It looks like the Dixie Highway is sure to come this way. Knoxville wants representatives at its meeting on May 4th. The Commercial Club should see to it that Rockcastle is represented. A meeting to select delegates should be held this evening or tomorrow evening.

In our notice of the untimely death of our beloved townsman and friend W. A. B. Davis, which appeared in our last issue, there was unintentionally left off the name of one of the children, Mrs. J. B. McKenzie.

One year ago, Henry Ford made a statement that if 300,000 cars were sold before August 1st, 1915 a rebate of from $1-50 would be allowed each owner. On the authority of Mr. Ford we are glad to state that this number will be sold before July.

It is the largest ever given in this section by the Christian Endeavor Society in Rockcastle County will be represented. Send names for entrance packet of delegates to Miss Della Holiday, Ber. A. Ky. stating when you will arrive.

Circuit Court

Circuit Court convened Monday. The biggest court crowd, seen in Mt. Vernon in many years, was here Monday, some came for court some because of the road meeting. Judge H. J. Fratcher was on the bench, feeling fine and looking unwell. Judge M. L. Jarvis' Commonwealth's Attorney is at his post, ready for work but has had but little to do, as the docket was light, and because of the going in the Pulaski and Rockcastle courts, at this time but few cases were set for trial. The term is the term, which intended to be two weeks, will only be one week as the Pulaski court convenes next Monday.

GRAND JURY

Wm. Ballock, A. B. Hamlin, Lee Renner, Taylor Mullins, Ed Fletcher, Floyd Brock, W. B. Sigman, U. S. Berry, J. H. Carnical, E. M. Cummins, J. J. Ball and Chas Baker.

Wm. Arnold, Jim Johnson, F. J. Pennington, Garfield Clark, J. M. Norton, B. C. Mink, Gus Staverson, Lee King, J. W. Parson, Levy Estridge, Chas. Daryl and Geo. Murphy. No. 2. Chas. Lovell, Jacob Elder, Gather Philbeck, O. P. Hamm, James Riddle, Spencer Mullins, Jas. H. G. Now, Luke Bowman, Wheeler Clark and Madison Mink. The suit of W. G. Cummins, against the W. J. Sparks Co. for $10,000, had the attention of the court most of the week. Cummins while employed at the Mt. Vernon quarry got his leg broken by being caught between two of the rock cars. Judge Kirk, of Paintsville, was Special Judge. The jury has had the case since yesterday morning, without any verdict, which is considered as almost conclusive evidence that there will not be any decision.

The jury in the suit of the Rockcastle Medicine Co. against Mt. Cummins for accounts of $1,000 now has the case. Court will adjourn tomorrow. Where'er I Travel o'er the Land, From east to farthest West, The Power I see on every hand, Am meeting every test. On State Franchises' bill, There's not a test they will not meet. They surely all the bill. Beware the raucous' rant home, Along the road, they'll come. It matters not where I may roam, 'Til they do not see my name. F. F. Robbins, was in town first of the week and reported that Oliver Hopkins got his household goods burned, also the house, the house belonging to Mr. Robbins. No insurance.

Mrs. Annie Miller was granted law license here Monday. Mrs. Miller has been a stenographer for many years; has worked in some of the best law offices in the state, and she doubts if very many who are being examined put up a better examination than she did. It is not Mrs. Miller's intention at this time to be active, in the legal work, except in connection with her stenographic work, but should she decide to give up the latter and devote her entire time to the legal profession, there is no question but that she would be a success. If the land deal goes and it looks it is an assured certainty this time, Mrs. Miller, who now holds a good position in Pineville, will be in the city of Mt. Vernon and have charge of the Mt. Vernon office of the Rockcastle Coal Co.

Report of the K. E. A.

Last week was the annual meeting of school people of Kentucky. More than six thousand teachers, trustees and people interested in education from all the counties of the state, were in attendance at the great meeting at Louisville. This was the greatest meeting yet. Among the best speakers of the United States were there. The great throng of people interested in the one chief purpose was an inspiration beyond expression, on returning home, will carry the idea along that Mt. Vernon "the North Gate to the Cumberland" is the pushing, loudest and the biggest title: place they have yet visited, and that we wish you to come again and often. There is no more larch stringing in main a real live teacher and stay at home! Who are people seeking to fill the best positions and receive the fattest salaries? Is it the one who remained home? No! Men asked me to suggest teachers for splendid positions. But they wanted wide awake teachers. Why not be one yourself and get these positions?

Next about the K. E. A. was the exhibit from all parts of the state. This exhibit was much larger and better than that of last year. Here one had an opportunity to see what the other schools are doing and get many suggestions for his or her school. Did Rockcastle have an exhibit? Yes indeed. She won thirty dollars in prizes—as many prizes as any county, Fayette and Jefferson included, too, if you please. She could have won the first prize as a county as a whole, had the Rockcastle been represented. She won second as it was. The judges said that Rockcastle had the best exhibit there. What, better than Fayette and the other bluegrass counties. Yes. What do you think of that for Rockcastle? We can do anything by the aid of the rural teachers. They led us into handshakes, hearts and souls, and march forward to victory next year.

