Squire Lee Arnold, of Livingston, will no doubt have several entries at the proposed poultry show at Mt. Vernon in 1915.

George Peas, employed by the W. J. Sparks Co., at Sparks Quarry was run over by one of the rock cars and killed Tuesday. He leaves a wife and six children.

The General Association of Kentucky Baptists will convene in annual session in Somerset November 9th to 13th. Arrangements are being made to entertain from 3.0 to 5.0 delegates.

G. C. Fish of the "Willows" near Buckeye church, planted an experimental acre with white Dent seed corn and raised 80 bushels. Had there been no drought conditions 120 bushels would have been made.

F. L. Durban has contracted with Proctor & McKenzie, who will begin work on his new hotel on lot corner of Richmond Street and Lovell Lane. Building will be ready for occupancy by Xmas.

IMPORTANT: Who will be the first Rockcastle teacher to get on a moonlight school? The one I will be only to glad to have reports of results of such schools. They have been surprisingly successful in other counties and there is no reason why this county should lag behind in this good work.

Mrs. Weber ordered Hubbard squash seeds from Chattanooga, which she had Judge Lewis to plant in his garden and from which grew a fine crop of crooked neck gourds. Some one intimates their suspicion that the judge changed the seed before planting as he is a great buyer of gourds as every one knows.

Miss Eva Skidmore, the 20 year old daughter of James Skidmore, of Highland, Lincoln county, was burned to death when a coal oil can from which she was pouring oil upon a fire which she was making at the home of Judge Lewis' Walker in Lancaster Monday morning, exploded and set her on fire.

The Mt. Vernon Commercial Club promises some interesting things during the year 1915. Probably the first in line will be the Poultry Show, in which many prizes will be awarded for the best of the various strains and breeds of chickens, ducks, geese, turkeys, guineas and peafowls raised in Rockcastle. The date has not been fully decided after the matter is duly considered as to the best time, due notice will be given along with a catalog as to what the prizes will be for all the various entries. By having this shows yearly it is believed that a greater interest will be taken in the raising of poultry in our county and all who desire it can gain wide information on the subject as it is proposed to have experts to lecture and discuss fully the poultry question during the exhibition and distribute valuable literature bearing on the subject. Poultry raisers should make preparations to be ready with their exhibits by the time the show opens.

Mr. Jack Lewis, who has been located in Danville for some time past, having a position with the C. N. O. & T. P. Railroad, had a very narrow escape from death last night. He was called and went out yesterday afternoon on a regular run. An Alpine 3000 Lbs. fell from the top of the box car, breaking one of his legs and several ribs. The train was traveling at a good rate of speed and Mr. Lewis' escape from death is miraculous. Some of the train crew saw Mr. Lewis when he fell and the train was hurriedly brought to a stop. The injured man was rushed to Somerset, where he received medical attention. The latest reports were of a favorable nature, but it was feared that the unfortunate man might be compelled to have his leg amputated.—Danville Advocate.

Mr. Lewis is a son of William Lewis of this county, who is now at his bedside in Somerset. We advise that no surgical operation will be required and that the patient is getting along as well as could be expected.

All you who have torpid liver, weak (vigil) or constipated bowels look out for chills. This is a sore and the air is full of the disease germs. The best thing to do is to get your liver in good condition and purify the stomach and bowels. HERRINE is the right remedy, it answers the purpose completely. Price 50c. Sold by John Robins, Brodhead, Ky.

Our good friend, Mr. G. C. Fish remembered us with a choice production from his fine Lattelle pear crop. It is certainly a beauty and like the one sent us by Mr. E. Bullock, needs to lay up for a short while and then ready for eating. Mr. Fish is another one of those successful Rockcastle farmers, who always tries to have the best and a view to his country home is evidence that his efforts are not in vain.

Another one of the Commerce Club's propositions is to hold a Corn Show next year in Mt. Vernon, in which a large number of prizes or premiums will be given on various grades of corn, wheat, rye, oats, millet, barley, buckwheat, sorghum cane, etc. Probably at the same time will be shown and prizes awarded on vegetables and fruits, etc. There will be something doing all the time in these dignities.

The store of J. A. Oliver, the Livingston merchant, burned Wednesday morning about 6 o'clock, entailing a total loss of building and stock. Mr. Oliver's loss is close to $7500 and not a dollar of insurance. His insurance expired in September and in account of the high rate did not renew. Only by a splendid work was the burned building able to save the handsome Masonic lodge building. Mr. Oliver has occupied in one of the rooms in the Masonic building and will start again.

