

Graded School Notes

Prof. Wilson, principal at Livingston spent a day with us recently.

Mrs. BALLARKE—Dear mother, look up, lift your bowed head. I, too, have drunk of that bitter cup. I know the heart rending pangs of seeing the casket closed and from view the sweet face forever in this world. But then Jesus says: "In my fathers house are many mansions" and He has one there for you. Just beyond, little Geneva has found shelter before the storm of life came upon her, and she will there await your home coming.

Sixteen sad months have passed since my dear, Lucille was called away. Great is the loss that we sustain, but hope in heaven to meet again. Peaceful be they sleep their baby. Oh! how sweet to breath thy name. In life we loved you dearly; in death we cherish your memory. We often sit and think of you when we are all alone. For memory is the only thing that grief can't call its own. She is gone but not forgotten. Never shall her memory fade. Sweetest thoughts shall ever linger around the grove where she is laid. Seven months has passed and still we miss her. Friends may think the sorrow healed, little do they know the sorrow that lies within my heart concealed.

Mrs. NICELLY.

Sickly children need Wirth's "CUREX" VERMIFUGE. It not only destroys worms, if there be any, but it acts as a strengthening tonic in the stomach and bowels. Price 25c per bottle. Sold by John Robins, Brodhead, Ky.

IT ISN'T YOUR TOWN—ITS YOU

If you want to live in the kind of town you like you must first change your mind. You need not stir your clothes in a grid and stand on a long, long hike. You'll find only what you left behind. For there's nothing that's really new.

It's a knock at yourself when you knock your town, and it isn't your town it's you. Real towns are not made by men afraid. Let somebody else get ahead, when everyone works and nobody shirks. You can raise a town from the dead.

And if while you make your personal stake your neighbor can make one, too. Your town will be what you want to see. It isn't your town—it's YOU.

Deep-seated coughs that resist ordinary remedies require both external and internal treatment. If you buy a dollar bottle of BALLARKE'S BARK-ROSE SYRUP you get the two remedies you need for the price of one. There is a HECKER'S RED PEPPER POROUS PLASTER for the chest, free with each bottle. Sold by John Robins Brodhead, Ky.

A Really Good Boost

for a boy's bank account would be a ten-spot. It is a good plan to start the account of the youngsters and then let him build it up himself. Some boys take pleasure in saving—others in spending. It all depends how you start them off yourself. Suppose you open an account for your boy here? He will have guaranteed security and get a liberal interest as well.

JAMES MARET

Who Put Boone Way On the Map, Backed by the Mt. Vernon Commercial Club and Members of Boone Way Booster and Throughout the State.

OVER THE TRAIL

Of Daniel Boone And The "Old Wilderness Road"

BOOSTERS CAMPAIGN FOR BOONE WAY A BIG SUCCESS

South-Eastern Kentucky Wildly Enthusiastic THE HIGHWAY A SURE GO The Kentucky Good Roads Association Aiding the Movement.

MT. VERNON, December 4, 1914.

