MUST NOW AWAIT A FOREIGN SUGGESTION

Uncle Sam Can Go No Further As Peace Maker.

London, Nov. 14.—The agitation in the newspapers of Holland for intervention by the queen of the Netherlands and the president of the United States is increasing, but it has not as yet evoked any comment here.

Washington, Nov. 13.—There is no indication of a movement for intervention in the European war by the Washington government or another tender of its good offices as peacemaker. Both President Wilson and Secretary Bryan have said to callers that until there was an intimation from one of the belligerents that the good offices of the United States as peacemaker was desired no further move looking to peace would be made by the president.

The president said there could be no further step in the way of offering mediation without the risk of incurring the displeasure of certain of the powers interested in the efforts of the United States to achieve peace when the time comes to act. The president will wait for a suggestion from one of the belligerents that mediation is desired. The United States, through the president in a formal as well as in an informal way, has made the leader of its good offices for mediation. The president's attitude is well understood by the belligerents.

HAS NOTHING TO GIVE OUT

State Department Considers Latin American Incident Closed.

Washington, Nov. 13.—Though he has not received any replies from the American diplomatic representatives in Ecuador and Colombia who he instructed to "investigate" charges that the neutrality of those countries was not being preserved with sufficient strictness, Secretary Bryan has announced that the incident might be considered closed.

Mr. Bryan said there had been no communication about the matter to the state department's action in the matter that he would discuss the subject further in session of the department's inquiries will not be made public through him.

Wants a Change of Venue.

Anderson, Ind., Nov. 13.—Loring W. Mellett, an attorney of Indianapolis, has asked for a change of venue in a case in which he is accused of embezzlement. Mellett's trial was to have been held in the circuit court here. He is under a bond of $2,500.

Russians are reported to be disappointed because the allies have not driven the Germans out of France and Belgium and because England and France have not put larger armies in the field.

DEPENDENCY DUE TO INDIGESTION.

It is not all surprising that persons who have indigestion become discouraged and dependent. Here is a testimonial from a man who cheer for them by Mrs. Blanche Bowers, Indiana, Pa. "For years my digestion was so poor that I could not eat the best of food. I tried everything that I heard of to get relief, but not until about a year ago when I saw Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and got a bottle of it. I tried the right treatment. I soon began to improve and sleep, taking a few bottles of it, my digestion is fine." For sale by all dealers.

Dealers Wanted

It is time that "We the people of the Commonwealth of Kentucky" were beginning to open our eyes to the opportunities that are being offered to us. There is a large number of us especially in the mountains of Kentucky who have not wakened up. Most of us are ready to go crazy over patent and patent medicines. I believe we should be acquainted to enough to elect good men to office but not get so badly carried off as to neglect other things which are equally as important.

The State Board of Health is making a great effort to save people from dying from preventable diseases such as consumption and typhoid. There were over 4000 people died in Kentucky in 1913 from consumption, an average of 15 people per day. Taking away young fathers and mothers in the prime of life leaving destitute widows and orphans to be cared for by charity.

The State Board of Health provides Local Registrars in each voting precinct whose duty it is to report all births and deaths. If any one thinks they have consumption they should go to the Local Registrar who will free of charge furnish containers which can be sent by mail a specimen of the discharges from throat and lungs. This will be examined free and if the person has this disease in the first stage they can be treated with very little expense and most always cured and also save the other members of the family from infection Typhoid as most every one knows is a germ disease. In 1913 there were 954 persons died with typhoid or about three people per day. Each case cost on an average of $175 total cost $166,955 in valuable lives. To take typhoid you must swallow some of the discharges from the bowels or kidneys; the germs are generally carried by flies or water. After all most people go on not heeding these all important things.

Next to help us along the line of agriculture and stock and fruit raising. The Government pays a farm demonstrator to come at the farmers call and help him in many ways but very few people seem to appreciate this offer.

If a hole should come in our pocket and we should hear a dime fall on the ground we would stop and pick it up, but will let our eye wander with a dog during the summer and not make an effort to save it.

The U. S. Government and the state Department of Agriculture have hundreds of free bulletins which contain lots of valuable information and they are anxious to send them out but if they don't have our names they can't send them.

Prof. Smith of Richmond who has a fruit farm near Conway, Ky. offered enough fruit trees to set an acre around each school house in this county if the district would furnish the ground. There was not a school applied for the trees. Now that offer is withdrawn and the opportunity is lost. Next the State stands ready to put a dollar on our county roads every year we put one on. Now if we are not careful this proposition will be withdrawn before we take advantage of it.

