WAY IS PAVED FOR BUSINESS

Committees Are In Shape and Good Legislation Is Promised

PLAN BONDS FOR DEBT

Woman Suffrage May Be Left Out—Stamp of Approval Given Corrupt Practice Bill—Important Insurance Matters.

Frankfort, Ky.—(Special)—With the various committees well organized and carrying out the Administration's protection pledges and suggestions, some real business legislation is promised by the General Assembly during the early days of February.

Louisville bankers have discussed the matter of raising the state debt and it is generally believed that the Governor and state financiers will float bonds to take care of the present large state indebtedness which is the present Administration inherited.

The Vance-Sheer corrupt practice bill, endorsed by Governor Stanley and introduced by an Administration measure, passed the House by a vote of 59 to 8. The measure as adopted fixes the maximum amount of money that may be spent by any candidate for an office in Kentucky, including the primary and general election.

The amounts follow: Governor, $20,000; other state officers, $10,000; Rail Road Commissioner and Judge of the Court of Appeals, $6,000; Circuit Judge and Commonwealth Attorney, $5,000; county officers in counties having a population of first class, $4,000; county officers in counties having a population of second class, $3,000; county officers in counties having cities of the third class, $2,000; county officers in other counties, $2,000; Representatives, $700; Senators, $2,000; for any other office, county or district not mentioned, $1,000.

The bill repeals the statute which requires two witnesses to convict for bribery in elections. The amount of money spent by any candidate must be filed for publication 15 days before and 15 days after election and a fine of from $100 to $1,000 for failure is provided.

In order that they may lend every assistance possible to help the state liquidate the present debt, the Administration's "economy pledges." President Henry Hardin and the Board of Regents of the Western Kentucky State Normal School have decided not to ask for any additional appropriation this season, even though the good work of this institution, of which thousands of Kentuckians are very proud, has recently increased and is today accomplishing more students than ever before.

It is considered safe to predict that the bill of Senator H. H. Miller, of Hatcher county, appropriating $20,000 annually for five years to the Kentucky Literacy Commission, of which Mrs. Cora Wilson Stewart is the head, will pass through both houses as rapidly and as certainly as any measure of the session.

A bill intended to do away with racing in the state by banishing the pari-mutuel machines and prohibiting betting in any form, has been introduced by Representative Jack Oliver, of Scottsville, Allen county, and is expected to pass.

Only two constitutional amendments are permitted to be passed at any regular session of the legislature and no more amendments can be voted upon at the same time.

If the House concurs in the action of the Senate on the Combs-Hobbs bill amending the constitution to permit telephone companies to erect poles, the Knight-Meyers bill to amend the constitution so that a proper workmen's compensation act may be passed, and woman suffragists who are appealing for the ballot in Kentucky will be locked out until the next session of the General Assembly at least.

Should the House reject one of these amendments, then the Senate would be free to act upon the Woman Suffrage question but it is not believed that the women will have it come again.

The legislators do appear to be ready to give them each enough merit right now.

A bill introduced in the Senate by Senator Glenn, provides that all appointments of assistants made by heads of the different departments of the state government be made with the consent of the senate.

The bill becomes law if the Senate will in the future confirm the appointment of assistant secretary of state and auditor, assistant commissioners of agriculture, deer park, and the three assistant secretaries of public instruction.

Favorable reports have been made on the following bills: To amend the act of equitable title to property, responsible for listing it for taxation as between him and legal holder; to permit taxpayers to pay their portion of special levy to remove railroad bonds and be exonerated from taxation on separate land bridges to be erected over navigable streams; to amend state tax books laws limiting changes to three branches in one year; to permit fiscal county to anticipate revenues and borrow money for less than six per cent; to provide for substitution of question of substitute county commissioners for fiscal court, at any general election; to extend bonds of public officers to cover acts done while holding regular terms of office and the anti-pass measure of Senator Zimmerman.

Senator H. M. Brock, Republican floor leader in the Senate and who has occupied the position for the past two sessions, will be a candidate for election as delegate to the Republican National Convention from the Seventh District, according to leaders in Frankfort.

Providing for the abolishing of the First and Second Assistant Attorney General Representative John Jackson, Republican, Lee County, has introduced a bill, and says that if by his of the opinion, that the Governor and Attorney General have authority under the law to employ special assistants as the need for them arises, the permanent employment of assistants is unnecessary.

Much curiosity is being expressed through the investigations into the State printing expenses. The committee of Senators Helm, Huffaker and Brock, but so far the probes have not been sharpened, according to reports.

