BROADHEAD

The Boone Way grade between here and Mount Vernon will be completed by the time this appears in print, those who have never gone over it will be astonished to see that the once rough, rugged, steep hills are no more, and that the numerous rocks that once paved the way are lost from sight. Wm. Mullins, who has charge of the work, is the right man on the job and knows just how to make a road. The people of Broadhead and vicinity were very much elated when the news came to us that Mr. Mullins would continue grading toward Crab Orchard, knowing that with in two or three weeks that he would make hills and dales disappear, and connect with the splendid grade made by our Lincoln friends. We certainly hope that this good work will continue and that we will be able to show Lincoln County that we are willing to meet them in all their laudable undertakings. Nothing is better to our liking than to see our boys on the road to Mt. Vernon with their automobiles daily, and to know that the two towns once so far apart are now within twenty minutes drive of each other. If the county officials are looking for praise for the good road work they are doing they should connect the grade with Lincoln County and add every man, woman and child to do them honor—A. Mrs. Raymond, of London, and Mrs. Jasper, of Florida, were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. I. R. Storm last week. Mrs. Storm, who has been sick so long, shows little improvement and her condition is regarded as very serious—Jop Albright is in Dayton, Ohio, where he has a good opportunity—Mr. and Mrs. Allen Hiett, of the Quail section, were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Hiett Thursday of last week—Mrs. R. E. Albright is with her parents Mrs. and Mrs. H. L. Sharp, in Junction City, La.—Two automobiles loaded with Hughes men drove over to Lexington Tuesday to hear the next President of the United States speak—Mrs. Ed. Smith, of the Hiett section, underwent a very serious operation at the Norton Infirmary, Louisville, Monday, Mr. and Mrs. Smith went to Louisville, Sunday, and the operation has had to have been a very successful one, and that Mrs. Smith is doing nicely—Miss Mimie Hiett, daughter of Algeo Hiett, and Chas. Brown, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. H. Brown, were married in Jellico, Tuesday, Miss Oma Brown accompanied them to Jellico. They returned here Tuesday afternoon. Their many friends join us in wishing them a happy and prosperous wedded life.—Dr. and Mrs. W. P. Carter were in Louisville, Monday. The doctor was there on account of the operation of Mrs. Ed Smith—Urban Cass, who has been working near Cincinnati for the past five months, was at home for the first time during these months, Sunday, returning to his work Tuesday.—Uncle John Jarrott returned from Charleston, W. Va., Wednesday. Uncle John says that he could buy a 24-pound sack of flour there for $1.40, good beef steak for 30 cents a pound and other things in proportion. We are surprised that a man that knows a good thing when he sees it, like Uncle John do, would have left a place where he could have lived with as little expense as in Charleston; but Broadhead is known the world over as the best town on the map and that's why Dave John is back at home, we guess.—Mr. I. R. Storm received news Wednesday that a daughter in London was seriously ill, and that she was not expected to live but a few hours. He left immediately to see her, but on account of the illness of his wife will return as soon as possible.—The Entered Apprentice degree in Masonry was conferred by the members of Broadhead Lodge, Monday night, Rev. A. B. Poteff, W. O. Yaden, W. J. Owens, J. D. Martin and E. O. Watson. A Pic Supper will be given by the members of the Methodist church tonight at the Grand School Auditorium. The proceeds are to be used for the benefit of the church. Members of other churches are cordially invited to take part, and should do all they can to make this affair a success.

A MEMENTO

The Christian Church Sunday School of Mt. Vernon, in session assembled, desirous to express its appreciation of the worth and character of Professor J. S. Irvine and its sense of the great loss it has sustained on account of his removal from among us.

For three years Professor Irvine has been at the head of the Public Schools of our town. During that time we learned to love him. He was a most untiring, efficient and successful teacher, a devoted member of the Church and Sunday School, always found at his post of duty, ever ready, zealously and unselfishly, to do with a will what his hands found to be most cordially and earnestly recommended him to the good people among whom his lot is to be cast as a man worthy of every confidence, and above all he is an upright Christian Gentleman. To him and his we extend our most sincere good wishes had benediction.

(S. F. BOWMAN, Committee.)
(R. R. GENTRY, J. W. BROWN)

The above and foregoing Memento was this day presented to the Mt. Vernon Christian Church Sunday School and was, by a rising vote unanimously adopted. It was directed that the Secretary under the same on the Journal of the Sunday School and that he furnish a copy to Professor Irvine.

PROMISES KEPT, SAYS PRESIDENT

Mr. Wilson Reviews His Work as Chief Magistrate.