The rural schools, county High Schools, State Normals, Teachers and Board of Education are standing with out stretched arms pleading for people to be educated free still our children are growing up in ignorance. Last year not least are the churches and preachers pleading for people to give their hearts to God, yet a great many are blind to this all important thing by going on in wickedness and dying in their sins. I trust that people will begin to think about those things and not let all these great opportunities pass us headed.

Your friend,
SHERMAN CHASTEN,
IMPROFANT.

Delightfully becoming colors—effective weaves

are descriptive of the new Fall styles. The colors are soft and subdued, and most often the dark tones of blue, brown, grey and green. And because the blue tones lead, black is especially good.

The materials include many beautiful and unique mixtures, some smooth in finish, some rough—checks and plaids, zibelines, wool ratine and wool crepe, soft broadcloths and velvets, daveynes, wonderful plush and fur fabrics. Many of the smartest models are finished with cord and tassel ornaments. Fur bands and edgings form a much-to-be-desired trimming for many a coat and suit.

All these materials and colors are well represented in our Bischof line of coats and suits. Come in and examine the new materials, how delightfully soft and yet how warm they are, what practical winter garments they make. If you have heretofore found it difficult to secure a becoming color, let us prove to you that this season's colors are exceptionally easy to wear.

Don't put off getting your new winter clothes until the styles begin to get old. Lead the style instead of following it.

Boone Way Campaign in South East Kentucky.

R. E. Wood, of the Kentucky Good Roads Association, accompanied by James Mallet, the original Boone Way booster of this place, left here Tuesday to push the campaign in South East Kentucky. Tuesday night they met with the Commercial Club at London and had speaking at the court house Wednesday. There were good listeners present at both meetings, among them were E. A. Polford, T. J. Mott, W. H. Foyner, H. V. Pennington, R. Boyd, E. W. Hackney, Clarence J. Siple, W. R. Hackney, W. C. Kehr, J. B. Eberlein, Judge Brown and J. W. Felner, who gladly joined the State Good Roads Association and enlisted in the fight to push Laurel to the front in the work of constructing Boone Way through the county. The membership is expected to be increased to forty working boosters. They intend to prosecute a campaign throughout the county had the Fiscal Court take action in the matter similar to that of the Rockcastle Magistrates.

The campaigners held a meeting with the Corbin Commercial Club Wednesday night, with the gospel of good roads and the manner of securing state aid was delivered and described to eager and attentive listeners. Ten of the progressive citizens joined the Association whose mission was explained to be an organization with headquarters at Louisville whose aim and purpose was the dissemination of information to all the counties of the state on the subject of state aid and its manner of working. The list of the Corbin live wires who cast their lot with the Kentucky Good Road Association and the Boone Way Boosters, are as follows: Dr. J. H. Parker, B. J. Edwards, James Downing, James T. Nelson, W. H. Chandler, T. J. Bylard, L. J. Bryant, Chas. E. Nelson, L. N. Ballard and E. L. Skinner. Many more will add their names to the roster. Everybody in Corbin has taken the road fever. Mr. Woods in his talks, explained that there were three ways in which state aid can be secured: By either a bond issue, taxation or private subscription, or by a combination of two or all three of the plans. He further stated that when the money was placed in the hands of the Fiscal Court the state will advance an equal amount as put up by the county no matter in what manner the count raises the funds. No county, however can receive more than 2 per cent of the state road fund, or by a combination of two in the neighborhood of $12,000 and the same amount each following year. It is calculated that the 5 cent tax levied by the late act of the legislature will be $600,000 per year. The state furnishes engineers to survey and locate roads, make plans and estimates without cost to the counties. Where a county does not take advantage of opportunity to secure this state aid the 5 cent tax it pays into the state road fund will be used to assist in building roads in those counties which make application and meet the conditions of the road law. These roads are let out by contract and bonds are required of contractors. The connection is under the supervision of the state, and everything connected therewith must be properly carried out by contractors thereby saving first class roads. Jefferson county will pay into the state road fund $120,000 per year and can only draw out $12,000, so it is seen the richer counties will aid the less fortunate portions of the State.

