LIVINGSTON.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Oliver and children are visiting relatives in Ashville, N. C. — Miss Ethel Hays has returned from Cincinnati, after an extended visit with relatives there. — Mrs. Mass Mullins of Paris, is visiting her parents here. — Mr. and Mrs. Allen Mounce — Mrs. E. L. Cockerill after a few days visit with relatives at Stanford has returned home. — Eugene Orloff, an engineer of Louisville, is visiting his mother, Mrs. J. H. Ornduff — Judge B. J. Bethuram of Somerset, and Judge L. W. Bethuram of Mt. Vernon, were here between trains Sunday. — J. M. Foster is in Pineville this week. — S. E. Pennington of London, was here Tuesday on business. — T. M. Dues left for Williamsburg to attend the State Council of the J. R. O. U. A. M. which met in that city Tuesday. — Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Black have returned from a few days visit with relatives at London. — There were seven wagon loads of watermelons sold here Monday. — Say Mt. Vernon can you duplicate this and yet it is claimed that we are the little smoky town between the hills. — Mr. and Mrs. John Clark have moved back to Livingston after having a year in Essera Ky. — Butch McClure was here between trains Tuesday enroute home at Mt. Vernon from the L. & A. R. R. where he has a position as telegraph operator. — Patrick Donally of Lexington, was in to see his brother, J. B. Donally of this place Sunday. — John Fields the flour salesman from Stanford was here Tuesday. — Mr. R. J. Lemonds is in Louisville for a few days. — Mrs. J. C. McGuire after a few days visit with her daughter Mrs. Alvin Carico, has returned to her home in Paris. — Little Geo. Jenkins after being confined to his room for a few days is able to get out again. — Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Preston and children have returned home from Boston. — We understand that "Felix" and "Cody" went to Jellico, Tenn., to get married on Monday night, will W. Baker of this place. — Mrs. Wood and her girls names — W. J. Lennons and daughter, W. H. Krueger is bringing ground to build another house. Just what is going on — Mrs. Celia Turpin is visiting relatives at White this week. — Now all the fans are over and only one more show to come. We are at a loss to know what we are going to do, but the campaign will get warm directly and business will pick up again. — Well the overseer has informed me that he wants our help again for six more days to help fill up a few of the audholes and beat up a few more rocks and then perhaps we can use the road for another year. Well if it isn't one blaine thing it is another. Out for the Boneaway, or something else in place of this old song "you must work six days or more if necessary." — J. H. Walton is a juror at Mt. Vernon this session of court. — We have just finished reading a letter in the Mountain Advocate where correspondent speaks of the good old times forty years ago. He speaks of the old big houses that you could throw a dog thru the cracks, no backless seats, the old stone chimney and last but not least he brings to our mind that blessed volume the old blue back speller (the library in one book.) So he is a man after our own heart, he speaks of the scow huskies, the log rollings, the rail splittings and all the things that were in their glory forty years ago. Then it was that the golden rule was coupled with the do unto others as you would have others do unto you, but now it is do the other fellow before he does you but we can't say much on this subject for they say we are living in the progressive age. — Miss Alice Ward has returned home after a two weeks visit with relatives in Stanford and at High Bridge. — Miss Lou Eitz, Brown of Parkville, is visiting her cousin, Miss Bill Mae Blauford of this place. — Mrs. W. T. Merriam of Paris, is visiting Mr. Geo. Pope. — Miss Annie Baker of Mt. Vernon, is visiting. — Mr. and Mrs. J.

Stanford Ky., Sept. 1. — Hugh Brown, a negro, was killed early this morning while robbing the store of Sylvania and Sons by A. T. Bromley, senior member of the firm of Bromley & Bromley. Mr. Bromley, who occupies apartments above the store, was aroused early this morning by a noise in the basement. He dressed and went down on the street, but failed to find anyone, so returned to his room. He soon heard the noise again, and this time he got out on the roof of the portion of the store that is one-story. The noise continued and in a short while he saw the screen door open at the back end of the basement whereupon he fired. The burglar ran and Mr. Bromley, fired two more shots. When the second shot was fired Brown dropped the bundle of articles he had taken from the store. Only one shot took effect entering the right leg it severed an artery and bled to death. A negro woman on her way to work found Brown dead in a pool of blood. Brown's body was taken to the fourth use and awaits the Coroner's inquest. Harken To The Harvest Songs Gathering The Sheaves

The Whole Country Will Soon be Singing a Chorus of Prosperity, Still the Quarrels of Business and Politics, Silencing the Grumbles of Possession.

