In failing to elect Nat B. Sewell to legislature... the mountains lost one of its greatest opportunities...

It is said its long lane that has no turn... Well the political "lane" in this is one of them.

Courtesy Clerk, Bowman, says now as that little case of election worry is over and out of the way...

"Truth comes to earth will rise again..." Well it may do so but will it ever look like anything after getting such a "swat" in the late election

Some one fathered the rumor that there must have been some political fibbing in this and ad joining county within the past week.

WELL Tammany "got their" and we are not sorry for it. Rotten organization, that is it.

Graded High School Notes.

The average attendance for the past month has been as follows: High School 28, Grammar grade 48, Intermediates 49 and Primary 45.

On last Saturday our boys and girls went to London to play a couple of games of basket ball with the boys and girls of London Graded School in both of which they were successful. The girls won easily with a score of 17 to 8 while the boys had a harder fight, but were finally victorious with a score of 16 to 11. The London girls were slightly under the mark, our girls, but were very plucky while their boys were much heavier than ours. The next games will be played on our grounds Nov. 25. We also have games scheduled with Pine Hill, both boys and girls for to-morrow.

UNJUST TAX LAW IN KENTUCKY

How Unsatisfactory the Present Tax System Works in This State

Most Unequal System Ever Devised and Now the Progressive States Have Abolished the Plan Used in Kentucky.

The present state constitution of Kentucky provides that "Taxes shall be uniform on all kinds of property, and on the surface this seems to be so fair the average thinker can find no fault with it."

In practice, however, it has been found to be the most unequal tax system ever devised, and most of the progressive states have abolished the plan.

It is inequalities and unfairness that can be seen from the way it discriminates in certain classes of property and explains why Kentucky seems to have no title in tangible wealth as compared with other states.

For one thing, cash in savings banks and United States bonds pay four per cent, real estate notes six per cent, stock in some foreign corporations ten per cent, while the tax on all is the same for state purposes, but varies for county and city purposes according to the location.

Thus where the income is only 3 per cent and the tax 2 1/2 per cent it leaves the owner only 1/2 per cent income, and where the income is 10 per cent and the tax 2 1/2 per cent the tax is 1/4 per cent in this uniform?

In some counties land is assessed at 20 per cent of its value in others 50 per cent, and in others to 75 per cent. The state tax is the same in all the counties. Is this uniform?

If an honest farmer lists his property at its fair value and his scrupulous neighbor puts a lower value on his property the former pays more than his share, while the latter pays less.

If the state board of equalization raises the entire list for that county, the honest man pays on property he doesn't own, and yet our law is supposed to be uniform.

That the personality owned by citizens of Kentucky is vastly more than that listed for taxation is a well-established fact, but the tax receipts don't show it. In fact, certain classes of property, such as stocks, bonds, notes and cash have almost disappeared from the tax rolls, and the only witnesses of their vast apparent growth each year, is that the amount of property listed remains in force, it will remain as it is in other states, in almost all kinds of property, and it is allowed to the assessors' books, and lands and houses which can not be hid or moved will have to bear the chief burden.

It has been so in every state where the "general property" tax has been tried for taxation is a well-established fact, but the tax receipts don't show it. In fact, certain classes of property, such as stocks, bonds, notes and cash have almost disappeared from the tax rolls, and the only witnesses of their vast apparent growth each year, is that the amount of property listed remains in force, it will remain as it is in other states, in almost all kinds of property, and it is allowed to the assessors' books, and lands and houses which can not be hid or moved will have to bear the chief burden.

The entire revenue of the state of Kentucky is about $10,000,000, while Michigan, with about the same area and population, receives $14,000,000 from taxes, only a small proportion of which is paid on land.

In Pennsylvania there is no state tax on real estate, but the state receives 7,000,000 acres of unimproved farm lands in Kentucky and yet vast quantities of farm products have to be imported.

Farmers Institute

The Annual Farmers Institute for Rockcastle County will be held at the Court House in Mt. Vernon, on Wednesday and Thursday, Nov. 17 and 18, at every one is urged to attend.

There will be a number of speakers, and farm life will be discussed. Mrs. M. E. Ginn will talk to the ladies on household affairs and the ladies are especially requested to attend.

There are thousands held under the direction of the State Board of Agriculture and are free to take farmers. We hope to see every farmer in Rockcastle county present at these meetings, which are interesting and instructive and are doing wonders in the development of the farming industry of Kentucky.