The Corbin boosters are working on the plan of having Boone Way deflected from the Camp Ground route and brought thru this place from London, thence on to Grays and Barboursville. They put up the strong argument that the road is already graded from London to Corbin over the abandoned road of the R. & N. which runs except crossing three miles. It is a magnificent grade six miles of which is daily use by the traveling public; other miles could be used if some open culverts were bridged. All that it lacks is the construction of one or two bridges, macadamizing, and the grading of the three miles mentioned, to have a first-class highway between the points mentioned. Some of the grading cost the railroad company at the rate of $10,000 a mile.

The campaign workers will be at Barboursville, Friday and Friday night, speak at Pineville, 1 p.m., Saturday and Middlesboro at 7 p.m., same day.

The enthusiasm shown by the people along Boone Way route is most gratifying to the workers and to the Kentucky Good Roads Association. Boone Way maps and literature were distributed along the route. W. H. Pygater and E. A. Polford, of London, are enthusiastic boosters.

Among the live wires at Corbin is J. J. Price, Dr. I. H. Parker and James Downing. The whole bunch for that matter are right onto the job.

COMMISSIONER TERRELL

Promises State Aid To Boone Way.

Frankfort, Ky., Nov. 25, 1914. Mr. E. R. Gentry, Mt. Vernon, Ky., Dear Sir:

A special meeting of the Fiscal Court will not be necessary, under the fiscal Court can make an order at the next meeting, saying that they can make dollar for dollar the state fund in order that the appropriation may be made.

This will not preclude the county from receiving private subscriptions to assist in meeting this appropriation from the state.

Am glad to note you had a splendid meeting and that you are pushing the work in Rockcastle county. An engineer will be sent to make an estimate as soon as possible. Yours truly, ROBERT C. TERRELL, Commissioner of Public Roads.

AN OCEAN OF BUSINESS

Lawyer's View of Trial of Christ

[From Kentucky Post.]
Commonwealth Attorney R. G. Williams, of Kenton county, delivered an unusual address before the bible class of the First Christian Church, Covington, Sunday morning, on "The Trial of Christ From a Lawyer's Viewpoint." From start to finish the talk was intensely interesting and touched upon the illegal procedure in the trial of Christ from both the Roman and Hebrew laws of that time.

"Both civil and criminal trials from the earliest times have created a great interest," said Prosecutor Williams, "but of all the great trials of the past and present none has been so intensely interesting as the criminal trial of our Savior.

"The first question is, Was the trial of the Galilean peasant a legal one? Did it abide strictly by the requirements of the laws of that time? From what I have studied from the various historical readings, it did not. From start to finish it was illegal.

"The trial of Jesus was two-fold Hebrew and Roman, ecclesiastical and civil. The Hebrew trial took place between the Great Sanhedrin, consisting of 71 members. A majority of these could not convict, but could require. To convict it always required two more than a majority. In those days there was no State Attorney, nor was there any such body as a modern grand jury. The witnesses were the only prosecutors recognized by the Hebrew law and for criminal cases they were the executors as well.

JESUS ARRESTED.
"Jesus was arrested at midnight April 6, 90 A.D., without warrant or a charge.

"Although the Hebrew law expressly forbids a criminal trial being held at night, the violation of this law, the Supreme Court of the Jews assembled at 9 o'clock in the morning, on April 7, to try Jesus, at which time he was convicted, and sentenced to death. At daybreak on the same morning the court assembled to retry Him, and to determine how it could be brought before Pilate. Within an hour thereafter He was dead before the Roman Governor, Pontius Pilate, for trial under the civil law on the charge of high treason against Caesar. The trial resulted in a verdict of acquittal but instead of releasing the prisoner as the law directed, he ordered Him taken before Herod, Tetrarch of Galilee, who, after another trial, during which the court mocked and brutalized the prisoner, finally sent Him back to the Roman Governor. Pilate announced that Herod had failed to find the prisoner guilty and reminded the people who were clamoring for the life of Jesus that he himself had acquitted Him. He then proposed to scourge the Nazarene and release Him. This offer was scornfully rejected by the Jews, who were demanding the crucifixion of Jesus. Although Pilate could find no fault in the man he yielded to the demands of the mob and ordered the prisoner crucified.

NO AUTHORITY TO TRY.
"Herod had no legal right to try Jesus, because he had already been tried and acquitted on the same charge. Former jeopardy could have been placed in bar of a further prosecution. Herod, therefore, had no jurisdiction to try the offense charged against Jesus. Nor did Pilate have a right to try Him again on that charge, for he had already tried Him and returned a verdict of not guilty, and as a Judge he had no right to put Him in jeopardy twice for the same offense.

