BNL—12 to 1 Knox—10 to 1
 Let Rockcastle and Laurel do as well or better than Bell and Knox when votes are all in.
 Brighter days will come when the bond issue carries.
 No one has come in and showed there is no state aid to good road bond issue or claimed that $1000. They "aint a comin'" either. They can't and they know it. Their "Bluff has been called." Try something else.
 Laurel sends greetings to Rockcastle along with assurances that she will carry the bond issue April 13th, 9 to 1 or more.
 Rockcastle started this big ruckus about good roads in South Eastern Kentucky and she proposes to make good on March 27th.

 "One no longer hears the remark 'I hope the bond issue will carry' but this is what is being said 'yes its a goad the majority will be more than aplenty.' Better jump into the band wagon and follow the multitude instead of going with the loneome few to growl and think vain things.
 It's a fine thing to be on the right side of justice and progress where will be found 11 to 1 on election day favoring the construction of two highways thru Rockcastle.
 Barboursville, Ky. 3-8-15.
 Mr. James Maret,
 Mt. Vernon, Ky.
 Dear Mr. Maret:
 Well, I have done what I told you I would do.
 We have carried this county about 7 to 1 in favor of the Bond Issue.
 And I believe if we had had a gallon of that white whiskey from Middleboro we could have carried it by 500 more.
 Now I will give you the vote as they stand: 2838 for the bond issue and 418 against the bond issue giving us a majority of 2420. The people here all seem to be feeling good about the result. I believe the $200,000 bond issue when turned loose in this county will bridge our people over the hard times for the next two years to come as we figure that of the $200,000 bond issue that $140,000 will be left here in the county among our people. We can build our pikes, have $140,000 left here among our laboring people without raising our taxes but little. I think this is going some don't you Jim?
 You know our county would have been foolish to reject a gift like this.
 Now Mr. Maret what is your county going to do? It is up to them. Are they going to accept $80,000 out of every $100,000 voted in on Bond Issue or reject it without costing but little more tax.
 I believe they are too intelligent a set of people to turn a good thing like this down when it don't cost them anything of consequence.
 I believe it Rockcastle county votes the bond issue and the pike is built it will make Mt. Vernon the greatest town on the Old Boone Trail and I hope if they do and Boone Pike is built they will place a monument at Mt. Vernon and on that monument put words like this "Home of James Maret, Father of Boone Way Pike and other Roads." Now Mr. Maret if the Knox County Boosters can't do as well or better than you don't hesitate to call on us.
 Yours for Good Roads,
 Wm. T. B.

 Mr. Edgar Albright,
 Mt. Vernon, Ky.
 Dear Sir:
 Enclosed you will find copy of a letter which is one of the best we used in our Campaign for Good Roads. I have not askt Mr. Creech's permission, but feel sure he will be glad to have you publish it here, or anywhere, where it can help to get the best State in the Union and the best part of said State—the Mountains, out of the Mud, and on the way to that prosperity which is rightfully here.
 Mr. Creech is one of the largest tax payers in Bell county, the largest of any farmer, he is a very conservative man, and as he says when he left home for Florida he was not entirely convinced as to the proposed Bond Issue being the best for the County but a short stay where they had good roads, and seeing bonds again for more, he was convinced and became one of our most ardent supporters.
 Personally, I have been away from Rockcastle—my home county many years. There ever lingered that love for the people and that place of my birth, Judge Bethurum will recall at some particular time. I mentioned this fact a little too strong, and had the following handed out to me:
 "I was on an evening we had called upon some young ladies in whom we were interested, and I, possibly as usual, had a good deal to say about friends in Rockcastle until finally the young lady remarked 'If I would be right good she thought I might go to Rockcastle which I did.' Well, of course that kinda put a "set back" to my Rockcastle talk, but the "fellow feeling" is there still, and for sentimental reasons I want to see the good old County rock and not done for sentimental reasons but for business reasons, for the sake of friends still living there, and who have my best wishes. I have for some time been in such with that part of Virginia that has within the last few years built good roads, the advance in price of farm lands, the amount of fruits, vegetables, grown and marketed, sounds too much like a fish story, and while there is at least one man in Rockcastle who says he believes I am a second Gen. Washington as to veracity, it will not attempt to give you the figure for fear of raising a doubt as to the wisdom of that friends contention, but will say inquire for yourself of any one coming from these parts, and I assure you will be surprised.

