

Why Not Face the Facts About Armor Competition?

To the People:

The policy of the United States Government for many years has made real competition in armor-making ineffective.

The Government might have asked the three armor plants for bids and let the entire tonnage to the lowest bidder. That would have made competition effective.

The result of such a course would have been to drive two of the three manufacturers out of business, and leave the country with facilities of only one plant in time of need.

The Government in fact has always asked for bids from the three manufacturers, but no matter what the price quoted, each year's business was divided among them.

Armor makers serve but one customer—the Government, just as a public utility serves but one customer—a community.

The solution of the public utility problem is regulation of rates.

The solution of the armor problem is for the Government to fix the price.

We voluntarily agree to accept any price fixed by the Federal Trade Commission. Isn't acceptance of that offer better than the destruction of an industry built solely to serve the Government?

started from men who have horses and jacks and want to down a man.

Yours very respectfully,
P. C. Lear.

To whom it may concern:
It has been reported that the jack that I sold to J. W. Hiltont, of Stone Hill, is showing rickety colts. I want to say that this is absolutely false. He has never shown a rickety colt. I will give $200 to any man that will bring me a rickety colt, sired by this jack. The Jack is all right in every respect and is showing good colts.

R. L. SMITH, Hunt, Ky.

Now, if any one wants further information about the Jack visit the Rev. Green Fish, Mt. Vernon, Ky. He has three of his colts and has known the Jack from his foaling. I will give $25.00 to any man that will make a sworn affidavit that my jack has ever to this date shown a rickety colt. Now you fellows that have been talking, make your word good.

Respectfully,
J. W. HILTON,

BOWEL COMPLAINTS IN INDIA.

In a lecture to one of the Des Moines, Iowa, churches a missionary from India told of going into the interior of India, where he was taken sick, that he had a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy with him and he believed that it saved his life. This remedy is used successfully in India both as a preventive and cure for cholera. You may know from this that it can be depended upon for the milder forms of bowel complaint that occur in this country. Obtainable everywhere.

Mr. Lamar left Wednesday for Louisville, and will return to his home, where he holds the position of Special agent for the Southern Rail Road Co.

Mrs. W. F. Carter, who underwent a very successful operation at the Norton Infirmary last week, three weeks ago, will reach home today. Dr. Carter left for Louisville early Thursday, leaving with him a son of John H. Ward for an operation, seemingly very difficult to those of us who are not doctors of medicine. The boy had a severe attack of typhoid last winter and from which it was thought for a long time he could not recover, and during this time the doctor helped in his ing up removing more than half of the upper lip and most two-thirds of the lower lip, not even leaving the thin covering of the skin. The object of the operation was to grow new flesh where disease destroyed the original. We certainly hope the operation will be a successful one. Dr. Carter is to return with Mrs. Carter today.—Born to the wife of M. A. Stevens last week, a baby girl.—Mrs. J. M. Roberts and little daughter, Ollie Florence, were the guests of her sister, Mrs. L. B. Hilton, at Stanford, from Thursday of last week until the first of this week.—O. K. Wilmont, of Byington, Tenn., was here over Sunday looking after some business matters here.—Miss Mae Cummins was visiting friends in Crab Orchard and Lincoln county last week.—Born to the wife of Rdd Sturgeon last week, a fine baby girl.—Mrs. J. R. Cass, and son, Master Willie, accompanied Mrs. Sarah Parcell to the home of her daughter, Mrs. George Hardin, in Louisville, last Friday, where she will spend the summer. Mrs. Cass returned to Junction City, Thursday, where she will visit her sister, Mrs. Eliza Thayer, before returning home.—The State Department of Education last week granted to Professor J. L. Pikeston a life certificate, he having been actively engaged in school work for twenty years and having during this period a first-class certificate. Mr. Pikeston is very proud of this honor, while it confers upon him no benefit, it gives him the distinction of being among the few that have been in the harness actively for twenty years. Mr. Pikeston reserves many such honors for his successful teaching, managing and untiring efforts in school work. The night man in school work—40 and Mrs. Mrs. Owens are with relatives here this

OUR BOONE WAY MAN In Winchester

The writer saw Beach Harris and his mother one day last week as they boarded the train for Jackson their old home where they will spend a few days and probably return to Winchester to reside for a time at least.

On West Broadway is a Plymouth Rock rooster, owned by a ducky. This barn yard fowl is full pitiful and a pitiful to the English sparrow family.

The proposed Boneway trip of the Broadhead Commercial Club should prove a success. Mt. Vernon should join in and boost it advertising the Fair on the outing.

THE MYSTERY attending the death of Richard Thomas, a negro employed by the Southern Motors Company, who was found in an alley in the rear of 553 South Third street Tuesday morning suffering from injuries from which he died yesterday afternoon.

When Miss Annie Hilton, a white woman, living at the Third-street address, confessed to Chief of Police Lindsey to having struck the man with a stove lifter in self-defense.

According to the Hilton woman a fight took place in her room shortly before midnight Monday, when the negro attacked her and threatened her life. In self-defense, she said she struck him with a stove lifter and with the aid of Lillian Price, showed him against the window. This the Price woman denies.