"Vote 'em Black," shouts the Pot of Bohemia in the Kettle of Politics. "So are you," cries Italy to Business in return, "what you need is a bath of old-fashioned honesty." "And what you Politicians need is to purge yourselves of Hypocrisy," says Business.

While these two are bandying epithets, you and we, Consumers, Tax payers, Wage-earners, and small fry generally, are grating our teeth because of the ostinacy of these belligerents who would rather have "hard times" if they cannot have their own way and say.

Ever since the Democrats came into power—and even before that, since their election, November of 1912—the professional Republican editors and spellbinders have been crying calamity and predicting "soup houses" and "panics."

Actually they would be glad to have disaster so that they could ecstatically declare: "We told you so."

We resent these dolorous pronouncements of hard times for partisan purposes merely. That is the hypocrisy of which Politics itself is purged.

On the other hand the Democratic administration started out with a heavy plan of campaign, directed against special privileges enjoyed chiefly by Big Business.

It has taken a long time—an unaccountably long time—to carry thru this program, and the job is not finished yet, tho the end is probably in sight within the next six weeks.

When the anti-trust legislation measures are enacted and put along with the completed business of curbing law and order, the whole country will breathe easier. Relief will be immediate. Then curtailment will cease their trumpet, and we shall hear the merry songs of the harvest bands as they garner in the crops.

Never in all the world's history has the United States raised so much wheat as this year—nearly one billion bushels.

In corn, the estimated production is for a billion more bushels than last year. It is a banner year in all the cereals, and for cotton, hay, all the fruits, and every farm product that can be named.

This means thousands of millions of dollars to farmers and horticulturists of the United States and that we shall turn these food-stuffs into gold in the markets of the world.

You cannot get away from it. Prosperity hangs to us, and we will not be shaken off. We are not wasting treasure in war. We are employing every man who is willing and able to help in harvesting.

Within six weeks mercantile business will lose any feelings of depression that it may have or have had, and will not the activities responsive to the moving of the crops, the buying of the railroads, the call for more textile weavers, coal miners, steel workers, and other factory operatives.

California has been pluming itself for weeks on its early and heavy shipments of fruits and vegetables, and the crop estimates this year which are far in advance of other years. We have no failures in any line of production. Nothing but success wherever the hand of man has broken the crust of Mother Earth.

This garden land might be an Island of Optimism completely surrounded by pessimism, but it is likely soon to be merely a high-water mark of a rising tide of Prosperity.

The above article was clipped from a Los Angeles, California paper and mailed us by J. C. Adams, a Rockcastle boy who is gathering some of the rich harvest of that prosperous state.

Bargains

That are Unusual and Extraordinary

WE guarantee every article to be exactly as we represent. Here, when we say bargains it is so. That somebody loses money is certain. Sometimes it is the manufacturer, again some big retail concern, and at times we sacrifice our profit. Our customers reap the benefit to matter who loses.

We cannot too strongly emphasize the opportunities here presented for the saving of money. Our prices average 25 to 50 per cent BELOW REGULAR PRICES

Sensational Bargains in Shoe, Clothing, Dry Goods, Groceries, Hats, Hardware and Furniture. Just received a new lot of the Old Reliable, best of all American Fence at lower prices than ever sold for in Rockcastle County. Now is the time to buy your Fence.

SPECIAL Bargains in Shoes

Only a few days ago a big Shoe House in Toledo, Ohio, failed—their entire stock was sold by order of the Courts. We were fortunate enough to get about 4,000 pairs of Men's, Ladies', Boys', Misses' and Children's Shoes and Oxfords that come from the best manufacturers in the whole country—AT OUR OWN PRICE. We propose to allow our customers to reap the benefits of this remarkable purchase.

