Schools for Your Children.

Mothers of this community! You have children to educate. You want good schools that your children may have advantages equal to those given the children of the mail-order man in the city.

Why not assist in educating your own children? You can do so by spending your dollars with the merchants who are assisting in keeping up the schools.

Powers A Fakir

Artful in Duplicity and Strong On His Mix-Up in the Goebel Affair.

Advertisement The press in the 11th district last week was well supplied as to why Powers should be returned to Congress. This stuff is similar to what the people have heard so much of before.

It is assumed the 11th district which is composed of people of high culture, aspiring for progress and the development of our usual gift of natural resources, desire the election of a Representative who can command the action of the nation to-day.

Undoubtedly the real fault that Powers sees in Bosworth is his success as a legislator. In the course of his public life he has con- ciliated the people of all parties and the press for his good roads legislation; his fight for a fair primary law; red-recting the State so Republicans may be on an equality with the voters of other parties; the enacting of laws covering the judicial system in this section of Kentucky by such a poor lit-gas to have their rights adjudicated; the passing of a work men's compensation act, which enables the injured laborer to be compensated and in case of death his family fully paid for his life, whether such person was in fault or not; persistently advocating the cause of temperance in accord with the best thought of temperance people and numerous other acts, as against Powers' record, not a single achievement; and against many law passed off by Bosworth having voted in opposition to them as our Congressman.

Will might the artful duplicity the unjustifiable accusation by Powers that Henry Bosworth mistreated him as a prisoner; the statement that Bosworth is not a Republican; the awfulness of Bosworth having voted in opposition to a monument to Jefferson Davis, had lodged in the minds of this electorate were we not people of high attainments, possessing all ready the appreciation that the Republican and Progressive parties have, in unbounded magnanimity, endorsed the giving of our money and expressions of our love to the wounded soldiers and their widows of the Southland.

POWERS VS. BOSWORTH

The Plume News is a progressive and well written newspaper. It is a candidate for Congress in this district. It will if the party that chooses a candidate. For this reason we can watch the conflict between Powers and Bosworth with an old, bold already lifted to hit the victor. Quite naturally we are interested who this will be. Unquestionably it is not a one-sided race, as was the case between Powers and Edwards. Since Powers' first victory he has been gradually on the decline. In this section and in some of the neighboring counties his friends have taken him to the way a snowball melts in July. He has no Old Guard left. Where he once was greeted by thousands; where people rode miles to enthusiastically grasp his hand, they will say to you to-day he has not a corporal's guard for the nucleus of an organization.

This condition of affairs may be able to overcome; his old story may prove artful again. If it is only the old story he can rely upon. He will not be able to point to any achievement in Congress as an excuse that he should be returned. His Congressional record has been a complete failure. Grant Philpot's saying, "You might just as well have written a postal card," is an unadorned truth with which the Republican voters of the Eleventh have to deal this year. Powers will answer this, no doubt, by saying, "we have a Democratic Caucus." It will be some argument if he succeeds in keeping from the people the brilliant record that John Langley, a Republican of our neighborhood, has made in the same Congress. And his opponent, Bosworth will be able to show that a Democratic Caucus at Frankfort be was able to pass more important bills than any of his Democratic colleagues. The laws that Bosworth voted are endorsed by the best thought of the State and recognized to be of more real value to the population than any legislation enacted by Powers. In attaching these laws to the name of Powers all the voters will be in favor of the Democratic Caucus against him. So long as we have nothing to do with the State and no one to legislate for us, we will support the Democratic Caucus.

publicatory of this district demonstrated that it had more sentiment than sense. Judge Keenly is now supporting Powers in the belief, no doubt, that it takes a sentiment to get into office. His conclusions may be right this time, but sooner or later the people of this district will, perforce awake to the realization that real goods must be delivered to us by our Congressmen in Washington. In order that we can take our rightful position in the advancement that our wealth and sincere desire for progress merits.

BURNING MONEY United States Treasurer John Burke, in a recent address before a Bankers' association, gave surprising statistics in regard to the careless carelessness of people about the safe keeping of money. Every fall, he says, the treasurer's office receives many fragments of burned paper money which has been stored in stoves or ovens during the warm weather, and the hiding places forgotten until the awful discovery of the charred bits is made after fires have been built with the approach of frost. About 2,000 such cases are received yearly, coming first from the north sections and by degrees from the warmer zones. "This," he said, is the treasurer's means of tracing the trust from Canada to the Gulf.