 After several years absence I had the pleasure of attending the Mt. Vernon Fair last year. I was expecting a good County Fair because I heard good reports each year, but frankly, I was surprised at the showing, and wonder if the home people could appreciate what a good fair you had, or the development of stock, produce etc. like one does after an absence of a few years. I am fully expecting if I can raise the where-with-all by 1915 to get in my car in the morning and run out and spend the day at the Mt. Vernon Fair.
 Very respectfully,
 W. B. MYERS.

 "I'm for good roads" so say ten teats of the people, but some of these tenths have queer ideas as to what should be or not be done to get the good roads.
 "I hope the bond issue will carry." Well do your part. That will help some. It will carry all right, make the majority as large as possible.

LOCAL

The Estill County grand jury returned indictments against T. C. Wallace, Frank Chaney, J. M. Pynes, Ambrose Lynch, Bill Lynch and L. S. Gardner, charging them with the wilful murder of Newton Underwood who was called from his home in Irvine on the night of Feb. 12th and killed full of bullets. They were all placed in jail at Irvine to await trial. There is one L. S. Gardner who conducted a barber shop here and at Livingston about 3 years ago but it is not known whether or not this is the same man. The L. S. Gardner who was here is a brother of Mrs. J. W. Dillingham near Marysville, this county.

Edgar Mullins is out again after a hard siege of typhoid.

First-class shoe work done at Davis' shop on Old Main street.

W. B. Spivey has sold his interest in the Farmers Supply Co. to his partner J. W. Rider.

Dr. W. A. Jones has moved from Irvine to Iron Mountain which is half way between Winchester and Irvine in the new L. & N. extension.

Hand sewed soles, invisible patches, and all kinds of first-class shoe work done by W. H. Williams, a professional shoe maker, at Davis' shop.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Fish are the proud parents of their first born, a boy which arrived Tuesday. William Baker is the name given the young man.

Five of the girls at Dormitory Bix, yesterday morning, subdued the flames, which originated in one of the bed rooms. They handled the fire extinguishers and hoses like veterans. They had the blaze put out before arrival of assistance of the citizens. Among the girls were Elizabeth Pulliam, Ray Hunt, Mary Mae Latham, and Max Upton, who are to be congratulated for their good work and bravery shown.

Mr. George Livesey, one of the oldest and most successful farmers Rockcastle has ever had, has a lonely night at his home, two miles west of here, of a complication of troubles. Uncle George, as he was familiarly called, had been on the decline for months, but the illness which cut off the useful and well spent life of this good man lasted only a week.

The burial took place Tuesday at the family burying ground near his home, where a large number of friends gathered to pay a last tribute of respect.

J. A. Oliver, who burned out at Livingston sometime ago and who filed articles in bankruptcy after exhausting all means to get a compromise at a per cent that would be able to pay, has withdrawn his bankruptcy proceedings, having accepted the compromise, having a check receipt for all of his debts, and as soon as he can get in his goods will be back in business at Livingston. This was a square deal so far as Joe was concerned, the people who can and the people are his friends.

DICK MARTIN IS DEAD!!!

R. S. Martin died at his home at Broadhead, on the 6th inst. at Three years before his death he was stricken with paralysis and was never afterwards able to talk or fully at himself. He was buried on Monday the 8th inst. in the family burying ground near Broadhead.