The judging of the corn in Fish's window will be done on Wednesday, November 11th at 1 o'clock in front of their store. The judge will be Mr. R. A. Oze, of Greencastle, Ind. who is an expert in this line. A prize of $2 in merchandise will be given for the best white ear and another prize of $1 in merchandise will be given for the best mixed ear.

The court house was crowded Monday by people of every political faith. It heard Gov. Beckham who confidently believes that he will be elected United States Senator next Tuesday by a majority, not less than 20,000. He made a strong convincing argument and we believe the effects of his strong appeal will be felt on next Tuesday.

MARTIN-BARRETT

Mr. Ivan Hill Martin, of Lynchburg, and Miss Roberta Barrett, of Amherst County, were united in marriage yesterday evening at 6 o'clock at the rectory of St. Johns Episcopal church on Woodland avenue, the Rev. G. A. Floyd Rogers officiating. On account of the recent disagreement in the bride's family the marriage was very quiet, only relatives being present. The bride is the attractive daughter of Mrs. Marshall J. Barrett, of Amherst County. Mr. Martin is well known in Lynchburg, being employed at the Lynchburg National Bank. After a short trip they will reside at 618, Church Street, Lynchburg Va. Mr. Martin is a son of Mr. and Mrs. S. H. Martin of this city and has made good in Lynchburg. The Signal joins with many friends in this county in extending congratulations.

The Rockcastle County Farmers' Institute will be held here Tuesday and Wednesday, Nov. 10th and 11th. The court house will be the scene of the Dept. of Agriculture, Kentucky, Extension Department of College of Agriculture and the United States Department of Agriculture are co-operating in this work and some of the best lecturers in this line of work that can be found will be here. Practical instructions will be given to fruit growing, soil building, grain raising, live stock and poultry raising, home economics and other farm subjects. The following instructors will address the Institute: C. C. Clayton, Louisville; R. A. Oze, of Indiana; L. D. Slade, Experimental Station, Lexington; M. Douglas, of Indiana, and Mrs. R. A. Oze, of Greencastle, Ind. Tickets are as usual local price. Remember the date and the place. At Brodhead, Monday and Tuesday, and at Mt. Vernon, Wednesday.

The interest displayed over the corn show, which was started by Elisha (Tub) Bullock, bringing in 1 1/2 in. ear of corn to Fish's store and placing it in their show window, is great. This week it has simply in mind some of the best corn ever seen in the county. The gentlemanly promoters have generously emptied their big show windows of all goods, and given them over to the display of only one fine corn but great big pumpkins weighing close up to 100 pounds each, turnips of 5 pounds each, biggest egg plant ever seen here (fact is not more than a tenth of us ever saw a small one or a big one either), a 35-pound cureshaw (usually pronounced "cush"), a Virginia nest eggger, a string of mammoth goobur peas, pindars or peanuts, an egg laid by the youngest hen, pop corn and pumpkins raised by Old Cull "over on the farm," corn. If inches in length, white, yellow, red and mixed corn, a 12-inch cucumber. There has been no samples of blue corn brought in. White Dent, Johnson county and Black-burn varieties of seed corn predominate. It is quite an interesting exhibit and will pay any one to come a distance to see. A folder describing in the exhibits and names of the exhibitors will be given soon, along with the name of place where the seed was secured for their production. This of itself will be valuable information to planters. All the merchants, professional and business men of town are pleased and interested in this exhibition. More samples are added daily. Bring yours in.

WE WISH TO THANK the people of Brodhead, who have so generously and sympathetically assisted and attended to the many wants during the sickness, and have so kindly helped us at the death of our beloved wife and mother. J. W. PROCTOR and children.

The Clayton Bill.
The Clayton Bill, among other things, the relation of labor organizations to the anti-trust laws, and correcting the same so that labor can no longer be considered a commodity or property, and the regulation of the issuance of injunctions, and guaranteeing of the right of trial by jury for alleged contents committed out of the presence of the court.

The Department of Labor Bill. This Democratic administration of necessity further recognized the dignity and importance of labor by creating the Department of Labor, with a Secretary who is a member of the President's Cabinet, thus dignifying labor as furnishing an opportunity of protection and advancement by having a representative in close touch with the President.

In addition to these few prominent measures, which I have mentioned, there are numerous others which this administration has enacted into law having for their purpose the protection of labor, demonstrating conclusively that the Democratic party is the friend of labor and that its platform declarations on this subject were not mere "vote catchers," but sincere convictions promptly adopted, as soon as it came into power, and the aid and relief so long denied by the Republican party cheerfully acknowledged to the great masses of the people.