"The trial was the most memorable act of injustice recorded in history. At every stage of the trial the prisoner conducted Himself, with that commanding dignity and majesty so well worthy of His origin, mission and destiny. His sublime deportment at times caused His Judges even to marvel. His friends and followers had deserted Him in His hour of greatest need. Single-handed and unaided, the Galilean peasant had bared His breast and brow to the combined authority, to the insults and outrages of both Jerusalem and Rome. Not a single word of defense was raised amid this tumultuous clamor, and not a tumult of protest, disturbed the mighty concord of anger.

"But before the final decree was executed Pilate resolved to apply a soothing salve to his bleeding conscience. He performed a ceremonial cleansing act. Calling for a basin of water, he washed his hands before the multitude saying: "I am innocent of the blood of this just person; see ye to it."

The following editorial is from Wednesday's Courier Journal

The proposed improvement in 'Home Way' from Crab Orchard to Cumberland Gap would provide an inlet for the roads now macadamized in the central counties, into an exceptionally picturesque section of the Kentucky mountains.

No little benefit to the counties through the improvement from the tourist travel - income.

The partly famous Bluegrass regions now offers the tourist the only extensive mileage of really good roads in the state. It is a section which has had improved roads for the better part of a century.

The limestone high-ways have both reflected and afforded the welfare of the great counties of which Fayette is the hub.

'Motorists in Kentucky, save in favorable weather in the summer and early autumn, are virtually limited to the central counties. These counties have been explored by nearly everyone who makes week-end tours.

The promoters of the improvement of Boone Way have inaugurated their missionary work at a time when the first intercounty system of good roads outside of the Bluegrass is yet to be made.

THE COUNTRY'S WAR AGAINST THE FOOT-AND-MOUTH DISEASE

Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture

Fourteen states have been quarantined by the United States government because of foot-and-mouth disease.

The disease is a highly contagious one, which is spread by the saliva of infected animals.

The foot-and-mouth disease affects particularly cattle, swine and sheep. It is characterized by sores in the mouth, which make swallowing painful and frequently cause the animals to refuse all food.

The disease advances rapidly, and the animals die within a few days. It is a very serious disease, and one which is highly contagious.

The greatest wheat area in the world's history will be planted for the 1915 harvest as a result of the European war, is the opinion of Charles M. Daugherty, statistical expert of Agriculture. In a report made public Tuesday Mr. Daugherty says:

"As a result of the war in Europe, a worldwide tendency exists to increase the acreage of wheat. Doubtless the most extensive area in the history of the world will be needed during the present autumn and coming spring. A prospective heavy demand for this important food grain by the importing countries of Western Europe is likely, if existing conditions favor, of giving extraordinary stimulus to sowings of both winter and spring varieties in the two great exporting countries of North America and to those sowings now being furnished under auspicious circumstances in British India.

"In the Southern Hemisphere sowing was completed before this war began, and the effect of economic conditions upon extension of area there will be manifest only in the spring and summer of 1915.

"In Europe, where ordinarily over one-half the world's wheat is produced, the indications are that all available labor resources, both manual and conscripting nations, will be utilized to the point of getting in full increased areas. In Italy, where wheat acreage is ordinarily second in extent to that of no State in Europe, excepting Russia, 1,000,000 acres, it is said, will be added to the crop."

"In the contending countries extraordinary efforts are being exerted to start sowing. The services of women and children are exempt from military service, refugees prisoners of war and soldiers temporarily relieved from the ranks are being utilized in the fields as occasions permit and require. Because of strained labor conditions and of the occupation of certain territory during seed time by contending troops, some local contractions of area seem inevitable. The reduction, however, is likely to be compensated by increased sowings in neutral sections.

"In Western Europe, particularly in England and France, the autumn sowings of wheat are somewhat in arrears, but as a large part of these countries is favored with a mild climate, making sowing operations possible at times during the entire winter, little anxiety is expressed over the present delay. Reports from Germany and other countries of Central Europe indicate that seeding operations have been carried on with activity."

Irregular bowel movements lead to chronic constipation and a constipated habit fills the system with impurities. HERBINE is a great bowel regulator. It purifies the system, vitalizes the blood and aids the digestive organs in fine vigorous condition. Price 50c. Sold by John Robins, Brodhead, Ky.
