERNON: This is to announce to you that having decided to make the race for the office of Police Judge, I most earnestly ask your support, and if elected I promise to give everyone a square deal at all times. Very respectfully, J. C. MOORE.

J. B. Reams, a son of Uncle Harrison Reams, of the Orlando section and one of the county's most upright citizens, died last Friday after an illness of several weeks of typhoid fever. The deceased leaves besides his wife and five small children, an aged father and mother and several brothers and sisters. Funeral services were conducted at Maple Grove church by the Rev. Huey Fowler, after which the burial took place with the honors of the Masonic order.

One of the prettiest of fall weddings took place Thursday afternoon at 5 o'clock when Miss Rebecca Watson was married to the Rev. William Buchanan Byers, of Hyden. The home of the bride's mother Mrs. Howe Watson, was beautifully decorated with Killbuck roses. The Rev. Robert Christy, an uncle of the bride, of Pittsburgh, Pa., officiated. A large gathering of relatives and friends attended the wedding. Miss Lucy Chabin, pianist, Miss Rachel Settle, violinist, played the wedding march, and Carl Michel, of Harlan, sang before the entrance of the bride party. Misses Mary Dwight Hendrick, of this city; Miss Marriet Rogers, of New York City; Sallie McEwan, of Pittsburgh, Pa.; Jessie Montoe, of Providence, R. I.; and Martha Rhodes Carter, of Versailles, were ribbon bearers, leading the bridal procession and forming the aisle thru which the bride party passed. The bridesmaid, Miss Charlotte Watson, carried the bride's train alone. Following her came the flower bearers, little Miss Mary Barr Clay and Master Watson Clay, of Pittsburgh, Pa.

The bride was given in marriage by her brother, the Rev. George Watson, of Mt. Vernon, and her father, Mr. Byers was attended by Clinton D. Bowman of Washington College, Penn. The bride wore a gown of white charmeuse with trimmings of Medici lace and pearls with a courtrain. A point lace veil, which had been worn many years ago in the Watson family, with a wreath of orange blossoms, was worn and she carried a bouquet of roses and lilies of the valley. The gown worn by the maid of honor was of pink crepe de chine with trimmings of lace and clusters of flowers, and a large bouquet was of pink roses. The ribbon bearers were robed in white and pink, and the bridesmaids were of pink and white. The little flower girl was of lace with pink trimmings. Immediately following the ceremony a reception was held and Mrs. Watson was assisted in the duties of receiving by Mrs. Frank Clay, of Pittsburgh, Pa. Refreshments were served, and at the bridal table besides the bride party were seated Ensign Henry T. Settle and Messrs Knigh and Joseph Brown, of Taylorville. The Rev. Mr. Byers and Mrs. Byers left later in the evening for Hyden, where they will go to housekeeping. Many guests from sections of town were in attendance Sunday, among them being Mrs. K. Barnard and Miss Madge Burnham, of Richmond; Mrs. J. W. Brown, Misses Rose McQuinn, Susan Robinson and Lila Byers, of Mt. Vernon; Mrs. John B. McFerrin, and Miss Anna Mary, of Louisville; the Rev. Hugs Leitch and Mrs. Leitch of Covington; Walter Bennett, of Richmond; Miss Irene Voigt of Louisville; and the Rev. Robert Christie and Mrs. Christie of Pittsburgh; Frankfort Correspondent Courier Journal.

Mt. Vernon Attorney Finances Mountain Railway On Visit to New York.

Washington, Oct. 4. -Final arrangements were made in New York yesterday for financing the building of a twenty-eight-mile railroad between East Bernstadt, in Laurel county, and McKees, Jackson county, and construction of the road will start in thirty days, said C. C. Williams, a prominent attorney of Mt. Vernon, who arrived here today from New York. The purpose of Mr. Williams' visit to the Metropolis was to put the finishing touches on the deal.

The new railroad will be called the Rockcastle River railway. It will be financed by the Bond Lumber Company of Pennsylvania, and the Bond Floy Lumber Company of New York, interests which own 20,000 acres of virgin forest land in Jackson county.

THEY PREFER OURS

No Wonder, Simple as A B C. Ours Cost Less. Ours Wear Better. They Have More Style.

It's about as difficult to describe these new clothes as to write about the prettiest girl at a Leap Year Party. You've got to see her with your own eyes. Maybe you'll like her - if you don't there are others. So, if one suit doesn't please you, we've another. It's a question of taste. Prices? That lies with you. The better the clothes you buy, the longer they last and the better they look while you're wearing them. But everyone professes that. They are best.

"BLOOD IS THICKER THAN WATER"

Without good blood a man has a weak heart and poor nerves. Thinness of the blood, or anemia, is common in women as well as men. Especially is this true with those who work in the sterilized factories—those who are shut out of doors in winter time with a coatless burning up the oxygen or smothered in carbonic acid gas. This blood, or blood which lacks the red blood corpuscles, is thin, or by poor nutrition or depression. Sometimes people suffer, instead of being fat, or by poor nutrition or depression. Sometimes people suffer, instead of being fat, or by poor nutrition or depression. Sometimes people suffer, instead of being fat, or by poor nutrition or depression.

CO-OPERATION.