The Federal Reserve Act.
The law known as the Federal Reserve Banking Act stands out as possibly the most important to the country than even the passage of the downward revised tariff bill. Certainly no nation has ever had such a vision, the unwavering and unquenchable courage of our great President more than the message of this marvelous piece of legislation. It is perhaps best that the country should never know of the difficulties and the difficulties placed in the way of this bill, from many apparently unrelated sources, which will now, at last, have an elastic currency, instead of having the wealth of the nation congested in one section, it will be spread over the remotest parts of our country, and be available for the legitimate business needs of every section of our country.

It is safe to say that the country will never again experience the appalling, and in many instances, ruinous effects of a nation-wide panic, with its desolation and paralysis to the business interests of the nation in addition to the incalculable blessing to the country at large, this act is especially helpful to agriculture.

For the farmer. National banks are permitted to make loans on farm lands and to redempt the farmers upon their agricultural products. This Democratic act of $500,000,000 available for the promotion of agriculture. No less than a trifling of the money administration measure, was the Government aid to the crop movement at a critical time. The amount of the Treasury placed $10,000,000 of Government funds in the hands of the farmer, where most needed for crop raising and for the purpose. Previously this money was idle in the Treasury as a reserve fund, or deposited in the big banks, but it is now loaned to the farmer upon reasonable rates upon good agricultural securities.

The Anti-Trust Measure.
The Trades Commission and Clayton bills recently enacted supplement and elucidate the Sherman Anti-Trust Law and correct the many defects and contradictions by both big and little business and place a ban on private monopoly.

The Issues Stated.
The electorate of Kentucky will be called upon at the ensuing November election to select two United States Senators, and a Representative from the great State of the eleven Congressional Districts in the State. This important question and paramount issue is not so much the personnel of the candidates for these offices, as it is whether the people will give Woodrow Wilson and the Democratic administration the endorsement by electing Democrats to assist and support in the hands of the President in further carrying out his great program of constructive legislation so that the people may be in behalf of the American People; whether they will rebuke him by electing the Republican or the Democratic candidates to criticize, to thwart, and to condemn. If possible, every Democratic measure and law turn back the hands of progress.

The Importance of Governor Beckham's Election.
And in this connection, I want to say that relatively the election of Governor Beckham is vastly more important to Kentucky and to the Democratic Party, than my own. If elected my term can only be until March 1, 1915, while Governor Beckham is for six years. He and Senator James will continue throughout the term of the President, and with the able and patriotic Democratic delegation representing Kentucky in the House of Representatives (and I want to say to you here that they are the only delegation representing any State of the Union) will assist in carrying out the program of constructive legislation, as mapped out by our own President, embracing many laws and measures, in order to insure that passage but needs have a safe working majority in both Houses.

W. J. Bryan and Moonlight Schools
This is not the time for party differences and dissensions. There must be a disunity of all the ranks all along the line and a solid front presented to the common enemy. Democracy is not the accident. Democracy must be re-asserted in its own march to complete victory. The issues are simple and clear. Woodrow Wilson is one of the clearest, ablest and most humanely constructive Presidents that ever filled the office. We need a re-assertion. Now that the people, the plain people, have at last come into their own, and have taken the reins of the government, will you vote to have the Democratic Party, the party of the people, have a safe working majority in both Houses?

A Chicago Special of Oct. 27th.
to Louisville Times Journal says: Mrs. Clara Wilson Stewart, president of the Kentucky State Commission, announced here tonight that she had enlisted the cooperation of Secretary of State Bryan in Kentucky's fight against illiteracy. Mrs. Wilson, who has been in Minnesota to the interest of her anti-illiteracy propaganda, was for a time a traveling companion of Mr. Bryan, who has been touring the same State in behalf of the Democratic ticket.

It ALWAYS DOES THE WORK
I like Chamberlain's Cough Remedy better than any other," writes E. E. Roberts, Home City, Pa. "I have taken it off and on for years, and it has cured me of every cough I have ever had."

Just-what-you-need Coats for Women

Every woman looks forward with great interest to the new styles in separate coats.

This year they are more attractive than ever. Made in warm, heavy, but not cumbersome materials, some rough, some smooth; in a variety of plain colors, in gipsy plaids and checks—they are truly delightful.

The model illustrated at the right is a splendid example of the season's newest designs in separate coats. Its snug-fitting collar is almost airtight. Note the cuff effect and the smart flare which waits in the front by a half belt. Isn't it just the coat for cold, blustery days?