I thought the pain would kill me. I was hardly able to do any of my housework. After taking three bottles of Cardui, I began to feel like a new woman. I soon gained 25 pounds, and now, I do all my housework, as well as run a big water mill. I wish every suffering woman would give

[Continued from Second Page] eers toward the Falls City and they, the splendid sons of these everlasting hills who never forget an injury and forever remember a kindness have advanced the idea that that city should be honored [with the extension of Boone Way into their limits, to be the first officially routed highway, across the state, and it to be named in honor of that great and famous frontiersman, Daniel Boone.

I wish our delegates friends, upon returning home, will carry the idea along that Mt. Vernon "the North Gate to the Cumberland" is the pushing, loudest and the biggest title: place they have yet visited, and that we wish you to come again and often. Boone Way-lets

It was a great day. Everyone seemed pleased with their visit to Mt. Vernon, the town that placed Boone Way on the map.

E. R. Genry, our clever County Attorney read the report made before the Boone Way Association meeting. See it.

Lexington, Lawrenceburg, Danville, Crab Orchard, and Broadhead sent delegations in autos.

From the number of machines buzzing around town it appeared as though we were enjoying in fact a bigger portion of the success is due to the many able assistants who aided him when aid was most needed.

The many words of praise, by the various speakers, of the good road work done by our townsman James Maret, was much appreciated by that gentleman who adds that a bigger portion of the success is due to the many able assistants who aided him when aid was most needed.

Attorney Sam Hardin, of London, brought down the house, raters and all, which he mentioned about where the brains are found and what was "disposable in the blues" when wanted.

Appreciated mixed along with the serious discussions kept the content in fine humor.

It was a representative meeting. Reports thru the newspapers indicate that our visitors were pleased with our little town and the reception given.

Circle count being in session we wouldn't attend as closely to the comfort of our guests as we would have liked.

The meeting announced to take place in Harrodsburg on April 29 has been changed by order of president Maret to convene at Crab Orchard Springs on Friday May 14th at 3:30 p. m.

The Crab Orchard Springs meeting will be largely attended from various parts of the state and many reports and offers made to write the road bills.

Who is in the lead for Governor in this section is a question that is being repeatedly asked. Up to this time the road question has been paramount, but now that, that most important of all matters so far as the mountains of Kentucky are concerned, is settled, the people are beginning to line up on certain candidates for the different State offices. In the Governor's race, it is very evident that the Hon. A. O. Stanley stands first in Rockcastle as well as many others of the mountain counties, and if the unofficial reports which are coming in from the different sections of the county are true, it is safe to predict a Stanley victory in the August Primary.

Cumberland Gap to Louisville

A Paper by James Maret, Read at a Meeting of Boone Way Association Held in Masonic Hall, Mt. Vernon, Ky., April 26th, 1915.

Fellow Boosters and Good Roads Folks:

I never learned to make speeches or to address audiences when I was young and I regret to say that I believe that I am now too old to begin learning the art. I am therefore obliged to do my speaking by proxy. I can do a little writing, wherein I can make myself fairly well understood, but if called upon to make any sort of an address to an audience my ideas fly into the air and often a tangent.

The newspapers, and many friends, have lauded and praised my work, in my opinion much beyond its deserts, tho, like other humans, I am susceptible to credit for efforts made, and am greatly pleased to know that my attempts to assist in the betterment of our county and country in pushing the better roads question to a successful issue, on a thru highway proposition from Cumberland Gap to Louisville, are appreciated by the people, especially our home folks, who with but few exceptions have said nothing but kind and encouraging words in reference to my work in this great movement. Like other great undertakings there were many dark days when prospects for the successful placing of Boone Way upon the map were gloomy, but our Mt. Vernon boosters never faltered but kept right in the middle of the road when the rocks were not larger than wagon beds, "just on the Cumberland Gap, which historic point will soon be accessible over a splendid highway from Louisville via Mt. Vernon, the North gate to the Cumberland," the home of the original Boone Way Boosters, the hottest bunch of them all, and it is known there are some mighty warm babies along the trail between the Gap and the Pulis City. As to the honors, there are enough to go around and then some to spare, for everybody worked (all along the line) including "thee". The greatest workers were naturally found in the mountains, where there are virtually no improved highways. It was simply "a ground hog case." We kept digging and now have that hog per-nailed upon the cabin door of progress and his pay-as "a billie" in the pot" and invitations out to our neighbors to sit and heartily approve and endorse this proposed routing as follows: from Crab Orchard via Stanford, Danville, Harrodsburg, Nicholasville, Lexington, Frankfort, and Shelbyville to Louisville.

The newspapers, in many cases have given most liberally of their space to our cause, and to them we are greatly indebted. Our home paper the Mt. Vernon Signal simply threw its columns wide open to yours truly, for past three years to date as he pleased with say and all road dope, and be used it. The Louisville papers were good to us, especial mention should be made of the Courier Journal and Louisville Times and their splendid managers for the valuable assistance in the publicity line. The work they did was almost invaluable. The Lexington Herald, The London, Danville Advocate, Interior Journal, of Stanford, and of course, all the papers on to the Gap were in the fight. Louisville has proved, thru its Commercial Club, professional and business men to be the best friend the mountains has in any enterprise or movement lending. The advancement of the mountain interests. See the solid vote her legislators gave to carry Bosworth's good roads bill which takes Louisville $120,000 a year, the bigger portion of which goes into the mountain roads. Louisville financed the Kentucky Good Roads Association and paid its expenses for sending out speakers into and all over the state asking the people to take advantage of the new road law. These things warm the hearts of its mountain