PARTY HAS DONE ITS DUTY.

Tariff Revised, Laws Against Trusts Clarified, Banking System Reformed, Farmers and Workmen Benefited by Remedial Measures, American Merchant Marine Revived, National Defense Provided For.

In his address at Shadow Lawn, Long Branch, N. J., accepting the Democratic nomination for president, Woodrow Wilson said: Senator James, Gentlemen of the National Committee, I cannot accept the leadership and responsibility which the national Democratic convention has again in such a noble fashion asked me to accept without first expressing my profound gratitude to the party for the honor it proposes to do after four years of fiery trial in the midst of affairs of unprecedented magnitude and of the most serious and added responsibility with which this honor has in the past burdened me as I think of the great business of national life and policy involved in the present and immediate future conduct of our government. I shall seek, as I have always sought, to justify the extraordinary confidence thus reposed in me by striving to meet the needs and purpose of every personal and of every misadventuring party motive and desiring to give to the country the best that the nation as a whole, praying that I may continue to have the counsel and support of all forward looking men at every turn of the difficult business.

For I do not doubt that the people of the United States will give the Democratic party to continue in control of the government. They are not in the habit of rejecting a party which have actually served them for those who are making doubtful and conjectural promises of service. Least of all are they likely to substitute those who promised to render them particular services and proved false to that promise for those who have actually rendered those very services.

Boasting of always a empty business, which pleases nobody but the boaster, and I have no disposition to boast of what the Democratic party has accomplished. It has merely done its duty. It has merely fulfilled its explicit promise. But there can be no violation of good taste in calling attention to the manner in which those promises have been carried out or in advertising to the interesting fact that many of the things accomplished were the business of the past, and have again promised to do, but had left undone. Indeed, that is manifestly true of the business of the past, and again promised to do, but had left undone. Indeed, that is manifestly true of the business of the past, and again promised to do, but had left undone.

man the industries it was professing to foster and promote, carried their labor as a mere commodity to market, were subject to restraint by novel and drastic measures in the courts, were without substance of compensation for industrial accidents, without federal assistance in the development of labor disputes and without national aid or advice in finding the places and the industries which their labor was most needed. The country had no national system of road construction and development. Little thought-out attention was paid to the army and not enough to the navy. The other members of the cabinet were not men of high caliber that we thought first of the profits of American investors and only as an afterthought of (regarding) justice and helpful friendship. Its policy was impractical in all things. Its purposes were out of harmony with the temper and purposes of the people and the timely development of the nation's interests.

Party Has Redemmed Promises. So things stood when the Democratic party came into power. How do they stand now? Also in the domestic field and in the wide field of the commerce of the world, American business and life and industry have been set free to move as they never moved before. The tariff has been revised, not on the principle of protecting foreign trade, but upon the principle of encouraging it, upon something like a footing of equality with foreign trade in respect of the terms of competition, and a tariff board has been created whose function is to keep the tariff in line with the American, with foreign business and industry under constant observation, for the guidance of our business men and of our congress. American energies are now directed toward the interests of the world.

The laws against trusts have been clarified by definition, with a view to the effect that they were directed against big business, but only against unfair business and the prevention of competition where there was none, and a trade commission has been created with powers of guidance and support of all forward looking business men of unimpaired faith and set them upon the road of hopeful and sound enterprise.

By the federal reserve act the supply of currency at the disposal of active business has been rendered elastic, taking its volume from a ready body of investment securities, but from the liquid assets of daily trade, and these assets are assessed and accepted not by distant groups of bankers in control of unavailable reserves, but by lenders on the very spot of local exchange who are in touch with local conditions everywhere.

Effective measures have been taken for the re-creation of an American merchant marine and the revival of the American carrying trade, subservient to our emancipation from the control which foreigners have so long exercised over the opportunities, the routes and the methods of our commerce with other countries.

The interstate commerce commission has been reorganized to enable it to perform its great and important functions more promptly and more efficiently. We have created, extended and improved the service of the parcel post. So much we have done for business. What other party has undertaken the task so well or executed it so intelligently and energetically? What other party has attempted it at all? The public leaders, apparently, know of no means of assisting business but "protection." How to stimulate and put into a new footing of energy and enterprise they have not suggested.

For the farmers of the country we have virtually created commercial credit by means of the federal reserve act and the rural credits act. They now have the standing of other business men in the money market. We have created a new and better system in "futures" and established standards in the marketing of grain. By an in fullness warehouse act we have assisted to make the standard crops available as never before both for systematic marketing and as a security for loans from the banks. We have greatly added to the work of neighborhood demonstration on the farm itself, improved methods of cultivation and, through the intelligent extension of the functions of the department of agriculture, have made it possible for the farmer to learn systematically where his markets are and how to get at them.