DECLAIMER WAR ON COLDS

A "crusade of education" which aims "that common colds may be reduced to a minimum" has been begun by prominent New York physicians. Here is a list of the "don'ts" which the doctor says will prevent the annual visitation of the cold:

- "Don't sit in a draughty car."
- "Don't sleep in hot rooms."
- "Don't avoid the fresh air."
- "Don't stuff yourself at meal time. Overeating reduces your resistance."

To which we would add—when you take a cold get rid of it as quickly as possible. To accomplish this you will find Chamberlain's Cough Remedy most excellent. Sold by all dealers.

John Purdy Mitchell, Esquire, was elected Mayor of New York by about 100,000, putting through his entire ticket. David I. Walsh, Democrat, was elected Governor of Massachusetts. Cory Fielder was re-elected in New Jersey by 2,000 plurality. Republicans secured control of the New York Assembly. The New Jersey Assembly appears to be Democratic. Governor Sulzer was elected to Assembly in New York.

No Wonder, Simple as A B C Ours Cost Less Ours Wear Better They Have More Style

It's about as difficult to describe these new clothes as to write about the prettiest girl at a Leap Year Party. You've got to see her with your own eyes. Maybe you'll like her—if you don't there are others. So, if one suit doesn't please you, we've another. It's a question of taste. Prices? That lies with you. The better the clothes you buy, the longer they last and the better they look while you're wearing them. But everyone prefers ours. They are best.

ROAD OF ROMANCE

To Connect North and South Over Trail Blazed by Daniel Boone in 1775.

By GEORGE V. STEEP

The "Road of Romance", a hundred miles of Kentucky's wildest hills, the Jones abandoned trail that Daniel Boone blazed into the heart of the Indians' wilderness in 1775, is soon to become the final link that will connect the north and the south with a motor pike called in beauty and usefulness by other road than the now famous Lincoln highway under construction from coast to coast through the territory where pioneers, repulsed by the hardships, fought their way through wilderness and against savage tribes of Indians in the new highway will link the new Virginia, North Carolina, Tennessee, and Kentucky with Indiana and Ohio.

According to the present survey the new pike will start at Crab Orchard Springs in Lincoln County Ky., where stands the state's oldest iron and water pipe, and connect with the Indian pike north to Indianapolis where a junction probably will be effected with the great Lincoln highway now under construction thus affording untold possibilities to the great automobile territory of Indiana, Ohio, Michigan and Illinois.

blood of travelers and their Indian assailants, but the settlers fought on under the guidance of Boone until the clouds of war drifted north and westward and left Kentucky in peace. In the meantime the trail had become a stave road and remained the main highway for the tide of westward emigration until after the war with Mexico, when the National Road, from Maryland, to Pennsylvania, Ohio, Indiana and Illinois succeeded the southern route as the quickest way into the fertile valleys of the "far west". During the Civil War, the old trail was a main highway for the armies, until the Union and Confederate forces abandoned Cumberland Gap as a point of contention.

In later years the trail became dilapidated and fell once more into the "wild days" remaining in this condition until the boosters for the new link of motor pike, with the aid of commercial organizations in many cities and with federal engineers, began the task of resurveying the route, marking it out, and planning the widening and rebuilding of the trail into a great highway.

From Crab Orchard Springs, the new pike will run thru Brodhead,

Mt. Vernon, Pine Hill, Livingston, Wildcat Battlefield, Hazel Patch, East Bernstadt, Pittsburg, London, Parisson, Boring, Barbourville, Ploverville and Middleboro to Cumberland Gap. At this point connection is made with the pike to Bristol and Asheville and thence southward to Raleigh, Columbia, Augusta, Marion, Savannah, Jacksonville and Miami. By a more northerly route from Bristol the pike connects to Richmond, Norfolk, and points farther north and east.

Crab Orchard Springs where the new pike will begin its pursuit of the pioneers' trail, is one of the most romantic spots in Kentucky and the scene of many of the most stirring events in the early history of the state.

The Springs, fourteen in number and of seven varieties of wood were originally developed as "healing centers" by the Indians before the white men came to America and became a center for gatherings of settlers as soon as the development of the country began. The first resort was established there early in the last century, the site being purchased then, principally as a camping ground. A building erected in the early days, used as an inn in the summer and a small boarding school in winter, remained in a state of preservation until 1871, when it was destroyed by fire. Other buildings erected about the same time are still standing and in use, and the trees chosen by the early campers have now grown to a fine old age and magnificent forest trees.