One of the most important campaigns ever put on in the good roads movement in south eastern Kentucky wound up its preliminary itinerary, over the proposed route of "Boone Way" from Crab Orchard to Cumberland Gap, at Middlesboro Saturday night under the charge of R. E. Woods, director of the Kentucky Good Roads Association, assisted by James Maret, of Mt. Vernon, who put "Boone Way" on the map, a highway to be constructed from Cumberland Gap to Crab Orchard. One week's tour over the route of the proposed location of this the greatest proposed highway between the North and the South eastern portions of our country, the connecting link, shows that each of the counties of Lincoln, Rockcastle, Laurel, Knox and Bell not only endorse the idea but propose to place themselves in the position to take advantage of the State aid proposition. Some of these counties propose a bond issue and claim that they will surely put it over. The bond issue appears to be the best and most logical way, but as mentioned, each county works out its own plan and plan for raising the necessary revenue to meet the state aid proposition. This campaign trip demonstrates the fact that the Boone Way is a go and nothing under the canopy of the heavens is going to prevent this connecting link being made over the "Old Wilderness Road," "Boone's Trail" and the "Trail of the Lonesome Pine." Membership in the Kentucky Good Roads Association was eagerly sought by business and professional men along the route when the purposes of that organization were explained, which are simply to instruct the various counties how to take advantage of the opportunity to get State aid and to go to work for better roads, schools and churches which quickly follow in the wake of improved highways. All the counties mentioned above are now enthusiastic on the road subject and their workers are in the fight with full determination of pushing Boone Way to Cumberland Gap. It is gratifying to note the great appreciation of south eastern Kentucky is expressing for the stand the Louisville papers are taking in this Boone Way movement not only by space given in their columns but cash donations in increasing the fund for paying expenses of publicity. The Courier Journal is especially commended for its great assistance and south eastern Kentucky is learning that Louisville, its papers and wholesale merchants are people with whom reciprocity should be practiced. ASG secretary of Boone Way at Mt. Vernon, who wholesale cities have contributed to postage or any other fund to promote the construction of this great highway. The records show Louisville only. Cincinnati and Knoxville furnished a big bunch of wind in way of promises for aiding the movement in exchange for the trade south Eastern Kentucky was giving these two cities. Not as much as one cent has either of these cities contributed to the postage or any other fund in putting this great highway movement before the country. The merchants and business men of the South Eastern part of our state are considering the question closely and no doubt will throw a good portion of their trade in that city which has given and will continue giving evidences that they appreciate the mountain trade and don't want to "hog" it all without some "reciprocity" as some other cities have done. The tour of the good roads men developed the fact that South Eastern Kentucky appreciates Louisville's efforts to assist in ever possible way in pushing the Boone Way thru and will not forget that city's traveling salesmen when coming thru this territory especially if they are wearing the "Boone Way Booster" button which they procure from the Secretary of Boone Way Booster Band, Mt. Vernon.

If you go into South Eastern Kentucky you should wear the button and boost Boone Way, "on to Cumberland Gap." Joe Bosworth and C. W. Metcalf the original good road men are still enthusiastic workers, they never surrender. They were present at the Bell county meetings and joined in the good work of pushing the good thing along toward the Gap.

The bluegrass cities have nothing over the mountain cities. A good number of the latter have fine colleges, splendid graded schools, good churches, electric lights, water works, natural gas, first class hotels, with all modern fixtures, wholesale and retail business houses and good business men to push them. Pineville is erecting a $35,000 graded and high school building. Has a new passenger station costing $30,000 a new bridge connecting this station to the city across Cumberland river costing $15,000. Bell county's assessment shows up in the $11,000,000 column.

Travelers, both civil and commercial, could show their good will in scarcely a better way than by wearing a Boone Way Booster Button when in South Eastern Kentucky. Write secretary Commercial Club Mt. Vernon, Ky., enclosing 5 cents for button which will make you a member, entitle you to all the honors bestowed upon all good boosters working for the construction of this proposed great highway. Wear the button and be recognized as one among the boosters.

Lincoln county will build three miles of Boone Way from Crab Orchard to Rockcastle line in 1915.

Laurel county citizens claim they will be ready to push on their portion of Boone Way thru their county as soon as any other county. Their road is already graded from Pittsburg and London to Corbin over the abandoned roadbed of the L. & N. which changed its route between those points some fifteen months ago.

Rockcastle will build ten miles of its twenty in 1915, possibly more of it and finish across the county in 1916.

Judge T. J. Asher of Bell county has the honor of doing the first construction on Boone Way. He is building three miles of this highway in his county.

Bell county will vote a $250,000 bond issue in January for Boone Way and good roads over that good county.

Knox county will call an election at an early date for voting of bond issue for good roads. The citizens claim it will carry with a good majority to spare.

Barbourville has 40 automobiles, Pineville has some, Middlesboro a good number and London a few. Mt. Vernon alone, Crab Orchard several. With highway put thru the number of machines would increase 600 per cent in most of these towns.

Barbourville proposes to present Mt. Vernon's secretary of Boone Club with an automobile when road is built.

The Knox Fiscal court convened to hear Boone Way talk.

There are now 80 members of the Kentucky Good Roads Association along Boone Way.