The workmen of America have less than a year ago been told by the legal recognition of a right to labor as part of his life and not a mere mechanical commodity, by exempting labor organizations from the laws of the courts which treated their members like fractional parts of mobs and not like accessible and responsible individuals, by releasing our seamen from involuntary servitude, by making adequate provision for compensation for industrial accidents, by providing suitable machinery for mediation and conciliation in industrial disputes, by putting the federal department of labor at the disposal of the workingman when he is in need of aid.

We have effected the emancipation of the children of the country by releasing them from child labor laws, we have instituted a system of national aid in the building of playgrounds as the country has been looking for a century. We have sought to equalize taxation by means of an equitable tax law. We have taken the steps that ought to have been taken at the outset to open up the resources of Alaska. We have taken the steps that ought to have been taken at the outset to open up the resources of Alaska. We have taken the steps that ought to have been taken at the outset to open up the resources of Alaska.

"SOME SPEECH"

Have you read that speech of Woodrow Wilson again accepting the nomination for President? If you haven't, dog-gone you, get it and study it. It's truly a "steak winder" - what some folks would call "a corker." It is the work of a master's mind, moved by a consuming desire to do the greatest service to the whole country. His work convincingly proves him to be the peoples' President. Ever does he keep their best interest at heart. He strives at all times to enact laws which will be for the advancement and betterment of the whole nation. His record is one of wisdom and promises fulfilled.

What has he done for the farmer? The Rural Credit System, the Paced Past, the Federal Reserve Act have been passed for their benefits. The functions of the Department of Agriculture have been extended so that it is possible for the farmer to learn systematically where the best markets are and how to get to them. The Department of Labor is now put at the disposal of the working man when in search of work. The country was without any national system of road construction and development and one has been inaugurated by this wise President. This means much to the farmer, for it is over the roads that he must take his products to the markets. The farmers have at last been placed on the same footing with other business interests. He can go to the National Bank and pledge his farm or crop for credit. Our farmers are more prosperous than ever.

The Signal believes that the farmers are not ungrateful; that the laboring people will give credit whenever credit is due; that they appreciate the unselfish and patriotic service President Wilson has rendered. With all these good things, he has kept us out of war - a horrible war that devastated land, breaks up happy homes, tears fathers from wife and children and brings sorrow, bloodshed and poverty. While war is raging all about us, peace and prosperity reigns throughout this great Country. Surely the voters will stop and think. How can any real patriotic citizen help but say: "God Bless you, President Wilson! We appreciate what you have done. We are Americans and as such we shall vote and work for your reelection."

LIVINGSTON

S. E. Hellard, of Mt. Vernon, was here Tuesday between trains en route to Lily, on account of the illness of one of his grand children. - Ben Holland, and Mr. and Mrs. Sam Holland, were called to Lily, Tuesday, on account of the serious illness of one of Geo. Hellard's children. - The wedding will take place in a few days. We will tell you all about it. - O. Greenwell will, in a few days, move his family back to Lebanon Junction. - J. H. Browning is very sick at this writing. - The following citizens went to Lexington to hear Geo. Hughes speak Tuesday, viz: Dr. W. T. Amyx, W. M. Ponder, J. M. Ponder, W. M. McClellan, and Mr. and Mrs. Joe Blainard. - Miss Ella Mae Blainard is visiting relatives at Lebanon Junction and Louisville. - Joseph Oliver, who was once a citizen of our town, but now a merchant of Winchester, was here a few days speaking hands with his many friends. - Come again Joe, our latch string is always on the outside to you. - Mr. and Mrs. Reynolds and two pretty little daughters have returned home to Illinois after a few days in Lexington and Mrs. B.

