The case against Franklin Allison who was charged with forgery in the Boyle Circuit Court, was dismissed Monday. There is some talk of a contest on the part of the anti-road people who are very much displeased over the result of the bond issue election in Rockcastle. The good roads people are paying but little attention and are getting ready as fast as possible to start work on the roads. An engineer will be here in a short time to begin the survey and by June 1st, it is expected that the work will be ready to start.

One of the most enjoyable and highly appreciated programs, which the people of Mt. Vernon have been privileged to witness, was the recital and musical program rendered at the Graded School building, Tuesday, by Rev. and Mrs. George Watson and Rev. Michel, with Miss Brown, of Langdon School as accompanist. The four are very popular with Mt. Vernon people, and the program rendered was highclass from every standpoint.

The boys and young men who stood just outside the door at the Presbyterian church Sunday night and talked loud enough to be heard all over the building, should learn before it is too late that around the church building during services is not the place to be. Go inside, take your seat and listen to what the preacher has to say. If you can't do that, then at home is the place. It would be well for parents to investigate now and then and know whether or not the boys are on the inside. At any rate see that they don't hang around the church door.

On Friday, Saturday and Sunday, May 7th, 8th and 9th, 1915, the Kentucky Christian Endeavor Union will hold its annual convention in Berea. The meetings will be held at the College Chapel. Some of the very best Christian Endeavor speakers have been secured, including Earl Lottman, International Field Secretary of Christian Endeavor. A large number of delegates from all over Kentucky are expected. Names of delegates who desire entertainment should be sent to Miss Della Holliday, Berea, Ky.

It is better to have died a pauper in the Alms house, than to have lived and accumulated a little fortune and died with no other heritage, than that of selfishness a foe to every laudable undertaking. John Howard Payne, the man who wrote "Home Sweet Home," was a beggar upon the streets of London and never had a home, yet he is known to all the civilized world because of that great song. No matter what our station in life may be, our aim should be to do something to make the world better because of our having lived in it.

When guided by the right and honest motives for the greatest good, nothing that the enemy can say or do will be of lasting influence in the years to come but upon the other hand, the great masses, ruling and guiding forces will show about you the strong arm of support and commendation and say unto you "well done."

MONEY WHILE YOU LIVE

THE KENTUCKY RURAL CREDIT ASSOCIATION loans money to farmers on 20, 30 and 50 years' time at 5 per cent interest. These loans are uncallable and reducible, a small amount in addition to the interest being required each year. Whatever amount is paid annually in addition to the 5 per cent interest will be compounded at 8 1/2 per cent interest and deducted from the loan whenever paid, the borrower having the privilege of paying in all or any part of the loan at any time by giving 60 days notice.

The strong points in favor of borrowing from the Association are that one can borrow one-half the value of lands; the net rate of interest is actually 5 per cent and the borrower knows that he can not be called upon to pay the principal except in annual payments, as provided in the contract. He may, however, pay any or all of the loan whenever it suits him to do so. For illustrations a farmer borrows $1000.00 on 4 1/2 years' time, and keep the money for that period of years, and all that is required of him is to make a payment of $180.00 on each $1000.00 every year. $50.00 of said payment being interest, and $30.00 of it is applied to the principal and compounded at 3 1/2 per cent interest—which will pay the principal in full in 4 1/2 years, the borrower has the right to pay off the loan at any time, however.

On the 29 year plan a farmer is required to pay $70.00 per thousand dollars ($1000.00) each year for 20 years, at the end of which period his mortgage is canceled and returned to him. The 2 per cent ($20.00) paid each year in addition to the interest of 5 per cent being applied to the principal, and will pay the loan in full in 29 years, but if the borrower wishes to pay off his loan at the end of 10 years he would get credit for $242.80 on each $1000.00 of principal, leaving a balance of $857.20 to be paid.

Another plan is the 29 year loan. Under this plan the farmer is required to make an annual payment of $85.00 on each $1000.00—$50.00 of which is interest and $35.00 is credited on the principal which pays the loan in full in 20 years. If the loan is paid on the 10th year there will be a credit on the principal of $428.93, leaving a balance of $571.07.

Compare this plan with the ordinary practice of borrowing money. A farmer borrows $1000.00 from a local institution or individual at 8 per cent interest, and pays in 20 years $1000.00 in interest and still owes the $1000.00 making a total of $2000.00 while under the Kentucky Rural Credit Association plan he borrows $1000.00 and makes 20 payments of $85.00 each or a total of $1700.00, which pays both principal and interest. This is a saving of exactly $300.00. There can be no argument as to which is best for the farmer.

Every farmer who owns a farm and wishes to improve it, or who wishes to buy or sell a farm, or who already has a mortgage on his farm at a high rate of interest should be a member of the Kentucky Rural Credit Association and transfer his loan and get the benefit of 5 per cent money. In plain language, the Association will act as agent for the farmer and go direct to the cheap money market, and secure for him money on the same terms that railroads and other corporations secure it. The principal involved in making these loans are the principles of life insurance reversed: you pay interest instead of premiums and enjoy the money while you live.