A monument will be erected at Cumberland Gap next May to the memory of Daniel Boone to serve as a "marker" of Boone's Trail in to the "dark and bloody ground." The monument will be placed by the Daughters of the American Revolution.

Joe Bosworth who made a six year fight to get the good roads state aid bill thru is a hot worker in the Boone Way movement.

Judge T. J. Asher has the credit of doing the first construction on Boone Way.

Bell county has opened a stone quarry and is putting in a siding to load stone to be used on Boone Way.

A Louisville firm has put Daniel Boone Coffee on the market in honor of the highway.

Sixty six counties of our state have no turpikes.

Merchants. Throw your trade to Louisville, the city that has aided Boone Way and will continue to do so.

Knoxville and Cincinnati want the trade of South Eastern Kentucky but isn't willing to even contribute a postage stamp toward promoting highways for merchants and citizens to haul their goods.

W. L. Moss general manager Continental Coal Company, Pineville took the boosters over his Straight Creek roads on an engine.

Judge J. H. S. Morrison and J. Frank White of Cumberland Gap attended the Middlesboro meeting.

Judge J. W. Montgomery motored over from Tazewell, Tenn., to be present at the Middlesboro road meeting.

A. W. Soward a mighty good man who used to be with the SIGNAL is foreman of Barbourville Advocate office.

Dr. G. H. Aloright, formerly of Rockcastle and Dr. W. Burnside who are in Garrard county are among the warmest Barbourville highway boosters.

Wm. Tye, Barbourville's chief of boosters followed the good roads men to Pineville and Middlesboro and kept them in the middle of the highway.

H. C. Chappell met our highway men at Pineville with copies of his good publication Three States which is chock full of road items.

C. W. Metcalf the originator of "Old Wilderness Boulevard" movement (later named Boone Way by James Maret) is still actively advocating the construction of this proposed highway. One of his visits to the Pineville Sun office with him the writer was shown the original editorial written by Mr. Metcalf on this road movement under date of January 13, 1914.

Mrs. A. W. Soward, formerly of this place has charge of the Riverside Hotel, Barbourville, the stand which "Boon Anderson" ran so long.

Lantern slides showing map of Boone Way will be used in the picture shows from Crab Orchard to Cumberland Gap.

When last seen he was going in a northerly direction, up Pigeon branch and all efforts to locate him seem fruitless. He made the assertion a few days ago that he was going to make a house to house canvass of the county and if he failed in this to find him a wife it would be his last effort, and then he would content himself to live single the rest of his days. Mart don't worry but it looks funny that Solomon had 700 w's and you and I can't get even one.—For some time past Isaac Catlin and William Brady have been puzzling their mind as to whether they were living according to the scripture or not, and they decided that the injunction in the Scripture was being disobeyed by them where it says "It is not good for man to be alone." So they both decided that they would take to themselves a wife and as they both were deeply in love and engaged to be married to two of mother Eve's first daughters. But there were parental objections in both cases something had to be done to overcome this but the boys were not satisfied and they thought of Jellico, Tenn., where objections amount to nothing, so when slumber was the soundest and the earth wrapped in sleep Catlin went to Brera where he found Miss Mabel Nicely and they bonded $1 and Brady and Miss Alice Ward caught 21 and they all embarked for Jellico, where they were married Oct. 20. Mr. Catlin is a nice business man and holds the position as freight agent here. Miss Mabel is one of Livingston's most beautiful girls. We can say the same for Mr. and Mrs. Brady and he also holds a position with the L. & N. R. Co. as fireman. May their days be filled with pleasure and may they never regret the steps they have taken.—Mrs. Claudia Griffin of near Mt. Vernon, visited Mrs. S. Griffin Sunday.—Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Bourne of Lancaster, have returned home after a few days visit with their daughter Mrs. J. P. Neighbors.—John Lear, one of our top boys here was with home folks during Thanksgiving.

The basket ball game between Mt. Vernon and Brodhead High School team, which was pulled off here on Thanksgiving Day, was won by the home team by a score of 7 to 5. The best played game of the season. The game played by Mt. Vernon and Brodhead's second team resulted in a score of 8 to 5, in favor of Brodhead.