We shall turn them loose for spot cash only

Our prices all through our big line will open your eyes. We are practical Retail men. We know BARGAINS are what you want—and, By George, we are going to see that you get 'em.

Southern Appalachian Good Roads Association

President's Office, Chapel Hill, N. C.

CONVENTION OFFICE, BRISTOL, VA. TENN., August 24, 1914. MR. JAS. MARBY, Ass't Sec'y, Bristol Lexington Highway Ass'n, Mt. Vernon, Ky.

Dear Sir: The Southern Appalachian Good Roads Association will hold its Sixth Annual Convention at Bristol, Va. Tenn., October 9, and the Bristol Board of Trade will join the Association in an effort to make this the greatest Convention the Association has ever held.

I have with myself a confidential invitation to attend the Convention as a delegate, and I will be glad to represent your organization at the Convention.

I know you will select men to be able to attend, and I want to ask that you notify them of their respective reports to Bristol in time. We will also notify them as soon as regarding their names and addresses from you.

The Association is not only doing a great work in encouraging the construction and maintenance of improved roads in the Southern Appalachian Territory, but is also encouraging and prompting the construction of great Interstate Highways throughout the States of the Southeast and reaching other sections of the country.

The Convention will be educational as well as entertaining. Some of the best equipped men in the country on the question of location, construction and maintenance of roads, Federal and State aid, and the progress of the road movement will be reported from all sections of the Southeast. Literature and program giving further information will be sent all delegates.

We fully realize that the country without good roads is a dead one, and we want to help make every community in the Southeast a live one. Will you not come and bring a few other live representatives to the Convention? Ladies are cordially invited and can be appointed as delegates.

Yours very truly, JOSEPH HYPER PRATT, President.

Cashier W. L. Richards, who recently bought the flat property on West Main has very recently changed the building and many additions and improvements. Mr. Richards expects to move to the property next week.

LANGDON MEMORIAL SCHOOL

Fall Term of Langdon Memorial School will begin Monday, September 14th. Students unless otherwise notified, will arrive on Saturday the 21st of September. High school girls are expected on September 30th. We are glad to announce that Miss Clark, Miss Martinou, Miss Cathey and Miss Carson are to be with us again. These teachers need no introduction or recommendation to the patrons of the school and the people of Mt. Vernon. Miss Anna Belle Stewart has been secured to take the place of grade teacher made vacant by Miss Bradley's acceptance of work in the High School. Miss Stewart has had a wide and successful experience, and is recommended to the highest terms by the Principal of the school she is leaving to come to us. Miss Ream and Miss Grisson we regret to say, will not return this year. Miss Ream has taken a position as Domestic Science teacher in her home town, and Miss Grisson has accepted a position where she will have more piano and less child work. We appreciate the labors and efficient work done in both schools by these two teachers. Our best wishes follow them to their new fields of labor. Miss Martinou will take charge of the Domestic Science work and Miss Carson will again be House Matron. Miss Florence Brown, who has been so highly recommended to us both as a musician and teacher has been engaged as music teacher. Miss Amy Coulson, a classmate of Miss Robertson, will be the Kindergarten teacher. We hope for those new teachers the cordial reception and cooperation which the people of Mt. Vernon have always given to our teachers. Miss Rowley and Miss Bradley, High School teachers, will live at the dormitory and co-operate with the faculty in the care of the girls especially in the High School girls. We expect to see many of the old students back, ready for work as well as several new ones. Miss McCord, the Principal, regrets that illness necessitated lengthening her vacation. She expects to reach Mt. Vernon September 4th and will then complete the list of accepted students, and be ready to accept applications or give such information as is desired. All applications should be in by Sept. 7th. George Owens, the picture show man, very graciously cut his show out during the revival at the Christian church. The fact upon the part of Mr. Owens, should be appreciated by all classes, and time only will tell the story. Quite a tragedy was narrowly averted at London on Friday the last day of the London fair when Johnny Green, the aviator who was engaged to make flights in his aeroplane, fell to the ground from a height of about 80 feet. He suffered a fracture of several ribs, and his face was badly cut and bruised but luckily, his injuries were not more serious. His machine is said to have been splintered to kindling wood. A large crowd of spectators who saw the accident almost had heart failure, it is said. On account of the inclement weather conditions, Green did not try to make a flight until the last day of the fair. He was picked up and removed to a hotel at London where he is being given a medical attention.