Richard Seldon Martin was born in Appomattox county, Virginia Dec. 12th, 1839. He spent his boyhood on the farm till he was eighteen years old when he became a traveling salesman for a Tobacco Manufacturing Company which he followed till his state joined with the Southern Confederacy, as in his first call for volunteers he became a Confederate soldier in Gen Lee's Army, Gen Gordon's Corps, and Gen. Pickett's Division. His official rank was that of Orderly Sergeant, but he often led his company as its Captain being the highest living officer of the company those above him having fallen in battle. He was always in the thick of the fight beginning with the first battle of Bull Run and ending with that most bold and memorable charge at Gettysburg led by Gen. Pickett. Mr. Martin was badly wounded at that charge. He lay for thirty days under an old peach tree without care, food or water when he was taken to a hospital. His recovery left him a cripple for life, but like the true and gallant soldier that he was, he wanted to remain with the army, and he was then made a recruiting officer which position he held till the surrender. He then returned to his devastated home where he remained till 1869, and in the mean time having married Miss Sallye B. Jones, a most estimable woman, when with his wife and his brother Mr. S. H. Martin, he came to this county and located near Broadhead and in his old vicinity he remained during the balance of his life.

After coming to this county Mr. Martin followed, farming for a few years. He then began, in a small way, the tobacco business at Broadhead. His efforts were successful. He later established a manufacturing plant at Junction City, Kentucky, where he was also successful.

A few years after coming to Kentucky his wife died. He later married Miss Lou Harris, of Broadhead, who with their five children, survives him. To his first marriage there was born four children, all of whom are dead, except Mrs. Mary H. Frothinger, who resides with her husband in Chicago, Illinois. Rockcastle county had no better citizen than Dick Martin. He was a devoted member of the Christian Church and in every sense of the word a most upright and generous man. He was ever ready to extend the helping hand to those in need. Recently one of his customers that owed him a bill lost his store by fire. He had no insurance and was unable to pay his debts. He asked his creditors for a compromise and submitted as his offer to Mr. Martin, as well as all his other creditors. Mr. Martin's reply was: "Yes, I will accept the compromise and will give the amount that is coming to me by my customer, Mr. who had the misfortune to lose his goods by fire." This little incident tells the whole of man Mr. Martin was during the whole course of his eventful life.

Children Cry FOR FLETCHER'S CASTORIA

LIVINGSTON.

DEED—March 4, 1915. Mrs. Abel Pennington, wife of Mr. Abel Pennington, who departed this life some one year ago. Mrs. Pennington was before her marriage, Miss Agnes King. They were married the year 1859. She had been a member of the Baptist Church since youth, and to that union were born eleven children. J. A. Pennington died about seven years ago. Following are the names and addresses of the other ten left living: Mrs. Newbert Perrett, Mt. Vernon; T. J. Pennington, Livingston; S. E. Pennington, London; Mrs. W. D. Brown, Mt. Vernon; Mrs. O. A. Frith, Broadhead; Mrs. R. L. Pike, Livingston; G. D. Pennington, Idaho; Mrs. J. N. Clark, Livingston; Miss Flora Pennington, Livingston; and A. K. Pennington, of Greensburg, N. C. Funeral services were conducted by the Rev. D. Edgar Allen, of Mt. Vernon, Friday evening, and she was laid to rest beside her husband to await the call of her Master. The bereaved family has the sympathy of the town and community.