The roll call in the Senate on the Prohibition question was the loudest on record, taking nearly an hour to complete. The use is taken by the universal desire of the senators to endorse their vote.

Endorsed by State Superintendent of Public Instruction, V. O. Gilbert, a bill introduced by Senator Foster, of West Virginia, is taken quite seriously by the Senate and is likely to pass.

A model bill providing for working of convicts on the public roads will be drafted by Senator Webster Helm, of Campbell County, who is chairman of the Senate Committee on Public Roads and Highways.

A resolution requesting the Kentucky State Normal School to support a bill making national prohibition, provided the brewers and distillers receive compensation for their plants, passed the Senate.

It was first introduced by Senator John A. W. Warren (Republican), of Madison county, and was amended by Representative C. L. M. Montgomery, of Moore, Peak and Belmont. Senator Ford was ill and not present.

Governor Stanley has appointed four members of the State Board of Equalization for terms of four years each. They include E. W. Webb Whitesburg; Charles P. Weaver and R. H. Carr, the latter two being reappointed.

A meeting of the State Board of Agriculture was held in Louisville, at the call of Commissioner of Agriculture John C. Helm, for the purpose of making plans for the Kentucky State Fair to be held next year.

Geo. T. Fuller, Mayfield, and J. A. And, Cedonia, were reappointed members of the State Board of Health by Governor Stanley. The appointments are for four years.

Edwin P. Morrow, of Somerset, and George Long, of Letchfield, were endorsed for delegates to the National Convention by the committee of the Republican Fourth Congressional District at their meeting in Elizabethtown. The three counties were represented with one exception.

James P. Lewis has filed his answer in the suit of Barksdale Hainstet claiming the election of Secretary of State for the year 1916. Lewis was awarded the certificate of nomination. It is a very numerous allegations made by Hainstet and asks a recount in a number of counties. Lewis says there were 200 illegally counted. Lewis represents Lewis.

THE EARLY FLY. The early fly is the one to swat. It comes before the weather's hot. And sits around and flies its legs. And lays at least ten million eggs. In every egg will bring a fly. To drive us crazy by and by. Oh, every fly that skips our swaters. Will have five million sons and daughters. And countless first and second cousins. And aunts and uncles scores of dozens. And fifty seven billion pieces. So kindly the blame things all to pieces. And every niece and every aunt, Unless we swat them so they can't. Will lay enough dead gusted eggs. To fill up ten five gallon kegs. And all these eggs ere summer hies, Will bring forth twenty trillion flies. And so thus we have an endless chain, So all our swatting is in vain, Unless we swat that swatting soon. In April and in early June. So men and comrades let us rise, Roll up our sleeves and swat the flies. And ladies, leave your cozy covers, Where you have wasted golden hours. With aridor in your souls a demand for their arid, dry eyes. Roll up your sleeves and swat the flies.

