STOMACH TROUBLE FOR FIVE YEARS

Majority of Friends Thought Mr.
Hughes Would Die, But One Helped Him to Recovery.

Pomeroy, Ky.—In interesting advices from this place, Mr. A. J. Hughes writes as follows: "I was down with stomach trouble for five (5) years, and would have sick headache so bad, at times, that I thought surely I would die.
I tried different treatments, but they did not seem to do me any good.
I got so bad, I could not eat or sleep, and all my friends, except one, thought I would die. He advised me to try Theodore's Black-Draught, and quit taking other medicines. I decided to take his advice, although I did not have any confidence in it.
I have now been taking Black-Draught for three months, and it has cured me—
I haven't had those awful sick headaches
since I began using it.
I am so thankful for what Black-Draught has done for me."
Theodore's Black-Draught has been found to be a very valuable medicine for dis-arrangements of the stomach and liver. It is composed of pure, vegetable herbs, contains no dangerous ingredients, and acts gently, yet surely. It can be freely used by young and old, and should be kept in every family chest.

Mr. E. L. Cockrell

Who passed to his reward Wednesday night, at his home in Livingston. His death came as a great surprise to all, not even his family expecting when they hid him good night on Wednesday night, that they would find him cold in death on yesterday morning. Without a murmur or a struggle the end came. For several days he had been suffering from a very severe cold, but it was the least of any one's thought that there was any ailment that would prove fatal. Mr. Cockrell was one of the country's wealthiest and best business men and his death will mean much to the business interests of the county.

He was 65 years old and little son four years old. The burial will take place at Richmond tomorrow afternoon, immediately after the arrival of No. 31, the south-bound passenger, which will carry the remains to that city.

There is a proposition for building 6300 miles of turnpikes in Kentucky by State and Federal aid. According to Louisville Times nearly every county seat would have from 4 to 10 trunk lines leading to adjoining county seats. Rockcastle map shows six as follows: One mile leading to each of the following places: London, McKee, Richmond, Louisa, Stanford and Somerset.

Below is estimate of the cost for State Highway system:
 Total amount of miles to connect all county seats 6,300
 Average cost per mile 4.00
 Total cost of construction $25,200,000

Comparative Tax Rates
 Kentucky pays $5 per thousand
 Would pay $5.50 per thousand with State aid. Arkansas, $21.70; Washington, $36.39. Kentucky is one of fourteen States that has no bonded debt. Massachusetts has a bonded debt of $116,000,000. New York, $80,000,000; Tennessee, $11,000,000 and Virginia, $9,000,000.

Kentucky has 26,000,000 acres of land and a property value of $1,200,000,000 taken on a 49 per cent basis.

State tax of 5c on the hundred dollar. $800,000
 Kentucky's part of the $25,000,000 proposed Federal appropriation is 583,000 $1,183,000
 County tax $1,183,000
 Total amount of income $2,366,000 $24,800,000 divided by $2,366,000 equals 11 years time required to construct the system.

Increased value of land and the value of this system to the State cannot be estimated.

The movement for good roads in Kentucky has been going forward for many years, but at times its progress became almost imperceptible, and save for the fact that the economic value of highways has become a recognized principle one cannot boast that much has been done to provide the state in general with roads of any great serviceable value. Of late, however, the principle has become too big a thing to be kept out of sight, and The Times along with other great elements in the Commonwealth has brought to the public eye the need of a system of communication better than any other in the country.

Leading the fight in the General Assembly is to be found the sturdy figure of Claude B. Terrell Speaker of the House of Representatives, a resident of Trimble county and a man of the soil, who would see the country dweller, the farmer and the stockman getting more out of life and getting it easier. There is no limit to the improvement in the condition of living possibly when means of easy transportation of crops and incoming comforts are at hand.

These things being known to the Speaker, he has put his heart in the cause of State Aid for Good Roads. He knows that the locked in treasures of the mountains will enable those counties long supported by the balance of the State as "pauper," to take their self-respecting place among those honorable and honored counties which pay their way—that is, when roads are built which will afford ingress and egress to the grunting wagons which shall bear outward the produce of those hills and valleys, and which shall bear the increased comforts of the outside world. It is for reasons such as these that Speaker Terrell is in the thick of the fight for State Aid for Good Roads, which eventually will enable the county seats of the Commonwealth.

There will be required $2,366,000

1000 yearly for eleven years. At the rate of $4,000 per mile for the roads as proposed to be built, 1000 miles per year would average something very tangible for the people to regard while impatiently look forward to that glad day when the entire 6,300 will be available for the public use and benefit. What vistas of new thoughts and new opportunities these highways would open up can be left safely to the imagination of the people. It is not only in what are commonly considered the isolated places of the State that lack of highways shut in the people and rob them of their right to live and prosper in their pursuit of happiness. In many counties there are sections absolutely inaccessible to wheeled vehicles in rough weather, and in order to carry this argument to its fullest, it must be told that the wealthy county of Jefferson has some mud paths which would do justice to the poorest of mountain communities. This is true for the very good reason that there are so many communities clamoring for roads and more of them these enlightened days that even the wealthy county of Jefferson cannot keep up with the demand. It is because of all these facts that Speaker Terrell has introduced in a country county wants roads for the people of the Commonwealth, and will give thought and labor to cause the construction of good roads thru State aid for the enterprise.