- Among those who have joined the Association in Rockcastle County are the following citizens: Dr. Walker Owen, Mt. Vernon, Ky.; Behrman & Lewis, Mt. Vernon; M. Norton, Des Cummins, Broadhead, Ky.; E. B. Bell, H. Anderson, J. A. Sutton, W. A. Johnson, J. H. Wolfe, W. A. Johnson, W. H. Wolfe, H. M. Miska, Oookabany, Ky.; Albert Alcock, W. H. A Tennessee concrete culvert firm had a representative here last week looking for a location to put in a plant for the manufacture of concrete sewer and culvert pipe, which are in sizes from 6 inches to 4 feet in diameter, two foot joints. The visitor was well pleased with the situation and conveniences here for their work. It is proposed to furnish this and a number of surrounding counties culverts for the many new good roads that will be constructed within the next few years. The class of material from which these culverts are made produces an output far superior to the crippled sheetiron pipe and at a less cost. Rockcastle is an ideal location for such a plant and there is a good prospect of its being located here. The matter will be decided within next 30 days.

HUNDREDS RUSH TO GET TANLAC

Cooper Besieged With Calls Who Want Famous Medicine

Louisville, 4-16-15.
Hundreds are now calling almost daily to meet L. T. Cooper, the noted visitor, and to find out just how his famous medicine, Tanlac, is sold, how it is prepared and what the preparation actually looks like.

In commenting upon the rush to meet Mr. Cooper and obtain his celebrated medicine, the manager of the Taylor-Isaacs store said: "The success of the opening of the introductory sale of Tanlac exceeded our expectation. We have been agreeably surprised by the knowledge the public seems to have of the preparation. While many came just to meet Mr. Cooper and see what the medicine really looked like, equally as many came prepared to obtain the preparation. These people simply asked for Tanlac and the facility with which the medicine was distributed thruout the day proved somewhat of a revelation to many of our older men." Mr. Cooper said: "I am, indeed, gratified to see such marked enthusiasm, and I feel justified in predicting that Tanlac will prove just as successful in Louisville as it has in the larger cities. I do not believe that I am overestimating the success of the medicine when I state that I am confident that from three to five thousand people will call and obtain Tanlac during this week."

Mr. Cooper was asked about the charitable work he intended to perform in Louisville. He replied: "Yes, it is true that I have written the Associated Charities asking that organization to furnish me, as soon as practicable, with the names and addresses of at least fifty of the most deserving poor families of your city, whom I propose to help. I may also write St. Joseph's Orphan Home, offering certain contributions. I shall continue with similar institutions, within a few days with the view of endorsing their noble efforts by assisting them in some substantial way."

"In my country with my usual outpour of encouraging the hospital, I will make special concessions with reference to supplying such institutions of your city with Tanlac, as I consider the preparation a superior tonic in all cases of convalescence."

The famous medicine, Tanlac, can now be bought in Mt. Vernon only at Chas. C. Davis' drug store and also can be obtained in Livingston at the Central Drug Co's store.

MOONLIGHT SCHOOL CONTESTS CLOSE.

The contests between teachers and trustees for the prizes offered by Kentucky's state school for the best moonlight school were very warm ones many being in close competition for the prizes. The sworn reports of teachers and letters from adults who had been taught to write showed excellent results for the sessions of 1914.

Adair County captured the grand prize, $5000 offered by Senator Ollie M. James for the best moonlight school in Kentucky. Mrs. W. L. Russell was the winner. McCreary and Hardin Counties won the $500 prize of Senator J. M. Camden to the trustee who promoted the moonlight school work. W. P. Wheeler, trustee at Barren Fork, McCreary County, and Rev. A. J. Fryrear, of Hardin County tied for the prize and the Kentucky Illiteracy Commission divided the prize between them. Mr. Johnson is an old soldier and fought in the battle of Gettysburg. He climbed a cliff each evening to be in the moonlight school and taught one of the classes. He is 70 years of age. Rev. Fryrear has served 28 years as school trustee, having the longest term of service of any trustee in the State. He is 70 years of age and a Baptist minister. He put forth a heroic effort to make the moonlight school in his district a success.

Congressman W. J. Field's prize of $25.00 for the best moonlight school in the Ninth District was won by Bath County. This was the most heated of all the contests, there being some excellent schools in Mason, Montgomery, Rowan and other counties which ran the prize school in Bath a close race. Virgil Jones, a young teacher, won the honors for Bath.

Congressman J. Campbell Cantrell's prize of $50.00 for the best moonlight school in the Seventh District was won by Dudley Canfield, of Powell County. Congressman John W. Longley's prize of $25.00 for the best moonlight school in the Tenth District was won by W. R. Thomas, of Floyd County. Attorney General James A. Garner's prize of $10.00 for the best moonlight school in Adair County was awarded to Mrs. W. L. Russell. State Senator J. R. Zimmerman's prize of $10.00 for the best moonlight school in Bullitt County was awarded to Miss Mary Dawson.