The Crab Orchard Springs, with its mountain men and pioneer families of the middle of the century, during the pioneer days, was the central gathering point for the planters of the entire south. It was here that political plots were laid, futures planned and broken, duels fought, and many of the most beautiful romances in Kentucky history fanned from the spark into the flame of passion.

It was at Crab Orchard Springs that Colonel William Whitley, one of Kentucky's most famous Indian fighters in 1781 built the first permanent house that was constructed in the state. It was built of brick made in the woods at the site of the structure. The house was trimmed throughout with hand-carved wood work. It was made three stories high and still stands and is occupied. The present occupant of the house, Mrs. Sally Pennington, is a great-grand-niece of Colonel Whitley. The house is one of the curiosities of the state and is visited by hundreds of people annually, who wish to see the sort of work that the pioneers did. The hand-carved cornices and interior wood work, including paneled walls and ceilings are indications of a degree of skill and patience that the pioneers usually are supposed to have possessed.

The old fire places which were originally used have been bricked up to the size of ordinary grates, but the hand-carved mantels remain untouched. A frame porch built on the front of the house more than ninety years after the building itself was put up, has fallen into entire decay, and a brick addition built over three-quarters of a century after the original brick work was done, is crumbling and falling away, but the old structure put by the rough builders of 1781 remains solid and unchanged. Three earthquakes have rocked the building but, aside from a few inconsequential cracks, no damage has been done.

The old house was used as a great making place in the early days and one of the two front rooms was especially partitioned off as a sleeping place for the Indians.

Colonel Whitley has been often referred to as the sayer of Tecumseh at the Battle of the Thames, October 5, 1813, and the gun with which the killing is supposed to have been done is in the possession of Mrs. James Buchanan, a great-grand daughter of the Colonel, who still lives at Crab Orchard Springs. Mrs. Buchanan also has Colonel Whitley's powder horn, exquisitely carved.

There is considerable dispute as to the killing of Tecumseh and at least a dozen men claimed to have been responsible for the slaying of the great Indian warrior. Unfortunately, Colonel Whitley himself met his death in the Battle of the Thames and the best evidence lost. His body was found beside that of Tecumseh. The best Kentucky historians however, indicate that it was Tecumseh who killed Whitley, and that the great Indian warrior, immediately after killing the white commander, was shot and killed by a private soldier named William King.

are thinking of the welfare of the masses rather than of answering the call of a few politicians who shout the praises of political parties, because those parties keep them in office regardless of the service they can or do render. I am now nearly thirty-six years old and have never before been a candidate for any office, either by election or by appointment. I am not a personal critic of either party, but my belief and the belief of many good, thinking men in all parties is that I can be of far greater service to the people of our section of the State than either of the gentlemen who are making the race against me for Representative. This is not a personal criticism of either of them, for they are my neighbors and friends and entitled to the kind treatment that I have given them since the race began. I feel that any man who tries to prove his qualifications for office by abusing his opponent is too narrow-minded and selfish to be trusted by the people. Therefore, I have made every effort to keep this kind of small politics out of our campaign.

NAT. B. SWEET
CANDIDATE FOR REPRESENTATIVE TO THE PEOPLE OF ROCKCASTLE COUNTY

1. The next legislature, as in the past, will be overwhelmingly democratic. I have no doubt that a democratic member has a far better opportunity of securing things for his district than a member of any other party.

2. This district has been sadly neglected, as has the entire Mountain region in the past, because the representatives, though many of them have been good, capable men of experience, were practically without influence and could not secure votes for their measures.

3. My being a member of the party in power and having a personal acquaintance with members of the General Assembly and with leaders in all parts of the State would naturally give me a great advantage in securing recognition and help for measures of vital importance to our mountain people.

4. The fact that I have engaged in various kinds of work that have made me familiar with industrial, educational and other conditions in every county in the mountains, as well as throughout the State, gives me a great advantage in knowing the needs of our people and in determining the character of measures that would be for the comfort, protection, advancement and welfare of all the different classes and sections of our people.