There can be no doubt that one of the main reasons why lowland capital is not invested in the development of Kentucky resources is the fact that especially in the mountains the virgin lands far from railroads are hard to get to, and few are the capitalists of sufficient physical endurance and resource to spend days prospecting.

The Times pick up this advocacy of Government aid to roads twelve months after the SIGNAL first mentioned it. At that time the Times was mightily "agin" the proposition on "principles," now on the subject, it holds the loudest "how we apples do swim."

One of America's greatest teachers is the conclusion reached by the Educational Committee of the House of Representatives at Washington when the work of Mrs. Cornelia Wilson Stewart, of Morehead, Rowan county, Ky., was investigated. There are now but six illiterate persons in Rowan county. No other county in America has such a high percentage. Every citizen, except the few mentioned, can read and write and wearily of them do some figuring. This remarkable condition was brought about by the work and efforts of Mrs. Stewart. Moonlight schools were established there to accommodate day laborers and school workers who could not go to school in daylight. A number of pupils were 70 and 80 years old. Teachers and others volunteered their services and under the guiding hand of Mrs. Stewart so much enthusiasm was created in the work that in less than ten years Rowan county has become a proud distinction mentioned here. Mrs. Stewart has been County Superintendent of schools, and there is a call throughout the Commonwealth that she become a candidate for State Superintendent next election.

It is a foregone conclusion that Congress will pass the bill giving Federal aid to the various States for building highways, and it is in this appropriation the State puts up one dollar, while the Government puts up nine hundred cents. The Kentucky Legislature will pass a bill enabling our State to meet these requirements. Now in case Congress does not make a direct appropriation for constructing roads, it may be booties the State and towns and the people along its proposed route to get together and organize for the purpose of showing that owing to the vast importance of Boone valley route the construction of this road is the first and most important of the State. The many who have taken this great trunk line should be put thru without unnecessary delay. What say you Commercial Clubs, business men, farmers and every citizen?

Our city papers that were "agin" Government and State aid to roads one year ago are "agin" with a "P" are fair in publishing over each other their mud roads to climb to.

wagon of the good roads movement since they see the stand of Congress and Legislatures in taking in the trail of the low-roads men. Hazardous to the SIGNAL, therefore, it is in some evidence that the same papers are not the big lies and know-it-alls that they have attempted to have many people throughout the country believe. It is something on the order of a doubtful confession to have made it a bit of a doubt, for these publishers to swallow the doses prescribed for them by us, a year since. Well boys, look down and wade into the fight with us, we welcome all the boys except, but after the fight is on for the love of Mike, don't come on under headlines saying "See what I do."

It will be the purpose of THREE STATES to devote a great deal of its space to the interest of good roads. We believe there is no other issue before the people of our section as important for the up building of our country. We know newspaper talk is very cheap, and it takes a lot of talking before an thing is accomplished, but we know there is more interest in this good roads movement than just talk and that the people will quit talking some day and go to work. B one way already has some support in Congress, and we believe if the people living in the section thru which the road will pass will organize, they can produce something besides talk out of our National Congress. We are aware of the fact there are a great many demands made upon our public treasury and a great many are securing appropriations having less merit than Boone Way.—Middleton T. Rice States.

C. R. Luker, Rockcastle and Luker's representative goes to Louisville favoring the Glenn insurance bill and voted for the measure when introduced in the House. The Republicans of this district who elect D. Charley will no doubt appreciate his efforts on this important measure, as the bill was introduced and the hard fighting being made to make it a law, not for the purpose of regulating the insurance business of Kentucky but to provide a grant fund for some and enable others to build up a profitable machine for the next State race.

WOLDON T. the Glenn insurance bill, if it should become a law, provide the present Auditor, Henry M. Bosworth, who wants to be Governor next time with a splendid means of building up a political machine for his proposed fight. T. the shame of any Kentucky and more especially a State official who would favor such an arbitrary measure that would injure and retard the business interests of the State as this would be the worst member in their supplication to Dietz, those who have led the fight for this outrageous measure.

No Wonder, Simple as A B C. Ours Cost Less Ours Wear Better They Have More Style

It's about as difficult to describe these new clothes as to write about the prettiest girl at a Leap Year Party. You've got to see her with your own eyes. Maybe you'll like her—if you don't there are others. So, if one suit doesn't please you, we've another. It's a question of taste. Prices? That lies with you. The better the clothes you buy, the longer they last and the better they look while you're wearing them. But everyone prefers ours. They are best.