Tanlac Romance Now Fully Told Its Launching and What Inspired It Is at Last Explained. "Every few years some one suggests something that will tend to better our condition, whether it may pertain to our business, our knowledge, convenience, or health, or our social state," declared L. T. Cooper recently. "It has been my pleasure to offer Tanlac to the world," he continued, "I presented Tanlac on its merits, knowing full well that it would prove satisfactory if properly tested. "Confident as I was of the remedy Tanlac would receive, I confess I was hardly prepared for the wonderful popularity into which it at once sprang. When it is considered that just nine months to the day after Tanlac was announced, one million bottles had been sold, it can be understood that when the story of Tanlac is called a romance of the business world it is quite true. "Tanlac promptly yielded to the big people everywhere—People who are able to judge carefully and to render a just opinion of its merits. Upon the thousands of endorsements of such men and women Tanlac's astonishing success has been based. Great as is the demand for Tanlac now, I really feel that the country, as a whole, is only just awakening to it. "Tanlac, which is the joint product of Herr Joseph Von Trumbach, the noted German chemist and myself, is, I believe, the most effective remedy known for ailments of the stomach, liver and kidneys and for catarrhal affections of the mucous membranes. "It is compounded of root, herbs, bark and flowers, many of which come from remote parts of the world, and is free from the mineral taint feared by many persons. "I have no doubt that Tanlac will be as successful in your city as it has in every other in which it has been introduced. "Tanlac now is being introduced in Mount Vernon at the drugstore of Chas. C. Davis can also be obtained at Livingston at the Central Drug Co., and at John H. Rain's Drugstore, Elmhurst, Ky., where it is fully explained. Some Old Souvenirs Held By Citizens of Mt. Vernon M. J. Miller has an old American dollar coined in 1794. W. M. Poynter has the assessor's book of Rockcastle county for the year 1839. There were 638 taxpayers and the total amount of taxes for the county was $1,24,999. There are eleven ruled columns, with pen and ink, on each page, no printing whatever, as follows: Land, value, White Tithes, Black Tithes, Total Blacks, Value, Horses, value, Cattle, value, Total amount, taxes, (Total). Among the smallest taxpayers were Phoebe Adams 31 cents and Solomon Rose 5 cents; some ten others paid 5 cents each, on property. The largest taxpayers were William Adams, $26.35 and Gen. William Smith, (grandfather of the writer), $19.74. Adams had 20 slaves valued at $7,500, $18 total taxable property was $1,800, showing a rate of about 14 cents per one hundred dollars and poll tax about 45 cents. Gen. Smith was credited with 12 slaves, valued at $3,000, and his rate of value of $10.745. Some other taxpayers: Elijah Denney $1.12, Simon Denney 80 cents, David Lewis 121 cents, William Henderson 831 cent, Ashley Owens 5 cents, Alfred Owens $1.75. The last mentioned taxpayer was a noted character in his church, along with Coloway Mullins, his chum. It was he that made the remark when the "stars fell" in 1833. "Keep your eyes on the main fustlemiln, (the moon) if she starts, then to h— I will go in a hand basket. "Tom Frazier has an old time "boarded" bedstead. S. U. Franklin has three sample pieces of bunting which are from flags used on the following ships: a black piece of bunting from Commodore Perry's battleship "Lawrence," in the battle of Lake Erie, 1813, when the Commodore, having wounded, gave the memorable command, "Don't give up the ship." This piece of bunting, about two inches square, has a bullet hole through it. A white piece of bunting from the British ship, Cayenne," captured by the "Constitution." A red piece of bunting from the vessel "Uganda," a British ship also captured by the "Constitution. Mr. Franklin also has two very much valued souvenirs in the way of old letters. One is from Henry Clay to J. F. Caldwell, Lewisburg, Va., also one from DeWitt Clinton, New York, to the same party. The Clay letter is dated Washington 4 April 23, 1827 and folded without envelope, (it being before envelopes were invented), and sealed on the back side fold with red sealing wax and a seal with the letters "H. C." impressed thereon. On the front of the letter, above the address is this notation: "Free H. Clay." And the post office mark or stamp which is in large printed letters in circular form, "Washn. Apr. 23," year not shown. The DeWitt Clinton letter shows "Paid 25." (This was before postage stamps were used and later postage rates were somewhat elevated as compared to that of our good year 1816. The writer has the file of 187 letters of the SIGNER, for 1879, also for '88 and part of '89.

DELAYS IN FREIGHT SERVICE

There is complaint this winter from many railroad lines about congested freight traffic.

A freight train is regarded by a general public as a go-as-you-please affair that can wait every one's convenience and last along until other traffic is cleared up.

But for all the delayed travelers there are many people who are impatiently waiting for freight.

Exasperating delays occur in factory operations from delayed freight deliveries.

It is an intricate problem to operate passenger traffic safely thru the tangle of freight business.

Of course prompt passenger service is very essential. Many roads have a chronic and slovenly habit of delay in passenger operation.

The country has grown fast, and the freight blockades of this winter have shown that railroad equipment has not kept pace.

The following, which we copy from the Courier Journal, should be read by every suffragist and sympathizer.

Women with golden curls pulled gray smoke in the dining room of a New York hotel the other night and discussed birth control and the probable fate of Mrs. Margaret Sanger, who is to face Judge Clayton, in the criminal branch of the United States District Court on the charge of circulating literature concerning this same "control."

Incidentally, the report states, there were many among the gathering of 200 persons, Mrs. Rose Pastor Stokes, who presided, suggested that it would be a good idea for as many as possible to gather in the Federal building to lead courage to their heroine, as she referred to Mrs. Sanger. It was the sense of the gathering that America was hopelessly behind the times on the question at issue.

It was urged that women make a signed statement of their opposition to the law under which Mrs. Sanger is arraigned, accompanied incidentally, by their own "records" along the lines discussed. One woman declared: "I know no forward to break the law because of her daughter." Division arose at the meeting between the advocates of the "one child system" and the "two children, etc."