Another one that is already very popular is of boucle. Its extreme simplicity of cut makes it ideal for everyday wear, but it would be almost impossible to find a coat of better lines or smarter cut.

Many others just as interesting and attractive are now on display. Your wardrobe is hardly complete without one of them. They're just what you need. Inexpensively priced, too.

Proctor, 60, died at her home Monday night of last week, after a lingering illness of several months. She was a devout member of Brodhead Christian church and a noble woman. She realized for many weeks that she could not recover, and told her husband, children and friends that she was prepared for the final summons, and while she realized that it was impossible for many of the people of Brodhead to accompany her remains to Providence, near her old home and where she requested to be buried, she asked that they go to the end of the concrete walk in that direction, and accordingly a large number, together with all the school children, responded. About twenty or probably more accompanied the remains to Providence, where the Rev. D. Edgar Allen held funeral services. Moonlight Schools.

A lengthy article in the Louisville Evening Post on the subject of Moonlight Schools and literates says:

That they can be educated is shown by the experience of Mrs. Cora Wilson Stewart, of Morehead. Rowan county is that direction. She was raised in that county, educated at the public schools, and showing unusual ability and ambition, was taken by the Baptists and sent away to complete her education which she did, and then returned to Morehead strongly imbued with the idea that she could educate the literates in her own county and succeeded to study the conditions carefully.

As she was the Superintendent of Schools in Rowan county, she outlined her plans to the teachers in that county and called for volunteers, and all of them responded, and a systematic canvass of the homes of the people was made in September, 1911, and her plans explained to the people.

The Moonlight School

Briefly, she proposed to organize night schools, but as the roads were poor, often impassable, and the distances great, she could only have her classes on bright nights, and thus they were soon called moonlight schools.

Primarily, they were organized for the adults, and in the beginning she found many of them, while anxious to learn, shy and unwilling to acknowledge their ignorance before their neighbors.

The census of 1910 showed that there were 1,150 adult literates in Rowan county, and many fathers and mothers came to her on Saturday and Sundays from miles around to get her to read to their children that they had received from absent members of their families, and to write for them their answers, so that that she soon had a class of adults who came to her secretly to be taught to read and write; during the first year she had 1,200 students enrolled in these moonlight schools, and there are now 200,000 of our adult citizens enrolled in these schools of our cities.

What This County Shows.

The results are simply astounding.

In Rowan county the number of adult literates has been reduced from 1,150 in 1910 to only twenty-three at the present time.

Mrs. Stewart has appeared before our State Legislature and before a meeting in Nashville, Tenn. of the Southern Educational Association, at which latter meeting she was listened to by P. P. O'Brien, National Commissioner of Education, who became so enthusiastic over her work that he has incorporated a result of it in his Bulletin No. 20, above referred to. The rapidity with which some of these adults learn to read and write is astonishing.

One man, aged thirty, after four lessons in the school, wrote the superintendent a legible letter.

Another man, aged fifty, wrote a legible letter after seven nights attendance.

A woman, aged seventy, wrote a legible letter after eight nights study.

The Forward Movement.

In June of the present year Mrs. Stewart found herself in Louisville, full of enthusiasm for the continuance of her work, but with no money behind her to equip her schools. She appeared before a body of women, who ascertained the true situation, and after consideration authorized her to go ahead with her organization, and they would in turn put into operation a movement during the fall which would spread abroad a knowledge of the true conditions, and they thereby hoped to secure the funds to equip the schools until the Legislature was again in session.

The work of these ladies is known as "The Forward Movement," and their slogan are:

"Let everybody who can read and write help everybody who cannot," and "Educate the man for the sake of the State; educate the mother for the sake of the child."

These ladies have an active campaign laid out for the week from Sunday, November 15, to Sunday, November 22, and it is their hope to interest this entire community in this work; they will not solicit contributions, but they do want and ask for voluntary contributions.

What has been done in Rowan county can be done in every county of the State, and the question that is up to us is, "How are we going to aid this forward movement?"

WHAT WOULD YOU DO?

There are many times when one man questions another's actions and motives. Men act differently under different circumstances. The question is, what would you do right now if you had a severe cold? Could you do better than to take Chamberlain's Cough Remedy? It is highly recommended by people who have used it for years and knows its value. Mrs. O. W. Sargent, Fern, Ind., says, "Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is worth its weight in gold and I take pleasure in recommending it." For sale by all dealers.
