A long list of satisfied patrons on our endeavor. Are you one of that number, if not give us a trial. Cox & Wheelock, barbers, next door to the post office.

COMMERCIAL CLUB. Be on hand, promptly at 7.45 p.m. at Club Rooms, Tuesday, April 14th. It is to your interest, the town and county's interest, that a full meeting be had.

The Fiscal Court which met Tuesday allowed Jailer James Winstead $200 a year for taking care of the Court house, but we understand that Mr. Winstead will not accept it for the reason that it is not sufficient pay.

The work on construction of the electric light plant is progressing fairly well. The weather has materially hindered the work. With thirty-five or forty pretty days, will see Mt. Vernon illuminated as never before.

The Fiscal Court met Tuesday and fixed the levy for 1914 as follows: General fund 25 cts.; road fund 20 cts.; and schools 20 cts., making a total of 65 cts., with 50 cts. additional for foreign missions. The total membership is 99,944.

Honorable rivalry between business, professional and other men of the same town or different towns and communities is alright and commendable and should be free of petty jealousies. Don't hammer your neighbors or others who are making honorable efforts to get along. Use the Golden Rule.

A lot of rat and feathers would be an appropriate proceeding in connection with whisky drunkards who persist in visiting prohibition territory, soliciting orders and receiving money for same as well as "treating" on samples of their soul destroying stuff to men and boys many of whom have made strong efforts to leave of the drinking habit. Mt. Vernon is caused by the visits from two such byemes, who live out of the state, once or twice monthly. There surely ought to be some way to get rid of these leeches and peace destroying pests.

By laws of Lime Kiln Club limits its membership to 100 for three months after organization. Mt. Vernon Club No. 557 now has 107 members and list is closed until July 1st. No more members can be initiated until that date without a warrant of dissenation by the Supreme Lumber at his headquarters, Panama Canal Zone. Twenty-three applicants will therefore have to wait until a hearing is had from the Isthmus before knowing their disposition will be made of their petitions for membership.

County Road Engineer J. W. Marler received last week from A. L. Greenberg Iron Co., of Terre Haute, Ind., a check for $100 as an expense money for himself and others of the county officials who desire to go to Terre Haute to inspect the culverts, etc., made by this company which is the world's largest manufacturers of culverts. Mr. Marler, accompanied by Messrs. A. H. Hamilton, T. J. Nicely, R. B. Gentry and W. L. Richards will go to Terre Haute next week. The letter of the company said that the amount was lacking over and above this check for per all expenses, would be forthcoming on the arrival of the delegation at A. L. Greenberg Iron Co., plant.

Commercial Club. "United we stand, divided we fall." Off Commercial Club's proceeding freely in the installation of this idea into the people and it is having a wonderful effect. The big difference in their business and social relations is daily absorbing. The organization of this club was the best thing ever happened for our town and county. It has and is creating a better understanding among our people generally and bringing forward a more brotherly feeling all around and showing that spirit which we must have if we are to be a united people and a land and land a hand is the good work of improving and bettering conditions in pursuit of life, liberty and some pleasure. While enjoying here on nature's beautiful Long life to the club and may be work of usefulness spread rapidly to the home, country and every part to all the corners of our highways and oceans.

Thursday night was cool and the sidewalk on which Kehler had made his bed appeared so uncomfortable to a patrolman that he arrested the old man and took him to a police station so that he might have a comfortable mattress and blankets. In searching him it was found that what was supposed to be a hump on his back was uncommonly hard, and investigation revealed that it was not a deformity, but a tin box which was packed with gold coin and paper money. Various gold pockets in Kehler's clothes were emptied of additional money. When all was counted, the total was found to be $23,000."

LET GOOD WORDS GROW

"How is it that often the old which men say spreads so widely and lasts so long, whilst our good kind words don't seem, somehow, to take root and bear blossom? It is that in the stony hearts of mankind these flowers can't always find a place to grow? Certain it is that staid old is good, brisk talk, whereas praise of one's neighbors by no means lively bearing. An acquaintance grilled scored, deviled and served with mustard and oysters pepper excites the appetite; whereas, a slice of cold friend with currant jelly is but a sickly, unwholesome treat."