5. In short, my opponents can offer you only this promise to do their best, with no reasonable assurance that they could accomplish anything, worth while; I can furnish substantial evidence that you may confidently expect me to secure for you things that you have long hoped for in vain, and which would be of great value to all of us. Then, is it not a matter of good business to elect the man who can best serve your interests? Asking your careful consideration of this matter and pledging myself, if elected, to serve with all my power the best interests of all the people without regard to political or other considerations, I am,

Sincerely yours,
NAT. B. SWEET.

In our present-day life the wheel of fortune is continually revolving. The rich to-day are poor to-morrow. Those who yesterday were unnoticed and unknown, to-day stand in the center of public attention. The girl who thinks that because of her obscurity, trained intelligence or good manners are unnecessary, may learn her mistake at the cost of bitter humiliation, and the other girl, who fancies that she is sure always to be the favorite of fortune, because hitherto she has been watched over and cared for, may have an even harder lesson to master before her life is over. Be ready for the turn of the wheel.

The women are going to make the fight of their pretty lives to get the next legislature to give them the ballot. The first and most important thing the next member from Lincoln will work for, however is going to be a law that will enable the people of this and other counties to get their own representatives to get their own representatives to believe the people of Kentucky want and need better roads and want their legislature to consider this question before the woman suffrage or any other matter that may come before them.—Interior Journal.

H. Davis, this week.—Mr. S. E. Johnson, of Peoples, Jackson county, is visiting his daughter, Mrs. S. E. Hellard.—J. E. Woodall was here Tuesday to see our merchants. Ed has lots of friends in Livingston and enjoys a liberal patronage from our merchants.—J. H. Browning who has been very sick for some time better.—By not having a letter last week, we did not get to mention the wedding, of Mr. Roscoe Gregory and Miss Bertha Hix. The groom is a promising young man and has a good position with L. & N. The bride is the daughter of W. M. Hix and a most attractive young lady. May their pathway be one of pleasure and happiness and may they never forget the step they have taken.—James Maret, candidate for County clerk, was with us last week wearing the pleasant smile with which he always greets everyone.

THEY PREFER OURS

No Wonder, Simple as A B C. Ours Cost Less. Ours Wear Better. They Have More Style. It's about as difficult to describe these new clothes as to write about the prettiest girl at a Leap Year Party. You've got to see her with your own eyes. You'll like her—if you don't there are others. So, if one suit doesn't please you, we've another. It's a question of taste. Prices? That lies with you. The better the clothes you buy, the longer they last and the better they look while you're wearing them. But everyone prefers ours. They are best.

E. L. COCKRELL LIVINGSTON, KY.

"Don't be a knocker," said a youth to his friend, who was making general complaint about others.

"What do you really mean by a knocker?" queried the friend.

"Why, a knocker is one who tries to knock other people's plans in the head, and who has nothing better to offer himself." And the conversation drifted on about knockers in general.

Some people do little else but knock. They see the imperfections in men and things, and complain.

It will be noted that knockers do not get very far in any branch of work. No business firm wants a knocker. He will harm himself, and he will harm the business. Few will not do business with a knocker. Put a knocker among a gang of workmen, and in a short time he will show discontent in every breast, and will subtract from the working effectiveness of each of his fellows.

The man who does things is the man who pays no attention to knockers, or the things knocked at, but who keeps at his work. He will get the business and do the days work, and that is what employers want. Most employers see difficulties enough themselves.

What they want is to get things done. Everyone welcomes good practical plans, but nothing and complaint accomplish nothing.

Not everyone can frame practical plans, but no man need be a knocker. One can, at the very least, keep his mouth closed.

DEAFNESS CANNOT BE CURED

by local applications, as they can not reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this is inflamed you have a running ear or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed. Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever. In cases of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is not only but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give one Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

Arizona-Kentucky Club Organized By

Kentuckians in Tucson, Ariz.

At an organization meeting held last evening in Tucson, Arizona, twenty-five former Kentuckians formally organized the Arizona-Kentucky Society, the object of which will be to bring Kentuckians closer together in both social and business ways, and to render such assistance as may be needed by Kentuckians who come to this section of the country as strangers. It is the intention of the Society to rent a building with a convenient location near the central part of the city and maintain club rooms which will be open at all times. The Society will also maintain an information bureau through which Kentuckians at home may be able to get information concerning friends and relatives in Arizona, or those who intend locating here on account of their health information concerning conditions in Arizona. All inquiries of whatever nature should be addressed to the Society at Tucson, Arizona, for the present, as there are no branches in the other cities but it is expected to have branches in several of the larger towns within the next few months.