and Mrs. J. L. Pickett are visiting relatives in Paris this week. - Mrs. Eda Quinn, of Paris, is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Hayse. - Mrs. Jane Coloway has returned home to Paris after a few days visit with her son, G. V. C. - Mrs. J. H. Owens has been very sick for a few days but - bet on this time she will be better. - Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Owens, who has a job at bank, was with some folks Sunday. - Our bridge network has been repaired and now is safe for the public. - Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Thacker, who has been visiting in Paris, has returned home. - G. W. McCormack has moved his family into the property of W. K. G. Webb. - Our school began Monday with a large attendance and the outlook is good for a fine school. - Miss Angie Poyner, who has been quite sick for some time is some better. - Miss Gertrude Evans of Brush Creek, has been visiting her cousin James Mae Evans. - Mrs. Abe Evans visited relatives at Beach Creek, Tuesday. - Rev. Jones went to Pine Hill, Monday, to hold services. - Mr. and Mrs. O. R. Foley and children, of Paris, have returned home after visit to Mrs. Foley's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Maguire. - S. C. Franklin, L. & N. coach inspector, was here Tuesday. - Mrs. H. H. Rice, who has been visiting relatives here for a few days, has returned to her home at Winchester. - Mr. and Mrs. David Raambo and children left Wednesday for Washington, Old Port Comfort, Newport News and other Eastern cities. - Mrs. Geo. S. Griff was in Lexington, Monday, visiting relatives. - Frank Ornduff of Louisville has been visiting relatives here for a few days. - C. J. & C. E. Rice went to Lexington, to hear Geo. Hughes speak. - Well, the strike is settled for a while and we hope forever, as this is something that would come home to us all and that would have paralyzed the world, but now it is all over the world's labor alone just the same. - Mrs. Luff Owens, Mrs. Will Scott and Lizzie Todd, of Quail, have returned home after spending a few days with their sisters, Mrs. Lee Reynolds and Mrs. J. H. Walton, on Kentucky Mountain. - Mrs. George Beach and Miss Georgia McBranch, of Covington, are visiting relatives here. - Rev. Baker, of London, filled his regular appointment at the Christian church, Saturday and Sunday. - Judge Lair, of Mt. Vernon, was down a few days ago visiting his daughter, Mrs. G. D. Lair, and it is surprising to hear of the old gentleman and he is 84 years old, and from his appearance and the way he gets about you would take him for 60 or 65 years old. - Jane Neal who has been working in Covington, was at home a few days this week. - Mrs. Sus Mullins has returned home from Mt. Vernon a few days visit with relatives there. - Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Nicely and children were down from Mt. Vernon visiting Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Nicely. - Well, business is going to pick up in the political lines. The republicans opened their campaign at Lexington, Tuesday, and in a few days the democrats will follow suit and then the ball will start rolling and for now until November we are going to see the old grand old political fight that the United States ever witnessed, and the dear people (the voters), are going to hear oratory from every corner and cross roads from now until the election is over, but for us we are not worrying, for we have done figured out how it will end and we will be a jug of butter milk on the result.

Thousands of Men and Women Are Daily Testifying to Merits.

A good reputation is the best thing in life, and a good reputation is worth as much to a medicine as it is to an individual. The truth of this is clearly brought out by the fact that business men, professional men, artists, and women in all walks of life whose common practical judgment guides them in all acts and decisions, are daily testifying to the merits of Tanlac.

Tanlac has become a household word. Its success is unexplained, and its fame is based very solidly on its accomplishments in nearly two millions of homes. Tanlac is its nature's own remedy. It is purely a vegetable compound, made from roots, herbs, flowers and berries. The ingredients for this wonderful remedy are gathered in the remotest parts of the world. From the far north woods to Argentina, below the equator; in Russia Asia, the Alps, Pyrenees, on the sunny shores of Italy, from Brazil, Sumatra, Peru, the West Indies, and the slopes of our timber topped Rocky Mountains come the ingredients that, under the personal direction of the noted chemist, Joseph V. Timbuck, are compounded into Tanlac.

Tanlac acts like magic against such troubles, as G. G. fermentation, dizziness, bloating and nervous distressed feelings after meals. It attacks poisons in the blood, corrects diseased conditions of the liver and kidneys, and restores them to normal conditions. Tanlac works wonders where men and women suffer from catarrh of the stomach, which may be indicated by any one of the following symptoms: coughing of mucus, offensive breath, dizziness, loss of flesh, ringing in the head or ears, headache, pains in side or stomach regions, indigestion, flatulence of the stomach, constipation, or dyspepsia.

Tanlac is an important, appetizer, tonic and builder of tissues. It cleanses the entire system of wastes and vitiates the blood and brings back color to the cheek and sparkle to the eyes.

Tanlac is being introduced in Mt. Vernon by R. H. Miller, also at Central Drug Co., Livingston and John Robbins' Drug Store, Brookhaven. W. M. Owens' store, Burr, Lane Bros., Crab Orchard, S. E. Welch & Pears, J. Reynolds and Son, Bee Lick, where the Tanlac Man explains its merits.