Advocates of the one child system regard the advocates of the two child system as reactionaries—not up to the standard demanded by the Progressives and the future, and the problem is made for women, and the birth of old-fashioned Kentucky triplets would stampede the birth control party—which is an auxiliary of the suffrage party. Cigarettes were placed on plates and jeweled heads applauded every mention of the name of Sanger, the heroine."

WHILE the good roads people (and we are one of them), have good reason to rejoice over the decision given by Circuit Judge E. J. Behrman, last week, in the case of the annual road law, let us not "rub it in" on those of the opposition, among whom are some good men, which we think were honestly mistaken in the question, taking a wrong view of the matter, and we believe when the roads are made and they see the great benefits derived by them, to discover their mistakes and come forward and lend their assistance in building even more and more good and better roads. We can not believe anyone of them will wish to leave the county on account of this decision which will bring better roads and better farms. We don't want them to leave but wish them to remain here and enjoy the prosperity that will follow, and for them to learn how badly mistaken they were in opposing "so great and good a moment."

MANY of our working people, the merchants, farmers and others would have fared better, in fact, much better, had the auto road faction fled, not to delay the beginning of the work on the highways. Of course the blame must rest on the shoulders of those responsible for this delay. The laboring man are not the only ones nursing sore spots. Let us hope that with the prosperity that will follow the construction of good roads that all the ill feelings and sorrows created by the so-called for "mud roads" and that has delayed the work almost a year, will pass away and every body root and push for better roads, and prosperity is bound to come.

SEVERE COLDS QUICKLY CURD

"On December first I had a very severe cold or attack of the grip as it may be, and was nearly down sick in bed," writes O. J. Metcalf, weatherbury, Mo. "I bought two bottles of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and used only a few days until I was completely restored to health. I firmly believe that Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is one of the very best medicines and will know what to do when I have another cold. Obtainable everywhere."

Clean Up and Paint Up to Reduce Fire Hazard.

THE Indiana State Fire Marshal declares that every city and town should conduct "Clean Up and Paint Up" campaigns, to reduce fire hazards, if for no other purpose. And he declares that the application of paint to wooden buildings is quite as important a fire preventative as the removal of rubbish from garrets and alleys. He is therefore arguing for "Clean Up and Paint Up" weeks for every city in the state. "Inspections in the larger cities," says the Indiana Fire Marshal, "show that about 10 per cent of all buildings and premises within business districts are being endangered by rubbish. Though the residence districts have not been inspected, the proportion, no doubt, is just as large. One of the most effective fire preventatives is clean and tidy premises, both in business houses and in dwellings." The Fire Marshal is advising every owner of the painting of the shingle roof. Paint not only makes shingles more durable," says the Fire Marshal, "but it acts as a fire preventative in that it covers and protects the mossy splinters that form on the outer surface of shingles, the paint greatly reduces the likelihood of the fire catching on the shingles." Scores of Indianapolis residents are following the Fire Marshal's advice this year. A "Clean Up and Paint Up" campaign will reduce fire hazards.

Clean Up and Paint Up - Get Behind the Brush.

SPRINGTIME has at least come to stay; to prepare all nature for summer's flowers and the autumn's harvest. Even the abject stir about their "wretched premises," plant morning glories in their best to fit up the leaning-splatters left from the kindling needs of the later frosty months. Good housewife the type asks about their heads, get up their narrow skirts and chase the dust of winter from their rooms. The latest pick 'n' dabble with their belongings to fix themselves better to face the changing seasons. "Clean up" is the phrase. Why not clean up? Why not "paint up"? And if "paint up," why not do it with LAMP and PAT? Painting is another "art preservative." Rightly done, it serves to resist the ravages of the elements. It adds to the length of property-life, it increases property-attractiveness, brings to the property the blessed smile. To the righteous-landed the wholesome feeling of duty well performed. Between ourselves there's something to be said for the "Clean Up and Paint Up" campaign. We're in One town. Well applied colors judiciously applied, it would almost entirely obliterate the unsightly and unsightly from the disrepair area of your place. Look this over and see how you can help your own town, home or business districts. Clean Up and Paint Up.

The Third Dimension of the Farm an Important Factor to Greater Crops and Bigger Dividends.

W HEN farmers are beginning to realize that "farm size" means "farm success" they begin to think in terms of depth. Depth is a vital factor, and incidentally this third dimension has a clearly identified advantage over the ordinary plan of the surface. This method of farming vertically is in itself easy, simple and labor saving. A half acre charge of farm power placed well down into the tight soil at intervals of about a rod, stamped properly and fired carefully will do the work quickly and economically. Without blasting, however, can be done successfully only when the soil is in good condition. Few tools are required for the work.