The man crashed through and fell to the alley below. Thomas lay in the alley until 5 o'clock Tuesday morning, when he was discovered unconscious by Patrolman A. Heers, who, believing the man to be drunk, took him to jail. He was attended by the jail physician. When after an examination, found the man had a fracture of the skull for which he died.

The clew that led to the arrest of the Hilton woman was obtained after an investigation by Coroner Duncan and his deputy, William Kammerer, who learned from a son of the dead man where his father had gone Monday night.

Both women denied seeing any money in possession of the negro. The Hilton woman was arrested at her home by Lieut. Callahan and Detectives Yourell and St. Claire.

Both women are charged with murder. Coroner Journal. Dick was a porter and work for James Maret at depot for some years.

WHAT EXPERIENCE HAS TAUGHT. Herman Rosenthal, advertising manager for Sears, Roebuck & Co. in the course of an address before the Ad Club Convention made the following statement: "We have a bureau whose duty it is to read each week the county newspapers from all over the country. There is not a paper of any consequence in our trade territory we don't get. The bureau looks over all these papers, and when we find a town where the merchants do not advertise in the local paper, we immediately flood that territory with our literature. It always brings results far in excess of the same effort put forth in territory where the local merchants sell their local papers." The above speaks for itself. It only proves that a business man should not be afraid to advertise. The business man who does not advertise is like a man who does not know how to sell. What brings business to Sears & Roebuck is without a doubt advertising. There is no business without advertising.

Gilbreath, field secretary of the Dixie Highway Association left here this morning in his white Maxwell roadster for a tour—over the Eastern Division of the Dixie Highway between this city and Detroit. Mr. Gilbreath's trip is for the purpose of making an inspection of the progress on the construction of this roadway, to meet the plan in the various counties and explain to their first hand just what the Dixie Highway Association is doing and secure the united cooperation of the various counties in building the road. In the event that he finds the counties through the mountains of Kentucky will have their section of the Highway ready for travel by the latter of October, he will make the preliminary arrangements for the big tour from Detroit through Toledo, Dayton, Cincinnati, Lexington, Knoxville, Chattanooga, and Atlanta to Florida. Automobile manufacturers and car owners through the north are very much interested in this proposed road and if the roads are travelable, as it is believed they will prove to be, a large number of cars may be expected to make the trip.

On Mr. Gilbreath's arrival in Knoxville he will hold a conference with A. P. Stoddard, director of the Association, who is devoting a large part of his time to securing the completion of the Eastern Division. Mr. Sanford is planning to accompany Mr. Gilbreath on his trip thru the Kentucky mountains.

Elizabethtown, Ky. June 12.—A jury in the Hardin Circuit Court this morning adjudged Barksdale Hamlet, former State Superintendent of Public Instruction, of sound mind. He will be sent to Lakeland Asylum.

Mr. Hamlet will leave to-night for Lakeland. He was present in court when the case was tried and appeared nervous. He is physically debilitated as well as in bad health. Relatives of Mrs. Hamlet asked County Attorney K. A. Buckles to file the affidavit against Mr. Hamlet. His wife's divorce suit is still pending in Circuit Court here.

Barksdale Hamlet, who was the Democratic nominee for Secretary of State in the election last year, was the only Democrat on the state ticket to be defeated by a Republican. He instituted a contest against James P. Lewis of Whitesburg, the successful candidate, and shortly afterward abandoned it. In the meanwhile his wife separated from him and instituted divorce proceedings in the Hardin Circuit Court at Elizabethtown. On top of this the State recently filed a law suit against Mr. Hamlet and his bondsmen for $20,000 alleged illegal expenditures in the department of Education during his incumbency.

Charles Evans Hughes, former Governor of New York, and until Saturday, Associate Justice of the Supreme Court of the U. S., was nominated Saturday for the Presidency by the Republican National Convention.

Charles Warren Fairbanks, of Indiana, elected Vice-President, with Theodore Roosevelt in 1904, again was chosen for second place on the Republican ticket.

Both nominations, made by overwhelming majorities on the first ballot of the day—the third ballot of the convention—were by acclamation made unanimous.

Senator Lodge, of Massachusetts, presented by Colonel Roosevelt, as a compromise candidate, received seven votes. Colonel Roosevelt himself received eighteen and one-half scattered over twelve states.

Judge Hughes stepped down Saturday from the Supreme Bench and, again in a private citizen accepted the Republican nomination for President. In a telegram ringing with denunciation of the administration's foreign policies and declaring for a dominant thorough going Americanism, he gave his decision to Chairman Harding, of the Republican National Convention, and broke the long silence which had kept the leaders of his party in the dark as to his attitude toward the great issues of the day.

The Progressive National Convention after four days of tumult with but one purpose in view Saturday nominated Colonel Theodore Roosevelt for President and a few hours later listened without protest to a message from Oyster Bay that he would not "accept at this time."

Colonel Roosevelt's declination was conditional and it was placed in the hands of the Progressive national committee to be held until such time as statements to be made by Justice Hughes, the nominee of the Republicans, "shall satisfy the committee that it is for the interest of the country that he be elected."