Beware of Ointments FOR CATARRH THAT CONTAINS MERCURY

Mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. Such articles should never be used except on prescriptions from reputable physicians, as the damage they will do is ten fold to the good you can possibly derive from them. AND there stands Laurel county with 3-10-1 in favor of good roads bonds. Our people were almost as greatly etated over the results as were the citizens of Laurel, who voted last Tuesday on the issue, the vote standing as follows: 1905 favoring bonds and 725 against. Our secretary of the Commercial Club, the original road booster and the man who named Boone Way, was particularly pleased, as Laurel was the last link in the chain of counties to take a vote to close up the gap of the proposed highway from Cumberland Gap to Crab Orchard. Rockcastle will have in addition to this thru road, a highway from the Pulaski line to the Madison border, at a point near Boone's Gap or a short distance east thereof.

This road movement is of greatest and most far reaching and will prove the most benefit to the people of the mountains, the anything undertaken for their benefit for the past fifty years, and those who have made efforts to handicap our people's chances for progress and improvement have not raised themselves in the estimation of thinking and progressive citizens, but its to the reverse very much so.

A REAL HIGHWAY.

From Louisville Times, April 14, 1915

The "Dixie Highway," through the activities of a group of benevolent assimilators at Chattanooga, through the Governors, through automobile tours participated in by contending cities, through a plentiful outpouring of printers' ink, has become one of the best advertised highways in the country. All that is needed to make it one of the most traveled highways in the route to be selected and the roads to be constructed. When that is done it will constitute thoroughfare from the Lakes to the Gulf. Kentucky is greatly interested because Kentucky is one of the States included in its proposed line of march and Louisville and Lexington are at war for the privilege of being traversed by it.

In the poisonousness of the Dixie Highway agitators, sight has been lost to the fact that a Boone Highway from Louisville to Cumberland Gap and the States of Tennessee and Virginia had been proposed. This road would have been a boon to the mountain land country, by a vote to be declared for the issuance of bonds necessary to complete the last link in the chain.

The road will start at Louisville and pass through the Blossburg on the way to the gap in the mountains at the southeastern corner of the State. It will be a Kentucky undertaking and a Kentucky institution. There will be no cause for rivalry between any of Kentucky's cities or sections. The Dixie Highway is a magnificent conception. The Boone Highway is soon to be a splendid reality. To the men of the mountains that have made it possible, no less among them, Joseph Bosworth and James Mann. The Times makes omission. They have blown no trumpet, but they have done the work they are over to do. Kentucky is their debtor.

There is considerable stir over the location of the proposed "Dixie Highway," which is to be routed from Chicago to Miami, via The original idea was to route the line via Indianapolis, Louisville, Nashville, etc. A conference of the Governors of the States along the line was held at a big convention at Chattanooga in April, 1914. They failed to reach a conclusion and each Governor was requested to appoint two directors each to confer later. One of the directors is asking that Lexington, Danville, be included on the route. Chattanooga and Knoxville are also hot looking after it. The original promoters of the proposed route have declared for a route across Tennessee from Chattanooga to Albany, Clincon County, Ky., where the matter now stands until Kentucky takes action. It has been suggested that it would probably be putting oil upon the troubled cities. From Cumberland Gap via Rogers by routing the line thru Mt. Vernon, Crab Orchard, Danville, Danville, Bryanville, South Eastern Kentucky and out at Cumberland Gap.

Our of the micro and suggestion over the highway of progress and a higher civilization. It required a big effort but we are getting nearer just the same. WASHINGTON'S sense of Lexington Herald was a big write-up on Boone Way.

Lexington editors and business men are showing much interest in the routing of Boone Way thru that city and Frankfort thence to Louisville. Indications are that the route across the state will now be thru the following towns and cities: From Cumberland Gap via Rogers by routing the line thru Mt. Vernon, Crab Orchard, Danville, Danville, Bryanville, Nicholasville, Lexington, Frankfort and Shelbyville to the Falls City, a distance of 200 miles.

Our good roads secretary is receiving many letters of inquiry from various counties outside the state, asking for information on the subject of highways and on the question of bond issue elections. CONTRACT: The anti road people are threatening a contest on the bond issue election held in Rockcastle on March 27th. Two attorneys from London, Judge W. L. Bruner and E. O. Thompson, were down last week to investigate but they failed to find any clue or grounds upon which to file a suit and returned home. The good roads people are pushing so insistently on to what the outcome will be, yet it is a source of regret that opposition to such a laudable undertaking as the building of roads in Rockcastle, should come from some of the men—good men—who are waging the fight. It years to come those men will regret their acts of today and be the bitterest supporters of the good roads cause.