President Wilson on behalf of the nation accepted Monday the farm near Hodgenville, Ky. where Abraham Lincoln was born. The Memorial Hall that shelters the historic cabin and the conservative fund of $50,000 to maintain the property as a national shrine. His address was a panegyric upon Lincoln and a tribute to his great Americanism, with eloquent counsel for a continuance of the spirit of democracy in which he said: "Here we may forever keep alive this vestal fire of democracy as upon a shrine at which some of the deepest and most sacred hopes of mankind have from age to age been kindled." The President spent an hour sight-seeing in Louisville on his return from Hodgenville and departed at 5 o'clock for Washington. He was welcomed by cheering crowds at every place where he appeared throughout the day.

WILL MR HUGHES ANSWER?

- The following is taken from editorial published in the New York World of July 25. 1. Why is Wall Street for Hughes? 2. Why is the German vote for Hughes? 3. Why are the great financial interests that are still plotting to substitute a central bank for the Federal Reserve System for Hughes? 4. Why are the tariff monopolists who dictated the schedules of the repudiated Payne-Adair tariff for Hughes? 5. Why are the chief opponents of American neutrality for Hughes? 6. Why are the advocates of armed intervention and war with Mexico for Hughes? 7. Why are the trusts for Hughes? 8. Why are the champions of military conscription for Hughes? 9. Why are all the elements of political reaction and political Bourbonism for Hughes. 10. Why is every enemy of industrial, financial and corporation reform for Hughes?

There is no so intelligent Republican who will admit that except for Wall Street, Big Business and the German vote, Mr. Hughes would have practically no chance of election. This support is the backbone of his campaign. Some of the Republican candidates' friends are already boasting that a larger campaign fund can be raised in Wall Street this year to elect Hughes than Mark Hanna black-jacketed out of the corporations to re-elect McKinley in 1916. There must be a reason for this confidence, and a similar reason for the conferences that have been held between the Hughes manager and leaders of the German propaganda. What is the central idea of the Hughes campaign - that Wall Street will put up the money to organize the German vote in all the doubtful States and that the German vote will make Mr. Hughes President.

Mr. Hughes may answer that while all these sinister interests that are for him, he is not for them. That was Mr. Hearst's reply in '06 when Mr. Hughes asked why he was Murphy's candidate for Governor. The answer was not satisfactory ten years ago when Mr. Hearst gave it as his excuse and it cannot be satisfactory now.

In Mr. Hughes case a complete reply is doubly necessary. When he was Governor of New York his State was wrecked by the same kind of influences that are now trying to make him President. They put him into office to save a corrupt Republican organization and a rotten system of government. Having used him successfully, they made sure that he should not overthrow either the organization or the system, and they laid their way. Does any rational man doubt that they would have become President? No matter how great the ability or how lofty the personal character of a candidate for President may be, it is his right that he should be judged in a large measure by the support that he has had in his campaign. Mr. Hughes has had a great deal to say about the "integrity and tact" of President Wilson. When he made his speech of acceptance he failed to say that the deep and honest thought of the Wall Street-German Alliance, without whose money and votes he could never hope to be elected?

Man comes into this world without his consent and leaves it against his will. During his stay on earth his time is spent in a continuous round of contraries and misapprehensions. In his infancy he is an angel. In his boyhood he is a devil. In his manhood he is every thing from a wizard up. In his duties he is a fool if he has no faith he is committing race suicide. He raises a check he is a thief and the law raises Cain with him. If it is a poor man he is a poor man; and has no sense. If he is rich he is dishonest, he is considered very smart. If he is in politics he is a grocer and a crook. If he is out of politics you can not name him, as he is an anti-social citizen. If he goes to church he is a hypocrite. If he does not go to church he is a sinner. If he donates to foreign missions he does it for a show. If he doesn't he is called a tight wad. When he comes into the world every body wants to kiss him; before he goes out they want to kick. If he dies young there was a great future before him. If he lives to a ripe old age he is in the way, and only lying to save himself expenses.

Saved Girl's Life "I want to tell you what wonderful benefit I have received from the use of Theford's Black-Draught," writes Mrs. Sylvaniz Woods, of Clifton Mills, Ky. "It certainly has no equal for a gripe, bad colds, liver and stomach troubles. I firmly believe Black-Draught saved my little girl's life. When she had the measles, they went in on her, but one good dose of Theford's Black-Draught made them break out, and she has had no more trouble. I shall never be without THEDFORD'S BLACK-DRAUGHT in my home." For constipation, indigestion, headache, dizziness, malaria, chills and fever, biliousness, and all similar ailments, Theford's Black-Draught has proved itself a safe, reliable, gentle and valuable remedy. If you suffer from any of these complaints, try Black-Draught. It is a medicine of known merit. Seventy-five years of splendid success proves its value. Good for young and old. For sale everywhere. Price 25 cents.