The electric lights were turned on at Mt. Vernon for the first time last Saturday night and the citizens witnessed a sight that many said would never be the streets and homes of Mt. Vernon illuminated by a first class up-to-date electric light plant. The little meeting held in the Masonic hall last Friday, when some thirty or forty men and women met to talk electric lights for Mt. Vernon, meant more than the majority of the people thought and as time goes by the effects for good will be realized, more and more. This was not a dry speech in the history of Mt. Vernon, and certainly will prove the wisdom of those who have been so fervent and unrelenting in their efforts to establish such a plant. The machinery was brought from the shops of Clark Y. Shively, Sr., of Louisville, represented by Mr. W. W. Underhill, who has made several personal inspections, the machinery was set and first run in motion by Charles Cain, machinist, Mr. George Cain, Louisville and with Mr. Jesse A. Cook, the section men who have been so active and energetic in their efforts to establish such a plant.

TAKE - We do not recall the time when our whole town was more completely upset than last Monday when the message came to Victor C. Tate announcing the death of his brother, Shirley, at Sweet Water, Tenn. For more than thirty days he had been very sick and about a week ago he had asked an operation to remove a tumor from the lung caused by an abscess but the local physicians who had charge after the operation, he spent ten hours before his death, told his brother Victor, when he left Sweet Water, to return to Mt. Vernon, that Shirley was doing as well as could be expected and would be able to follow on in a week's time. About 2 a.m. Monday the heart ceased to perform its functions, suddenly dropping from 140 to 50 pulsations per minute, and in less than two hours from that time the spirit of the noblest of mortals took its flight to the God above.

The deceased was 24 years old a splendid druggist and true type of Kentucky manhood. For several years he was clerk for Chas. G. Davis the local druggist, took a course at the Louisville school of Pharmacy, passed a most creditable examination under the State Board of Indiana; then took a place with the Carroll drug Co. of Morristown, Tenn. where he worked for several months and less than a year ago formed a partnership with Mr. C. D. Sweeney, Tenn., under the firm name of Day & Childress. He rapidly grew in favor and admiration of the people of Sweetwater, and at the time of his sickness was enjoying a splendid run of business. Less than two years ago he was most happily married to Miss Willie Benton, who is heart broken at the untimely loss which separates her almost unbearable. The remains were brought here on the early train Tuesday morning and taken to the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Griffin, being deemed inadvisable to go home on account of the serious illness of his mother. The fact that this was wished to be done, which he had so anxiously awaited his recovery and his coming to see her, made it all the more pathetic. Yet she realized that her life depended upon it, and when asked by her son Victor what he said: 'Don't bring his home.' Short services were held by Mr. W. H. Cox and at 2 p.m. the body was laid to rest in Elmwood cemetery to await the final summons. Peace to his ashes, glory to his immortal soul.

The annual June Oratorical Contest at Chatur - College was held this morning. In the college chapel instead of at night, as has been the custom heretofore. There were only two contestants but those who heard the efforts of these two young men were fully pleased.

The first speaker was J. J. Bethuram, of Somerset, representing the Chamberlain Society, and the other one was Felix Renick, of Winchester. The first prize was awarded to J. J. Bethuram, whose subject was 'Times Nobler Offering.' The subject of the oration delivered by Renick was 'The Peril of Immigration.'

The prize is awarded on the basis of the speaker securing the highest average on thought composition and delivery. There being one set of judges on delivery and another on thought and composition. Upon totaling the percentage of the rank awarded it was found that there was a tie, which necessitated awarding the first place on the total of the percentages, which gave Mr. Bethuram a slight advance.

Both speakers are young men of forensic ability, and their ability and their efforts were meritously applauded by the large audience. The judges on delivery were Dr. C. W. Cook, Mr. H. H. Carter and Rev. H. D. Martin. Those on thought and composition were Dr. J. Q. A. McDowell, Rev. W. O. Sailer, Judge Jay W. Harlan - Danville Advocate.