Thackeray wrote that, and it's just about as true today as the day he wrote it. Gossiping and scandalizing are things that tend to break down modern civilization. If people who don't like other people, or are envious of them for some reason, would come right out in the open and say so, standing up or falling down would be far better off.

The Ideal and Successful Way

No class of business men can be found the world over, who does not investigate a proposition before forming an opinion, no matter what the question or proposition may be, and we American people naturally stand against all kinds of business propositions, until we are thoroughly convinced, but 92 per cent of the business and professional men of to-day are convinced that it is strictly against good business policies to ever attempt to go through life unprotected and have shown forth their opinion by their quick action they have taken. Now, just a word to you parents, you should advise the young men to take out insurance on their life early. Sweethearts should demand it of the young man who seeks her heart and hand in marriage. THE COMMONWEALTH LIFE INSURANCE CO. of Louisville, Ky., will be pleased to show you the most advantageous policies through their local agent.

The New Typewriter 7 OLIVER No.

WE ANNOUNCE AN AMAZING MODEL—The OLIVER No. 7—a typewriter of superexcellence, with automatic devices and refinements that mark the zenith of typewriter progress. A marvel of beauty, speed, and easy action. Typewriting efficiency raised to the nth power.

The OLIVER No. 7 embodies all previous Oliver innovations and new self-acting devices never before seen on any typewriter. A leap in advance which places The Oliver ten years ahead of its time. So smooth in action, so light to the touch, so easy to run, that experts are amazed. A model that means to the typist delightful ease of operation.

A model that means a higher standard of typewriting, longer and better service.

The No. 7 is now on exhibit and sale at all Oliver Branches and Agencies throughout the United States.

The new model has more improvements, refinements and new uses than you can even enumerate here.

The "cushioned" key board with anchor keys and the new automatic features mean less work for the hands, less strain on the eyes, less manual and mental effort.

With all of these masterly mechanical improvements we have made the machine more beautiful and symmetrical. From every standpoint "The OLIVER No. 7" attains superlative excellence.

Nothing you could wish for has been omitted. The new devices, refinements, improvements and conveniences found on the No. 7 represent an enormous outlay and vastly increase its value—the price has not been advanced one penny.

We shall even continue to force our popular 17-Cents-a-Day purchase plan, the same as on previous Oliver models.

The OLIVER No. 7 equipped with the famous Printype if desired, without extra charge. You owe it to yourself to see the new machine before you buy any typewriter at any price. Note its beauty, speed and easy action, its wonderful automatic devices. Try it on any work that is ever done on typewriters. It is true on many kinds of work that no other typewriter will do.

It is significant fact that the typewriter that introduced such epoch-making innovations as visible writing, Printype, etc., should be the first to introduce automatic methods of operation.

Describing Daniel Boone and Companions' Indian Troubles

Preserved in our old scrap book and printed some twenty or twenty-five years ago in the "Hart County News," was this most interesting letter, furnished at that time, by Mrs. J. W. Woodson, of Munfordsville, whose great-great-uncle was the writer. This is the letter:

Bonesborough, July 12, 1776. My Dear Sir, The situation of our country is much altered since I wrote you last. The Indians seem determined to break up our settlement, and I really believe, unless it is possible to give us some assistance, that the greater part of the people may fall prey to them. They have, I am satisfied, killed several, whom at this time, I know not low to mention. Many are missing, who, sometime ago went out about their business. Fresh signs of Indians are seen every day. I think I mentioned to you before some damage they had done at Lebanon on the 17th of this month; they killed one Cooper, on Licking creek, and on the 14th a man whose name I know not, at your salt spring on the same creek. On the same day they took out of a canoe, within sight of this place, Miss Betsy Calaway, her sister Frances, and a daughter of Daniel Boone, the two last were about 13 or 14 years old and the other grown. The affair happened late in the afternoon. They left the canoe on the opposite side of the river from us, which prevented our getting over for some time to pursue them. We could not get there until after more than five miles. Next morning by daylight, we were upon their tracks, but they had already prevented our following them by walking some distance apart, thru the thickest cane they could find. We observed their course, and on which side they had left signs and traveled upward of thirty miles. We then supposed they would be less cautious in traveling and making a turn in order to cross their trace, we had gone but a few miles when we found their tracks in a buffalo pond, pursued and overtook them in going about ten miles, just as they were kindling a fire to cook. Our study had been how to get the prisoners without giving the Indians time to murder them; after they discovered us. We saw each other nearly at the same time. Four of us fired and rushed upon them, by which they were prevented from carrying anything away except one shotgun without any ammunition. Mr. Boone and myself each had a pretty fair shot as they began to move off. I am well convinced I shot one thru the body. The one he shot dropped his gun—mine had none. The place was covered with thick cane, and being so elated over recovering the three little heart-broken girls, we were prevented from making any further search. We went the Indians off almost naked—some of them without their moccasins, and none of them with so much as a half of a bone-hawk. After the girls came to themselves sufficient to speak they said there were only five Indians, four Shawanese and one Cherokee. They could speak good English, and they said they should go to the Chavanesse town. The war club we got was like those I have of that nation. Several words of their language which the girls retained, were known to the Shawanese. They also told them that the Cherokees had killed or driven all the people from Watauga or thereabouts, and that fourteen Cherokees were then on the Ky. writing to the militia chief. If the war becomes general, of which there is the greatest appearance, our situation is truly alarming. We are about finishing a large fort and intend to keep possession of this place as long as possible. They are a desperate set of fellows, doing all the mischief they can do. I am, Sir, your obedient servant, J. C. FRANKLIN.

broken up. Nineteen of the settlers are now on their way in—Hink Stiles among the rest. They all seem dead to anything we can say to dissuade them. Ten at least, of our people, are going to join them, which will leave us without less than thirty men at the fort. I think more than 300 men have left this country since I came out, and not one has arrived except a few Cabiners' down the Ohio. I want to return as much as any person can, but if I leave the country now there's scarcely one single man who will not follow the example. When I think of the deplorable condition a few helpless families are likely to be in, I conclude to sell my life as dearly as I can in their defense, rather than make an ignominious escape. I am afraid it is in vain to sue for any relief from Virginia, yet, the convention encouraged the settlement of this country, and why should not the extreme part of Cin. Castle be as justly entitled to protection as any part of the country? If any expeditions were carried on against those nations who are at open war with each other we might be in a measure relieved by drawing them off to defend their towns. If anything under heaven can be done for us I know of no person who would more willingly engage in forwarding us assistance than yourself. I do, at the request and behalf of all the distressed women and children and the inhabitants of this place, implore the aid of every leading man who may have it in his power to give us relief. I cannot write. You can better guess at my ideas from what I have said than I can express them. I am, dear sir, your most effectually to my last moments.

BEWARE OF POINTMENTS FOR CATARRH THAT CONTAIN MERCURY

as mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. Such articles should never be used except on prescriptions from reputable physicians, as the damage they will do is ten fold to the good you can possibly derive from them. SCHOOL EXAMINATIONS

The popular tendency nowadays is toward mollycoddling. Children must not be corrected. Their minds must be diverted. Violators of the law, who are merely grown-up children who are without respect for authority, or for the rights of others, must not be punished. They must be given treatment somewhat like that promised to Curlylocks in the poem, and turned loose after a brief period of uplifting association with exponents of the theory that criminals are not criminals, but merely worthy persons temporarily in error. Now comes a school teacher to denounce the term-end examinations as tending to dishearten and disgust pupils, and as having no value in determining their relative fitness for advancement to higher classes.

In a paper read before the Central Association of Science and Mathematics Teachers, an Illinois instructress holding a chair at a high school in Kenilworth, abolishes with a breath the standing of examinations. They are useless, worse than useless. They are cruel. They are unfair. They bestow an honor "decided by a fraction of a per cent."