We have decided to go to write more reports and would be glad that all who have items would please hand them to us, and in the future we will do our best. Our territory extends from McKee in Jackson county, to Dallas, in Pulaski county, and from the Livingston county line to the Mountains in Laurel county—Mr. and Mrs. J. P. E. Drummond has returned from Knoxville, Tenn., where they spent a few days ago visiting relatives—Ben Hurdell was working in J. P. E. Drummond's store while Mr. Drummond was on his vacation. While in Livingston is a small town of perhaps 500 inhabitants, yet we are blessed with our part of religious services. The Christian Church has set services two Saturdays and Sundays out of the month, and the Baptist Church the same, and we have had one on Saturday and Sunday out of the month, and a Sunday School at each church with large attendance, and we have had many meetings, Christian Endeavors, and B. Y. P. U. So you see the citizens here are trying to do their part. None can say that it is the sweetest story to me. Well, there is a cry of hard times and a scarcity of work. We will admit there is a dull business and work on the minority list, but for the past few years we have had a glorious time and have been living just as well as comes the lot. We believe that too many "have quit" their little farms and go to public works and now they are trying to return to the little hill side farm, let it be ever so humble. Plant out large crops, even if the ground is so steep that you have to shoot your corn in with a double barrel shot gun, harvest will surely come and besides, this morning the sun is shining brightly and the long-mother earth will be clothed in greenness and we can look down the line and see deliveries coming. My little spring never fails to flow. Several have asked why we have failed to write the past few weeks and we will give you the reason. You all know in the good book there were several reasons why some had failed to attend a feast in heaven. Some were busy and getting straightened up and if you all have had any experience in moving it will be useless to add another one. So this is our excuse and we think this is a reason alone, but in the future we will be able to give the news promptly. We have not been moving and getting straightened up and if you all have had any experience in moving it will be useless to add another one. So this is our excuse and we think this is a reason alone, but in the future we will be able to give the news promptly.

W. H. J. Moore, Rentfroes.—Because I am from a Virginia county (Wise) where they have pikes all over it made from bond issues of a million dollars, no State aid, there is always something doing. The bond issue and building of good roads in South West Virginia has increased land values and brought in more investors than any other one cause and made better times. John Berry, Green Hill. We get the roads, provide labor, receive business and get a safe for thousands of cars of our own. We have a little supply of stone to other counties building roads, create markets for the farmers, scatter money through the county, helping every citizen.

Coldiron, Conway.—We need the roads. U. S. Berry, Conway.—Get in to the band wagon while there is yet time. We must have those roads.

A. T. Abney, Climax.—When we get good roads we will not be cut off from our neighbors and other counties, months at a time during the winter. Moses Anglin, Wilde.—It will in addition to many other advantages cause an increase in our farm products and sale thereof, more and better stock will be raised which can be sold here at a home market not having to drive them to other counties.

Sam Croucher, Disputanta.—One can take his surplus stock to town on four days and find a ready market. Our county fair, which are already good, will be much improved and attract a much larger attendance from neighboring counties.

Tom Mod Mullins, Withers.—I could say "I am for it just because I am for it," like the man who said he was "agin it" and I could give too good reasons why I am for it, but I will say "the word" Anybody ought to see it with his eyes closed that by voting the bond issue it will be the making of the county and the issue will win. E. F. Bryant, Pine Hill.—Five years from now our county will have been on the road of prosperity and we will be in progress that it will seem like an entirely different place on the map.

Reuben Burton, Rose Hill.—I am for the bond issue and am glad the going to carry. I think everyone should be willing to allow the county accept a present of $50,000 from the State road fund. E. L. Hinkle, Hancock.—A man who is against the bond issue has a better argument than one who favors whiskey and bar rooms.

WHY FOR BONDS

W. H. J. Moore, Rentfroes.—Because I am from a Virginia county (Wise) where they have pikes all over it made from bond issues of a million dollars, no State aid, there is always something doing. The bond issue and building of good roads in South West Virginia has increased land values and brought in more investors than any other one cause and made better times. John Berry, Green Hill. We get the roads, provide labor, receive business and get a safe for thousands of cars of our own. We have a little supply of stone to other counties building roads, create markets for the farmers, scatter money through the county, helping every citizen.

James Hallenger Book.—I wish our people to take advantage of the greatest opportunity that was ever presented to Rockcastle for securing turpines and be in the way of progress. J. E. Coldiron, Conway.—We need the roads. U. S. Berry, Conway.—Get in to the band wagon while there is yet time. We must have those roads.