A NEW LAND COMPANY RECENTLY ORGANIZED

To Subdivide a Beautiful Tract of 30,000 Acres in Southern California, Lying Close to Los Angeles. Mr. William Hicks of Hyde Park, Los Angeles is at the head of the project, and other members of the company are to be congratulated in their association with the successful expert, and engaging him as a manager of their company. This announcement means much for Fremont Valley, for Mr. Hicks is among those successful men who has achieved success in the land developing business in Southern California, and who never has been known to give up the best until it has been completed to everybody's satisfaction. The company controls some 30,000 acres of California best soil, and which has abundant water for every acre for irrigation. Fremont Valley is located almost in the suburbs of Los Angeles on the S. P. Railway, and is entirely surrounded by mountains. The mountain valley climate is ideal for raising nearly everything grown in the Golden State. Mr. Hicks is an enthusiastic Southern California man and says there is no place in Southern California where the opportunities are so great and so assured as in Fremont Valley. "I have spent eight years in California investigating and said Mr. Hicks in discussing his new venture, I can faithfully say after seeing all the others that Fremont Valley beats them all. I expect to develop a good town site, and an irrigation water system, and build up every section of the entire valley. There is room for a lot of good people in Fremont Valley, and I intend to put them there as quickly as possible, and I believe I am able to place before my friends an opportunity which they never had before." If your child is pale and sickly, picks at the nose, starts in the sleep and grinds the teeth while sleeping, it is a sure sign of worms. NOTICE How many husbands have died in your community in the last year and are forever gone from the good wife and little ones, they being left to battle life's busy way alone. I want you to think and think soberly and see if you can't find some one about a next door neighbor to you. Oh, if we could only prevail on your husbands in some way not to neglect so great an opportunity of protecting their young wife and little ones, then when the death angel comes and demands of you your life think what a satisfaction it will be to you in your last moments to say, well, I have made the necessary preparation to meet you—I have a policy in the Commonwealth Life, of Louisville, which will take care of you and the children in my absence. THE SUIT OF WILL CUMMINS FOR $5000 AGAINST THE W. J. SPARKS CO. was thrown out of court Friday. Cummins got his best look while working in the quarry. The crowd has been so large at the Christian Church Revival that they have decided to rent a large tent to take care of the crowds. The tent is expected to arrive in time to use Sunday or Monday and will be stretched on the lot of McKenzie and Durham on Richmond street. The preaching of Rev. Ross Miller is drawing large and ever increasing crowds to hear each and every service. The music is one of the interesting features and besides being able to do the preaching, Rev. Miller can do the singing. Those who have not been present during the week should not miss another night. You will be interested from the first to last. BIG DEAL PROCEEDS—Every indication points that the big land deal will be a go, although there have been considerable changes. The mineral rights for 100,000 acres or more asked for has been entirely discarded and nothing but fee simple titles will be accepted. The amount asked for is 100,000 acres and it is estimated that the required number of acres will be secured by the first of next week at which time the Eastern parties interested will return to Mt. Vernon and the deal will be a go or a failure. The price paid does not exceed $8 per acre for the land and those whose lands are wanted and who intend to sell, should do so at once. The failure of the proposition will only be brought about by the inability to secure the required number of acres. It might be well for us to say that the price not to exceed $8.00 is the established price and for any one to hold back for more money will result in many falling to sell for any price after the required number have been secured. The next week we fully believe that we will be able to make a definite statement of the situation and that it will be a most satisfactory one to the people of Rockcastle.