Washington, Oct. 1.—President Finley, of the Southern Railway Company, referring to-day to the interest being manifested in co-operation in agricultural communities in the Southeast, said:

"The subject of co-operation, in all of its many possible applications, is one that is attracting world-wide attention at the present time. The extent to which the co-operative principle has already been developed is illustrated by the fact that the session of the International Co-operative Alliance in Glasgow, Scotland, during the month of August were attended by six hundred delegates representing over twenty million members of one hundred and thirty thousand co-operative societies in twenty-four countries and in opening the Congress, as its Honorary President, Lord Grey, the British Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs, spoke of it as endeavoring to create an international co-operative commonwealth.

"In Denmark, Ireland, and other European countries, and to some extent in the United States, it has been demonstrated that there is a wide field for the successful development of co-operative associations in agricultural communities. "While there are other lines in which co-operation has been carried on successfully and profitably, that to which I believe special attention may well be given by Southern farmers is the organization of co-operative selling associations. Such associations may be made particularly useful in the handling of fruits and vegetables, the profitable production of which is dependent in large measure upon successful marketing.

"One of the most important advantages of co-operative marketing is that it is practicable for an association combining the resources of a considerable number of producers to obtain much more detailed and reliable information as to conditions at different market points than can generally be obtained by any single individual. This tends to prevent the overstocking of one or more markets while others may be left with inadequate supplies which are one of the greatest difficulties encountered in independent marketing.

"For the accomplishment of the best results in the distribution of products among markets it is important that a large number of producers shall unite in a single association or that there shall be effective co-operation between a number of local associations. "Another matter, the importance of which cannot be overestimated is that a co-operative marketing organization which exercises effective control over the grading and packing of products can build up a valuable reputation for the producers of its locality. When buyers learn that the grade and packing of any particular association may be relied upon absolutely, its goods are sought out and its name or trade-mark becomes an asset of value to each member of the association. Another advantage is that, handling a larger volume of business, the association may find it profitable to devote more attention not only to securing general market information, but also to looking into the comparative advantages of dealing with different buyers in the same market. This can be done by individual producers. Its larger volume of business also tends to increase competition among buyers for its products and enables it, in many instances, to ship in carload quantities.

"An most important matter in connection with the profitable growing of perishable fruits and vegetables is the provision of some effective means to take care of the culls and of all surplus production that the market will not absorb in a fresh state. This may be done by the establishment of canneries, evaporating plants, and plants for the manufacture of other delicacies. The co-operative marketing association may very properly interest itself in securing the establishment of plants of this kind to take care of the culls and the surplus production of its members.

THE PECULIAR WORLD

This is a peculiar world. One is struggling for justice and another is feasting. From a One man is trying to build a house, another is trying to sell his for less than cost to get rid of it. One man is spending all the money he can make in taking a girl to the theatre and sending her flowers with the hope of making her his wife, while his neighbor is spending what gold he possesses in getting a divorce. One man escapes all diseases that flesh is heir to and gets killed on the railroad. Another escapes with a scratch and dies with the whooping cough. One man stands off his creditors and goes traveling, while another pays his debts and stays at home.

DEAFNESS CANNOT BE CURED by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this is inflamed you have a running sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result. It is not a permanent condition and can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous lining.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free. F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, Ohio. Sold by Druggists, 75c.

AVOID SEDATIVE COUGH MEDICINES If you want to contribute directly to the occurrence of influenza, bronchitis and pneumonia use cough medicine that contain codine, morphine, heroin and other sedatives. You have cough because an expectorant Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is what is needed. That cleans out the culture beds or brooding places for the germs of pneumonia and other germ diseases. That is why pneumonia never results again, when Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is used. It has a world wide reputation for its cures. It contains no morphine or other sedative. For sale by all dealers.

SOME MORE ABOUT ROADS

In the previous article, we told about the "Wilderness Turnpike Road" constructed at State expense, one branch of which leads off from Main Street, Mt. Vernon, Ky. at Wm. Cox's residence. No estimate could be made of the thousands of tons of merchandise that has passed over this and the Big Hill branch of the "Old State Road" in the "good old Antebellum days." We promised to say something of the system under which "county roads" were opened, and how kept in repair. There were no roads to speak of in some sections of the state prior to the adoption of the constitution of 1892. In vast sections no wagon were used or needed. The articles of commerce were yonham hams, deer antlers, dressed and undressed, the biggest saved the smallest, ginseng and shagbark, and these were carried to the market by pack trains, and the pack trains were carried by pack trains. These were carried by pack trains, and the pack trains were carried by pack trains.

some localities where settlements had been made earlier the settler had raised a yoke of stumps, which with the two wheeled ox-cart made it possible for him to haul a load of stumps to some "Tavern" on the State road to feed his droves. Of course he had to chop the logs that lay across his path, to make room for his wheels, and do some digging on steep hill sides to keep his cart from upsetting. The people who had settled on the rich Cumberland river bottoms and tributary streams had to provide something better than the ox-cart. A covered wagon with a wonderful shaped, iron strop, choker shaped body (the wagon body) was employed for hauling goods from Louisville, Lexington or Frankfort to the mountain stores. These wagons were secured from two to four yokes of steers to hitch on to his wagon, then with a supply of bacon, corn meal, coffee pot and frying pan he would start for market to get a load of goods, carrying his bedding and stumps in his wagon. As the wagon was being driven by the pack train, the pack train would be carrying the pack train. The pack train would be carrying the pack train.