The last objections is the more thoughtless. In all sporting events, such as the Marathon race at the Olympic games, the Kentucky Derby and baseball, the honor is bestowed "by a fraction of a per cent." as the school teacher puts it. That the prize in a Marathon or the stake in a turf event is unjustly bestowed because there isn't a wide gap between the winner and the contestant who is crowding him is a new theory. It is a theory which quite overlooks the stimulus to heroic endeavor that lies in the fact that getting across the tape under the wire nearly on time does not get first honors. There would be no Marathon runners, and no fast thoroughbreds, if there were no reward for being an eyelash ahead of a rival.

If there were no examinations it would be rather embarrassing for teachers to single out the pupil not entitled to advancement and order him to repeat the junior course when others took senior "tickets." Diplomas and degrees would have little meaning. A wholesome fear of failures at examination forces a pupil at his books who, without stimulant would do little hard work.—Courier Journal.

HONOR TO WHOM HONOR DUE

In signing the McDyer-Bosworth measure and House bill No. 297, the Governor has assured to every county in Kentucky the aid of the State in the building of its roads, to be supplemented in time by that of the Federal Government and to townships and counties the use of the labor of county prisoners in the actual construction and maintenance of roads and other public works. As the Governor had already signed the bill declaring roads to be the public works of the State it is not improbable that the use of convict labor will also be available without the delay of submitting the constitutional amendment to the people in 1915. That question, however, it is for the courts to decide.

Strong pressure was brought to bear on the Governor to prevent his signing the first two bills by men who look only to present conditions and selfish considerations. In raising it the Governor has insisted to Kentucky the best system of roads of any State in the South.

In the first session of his administration there was created a bureau of roads. The machinery was admirable in itself.

In the final session of his administration the Governor has aided in supplying the motive power. Not only is Kentucky to have State and Federal aid in the building of her roads, but under the Huff law county seat plan every county is to receive equal consideration. The money spent for roads is no longer to be spent haphazard. The standard of road construction, of whatever material, is to be fixed. The provision for maintenance is to be uniform. Not until this standard and provision have been complied with is State and Federal aid to be extended. Kentucky has at last substituted action for words in the building of good roads.

In signing these measures the Governor has done Kentucky a service that more than evens the score between them.

But the credit is not wholly the Governor's. But for Claude B. Terrell the McDyer-Bosworth bill would never have passed the House. The first made for it in the Senate by Lieut. Gov. McDermott and Senator Huffaker prevented its defeat in that body. In both houses the Louisville delegation stood as a man by their ante election pledge to work and vote for good roads. To Louisville, on which the tax burden falls heaviest the section of the State that are without good roads owe, not the least of their debt of gratitude for legislation that will transform eighty-nine pauper into eighty-nine prosperous counties.—Louisville Times.

An adjustment of the insurance condition in Kentucky, although Ruby Laffoon has made certain promises, as to what the State Rating Board will do, seems very uncertain. The welfare of the business interests of the State demand an immediate adjustment and if the Governor, the Auditor and Ruby Laffoon are not willing to surrender what they had hoped to gain in a Political way for the welfare of the business interests of the entire State, it seems to us that it is time for the people to make a demand that will bring the desired result. The people are greater than that. Bureaucratic political grafters, who are trying to hold on to this infamous law.

TO THE BAPTIST OF ROCKCASTLE COUNTY

Sunday April 12th has been set apart as Missionary day in all the Baptist Sunday Schools of the South and as representative of the Mission Board of Rockcastle Association I am appealing to the Twenty Seven Hundred Baptist of our Association to make a special effort to make as liberal an offering as they possibly can on that day. We also invite our friends who are not members of our churches on Sunday schools to aid in this noble work. Statistics show that more than one million foreigners come to our country every year, we are trying to give every one of them a copy of The Bible printed in their own language, besides, the opening of the Panama Canal necessitates our sending Missionaries to that field unless our brethren do heroic work we will not be able to meet all of our obligations some of our good sisters have promised to give all the eggs laid by their hens on Sundays during the month of April. We trust others will do likewise. Let all the largest contributions to Missions to report in our history.

Pay in your money to the nearest church, or you can mail direct to W. D. Powell, Secretary of Missions, Louisville, Ky., or if you prefer you can mail to me and I will forward it for you.

Yours in the work,
A. E. ALBRIGHT,
